FORTY-FIFTH YEAR

GOVERNMENT WILL GRANT LOAN EXTENSIONS

Sterling Signs Cotton Reduction Bill

Extensions Will Be Granted Where Payment Would Cause "Undue Hardship."

Measure As Passed Will Reduce 1932 Acreage Fifty Per Cent.

Gov. Sterling led the way for the South, Monday in cotton curtailment with a new acreage reduction law designed to bring farmers relief from overproduction and low prices.

Governor Ross S. Sterling placed his signature on the measure reducing cotton planting in 1932 and 1933 to 50 per cent of the Texas land now in cultivation and forbidding the planting of cotton thereafter on the same land in successive years. Considering that 51 or 52 per cent of the cultivated area in Texas was planted in cotton this year, advocates of the measure predicted it would reduce cotton planting in 1932 fifty per cent.

Enforcement of the law would be left to county and district attorneys, assisted by inspectors of the state commissioner of agriculture. They are empowered to file injunction suits against farmers failing to abide by its terms, the penalty being from $10 to $100 per acre.

FORMAL OPENING RED-WHITE STORES HERE TOMORROW

The formal opening of the Red & White Stores in this section will be held tomorrow according to announcements that are being made in the news today. In the Stamford District which Haskell is a part, 17 stores will be included in the unit and is composed of stores in the following towns: Haskell, Stamford, Rochester, Weinert, Sagerton, Albany Anson, Benjamin, Knox City, Munday, Longworth, Roby, Sylvester, Peacock, Rotan and Sey-

The Haskell stores that will be some Red & White tomorrow are the Collier Grocery and W. A. Holt. Mr. Holt will also own and operate the Weinert Red and White Store as his store there has been placed in the unit.

The following statement has been issued regarding the plan of operation of the Red & White unit.

The Red & White Stores are a district wide Association of independently owned grocery stores—each store through a unit of the Association is owned by the man who runs it. He is a home town man and invests in four churches, four schools, your charities, your civil affairs, and he is interested in your community. He is a West Texan and has no connection with outside capital, not one penny of Red & White stores is owned by anyone outside.

Through his affiliation with the Red & White Association of more than 20,000 manufacturers, wholesale dealers and retailers he is enabled to take advantage of the low prices offered through large scale buying.

Stores in the organization are uniform in appearance, identified by a suitable membership sign. The dealers advertise cooperatively each week with newspaper copy and feature prices similar to any other well organized merchandising concern.

The two Haskell stores will continue to be run practically under the same policies with a view of rendering the best service to their customers according to Mr. Collier and Mr. Holt in a statement made regarding the change.

SIX GAMES ARE SCHEDULED FOR HASKELL INDIANS

The Haskell Indians will play their first scheduled conference game tomorrow, when they journey to Olney for a game with the Olney team.

In their first practice game, played with Munday on local territory last Friday, the Indians were defeated 13 to 0.

A schedule of six games has been arranged with teams in this district, only one of which is scheduled on local grounds. The complete schedule follows:

- Haskell and Olney—Sept. 25th at Olney.
- Haskell and Merkel—Oct. 16th at Merkel.
- Haskell and Anson—Oct. 30th at Haskell.
- Haskell and Rule—Nov. 6th, place undetermined.
- Haskell and Hamlin—Nov. 11th at Hamlin.
- Haskell and Stamford—Nov. 20th at Stamford.

TRADES DAY COMMITTEE BUYS SIX BROOD SOWS

Hill Oates, chairman of the trades day committee received word Tuesday from Ft. Worth that they had been able to secure six more brood sows from the same parties the shipment was purchased from last month. They will arrive in Haskell before next first Monday.

The sows that were distributed here among the farmers last month were said to be some of the best hogs ever brought to Haskell County and Mr. Oates has been assured by the Ft. Worth buyer that this shipment will be as good as the last one, but may be a few pounds lighter in weight.

BONEHEAD CLUB ENTERTAIN INDIAN FOOTBALL SQUAD

The Haskell Indian Football squad, was the guest of the Bonehead Club at their regular meeting Tuesday noon in the Elks Club. The entire meeting was devoted to the entertainment of the Football team, the business session being dispensed with for the day.

