Years of Service in Model T Fords

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25. A labor charge of $4 to $5 will cover the overhauling of the front axle, rebushing springs and spring perches, and straightening, aligning and adjusting wheels.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of re-conditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

WITH OUR READERS

Haskell has been serving the people of this section for more than 40 years as a trading point. Demand has caused the steady growth that has characterized it since the day it its foundation on Rice Spring Branch. Those who first came and cast their lot in the new country deserve much praise for their hard earned achievements. These pioneers proved themselves to be real men who were not easily discouraged. They suffered many privations and hardships to establish this progressive city which we all love and enjoy.

The Free Press began with the early progression and has seen more than forty years of service with the citizenship of this section. In its files which are almost unbroken you will find the history of Haskell and Haskell county recorded with all the joys and sorrows of the people who have lived here. Many of them have crossed over the river, some have moved away and a number of them still live in this section and enjoy the fruits of their labors.

They have been readers of the Free Press since its first issue and still appreciate the old home paper which they have enjoyed so long. The present management appreciates these old timers and will make the effort to hold the Free Press up to its high standard which it has carried through these years. Their love and respect is coveted and may the home paper at all times strive to be worthy of their esteem and patronage. We thank them for their words of endorsement and encouragement and may they live long and enjoy life and prosperity in the land they wrested from the wild beast and Indians.

Below we mention again a few of our friends who have honored the home paper with their patronage, and we thank them also.

One of the leading farmers of the Cliff community is J. W. Coats who called in a few days ago and renewed for the Free Press for six months.

Clint Hawes a Garage Man of Weinert called in and handed us the price of a year for the news from the capital city. Mrs. Maggie Brite sends in 75 cents for six months to the Free Press to be mailed to her address which is Proctor, Texas. She has friends here that she wishes to hear from.

Mrs. P. M. Branch is a new subscriber to the Free Press. She has been reading the paper of her son Manley who is also a subscriber, but she said she wanted a paper of her own that she could keep in her home.

Frank Williams who returned from Lubbock a while back renewed for the paper and had us change the address to the city. Frank reads the paper no matter where he goes.

Mrs. Scott Caddell and her son stopped in the office a few days ago and had us send the paper for six months to their address at Weinert. They want the home news from over the county.

J. W. Henshaw of the Rose Chapel community renewed for the home paper for a year while in the city the other day. Jim has a large family of boys, one of the largest in the county and some of the boys are getting grown. One or two of them have gone to college this year. Jim has lived in Haskell county for many years and owns a good farm.

W. L. Holt a Haskell county boy is getting the Free Press paid up for a year going to Brownfield, Texas, on the South Plains.

Will Edge a friend of the Free Press and a dandy good farmer who does much of the work himself called and renewed for the home paper. He lives on O'Brien Route One, owns a good sandy land farm from which he makes a bountiful support for himself and family.

J. T. Kirby, better known as honest John, gave to this office his renewal. He lives on Paint Creek where he is farming and fighting weeds. He had a good rain and has plenty of stock water and moisture to bring up the seed plants.

E. J. Falwell of the Sayles community kicked in for the Free Press for six months and is again on our list. Mr. Falwell moved a few years ago and bought some good farming lands which he is farming himself.

C. L. Tidrow of Sagerton Route One, says that he sure likes the Free Press and to keep her coming. He has had plenty of rain and is now planting his crops.

J. L. Morrison moved to the city from the Gauntt community but he still reads the Free Press and has his renewal on record. Mr. Morrison likes the Free Press.

A A Burdett of Goree Route 2, came down to Haskell and renewed for the Free Press for six months. He is a good farmer and is getting along nicely.

C. W. McCown, one of our loyal friends handed us 75 cents on subscription and says don't stop the paper. When he goes to visit his friends or relatives he sends the paper so he can keep up with the news of his county, while he is with them.

Mrs. N. L. Gamel a lady who once lived in Haskell but is now living in Clear Water Florida sends me for four months to the Free Press. She has friends here she wishes to hear from.

C. L. Glazner, manager of the Haskell Motor Co., is paid up for the year to the paper. Mr. Glazner likes Haskell and likes the Free Press and is planning a great business with Ford automobiles when production meets the demands.

E. E. McGregor living on O'Brien Route 1 near Hutto school called and renewed for his paper. He is a good farmer and a hard worker.

Theo. Burson who recently started out in life for himself began with his home paper paid up for a year. We sure appreciate our young friends. He gets mail out of town on Route B.

