BAPTIST SECRETARY PRAISES WORK OF FLOWERS PARTY

Arthur Flake, secretary of Sunday School Board, Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville Tenn., says of A. J. Flowers:
'I am sure you will not mind my telling you frankly that the great experience you had with the First Baptist church Sunday school of Houston, Texas, in building one of the greatest Sunday schools on the American continent fits you, as nothing else could, for the work you plan to do as a member of an evangelistic party.
'When I think of your work at Houston, in which you took that Sunday school that had been at a dead standstill for twenty-five years and built it from an attendance of less than 400 to one of the largest in our church, I marvel at how you did it. I sincerely hope that you will be able to stir dead churches all over our land and country, putting them on their feet and starting them on the way toward reaching and teaching their people.
Sincerely ARTHUR FLAKE.'
Mrs. Webb Stark was shopping in the city last Wednesday. Mr. Stark is now farming east of the city and he is just so busy that Mrs. Stark does the shopping.

Appointment of Registrars for Vital Statistics Announced

This county has now been organized in accordance with the new Vital Statistics Law, by the appointment of registrars for each justice precinct and each incorporated town or city according to information received from the State Department of Health.

Every birth is required by law to be reported to the local registrar of the district in which it occurs, by the attending physician or midwife, or if there was neither, then by the father or mother, within five days after the birth.

The law prohibits the burial or removal of a dead body before a death certificate properly and completely filled out, has been filed with the local registrar, and burial or removal permit has been secured.

The immense legal value of these records makes it important that the citizens of Texas be given this protection by having a complete, legal record properly filed in accordance with this law.

In the first three months of 1928, there were reported from Haskell County, 27 births and 4 deaths. This indicates only about 19 per cent of the total number which probably occurred. Let's go 100 per cent from now on.

Below is a list of local registrars of your county, and it is urged that you make every effort to comply with the law and to aid securing complete registration in your county. For further information, address State Department of Health, Bureau of Vital Statistics, Austin, Texas.

1928 ASSOCIATED TOURS GUIDE FOR MOTORISTS

Motorists who plan to take a vacation tour, this summer, will be interested to know that The Automobile Club of America has just published the fourteenth edition of its annual road book, the 1928 Associated Tours Guide, which is now ready for distribution.

The Guide in its one hundred and twenty-eight pages, contains a wealth of useful information for exactly planning where to go on your vacation trip and how to get there. The Motor maps, mileages and itineraries shown in the Guide, covering the vast area of the United States east of the Mississippi and Eastern Canada, as well as the more popular transcontinental and trans-Canadian routes, afford the motor vacationist a wide range of touring fields from which to select.

In all, the Guide gives over one hundred and twenty-five thousand miles of the best, hard surfaced highways in the country, especially chosen for their charm of scenic outlook, leading to seaside, mountain and inland resorts of rest and recreation.

For the convenience of motorists, the Guide will be distributed through local newsdealers in all parts of the country or may be obtained by remitting fifty cents, to cover cost and postage, to The Automobile Club of America, 12 East 53rd Street, New York, City.

INDUSTRY HELPS AGRICULTURE BUILD UP THE SMALL TOWN

Decentralization of Manufacturing Brings Markets for Products Closer to the Farm—Gives Employment and Better Standards of Living to Rural Communities.

By T. R. PRESTON, President, American Bankers Association

NO class of people has been more diligent in trying to understand the agricultural problem than the bankers of this country. The agricultural problem is a real problem and demands the best thought of everyone. This country cannot continue along happy lines with only sections of the country prosperous. Prosperity must be passed around if anybody is long to enjoy it. This question cannot be solved by the farmers alone, but the majority opinion is that there is no legislative remedy for agriculture. It is an economic question pure and simple and must be worked out accordingly.

A few years ago it was contended that agriculture did not have sufficient credit facilities. That proposition was often made a political question. I do not presume there are many who will question the fact that agriculture now has ample credit facilities.

Mixing Farms and Factories

It is a fact that no community and no state has ever become great purely from agriculture. It is not to the interest of New York and other great centers to see the small communities and the agricultural sections losing their wealth and importance. In the end it will react upon them to their disadvantage.

There seems to me a real remedy for these small communities and also for agriculture. This remedy, which is the mixing of industry with agriculture, is now being applied in many localities with satisfactory results.

