larger rural schools of the county. Jud has quite a remarkable history, especially in athletics. Both the boys and girls basket ball teams have won several years ago a one story, two room edifice was erected. During the summer of 1927 another room was added and new furniture ordered for the 1927-28 session.

The Jud girls have not lost a game. This is a remarkable record for the girls. Last year the boy's team missed the championship by the narrow margin of one score.

The present session of school has been a decided success. The enrollment is now eighty-one; twenty-one in the principals room and thirty each in primary and intermediate sections. The work being done in the primary room is under the direction of Miss Grace Cross. Perhaps the word "modern" describes the work in her room better than any other word. Beginner's work is facilitated by the use of a modern reading chart. Miss Cross also has a printing and stamping outfit and is constantly making use of new material closely related to the daily lessons and to the pupils life. Reading, spelling and language are made to seem alive and interesting to the pupil. By the chart, blackboard, and seat work, numbers and arithmetic are taught to a high degree of efficiency. There is a display of health posters, and health rules that are used for daily reminders of good health. Miss Cross is a close student of the art of story telling; and her pupils are instructed and entertained by stories of many kinds, especially nature and early American history.

The pupils in Miss Lewis's intermediate room all attest to her thoroughness of instruction. Miss Lewis is certainly a conservator of time. Every minute of her time is spent either in hearing her classes or in individual attention of the needs of her pupils. She believes that the foundation of a liberal education lie in a thorough foundation in the grammar grades. No pupil can pass through her classes without becoming perfectly familiar with such facts as the multiplication table, the parts of speech, the fundamental principles of History and Geography and the rules of hygiene. A large poster with space for each pupils name and a record of golden stars for each bears witness to efficient work in teaching proper care of the teeth. Her pupils are always encouraged to use good English and written in good form.

The principal's work and the instruction of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades are in the hands of J. L. Patterson. Mr. Patterson is a firm believer in thoroughness of endeavor. He conducts frequent reviews to test his pupils and to bring the important facts of the subject back to the minds of the pupil. He is an advocate of the old adage, "Anything half learned is not possessed." Mr. Patterson looks upon such events as the school fair and the interscholastic league with favor. Some splendid examples of art in the form of posters and maps have been developed in the principal's room. Jud is destined to shine forth in both the fair and the county meet. The principal's constant aim is to oversee and supervise a well ordered, efficient and happy student body.

That there is some community interest in the school is shown by the proceeds of a box supper last December which netted the school approximately $95.00. The basket balls, one foot ball, two basket ball goals and the equipment for the primary room have been bought out of the box supper fund. Equipment such as see-saws, and swings will soon be installed on the playground for the younger children. Jud school is a member of the Interscholastic League and expects to carry off its share of honors in the county meet.

A large crowd enjoyed the singing at Midway last Sunday evening. We also enjoyed having the people from O'Brien down to sing for us. We extend to them a cordial invitation to come back each third Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Williamson entertained the pupils of Midway School with a Valentine party last Tuesday night at the school house. At a late hour they departed expressing thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Williamson for their good entertaining.

The box supper sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association at the school house Friday night was a real success. The women all brought pies and they sold at a good price. They took in a neat sum of $33.00 from the sale of the pies. During the evening the girls 4-H Club sold lemonade, candy and pop corn. The money will be used to buy equipment for the girls club room. They also enjoyed music furnished by Haskell band.

POULTRY

ALL-MASH FEED
GOOD FOR EGGS

Poultry keepers who have used the all-mash method of feeding chicks and growing pullets may continue the method for laying pullets. The plan has proved satisfactory for fall and winter egg production at the Ohio experiment station, and is being used by many successful poultrymen.

The only change in the all-mash for egg production, according to D. G. Kennard, station poultryman, is to increase the meat scraps from 5 to 10 per cent and decrease the corn from 70 to 65 per cent. Coarsely ground wheat may be used instead of middlings in the mash. And for best results, Mr. Kennard would also use milk in some form.

Success with all-mash feeding the laying pullets, especially for winter eggs, is largely determined by the kind of mixture and manner of feeding it. The mash should be as granular as possible rather than finely ground. A suitable type of feeder should provide 20 to 24 feet of eating space per 100 pullets. Fresh mash should be fed daily in the evening, the amount being about what will be consumed during the next 24 hours.

Electric lights may be used to advantage. A warm, moist mash fed in the evening, especially in cold weather, may prove beneficial.

Details relative to the all-mash method of feeding layers may be had by writing the Ohio experiment station at Wooster.

Laying Hens Must Have
Ration Rich in Protein

During the course of twelve months a high-laying hen will produce from 18 to 25 or more pounds of eggs—or from four to seven or more times her own body weight, depending upon the weight of the hen. And it is a well-known fact that eggs are high in percentage of protein. Logically, therefore, it follows that laying hens must be fed a ration which is rich in protein if they are to turn out this amount of protein-rich product and still maintain the muscle, sinew and blood in their own bodies.

Home-grown grains, such as wheat, oats, barley and corn, while they all contain a certain proportion of protein, all rank as carbohydrate-rich feeds, necessary to maintain body flesh and provide heat and energy, but lacking in sufficient proportion of protein to meet the requirements of heavy egg production. Millfeeds, such as bran and shorts, contain proportionately more protein than do whole grains, but they, likewise, fail to supply the needed amount. If the ration fed to laying hens contains these feeds only, without the addition of some protein-rich supplement, the feeder cannot expect high egg production; the hen simply cannot produce eggs, but can only turn the carbohydrates into surplus body fat.

Specialist Tells How to Get Better Eggs

Care used in the mating of poultry and in the selection of hatching eggs will in a short time develop a flock that produces practically no inferior eggs, says L. M. Black, extension specialist in poultry husbandry, at the college of agriculture of Rutgers university.