Jasper Wheeler a young farmer says that he can't do without the home paper and is paid up for a year. He is farming in the Gilliam community and is making good.

B. M. Hicks of O'Brien is one of our regular readers from year to year. Mack is a lucky fellow anyhow.

R. P. Simmons our Marrying Justice of the Peace calls and renews for the paper. His business is to look after the affairs of his office, but when a young couple comes to get married, he lays aside all other business until that duty is performed.

CANDIDATE DISCUSSES IMPORTANT ISSUES

Governmental issues and questions of public importance were discussed by Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Earl B. Mayfield, at Point Blank, San Jacinto Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Cunningham has had a varied career as a woman politician. Offices which she has held include the presidency of the Texas Equal Suffrage association, chairman of the Texas Woman's Anti-Vice committee on Good Government, secretary of the Congressional Suffrage committee, delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention in 1920, and chairman of the Texas Women's Liberty Loan committee and many other minor offices.

Mrs. Cunningham said she favors "full co-operation with the League of Nations as the most workable machinery yet devised through which nations may cooperate to adjust their differences and preserve the peace of the world."

She also favors prohibition and strict enforcement and is opposed to secrecy in government affairs "whether it originates in the Ku Klux Klan or executive session of the United States senate."

Mrs. Cunningham discussed farm relief and said that the farmers want farm relief now. They are tired of the "buck" passing between congress and the president on the farm relief bills.

Mrs. Cunningham was in fine voice and demonstrated that she has a thorough knowledge of governmental affairs. She carried her audience along with her through the many channels of the government, and discussed the many problems facing the people of the United States. She didn't hesitate to express an opinion on all issues of importance up for discussion.

She attacked the Republican party from many angles, and gave much information about the way the party is operated. Also why there is so much corruption connected with the "Grand Old Party."

Representative C. N. Shaver expressed appreciation from the Chamber of Commerce for the barbecue.

Senator T. J. Hollbrook of Galveston, candidate for congress of the 7th district discussed his platform.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Robinson of Point Blank were hosts to the Board of Directors of C. of C. wives and Mrs. Cunningham during the day.

W. B. Browder, attorney of Cold Springs introduced the speakers.

Several thousand people were present at the speaking and widely cheered Mrs. Cunningham when she made telling points.

The barbecue at Point was given by the citizens of San Jacinto county in honor of Mrs. Cunningham and the Huntsville-Walker County C. of C.

Trinity, Polk, Liberty, Montgomery, San Jacinto and Walker counties had large delegations present to hear Mrs. Cunningham.—Huntsville Item.

A Bully Mother

The fact that corporal punishment is discouraged in some public schools is what led Harry's teacher to address this note to the lad's mother:

"I regret very much to have to inform you that your son Harry idles away his time, is disobedient, quarrelsome and disturbs the pupils who are trying to study their lessons. He needs a good whipping, and I recommend that you give him one."

Whereupon Harry's mother responded as follows:

"Dear Miss Jones: Lick him yourself. I ain't mad at him. Yours truly, Mrs. Smith."

TELLING THE WORLD

Outside and Inside Dupe on Haskell County People
As Told By Our Rambling Representative.

The prospects for the farmers over the Haskell trade territory which we have traversed during the past week is much brighter than before the week of rain. Every available planter has been running that it was possible to rig up to put the seed in the ground for the 1928 crop. Very little of the acreage was planted before the rain and much of what was planted will have to be replanted. Already the first planting since the rain is coming up nicely and within a few days most of the feed and cotton will be growing. According to reports from the farmers the weeds are coming up all over the face of the earth yes, more than has been seen at any other time in a number of years. But the busters and weeps which are being run ahead of the planters are destroying the weeds and leaving the ground clean behind the planting. This will give the feed and cotton the start of the vegetation that hinders the growth of these crops. Good teams, tractors and improved farm machinery have been worth the price to the farmers this season.

Thursday morning we drove out west of town on the Rayner Road and we had not gone very far until we were attracted by a farmer planting cotton. It was away up in the day so to speak and the times are supposed to be rushing but this farmer showed that he was in no hurry for he had just gone one round when we drove up. This man proved to be C. D. Beasley of the Gauntt community a man who is well known and has many friends in this section. He stated that his mules had gotten out of the lot and caused his delay because he had to chase them up. Mrs. Beasley said he was in no hurry and doubtless she was right. But there is one thing we will be forced to admit, he had a good team in the harness and was doing a good job of planting.

