TELLING THE WORLD

Outside and Inside Dope on Haskell County People As Told By Our Rambling Representative

The rains flooded and the floods came last Thursday beginning shortly after midnight and thousands of acres of Haskell county's fine farming lands were thoroughly soaked. But in some places in the county very little rain fell to gladden the hearts of the trusting farmers. The tanks and cisterns are full or water in many localities while other sections the farmers must continue to haul water until their time comes which we trust will not be long. But according to reports the greater part of the county received a good rain. H. S. Gibson living in the Pinkerton community reported about 3 1/2 inches of rain at his place which fell early Thursday morning. Many others report rain around two inches or more. H. B. Weaver living in the city reported all the tanks filled in his farm near Pleasant Valley, but in the Sagerton and other communities the rain was very light. The rains in all parts of the county seem to have enough moisture to bring up the early maize and other feed crops which will be planted in the near future. Planting will begin on a large scale in a few days.

The weather which blew up Thursday night following the rain seemed to be of the "Go-Whig" variety and made us feel like the balmy days of the past week had gone for ever, but the sun is shining nicely this (Saturday) morning. We hope that this spell has broken the back of winter and that spring with its sunshine and flowers is here.

Monday
Last Monday we left the city for the Bushy community one of the best farming sections in West Texas where lives a sturdy and progressive people who have in making the best of the opportunities given them, and have their farms plowed and replowed, harrowed and re-harrowed and are ready for the planting of all crops grown in that section when the days of sowing get in their appointed.

We stopped a few moments at the home of Mrs. Meador near Ranton city and had a short talk with grandma Bowman who is living with her daughter Mrs. Marzer. Mrs. Bowman is 75 years of age and carries her years with the spirit of one much younger in years. She lived with her late husband T. M. Bowman in Haskell county 23 years and has lived in Texas 48 years coming from Chattanooga, Tenn. to Haskell. It is an interesting talk with Mrs. Bowman and her late husband's life. She was born in the state of Georgia near the city of Dalton.

G. C. Conwell.
Mr. Conwell is a farmer living near Bushy and has been in the Haskell county for the past 15 years. He has a fine farm with 500 acres and has a fine house and a fine barn. He has a fine cow and a fine horse. He has a fine pig and a fine chicken. He has a fine dog and a fine cat. He has a fine fish and a fine bird. He has a fine everything.

W. L. Posey.
Mr. Posey who formerly lived in Haskell county for a number of years has moved back to the Ferris Ranch after about five years sojourn in the city of Albany. He formerly lived in this community and is glad to get back to home and friends. He always read the Haskell Press when he lived in the county and he is again back on the job. We are glad to have Walter and his family back in Haskell county.

J. D. Roberts.
We called at the home of Mr. Roberts on the afternoon and not wishing to spoil a good write up we will wait until we get a line up on the things of this good farmer. He was in Seymour when we called and Mrs. Roberts could not give us the data we needed for our report. Watch this column later on.

J. M. Hinkle.
J. M. Hinkle has lived in Haskell county 19 years and has reared his family here. He is one of our very best men and has lived for the past 17 years on his good farm near Voness Store. Last year he built a good home on this farm and he and Mrs. Hinkle and their son, Hicks, are living happily in this nice new home and enjoying life. Mrs. Hinkle is one of the most successful poultry raisers in the country. She has a number of pure bred hens but she is not breeding any exclusively. But she is going to give quite a lot of attention to turkey raising this year and has some of the largest Bronze birds on the yard we have seen. They are milking two good cows and are getting a bountiful supply for the family and some for the market. Mr. and Mrs. Hinkle are among the best gardeners in the county and they raise lots of vegetables every year. Mr. Hinkle says that he never fails to grow all the tomatoes the family can use every year besides fine cabbage and other vegetables. We took supper with these our friends and enjoyed it very much and returned home with our heart filled with gratitude for the splendid reception we received in every home on our trip.