Experiment has shown that certain characters are transmitted to future layers through the egg. The pullet that is hatched from any particular egg tends to lay the same type egg as that from which she came. Successful poultrymen take advantage of this fact and select only typical, large, uniformly colored eggs when setting the incubator. Since sires, too, exert an influence upon the type of egg laid by the pullets, males selected for the breeding pens are from ancestors that were noted for their heavy production of large, uniformly colored and shaped eggs.

There is an old German adage which when translated reads, "As the bird, so is the egg." It probably was not originated for poultrymen alone, but it holds great significance for them.

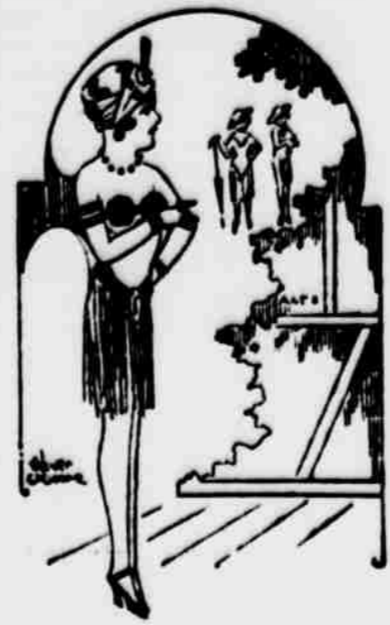

Vitamines for Fowls

Vitamines should not worry the good poultryman so much in summer as in winter. Green foods and sunshine supply the vitamins that are most apt to be lacking in the winter ration. During the early spring months these factors are apt to be lacking unless the poultryman takes special pains to see that the birds have green stuff and sunshine. Alfalfa leaves, when put in a rack where fowls may eat them, will help to supply the need for green material.

Sunlight Helps Hens

Direct sunlight will help the hens to lay strong shelled eggs as well as eggs with a high degree of hatchability. If hens have been closed up they should be turned out into the sunshine on bright days. If it is necessary to keep them closed up, then the windows should be thrown open during the middle of the day so the direct rays of the sun may get in. Glass substitutes may also be used in place of some of the window glass to let in more.

TELLING THE WORLD

Outside and Inside Dopes on Haskell County People As Told By Our Rambling Representative.

Just about the time we think that we are going to the country the weather changes and gets cold and other things come up that we really can not find out why or again we were kept at home only to attend a number of funerals of our friends that bring so much sadness to our heart that we have but very little to report this week.

We are very glad to see the past few days of good weather especially Monday and Tuesday but there is no telling what tomorrow will bring forth. We are just like some of our friends when they see a pretty day they are afraid to enjoy it for fear that a bad day will follow. When it rains we fear it will never stop and when it stops we fear it will never rain again. What a joke we are in any way. But most of us like to stay here just as long as we can so what will happen next?

A fellow came in the shop the other day who claimed to be a leader in the Free Press and threw down a $50.00 bill to pay for a subscription for six months. It seemed such a nice fellow the boys that I have never learned whether he ever got his name on the mailing list or not. But it happened that none of the office boys were suffering with a weak heart and all of them reported on some next morning for work. A fellow in the news paper business must be prepared for any thing that might happen to frustrate.

We attended two services at Smith

Chapel Thursday and Saturday nights of last week where our Baptist Pastor Rev. H. R. Whitley was helping Pastor C. R. Stovall hold a week end revival at that place. Rev. Whitley did the preaching and Bro. Stovall did the founding up for the services. This was a real meeting good preaching and good attendance was reported at all times considering the weather.

We attended the Workers Council of the Haskell Baptist Association which was held at Smith's Chapel Monday beginning at 10 a. m. This was a great day. The building was crowded during the day and more of the congregation remained until the close of the entire program than is usually seen. They had a beautiful feast at noon and there was no lack of service and good things to eat, with plenty of hot coffee and cups to drink from. Those who were on the program had their way during the services but at noon came a time when every member could work and smile and work some more, each one enjoying his individual part in this hour of the day. It was a pleasure to see some of the congregation after they had eaten all they could eat without feeling as the many good things to eat piled high on the table especially the ministerial body who had never been defeated before. This was a wonderful day. Our hat is off to the people of Smith's Chapel. We expected it, for we had been there on other occasions. More next week.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO TALK IN 24 LANGUAGES?

Who would like to speak 24 languages? Who would like to converse with equal ease in Japanese, Arabic and Hungarian? All right, then repeat this one sentence.

The ugly thing loaded at a damask covered table on the cafe balcony Wednesday evening goulash and drinking hot chocolate with a half caste brunette in a kimono-sleeved, lemon yellow gown and a crimson angora wool shawl, while he deciphered a code notation from a canny smuggler of silk cargoes on the back of the paper menu.

He who reads that sentence aloud has spoken words taken over from twenty-four languages, says a bulletin from National Geographic society.

The language sources of that unusual sentence are, ugly, Danish, thing, Hindu, loaded, German, café, brunette, menu, French, balcony, Italian, damask, Syrian, covered, table, code, notation, Latin, Wednesday, drinking, hot, half, Scandinavian, eating, with, yellow, wool, Sanskrit, chocolate, Mexican, caste, Portuguese, lemon, shawl, Persian, kimono, Japanese, sleaved, back, Anglo-Saxon, gown, Celtic, crimson, deciphered, Arabic, angora, Turkish, while, Greek, canny, Scotch or Icelandic, silk, Chinese, cargo, Spanish, smuggler, Dutch, paper, Egyptian.

The most obscure language in the world is English. Our language grows with each innovation brought from foreign shores. Java's art of decorating cloth came and with it came the word batik. A new game from China established mah jong. The Tears of Russia have gone, but their title creeps into our speech.

