GIFT LIST COMPILED TEXAS UNIVERSITY

A bulletin giving a complete list of gifts made to The University of Texas from 1883 to 1932 has just been prepared and issued by Miss Helen Hargrave, assistant law librarian. This list is in itself a gift to the University, since Miss Hargrave has spent her spare time and efforts in this work for several years.

The record of gifts of the University has been compiled from many sources, including the minutes and reports of the Board of Regents, Texas Student Publications, Inc. and the records of departments and libraries.

The bulletin lists and gives information about every person or organization that has made donations of any kind to the University. Books, tables, papers, scholarships, and money gifts are all included in the imposing list.

The first gift to the University was made by Elisabeth Ney, Austin sculptress, and consisted of a plaster bust of Governor O. M. Roberts, the virtual founder of the University. The first gift of substantial proportions was made by the estate of Sir Swante Palm and was composed of enough books to double the size of the library at the time of the donation. The most valuable gift of manuscripts ever made to the University is the Bezar Archives. It is one of the greatest historical treasures of the country.

As the amount of money gifts directly for the benefit of the students amount to $500,000 and the total of gifts for the library amounts to approximately half that amount. There were 13,000 people who donated money for the Memorial Stadium and 9,000 who contributed for the Union fund.

Many money gifts for dormitories, scholarships, and research equipment are also listed in this handbook. There have been four dormitories for girls, several University churches and Bible chairs, and the University Y. M. C. A. donated in the last several years by interested people.

The hundreds of donors are listed in alphabetical order in the "List of Gifts" with the donation for which they are credited. They include societies, institutions, newspapers, railroads, clubs, telephone companies, and interested friends of the University.

Miss Hargrave has had the compilation has been made with the hope that it will be followed by supplements which will keep it up to date as the years pass.

3000 RATS KILLED BY HASKELL FARMERS

By Joe C. Williams, County Agent
An average saving of $11.47 per farm by killing off the rats was reported by fifty one of the 228 men in the county who cooperated with the county agent, in the use of Red Squill powder as a rat exterminator. A total of 3,039 rats was killed by these men in this way. It was estimated by the ones who reported on the cards as to number of rats killed, and damage to feed and young chickens. Feed saved 97,000 pounds saved, and 2,640 young chicks saved. The feed was valued at $5.00 per ton and the young chicks at 10 cents each.

4-H Club Work

Boys that are interested in feeding calves as a 4-H Club Demonstration, and do not know if they can get the money to pay the purchase price of the calves can get the money to pay for one calf by applying to the county agent.

The loan is to be repaid when the calf is sold, this will apply to boys who have feed on the farms or who can get the feed from their fathers. There are at present only seven calves on feed by club boys in the county. The club age is from 10 to twenty years of age. Calves to be put on feed will be selected by the agent, club boy and his dad.

RODEO WILL BE MAIN ATTRACTION AT COWBOY REUNION

A genuine western rodeo featuring actual cowboys from the ranches of Texas and adjoining states will be the central attraction around which is being arranged the program of entertainment for the Fourth Annual Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held in Stamford July 3, 4 and 5.

Rodeo performances will be held twice daily, at 2:30 p. m. and 8 p. m. in the natural amphitheater on the Reunion grounds. Grandstand seating capacity has been doubled this year to accommodate the crowds which have been increasing in number each year. Several downtown ticket booths will be operated this year to avoid delay and confusion at the grounds.

The rodeo program will include contest in bronco-busting, steer-riding, calf-roping and wild-cow-milking at each performance. Two special features will be the contest for the best "cuttinghorse" and the calf-roping contest for cowboys over 55 years of age. A handsome saddle will be the prize for the champion ropers among these veterans of the lariat.

Special prizes also are offered for the champion ropers among the younger generation of cowboys. The ten ropers making the best average time in calf-roping and wild-cow-milking during the three days of the rodeo will compete for these prizes in the closing performance on the night of July 5.

In addition to the special prizes, some $1450 in cash will be paid the winners in various events, the money being awarded at the close of each day's contests. Low admission prices will prevail, general admission being 50 cents plus tax and grandstand seat 25 cents additional.

Entry fees for rodeo contestants will be $4 a day for calf-roping, $3 a day for bronco-riding, $4 a day for wild-cow-milking, $5 for cutting-horse contest and $2.50 a day for steer-riding. There is no entrance fee for the old-time cowboys' calf-roping contest.

Day money in each of the roping events—calf-roping and cow-milking—is $120 for each day, divided into five prizes ranging from $50 for first prize to $10 for fifth prize. The purse each day in bronco-riding is $100 and in steer-riding $75. The purse in the cutting-horse contest is $150 for one day only.

The Reunion management has just published a folder containing the rodeo rules and detailed prize list. "Cowboy" John Sulman, who was champion last year as the most trusted cowboy under 35 years of age, is rodeo game director.

MANY NEW LAWS RECENTLY PASSED

Many new laws, but few of major importance were passed by the Legislature which adjourned Thursday of last week after the longest session on record, one hundred and forty three days, according to the Dallas Morning News.

Among the new laws passed was the Congressional redistricting bill, dividing Texas into twenty one districts and eliminating the necessity of three Congressmen at Large.

Approximately $13,000,000 was cut from the appropriation bills as compared to those passed by the last legislature, but the total allotted still exceeds $40,000,000.

The truck laws, which came into a good deal of discussion during the campaign last summer, were left unchanged. The same restrictions as to length and weight of load and other requirements as passed during the Sterling administration are still enforced.

The allotment of the three cent gasoline tax also was left the same as it was during the Sterling administration. Ferguson in the campaign and in recommendations to the Legislature favored taking one third of this tax and adding it to the general revenue fund in order to decrease the ad valorem tax.

No new taxes affecting the average citizen were passed. Several sales tax plans and an income tax bill were introduced, but all failed to become laws.

A bill permitting horse racing with legalized betting was passed, but will expire at the end of two years unless re-passed as the bill was attached as a rider to the appropriation bill.

A bill legalizing professional boxing matches under certain restrictions was also passed.