Industry and agriculture are better balanced in Ohio, North Carolina and Pennsylvania than in any other states of the Union, and in these states there is no serious agricultural problem and we hear little complaint from the farmers. This mixing of industry and agriculture is called by some decentralization of industry. I would not suggest that manufacturing institutions move from the cities to the small villages, but I do think it would be better for this country for future industries to be placed in these small villages rather than to be further congested in the great centers. This would in part also be a solution of our labor problem. The bringing of industries to small villages increases the market for agricultural products, gives employment to surplus labor, elevates the standards of living, increases public revenue, reduces taxes and vastly increases educational facilities.

Two Striking Examples I believe I can give you two striking examples from my own state to prove this proposition, and I mention these because I am more familiar with conditions there than elsewhere. Twelve years ago Kingsport, Tennessee, had a population of about one thousand. Great industries like a large camera company, a big cement plant and a number of other industries were located there partly through the influence of an outstanding New York business man. In a little more than twelve years these have brought the population of that city up to seventeen thousand. Just a few miles away, at Elizabethton, they are building a great rayon plant, the first unit to cost $5,000,000. The population of that town is now two thousand, but it is estimated that this will be multiplied by five in less than two years. It is stated that the total investment in manufacturing industry in that community within a period of five years will probably reach $50,000,000.

The balancing of industry and agriculture will solve most of our so-called agricultural problems and we will not need such political measures as will in my opinion, do harm if enacted to the very class they pretend to benefit.

banking institutions; it adds to the material prosperity of our state, but above all, it is the expression of a service which will react favorably upon the character of those interested."

THE BANKER-FARMER MOVEMENT GROWING

There are several reasons for the growth of the banker-farmer movement in Pennsylvania. William S. McKay, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee, Pennsylvania Bankers Association, has reported to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. The cooperation and leadership of the county agents in the several counties of the state; the appointment and functioning of county chairmen of agriculture known as Key Bankers, one of whom there is in each county of the state; and the organization of county bankers associations, whereby agriculture is given consideration by all the banks, are responsible for this interest. The following table shows the activities for the year:

Table with 2 columns: Project, Number of Counties. Rows include: Sent young farmers to state college for special course (5), Encouraged farm shows (16), Held agricultural tours (6), Sponsored various club activities (23), Gave illustrated lectures on poultry, cow testing, and improved farm methods (1), Distributed purebred livestock, chicks, and disease-free potatoes (13), etc.

BANKERS HELP OUT

The Oklahoma Bankers Association for the past twelve years has financed through its five groups ten scholarships in the A. & M. College at Stillwater. The winners are chosen by the Extension Department of the college on the merits of the club work done by the boys and girls over a certain period of time. The groups of the association finance the first year of the winner's college work.

The president of a national bank in Fayetteville, Arkansas, has been credited with doing more for the farmers of his section than any other one man. His work has consisted of introducing pure bred Holstein cattle into his county, helping employ a county agent, donating prizes to boys and girls in club work, and distributing better seed.

Here are some of the things accomplished in Randolph County, Ark. with the help of bankers last year: forty-three purebred gilts were bought at a reasonable price and placed with boys and girls, on notes; three thousand eggs from high producing hens were distributed with the idea of developing flocks of at least one hundred hens on every farm; four pure bred Jersey bulls whose dams had a record of over 700 pounds butterfat, have been purchased by the banks and will be paid for out of service fees.

Big Budget for Family of Five Arranged by Haskell Agent

BY MRS. J. W. BAIRD

Staff Writer for the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News

The season of the year when the families who have the interlocking families at heart are figuring out how much food to put into their growing season has begun. Of course we shall need enough of the various members good to help them to keep healthy. In addition to what the family needs, we should have a nice variety of each kind canned to emergencies—like unexpected gifts to friends or charity. It also will be wise to fill up containers to carry over to use in case the garden or orchard should then fall short.

Let us plan the number of containers for each vegetable and each kind we are likely to need, if we have any. Besides the better wisdom of knowing approximately how many containers we need, it makes the work of the program in mind.

