

adopted, be a reversal of the policy of the church, which makes its appropriations against contingent collections, that the larger part of my last article was devoted. It seems I was mistaken. The editor says the policy I stated in the extracts he quoted is the policy he favors, and as that policy is, without question, the policy of the Board, then the editor gives the Board, so far as its policy is concerned, his full endorsement. I am glad of it. Let us shake hands. All the editor asks is that the Board will "adjust the appropriations to the best possible estimate of the possible collections."

Will the reader indulge a personal reference. Since the publication of my first article I am in receipt of a letter from a member of the Board who suggests that possibly I did not do myself justice when I said that I had reached the Board in due time in 1884, when the debt reached its culmination, I would likely have yielded to the inspiration of the hour and voted for the advance in the appropriations which has landed us in debt. Possibly he is right. I cannot say how I would have acted in the absence of the test. I am as susceptible as the average Methodist preacher to the enthusiasm of such an occasion. But I have been less concerned to vindicate myself from blame as to this debt than to vindicate the Board, which, with the lights then before it, believed the advance was demanded by the wants of the work, and would be sustained by the liberality of the church. Had I sought merely to clear myself of blame, I could have said with truth that, in 1882, when the debt found its origin, I voted steadily for appropriations which were within the limit of the amount suggested by the Committee on Estimates. I could have said that I was providentially hindered from being present only during the closing hours of the session of 1884 when the debt reached its culmination. I could have said that in 1885 when a man, whose strong practical wisdom has made him a Nestor in our councils, moved to advance the appropriations to over $20,000 beyond the limit named by the committee, I did what I seldom do, moved to lay the motion on the table, and it was done. But I have regarded the matter in comparison with the vindication of the mission policy of our church which, I believe, is modeled on the plan inaugurated by Christ for the spiritual conquest of the world. I have but little thought that the church will abandon that plan, even though there be risk, at times, that an exuberant zeal will press the mission work beyond the liberality of our people. The church will rise up again and move on. Though I class myself, in the Board, with those who favored the lowest appropriation, yet I did, as I stated, advocate the advance in the work on our Western border, for I believed that the interests involved in that field justified the increase in the appropriation asked for, even if it should exceed, to that amount, the collections for the year. Others, who felt a special concern for China and other fields, may have gone beyond what I considered a safe appropriation, yet now, when I mark the impulse given to the work by that advance movement of the Board, I am not prepared to pronounce a harsh or hasty judgment on a brother whose enthusiasm was in advance of my own. Nor am I sure that the vantage ground gained in China by the action of the Board in 1884 will not result in final results, justify all the anxiety and struggle the enlarged appropriations have placed upon the church. Two responsibilities press upon the Board—one is the demands of the work, and the other is the possibility of exceeding the liberality of the church. The man who bears these burdens should command at least the sympathy of his brethren. Before you judge him harshly be sure that, had you been in his place and heard the call from heathen lands that stirred his heart, your enthusiasm would not have equalled his.

FROM DR. DITZLER.

Dan Voohees and the Hoopier—Sam Jones and his Work. Several years ago the eloquent, tall sycamore was making a powerful speech against prohibition, and with a triumphant air exclaimed: "What will the farmers do with all their corn if they do not use a vast quantity of it in making whisky? An old hooster farmer rose with the occasion and responded: "We will raise more hogs and cattle and less hell." That settled Daniel.

The telegraphic report of part of my discourse in El Paso to some of the secular papers makes me refer to Rev. Sam Jones' methods as in common with modern so-called evangelists. We did not name anyone, it is true, and some may have supposed we included him. We have never heard that noted character; neither have we dropped in behind him to learn the effect of his methods. But from all we have heard we heartily approve his earnest method of denouncing crime, shame and hypocrisy. We do not approve of slang though, anywhere, nor do we accuse him of it. We feel sure no man shall ever dare to draw people to hear the gospel by a resort to slang or abuse of innocent people. We have insisted for years that the whole religious press and pulpit should take infinitely more pains to denounce and expose the petty crime of all grades, expose the silly, maudlin sentimentality of the masses who so readily sympathize with gross criminals and defeat justice, render life altogether insecure, and fill courts with perjury and venality.