Among the other laws passed was one to repeal the auto head light testing law.

A law was passed repealing an old act requiring the drivers of motor vehicles to slow down to a speed of 15 miles per hour when passing each other on the highway. The speed under the new law must not exceed 45 miles.

Among the educational bills passed was one abolishing the County Institutes and substituting one day periodic conferences of the County Superintendent with the teachers.

Another permits the payment of school taxes separate from and prior to the payment of other taxes.

Independent School Districts are now permitted to borrow money or issue bonds for the erection of gymnasiums, athletic fields, etc.

Public schools are now permitted to teach Spanish and other modern languages in the elementary grades as well as in the high school.

The tuition in State Colleges and Universities was raised from $30 to $50 for the regular session and from $25 to $35 for the summer schools.

Pensions Are Reduced.

The Confederate pensions were reduced and under the new laws only certain veterans and widows are entitled to receive a pension. Under the provision of the law, those owning a homestead valued at more than three thousand dollars and personal property valued at more than $1500 will not be eligible to receive aid. Pensions were reduced to $25.00 per month for veterans and for widows more than 75 years of age and $50 per month for such married couples. Widows, less than 75 years of age, will receive $12.50 per month. Veterans and widows living in the Confederate home at Austin will receive $7.50 per month.

It is now a penitentiary offense for an election officer to bet on the outcome of an election which he is helping to hold.

Unofficial report of election results must be made public every two hours by the officers after the closing of polls until all votes are counted.

Marriage licenses cannot now be issued between the hours of 6 p. m. and 8 a. m. The three days notice to secure a license was repealed but the man is required to secure a health certificate before the license can be issued.

The pay of jurors in lunacy cases has been reduced from $2.00 to $1.00 per day.

All the cigarette tax now goes for the benefit of the public schools instead of being split with the general revenue fund.

The maximum State tax for the next two years was fixed at 67 cents on the $100 valuation, 55 cents for

J. Rankin Gammill who graduated from Haskell High School in 1928 has secured the position as Coach and Principal of the Meadow schools.

While in our local school he won first place at the District meet at Abilene in declamation which won for him a trip to the State meet at Austin.

ROBY MAN IS TRUCK VICTIM

The body of W. H. Palmer, 37-year-old cattle truck driver of Roby, killed on the highway ten miles west of Albany Sunday night when struck by another truck after stepping from his own machine, was sent to Roby Monday for burial. Palmer was en route to the Fort Worth market. He had stopped to investigate a tire.

Palmer was struck by a west-bound produce truck driven by Bill Gann of Rule. W. M. King of the state highway patrol and Shackelford county officers who investigated the accident, said it appeared unavoidable. It was believed Palmer stepped backward or lost his balance and fell into the passing truck as he started the tire repairs.

King, en route from Wichita Falls to his home in Abilene, was in Albany when notified of the accident, which occurred at 7 o'clock.

B. F. Kidd, Palmer's companion, discovered the body on the pavement, as he stepped from the rear of the truck.

BOY SCOUT SUMMER CAMP JULY 16 TO 30

SURVEY REVEALS INCREASED WORK

The 908 establishments reporting to the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas and the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics had on their payrolls on May 15 a total of 63,964 workers, a gain of 3.1 per cent over the total reported for the preceding month, and, what is more important, an increase of 1.1 per cent over the total reported as of May 15 a year ago. It was the first time since March, 1930, that the number of workers had exceeded that on the corresponding date a year earlier.

"Not only is this increase from April to May an unusual one on the basis of past experience, but it is widely distributed over a great many different industries," the University Bureau's report said.

"Average weekly wages per worker declined slightly, from $22.13 in April to $22.02 in May, but because of the increase in the number of men on payrolls, the average weekly payroll was $1,408,197 in May as against $1,372,935 in April, a gain of 2.5 per cent.

"In Austin, Beaumont, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Port Arthur, San Antonio, and Wichita Falls, more men were on payrolls on May 15 than on the corresponding date a year ago, showing that the improvement in employment was well distributed not only as to industries but also as to locations in the State. As compared with the preceding month, the following cities showed gains: Amarillo, Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Port Arthur, San Antonio, Waco, Wichita Falls, and the miscellaneous group of towns.

"Increases in the number of workers together with increased average weekly wages per worker were found in eleven industries, affecting 17,333 workers. Increases in the number of workers accompanied by slight cuts in wages were reported in fourteen industries and in the miscellaneous group, affecting 38,891 on May 15. In five industries decreases in wages accompanied reductions in the number of workers, whereas in seven industries the smaller number of men on payrolls received higher average weekly wages than they did during the preceding month.

"No workers employed on Reconstruction Finance Corporation projects or other relief work are included.

A two weeks well regulated and supervised Scout program is one of tremendous value to all Scouts. Learning by Doing is the real value to boys and then the association with other boys, learning to know the other fellow, playing the game with strangers, strangers at first but friends within a short time, all of these things made the summer Council Camp a great adventure and outing for the Scouts of the Chisholm Trail Council.

NATIONAL FLOWER DAY OBSERVED HERE

National Flower Shut-in-Day was observed here last Saturday, June 10th, and more than two dozen bouquets of flowers were distributed to people who were ill or shut-in. The flowers were donated by the Conner Nurse and Floral Company and members of the Boy Scouts, Ernest McMillan, Milam Diggs and Claud Warren, Jr., assisted in the distribution.

National Flower Shut-in Day has been designated as June 10th each year and in all the larger cities funds are raised and an organization perfected to finance and distribute flowers to those who are ill in hospitals or shut-in at their homes.

The Annual Chisholm Trail Council summer camp will be held at Camp Tonkawa starting with supper July 16 and closing with dinner July 30th. The summer camp period will be divided into two sessions, July 16 to 23, July 23 to 30. The camp fee will be $6.00 for seven days or $11.00 for fourteen days. It is expected that the majority of Scouts will register for the two weeks period. Professional cooks are to be employed and the entire program to be carried on under commission by the National Council Boy Scouts of America will serve as camp director.

Executive Ed Shumway, who is adult leadership.

