

QUICKLY GETS BACK OIL TIME STRENGTH

"The Sargon treatment is simple wonderful for bringing back strength and energy for now, after a few weeks taking it, I feel like a different man entirely."

"On account of my work I was forced to eat and sleep irregularly for a long time with the result that I became very run down and debilitated. Chronic indigestion gradually weakened me and kept me in bad health. I would suffer terrible pains after every meal, no matter how light it was. At night these pains robbed me of sleep and my condition finally got so bad I couldn't even eat an orange or a grape fruit without suffering afterwards. Naturally, I was always tired and listless."

"Then I started Sargon—and commenced to feel better right from the beginning. I now enjoy my food and my digestion is fine. I'm never bothered with stomach trouble and get plenty of good, sound sleep. I feel better and stronger than I have in years—and I'll never be without Sargon again."—E. D. ### RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., nationally famous Rupture Appliance Expert, will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method at the Grace Hotel, Abilene, Wednesday Aug. 28th, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: "The 'Perfect Retention Shields' hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time."

The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable.

"IF YOU WANT TO HAVE IT DONE RIGHT—SEE REDLICH."

Doctor J. W. Seaver, for many years in charge of the Physical Education of the students of Yale College, has recorded 75 per cent cures with this system.

Mr. Redlich is internationally known and speaks English, German and Spanish.

Our Beauty Parlors Offer Real Advantages

"Beauty," said one of our great American poets, "is its own excuse for being." Which made poetry out of something which we all recognize—it pays to emphasize your strong points.

Years past you were either born with beauty or you never achieved it. Care of the complexion and the hair was forbidden as selfish vanity—and people said that if we had been intended to fly in the air, we would have been equipped with wings.

But progress does not permit such theories to last. Care of the complexion, the hair, and the hands, is no longer considered vanity. It is one of the things which distinguishes a careful woman from a careless one.

Beauty specialists have made a study of what is best for the skin and the hair. They can perform some important services for us which we could never perform for ourselves.

Haskell is unusually fortunate as to beauty shops. The people who operate them are doing much to "beautify" our city.

Last Thursday afternoon we drove to the home of C. A. Thomas living near Powell school house. We were fortunate in finding Mr. Thomas at home and Luther Tolliver was also at the Thomas home.

Mr. Thomas has been hard hit by the drought and his crop is a very poor prospect and without an abundance of rain it will make very little cotton or feed. He was not complaining about the conditions because of the fact that he has made a living from his family from the sale of cream and eggs.

A few years ago he purchased a registered Jersey Cow from one of the best herds in the state with a tested milk record and from this cow he has sold enough registered calves of both sex to pay back the money invested with a nice profit and he still has the original cow with 7 or 8 of her offsprings which are high producers.

He has six fine shoats which he feeds on skimmed milk from the separator. His cream check is forth coming every week which takes care of expenses. It's the regular income that counts. He will have a number of these high producing cows to freshen before a great while. And cold or hot, wet or dry the cream check will increase. You can buy feed for a good bred cow says Mr. Thomas.

When he paid more than $300.00 for his first registered cow, some of his neighbors thought he had made a bad deal. But now those who have watched his progress have changed their mind. Visit this home see his herd, then give your opinion.

Friday afternoon we drove south of town looking over the parched fields and pastures. But with an abundance of rain some feed and cotton would be made. This is one of our best sections of farming lands. It is inhabited by a progressive people who are hard to discourage and who never give up. Just what to expect from these crops no one is able to predict, but without rain soon it is evident the crops will be very short.

We called on Uncle Whitt Williams who has lived in Haskell county 34 years. He has seen the county flourishing with a series of good crops and he has seen the crop failures that follow. But he has stayed in the boat and adjusted his practices to the times and went right ahead and has succeeded taking conditions as they came.

He moved here from East Texas in the 90's and lived in a tent on the farm he now owns until he was able to build a small box house. He grubbed the ground and put it in himself and was not able to get very much land in cultivation the first year. But after he got his farm in he made a good crop for 8 years which put him in financial condition to stem the tide of the hard crops years following.

He was reared in Middle Tennessee and there he learned to work and save. He kept the habit after coming to Texas. He visited his old home in Tennessee, 3 years ago and spent three months there. But he says he likes Texas much better.

He is not worrying over the dry weather. He says it comes every few years in this section and we had just as well get use to it and look forward to it during our prosperous years. He stated when he came here wild animals were plentiful. He told the story of watching two antelope kill a rattlesnake. They would jump onto it and bound away quickly. After watching them a while he went to where the snake was and they had cut it to pieces with their sharp hooves.

He also stated that wolves and bob cats were in abundance and that made it hard on the people raising poultry.

He also stated that he was digging a well and before he had gotten below the surface he watched a pack of wolves chase an antelope quite a while which was a lively chase.

He says the stockmen did not appreciate the settlers coming into their range at the time he came here.

He told of many privations and his pathway has not been strewn with flowers all the while but his success has been such that he has been satisfied with his lot and he is still a real booster for Haskell county.

