General Peterson is new director of AETC plans, operations

RANDOLPH AFB, Texas (AETCNS) — Brig. Gen. Donald L. Peterson, formerly a commander of the 12th Flying Training Wing here, has been named the director of plans and operations for Headquarters Air Education and Training Command. He succeeds Maj. Gen. Glenn A.

Proffitt II, who died in an aircraft accident last month.

General Peterson, who has been selected for promotion to major general, is currently the vice director, North American Aerospace Defense Command Combat Operations; commander of the Cheyenne Mountain Operations Center, and commander, Cheyenne Mountain Air Station, near Colorado Springs, Colo. He has held these positions since departure. (Continued on Page 3)

Reese slates National Police Week activities

by 2nd Lt. Mark Dicarlo
64th Security Police Squadron

National Police Week is a nationwide event which honors all the men and women who have valiantly and faithfully served their country in the law enforcement profession.

It is also a time to reflect upon and pay tribute to all those courageous men and women who paid the ultimate price and gave their lives in the line of duty so that others may enjoy freedom, protection, safety, security and equality throughout our nation.

National Police Week will be held Monday through May 21.

Throughout the week, local law enforcement departments enhance community relations, amplify their positive image and serve as role models through a series of events aimed at interaction with the local community.

This year, the 64th Security Police Squadron has the following events planned for National Police Week:

□ Saturday and Sunday: The 64th Security Police Squadron will be the coordinator for the Reese Child Protection Program which will be implemented at a booth during the Reese Air Show from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Child Protection Program is an identification/protection program that provides crucial information to law enforcement personnel to aid in finding lost or stolen children.

The Child Protection Program consists of three steps: (1) child fingerprinting; (2) a kid care identification book which provides emergency identification on a child (it's basically a passport for children). (3) and finally, lifesaver shoe tags that attach to a child's shoelaces and provides critical information to responding emergency personnel (they're similar to military dog tags).

Parents can choose an optional fourth step and have their children videotaped. The tape can then be provided to local law enforcement officials for identification of a child in case the child is missing or abducted. The entire program is provided free of charge, except for the video cassette tape. Parents must provide a blank tape if they want their children videotaped.

For more information contact MSgt. Harold Little at 3040.

□ Monday: McGruff the Crime Dog will visit the local schools and talk about crime prevention and safety tips.

□ Thursday: Law enforcement weapons display at the base exchange.

□ Thursday: The 64th SPS will hold a police officer bowling tournament at 7 p.m. in the Windmill Lanes.

□ Friday: The members of the 64th SPS will pass out home and travel safety precaution pamphlets in the housing area.

□ Friday: The 64th SPS will hold a formal retreat ceremony at 4:45 p.m. at the flag pole in front of Bldg. 800.

In addition, the 64th SPS also highly encourages anyone interested in experiencing what it's like to be a security police officer to please contact Capt. Stephen Mezhir, 3949, for a security police "Ride Along."

Airpower key to victory in Europe

This week marked the 50th anniversary of the end of World War II in the European Theater.

A key element in the Allies victory was the use of airpower.

This week's Reese Air Show and Community Appreciation Days also serves as a 50th anniversary salute to those who earned victory in Europe on May 8, 1945.

At left, a B-17 is surrounded by a crowd during a post V-E Day celebration in Paris. The B-17 was one of many U.S. aircraft that helped turn the tide of war.

Several World War II vintage aircraft, including a B-17, will fly and be on static display during this weekend's Reese Air Show.

READY augmentees provide critical base support

by SrA. Tim Dempsey
Public Affairs

Throughout the U. S. Air Force you can find airmen who are willing to go beyond the call of duty to volunteer their spare time to pull extra duties. Here, you'll find mentors, honor guard members and the READY team.

The READY Program, the security police augmentation duty program, is designed to provide support to the 64th Security Police Squadron when squadron members deploy and to assist in contingency operations such as threatcons and major accidents.

The airmen who participate in the program work one three-day cycle per quarter. The augmentees man the gates, do patrol work, issue citations and respond to alarm activations.

Recently, the 64th SPS has been very active deploying airmen around the world for contingencies. The lack of manpower caused by such deployments puts a heavier burden on the troops left behind to protect the Reese community. This is where the augmentees fit in the picture. They fill in the holes and help the 64th SPS keep our base safe and secure.

Augmentees endure five days of training in basic law enforcement duties before they can assume the responsibility. Training consists of M-16 and M-9 weapons handling; arming and use of force; searching and handcuffing; foot, bicycle and vehicle patrolling and other on-the-job training.

Currently 20 airmen participate in the program -- 13 primary and seven alternates.