The Sanskrit words in the many-tongued sentence are the words Noah probably shipped on board the Ark, since they antedate the Greek Sanskrit is the oldest written Indo-European language, so scholars believe that many of our terms preserved only in ancient Indian classics.

Greek and Latin words, using three-fourths of every English dictionary comprise the vast legacies of two dead civilizations. Celtic, Anglo-Saxon, Scandinavian and Norman French went into the British melting pot and were paired out about 1300 A. D. as the first English. Our Italian words like Raphael's paintings remain as the afterglow of the Renaissance. Crusaders brought back Arabian terms from the Holy Land, the explorers of the New world sailed home with new treasures and new Mexican, Caribbean and American-Indian words. When Commodore Perry opened up Japan in 1854 he started one of the most recent word importation routes from Nippon.

TIPS FOR SPRING GARDENING IS HERE. RICH, FERTILIZED SOIL BRINGS RETURNS

(By Mrs. Sam Long in Semi-Weekly Farm News)

As a source of profit and a benefit to the entire family the garden occupies first place. Since many vegetables deteriorate rapidly in quality after being gathered the advantages of a home garden are numerous. The land utilized for the farm garden, if well cared for, yields much larger returns than any area of similar size planted to the usual farm crops which makes efforts directed in that line worth while.

All rubbish, including the remains of previous crops, should be removed from the soil and burned. If disease has been serious during the preceding year, it is safer to burn the plant remains rather than to compost, though the composted material even if diseased might be applied to other portions of the farm where vegetables are not grown, with much chance of injuring the crops.

A thorough preparation of the soil to be used will repay its increased yield. Heavy soil should be plowed in the fall if there is no danger of washing so as to get it in a good condition before planting time. In a Southern climate where there are no frosts to pulverize the soil this must be accomplished by harrowing and cultivation. Sandy loams and soils that contain a large amount of humus should be plowed far enough in advance to allow the soil to settle before planting.

A soil that has been thoroughly prepared by plowing, harrowing and rolling will require less cultivating afterward. It is important to know that pulverizing in order to be effective, must extend down several inches rather than just simply present a smooth and level surface. Pulverization of the garden soil should be attended to before the surface has had a chance to bake.

It is desirable that the soil of the garden be as light and open as possible. Good texture of the soil can be aided by digging and cultivating. A heavy soil, containing much clay, however, requires additional treatment, for instance, can clean sand be mixed with that type of soil or if sand is not available, well-sifted coal-ashes can be used to lighten the soil.

course manure or the turning under of the green crops are desirable for the building up of humus before any commercial fertilizer can be of benefit to the soil.

Whether the commercial fertilizer should be applied as a top dressing or whether it is placed in the plowed soil much like manure is placed must be decided by the crop under question as well as local conditions. In a climate where heavy rains are apt to wash the soil to a considerable degree it has often been experienced that the top soil and with it a large portion of the commercial fertilizer were completely washed away, while a top dressing would have taken immediate effect and could not have been harmed by subsequent rains.

Importance of Sunlight

In planning the garden it is well to recognize that no amount of fertilizer watering and cultivation will make up for the absence of sunlight in the garden. Careful consideration should be given as to how many hours a day any part of the garden is in the shadow of buildings, fences or trees. At least five hours of sunlight a day is needed for the raising of a successful garden. As a rule, foliage crops, such as lettuce, spinach, turnip greens and kale do fairly well in partial shade, but even these need sunshine for two or three hours a day. Plants which must ripen fruit, such as tomatoes or egg plants, should have full access to sun shine for the greater part of the day.

As the work of gardening is often done in spare moments by the busy housewife the garden should be located as near as possible to the house. A slope to the south or the south west has its advantages because here the soil warms up early in the spring which, in turn, permits early growth of crops. While practically any kind of soil can be used for the garden, sandy loam is to be given the preference.

In a country where spring rains are apt to be severe and frequent, good drainage is of great importance. While the land should have sufficient fall to drain off surplus water during heavy rains, yet the fall should not be so great as to wash the soil.

Improving Soil by Fertilizing

A rich soil is needed for the vegetable growing. General principles that apply to farming are also applicable to the home garden. Much is being said in our day about raising crops on fewer acres, the same principle might be applied to the farming program. Fertilization will aid in raising richer crops of vegetables on a smaller space. Barnyard or stable manure is still recognized to be the best fertilizer because it furnishes both plant food and humus. An application of twenty to thirty tons of manure to the acre seems very satisfactory, and on some soils this application needs but little aid by means of commercial fertilizer. In order to be of the greatest value manure should be applied far enough in advance of planting time to allow for the proper decay.

Very coarse manure needs to be applied in the previous fall and turned under, well rotted manure, on the other hand, can be applied later plowing and needs to be thoroughly mixed with the soil by harrowing. The use of commercial fertilizer requires individual study of the soils need. No definite rule can be given for the kind or quantity of fertilizer to be used, since this varies largely both with the soil and the particular crop. It is wise for a home gardener not experienced along this line to get in touch with the local county agent or home demonstration agent, who will be glad to assist and advise.

It should be borne in mind that commercial fertilizer will not produce satisfactory results unless the soil is well supplied with humus. Many soils in the South that have suffered from long use are generally in such an impoverished condition that applications of

JUDGE JAS. P. KINNARD ANNOUNCES AS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY JUDGE

Based on his candidacy upon an economical, progressive, business-like administration, Judge Jas. P. Kinnard makes his announcement this week as a candidate for the office of County Judge of Haskell county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Judge Kinnard needs no introduction to the voters of Haskell county, as he has been a resident of this city and Haskell county for 20 years, and served as County Judge several years ago. He has been strongly solicited by friends throughout the county to make the race, who know his ability and appreciate his qualifications for the office.