A number of pep talks were made by several club members, Coach Richey and members of the team. The fact that the Indians lost their first game of the season to the Munday Moguls (the first time the Munday team has defeated the locals in a number of years) failed to lower the spirit of the team and the boys were highly complimented by a number who saw the game last Friday on the fighting spirit shown in the contest.

The next game of the season will be played tomorrow with the strong Olney team.

Undergoes Operation
Miss Archie Henry of Wichita Falls has undergone a very serious operation of the tonsils. She is doing nicely at this writing. She intends to return to Teachers College at Denton, Texas, where she has attended school the past year, as soon as possible.

Mr. Charles and John Solomon spent a few days last week in Haskell visiting their mother and other relatives. They left Friday for Austin where John will continue his work in the Theological Seminary. Charles, who is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Karnes County, will continue his work there the coming year.

PAVING COMPLETED ON HIGHWAY 30 THROUGH COUNTY

Haskell county can now boast of an all-weather road north and south through the county, following the completion on Wednesday of this week of paving work on the stretch between Weinert and the Knox county line. Contractors on the road began Thursday morning moving the large amount of machinery and equipment used on the project to Shamrock and Paducah for use in those sections.

Following the pouring of concrete on the last stretch of the road, only a few weeks need elapse until the entire Haskell county project will be open to traffic. The new highway from Haskell south to the Jones county line has been open to traffic for several weeks, and several miles of highway north from Haskell has been opened to traffic for several days.

Plans for a celebration to mark the opening of the highway through the county are being rapidly perfected, according to Judge Joe A. Jones, who has been named chairman for the event. Date of the celebration will depend upon the opening of the entire road to traffic, the week of Oct. 19th it is thought, and at that time towns along the highway will be invited to send delegations to Haskell to take part in the event.

At a meeting of the school superintendents of the three counties, which was held here Wednesday afternoon it was definitely decided to hold the tri-county institute in Haskell on October 30-31. The district this year will be composed of Haskell, Stonewall and Throckmorton Counties. Throckmorton County teachers will be here this year instead of Knox county, as has been the case during the past few years. It is understood that Knox County will hold their own institute this year at Benjamin.

Plans and arrangements are being made for a successful institute, this year. Though the number of teachers in attendance will probably be smaller than in past years on account of the Throckmorton County delegation being smaller in number than Knox county's schools.

ZELISKO HOME EAST OF TOWN BURNS TUESDAY

One of the oldest landmarks of Haskell County was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning about 4 o'clock when the home of Mrs. W. F. Zelisko, 15 miles east of Haskell on the Throckmorton highway was burned with all the contents. Mrs. Zelisko was spending the night with her daughter Mrs. Otto Peiser about a mile away when the fire was discovered.

A small amount of insurance was carried on the house and furniture. The furniture consisted of many pieces of priceless antiques that had been handed down from generation to generation—some of it is said to have been more than one hundred years old.

Mrs. F. A. Swinson and daughter Miss Ora May Hainey of Ft. Worth are visiting in the home of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Bertha McNeill this week.

Mr. Orin Johnson left Monday for Plainview where he will continue his college work this year.

2020 BALES OF COTTON GINNED HERE TO DATE

2020 bales of cotton have been ginned in Haskell for this season according to information given the Free Press by the local ginners today at noon.

The farmers state that the cotton has been opening very rapidly during the past two or three weeks on account of the extreme dry, hot weather. In many fields ninety per cent of the cotton is open and ready for the pickers.

Pickers are scarce and almost impossible to obtain. It is conservatively estimated that 1000 additional hands can be used in the cotton fields of the county at the present time.

LIONS ARE TOLD OF SCHOOL WORK BY BREEDLOVE

At the regular meeting of the Lion's Club which was held at the Tonkawa Coffee Shop last Thursday, C. B. Breedlove, superintendent of the City Schools made the classification talk before the club on Education and Public School Work. In his talk he compared the standing of Texas educational system with other states of the union and also which the Haskell Schools derived its income for operating expenses.

The committee on plans for the Highway Celebration which will be held sometime during the week of October 18th, reported the progress that had been made for the occasion. This committee is composed of County Judge Joe A. Jones and Mayor Emory Menefee.

The unemployment problem was discussed and the action voted by the Charity organizations of the County to refuse assistance to anyone who would not work, was indorsed.