They are SSgt. Ronald Lappe, 64th Logistics Squadron; SSgt. Michael Delossantos, 64th LS; SSgt. Roger Glover, 64th Medical Group; SSgt. Steve Madrid, 35th Flying Training Squadron; Sgt. Thomas Staggs, 52nd FTS; Sgt. James Reese, Jr., 64th SPS; Sgt. Phil Hoover, 64th Contracting Squadron; SrA. Mark Capps, 64th LS; SrA. Eric McCullough, 64th MDG; SrA. Katenna Edwards, 64th Mission Support Squadron; A1C Michael Dickerson, 64th LS; A1C Joseph Ballesteros, 64th LS; Terena Thurman, 64th LS; Ed Lara, 64th MDG; A1C Karen Newkirk, 64th MSS; A1C Chris Knox, 64th Communications Squadron; A1C Marco Tiberio, 64th CS; A1C Nick Kerr, 64th CONS; A1C Henry Johnson, 54th FTS; and Amn. Sara Jacobs, 64th Operations Support Squadron.

Thanks to these troops our 64th SPS can fulfill its mission.

SrA. Tim Dempsey

General Peterson to join AETC staff

While at Randolph, from October 1990 to February 1993, he served as the assistant deputy chief of staff for technical training, Headquarters Air Training Command (now AETC); ATC inspector general, and commander of the 12th FTW.

He is a native of Victoria, Texas, and a 1966 graduate of Texas A&M University.

During his career, the general has commanded a tactical fighter squadron, a tactical fighter wing, and a flying training wing, serving twice as an installation commander.

His staff assignments include serving as a fighter operations officer and executive officer in the Air Staff and as chief of USAF operations assignments. He is a command pilot, having flown more than 4,000 hours, including 597 combat hours.

Thunderbirds to highlight high-flying Reese Air Show

The U.S. Air Force Thunderbird aerial demonstration team will head an impressive list of performers during the Reese Air Show, Saturday and Sunday.

Joining the all-star cast of entertainment are the U.S. Army Golden Knights parachute team and Country music star Tracy Byrd.

Byrd, who has a hit single, Keeper of the

The B-2 bomber will perform a fly-by at the Reese Air Show on Saturday.

Stars, racing up the country charts, will perform a free concert Saturday at 8:30 p.m. The Texas Bel Aires will open for Byrd at 7:30 p.m. The concert will be held in front of the T-1A hangar and concludes an event-filled opening day of activities.

The Thunderbirds and Golden Knights will perform on Sunday with the Thunderbird performance serving as the grand finale at 3:45 p.m.

In addition to the headliners, Reese expects to have more than 40 aircraft on static display, including modern and vintage military, international and civilian aircraft.

There will also be demonstrations by several military and civilian aircraft.

The event will showcase the U.S. military's most modern aircraft. The B-2 bomber is scheduled to perform a fly-by at 12:45 p.m. Saturday and the F-117 will be on static display both days.

More detailed information on the air show and its participants is included in a special supplement to the ROUNDUP included in today's edition.

The A-10 is one of several aircraft flying demonstrations.

Reese Air Show safety tips

Reese officials ask everyone attending the air show to observe the following safety rules:

□ No alcoholic beverages may be brought to the air show. Beer will be available at concession stands.

□ No pets may be brought to the air show.

□ Do not smoke near the aircraft because of fumes from the fuel.

□ Do not climb on buildings or aircraft in order to get a better view or to take photos.

□ Safety pins in the landing gear of all aircraft must be left alone. Don't touch the aircraft. All static display aircraft will have crew members available to answer questions.

□ For personal safety, visitors are advised to wear sunglasses and to use sunscreen.

□ Be a good neighbor. Respect the rights of others to enjoy the air show and the rest of the day's activities. Anyone causing a disruption of activities will be required to leave the installation.

□ Please dispose of all litter in trash containers.

□ Drink plenty of fluids during the day and minimize the intake of beer while in the sun. Free water is available at various locations.

□ It's a good idea for groups to designate a highly visible place to meet if separated in the crowd.

□ Young children and elderly persons should reduce their exposure to the sun to prevent heat sickness.

□ Anyone who is taking prescription medicines should take the medication as directed by his or her doctor.

Been there. Done that. . . .
Gonna go there again. Gonna do that again!
 That's how approximately 100,000 folks in the West Texas area talk about the Reese Air Force Base Air Shows.

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Saving Money & Natural Resources

(NAPS)—Take a tip from national parks, botanical gardens, and wildlife sanctuaries around the world. When you're building something outdoors that you want to last—and you also want to minimize your impact on the environment—use pressure-treated lumber.

This Wolmanized wood wall is an example of practical and responsible construction.

Park officials commonly specify treated wood for structures from signposts and picnic tables to boardwalks and viewing platforms. While their grounds may be considerably larger than a residential backyard, officials choose treated wood for reasons that apply to homeowners as well.

Treated wood is made from several species of plentiful trees, mostly pines in the east and hemlock and firs in the west. At a treating plant, a preservative is forced deep into the wood, protecting it for decades against termites and decay. The finished product, available at most lumber outlets in various sizes and grades, is ideal for decks, fences, landscaping, playsets, and other projects. The best known brand is Wolmanized wood.