Arrangements are being made for swimming in the Presbyterian pool at Buffalo Gap. There will be no extra fee for the Scouts as the Chisholm Trail Council will pay for this. All swimming and life saving tests will be supervised by qualified American Red Cross teachers and Life Savers. Definite swimming hours will be scheduled. Transportation to and from Camp Tonkawa to Buffalo Gap will be provided by the Council and a very interesting swimming program arranged which will be the most popular ever planned for Camp Tonkawa.

Tents will be furnished free to the Scouts and the large mess hall will be used by all.

A new handicraft program is being prepared and the entire program this year promises to be an unusual one with many new features. Special stunt nights are being arranged and it is expected that several civic clubs will visit the camp.

The Camp Tonkawa programs will be mailed soon and will contain general information, program, physical examination blank and an outline of the Camp staff.

Camp Tonkawa is always adult supervised and this year several of the most prominent Scoutmasters in the Council will be on the staff. Scoutmasters Conner Robinson, M. H. Carr, Coach Les Cranfill of Simmons, are among the first to be selected.

A two weeks well regulated and supervised Scout program is one of tremendous value to all Scouts. Learning by Doing is the real value to boys and then the association with other boys, learning to know the other fellow, playing the game with strangers, strangers at first but friends within a short time, all of these things made the summer Council Camp a great adventure and outing for the Scouts of the Chisholm Trail Council.

RELATIVE LOCAL MAN SHOT BY BURGLARS

John Lambkin, 57, deputy sheriff of Nolan county, and a cousin of J. B. Lampkin of this city who was shot by burglars and was run down by their automobile at Blackwell on the night of June 1st, was gravely ill today in a Sweetwater hospital. Physicians expressed no hope for his recovery according to word received here this morning.

Officers have been conducting a widespread search for Lamkin's assailants. Piecing together incoherent accounts given by the injured man during brief intervals of consciousness, Sheriff Lambeth of Nolan county expressed the belief there were three men in a party that Lamkin, who does nightwatchman duties at Blackwell, surprised in the Magnolia warehouse, and that one of the trio, slipping out behind the officer, shot him as the other two also made a getaway.

Lamkin's lungs were pierced by a bullet that entered his back at the right shoulder and came out at his collar bone on the left side, and he also has severe body bruises received when the burglars ran him down as they drove their auto out of a filling station adjoining the warehouse. His condition has been grave since pneumonia developed late last week.

Gasoline taken from a pump after a lock had been broken was the only loot reported missing by Magnolia officials.

W. M. Kirk of Ft. Worth, returned last Saturday and will make his home with his son, C. L. Kirk near Walnut. Mr. Kirk is 85 years old and has lived for the past 10 years in Ft. Worth.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
by William Bruckart

Washington.—Within a few days now, the treasury will be closing the gigantic set of books and accounts, and thus will mark the end of another fiscal year for our government. This event will transpire at the close of business, June 30, and on the succeeding day fresh accounts will be opened and new appropriations will be available out of which the government will be run in the next twelve months.

It seems, therefore, that a review may well be undertaken to show, as I believe to be true, that the low point of the depression was reached sometime last winter and that now a slow but steady improvement is taking place. Some years will have to elapse, however, before the full effect of this greatest of economic breakdowns can be thoroughly appraised and the lessons learned. This review, then, must be confined as closely as may be to an analysis of what has happened to the government, how it has sustained itself under conditions of the kind, and consideration of what is scheduled to be or is being accomplished.

That any statement as to when the bottom of the depression was hit will be questioned is quite obvious. I base my statement, however, on the best barometer that is available, namely, tax payments under levies applied to sales of certain merchandise. The result is definite. These taxes have been increasing through the last four months. Experience has developed the fact that the receipts do not start reaching the treasury in any volume until three months after the business itself has begun to increase. I know that the government authorities who read all of the signs and read them accurately, consider the picture most heartening.

But let us get down to cold figures and let them tell the story. For example, we may first look at the treasury's books as the end of the fiscal year passes. They show total receipts for the year to have been around $1,950,000,000, and expenditures to have aggregated about $3,725,000,000. So there is a deficit of around one and three-quarter billions. That is, the government spent that much more than it received in taxes and other revenue. It has borrowed just that much money in the year, over and above the refinancing that it had to do in meeting bonds and notes that matured.

Such a vast deficit would seem hopelessly insurmountable were it not for the consolation of comparison. When we look back to the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1932, we are astounded to find that the deficit approached three billion dollars, so that a reduction of more than one billion dollars has been achieved.

At the start of the current fiscal year last July 1, there was every indication that the total cost of government for the twelve months would be at least two and a half billion greater than its revenues.

Expenditures have been cut, however, so that the outgo during the last eight months of the Hoover administration and the first four months of the Roosevelt administration was materially reduced. Yet that alone could not have brought the deficit down as much as has happened. The answer to the question concerning the source of the other factor lies, as I said before, in growing tax receipts.

The reference to income taxes brings to mind a point about federal revenue that has proved puzzling to many persons. It might be supposed that if business is better there would be more income taxes paid. That is a correct supposition. The error lies in the thought that these taxes are helpful immediately. They cannot be. They are always a year late insofar as the government is concerned, since the income taxes paid in 1933 are on incomes earned or received in 1932, which happened to be the worst of the series of hard years. In addition, there is the condition existing that results in income taxes being paid in two fiscal years on incomes received in one calendar year. The first and second quarterly payments are made in March and in June, which months are in the last half of one fiscal year, and the payments in September and December are in the first half of the succeeding fiscal year. While that fact actually makes no difference since the government gets the money anyway, it happens to make a difference in the totals that is of consequence when the treasury is so far behind as now occurs. The point is mentioned in order to contrast the importance at this time of receipts from these taxes that have to be paid monthly, such as the manufacturers' sales tax on radios, cigarettes and beer, to mention only a few. things again. And the most pleasant thought of all is that every time a man or woman is put back to work, they are able to buy things they have not had while they were unemployed.