Judge Kinnard makes the following statement in connection with his candidacy:

"Yielding to the earnest solicitations of my friends from all parts of the County, I have decided to announce my candidacy for the County Judgeship of Haskell County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election, and it will be my laudible ambition, if elected, to conduct the county's affairs in a economical, progressive, business-like manner, and to give the people an honest clean administration with equal justice to all and special privileges to none."

Jas. P. Kinnard

Judge Kinnard states that his duties may prevent him from making an intensive house to house canvass during the campaign, but that he hopes to see as many of the voters of the county as possible before the election is held and place his claims before them in person. In the meantime, we ask that you give his candidacy your fair and impartial consideration, believing that if he is elected, he will administer the affairs of the office with satisfaction to all.

Card of Thanks

We wish to publicly thank the many friends over this portion of the state for their generous kindness, assistance and sympathy during the saddest hours of our lives. We appreciate sincerely your many acts of love. Especially do we wish to thank the many who gave the beautiful flowers. We are convinced that the people of Crosby county and this entire section of the State are the best folks in the world. We are glad that our departed dear one was permitted to spend so many years among you, which she greatly enjoyed. Death of Henry Lewellen

The Lewellen family, Haskell, Texas

Dear Friends:

You have my heart felt sympathy at this sad hour when you have put away your dear son and brother. Yours indeed is a deep sorrow, and what better words can I send you than that which Paul wrote to the Corinthians in his second Epistle: "Blessed be God, even the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the father of mercies, and the God of all comfort who comforteth us in all our tribulations that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also abounds in Christ."

He, and He only, can heal our broken hearts. I hope the flowers reached you as a token of my love and sympathy. Let me have the comfort of hearing from you, as soon as you can feel like writing. My husband and I offer our sincere sympathy in your bereavement. Sincerely your friend,

MOTHERS

Watch for symptoms of worms in your children. These parasites are the great destroyers of child life. If you have reason to think your child has worms, act quickly. Give the little one a dose or two of White's Cream Vermifuge. Worms cannot exist where this time-tried and successful remedy is used. It drives out the worms and restores the rosy hue of health to baby cheeks. Price 35c. Sold by ALL DRUGGISTS

WORKER'S COUNCIL MEETS WITH SMITH CHAPEL CHURCH

The Worker's Council of the Haskell Association met with the Smith Chapel Church last Monday in an all day session. Rev. C. B. Stovall, pastor of the church, acted as moderator.

The meeting was called to order at 10 a. m. and the program began on time.

Rev. J. E. Tucker of Ruie conducted the devotional, after which Rev. A. D. Dunlap, pastor of the O'Brien church made an excellent talk on the all-important subject, "Salvation by Grace." Rev. I. N. Alvis and Rev. H. R. Whatley made a short talk each on the subject of "Sanctification," followed by special songs by the Free Sisters of Haskell.

Rev. J. A. Kinser preached a sermon at the 11 o'clock hour on the identification of the church, which brought the morning program to a close, after which lunch was spread on tables outside of the building that had been especially prepared and a bountiful feast was served to all. Many compliments were heard from the visitors for the hospitality rendered by the people of Smiths Chapel in making the occasion such a great joy.

After noon the program began at 1:30 and after several congregational songs directed by Rev. Olie Dennis, pastor of the Sweet Home Church a special song was rendered by W. M. Free and daughters and Rev. J. C. Parks, associational Missionary on the part of Baptist carrying out the great commission in proportion to their opportunities. This closed the men's part of the program and the meeting was given over to the Women's Work which was presided over by the county chairman, Mrs. J. O. Bowdoin of Munday.

Mrs. George Thomas of O'Brien spoke on "My Favorite Woman Character of the Old Bible" and Mrs. Marvin Reeves of Munday spoke on "My Favorite Woman Character of the New Testament." Then a number of ladies made two-minute talks on their favorite woman character of the Old and New Testament.

The banner for attendance was on a second time by the Brushy Church in a final count.

The next meeting will be at Brushy Mound after the fourth Sunday in March.

Methodist Women's Missionary Society

The Methodist Women's Missionary Society met at the church last Monday afternoon in the continuation of their study of the Mission book. Mrs. R. C. Montgomery gave the devotional and called on several to testify as to the influence that books had had on their lives. Then Mrs. Montgomery directed a splendid program on Good Literature Literature in the Mission Lands. Mrs. W. A. Kimbrough, "The Influence of Pictures," Mrs. P. A. Womble: "The Optimist," Mrs. Mack Martin. The president, Mrs. J. M. Gose presided over a business meeting when reports from all officers were made. Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, voice agent made a splendid report and urged that all help to swell the subscription list so that our organization would subscribe for the appointed number of papers. The society voted to send the Missionary Voice to several shut-ins and a copy of the Stamford Sanitarium and several volunteered to send it to friends whom they knew were not taking it at present. A list of the sick of the church and names of new members were read and all were urged to visit these beginning this week. This is one phase of the work that the new president, Mrs. J. M. Gose is stressing and if there is a new family or any sick member of any family in your neighborhood, please telephone Mrs. J. M. Gose or the Social Service Chairman, Mrs. Cate, at the residence of Mrs. T. C. Rogers.

SOCIETY and Club

Approved By Board

A lead line appeared in Texas daily newspapers after the meeting of the Executive board in Dallas in the previous Monday had upheld by a vote of 15 to 5 the action of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in declaring that Mrs. Fields had resigned from the chairmanship of the biennial. It was pointed out from the floor before the vote was taken that it is customary that there be but one biennial chairman and that she be a resident of the convention city. By its action the Texas Federation board recognized Mrs. Harry Drought of San Antonio as sole biennial chairman and the general federation was so notified by telegram. Mrs. J. U. Fields dissatisfied with the recent action of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and that of the Texas Federation board in Dallas last Monday, as recognizing Mrs. Harry Drought of San Antonio as sole biennial chairman of the Biennial Arrangements committee, organized, The Council of Women Monday night and sent a telegram expressing their dissatisfaction to Mrs. John D. Sherman, general president. The council was formed by some 50 club women representing many others over the state. They went to Dallas to seek information from the state board Monday.