Thursday
Learning that heavy rains had fallen north west of the city, we drove out south of town Thursday afternoon to visit some of our friends out that way. We had not gone far until we noticed the clouds banking up for another attack and we soon found that we had to return to the city or drive over slick muddy roads and we just did get in to town before the rain began falling. Before we returned we visited the following farmers at their homes.

Curtis McDonald.
Mr. McDonald has recently purchased two acres of good land 1 1/2 mile south of the old mill site at Haskell and has erected a nice new residence and is improving the place as fast as time will permit. He was competing a storm cellar which will be very convenient and consoling when the storms of spring and summer begin to make themselves heard. He is a fan of Rhode Island Reds and has quite a number of fine birds on his yard. He reports some thing around 150 hens which he says are laying lots of eggs and are paying their way with a nice profit on the side.

Mrs. Rose Bischofshausen.
Mrs. Bischofshausen is living at the next house on the road to the McDonalds. She is doing a fine job of farming this year and has some one to help her with the plowing. She has chickens and cows and is doing nicely on the farm.

R. D. Lackey.
Mr. Lackey is one of the Haskell county pioneers and he is one of our best farmers. One of the kind that when adversity comes and conditions of farming look bad, he just goes right ahead doing his part and trusting in the Lord to do his and he has made a success. Last year conditions looked bad after the hail and sand storms had struck him. But he took courage plowed again with the results that he got a fine crop. He was putting a new floor in the interior of his residence when he passed. He is through with his plowing and ready to plant. He has a fine garden and some of his ground is well tilled. It is always a pleasure for us to visit Mr. Lackey and talk to him about the things concerning farm life. He is an inspiration to us because of his integrity and grit as a farmer. He is a quitter. But stay right on through the old saying goes.

C. W. Bledsoe.
Mr. Bledsoe is building a nice seven room dwelling on the farm he owns near the golf grounds. A number of men were working on this building when we passed there. This nice new home will soon be completed and ready for the family to move into it. Mr. Bledsoe has built the good houses in Haskell County and a private home in the city and around.

H. C. Wyche.
Mr. Wyche was in the city and was a carpenter and a millwright. He owns and operates one of the best mills consisting of 320 horsepower and is doing some good farming. He expects to plant more this year and will use other feed crops which will be used to feed his stock which he has in the place. He says that chickens and cows pay better than calves as they are not a waste market crop and bring in each 40 cents of the year. Last year he had more than $5000 worth of eggs and more than $1000 worth of calves. He has just repainted his residence and made other improvements on his place which add to the beauty and comfort of the home. Mr. Wyche is pleased with the conditions and is making preparation for a bumper crop in 1928.

White at this home it began raining and we came to our trip for the day. We will continue our trip to the next town in the county and will report on what we see there.

More Study Given by Architects to Color

Increasingly beautiful American cities are foreseen by Harry Boehm, a well-known New York architect, as a result of the greater attention given by architects to the effects of local atmospheric conditions on sunlight and color.

A material which may look well enough in one city may be a drab failure in another, Boehm points out, solely because of the almost imperceptible difference in the quality of the sunlight. This, he explains, is not necessarily caused by such obvious factors as smoke, or dust. It may result from the far more subtle conditions of atmospheric moisture, or density, changing the spectral composition of the light.

"These conditions, however, need no longer hamper the property owner or architect," Mr. Boehm asserts. "Building materials today offer a color range simply wide, and with sufficiently delicate distinctions of shade, to satisfy any needs. It is simply up to the designer to choose wisely, and as a general rule, he is doing so, today."

"He must know that color, as we see it, is reflected light. Certain pigments absorb certain portions of the light which falls upon them, and reflect other portions. No material can appear to have a color which is not a part of the light in which it is viewed. As the light changes in quality, the color of the material seems to change."