And while we are on the subject of government expenses, President Roosevelt called attention the other day to a widespread misconception of how economies are to be accomplished. He said there had been many words written about the delay in effecting reorganization of government agencies and that in most instances, the newspaper account of the situation had left the impression that this would cause the program for economy to fall short of complete accomplishment. The President explained with some care how savings of only small amounts are obtained through reorganization while real economies must come through elimination of functions such as duplicated work.

It is still an open question whether Mr. Roosevelt will be able to save 25 per cent in the next year from the total of government expenditures as they are being recorded in the fiscal year just ending. The 25 per cent which he pledged during his campaign to cut from the federal budget is slightly more than one billion dollars. It takes no soothsayer to foresee that if this amount is lopped off from government outgo, numerous phases of government work heretofore performed either must be cramped or done away with entirely.

Henry Grady Speaks Today

The following article by Henry Grady, written many years ago and recently appeared in the Epworth Era was handed us by an interested Haskell citizen with the request that it be published.

Henry Grady Speaks Today

The eloquent defense of womanhood, childhood, and the home against demon rum made by Henry Grady, famed journalist of the past generation, is still remembered. Mr. Grady was opposing the return of the saloons to his home city, Atlanta, Ga.:

"My friends, hesitate before you vote liquor back. Now that it is shut out. Don't trust it. It is powerful, aggressive, and universal in its attacks. Tonight it enters a humble home to strike the roses from a woman's cheeks, and tomorrow it challenges this republic in the halls of Congress.

"Today it strikes the crust from the lips of a starving child, and tomorrow levies tribute from the government itself. There is no cottage humble enough to escape it—no palace strong enough to shut it out.

"It is the moral enemy of peace and order. The spoiler of men, the terror of women, the cloud that shadows the face of children, the demon that has dug more graves and sent more souls unshriven to judgment than all the pestilences that have wasted life since God sent the plagues to Egypt, and all the wars since Joshua stood before Jericho.

"It can profit no man by its return. It can uplift no industry, revive no interests, remedy no wrong.

"It comes to destroy, and it shall profit mainly by the ruin of your sons and mine. It comes to mislead human souls and crush human hearts under its rumbling wheels.

"It comes to bring gray-haired mothers down in sorrow to their graves. It comes to turn the wife's love into despair, and pride into shame. It comes to still the laughter on the lips of little children, and to stifle all the music of the home and fill it with silence and desolation. It comes to ruin your body and mind, to wreck your home.

"It is seldom we are privileged to settle things once and forever. In different forms the same question bobs up again. Mr. Grady's words take added force in the light of the present situation when the American people are called upon once more to register their convictions upon the use of alcohol as a beverage.

Not all the readers of this magazine are voters. Yet all can help get out the vote. This question is one important enough to ask every citizen to vote. You may be able to attend to home duties to help some get away, you may be able to provide transportation to the polls for others. You can help in distributing publicity materials, in making posters for public places.

In some localities, drays will be in the minority. Your responsibilities as a minority are quite as heavy as when you are in the majority. It is up to you to help all to the truth. It is up to you to live according to your convictions."

"I hear Elsie had to take ether twice to get through her operation."

"Yes, one to operate and the other to keep her from talking about it."

LOCAL GOODYEAR DEALER GIVES IMPORTANT TIP ABOUT MILEAGE INSURANCE

Purchase of a new tube with every new tire is one of the best possible forms of mileage insurance.

"To get the greatest possible mileage built into a tire, a new tube is necessary," declares J. E. Reeves, local Goodyear dealer. "An old tube, even without a patch on it, loses air faster than a new one. This causes underinflation and reduces tire mileage.

"Any tube is certain to stretch with constant use, and when it is crowded into a new tire it will buckle," Mr. Reeves continued. "Buckling results in pinching and chafing, followed by a leak, puncture or blow-out—all of which means a perfectly good tire is started on its way to ruin.

"By placing a new tube in the new tire, the motorist is guarding against worries of this sort, and has a feeling of safety. In addition with the small investment in a new tube he is protecting his larger investment in a new tire, and is assuring himself of receiving the mileage he has every right to expect from the new tire.

LOW PRICE CARS VS. CHEAP CARS

We do not build a low-price car: the cost to us of building our car is pretty high.

But we do sell a high quality car at a low price.

Almost every new Ford V-8 car we have built so far this year, has cost more to manufacture than its selling price was. As you buy them at only $490 to $610, we have to depend on increasing volume to make up the difference.

The reason for this is simple: — a manufacturer who gives good value must expect to lose money on the first cars he sells because he cannot charge all his costs to the people who are first to buy.

But with the purchaser it is different — he cannot afford to lose anything on a car. It must give him full value from the first, and keep on giving him full value for years.

Two things make possible our combination of low prices and high cost quality:

1. Volume Production
2. Taking only one profit

First, we set our price at what would be fair to the public on the basis of economies we enjoy in volume production. Then, in order to justify and maintain our low price we must get volume sales.

Thus it comes that a car which is really high-cost to make, is also low-cost to buy.

There is a difference between a cheap car and a low-priced high quality car.

Ford prices are always fixed at a point which makes it profitable for a customer to buy.

Good and lasting business must produce profit to the buyer as well as to the seller. And of the two, the buyer's profit must be, comparatively, the larger one.

It pays us to sell the Ford V-8 because it pays you to buy it.

State Campaign for Prohibition Repeal Under Way

Majority of District Chairmen Appointed at Fort Worth Conference.

Fort Worth, Texas.—The overwhelming vote by which Indiana and Illinois voted for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution were hailed today by Judge John M. Mathis, Sr., of Houston, chairman of the Texas Liberal Legion, as an indication of the way the Nation is going.

Judge Mathis recalled a remark made by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., leading prohibition advocate, before the Indiana election that "If we can win in Indiana, we can prevent repeal."

