OLD TIMER TELLS EXPERIENCES IN HASKELL COUNTY

R. B. (Uncle Dick) Williams of the Foster community who is not one of the first settlers of Haskell county, but who can be numbered with the old timers, tells of his experiences in Haskell county.

He drove through from Hill county bringing his family here in wagons and spent the first night in Haskell county in the J. L. Baldwin Wagon Yard, Dec. 14, 1899. He brought 14 head of cattle with him and stated that he had milk for his family every day along the way.

Uncle Dick was a farmer and knew no other occupation so he turned his attention toward the farm, but said that he was told by F. G. Alexander and M. S. Shook and others that this was only a stock country and was entirely too dry for farming. But he was persistent and soon rented a farm which was known as the Johnson farm near where the home of Uncle George Bischofhausen house now stands and with the help of his boys put in about 125 acres of sod land. This was the year of 1900 and proved to be a very seasonable year. He planted 90 acres to cotton and he stated that the grass hoppers destroyed at least one fourth of his stand, but when the fall came he picked 42 bales of cotton and made plenty of sorghum and corn to feed his teams for another year. Doubtless this was the first cotton crop to be grown in the county. He said the corn made that year was good heavy corn.

He further stated that there were millions of prairie dogs here then to contend with and he said that year he killed 137 rattlesnakes about his premises and farm.

He stated that maize was not known as a feed crop at that time and that he learned to grow plenty of sorghum for forage and he has kept up the habit and still grows his sorghum. He thinks it was in the year of 1902 that maize was introduced here as a feed crop. He stated that the first he saw was in a tow sack that some fellow brought through here and expected to plant it some where in the county.

He moved to the home where he now lives the 7th day of January 1901 which is near Foster School house. He purchased this land for a small amount per acre and he and the boys grubbed out 100 acres the first year and planted it to cotton, corn and sorghum and made a fine crop of every thing planted.

This established his faith in Haskell county and he resolved to become a contented citizen of this section and began laying his plans to buy more land as his family grew up. He now owns 450 acres of good farming lands after giving every one of his children a farm as they grew up and went out in the world for themselves.

June the 14, he celebrated his 78th birthday and is still active for a man of his age. He has always been a close worker and he still looks after the hogs and cows and does the chores around the home and is happy in the job. He was born in Mississippi, June the 14, 1850 and was a boy during the Civil War. He was pressed into service near the close of the war and guarded the cattle horses and other things which was assigned the home guards of which he was a member.

His father was carried to Camp Martin Ind. after the battle of Corinth Miss. where he died before the soldiers were permitted to return home and his mother with 5 boys moved to Texas in 1867. He grew to manhood in the Lone Star State and was married to Miss Samantha Sanders in Bell county in 1876. His wife was also born in Mississippi and moved to Texas at the age of seven years with her parents.

To this union 13 children were born, 8 of whom are still living and all have married and gone out in the world for themselves except two of their sons Jim and Bill who are still single and are living with the old folks. Mrs. Williams is now past her 76th birthday and does most of her house work assisted by Uncle Dick and the boys.

Our Homes Depend Upon Hardware Stores

What if you couldn't buy a pound of nails here in Haskell—or an ax handle—or a paring knife! What if you always had to wait to send to Dallas for things like that? In other words, what if Haskell had no hardware stores?

Ever since it was a frontier town, Haskell has been a good place to buy hardware. It had to be because our pioneers couldn't build their homes and buildings and cultivate the ground without the supplies they got at a hardware store.

But because we can always get what we want in the hardware line, we've come to take our stores more or less for granted. We forget that it's our hardware stores which keep our lawns mowed, the snow shoveled from our walks, our gardens cultivated, and our potatoes peeled.

It's the things we buy at our hardware stores which build and maintain our homes. And Haskell can't have too many good homes!

Haskell has always had good hardware stores. The proprietors live here and know the country, and they carry the things the people of Haskell county need. Give them your support!