Let me say through the ADVOCATE that our brethren in far-away Montana are hard at work, on small pay, building more churches this year than in their entire previous history. We had the honor of sitting president of the body while it organized the first Woman's Parsonage Aid Society, as a branch of the Woman's Mission Work in church extension, addressed them, then, and helped them to raise $115 at conference as a start. In Colorado our people are at work, but I must say I fear they are a little too early and deep in the educational matter, in contrast with their church work. We intended going to California, but stayed so long to help them in Montana we could not reach California, and can touch at only a few places in Texas as we pass up from Uvalde, where we go next; stopping at three places by engagement in Missouri also. But we promise our loved Texas friends that if the Lord spurs us we will give the best help to several camp-meetings next summer, if they hold them last of June and in July, as we had to decline to do so the past summer in order to help Montana. The ADVOCATE certainly takes a high rank in that family which we feel religiously proud to call our own. God bless the ADVOCATE and Texas Methodism, and may it cling to the pure old type of the same. J. DITZLER.

Fifty Conversions—Six Accessions. During the fourth round, including the third and fourth quarterly meetings, I have held twelve protracted and two days' meetings on the New-circuit, with about fifty conversions, sixty-one accessions, backsliders reclaimed and the church greatly revived. Have four more meetings yet to hold. Pray for us that the good work may still go on. A large percent. of those received into the church were men who are heads of families; some well-advanced in years—one of them is in his seventy-eighth year. The rest we hope to report at conference. M. D. LONG.

FROM WHITESBORO.

Revivals—A Funeral Sermon. Have been holding a series of meetings the past two weeks, and still continue. Visible results: Eight conversions, the church, with but very few exceptions, greatly revived, and a fine prospect for a most glorious revival. Among the converts are three brothers. Will send other and full notice at close. In this, will only add: Yesterday I preached Chas. Craven's funeral sermon. He was a good man, universally beloved and doubtless rests with the saints on high. At the service every believer was made happy and every sinner promised publicly, by God's help, to become religious. D. F. FULLER.

FROM AURORA.

Three Happy Years—A Royal Spirit. Our fourth quarterly conference has just closed. Bro. Eastering, our presiding elder, on hand. This closing year three years as preacher under him. Three happy years I never expect to spend with any one as presiding elder. Our efforts have not been in vain this year. The membership has nearly doubled. Results would have been greater but for my poor health for two months in the revival season. Finances very well up. I feel very much complimented by the conference appointing me to this mission. Matters were a little gloomy when I first came on the work. Myself and two little ones were all alone, but by April I found one who agreed to take the hard lot of a preacher's wife. Since that we have been very happy at home. This preacher and family are happy with this people, but are holding themselves ready to obey the appointment of Bishop McTear at the session of the North Texas Conference. I shall always feel complimented that the conference gives me an appointment. F. V. EVANS.

FROM WEATHERFORD.

Membership Nearly Doubled—Planning for a New House of Worship. This has been a year of marvelous spiritual vitality and prosperity. About 800 persons have professed conversion and reclamation in our midst—over 700 of these during one meeting. The membership of every denomination has increased. Our membership has been nearly doubled, and our house is wholly inadequate to accommodate those wishing to worship with us. We are planning to enlarge or build a new house. This will be done in the near future, and then it is expected that others will do likewise. When these needed improvements are made this will be one of the loveliest little cities of Texas. Our membership is religious. Many of our women and girls pray in public, and, to date, no man has refused. The class and prayer-meetings are well attended and every interest is looked after with godly anxiety. The time of our conference is high, and your readers may or may not hear more of Texas through this correspondence.—Rev. M. H. Wells, in St. Louis Advocate.

FROM WILLOW CITY CIRCUIT.

A Year of Toil—Compensation. I closed my work with the Post Oak meeting last Sunday. We had three accessions and a good meeting. During the year we have received thirty-five into the church; and dismissed from the church thirty-seven. Seventeen souls have been converted to God. Fifteen infants and eight adults have been baptized. The stewards report the quarterage up at two of the five churches and another one is yet to come up full. Two are behind—one about twenty-five dollars the other about twelve dollars. The assessment was too small by two hundred dollars. But we rejoice and thank God that we have gotten through the year without going in debt. We are glad that the year is gone—mainly, because we are a year's journey nearer heaven. There are many good people on the work whom I expect, by the grace of God, to meet in heaven. It has been a year of hard toil, and much financial embarrassment to preacher and people, but these will all end in that "sweet bye and bye," which will soon come to some of us. Even now the thoughts of such amazing bliss should constant joys create. Pray for us, R. M. LEATON.