"The inference in Bishop Cannon's remark," Judge Mathis pointed out, "was that if the prohibitionists could not carry Indiana, they might as well give up hope of carrying the thirteen States necessary to prevent the adoption of the Twenty-first Amendment. Well, it looks like the Bishop was wrong. It is admitted that National Prohibition is doomed. Not only did they not carry Indiana, heretofore one of the 'dryest' States in the midwest, but after the overwhelming majority by which Indiana, Illinois and the other eight States that have voted so far ratified repeal, it looks as if the prohibitionists will be hard put to it to carry a single State."

Judge Mathis, whose organization is waging the fight in Texas, for both legalization of 22 per cent beer and repeal of the National Prohibition Amendment, went on to say that "of course, the opinion that it was a foregone conclusion that Illinois, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Rhode Island, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nevada and Wyoming would ratify the repeal amendment; but nobody, no matter how enthusiastic, ever dreamed these eight States would give so tremendous majorities for real temperance against bootleg liquor."

"Such consistently large majorities, with even the heretofore dry sections of these eight States going for repeal, coupled with the Indiana and Illinois returns, can mean only one thing: that Texas and the entire Nation at last realize what a failure prohibition has become."

Even when the prohibition wave was at its height, the Houston liberal recalled, the vote in Texas was close, "as all know who can remember the election in which the State adopted State-wide prohibition. So with the present ebbs in the prohibition tide, with thousands and tens of thousands of life-long drys convinced by events that temperance can not be enforced by law, it would be a miracle indeed if Texas did not join the parade of States August 29th and vote for repeal and legalization of 32 per cent beer."

The judge said, with a twinkle in his eye, that a prohibitionist reminded him of a man who tried to live by gambling. "One thinks he can live without working, and the other that he can make people curb their appetites by passing a law instead of educating them."

In this way, the Houston liberal sought to bring home the point that "the Texas Liberal Legion's aim is the same as that of the sincere prohibitionist—real temperance." Prohibition, in his view, would be a wonderful thing if it would work, but it has not.

The state campaign for repeal "really got under way this week," Judge Mathis said, with the return of the various senatorial district chairmen to their districts after the State-wide conference at State Headquarters here last Friday. Only a few of these district chairmen remain to be appointed. Those already named are:

The Open Road

SUPPOSE you came suddenly upon two roads. One straight, well-trodden . . . the other thin and twisting off into undergrowth. If you didn't want to arrive at any place in particular, you might choose the latter. But not otherwise.

Before you, as buyer, run two roads. One is the road of knowledge of an advertised product. Thousands use it. There's no mystery about it, no doubting, nothing hidden. It leads the way definitely to a fountain pen, a floor wax, a tooth-paste that will give you satisfaction. When you use an advertisement, you use an open road.

When you don't use advertisements, you go the doubtful road. You have only hazy knowledge of the product ahead. No trademark or name to depend upon guides you. The result may or may not be worth the effort. You don't know.

Read the advertisements. Anything widely advertised—breakfast food, hammer, hair tonic—has proved itself good by advertising.

Advertisements put you on the open road to satisfaction

ELIMINATION OF GOLD CLAUSE

Congress has given final approval to the administration's proposal to eliminate the gold clause in all present and future public and private obligations. The proposal caused more or less apprehension, but when the facts are considered the gold clause in economically ridiculous. There are about one hundred billion dollars' worth of bonds in this country, payable in gold, and since there is only about eleven billion dollars' worth of monetary gold in the world and only about four billion dollars' worth in this country, it would be obviously impossible to pay all these bonds in gold.

Some have raised the cry of repudiation, and it has been reported that English bondholders will sue the United States to compel payment in gold, but the highest British courts have already held that such obligations may be paid in any legal tender money, and the same ruling was made in a test case before the New York Supreme Court.

Concerning the justice involved, the gold clause, as a British court held, was simply a contract for the payment of money, and not in gold as a commodity. Money is legal tender, and if it can be legally refused as payment for monetary debt, it obviously becomes useless, and a government which could not fix legal tender would cease to be a government.

President Roosevelt's request to Congress for the passage of a law taking us off the gold standard should be taken in the light of giving legal effect to a situation which already existed in fact. We were already off the gold standard by proclamation, and, so far with good results in business upturn. We have all the reserve necessary for a foundation for our currency, but to bring the dishonest to a fair level, and to correct its relation to fluctuating foreign currencies for trade purposes, the administration abandoned gold as a matter of good sense and economic relief.

TRAFFIC LAWS SHOULD BE UNIFORM

In the interest of uniform traffic laws for the entire country a national conference on street and highway safety was held in Washington. Those sponsoring the conference rightly believe that the wide diversity of traffic regulations now in effect tends to increase the number of accidents which occur.

With each state, county and city, a law unto itself in traffic matters, it is inevitable that tourist and other travelers find it difficult to keep informed of the varying rules of the many different communities through they pass.

At the conference mentioned considerable discussion of speed regulations was had, after which it was voted to recommend a uniform limit of twenty miles an hour for both business and residential sections of cities, except at street intersections and school zones, where it should be reduced to fifteen miles per hour.

Such a speed limit rigidly enforced would conduce to greater safety than the freakish ordinances which exist in some places which prescribe a much less speed, but which no one pays any attention to. As a matter of fact, no arbitrary speed limit can insure safety when drivers fail to use common sense.

But whatever speed or other regulations are determined upon should be uniform throughout the country and the movement toward that end should have the hearty approval of every community.

POSTOFFICE HOARDING

Withdrawal of funds from local activities and depositing them in postal savings may be good as a "safety first" measure but it is hoarding on a colossal scale.

The president's edict should also have closed the deposit windows in the postoffices. What sense to scold people for hoarding and then encourage it in this way?

Originally this function of the government was to encourage savings. While it remained such the business at the local post office at least was almost nil. Information is that the same was true everywhere.

But with the depression instead of "postal savings" it speedily became "postal hoardings."

Within a few months a vast amount, estimated at hundreds of thousands, has left this community via the post office.

Certainly in this emergency the bars should be put up against this form of hoarding.

Indeed it would help if the government would at once call for withdrawal of these hoardings in some form of currency that would have to go to work to be valid.—Daily Sentinel, Fairmont, Minnesota.