Production of treated wood requires less energy than alternative building materials, and the treatment makes wood last longer, thereby reducing demands on forests and nonrenewable resources. Both the homeowner and the environment come out winners.

FOR YEARS YOU'VE BEEN SECURING AMERICA'S FUTURE.

Now It's TIME TO WORK ON YOUR OWN.

Imagine entering the civilian world with the security of a steady paycheck. Knowing that, no matter what happens with your career, you've got great retirement benefits, the opportunity to further your education and a place to make yourself even more marketable.

Right here, in the Air Force Reserve, where nine of ten skills apply directly to civilian jobs. And where the time and work you've already invested can pay off.

For years, you've worked to protect America's future. Now it's time to protect your own. If you've got your separation date, call the Air Force Reserve. Where you can make a part-time commitment flexible enough to suit your needs. For America's security, and yours, it's a great way to serve.

BRAC expands base closure review

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Derense Base Closure and Realignment Commission voted Wednesday to add 29 military installations to the list of bases it is reviewing for realignment or closure.

In a hearing in Washington, D.C., the eight-member commission also voted to evaluate for greater realignment or complete closure six bases that were recommended only for realignment by the secretary of defense when he submitted his list to the commission February 28.

“Just because a base was added to the list today doesn’t mean U will close or be realigned,” said former U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon, the commission chairman. “It means the commission believes a fuller evaluation of the base is a reasonable thing to undertake at this time.

“We do not make additions to the list lightly, but it is the responsibility of the commission to submit to the president by July 1 the best possible closure and realignment list,” Dixon said. The commission’s actions affected bases in two overall categories: those that were not on the secretary’s February list and those that were. Those that were not on the list were added today “for realignment or closure.” Those that were on the list were added “for further realignment or closure.” Further realignment means an action that could result in greater job loss at the installation than contemplated by the secretary’s list. Between now and June 11, the commissioners will visit bases added to the list Wednesday and conduct regional hearings at which the affected communities will be able to testify regarding the added bases.

The commission will begin its final deliberations June 22 in Washington.

64th MSS skates through playoffs to capture title

by SrA. Tim Dempsey
Sports Editor

"We wanted other teams to beat us, not for us to beat ourselves!"

This phrase from MSgt. John Klemmer, team captain, wraps up the 64th Mission Support Squadron's Cinderella story to capture the intramural bowling championship May 1 here.

After claiming stake to the National League's cellar with a 6-26 record at the beginning of the season, the 64th MSS managed to climb to the top spot towards the end of the season.

"We were worried about making the playoffs," the sergeant said. "But we found the chemistry and really started enjoying ourselves."

After the dismal start, Sergeant Klemmer and teammate SSgt. Beverly Demmerly went searching for a missing link in the team. Their search led to Hal Corbin joining the team.

Once Corbin began bowling with the team, it began winning. The averages began to rise and the confidence level rose. "We all had fun," said Sergeant Klemmer.

The 64th MSS defeated the 64th LS to capture the IM bowling title. Members of the championship team are (bottom from left to right) A1C Latrik Smith, SSgt. Beverly Demmerly, TSgt. Merrie Wright, (top from left to right) SrA. Ronnie Wilson, MSgt. John Klemmer, Hal Corbin and SrA. Marcus Jackson.

However, the team slipped in the final weeks of the season and went into the playoffs as a wildcard team.

The 64th MSS, quickly rebounded in the playoffs as it glided through the double-elimination playoffs unscathed.

In the first round the 64th MSS warmed up by defeating the 64th Security Police Squadron. In the second round it upset the American Leagues top team, the 64th Communication Squadron.

The team took a buy in the third round and stunned the 64th Logistics Squadron in the fourth round and in the Championship match. After winning the first game, the 64th MSS fell behind 77 pins after losing the second game. With great confidence and performance, the 64th MSS battled back to take the title.

According to Sergeant Klemmer, the performance displayed by SrA. Ronnie Wilson and Amn. Latrik Smith pulled the team through the playoffs.

With U.S. Savings Bonds, the more you give, the more you receive.

Every day, we pass a little of ourselves on to the next generation. When it's best to go fishing, which bait to use, how to cast, what makes a keeper. The knowledge that we give stays with them forever. And we hope we've made their lives a little richer for the learning.

Giving U.S. Savings Bonds also passes an important lesson on to the future generation. Bonds can teach our children how to save, how interest grows and how a small investment can help make their dreams come true.

Buying U.S. Savings Bonds contributes to a solid and secure America for generations to come. What a great way for you to say, "I believe in your future!"

Bonds are as easy to buy as they are to give. Buy them at half their face value through your local bank. U.S. Savings Bonds are like friendships — the longer they're kept, the more they're worth.

So share the tradition of U.S. Savings Bonds. They're the gift that gives back more than you've given.