Right here we had an argument with our jitney which refused to start. The starter refused to work, and you, who are prone to like evils know that it means a lot of cranking. We had just about run out of strength when the thing gave utterance, and we never stopped until we reached the Ford Garage in Rule and had its temperature taken and found that it had a severe case of what a mule use to have when we had to ride them to mill and come to where a road forked and the mule wanted to go the other one.

After getting things adjusted with the Ford we moved on south to the home of O. J. McLean a reader of the Free Press who has a small truck patch of three hundred or more acres of land under cultivation for this year. He was planting with one double and one single row planter assisted by O. J. Jr. The ground was so wet that he had to plant the highest parts of his field to keep his planters running. He was doing a good job of work and doubtless this maize he was planting by this time is already a streak of living green along the rows. He has a number of good mules and horses, hogs, cattle and chickens which bear their part in the success of this thrifty farmer. Mr. and Mrs. McLean served us with a good dinner while we were in their home and their kindness will not soon be forgotten. Our little daughter Nell was with us and she enjoyed the stay with our good friends.

We next stopped at the home of Mr. W. I. Carr another good farmer living close to Tanner Paint school house who was just getting ready to return to the planting of his crops and he took time to state that he was very busy planting. He is cultivating 160 acres of good land and he is putting it in fine condition.

C. W. Carpenter another good farmer of Tanner Paint was in the midst of cotton planting when we passed his farm. He said that the ground was still pretty wet for planting.

C. E. Crow another good farmer was very busy in the field and we did not bother him from his work. His daughter Miss Vern has promised to write the news of Tanner Paint to the Free Press every week.

We drove by the home of Frank Pilley who is an old time friend of ours and he is a real farmer living near the city of Sagerton. He was planting Sudan grass for pasture and by the way he was planting a large patch of it too. He has quite a lot of good stock and there is nothing that will excel Sudan for pasture that has yet been discovered or brought to this country. So he expects his livestock to gather their own living and save him the worry of harvesting and feeding. You generally find Mr. Pilley on the right side of the question. One of the boys was running a double row planter in another part of the field planting cotton.

We came by the home of P. C. Patterson on our return and found he and Mrs. Patterson getting along nicely. They are back where they started in life just the two living together. They have reared a fine family of boys and girls and they have gone out for their selves. Last year they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. All of their children came and they went to the creek and served lunch and had a real family reunion. They are in good health and are enjoying life and it is always a pleasure for us to stop with them and enjoy the friendly association of these worthy people.

We stopped a few moments at the home of W. T. Morgan. Mrs. Morgan was busy washing and the girls were helping her. Mr. Morgan was planting his crop and was very busy. He has lived out there a number of years coming from Alabama to Texas, but he likes Texas fine.

We drove in home before the stores closed and will say that we enjoyed the trip very much.

More next week.

 On last Thursday night week the Ballew school began its closing exercises. A good program was rendered and the next evening which was Friday would have concluded the program but it rained so that the stage play, "Go Slow Mary," was postponed until Tuesday evening. There were eleven characters in the play and they were well cast, and the audience was interested from the beginning until the close. Before the stage play by the seniors, five little boys sang a group of negro songs. Lillian Kaigler of Haskell sang two popular songs with Anabel Burt at the piano. Between the second and third act a group of small girls sang a good-bye song, dressed in costume. Mrs. Bert Trice has been the principal of the Ballew School for three years and was re-elected for another year, but will not accept as she intends to take a vacation for awhile at least, and will not teach next year. The assistant teacher, Mrs. O. W. Maloy has also been elected for another year but as she has already accepted the Weaver school, she will be there next year. The school board of Ballew School, consists of Messrs L. A. Moore, W. F. Fraley and Homer Tompkins.

After a rainfall of about 10 inches in the Rochester vicinity followed by a week of warm, clear weather, the farmers are busily engaged in preparing the soil and planting row crops. A number of farmers have already marketed hundreds of broilers and friers, enabling them to pay cash for supplies with produce checks.

WORKERS' COUNCIL HELD MONDAY

On last Monday May the 28th, the workers' conference of the Haskell Baptist Association met with the Bethlehem Church in Knox county in an all day session. A splendid program was arranged and most of the speakers who were assigned parts were present and took their places.

The program began at 10 a. m. with W. M. Free of Haskell conducting the devotional after which Rev. J. A. Kinser pastor of the Pinkerton and the Brushy churches made a talk on "The Being and Nature of God," which was a wonderful revelation to his listeners. Rev. Kinser took time to explain in detail this subject and the large congregation appreciated very much this discussion.