Lion President, F. L. Daugherty presided over the meeting.

Chevrolet Agency Moves Into New Location Monday

The Post-Malay Chevrolet Company have moved their sales rooms and service department to the Magnolia building on the southeast corner of the square. Moving of stock was completed Tuesday afternoon and is being arranged in their new location today.

The wholesale business of the Magnolia Petroleum Company will also be handled from their new location.

Texas farmers who received crop production loans from the federal government will not be compelled to make repayment upon maturity dates when such repayment will work undue hardship, but will be granted extensions "in whole or part," it was announced Wednesday from the headquarters office of the West Texas chamber of commerce.

The details as to how the extension may be secured have not been announced but County Agent Joe C. Williams states that Wm. A. Couch, of the St. Louis office, is in Haskell every Tuesday and may be found at his office. He will probably have further information regarding the steps that may be taken in having a government loan extended in whole or part.

A statement of the attitude of the government as to the 15,000 loans made in 67 Texas counties, aggregating $2,418,103.90, was given in a telegram from Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, to Amon G. Carter, and released by the West Texas chamber today. Carter, publisher of Fort Worth, is chairman of the WTCC's production loan committee.

After a lengthy exchange of telegrams and letters between Carter and Hyde, in which the former asked the government to adopt a policy toward repayment of loans, "enabling our farmers to make another crop," Hyde telegraphed:

"Department make allowance for picking and ginning expenses and also allows borrowers to store crop and deposit warehouse receipts as collateral, borrower determining when crop is to be sold.

"All our field representatives have instructions to consider each loan on its individual merits, granting extension of time in part or all where repayment would work undue hardship. Our desire is to occasion minimum amount of disturbance."

"This statement of policy by Secretary Hyde is most human, practical and constructive," Carter said today from his Fort Worth office.

"It needs, however, another step to make it thoroughly effective in view of the secretary's desire to have each case considered on its merits. That is to resurrect the various county production loan committees, to work with the district representatives of the U. S. seed loan office, now stationed in areas where government loans were made. The West Texas chamber of commerce is asking Secretary Hyde to authorize these county committees to start functioning again, and is asking the department of agriculture to prescribe regulations for conducting the committees' work in renewing these loans. We feel that only in this way can the government analyze the needs of each borrower."

BAND CONCERT NEXT SUNDAY

A concert will be given by the Haskell Band next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock on the west side of the square. The concerts given in the past have always attracted large crowds, and an invitation is extended to the public in general to attend these weekly concerts.

West Side Barber Shop Changes Hands

Traverse Everett who has been employed for several years in the Barber Shop of Parks & Adkins on the north side of the square, assumed the management of the West Side Barber Shop last Friday and may now be found in his new location. Mr. Everett takes the place of M. H. McCarty who has been manager of the west side shop for the past two years and who is leaving the city.

Mr. Everett states that he expects to run a clean, sanitary shop and will appreciate a portion of your barber business.

N. M. Guest of Apanoch was in the city Thursday on business.

NEWS FROM OVER WEST TEXAS

Cotton Production Materially Reduced Over This Section.

From the Munday Times.
Cotton production has been materially reduced—from one-third to one-half over this section of West Texas during the past thirty days, due to the extremely hot, dry weather. Thirty days ago the crop over the Munday area was estimated to approach the record crop of almost 20,000 bales, and today the estimate has dropped to about one-half of that amount, in fact, farmers now predict that this year's crop will not exceed that of last year, and the staple of inferior quality as compared with that produced in this section under favorable growing conditions.

Cotton Gin Busy Season.

From the Albany News.
But goodness gracious the Albany cotton gin is the busiest place in town. Yes, the fleecy staple is coming in. Up to Thursday evening they had ginned 140 bales. Talking to Stuart Brothers, managers of the gin, they say that the cotton is being gathered very rapidly, making a fair sample, strict middling. The gin men say that they will gin from eight hundred to a thousand bales. Selling around six cents, seed selling around seven dollars per ton.