The Harmon Club

On Friday afternoon, Mrs. R. R. French directed a splendid program of the Art of France. Mrs. O. E. French discussed "The Art and Invention of Ingres." Miss Mary Ella French discussed "The Art of the 19th Century." In the second discussion, "French Artists of the 19th Century," the following ladies took part: Mesdames J. E. French, Tom Davis, M. L. Baker and Theron Cahill. Miss Judith English played "The Waltz" from the opera "Carmen" by Gounod. Mrs. Harry Stalcup sang "The Elegy" by Massenet. The program, Mrs. R. R. English was then closed in serving a salad course to members present by Mesdames Clayton Payne, John Oates, J. E. Bernard and Courtney Hunt.

The Old Widow's Club

On last Tuesday afternoon Mrs. R. C. French used the St. Patrick's tones and hymns assisted by the use of Spring flowers as a pretty background for the Old Widow's Club tri-monthly "42" party, which she gave in her home. Mrs. French served her guests a delicious salad plain. They were: Mesdames R. J. Reynolds, H. S. Wilson, Wiley Reid, J. Hornum, Bass, Vaughn Bailey, H. M. Smith, A. H. Wair, Clayton Payne, S. R. Patterson, S. A. Roberts, J. L. Mathers, Courtney Hunt, W. H. Murphree, R. C. Montgomery, John W. French, A. C. Pierson.

Midway 4-H Club

The Midway 4-H club girls met Tuesday, February 14 in the school building with Miss Gunn and Mrs. Smith. The house was called to order by the president, Pauline Frierson and the roll was called by Helen Chastain. Each person answered by the work they had completed on their sewing and garden or poultry projects, since the last meeting which was held January 24th. A sewing room is going to be built in the school house for the club girls. The P. T. A. presented the girls with a nice sewing table which we are all proud of. There was a discussion of making money to send one of the club members to the Short Course at College Station. Miss Gunn then took charge of the house and gave the demonstration on how to make the sewing aprons. The girls are showing improvement in their work each meeting.

Harmony Club

The Harmony Club met last Wednesday afternoon with the president Mrs. J. G. Foster in the chair and she held a short business session previous to the splendid program on orchestral music, Mrs. M. L. Baker, directing. "Wind Instruments in the Orchestra," were discussed by Mesdames Vaughn Bailey, Jim Bailey, Harry Stalcup, H. S. Wilson and Misses Madalin Hunt and Eunice Huckabee. In decoration and menu the George Washington motifs were carried out. Mrs. Foster asked members to remain for a social hour and a plate with cerry pie, coffee and a hatchet as plate favor was served each one present.

Colonial Bridge Club

Mrs. John B. Draper was club hostess to the Colonial Bridge Club last Tuesday afternoon in her home and at the close of a delightful afternoon of bridge with members and a few invited guests served as ice course of brick cream and Angel food cake to Mrs. Jack Davis of Dallas, house guest of Mrs. W. P. Trice and Mrs. W. P. Trice. Mrs. J. G. Foster, Mrs. A. C. Foster, Mrs. Frank Sloan, Mrs. Tom Donohoo, Mrs. J. F. Morrison, Mrs. Theron Cahill and Miss Annie Laurie Duke.

Midway P. T. A.

The Midway P. T. A. will meet Friday night March 2nd, and will have a good program and ask that every parent be present. The writer is unable to give an exact report of the pie supper of Feb. 24th but will say this much, we had a big crowd, lots of pies and a jolly good time. We especially wish to thank the Haskell band for the good music. Come again boys, you and your good music are always welcome. Alton Packard, Mon., March 12th. "One of the most versatile and amusing of cartoonist."—(Philadelphia Ledger).

North Ward Gives a Free Program

A free program was given at the Haskell public school building, Thursday, February 23rd. The various numbers were given by pupils from the first through the seventh grade. A patriotic theme was carried out, however a few miscellaneous numbers occurred on the program. An appreciative audience assembled which showed the interest manifested in Haskell Public School. Many inspiring remarks were made by patrons concerning the program.

Hallmark Moody

Miss Paye Moody, the beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Moody of Plainview community and Forest Hallmark of Roberts, motored to Haskell Saturday February 18 and were married to the surprise of their many friends and relatives. This young couple will make their home in the Roberts community. Their many friends wish them many years of happiness together.

Lloyd Allen

On last Saturday afternoon, Buddy Allen and Miss Edith Loyd of Stamford drove to the Methodist parsonage in Haskell and were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Vaughn. After the ceremony the couple returned to Stamford where they will make their home.

Ladies Aid Society of Christian Church

Circle No. 1 of the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church met in the home of Mrs. H. S. Post last Monday February the 27th. The devotional was given by the hostess. Work for the new year was planned and committees were appointed. In an interesting bible contest, Miss Dulin Fields won the prize. Mrs. Post invited the ladies to remain for a social hour and served sandwiches, potato chips, tea and cake to Mesdames Courtney Hunt, R. B. Fields, J. M. Glass, W. N. Huckabee, W. W. Fields, C. D. Grissom, M. S. Shook, E. L. Man, T. W. Flenniken, W. A. Duncan, D. L. Cummins and Davis of Belton.

Parent-Teachers Association

The North Ward and High School P. T. A. will hold their regular business meeting on Thursday evening, March 8th at 8:30 o'clock. A delegate to the District meeting will be elected at that time. The meeting will be held in Abilene, April 3, 4 and 5. All members who have not paid their dues are requested to send them in, so that we may pay our state dues before April 1st. The annual dues have been reduced from one dollar to fifty cents, in our local organization.