FROM EL PASO.

Dr. Ditzler's Sermon—Two Army Officers Make a Disturbance.

A scene which took place in the Methodist Church several nights ago, causes severe discussion and comment throughout El Paso, and may yet lead to a serious difficulty. On the night in question Lieutenants Day and Birmingham, of the federal army, accompanied two young ladies to the church to hear the eminent Kentucky divine, Dr. Ditzler. The four, it is alleged, seemed to have come purely for diversion, and laughed and otherwise behaved in such a manner as to greatly disturb the audience. Dr. Baines, of the Baptist Church, who sat directly in front, was compelled to change his seat, and several other disturbed persons also moved. Finally, Birmingham and his lady retired to a residence near by, and the evangelist continued his remarks, in opposition to dancing and skating. In the course of the sermon Dr. Ditzler alluded to the departure of persons from the church when he was preaching upon the same subject. Day misconstrued this as a reflection upon his departed friend and his female companion, and immediately after services both officers returned to the church and charged Dr. Ditzler with making insulting remarks. This the aged divine emphatically denied, and was in turn charged by Birmingham with untruthfulness, Birmingham at the same time, it is stated, placing himself in a violent attitude and calling upon his friend Day as a witness. By this time the excitement in the church had become so great that everybody rushed to where Dr. Ditzler was standing to render aid. Violent gesticulation and abuse continued, and M. S. Brower, a member of the church, got in front of Birmingham, and told the latter that whether or not the remarks referred to him and his lady companion, he (Brower) would make himself responsible, and informing the officers of his occupation, name and place of business, demanded their immediate retirement from the church. This was accomplished, and here the matter rests for the present. Many of the best known citizens in the city witnessed the occurrence and strongly condemn the conduct of the officers. There is talk among the gentlemen of the church of demanding a court-martial. Every effort has been made to keep the matter quiet.—Galveston News.

FROM MADISONVILLE.

A Small Advance in Numbers. We have closed our round of protracted meetings. We were ably assisted in these by Dr. Philpott. His sermons made a deep and lasting impression on the minds and hearts of our people, and the local preachers have made good labors. We have had thirty-five conversions and thirty-five accessions by baptism and on profession, and seven by certificate—forty-two in all—and have baptized eight infants. But when we subtracted those we have lost by death, withdrawal, expulsion, and by certificate, we will not be able to make but a small advance in numbers. Yet, when we look at the spiritual improvement in the church, we feel that we are in a much better condition than we were early in the year. Our Sunday-schools have done a good work. Many of our people have learned that the Sunday-school work is an important factor in our church. We are more rounded up for conference. We are pressing all the claims of the church, and feel hopeful that we will be able to report all the collections paid in full. J. B. ADAIR.

MADISONVILLE, TEXAS, Oct. 25, 1885.

FROM CENTER.

A Revival—New Members—Some go "Under the Water." We have had a most glorious revival of religion in Center. The whole town seemed to be under the influence of the meeting to a great extent that I ever witnessed before anywhere. The meeting continued about twelve days with unabated interest. While there were quite a number of preachers present ready and willing to preach, it was thought by the more experienced ones that it would be best for the presiding elder, Bro. J. W. Johnson, and the pastor to do all the preaching; so all the sermons, except two or three, were conducted by them. There had large congregations and willing workers at every service. The visible results are as follows: The church greatly revived, many backsliders reclaimed, over fifty conversions, with forty additions to our church and twelve to the Baptist. Three of our members wanted to go under the water. The presiding elder showed them that he was as good a hand at the business as a Baptist preacher. We have had about sixty-five additions on Center Circuit this year. J. L. DAWSON.

CENTER, TEXAS, Oct. 27, 1885.

FROM GEORGETOWN DISTRICT.