STRESS SPURS GOVERNMENT INTEREST

If the economic stress from which this country is emerging did nothing more than cultivate in the average citizen a greater interest in governmental affairs it has served its purpose well. For today, four out of five average newspaper readers will be found scanning the columns pertaining to legislation local, state or national. The great bulk of average American citizens had drifted into an apathetic mental state regarding their government; they had become contented to allow "party organization" to do their thinking. The tumult into which the nation was thrown has awakened them to their remissness, and, while it may take several years to unwind the tentacles which such a system has thrown about the activities and lives of these average citizens, their consciousness of government, newly awakened, and their realization of the abuse of trust, bodes no good for people of questionable purposes who will seek public office in the future.—Chronicle, Weston, Mo.

UNCLE SAM AND THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

Uncle Sam thinks a great deal of the child he adopted more because of the strategic value of the Islands in case of war on the Pacific than for any other reason. The Islands lie within five days steaming distance from the West Coast ports, and afford a base from which the entire North Pacific can be patrolled. The Island of Oahu is the only one fortified, but great stress is laid on its proper protection. Six miles west of Honolulu, on this island, is Pearl Harbor, the United States naval base and one of the finest land-locked harbors in the world. Here are kept a flotilla of submarines, mine layers and sweepers, destroyers and other small craft.

Largest Military Post in U. S. To guard this base and Honolulu harbor are Forts Kamehameha, Armstrong, DeRussey, Ruger, and Shafter, all coast defense units, while in the interior—twenty-eight miles from Honolulu, is Schofield Barracks, the largest military post of the United States. Here are stationed infantry, cavalry, and field artillery. Anti-aircraft units are maintained at all posts. Schofield is located in a central position on Oahu and troops can be rushed to any point on the Island in a very short time. In addition to these hundreds of aircraft are located at Wheeler Field in the interior and Luke Field close to Pearl Harbor. Bear in mind that all of these posts are defending the coast line of an island about 40 miles long and 23 miles wide.

Fort Ruger in Honolulu is perhaps the most unique as its heaviest guns are mounted on the rim and floor of the extinct volcano crater of Diamond Head, and guards both Honolulu and Pearl Harbor entrances. Civilians are not allowed in the crater except under special dispensation. The fort is a veritable Gibraltar and its inner workings are closely guarded. A tunnel provides a passage-way from the quarters back of the mountain to the inside of the crater. This fort is also equipped with several batteries of mobile 75s.

Fort DeRussey and Fort Armstrong are also in the City of Honolulu and are situated between Fort Ruger and the Honolulu Harbor entrance, while Fort Kamehameha has 16 inch guns frown over the entrance to Pearl Harbor. Four forts with batteries of from 6-inch rifles to 1 inch mortars are placed in a distance of twelve miles.

Port Shafter, headquarters for the Hawaiian department, with its Tripler General Hospital is located just thousands of marines, sailors, and outside of the northwest city limits soldiers man these fortifications and payday in Honolulu is an event.

Republic Is Organized In 1893 Queen Liliuokalani sought to abolish the constitution which King Kamehameha the Third had been forced to grant the people, but this move met with opposition that resulted in the deposition of the Queen and application was made for annexation to the United States of America. Such a move was not looked upon with favor by President Cleveland and the Islands were organized as a republic with Sanford B. Dole as president.

During President McKinley's administration an annexation treaty was concluded and Hawaii became the Territory of Hawaii, an integral part of the United States, with a delegate to Congress and a Territorial Legislature elected by people. This legislature today has several Japanese members. The treaty granted citizenship to all the then permanent residents of the Islands, and with the many native-born Orientals since that time it appears that the Islands are gradually falling into Oriental control, or one might better say Japanese control. This it seems is one reason the territory of Hawaii will never be granted statehood. Perhaps our Uncle Samuel has a good reason for being prepared for trouble in that section.

Though the entire island chain contains but 4015 square miles, much of which is very mountainous, the revenue to the United States from income tax exceeds that of many of the States. The duties collected on imports are also very large. It's easy to see that, taking all things into consideration, the United States made a very profitable deal in the annexation.

English Common Language If it were possible for one to be suddenly transferred to Hawaii and Honolulu, without a knowledge of where one had landed, it would probably take some time to realize that the American flag floated over that country. The people are mostly Oriental with a small percentage of those strictly white. Japanese, Chinese, Filipino, and Dorians move about on the streets in the dress of their native countries. Nearly every language is heard on the streets. English is of course the common language but English as it is spoken in general in the Islands is a jargon of "Pidgen English," Hawaiian, Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese. But it is still the good old U. S. A. and most of its citizens are very proud of their citizenship.

The greatest institution, from a humanitarian standpoint, is the Government's work with the lepers on the island of Molokai. At Kaalapa, guarded by a steep precipice on three sides and the sea on the other are segregated those affected with prosy, that highly infectious disease that afflicts Hawaiians and Orientals in great numbers and occasional whites. Only those to the advanced stages of the malady are segregated there. Those slightly afflicted or suspicious cases are segregated under guard in Kalihi Receiving Station on the outskirts of Honolulu, where the cases are studied and treated by both Army and civilian doctors. Hundreds from this institution and a few from Haalapa have been discharged as "arrested cases" and may mingle with the populace except that they are compelled to appear at two week intervals for the rest of their lives for examination, as no doctor has ever said that the cure was permanent. The treatment consists of Chaulmoogra Oil given hypodermically or by mouth.

Spiritual Welfare of Lepers The spiritual welfare of the leper colony has for years been presided over in the main by Catholic Lay Brothers and Sisters who have given their lives to that work. Once entering the settlement they can not leave. Probably the most commendable of these workers was Brother Joseph Dutton who died two years ago at the age of 72 after spending almost all of his life in Kaalapa.

It might be well here to give an idea of life in Kaalapa, omitting a description of the suffering and the maiming of this disease which is too awful for anyone to worry about unless it is absolutely necessary. Here live (and die) some eight hundred souls who are denied the pleasure of outside association, living as though in another world. Kaalapa is a small town in which nearly all the common trades are followed, crops cultivated, and the usual small town social activities indulged in, yet nearly alone by lepers. Men and women marry and the usual family life is lived except that the children born to those poor souls are taken from them at the instant of birth and never are they permitted to touch them.