J. L. Wright, better known as farmer Jess, was in the city Saturday and stated that he had his land all put up but would begin rebedding and cultivating his ground before seed time.

Rose H. D. Club Meets

The Rose Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. J. H. Cloer last Friday. Roll call was answered with "Do you have a braided rug? Where could you use one?" A round table discussion followed on "Setting hens and incubators and selecting eggs." Miss Gunn then gave a short history of rug making and a demonstration on braided rugs. It might be interesting to note that rug making began when our ancestors lived in trees and were savages. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Oran Webb's and a seed and plant exchange will take place. So if you have any flowers or seeds to exchange bring them. Planting seeds and cold frames and their use will be discussed. Roll call will be answered with "A new vegetable I intend to raise this year."

Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Program for March 4

Leader—Clarine Brannon. Topic—Missionary Program. Musical Prelude. Call to Worship: Luke 12:15-21. Hymn: "What Will You Give to Jesus?" Poem: "He's Counting on You." Scripture: Mark 12:41-44. Matthew 6:19-21. Story: "The Medal." Hymn: "Jesus Calls Us." "The Cost of a New World," text book chapters 6 and 7—Lewis Pearsey Mizpah.

The course in mission study which was started two weeks ago in Christian Endeavor and conducted in a splendid way by Mrs. Tom Davis has been very interesting and the study is greatly enjoyed by all the Endeavorers. A fine crowd was in attendance last Sunday evening, there were 25 present and much interest was manifested. The Christian Endeavor cordially invites all and ay of the young people to attend their meetings. Come and meet with us. You will find a welcome here.

Presbyterian Church

March 4th, 1928. Sunday School begins at 9:45 a. m. Church service begins at eleven o'clock, sermon by the pastor, "The Wages of Sin."

The Christian Endeavorers will meet at their usual hours, the Juniors at five o'clock and the Seniors at six thirty.

Rains Came; Work Stopped and the Weeds Flourished

You've seen fields where that happened. You could see where the cultivator had to stop—just where the weeds had their chance to thrive and rob the field. You can get the field in time—take double advantage of good weather conditions, when you use the

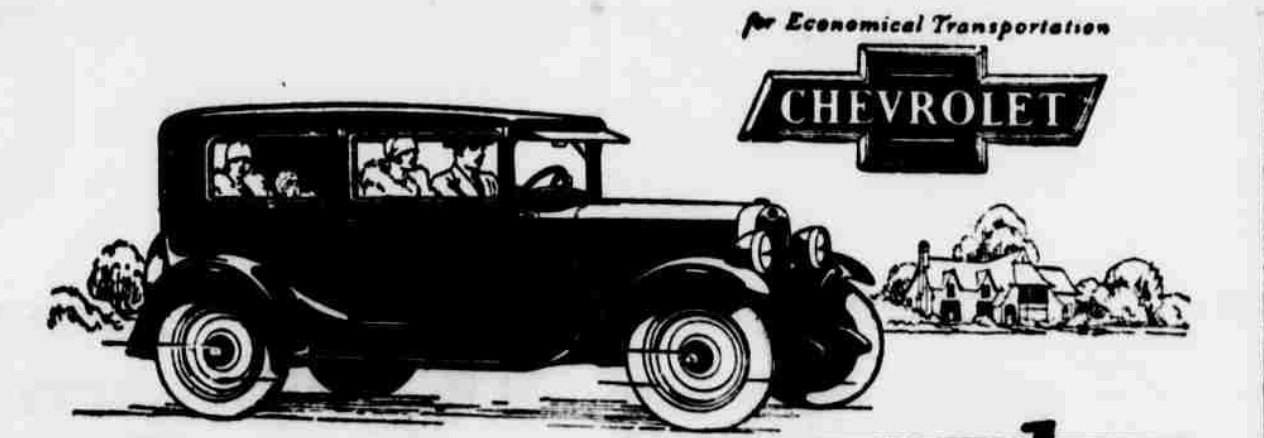

JOHN DEERE ND TWO-ROW

In one wet season, increased field due to ability to get over entire field in time would much more than pay for the ND. And remember it's labor saving a big advantage these days. One man with the John Deere ND does as much work in a day as two men do with two single-row cultivators. Saving those man-hour costs means a considerable sum every year to add to the net profits from your crop. You do the work just as easily and just as thoroughly as with a single-row. Easy lever control to meet all field conditions. Quick dodge on crooked rows. The rigs shift parallel; shovels always face squarely to their work and cut out field widths of the gangs—no "tracking or trailing" when dodging.

Come in and see the ND. We know we are helping the farmer make more money every time we sell one.

FORTY-FIRST YEAR

L. MULINS' TRAGIC DEATH

Hundreds of friends gathered at the grave of D. L. Mullins and poured loving sympathy to the bereaved ones on last Tuesday afternoon. At 9 o'clock when Rev. G. R. ... pastor of the First Christian church and Rev. M. L. Baker, pastor of the Presbyterian church held the funeral services.

News of the tragic death of the young man spread over Haskell and it was learned that the man who was killed was a well known citizen of Haskell. He was killed in a fall from a tree while working on a building. Mr. Sam Williams was an eye witness to the fall and he and Mr. H. L. Highnote recovered the body from the grave and buried it.

Mullins was born August 28, 1891 and died February 27th. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Mullins, who have lived in the community for many years. He had several brothers and sisters. He had been employed by the Haskell Free Press for some time.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Haskell on Wednesday morning, Feb. 22. The services were held at 10 o'clock and were conducted by Rev. G. R. ...

FOUR NEW BRICK BUILDINGS PLANNED

D. Scott, local contractor, is now erecting a one-story brick business building for George Miller on the south side between the West Texas Utilities Company and the Virgil Meadows building, which closes in the south side block with brick and concrete buildings. Mr. Miller will occupy the house himself, so far as we are informed.