Other day among some home reports kindly furnished the news by Editor W. D. Darrow of M. M. College extension service, I am making a budget for a family of five made out by the Haskell home agent, Miss Matilda Gunn, my club women. I like this better than any I have seen because Miss Gunn happened upon the various vegetables about the way I like to have during any given week. Natural families will like the same but Miss Gunn has estimated the values of the different foods on a credit basis, so if we leave off we should replace food elements here is the budget.

Budget for Family of Five
 Beans, four times per week, 24
 Peas, one time per week, 24
 Corn, one time per week, 24
 Beans, two times per week, 24

quarts; carrots, two times per week, 48 quarts; okra, one time per week, 12 quarts; soup mixture, one time per week, 12 quarts; corn, two times per week, 48 quarts; English peas, two times per week, 24 quarts. Total quarts of vegetables 362. Apples, two times per week, 48 quarts; peaches, three times per week, 72 quarts; pears, one time per week, 24 quarts; fruit juices, one time per week, 24 quarts. Total quarts of vegetables and fruits, 628.

Miss Gunn, of course, has estimated the number of weeks that Haskell County will not be serving its vegetables and fruits fresh and that, you will notice, means a different number of weeks of different foods. For instance ninety eight quarts of tomatoes will serve the family four times a week for twenty-four and one-half weeks or about six months, so evidently tomatoes are expected to produce about six months of the year in that locality. Okra, however, must bear fresh pods for about nine months, as Miss Gunn has allowed only twelve quarts for serving once a week, which would carry the canned supply only about three months.

Different sections of the State will have different fruit and vegetable bearing schedules, so each one of us must work out our own canning budget but I think we shall all like to have the home agent, think these several foods should be used on the table each week.

You have noticed, too, that Miss Gunn has not given pickles, preserves and jellies a place on the budget. I wondered at first reading, if she disapproved of these foods, then I realized that it would be practically impossible to budget those sort of things for other families, as one quart of preserves might last one family a week, while another family might consume a jar in two days. I guess we shall just have to compute these foods ourselves.

Budget of Walker County Club Woman.

With Miss Gunn's canning budget in mind I was interested in comparing the estimated amounts with the actual canning done by Mrs. J. B. Atkinson, a club woman of Walker County. Mrs. Atkinson last year canned 1131 pints of fruits and vegetables. She had out on a protective diet plan which equals 967 quarts or sixty-one less than Miss Gunn's budget. However, Mrs. Atkinson had 100 cans of tomatoes and 75 of English peas left from the previous year. She does not say whether these cans were pints or quarts, but is reasonable to suppose that they were pints as were all of those she canned this year. This then would add 175 pints, or 87 quarts to her canning budget which is just one quart more than Miss Gunn specified.

Mrs. Atkinson says that although she did not can as many containers last year as she did the year before she has "more of the leafy vegetables for health and less pickles."

This reference to "leafy vegetables for health" brings to my mind a query. Where there are growing children in the family wouldn't it be better to serve greens—preferably spinach—more than once a week during the non-growing season? Spinach you know, has been called and way back in the twelfth century it was known in Spain as "the prince of vegetables." Evidently Spaniards had discovered its wonderful health-giving qualities, just as many mothers have done in recent years. I recall that a few years ago Miss Ida Reynolds, at that time home agent in Grimes County, told me that a number of her club women had declared that the spring after they had used canned spinach abundantly on their tables during the winter months was the first time in their married lives when they had not bought any spring tonics or other medicines which they had been in the habit of using for children and grown-ups each spring, to combat "that tired feeling" generally known as "spring fever."

Spinach is ever so much more pleasant to take than bitter medicine and would be cheaper, particularly with medicines at their present high prices. It must be that people throughout the United States are awakening to the nutritive value of spinach as well as its medicinal qualities; are grown and marketed each year. I have no figures for the last two years, but the last year, book of the Department of Agriculture states that in 1925, 41,440 acres were planted to spinach with a farm value of $7,483,000. Just imagine, almost $7,500,000 worth of spinach grown on the farms of the United States in one year and very likely the amount grown last year would be much larger. Spinach is such an easy vegetable to grow, too, and may belong to both spring and fall gardens. By all means, let's have plenty of spinach to eat fresh and to can.