EMPLOYMENT CERTIFICATES ISSUED IN NEW YORK

Nearly 7,000 boys and girls under 16 years of age were released from full-time school attendance in New York State and were granted employment certificates during the year ending August 1927, according to figures recently compiled by the New York child-labor committee in co-operation with the State educational department. About 90 per cent of the total number of children were from city schools. Nearly four-fifths of the 34,641 children, 12,530 remained in school until their thirteenth birthday, and three-fifths of the pupils who left school to enter industry had completed at least the eighth grade. Under the law no child under 15 may receive an employment certificate unless he has graduated from an elementary school. Only 9.69 per cent of those applying were refused permits, due in most cases to lack of physical fitness.—School Life.

TELLING THE WORLD

Outside and Inside Dope on Haskell County People As Told By Our Rambling Representative.

The greatest day in America is July the 4th on which the independence of the nation was declared. The old Liberty bell was "busted" when its cord was jerked with such vigor that it cracked in giving to America its last peel for Liberty. This was one hundred and fifty two years ago. Every American should love and cherish this day of all days to them.

Wishing to celebrate this day in quietude and recreation we joined a party of about 100 souls who left Haskell early Wednesday morning July the 4th for a day on the banks of one of our largest streams of water which wind their way through the south part of the county. Yes, we were at what is called the Ocean Hole on California Creek. Some of the families went there the night before and spent the night there. The remainder of us gathered early the next morning. The promoters of this party were J. W. Gholson, Will Whitman, Tom Holland, Will Chastain, Clarence Burson, Paul Prieson and others too numerous to mention. All the families of the party were present and to make a long story short every body had a good time. Plenty to eat was placed on a special prepared table at noon and with plenty of coffee, tea and ice water. The noon meal was a real feast for all.

Many other communities and parties were on the creeks that day. They congregated in small groups of communities and friends and all seemed to enjoy the day without friction or any thing to mar the pleasure of the blissful occasion.

We remained in the city Thursday and helped the boys get the Free Press into the mails and do our part in what ever came up.

G. E. Cearley.

Friday morning we drove out to the home of our friend G. E. Cearley of the Gauntt community where we had a good dinner of fried chicken and other good things to eat which was cooked just right. We found out that Mrs. Cearley and her daughter, Miss Grace are good cooks. We enjoyed this good meal and the association of this excellent family. Mr. and Mrs. Cearley are among our leading farm people in this section. They came from Bell county 21 years ago, tenant farmers and today they own their own home which is well improved. They have plenty of work stock and are milking two good cows and have two good hogs for their meat and lard next year. Mrs. Cearley is a fancier of the old reliable Plymouth Rock chickens which make the best fliers on earth. We know from experience. Mrs. Cearley takes care of the grocery bill for the family with chickens, eggs and butter. She has people in the city she has been selling butter to for many years. They believe in making the living from the farm and they practice what they preach.

J. S. Stephens.

We made a stop at the home of Mr. Stephens who is living in the Gauntt community. He is engaged in farming and his making his second crop in that section. He was busy plowing and Mrs. Stephens and one of the boys were doing the family washing. He has a fair crop and it is growing nicely for the weather condition to be so unfavorable to this time. They have lots of chickens and turkeys and have plenty of good cows and hogs. They came from Parker county a few years ago and like this country fine. They are good people and will find a warm welcome in this, the best county in West Texas. Their children are musically inclined and they are studying both vocal and instrumental music. It's a great pleasure to hear them play and sing.

G. L. Walker.

Mr. Walker came from Alabama a few years ago and is now living on the Pierson farm near Gauntt school house and is cultivating a large acreage to feed and cotton. He has been a successful cotton farmer since he has been here and has grown many bales of the fleecy staple. This year altho the conditions for farming has not been ideal, yet he has managed his crop so that he has a fine stand of cotton and has it in tip-top condition. It is growing nicely and he is expecting a good crop of feed and cotton. He is milking some good cows, has some good hogs for another year and is making preparations to live right along another year from the products of the broad acres he has in cultivation. George is a good fiddler and enjoys drawing the bow when he comes in from work for recreation. Nothing has greater power over the tired body and mind than the rich strains of the violin. He is a good citizen. If Alabama has any more people like this good family we will make room for them.

We drove home in the shade of the evening and retired to our couch in peace with all men looking for the rays of the morning sun to awake us to new duties with renewed strength and energy.

J. Q. Adams and family of Midway were shopping in Haskell Saturday.

It's easy to say "They'll get along somehow." But "getting along somehow" usually means broken homes, women at work, children scattered among relatives. Go into the factories, the stores, the laundries—one tenth of the women at work are there because someone said—"They'll get along somehow."