The children are sent to Honolulu where they are raised and educated by the Church and Welfare Board, and once each year they are taken to Kaalapa, where they may see and talk with their parents through two net-wire fences.

so spaced that it is impossible for them to touch each other. Crucifixes seem, yet absolutely necessary to spread by contact. Few civilians have ever visited the settlement and those who have (even those I have talked with) regret having gone. It is all too terrible. Occasionally, under Government supervision, the cases are becoming fewer and it is probable there will come a day when the Islands will no longer have that one great plague to contend with. May God hasten the day.

ARTICLE IX OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

Section 1. That article IX of the Constitution of Texas be amended adding thereto a section to be known as Section 3, which shall provide:

"Section 3. (1) Holding the belief that the highest degree of local government which is consistent with the efficient conduct of those affairs by necessity lodged in those officers and the State will prove most responsive to the will of the people, and result to reward their intelligence and efficiency in their governmental affairs, it hereby ordained:

"(2) Any county having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more according to the last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter, which shall embrace those powers appropriate to the county within the specific limitations hereinafter provided. It further is provided that the Legislature, by a favorable vote of two-thirds of the total membership of the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county, having a population less than that above specified, to provide hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition of such authorization, it is required that notice of the intent to seek legislative authority hereunder be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once per week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publications shall appear not more than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act making proposal hereunder may be introduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a favorable vote of the resident qualified electors of the affected county. In elections submitting to a voters a proposal to adopt a Charter (unless otherwise provided) a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature the votes cast by the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately kept but collectively counted and the votes of the qualified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of any incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately kept and separately counted, and unless there be a favorable majority of the votes cast within and a favorable majority of the votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may in any way affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial, fiscal, educational, police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's government. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Charter provision inimical to or inconsistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State, and no provision having such vice shall have validity as against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemption of homesteads as established by this Constitution and the Statutes relating thereto.

"(3) A Charter hereunder may provide for the continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and the terms therein shall be upon such conditions, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may not exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law upon County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of and the compensation for all duties required in the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"(4) A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the judges thereof may be confined to such general jurisdiction of a County Court which elsewhere is provided in this Constitution. The duties of Justices of the Peace may be such other elective or appointive offices as herein provided, so such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the Constitution or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office; save, that no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensation of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filled by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms whereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

"d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties.

"(4). Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefor its obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt, shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by those resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In case of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation issued hereunder shall be valid unless prior to the time of the issuance thereof there be levied a tax sufficient to retire the same as it matures, which tax shall not exceed the then existing Constitutional limits.

"(5). Such Charter may authorize the governing body of a county operating hereunder to prescribe the schedule of fees to be charged by the officers of the county for specified services, to be in lieu of the schedule for such fees prescribed by the General Laws of the State; and, to appropriate such fees to such funds as the Charter may prescribe; provided, however, no fee for a specified service shall exceed in amount the fee fixed by General Law for that same service. Such Charters as to all judicial officers, other than District Judges, may prescribe the qualifications for service, provided the standards therefor be not lower than those fixed by the General Laws of the State.

"(6). Subject to the express limitations upon the services of the persons by this subdivision to be authorized, such Charters may provide (or omit to provide) that the governmental and/or proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivision (which is a governmental agency and embraced within the boundaries of the county) be transferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such transfer or yielding of functions may be effected, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of the people, and, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature, such a proposal shall be submitted as a separate issue, and the vote within and without any such city, town, district, or other defined governmental entity, shall be separately cast and counted, and unless two-thirds of the qualified votes cast within the yielding defined governmental entity, and a majority of the qualified votes cast in the remainder of the county, favor the proposed merger, it shall not be effected. In case of the mergers hereby authorized, without express Charter provision therefor, in so far as may be required to make effective the object of the proposed merger, the county shall succeed to all the appropriate lawful powers, duties, rights, procedures, restrictions and limitations which prior to the merger were reposed in, or imposed upon, the yielding governmental agency. Particularly, it is provided that the power to create funded indebtedness and to levy taxes in support thereof may be exercised only by such procedures, and within such limits, as now are or hereafter may be, provided by law to control such appropriate other governmental agencies were they to be independently administered. Such mergers may be effected under proposed contracts between the county and any such yielding governmental agency, to be approved at an election as hereinbefore provided for. In order to increase governmental efficiency and effect economy the county may contract with the principal city of the county to perform one or more of its functions, provided such contracts shall not be valid for more than two (2) years.

"b. In cases of the partial or complete merger of the government of a city operating under a Home Rule Charter, with the government of a county operating hereunder, those city Charter provisions affected thereby shall cease to control.

"c. When any embraced incorporated city or town elects to merge its governmental functions with those of the county under the provisions hereof, such Charter may provide for defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, provided, however, that in defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, such boundaries may be extended only to include those areas contiguous to such cities as are urban in character; and as to such cities or towns and for the benefit thereof the county, in addition to the primary city and county tax herein authorized and any other lawful district tax, may levy and collect taxes upon the property taxable within such city or town as defined or redefined, within the limits authorized by Sections 4 and 5 of Article XI of this Constitution, (or any Amendment thereof) for incorporation of cities according to the population, provided that no tax greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any added purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town.

"d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county, provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created, shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

shall make appropriate provision for the abandonment, revocation, and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favorable majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may forbid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purpose hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more sufficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

"Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more sufficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on such ballot, leaving unscratched that particular clause which expresses his vote on the proposed Amendment to which it relates.

Section 3. # Names... you should know

You like to know names that everybody knows—name of the man who tied lightning to a kite; name of the man who watched a tea-kettle and went out and made an engine. Just knowing such names gives you pleasure.