MUSIC SCHOOLS OF W. M. FREE AND DAUGHTERS TO MEET HERE

Next Sunday, June 24, at 2:30 p. m. all the pupils of the Music Schools of W. M. Free and daughters and every one who will come are urged to be at the First Baptist Church in Haskell for the purpose of spending the whole afternoon in singing. The new books of the church will be used and there will be plenty of books for all who will come. After the schools have sung a number of songs other leaders will be used. Every one is invited to come.

King's Daughters Organized

Mrs. W. G. Russell entertained her Sunday School Class of young ladies at her home last Friday afternoon for the purpose of organization. ### VALLEY FORGE PLANS TWO MEMORIALS TO HONOR HEROIC SOLDIERS OF 1778

Every and Non-Denominational Church Will Rise on Broad Acres Near Philadelphia—Celebration Arranged for June to Mark 150th Year.

Washington's Headquarters and Memorial Arch at Valley Forge. The Walk Approaching the Arch Has Been Chemically Treated.

for which will be laid June 19, 1925, as the closing feature of the Sesqui-Centennial observance.

History only will have a place on the library shelves. Each state will be represented by works dealing with the history of that state and the library will have, therefore, 48 alcoves. Valley Forge continues to be the center of interest of thousands and thousands of visitors from every section of the country, as well as from abroad.

Railroads and automobile bus companies regularly run excursions to the famous old shrine of patriotism and on Sundays and holidays even the broad acres of Valley Forge are taxed for space by the huge throngs. In addition many visitors travel by private motor cars over the excellent roads, kept in splendid condition by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

All roads to Valley Forge run through a landscape of remarkable beauty, artist's eye, and these roads are treated; as necessity arises, with chemicals, especially calcium chloride, to lay the dust.

Only 23 miles from Philadelphia, the shrine has long been one of the favorite objectives for daily excursions for Philadelphians, as well as for visitors to that city who have combined the Valley Forge trip with a tour of other places of historic interest, such as Independence Hall, the Betsy Ross House and other relics of the Revolution.

That interest is expected to be stimulated by the forthcoming celebration.

WITH OUR READERS

The successful news paper carries in its columns the items its readers need to know. The news that should interest every one in the county are the essentials of the public welfare of the county, the proceedings of the courts, the administration of the county affairs and hundreds of other things which every man and woman in the county should know. In this we strive to serve our readers intelligently and faithfully. Giving them at all times the needful information regarding these important matters and give them correct. No county news paper is better equipped than the Haskell Free Press to cater to the demands of its readers. The proof of this is the splendid patronage that it is enjoyed from all parts of the county and the trade territory of the county capital.

We are giving below another list of names who have recently renewed for the home paper or enrolled their names with us as new subscribers. We thank them very much and expect to please them by giving them a real county news paper with the boards on.

L. W. Cooper an old time friend of the Free Press who now lives on Knox City Route 1 is again on our list paid up for the year. He is a prosperous farmer and a good citizen.

L. A. Humphries one of Haskell county's successful farmers of the Lone Star school district where he has resided for many years is again on our list paid up for the year. Mr. Humphries wants to keep up with the political news of the county and find out who is running for office. You will find this in the Free Press.

J. L. Connolly says that he cannot do without the Free Press and he handed us another dollar and a half to keep her coming, that is the easiest way to keep posted. Take plenty of good papers for the family and always include the home paper in the number. Mr. Connolly gets his mail in the city.

Mrs. Sallie Davenport who is now living on her farm west of Weinert and is contented to be back at the old homestead renews for the Free Press and gets the news every week.

Dr. A. J. Lewis renews for the home paper and is paid up until December the first this year. Dr. Lewis has been out of town quite a while this year at his profession, but we hope that he will remain at home more in the future as he is often needed by his friends with their stock and he is a real veterinarian.

R. C. Montgomery sends the Free Press to his old friend Judge D. H. Hamilton of Groveton Texas. Judge Hamilton is an old timer of Haskell and has many friends here.

T. M. Mapes comes forward and enrolls his name for a year as a new subscriber. He is one of the leading young farmers of the Roberts community, where he has lived most of his life. He is one of our best citizens and is of the class of men that make up the stronghold of the world that of a happy contented life which is worth living.

H. Hisey who has tried his fortune in other parts for a few years has returned to the land of the happy and free and is now living on Route B out of Haskell where he is engaged in farming. We are glad to welcome him back to the fold and will forgive him of all his waywardness and glad that he saw the light before it was everlastingly too late. He is paid up for the year and has begun life anew. They all come back.