On the vacant lots north of the Model Tailor shop north of the square Chas. McGregor and D. Scott will erect a block of material is being placed on the large brick and tile building and some ground and dirt will be broken at an early date. This will be a twin building and will house two business enterprises unless otherwise contracted for before the houses are complete. We are also reliably informed that another building will be erected near the site of the Scott & McGregor building, but definite plans have not been received as we go to press.

Numerous residences have been and are now being erected in all parts of the city within the past year which shows the confidence of the citizens of Haskell which they are manifesting in their city. Haskell is not "booming" but is making daily gains in improvements and increase in population.

STYLE SHOW TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY NIGHT

A benefit Style Show, participated in by the Dry Goods Stores of Haskell, will be given at the High School auditorium on Friday evening March 2nd, 7:30 p. m. Newest spring styles and materials will be displayed and much interest is being manifested by local merchants in the event. A small admission charge will be made, the fund going to the School Library.

In connection with the Style Show, a program will be presented by students of Miss Clodaugh Duke's speech arts class.

H. D. GAMMILL FOR COMMISSIONER PREC. 1.

We are authorized this week to place the name of H. D. Gammill in our announcement column as a candidate for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July. Mr. Gammill is making the race after being strongly solicited to do so, and states that if he is elected that he will discharge the duties of the office to the very best of his ability at all times. He is a farmer, owning his own home in the Foster community, and has been a resident of the county for a number of years. Mr. Gammill is well qualified for the office to which he aspires, and is acquainted with the needs of his precinct and the county as well, in the affairs pertaining to the office of Commissioner. Living as he does in the Foster community, he is centrally located and will be able to devote his services and attention to the office in an economical and business-like manner.

UNIQUE ADVERTISEMENT FOR LOCAL CONCERN

Courtney Hunt & Co. are inaugurating a novel and unique experiment in their advertising this week—in an experiment to test the value of newspaper advertising, which is stated in this page ad in this issue. A number of coupons appear in the advertisement, which must be brought to the store to secure the discount mentioned on them. These coupons apply in a number of departments, and are an extra inducement in addition to their regular Dollar Day specials which have been featured on the first Friday in each month for the past year.

Customers of this store will be interested in the various items mentioned in their advertising this week, and they know too, that the merchandise offered by this progressive store is always the newest and latest on the market.

J. A. LANDESS FOR COMMISSIONER PREC. 3

We are authorized this week to place the name of J. A. Landess in our announcement column as a candidate for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 3, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July. Mr. Landess is well qualified in every respect to fill the office to which he aspires, and makes his announcement only after strong solicitation on the part of friends. He has lived in Haskell county practically all his life, and in Precinct 3, for the past 25 years. He is a young man, a farmer, and is well acquainted with the needs of his precinct. He states that if elected, he will see to the best of his ability that the affairs of the office are handled in a business-like and economical manner, with the best interests of all considered.

Mr. Landess states that he intends to try and see each voter of his Precinct before the election is held, and discuss with them in person his claims and qualifications for the office. In the meantime, we ask that you give his candidacy your fair and impartial consideration.

STAMPS SCHOOL OF MUSIC AT O'BRIEN MARCH 12

V. O. Stamps and Marshall Yandell will begin a school of music Monday night March 12, which will continue for three weeks. Stamps and Yandell are among the best instructors of Texas and it is predicted by the promoters that it will be a great school for those who wish to learn to sing.

There will be an ad in this paper next week giving the prices of tuition.

Herring-Opry
Mr. Eguel Herring and Miss Clara May Opry were married by Judge R. P. Simmons in the County Clerk's office in the courthouse Friday February 24th, at 3 p. m., in the presence of a few friends and the officials of the Clerk's office. This happy young couple come from two of the best families of the Sagerton community, where they are well and favorably known, and have a large host of friends who wish for them many years of happiness in life.

FIRE INSURANCE KEY RATE IS CUT

According to information received this week, Haskell's fire insurance key rate has been lowered to 47c by the State Fire Insurance Commission, a reduction of 6 cents over the previous rate which was 53 cents. The reduction was granted on the basis of improvements in the water system and the purchase recently of a pumper fire truck.

An additional credit of 15 per cent was granted for a good fire record, and these two credits will mean a saving of between three and four thousand dollars annually on insurance premiums by the citizens of Haskell.

FILLING STATION CHANGES HANDS

Willard Mitchell has purchased the W. T. Sarrels Filling Station on north Main Street and took charge of same Saturday night. Mr. Sarrels reasons for selling is that he might get into his canvass of the county for the office of Sheriff. Mr. Mitchell is a splendid young man who has lived in the New Mid community for a number of years where he was engaged in farming. He will conduct the station along the same line of excellent service and dependable supplies and he will appreciate the patronage of his friends.

OPEN FURNITURE REPAIR BUSINESS

Pinkerton Tin Shop have added a furniture repairing department to their business, as will be noticed by their advertisement in this issue, and are equipped to do all kinds of furniture repairing. They state that there is quite a demand for this class of service in Haskell, and that they will install additional equipment in the near future to handle any class of furniture repair work, upholstery, etc. They report a very substantial patronage since adding the new department to their business.

A report of the Board of Stewards by their president, Mr. F. G. Alexander recently, showed some marked improvement over this time last year. Let all members be present next Sunday night and hear a great message and have a part in starting the year off right.

FOUR SQUARE PLAN FOR RURAL COMMUNITIES TO BE PRESENTED

WEST SIDE BARBER SHOP CHANGES HANDS

H. H. Cook and Hubert Nollner two well known barbers of this city recently purchased the West Side Barber Shop from its present owner, Edgar Wilson and took possession Monday morning of this week. These young men need no introduction to the people of this city as they have both been in the barber business for a number of years. Travis Everett and Murl Howard will also be connected with the service of the shop. Mr. Everett goes from the Cliff Barber Shop on the north side and Mr. Howard has been in the West Side Shop for some time. These young men will doubtless have splendid patronage and they are anxious for their friends to know where they are located.