Personal—Centenary College. I came here to hold the fourth quarterly conference for the station and North Lampasas circuit. While at the latter appointment I was attacked with dengue; and after preaching once and holding the conference, I was brought Saturday evening in to town, and found a place where a weary preacher could rest and recuperate at the girls' boarding house at Centenary College, in the family of our Bro. Bennett. And it is indeed a most delightful place. The singing at prayers, with the nice, religious girls gathered here, is most as good as a camp-meeting, while the fervent prayers offered for me and my work makes the dengue bearable. The pleasant week spent in this delightful college home compensates largely for the suffering. The institution is moving grandly on, and, Mr. Editor, I am quite sure you would be delighted and surprised, and so would all the church, could you see the workings of this school, and witness the results of the earnest, faithful work of Dr. McElhenny and Bro. Bennett. The success of this institution is no longer doubted by anyone here or by any that have visited it. It is a work that the church will be proud of. The city is most beautiful. How pure the air, and grand the mountains, and picturesque the scenery; and the waifs are most delightful—such wonderful springs. I love the people, and predict that, with their good sense and enterprise, they will have, at a distant day, one of the most beautiful cities and most famous watering places in all the land. I wonder that it is not advertised more, and especially as a winter resort, for surely in this delightful valley, behind these frowning hills, the northerners cannot hurt one much. I trust I may soon be about again, and hope to be at conference to meet my brethren and report for duty another year. JAMES MACKAY.

LAMPASAS, TEXAS, Oct. 27, 1885.

FROM ANNONA.

Revivals—Getting Ready for Conference. Our sixth protracted meeting was held at this place, and the Lord was with us in convicting and converting power. There were about ten professions, and several backsliders were reclaimed. Our Baptist brethren were invited to assist us in the meeting, cordially accepted the invitation, and worked with us faithfully. Many shouts were heard from Methodists and Baptists, and the people of God were greatly revived during the meeting. We had eleven additions to our church, and some have joined the Baptist Church. We organized here last year with about eighteen members; we now have thirty-six. Is not that doing well for the first two years in one little town? Methodism is thoroughly established here, and other denominations see that there is life, vitality and power in our church. Let Methodist people live up to the teachings and grand doctrines of our beloved church, and then others will recognize us as a Scriptural church, based upon the Rock of Ages. This meeting embraced the second and third Sundays in September, and was the best revival at this place for many years. Our seventh and last meeting was held at Garland's school-house, embracing the fourth Sunday in September, and closed Wednesday night following. I was sick most of the time during this meeting, but fortunately Bro. J. C. Moore, a local preacher from Pennin county, was visiting his brother, and he did most of the preaching for me. He is an excellent preacher, and did good work while he remained. We had one profession and two accessions to the church, and the membership considered revived. I am getting ready for conference, but fear that our collections will not be paid up in full, as they are far behind now. Crops are short and cotton low, and some people are slow to respond to the calls made upon them for money. In the revolution of the "great iron wheel" of itinerancy, I know not where I may be dropped, but I am a loyal Methodist preacher and can say the will of the Lord be done. W. W. HOJNER.

ANNONA, TEXAS, Oct. 28, 1885.

FROM SULPHUR SPRINGS.

Rev. W. B. Godbey—His Collaborator and his Work. Rev. W. B. Godbey and his co-laborers, Revs. Isen and Stamper, have just left us after a stay of two weeks. With feelings of grateful remembrance to them, and with deep gratitude and praise to God for sending them here, do we pen this notice. From the first service the people went away commenting, cursing, wondering and amused. His nervous movements, his eccentric and decidedly new methods, his uncompromising denunciations of sin, in the church as well as in the world, his plainness of speech and vehement earnestness, attracted some, repelled others, convicted many, and left all wondering what the end would be. The order of services was as follows: Prayer-meeting with running expositions of the Scriptures, by Brother Godbey, at 9:30 a. m.; meeting for young people, conducted by Isen or Stamper, at 4:30 p. m.; prayer and praise-meeting at 6:30, followed by preaching, by Bro. Godbey, at 8 p. m. The preaching was confined entirely to the church from Wednesday night to Sunday night, urging the necessity of entire consecration, emphasizing the sinfulness of living in sin, denouncing with no uncertain or equivocal terms conformity to the world, and holding out the promises of God for full salvation from the power as well as guilt of sin. All who were willing to lay aside prejudice and labor for the glory of God were benefited. On the whole, we think that much good was done notwithstanding the fact that the pastor of the Baptist Church felt himself called to denounce, in the local papers, the doctrines as dangerous, devilish and fanatical, and the evangelist as a crank, a lunatic and a fool. We are not afraid for Bro. Godbey to go before the people with this endorsement. We believe him to be a pure, holy man. We most heartily endorse him and recommend him to those who may need his services. We believe that he will do good wherever he goes. The visible results of the meeting were: Fifty-two conversions and the church much revived. J. F. SHERWOOD.

SULPHUR SPRINGS, TEXAS, Oct. 1.