Small Town Hotels Meet New Conditions

Improved highways and motor-car tourists have brought a new day to the hotels in smaller cities and towns and developed opportunities for business not known before. And the hotels have moved promptly to meet the new condition. Changes and improvements have been made quickly. One may stop with entire confidence in most places today when touring, find a tidy room, a good bath, a bath and appetizing food, in any small town hotel near any of the principal highways.

One finds these improvements well developed along the older tourist highways and finds progress completed or in evidence along the newer highways. These small hotel people have been wise. They have not built too largely, but they have built well. They understand how certainly the tourist longs for a bath after a day of travel, how a neat exterior makes the hotel inviting, how a clean and comfortable room is welcomed, and they have made abundant preparations to satisfy the appetite sharpened by the days' ride in the open air.—Ohio State Journal.

Municipal Progress

Examples of civic enterprise have been and are being furnished in abundance. There was an example in the city of Dallas, in connection with the issue of $2,000,000, the equivalent, in view of the city's size, of a $50,000,000 issue in Kansas City. There were the examples of Detroit, St. Louis and numerous other centers which either have definitely launched or are far

Home Pays Dividends

Aside from the sentimental satisfaction which a family feels, there are many other reasons why a home should be owned. Aside from being the dearest worldly possession and the best legacy a man can leave, it will provide shelter when earnings are missing, promote systematic saving and present an ever present incentive to abolish waste. It will pay dividends for a lifetime. These dividends will be increased when the home is clear and rent money can be saved, with interest.

Keep the Tramps Out

A plan that will keep the tramps out of town is worth more than any scheme for taking care of them after they get there. An arrangement for putting them to work seems desirable from two viewpoints. It would probably keep many out and it would also provide a means of handling any that drifted in despite the reputation of the town for putting vagabonds to work.—Anniston (Ala.) Star.

When Surface Needs Paint

Generally by observation of the paint the condition can be determined. If this is not manifest, rub your finger over the surface and if it shows any sign of chalking or if cracking or scaling have begun, repainting should be done at once.

to call the attention of the American Bankers Association to the case of Mr. Washkowsky of Brooklyn. Mr. Washkowsky is hard working and frugal, but like so many of us his cotton is defective; who is to blame that we don't know. Mr. Washkowsky has been saving a part of weekly wages for a long time, but not told Mrs. Washkowsky where was depositing his nest egg. That is a mistake, probably, but an injury into it belongs to another branch education with which it is probable bankers association cannot be held save any concern.

at with Mr. Washkowsky's delirium it has. He chose for that pose an old shoe. He kept the shoe and its mate in his closet, and to the other day had tucked away one of them savings amounting to $1. On that same other day Mrs. Washkowsky, rummaging Mr. Washkowsky's closet like a good housewife, seeking what she could throw away or transfer to another place, she found Mr. Washkowsky couldn't find the habit of good housewifery, but this same pair of old shoes. We pose she said to herself, Mr. Washkowsky not being present to have it told to him, "Isn't that just like a man!" and acting thereupon just like a woman she sent the shoes to the bier to be repaired. It was either the shoe or the ash barrel for them, and if frugal and Mr. Washkowsky pay the cobbler bills anyway, she sent them to the cobbler.

distracted man was Mr. Washkowsky when he next went to make a call in his old shoe. "What new one," he asked in that martyr tone lectured by husbands on similar occasions, "have you found for my old one?" Mrs. Washkowsky told him, seeking to be praised for her rightfulness. Women—but that's their branch of education.

Mr. Washkowsky went to the cobbler and found his shoes, but not the way, which we cannot but feel is remarkable. We hope he will find but he hasn't yet, which again would cause no astonishment.

but what we would like to hear is the American Bankers Association is what steps it is taking to discourage people of meagre habits from saving their money in shoes, coats, auto clocks, behind wall picture, on floor boards and similar places. I have made no exact calculation, but from casual evidence we are inclined to believe there are enough hidden away in such places in our enlightened and progressive country to pay off the national debt. Not that we advise paying it off, because it would leave congress nothing to do with Mr. Mellon about; but if deposited in banks our banker might be some to lead when we need it, rich he now savor has; he says money is very scarce. We hold it is not; it is merely in Mr. Washkowsky's shoes.