He has 300 or more bushels of wheat in the granary, also quite a lot of barley, plenty of Durham cattle, Plymouth Rock chickens and lives at home all the while. He buys very little groceries from the stores.

He told of cutting fence posts and carrying them on his shoulder to fence a long line of his farm fence. It was that kind of energy which made him successful.

He also hauled wood to Haskell and traded it for supplies. He says that F. G. Alexander and S. L. Robertson have bought many loads of wood from him and sent him home rejoicing with food for his family.

He stated that one time during a rise in Buffalo Creek that he was one of a party that stretched a web wire across the mouth of Buffalo and when the creek went down it left at least a half wagon load of fish against their wire. They brought the fish to Haskell and sold them at 10c per pound.

He has about 300 acres in cultivation on his farm. The crop this year is needing rain very badly but he says he will make some crop if it does not rain.

It's an inspiration to visit this prosperous home.

J. R. (Bob) Edwards of the Pinkerton community was a Haskell visitor Wednesday and made this office a pleasant call while in the city. He owns one of the best small farms in his home section. He makes a bountiful support from this farm on normal years and this year although his crop is short he will not be in as hard circumstances as some of our one crop farmers. He has a fine flock of Leghorn hens. After trying them out he is planning to increase the number of layers. He has some good Jersey cows and is selling butter and feeding the skimmed milk to his hogs and chickens. These cows and hens have made a living for the family or in other words they have furnished the means for the cash needed. The Haskell county farmer should do his very best to make his living expenses by other means than his farm crops if he can. Men who have done this are in better condition to tide the coming year which is going to be what is called a hard year to get by.

Rev. J. A. Kinser and son Albert of Abilene and Rev. Joe W. English of Knox City were guests in the home of W. M. Free and family Saturday.

Leaders In Agriculture To Meet With Road Men For Farm Relief Through Surveled Market Roads

National Convention Will Discuss Extension of Country's Paved Highway System with Low-Cost Surfacing

FARM organization officials and others nationally prominent in advancing farm relief, as well as officials speaking for the motorist public, will meet October 28 to November 1 next, with road-builders, officials, engineers and contractors at West Baden Springs, Ind., to devise plans for speeding up improvement of the nation's highway system as a measure of farm relief and the alleviation of traffic congestion on trunk-line highways near great centers of population. Paving of the farm-to-market roads with low-cost surfaces will be the keynote of the conference.

The convention, known as the Eighth Annual Asphalt Paving Conference, will be held under the auspices of The Asphalt Association, New York, and The American Association of Asphalt Paving Technologists. The latter is composed of engineers, chemists and other asphalt technical men largely in the employ of states, cities and counties in the United States and Canada. Among the speakers at the conference will be Samuel H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who speaks on "Farm-to-Market Roads—A Great National Necessity"; R. W. Crum, Washington, D. C., director, Highway Advisory Board, National Research Council, whose subject will be "Research as a Factor in the Low-Cost Road Problem"; John J. Brown, director, Indiana Highway Commission; A. H. Hinkle, maintenance engineer, Indiana Highway Department, and many others. Numerous representatives of state and county highway officials of the United States and Canada will discuss the latest methods evolved for the construction of low-cost, dustless, mudless pavements on the secondary, tributary and farm-to-market highways. Leaders in the automotive industry and officials of national automobile associations will discuss plans for paving the back-country roads so as to relieve traffic congestion on the main highways, especially on holidays and week-ends.

Farm organization officials declare the deplorable condition of the farm-service roads which the majority of farmers must use in getting to and from their farms to paved highways has become a serious matter. Without discounting the value of the highways connecting the cities, farm organizations feel it is high time an effective movement were started for paving low roads. While the farmers of the United States are paying 2 percent of the taxes for state and local highways, less than 3 percent of the farms are reached by paved roads. Today, approximately 5,000,000 farmers are still living on muddy, rutty, dusty roads and there are still in the United States 2,481,

822 miles of unpaved highways. Of the 2,650,000 miles of highways in the country, only 187,000 miles have high-type surfaces such as asphalt, brick and concrete. Economists declare that if all the 24,000,000 automobiles in service today were placed on the paved roads at one time, each car would have only 13.7 yards in which to operate. The 10,000 miles of new roads annually constructed are not much more than sufficient to provide parking space for the annual increase in new motor cars and trucks. Paving and landing-field treatment with asphalt at airports will come in for extensive discussion at the West Baden meeting by airport engineers and aviation officials, led by Chief Engineer R. H. Simpson,

Had Been Down in Bed Five Years Was Weak and Nervous Until She Took Orgatone

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars cash for the good Orgatone has done me," said Mrs. C. P. Shelnut, who resides at 1033 Oak St., Abilene. "It may sound strange, but I had suffered with stomach trouble and nervousness for the past five years until I got to the place where I was down in bed and was so weak that I couldn't get up without help. Everything I ate soured on my stomach and made trouble for me, and in addition to my stomach trouble I had sick dizzy headaches that would just drive me crazy at times. I just lived in misery all the time and had almost given up hope of ever seeing a well day again. "I am just finishing my first bottle of Orgatone and it's surprising the way I have improved considering that I haven't been entirely well for five years. The stomach and indigestion trouble is gone and I can eat anything I want and digest it. I have gained some in weight and am able to do my own work. I want everybody to know what Orgatone did for me!" Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Haskell from the Oates Drug Store. Adv.