G. F. Neely of Weinert Route One called at the office not long ago and slipped us six bits for six months. Frank is engaged in farming between Haskell and Weinert and is interested enough in the county to read his county paper. Yes he lives here and in his country. He has been away for a while but returned where the sun shines brightest and opportunity is bowing to every man with energy and grit.

Miss Elva Cox of the Postoffice Dept. of this city sends the Free Press to her sister Mrs. W. P. Jones of Key West Fla. that she might get the news from home. There is no place like home when we are in a far country. And the news from home always finds a welcome.

J. P. Wheatley calls to see us once each year and renews for his two stand-bys the Free Press and the Dallas Farm News. Mr. Wheatley is one of the old timers who has much interest in the county and is contented with life's lot and conditions. He has lots of friends and no enemies and attends to his own affairs half the time and lets the affairs of others alone the other half.

J. Horace Bass Superintendent of our city Schools renews for the Free Press for his second year. He was unanimously elected to succeed himself in our schools and he is away at this time attending summer normal. He will be back in time to take up the work on its opening date and we are looking forward to an interesting term of school this fall and winter.

W. N. Huckabee who is well known in the city and who has lived here many years where he has more friends than you can shake a stick at called and paid up for his paper again which is his yearly habit. He has been employed in the popular grocery store of Pearsey and Stephens quite a while, but at the present he is taking a vacation selling Radium Jars the health giving magic which is proving to be very popular with those who have tried them.

J. W. Divis renews for the paper again for a year while in the city a few days ago. He is engaged in farming near the city and likes the farm life best of all occupations. The fellow generally likes what he knows how to do well and J. W. is a real farmer.

J. V. Hudson who for more than 20 years was owner of the city Meat Market on Depot Street and one of the boys who grew up in Haskell and has marked the progress of the fast growing city, called and paid for the Free Press for another year. He still buys and ships hogs and cattle to the markets and is so well known that he is doing a thriving business.

W. F. Burt who is always smiling whether he has a passenger to haul or not paid for his paper the other day for six months. Billie can't do without the Free Press. He is engaged in the service car business and is well known and enjoys a good patronage.

J. R. Dinsmore of the Howard community called around and made his annual renewal to the Free Press. But few men are better known than J. R. in his home community and his heart is always on the right side for the happiness of his family and the best interest of his community. He has a public spirit that is always ready to help for the upbuilding of his neighborhood and the assistance of his friends.

SHORT COURSE TO DRAW MANY FOLKS

Farmers and their families, boys and girls of 4-H Clubs, members of home demonstration clubs and of various organizations allied with agricultural pursuits are expected to gather in record breaking numbers at the A. & M. College of Texas for the nineteenth annual Farmer's Short Course this summer. H. H. Williamson, vice-director and state agent of the extension service, declared following a survey of plans and preparation for the forthcoming meeting. The Short Course will be held this year the week of July 30-August 4. Most of the details for the meeting have been worked out and complete program is to be announced soon.

The scope of the short course program will be as extensive as ever this year, with talks and demonstrations on virtually all branches of farming, livestock and poultry raising and home-making scheduled. In order to facilitate matters and to prevent as many conflicts in the various meetings as possible, the program for men has been divided into three main sections, livestock, poultry and crops. The livestock section will deal with beef cattle, sheep, goats, hogs, and dairying, while the crop section will be devoted to the main field crops, farm engineering, fruit, truck and pecan culture.

The program for women and girls will include courses in food preparation and preservation, relation of food to health, appropriate clothing for the family, interior home decoration, home and yard beautification, gardening, poultry raising, and dairying.

Among the many state contests to be held during the short course will be the 4-H Club girls appropriate dress contest, women's judging of butter, 4-H Club boys contests in judging livestock and grain and in terracing and state poultry judging contest for both boys and girls.

Meetings of numerous special groups and associations interested in various phases of agricultural development have been scheduled for the short course period. Among these are the Texas Beekeepers Association, Texas Agricultural Writers' service group of the Texas Farm Bureau Extension Service and Experiment Station workers, county school superintendents, county judges and commissioners and others.