Seeing that we have been pursuing session, or something called that, for several centuries, we cannot but feel this is a bad showing and that a bankers association is somehow possible. It hasn't sufficiently improved on the people that it has and what they are for. Mr. Washkowsky hasn't heard. And there is a lot of him in this country.—Kansas City Star.

FOOD, HOW MUCH AND WHAT

Milk, fruit and vegetables are recommended keeping the body healthy and preventing disease. Each person should have every day:

(a) Three glasses of milk of its equivalent in buttermilk, butter, cottage cheese, custards, creamed vegetables, soups or ice cream. This will require one or two good cows to each family.

(b) Two raw fruits or raw vegetables, such as apples, oranges, watermelons, cantaloupes, tomatoes, lettuce, cabbage or onions. This will require an orchard and garden producing as long as possible.

(c) A generous serving of one leafy vegetable, cooked or raw, such as greens from turnips, mustard, beets, lettuce, sprouts, cabbage, green string beans and asparagus. This will require from 75 to 100 cans during the non-productive season.

(d) A generous serving of tomatoes, cooked or raw, at least four times a week. This will require from 75 to 100 cans according to the producing season.

In addition to the fruits and vegetables the family should be provided with an abundance of meat, eggs, bread, potatoes and other foods that can be produced on the farm. This will require from 175 to 200 cans of fruit and other vegetables as well as meat animals, and 75 to 100 hens and a well planned garden.

THIS LOVE AFFAIR SHOOK THE WORLD

Love makes the world go round, and sometimes it nearly shakes the big ball from its axis.

The love affair that played a big part in the winning to the United States of California 70 years ago, is the theme of "Rose of the Golden West" coming to the Texas Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

Founded upon historical facts, this George Fitzmaurice production for First National Pictures shows how a romantic and fiery Spanish youth, portrayed by Gilbert Roland, and a stately, eyed and utterly beautiful woman, enacted by Marie Astor, upset the entire line of ration in the quest for California.

All the glamor of California as it was under Spanish rule is depicted on the screen in "Rose of the Golden West." Montague Love, Gustav von Seyffertitz and Flora Finch also are featured.

GILLISPIE BAPTIST HOME COMING WELL ATTENDED

Last Sunday March 18th a homecoming service was held at the Gillispie Baptist church. Despite the cold weather a large attendance was present and a great time was experienced and enjoyed. The services began at 10 a. m. and continued through the entire day, with a bountiful lunch at the noon hour. S. A. Elam and his son Chas. F. Elam and their families from Crosbyton were in attendance, doubtless they were the ones attending from the greatest distance. They are all old timers and lived in the Gillispie community many years before moving away in 1913 to the South Plains. They were former members of the Gillispie church. Many disappointments were experienced because a number of old timers could not attend the weather being very cold and the age of a number of the old members kept them away. But their names were mentioned and regrets expressed over and over again because they were not permitted to be present. A splendid program had been arranged by Rev. C. B. Stovall pastor of the church and was carried out with the exception of a few changes as planned, others substituting for the absent ones. Rev. W. C. Ashford, Rev. J. T. Nicholson and Rev. W. C. Garrett, all former pastors, were expected, but sickness and weather conditions kept them away as most of them live quite a distance from Gillispie.

The program began Saturday night when Rev. Nicholson was to have delivered a sermon, but in his absence the pastor, Rev. Stovall, preached in his stead. Sunday morning the house was called to order at 10 o'clock and two songs were directed by W. M. Free of Haskell and two songs by the pastor, after which Rev. R. G. M. Eiland of Munday offered a word of prayer.