Yet there are names that thousands of people know that can give you much more pleasure in a much more personal way. Names that stand for the best things to eat, to wear, to sleep on. Names, that if connected with the salad dressing, hat, fountain pen you select—or any other desirable thing—mean it is most desirable. Names written large in ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advertisements tell why those are wise names for you to know. Why such names greet you in the best grocery, department and hardware stores. Why those names are in the buying vocabulary of thousands . . . are believed in by thousands . . . justify belief!

Read the advertisements. Don't ask vaguely in a store for 'cold cream,' 'a skillet,' 'a vacuum cleaner.' Ask for So-and-So's Cold Cream, So-and-So's Skillet, So-and-So's Vacuum Cleaner. Use the names, you have learned through advertisements, that stand for the product that means most to you and most to everybody.

That the railroads are taking cognizance of a general public demand for a lower priced meal service on the dining cars is evidenced by the announcement that the Fort Worth & Denver City Railroad has installed a combination lunch counter and regular dining car service in its regular equipment.

According to F. D. Daggett, General Passenger Agent of the Denver Road, this new service, which is a distinct innovation, is already meeting with the hearty approval of the traveling public.

Mr. Daggett states that combination lunch counter and regular dining car service is now being operated on the trains 1 and 2, passenger having a choice of lunch counter service where breakfast is served at a cost of 40c and lunch and dinner 50c. Those desiring regular dining car facilities can secure breakfast at 75c and lunch and dinner at 90c or, if they prefer, take advantage of a la carte selections.

M E PARK CAVE BIRTHDAY DINNER

It is an annual custom with Mr. M. E. Park to have his children, grand children and great grand children spend the entire day with him on his birthday, or the Sunday nearest to that day. This year it was found possible for all of the children and a part of his grandchildren and great-grandchildren to be present not only for one day but for the greater part of a week.

This was a great occasion for this grand old man whose christian characteristics and fundamentals are as solid as a rock. In visiting on Tuesday afternoon in many of the pioneer homes, covering an area from Weinert, O'Bryan, Rochester, Rule and Haskell, everlasting blessings were bestowed upon the children in hearing praises of their father—one who has known him throughout the years, declared his life had been blameless and stainless among his fellowmen for more than the quarter of a century that he had lived in Haskell county. There was a great feast in his own home where his wife, Mrs. Park is a master in the culinary art, then followed lunches and dinners in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Kaigler, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pinkerton and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Koonce.

The reason for these prolonged affairs was the visit of his only son, Rev. J. Clay Park of Kansas City, Mo., and his party, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kober of Kansas City and Rev. Park's daughter, Mrs. Ned Lusk of Tulsa, Okla. Rev. Park preached at the First Christian church Sunday night and at the close of the service many of his old school mates who attended and some who finished in the same class at Haskell High school—"some years ago" were there to talk over those days again—Dr. Lewis recounted a broken nose as the result of a High School ball game, we did not learn whether it was the doctor's nose or that of Rev. Park. The party left immediately for their homes at the close of the service Sunday evening. Those who enjoyed the various entertainments besides the special guests mentioned were: Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Park, and Mrs. C. M. Kaigler and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pinkerton, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Koonce, Mr. Jim Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neeley, Mrs. Louise Merchant and daughter, Miss June Swaine of Jean, Texas, and little Miss Betty Ann Swain.

Car Epris Near Rule
Saturday afternoon O. Thames was out in his car south of Rule, and had stopped to cut some grass or feed. When he looked up his entire car was in a blaze. The car was facing south and a leak from the gas feed pipe blew gas all over the car, and it became ignited, resulting in the entire car bursting into flames.

Odd Fellows Gives Supper
At a meeting of the Rule Odd Fellows on Tuesday night of last week they decided to have another supper with all the trimmings. They will also have an appropriate program of music, speeches, etc. Watch for the date and program.

The bride is one of Rule's popular teachers.

ONLY 56 FIRMS FAILED DURING MAY

Only 56 commercial firms went into bankruptcy during the five weeks of May, or 30 percent less than the number during the corresponding five weeks a year ago, according to weekly reports to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Total liabilities amounting to $1,044,000 were reported for May, as compared with $1,516,000 during May, 1932, a decline of 31 per cent. The total book value of the assets of the failing concerns was $358,000, or only about 34 cents on the dollar; however, during April, only 28 cents on the dollar was available for creditors on the basis of book value of assets. Of the total number of failing concerns, 15 were dry goods and apparel stores, 8 were manufacturers, 5 each were drug stores and combination groceries and meat markets, and 4 each were general stores and plumbing or electrical shops.

Our of town friends who were here for the funeral of W. Applegate were: Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Murrell and daughters, Miss Iola Fae and Mrs. Jess Cartv of Temple, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Norman and daughter, Miss Helen of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Grady G. Roberts, Chillicothe and J. W. Roberts, Snyder.

MODERN . . Automatic timing and temperature control permit you to cook entire meals without constant watching.

FAST . . Modern ranges make electric cookery faster. Less water is used, which cooks foods faster . . and makes them better and more healthful, too.

ECONOMICAL . . Electric Cookery provides not only economical operation, but gives distinct savings in food cost through minimizing the shrinkage of meats and bulk foods.

CLEAN . . Clean, flameless electric heat cooks without blackening pots or pans. No scouring, no scraping. Kitchens stay clean with little work.

SIMPLE . . The principles of Electric Cookery are so well defined, the methods so clear-cut that even inexperienced cooks always obtain excellent results.

ACCURATE . . Simple processes and automatic control enable women to prepare perfectly cooked meals more accurately than when timed by human mind.

COOL . . Perfect insulation retains the heat in the oven so well that it does not escape into the room. Electric Range kitchens stay cool.

HEALTHFUL . . Electric Cookery gives you tastier, more healthful foods. Natural flavors are preserved. Health-giving minerals are retained.

SAFE . . Electric Cookery is flameless . . no poisonous gases or disagreeable odors . . no fire danger.

TIME RELEASING . . Electric Cookery releases your time from "pot watching" for more pleasant tasks or pastimes.

Call us for an individual investigation of your use of electric service, to determine the cost of cooking by electricity in your home. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cookery actually decreases the total of electric and gas bills.