The same method of handling the lodging and feeding employed last year in caring for the 4000 who attended the short course, will be in effect again this year, Mr. Williamson said. The rate for rooms will be $1.50 for each person for the entire week and the cost of meals for the five days will be $5.00 according to announcement. Railroads have again authorized special rates to College Station for the meeting.

GREAT MEN ENDORSE WORK OF CHURCHES AND SUNDAY SCHOOL

Children are the basis of the future and I believe in religious instruction for American children. The future of the nation cannot be trusted to the children unless their education includes their spiritual development. It is time therefore, that we give our attention to religious instruction, not controversies between creeds or beliefs, but to extend religious teachings, in all such forms that conscience is developed, and duty to God is understood and fulfilled. —Warren G. Harding

No study is more important than the study of the Bible, and of the truths which it contains. The Sunday school lesson of today is the code of morals of tomorrow. Too much attention can not be paid to the work the Sunday school is doing. —Woodrow Wilson

A man educated in mind but not in morals is a menace to society. —Theodore Roosevelt

Thomas Jefferson said: "This country will be saved if at all, by the training of children to love the Savior and the Sunday school will play a most important part in that training.

President Calvin Coolidge says: "All our learning and science and culture and our arts will be of little avail unless they are supported by high character. A trained intellect can do much, but there is no substitute for morality, character and religious convictions. Unless these abide, American citizenship will be found unequal to its task."

General Lee one time expressed himself as follows concerning the Bible: "A Book in comparison with which all others, in my eyes, are of minor perplexities and distress has never failed to give strength. It is a book which supplies the place of all others and one that can not be replaced by any other."

However we may differ on other matters, we all agree—Protestant, Catholic, and Jew alike—that Sunday school education is absolutely necessary to secure moral, uplift and religious spirit.—William H. Taft

The wounds of the world are bleeding and they never can heal by material things. The only remedy is that brotherhood and healing which emanates from the Gospel of Christ.—Lloyd George

Patrick Henry said in his last will: "I have now disposed of all my worldly property to my family. There is one more thing I wish I could give them, and that is the Christian religion. If they had this and I had not given them a shilling they would be rich. But if they had not the Christian religion and I had given them all the world, they would be poor."

Abraham Lincoln: "I have had so many evidences of God's direction, so many instances when I have been controlled by some other power than my own will, that I cannot doubt that this power comes from above."

IS YOUR RELIGION IN YOUR WIFE'S NAME ASKS EVANGELIST

Is your contribution to the church made through your wife and children? Does Sunday golf claim your attention while they are lending their moral support as well as your financial support to the cause of Christianity?

If such is the case you are contributing but sparingly to an institution which merits your utmost support declares A. J. Flowers of the Flowers Trio which will hold evangelistic services at the local M. E. Church here next week.

Your money is appreciated—naturally regardless of whether it comes directly from you or indirectly through your family. But even more important is your attendance at Sunday school or church.

SOCIETY and Club

Miss Mary Ella Pace Bride of Jordan E. G. Ownby of Dallas.

WEDDING TUESDAY

On the spacious lawn of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Pace, among blossoms of rare beauty, glossy greenery of hedges and trailing vines, one of the most charming weddings of the season was that of their daughter, Miss Mary Ella Pace to Mr. Jordan Edgar Craven Ownby of Dallas, which took place on the afternoon of Thursday, June 14th, at half past five o'clock. An altar was composed of palms, baskets of pink gladiolus and tiers of candelabra with cathedral candles. Canto Armour by Edmund Ludwig Liszt's Liebestraum were played as violin solos before the ceremony by Miss Flora Streetman of Houston, a cousin of the bride, accompanied at the piano by Miss Evelyn Smith of Ft. Worth. To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the bride came onto the lawn on the arm of her father, John W. Pace and was met at the altar by the groom with his father as best man. The ceremony was read by Dr. Horace M. Whaling, the vice president of Southern Methodist University, while "To A Wild Rose" (McDowell) was played softly. The bride was lovely in a hand made cream Blue Souera gown and hat of natural colored erin and carried a bouquet of pink Calla lilies with shower of valie lillies. Her ornament was a circle of diamonds, the gift of the groom and she carried a handkerchief of hand made lace, which was worn by her mother when a bride. Some few years ago Mary Ella Pace graduated from the Haskell High School and while yet in her teens graduated from Southern Methodist University and was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. The groom attended Leland Stanford University, Southern Methodist University and is a graduate of the University of Texas, and he is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity, Terepischorean, Idlewild Ostion and Brook-Hollow Country Club. After the ceremony a reception was held and immediately following, Mr. and Mrs. Ownby left in their car for a trip through California and will be at home after August 1, at 3703 Crescent avenue, Dallas.