THE CHARITY BOARD'S STATEMENT

We believe the statement issued by the Charity Board and City and County officials in this issue of the Free Press is a timely one. Many farmers are finding it difficult to obtain assistance in gathering the present crop—we realize that the price being paid for cotton picking is low—so is the price of cotton. If it is true that some are refusing to work with the expectation that he and his family will be taken care of this winter by the Red Cross and United Charities, regardless of whether he works now or not, the statement of the organizations should disabuse his mind in no uncertain terms.

The situation points to the need of adopting a hard boiled attitude in the dispensing of Charity, as the finances to support these organizations this winter will have to be raised locally. There will be enough deserving folk to provide for, without trying to help a man who has made up his mind that the public is going to care for him, whether he works or not. Furthermore we believe that those who subscribe to and support the relief organizations of the County are entitled to the assurance that the money contributed will go only to those who are deserving and are making an honest effort to help themselves.

THE CIGARETTE TAX

The Texas cigarette tax has caused a widespread change to the economical smokers rolling their own cigarettes, it has caused the makers of tobacco designed to be rolled to call attention to the refinements that have been provided during recent years and months and it has brought on the market many machines contrived by industrious minds to roll cigarettes in a jiffy. The campaign of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., of Winston Salem, N. C., carried in The Free Press and calling attention to that good old mellow Prince Albert cigarette and pipe tobacco almost causes a non-smoker to long for a puff.

WHY NOT USE THEM?

From time to time we see accounts of various new mechanical inventions which appear to fill a real need, but those who might profit by them seem slow to put them to use.

For example, we have been reading for a long time about a new automobile jack attached to the car, whereby any wheel may be lifted by manipulating a gadget from the driver's seat, but we have never seen one on any car.

Again, we know that there has been invented a device which prevents stalling of an automobile—certainly a most desirable invention. Many lives have been lost by the stalling of an automobile engine while crossing a railroad track or under other emergency conditions.

Many engines have the disconcerting habit of dying when slowed down or stopped in traffic, and this habit often has the most serious consequences.

It looks as if enterprising manufacturers would eagerly adopt a device which could be depended upon to avoid the danger. Car owners would certainly be glad to have this protection.

What is the good of useful inventions unless we use them?

THE OPPORTUNITY TO EARN A LIVING

While it may not be true that the world owes a man a living, yet it is universally conceded that it owes him an opportunity to earn a living by his labor. In earlier times when society was not so complex in its organization and the world was not so densely populated it was a comparatively simple matter for a man to wrest his living from the soil or other allied pursuits, for his wants were few and the world was large. Every man depended upon his own efforts and those of his family or tribe to produce the necessities of life.

Now the whole picture is different. The farmer in Texas and other states raises the cotton that provides the raw material for the factory workers in Massachusetts, who in turn makes the garments that clothe the farmer's family. Each man is dependent upon a multitude of other workers for the things that go to make up his living. This is an admirable arrangement when everything works smoothly, but when something happens to throw the complex machinery out of gear the results are not so pleasant for the great mass of workers who cannot or do not make provision for the days when there is no demand for the only commodity they have to sell—their labor.

In such a position the laboring man finds himself. The whole world is out of joint. The processes of production and consumption upon which he depends to earn his livelihood are disturbed. There is over-production and under-consumption. In the country where Nature and the skill of man has produced an abundance of things for his needs, there is no demand for the labor of large numbers of workers, and consequently they have no money to provide themselves with the necessities of life.

Naturally, in days of prosperity when his services were in demand, the laborer put a high price on his labor and got it. That is only human nature. Now it is not so much a question of price as it is to get any kind of a job to preserve his self-respect and yield him the bare necessities of life.

It seems quite logical for an aviator to get hopping mad and go up in the air.

"Why My Next Car will be A FORD"

WHEN you buy a Ford there are two things you never have to worry about. One is reliability. The other is long life.

Here's an interesting letter from a Ford owner in North Carolina:

"My Ford was purchased May 8, 1928, and has been run 121,767 miles. It has never stopped on the road for repairs of any kind whatsoever except punctures.

"The brakes were relined at 101,000 miles. My gas mileage averaged 21 miles to the gallon, and on tires, 19,000 miles per tire. I travel over all kinds of road conditions—mountainous and flat.

"I consider this a wonderful record and I assure you my next car will also be a Ford."