West Texas Offers Field for Industries

There are marked evidences that a turning point is at hand in the distribution of population, that congestion in large centers of population has accomplished all the benefits possible, and further congestion will be harmful rather than helpful.

—While the so-called "drift to the cities" has been going on, things have been happening in the country, too, chief among which are the wide-spread distribution of electric power and the development of fast freight facilities.

—And so, as the disadvantages of metropolitan congestion now begin to reveal themselves, the solution is readily at hand in the smaller centers of population—a renewed industrial development of smaller cities and towns seems to be inevitable.

—This is especially true in West Texas. Our cities and towns have every advantage to offer industries looking for new locations—cheaper land, lower taxes, shipping facilities less crowded and ABUNDANT, ECONOMICAL ELECTRIC POWER.

—With 70,000 available horsepower of electricity, its three big generating stations and fifteen auxiliary plants, the West Texas Utilities Company insures uninterrupted service, 24 hours a day and 365 days a year.

1 Peter 3:21 Explained

"The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ."

The expression "like figure" has reference to another figure in verse 20, where we are told eight souls were saved by water, because the flood lifted the ark above death. In reality they were not saved because of the water, but we are told that they entered into the ark and the door was shut. This family was made secure in the mighty ship before a drop of water fell. This historic incident is used to illustrate New Testament truths. The ark was typical of Christ, the Ark of our Salvation, and the water was typical of baptism. So in our text we are told that baptism saves us, not in reality, but save figuratively. We are saved by being in Christ our Ark. The text explains that baptism does not put away the filth of the flesh that is, moral pollution, but is the answer of a good conscience toward God. The evil conscience is purged by the blood of Christ Heb. 9:14. The good conscience demands baptism in order to give the world a picture of its death to sin and resurrection to a new life. Just as Noah entered the ark before the flood came, you must enter Christ by faith and be cleansed by His blood inwardly before baptism. Cornelius, an unsaved man, was saved and began to shout while Peter was preaching. Baptism followed this glorious experience Acts 10:43-48.

A new INNER TUBE?

Let the extra miles in CONOCO gasoline buy it for you....

If you keep an accurate record of gasoline costs, you know that every extra mile you get from a gallon is so much velvet. In the aggregate these extra miles represent a handsome saving—enough to pay for those greatly desired accessories you've had in mind; perhaps a pair of new inner tubes or an extra set of spark plugs. That's why it will pay you well to fill only at the Conoco sign—the red triangle—the symbol of extra miles. Conoco gasoline is refined to produce maximum mileage without in any way sacrificing those other qualities of a good motor fuel—quick starting and rapid acceleration. It functions efficiently at every step in the driving operation with special emphasis on power and mileage.

Look for the new Conoco Red Triangle. Fill 'n' up. Then speed away for extra miles.

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK FOR HASKELL HIGH VERY PROMISING

It is with anxiety generally that a boy who has a good chance of making a football team awaits the opening of school. The question, "Are we going to have a good team this year," is continually being asked by players and people interested in football. A question of this kind is hard to answer but if a wealth of material means anything, then we should have a better team than we had last year. Our line for this year should be a heavy one averaging about 170 pounds from end to end. Not only is it likely to be a heavy line but it should be the most powerful line we have ever had. The backfield should be equally good with Herman Pittman and Bill Kimbrough to build around. John Clifton, Rogers Gilstrap, Wallace Sanders, Floyd Taylor, Joe Smith, Clarence Whiteker and Lonnie Harshaw are expected to be mainstays in the line. Practice for the local team will start on Wed. Aug. 28, at which time equipment will be issued and a heart and lung examination made. Players will report at 2 p. m. on that date. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. For more than three score years he has practiced a system of farming that embraces cash crops, feed crops, fertility crops and livestock. Miss Sunamax Fry of Canadian is visiting her aunt Mrs. R. J. Paxton and family. Miss Irene Morgan of Weinert was last week's guest of Misses Selma Maples and Lois Stoker.

LARGE CROWDS ATTENDING REVIVAL AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The revival at the local Baptist church is in full swing. Seats were erected for 900 persons and it seems now that it will be necessary to build more. There was an overflow crowd Sunday night and practically all the seats were taken Monday and Tuesday nights. The music and singing is very attractive and can be heard all over town. Mr. Trussell is a likable character as well as a great singer. His voice is strong and clear. He puts his soul into his work and brings a great message in song. The large choice platform will seat more than a hundred and practically every seat is taken. The messages brought by Rev. Lancaster are unique. He is leading his hearers into new channels of thoughts. His messages will grow more powerful each service. Rev. Lancaster is speaking out of a life of rich experiences. For a number of years he was one of the most popular students that ever attended Howard Payne College. He has spent several years as pastor of a strong church. Perhaps the one thing that adds more to his life than any other is the fact that he was a chaplain in France during the world war. You will receive strength and information from his messages.