When old Judge Jowler was tucked in his little bed by Mrs. Mosser he couldn't sleep a wink until the session of Bro. Godbey at a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Then he crossed his little hands and sunk in sweet repose. Laying on praise with a trowel may please an enthusiastic and uneducated audience, but it is best to make the judicious choice.—The Examiner.

What Seventy-Five Cents Did.

A farmer in Missouri writes that he has had a tough time. The potato bugs got into his fields; his children had whooping cough, and his wife was crippled with rheumatism. Then he bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Then he crossed his little hands and sunk in sweet repose. Laying on praise with a trowel may please an enthusiastic and uneducated audience, but it is best to make the judicious choice.—The Examiner.

It is the best account you can cast up correctly the sum of his own errors.

Now, if you or any of your family are suffering with child, Rheumatism, Irritability, Nervousness, Jaundice, Biliousness, or any other symptom of malarial poison, we respectfully suggest you to try MORLEY'S T-S-S AGUE TONIC, for it will according to directions you know the result will be success.

An unjust acquisition is like a barbed arrow, which must be drawn backward with horrible anguish or else will be your destruction.

Is There a Cure for Consumption?

We answer unreservedly, yes! If the patient commences in time the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," and exercises properly. If allowed to get on its course too long all medicine is powerless to stay it. Dr. Pierce never deceives a patient by holding out a false hope for the sake of pecuniary gain. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured thousands of patients when nothing else seemed to avail. Your druggist has it. Send two stamps to Dr. Pierce's compound medicine on consumption with runners testimonials. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The position of HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE as the best juvenile paper is firmly established.

It is a weekly miscellany of the choicest reading for boys and girls, and it contains the best literary and artistic work anywhere to be purchased.

Every line is subjected to rigid editorial scrutiny, in order that it shall contain nothing harmful, and that it shall be an effective agency for the mental, moral and physical education of its readers. Its stories have all the dramatic interest that juvenile fiction can possess, without anything pernicious. Its articles on scientific subjects, travel, and the facts of life are by writers whose names assure accuracy and value. Its historical stories, biographical tales, etc., present attractively the most inspiring incidents in history, and in the lives of notable men and women. Papers on athletic sports, games and pastimes, have their places, while the pictures by the foremost artists and engravers lavishly illustrate its pages.

That HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE fulfills the requirements of young readers is proved by its great circulation in this country and in Great Britain, and by the approval and co-operation of fathers and mothers and pastors and teachers everywhere.

PRESS NOTICES.

The bold venture in the field of juvenile literature proved a victory. The young people of America are congratulated upon this new and public friend, entertainer and counsellor. It deserves a welcome at every fireside.

Brilliant illustrations, captivating stories, sensible and useful instruction, are features of every issue.—The Living Age, London.

It reserves a place in every home blessed with children, whose lives it will make better and brighter with its weekly visits.—Zion's Herald, N. Y.

A sort of necessity in juvenile life. So freely has the little weekly magazine taken hold upon its readers that it already seems to be a thing wholly of course that one can scarcely avoid upon its reading that it was not.—N. Y. Evening Post.

Growing in years it but grows in grace.—The Living Age, London.

As fresh and sparkling as the boys and girls for whom it is published, it is indeed a capital weekly for our young folk.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

It continues to lead the weekly publications for youth.—The Living Age, London.

The best weekly for children in America.—Southwestern Christian Advocate, New Orleans.

Harper's Young People deserves the highest rank among publications for the little folks. It entertains, instructs and charms its readers.—Boston Herald, N. Y.

We cordially commend it to families desiring good and healthy reading for their children.—Episcopal Methodist, Baltimore.

It is bubbling over with clever sayings and interesting incidents from the lives of boys and girls getting through one's idle hours. Every week-looker upon the Harper's staff has contributed illustrations, and many more besides. An equally large number of the best writers for children have written stories.—The Churchman, N. Y.

Our children's taste is being educated by such reading as is furnished them in HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE, which is easy from and above the books and papers supplied them by our Sunday-schools.—Examiner, N. Y.

Every week the beautiful pages of HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE give "brightness and mirth" to the boys and girls of America.—Ecologist, N. Y.

An inexhaustible source of entertainment for youth.—Boston Herald, N. Y.

The unqualified success achieved by HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE is one of the significant signs of the times, indicating the growing growth of a healthful literary taste, and is a safeguard against juvenile literature.