This is just one of many tributes to the reliability and long life of the Ford. A Ford owner in Iowa tells of driving his Ford 73,000 miles in a single year. Another writes of 120,000 miles of good service.

Think ahead when you are considering the purchase of an automobile and consider what it will be like after thousands of miles of driving. Will you still be satisfied? Will you still say "it's a great car"?

If it's a Ford, you know everything will be O.K. It will be taking you there and back in good style, just as it has always done. And you will have saved many important, worth-while dollars in cost of operation and up-keep and low yearly depreciation.

How a Missouri woman was benefited by taking Cardui is described below by Mrs. Joe Schuman, of Cape Girardeau: "I suffered with irregularity. For weeks at a time I was so weak I could not work. I had aches in my back and head and legs—I ached all over. I would get dizzy and feel faint. I had read about Cardui, so I got some and took it. I improved a great deal. After I had taken four bottles I felt like a different person."

The world's finest papers, made at the famous Bolland mills in France expressly for R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. Book of 150 leaves for 5¢. Buy OCB's with good old P.A. and you're all set to be satisfied

OPEN a tidy red tin of Prince Albert... sniff the delightful fragrance of the tobacco. It's the grandest aroma that ever floated out of a package of smoking tobacco. Then spread a cigaretteful in a paper and see how quick and easy it rolls into a trim cigarette that burns evenly and stays put. No fuss or muss or spilled tobacco... because P.A. is crimp-cut. That's why it rolls so smooth.

Now light up!

You'll have to admit that no other home-rolled cigarette ever had so much to recommend it. Prince Albert is simply better tobacco, Gentlemen.

Have you tried a pipe lately? Men who thought a pipe was not for them have changed their minds after the first load of P.A. This friendly tobacco just wouldn't think of biting your tongue or parching your throat. Take my tip... get out the old pipe and give it a new deal.

Suggests That Rule Celebrate Highway Signs

Editor,
Haskell Free Press,
Haskell, Texas.

I noticed an article in your paper that Haskell is to have a celebration in the near future, to commemorate the completion and linking up of Highway 30 through Haskell County to the Knox County line.

We are thinking of having a celebration in Rule, to commemorate the setting up of two highway signs to mark where Highway No. 120 is. These signs are set up on Main and Fifth Street of the town of Rule, and we are highly elated over them, the cost of which is about thirty cents each. We are surprised in getting this much out of the payment of two years tax, on the $385,000.00 bond issue. Getting the signs was a surprise to us, and we are just as thankful to get them as Haskell is a concrete paved highway north and south through the county, and we would be ungrateful if we did not commemorate the erection of the signs with a suitable celebration, provided we can get a prominent man to preside at the celebration. Think about it, it has just been two years since the bond issue was voted, and Rule has been blessed with these two signs. We would be grateful if we did not celebrate. If any one knows where we can get a prominent man to preside, one who enjoys hearing himself talk, let us know by telegram, telephone or letter. Red lemonade free.

Very respectfully,
J. W. Mason,
Rule, Texas, Sept. 22, 1931.

FANNIE HURST, NOVEL ON SCREEN

The Fannie Hurst best-seller, "Five and Ten," serves as the latest starring vehicle for Marion Davies and will be shown to Haskell audiences Monday and Tuesday at the Texas Theatre. Miss Davies' supporting cast includes such stellar stage and screen names as Leslie Howard, Irene Rich, Richard Bennett, Kent Douglass and Mary Duncan. The star was again directed by Robert Z. Leonard, with whom she has been associated in her last six pictures.

It will be a decided change to see Miss Davies in the role of the Fannie Hurst heroine who is a far cry from the light comedy types usually portrayed by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer actress. The many who have read the story will recall that it is an intensely serious account of the family of a five-and-ten-cent store baron to achieve happiness despite the barriers of New York social snobishness.

The attractive daughter is tolerated by the so-called "four hundred" only because of her father's millions. When she falls in love with a poor but social-register architect, it would seem that her money and his social standing would be a perfect combination. Life, however, is not as simple as all that, and the girl discovers ironically enough that her money is her greatest handicap when the man she loves is convinced that she is "buying" him.

This is believed to be Miss Davies' most ambitious picture and report is no expense was spared in equipping it with lavish backgrounds, twenty-two different settings being used for changes of locale and action.