The out of town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ownby, Mrs. Stichter, Mr. R. B. Stichter, Jr., Major Joseph Noyes, Misses Craddock, Ona Brown, Claire Wofford, Lovie Lewis of Dallas; Mr. John Pace Jr. and Miss Flora Streetman of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Myrick Davis and Miss Emily Davis of Albany; Misses Patty Bass, Mary Aice Barramore and Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Grissom, Abiene; Miss Gene Nelson, Wichita Falls; Miss Evelyn Smith, Ft. Worth; Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Westbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Cole, Rule; Misses Elizabeth Archie Scott, Olney; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Murphy, Seymour; Mr. W. M. Porter, Mr. Herman Weinert, Weibert; and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Earnest of Stamford.

Senator and Mrs. Earle B. Mayfield Tended Charming Reception by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alexander

A most charming garden party was the result of the formal reception tendered by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alexander last Thursday evening on their lovely clover and blue grass lawn that had as the background for the color scheme of purple and lavender a large vitex bush in full bloom, flanked on either side by clematis and over all was a canopy of wisteria blossoms and lighted chinese lanterns, every detail harmonizing with the color tones. At the close of Senator Mayfield's address at the court house the guests gathered on the Alexander lawn and they were greeted by Mrs. W. H. Murchison and Miss Lois Earnest who introduced them to members of the receiving line: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alexander, Senator and Mrs. Earle B. Mayfield, Mrs. J. U. Fields, Mr. John Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Grissom of Abilene, Judge W. H. Murchison, Judge and Mrs. Bruce W. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alexander of El Paso; Mr. John Oates, Mr. W. B. Alexander of Seymour; Mesdames John Oates, Clayborn Payne and Tom French presided over the punch bowl of delicious purple punch that was served the guests by Misses Mary Sherrill, Joan Irby, Brucile Bryant and Elizabeth and Fay Badwin of San Antonio.

Presbyterian Church Sunday, June 24th, 1928

The Sunday School will meet at the usual hour 9:45 a. m. and the Christian Endeavor societies will meet at their usual hours in the evenings.

There will not be any preaching services either in the morning or at night. The pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Baker will be in Kerrville with several of the young people attending the annual Young People's Conference there. This is the largest gathering of its kind among the Presbyterian Young people of Texas. There will be several hundred choice young people from all over the State in attendance on the conference classes, and we are glad that several of our Haskell Young people can be in attendance. The conference will run from June 19th to 28th.

R. L. Harrison who attended the Fireman's convention at Denton returned home the latter part of the week stating that the boys had a great time.

A. B. Carothers of Rochester was in the city Monday on business. Mr. Carothers is an old timer and has lived in Haskell County many years and has many friends all over the county who will be glad to learn that he is getting along nicely and says that he feels much better here of late and that his health is improving.

Judge and Mrs. L. D. Ratliff and daughters Frances and Marjorie returned Saturday from a 10 day tour of East Texas and Louisiana visiting the towns of Lake Charles, New Orleans Shreveport La. and Beaumont, Marshall Fort Worth and other points in Texas. Judge states that he had quite an enjoyable trip.

E. Kirkpatrick returned Friday from a tour of West Texas and New Mexico where they visited Sam Hughes the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes who resides in New Mexico and is engaged in the sheep business. Judge Hughes says that the condition, were spotted all over the west. Some places they had plenty of rain and other places they were needing moisture very badly.

Mrs. H. M. Smith returned to her home in Haskell Saturday from Houston where she was called to the bedside of her daughter Mrs. Frank Ragsdale, who underwent an operation for appendicitis recent. Mrs. Ragsdale is back in her home from the Sanitarium, recuperating nicely.

R. C. Couch, wife and daughter Miss Mary were in Ft. Worth this week attending the West Texas C. of C. meet.