Missionary Society.

Sunday morning as did the ringing of the Sunday School bells, and they called very distinctly "Come to Sunday School, Come to Sunday School." And many there were who were reminded to go. But we have a good Sunday School at our church, the Methodist, (and we know from the reports that there are several other good Sunday Schools in our sister churches) and about four hundred came to our Sunday School the last Sunday morning of the revival meeting. Now this is to urge that we keep up the good work and the only way that we as individuals can do this is to go our selves and influence some one else to go. In the case of little children, who would be present every Sunday in the year if they could have their way, can come only when some adult member of the family brings them. The savior's own words were, "Suffer The Little Children to Come Unto Me and Forbid Them Not." They are being forbidden if they are not brought. This appeal is especially to mothers of little children, in the beginner and primary departments. We want very much to make a new roll next Sunday morning to turn into the secretary, will you mothers help us? Sunday School begins at 9:45 o'clock and we teachers will be there to welcome the little children and then we will do our best to instruct them in religious training. Again we urge all mothers of little children who ought to be in the Methodist Sunday School to help us to make a large enrollment next Sunday. And let us all together keep the good work up.

After the business session a social hour was enjoyed and the hostess served a refreshment plate to Mesdames Courtney Hunt, G. R. Forester, J. B. Post, W. A. Dunbar, and Misses Mae and Duin Fields.

Methodist Sunday School Council.

Methodist Sunday School Council met Tuesday night in the main hall of the church and was presided over by the Superintendent, Mr. Patterson. During the recent visit of Mr. A. J. Flowers who is an expert Sunday School man lectured during previous to the evening meeting to the Sunday school teachers and made many splendid suggestions of methods of building up Sunday School and individual classes. Some of these adopted for use in the Sunday School. This was the most enthusiastic meetings the council has had and there is hope of some immediate results in work. Mr. Egbert Sanders was the assistant Superintendent and will be to keep all departments of class records of attendance and promote interest in attendance. He is the one to present.

STATE HEALTH OFFICER URGES SANITATION

Mayor T. C. Cahill in receipt of the following letter from Dr. J. C. Anderson, State Health Officer, urging that Haskell citizens make a strenuous effort to comply with every sanitary precaution available to the end that we may have a healthier city. The letter is given in full below:

May 5, 1928
Hon. T. C. Cahill,
Mayor of Haskell,
Haskell, Texas.

Dr. J. M. Baker,
City Health Officer,
Haskell, Texas.

Gentlemen:

Fly season is here and in order to minimize typhoid we are urging all Texas cities to make strenuous efforts in the elimination of typhoid foci. We understand that only approximately fifty per cent of your citizens have become patrons of the city sanitary sewer system. It is highly desirable that you secure one hundred per cent connections, especially in your section of the state where there is a potential danger of contaminating your water supply on account of its shallow strata. All cess pools and septic tanks can best be replaced by sewer connections.

Feeling assured that this matter will have your attention and that you will have the unanimous co-operation of your citizens, we are, with best wishes in which Mr. Ehlers joins me, Very cordially yours,
J. C. Anderson, M. D.
State Health Officer

HASKELL'S YOUNGEST BUSINESS MAN BUYS AUTOMOBILE

Master Billy Burt, has purchased an automobile and the claim is made that he is Haskell's youngest business man. Billy Burt Jr. is only 13 years old and he began business four years ago as janitor of South Ward School. He held that position for three years then he embarked in the paper business and assisted in delivering milk for the Woodson Dairy. Billy is quite a trader and has traded for pigs, horses and automobiles. He has bought two up-to-date modern bicycles and two horses, and now a car to carry his papers around in. Some weeks ago Billy heard his mother say they would need a new refrigerator this summer. He selected a nice new one at one of our leading furniture stores, gave a check on his father's name, and when his father asked what it cost and offered to pay him, Billy replied, "Well, when any body gives you a Christmas present, do you ask what it cost and offer to pay for it?" That settled it. Like all industrious people Billy makes good in school. His report cards have a great number of A's than B's. Of course during all these years since Billy has taken on the obligations of a man he dresses himself.