A short talk by the deacons, Sunday School Superintendent and others of the church were called for by the pastor and most of them responded with an interesting talk regarding the progress of the church. At the 11 o'clock hour Rev. C. Jones of Haskell, a former pastor, preached a sermon on the subject of "Stand for God," and his sermon was a great inspiration to all.

After the close of the sermon by Bro. Jones made a short talk on the number of the present membership of the church which is according to the books of the clerk a total of 167 are in full fellowship with this church, 19 members of this number living elsewhere but holding their membership with the church.

A bountiful feast was served to all at the noon hour and the ladies had made ample preparations and when all had eaten there were enough good things to eat taken up to have fed another congregation of like number.

The house was called to order in song at 1:30 p. m. by the pastor, after which W. W. Hyde, who is a familiar figure in the community, although living at Knox City, directed two songs. Mr. Hyde has carried the mail on a rural route from Knox City through the Gillispie community for almost 23 years and is known by every man, woman and child in that section.

J. B. Jones of Benjamin, who is county superintendent of Knox County, gave a history of the church, which was organized in the year of 1896. He became a member in 1898 and according to Mr. Jones, Mrs. L. W. Bohannon of Knox City is the only charter member living in this section of the country and she was ill and not able to be present. The church was organized by Rev. D. James, Associational Missionary and he served the church for a while as its pastor until the church in conference called Rev. R. G. M. Eiland as its second pastor in the year of 1897 and he served the church until 1899.

Rev. Eiland was on the program and was present to take his place as I made a wonderful talk, telling of his trials as pastor in the new country, working without a certified salary, and a promise of remuneration for his faithful services. He also gave a strong admonition to the younger pastors to stand firm and to carry on the work the older men had made possible for them. A recognition service was held and quite a number of old members and ex-pastors were present who had a word to say of the trials and progress of the old church. Most all the members took time to express their appreciation of being present in this great day of service. At the close of the services for the day and after the last prayer had been said there was many a warm handshake and glad smile when they again met face to face in the church of the long ago in a get-together meeting after the service.

At the evening service Prof. C. R. Eil directed a splendid B. Y. P. U. program which was moved by a large attendance. Each one taking part on the program were very entertaining and instructive and thus closed the services of a day long to be remembered.

tracting parties are among the best young people of their home town and have a host of friends who wish for them much joy in life.

"LES MISERABLES" FILM EPIC HERE SUNDAY

So big as to beggar description, so delicate in its artful shadings of pathos and humor, and yet so overpowering in dramatic power and sweep that the audience is held constantly in the grip of tense interest, admiration and sympathy, "Les Miserables," the Universal-Film de France production, will be the attraction at the Texas Theatre Sunday.

One cannot see this gripping and stirring movie masterpiece without realizing that infinite patience, unlimited money and inspired endeavor were lavished upon the production for no item in the tremendously big tableau seems to have been too small to be worthy of the utmost care in reproducing, when actual antiques could not be obtained.

It is said that most of the scenes, excepting those representing Paris, were taken on the actual locations of the book. These Parisian sets were built with such astonishing fidelity that they convey the illusion of age and realism, and to such an extent that it is difficult to believe that they were not photographed a hundred year ago.

FORTY-FIRST YEAR

VE PATRONS DAY AT FLAT TOP

(By W. M. Free)
More than ten years the patrons of Flat Top school have been meeting their children once each year during a day session called Patron's Friday was the day set apart for this purpose, but because of the short and many people who were to be there were kept from attending. The program had been arranged for the afternoon and the forenoon was an acquaintance meeting because of the fact that all the county had been invited and a few did not answer the call and were disappointed. A bountiful lunch was served and all were invited to take a short prayer at the corner of Haskell.

The program was given to the patrons to make their formal report. Only nine candidates were present to take part in the election for 1928. The election will be a hot one because of the county candidates present. Jason W. Smith, Reynolds, Mrs. C. M. Kaigler for county clerk, F. M. Squires, Gilliam for tax collector, Watson and Frank L. Sloan for assessor, French M. Robertson for attorney and Jesse G. Fosny for judge, and T. D. Strickland for sheriff.