Rev. E. J. Barb pastor of the Weinert Church discussed "The Origin of Man." His talk was deliberate and clear in every detail and he explained fully the contention of the evolutionists. He showed the difference between evolution and progress and his explanations were so plain that a child could understand them.

After this speech, the congregation was dismissed by a prayer by Rev. I. N. Alvis of Haskell for lunch, which was served by the ladies on the outside. Many good things to eat were spread before the large congregation and all were given a real feast.

The house was called to order by a song at 1:30 p. m. by the congregation, after which W. M. Free and daughters rendered two special songs. Rev. C. E. Ball of Rule spoke on "The Fall of Man" which was given good attention by the entire congregation and many things were explained regarding man's fallen condition. The subject of "Total Depravity" was made clear by the speaker.

Rev. H. R. Whately of Haskell made a short speech on the "Scheme of Human Redemption" substituting for Rev. J. Q. Herrin of Rochester who was absent. His talk though very brief was full of good thoughts, stressing the point that Christ died for our sins, and that we are redeemed by his blood.

At 3 p. m. the meeting was given to the W. M. U. with Mrs. J. O. Bowden in charge. The subject discussed was "Woman's Part in Teaching the Doctrines" which had been given to Mrs. H. R. Whately and Mrs. J. Q. Herrin who were absent and Mrs. Henderson of Brushy church supplied for Mrs. Whately and made a splendid talk on "The Woman in the Home" followed by Mrs. E. J. Barb who substituted for Mrs. Herrin on the subject of "Woman in the Sunday School." Both of these ladies made excellent talks and brought many illustrations to show woman's usefulness in the teaching of the doctrines.

The attendance banner was again given to the Brushy church which is the fourth time this church has won the banner on large attendance. There are something over fifty members in the Brushy church and 43 were present in the congregation.

Rev. J. E. Tucker pastor of the Bethlehem church was moderator for the day. The next meeting will be held at the Pinkerton church the 4th Monday in June.

PLAN CELEBRATION ON ARRIVAL OF GAS

According to C. O. Moore, president of the Stamford & Western Gas Co., who are building a pipeline for natural gas that will serve Haskell and other towns in this section, the lines will be completed into Haskell on June 7th, and a suitable program for the occasion is being worked out between the company and city officials, which will be announced in next week's paper.

According to the plans of those who have the program in charge, arrangements have been made to serve refreshments to all who attend the event. Several speakers have been arranged for, and music will be furnished by the Haskell Band. A number of gas flares will be connected around the north side of the square, and these will be turned on and lighted as a part of the evenings program. While the program in detail has not been worked out as yet, plenty of entertainment and a good time for everyone is assured all who will attend, and hundreds of people from surrounding towns are expected to be present for the occasion.

The complete program will be published in next week's paper, and an invitation is extended to everyone in this section to visit Haskell on this date and enjoy the occasion.

INTERESTING NEWS OF WEINERT SECTION

Weinert is still enjoying prosperity. The bountiful rains have put a fine season in the ground and the farmers are very busy planting their crops. The usual crowds that are seen on the streets most of the time have dwindled to a scattering few who drop in occasionally and hurry away to their homes where the call of the planter awaits them.

Dr. J. Frank Cadenhead, our city physician, has purchased a new reel and reel and other up-to-date fishing apparatus and it is nothing uncommon these busy days to see him on the banks of the large lake near the city angling for the unsuspecting members of the finny tribe whose experience is limited in regard to the tactics of the Doctor. His friends say that the inhabitants of the waters are in danger every moment as the Doctor uses every specie of bate from the smallest earth worm to a full grown Jack Rabbit.

Mrs. M. M. Hart and son Arch of Dallas spent the week end with their daughter and sister Mrs. H. N. Therwanger. Misses Thelma and Dorothy Mae Therwanger accompanied them home for a visit during vacation.

Milton Mathison who has been ill for a long time was carried to Dallas last week for treatment. We trust that he will find relief and return much improved in health.

Ed Stanfield was in the city Friday and stated that his face was badly burned from the explosion of an oil barrel so he could use it for other purposes. The explosion blew him about 20 feet but did not injure him other than the burning of his face.

J. L. Burn of Smith's Chapel was in Weinert Friday on business. He is a good farmer and is very busy planting at this time.

J. J. Drinnon of north of Weinert was here for a short while Friday on business.