Recital Postponed

The recital of Mrs. George Morrison's pupils has been postponed from Friday night of this week to Friday night March 9th on account of another program to be given at the High School building.

STATE AID INSPECTOR VISITS RURAL SCHOOLS

The State Aid Inspector, Mr. J. G. Smith who in company with the County Superintendent, Miss Minnie Ellis visited and checked all rural schools in the county, that receive state aid, finished work last Thursday February 23rd. Mr. Smith expressed himself as being well pleased with conditions, in fact he found that most of the schools had already met State requirements and no allotments had to be held up. The State Aid granted to the county amounts to $8,835.00, which is rather liberal considering restrictions under the new State Aid law.

SUNDAY SHOWS BEING DISCUSSED

The matter of Sunday moving picture shows has been brought up in Haskell, as well as several adjoining towns, and Manager Hughes of the Texas Theatre stated that he had received a number of requests for Sunday movies in Haskell. However, he states that although the smaller cities all over the state, that the matter would be left to the citizens of Haskell—that he was ready to arrange for them if the citizens so desired—otherwise there would be no Sunday shows. He further stated that in the event that the public wanted the Sunday shows that a special program would be arranged that would not conflict in any way with church services at any time; that he did not believe the Sunday shows would affect the morale standing of Haskell, but would merely provide the public a place to spend the afternoon, and enjoy a nice, clean entertainment.

Called Home

Mrs. Harry A. Williamson died Thursday February 23, at 6 a. m. at the family home in the Brushy community in the northeastern section of Haskell county. She was 55 years of age when the end came after a number of years of suffering. She has been a member of the Baptist church for many years and her life was spent in the service of her master and in duty to her family. She was loved by all who knew her and she will be keenly missed by her loved ones and friends. Her going brings sadness to many hearts but we know that she has entered into the rest of the faithful to forever sing around the throne of God eternal in the Heavens.

The funeral services were held at Brushy Baptist church at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. J. S. Kinser after which her body was given burial in the Brushy cemetery, beneath a bank of beautiful flowers placed there by loving friends in token of the high esteem in which she was held.

She is survived by her husband and 7 children, who were all present at the funeral. Some of the children have preceded her in death, one son only a few months ago.

May He who is too good to be unkind and too wise to make a mistake, comfort the bereaved loved ones in this dark hour of sorrow.

W. T. Morgan of Center Point was a visitor to the city Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Jones were in the city Saturday from pleasant view.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bristow of Foster were in the city Saturday.

Beginning March 2nd, Mr. H. L. Gantz, Field Editor of Farm & Ranch in charge of rural schools will be in Haskell County for the purpose of presenting plans for the organization of Four Square Rural Communities.

The Four Square Rural Community plan as fostered by Farm & Ranch Publishing Company is an effort to help build up the rural schools of Texas to the strongest instead of the weakest part of our school system.

In order that this plan may be carried to the rural sections of the state Farm & Ranch Publishing Company has secured the services of competent men who are thoroughly familiar with rural school problems to work with the county superintendents, county agents, and home demonstration agents in perfecting this plan in the various counties.

The Four Square Community plan has been introduced in more than thirty counties and every community that has availed itself of this program is helping itself to better things. The plan stated briefly is merely joining into one team, all state and county agencies that have to do in whole or in part with rural communities and adding to that team the organized community itself.

The four sides of the square represents 1st, the school, 2nd, the 4-H Clubs, 3rd, the Health Programs for the school, home and community, and 4th, the Organized Community which is the Community Club. The first side of the square which is the school is completed by the standardization of the school by the Department of Education. With the development of these features the school community is known as a Four Square Rural Community.

An itinerary for visits to various communities in the county is being worked out and it is hoped that every citizen of the communities to be visited and citizens of adjoining communities will be present at these meetings. Mr. Gantz has a message full of thought and helpful suggestions, and has the reputation of being an interesting forceful speaker.

A. H. KING ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

A. H. King of Throckmorton was in the city Wednesday, and during a visit to this office stated that he was a candidate for re-election as Representative from the 102nd District, and his name will be found in our announcement column this week.

Judge King has served this District ably and well in the Legislature, and at all times has worked for the interest of this section and has been instrumental in securing better representation for West Texas and his district in the Legislature.

Briefly, Judge King outlined his platform as follows:

He favors a reduction in the automobile tax money for use in constructing and improving lateral roads. The gasoline tax, he stated, would suffice for the needs of the State Highway Department.

He is in favor of Court Reform, doing away with much waste of money and time in our courts as handled at present.

Touching upon the cotton situation, he stated that "cotton ought to be wrapped in cotton," that every means of using the South's staple commodity would benefit the farmers directly in increasing consumption of cotton.

Judge King while serving as Representative introduced and secured the law providing the payment by the State of the tuition of country boys and girls in High School, making it possible for every country boy and girl to attend a High School without the payment of tuition fees, which in some cases would be a barrier to the securing of a high school education by rural students. Many of the leading educators of the State say that this is the most beneficial and constructive pieces of school legislation enacted in many years.

We have no hesitancy in recommending Judge King's candidacy to the voters of this district, and although he probably will have no opponent, we ask that you give his candidacy fair and impartial consideration before casting your ballot.

Young Lady of Roberts Community Undergoes Operation

Miss Eula Force, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Force of the Roberts community underwent an operation at the Stamford Sanitarium Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock and the operation was reported a success and if no complications set up she will soon return home. Her many friends will be anxious to hear until they know of her danger.