At the February meeting of the school board, J. Horace Bass, the present city school superintendent, was unanimously re-elected for the session of 1928-29. After giving the election due consideration, Mr. Bass makes it known this week that he will remain in Haskell.

It is well known that the school system suffers thru frequent changes of administration and such changes always occur with each new superintendent. The period of adjustment and readjustment is always attended with some difficulty. The present year which marks Mr. Bass' first year here has been no exception. Mr. Bass believes that conditions are favorable to his remaining and that another session will prove more successfully some ideas he has in mind for our schools. His plans are now to remain in Haskell indefinitely.

In accepting the work for another year, Mr. Bass was high in his appreciation for the splendid co-operation of the school board. He declared that no better fitted group of men could be found anywhere to serve in the capacity of trustees. The personnel of the board at the present time: R. V. Robertson, Pres.; S. A. Roberts, Secretary; E. I. Christian; Courtney Hunt; R. C. Couch; Oscar E. Oates; B. Cox.

Attendance was given as the biggest problem found to be solved. Particularly was this a serious problem in high school where every day is important if the student is to get best results. The student not only loses the assignment but his interest as well. A large number of patrons evidently fail to understand the importance of regular and punctual attendance or else children would not be kept out of school for trivial matters or be called out to work in such a way as to make a schedule irregular.

The board of trustees will be joined by the patrons of the Haskell Independent School district in approval of Mr. Bass' decision to remain in Haskell.

COL. ALVIN OWSLEY WAS HERE SATURDAY

Col. Alvin Owsley of Denton, a candidate for the United States Senate, was in the city for a few hours Saturday. Colonel Owsley stopped off here to shake hands with several of his friends on his way to Vernon and Wichita Falls, where he was scheduled to deliver an address before the Vernon Lions Club at their regular meeting.

J. T. WATSON OF POST KILLS MAD DOG

J. T. Watson of the Post community was in the city Monday and reported that he killed a young dog belonging to his children, Friday that he believed had hydrophobia. He noticed a fresh scar on this pup about two weeks ago which he believes now was made by the bite of a dog which had rabies and the pup had just about had time to have gone mad from the bite when it began to show signs of going mad, fortunately none of the family were bitten. It seems that this section is infested with mad dogs and will be well to be very careful with children who are accustomed to play with dogs.

SHORT COURSE TO BE GIVEN THIS WEEK

Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agent, arrived in Haskell, Wednesday afternoon to assist Miss Gunn in giving a short course at Cottonwood Thursday. Miss Bess Edwards, assistant state home demonstration agent, will arrive Thursday evening to assist Miss Gunn and Miss Murray at Post Friday and at O'Brien Saturday.

The program which will be discussed is as follows:

1. The Livable Living Room—Miss Edwards.
2. Floors and Floor Finishes—Miss Murray.
3. Walls and Drapes—Miss Murray.
4. Braided Rugs and their Uses—Miss Edwards.
5. Improved Kitchens—Miss Edwards.
6. Dietary Value of a Garden—Miss Gunn.

1500 RABBITS KILLED AT PLEASANT VALLEY

About two hundred rabbit hunters and candidates gathered at Pleasant Valley school house last Wednesday morning and staged a rabbit drive which proved a success in every way. The captains Mr. Pat Weaver, Bill Ashby, Bob Mitchell and Pete Derr handled the drive quite well for such a large gathering. Plenty of good eats and hot coffee were served by the women of Pleasant Valley community at noon. Something like 1500 rabbits were slain by the nimrods. Some of the candidates complained of sore arms from hard kicking guns, but the writer thinks they were caused more from shaking hands with prospective voters, than they were from other causes. Cigars were furnished to all and every one seemed to have a good time and expressed the hope of having another drive in the near future.
