Home of Willie Zahn Destroyed by Fire Thursday

The five-room farm home of Willie Zahn, just outside the city limits northeast of town, was destroyed by fire last Thursday morning about 11 o'clock. The entire contents of the house were also destroyed, it being impossible to remove anything from the house after the fire was discovered.

A small amount of insurance was carried on the structure, it is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carothers of Rochester were the guests of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Taylor last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Alexander have returned from Dallas, where they purchased more fall stock.

EVIDENCE PRESENTED IN ASSAULT CASE

Presenting of evidence in the case of the State of Texas vs. Guy McCully, charged with criminally assaulting an 18-year-old girl, was completed in District Court here Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, and court was recessed until 9:30 Friday morning, at which time argument of prosecution and defense attorneys will be heard.

Only two witnesses were placed on the stand by the defense, his wife and his mother, and they were only briefly questioned. Some twelve or fifteen witnesses were used by the State, including the complainant, Eula Hinton, and two girl companions of the night of the alleged assault, and physicians who testified as to the condition of the complaining witness.

A plea of not guilty by reason of insanity was entered by defense attorneys. Two motions for continuance were over-ruled by District Judge Bruce W. Bryant. The first motion filed Tuesday, was based on the absence of the defendant's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCully. Another motion, which was also over-ruled, was filed Wednesday, based on the absence of the defendant's wife.

The prosecution was conducted by District Attorney Clyde Grissom, assisted by French M. Robertson, county attorney. The defendant was represented by the law firm of Murchison, Davis & Murchison of this city.

The alleged attack and assault occurred on Sunday night, Oct. 19th, and county-wide interest has been noticeable during the trial of the case. The largest crowds ever to attend a trial of any kind in this county were in attendance, the district court room and balcony being packed with people throughout the trial.

In St. Louis Markets Courtney Hunt left Saturday night for St. Louis, where he will purchase additional fall and winter stocks for his store here. He expects to return Friday.

FRITTS CASE SET FOR NEXT MONDAY AT CLAIREMONT

The case of State of Texas vs. Will Fritts, charged with the murder of D. W. Hamilton, prominent farmer of the Rochester section in October, 1928, has been set for trial at Clairemont on Monday Oct. 27th, according to District Judge Bruce W. Bryant.

D. W. Hamilton and his son, Earl, were killed at their home one mile southeast of Rochester on the night of October 24, 1928, and Fritts was charged with the double slaying and has been in jail continuously since that time. He was convicted at Eastland recently and given a 99-year penitentiary sentence in connection with the killing of Earl Hamilton, after the higher courts had upheld an appeal from a death penalty assessed in District Court at Anson, where he was tried soon after the killing occurred.

JUDGE DECLARES POULTRY SHOW BEST IN STATE

The following poultry exhibitors were winners at the Haskell County Fair, Oct. 16, 17, and 18th, 1930. W. P. Munnerlyn, poultry department of the Texas A. and M. College, judged the poultry show and pronounced it the best show he had seen in the State, at a county Fair this year.

400,000 BALES OF COTTON DELIVERED TO TEXAS CO-OP

That the cotton cooperative marketing movement is sweeping the State of Texas is indicated in deliveries already this year of more than 400,000 bales of cotton, according to Leon Gilliam, local representative of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association.

Mr. Gilliam stated that he had just received word from the State Office of Dallas that the 400,000 bale mark was passed with Monday's receipts, and at the rate deliveries continue to be made from all sections of the State, the half-million bale mark will be reached by November. Mr. Gilliam also stated that similar reports of substantial progress were being received from other cotton cooperative marketing associations throughout the cotton belt.

"The bulk of deliveries are now being made to the Seasonal Pool," Mr. Gilliam said, "through which pooling plan the member receives a final return on the actual grade and staple of cotton delivered by him based on the season's average sale prices for each particular quality. In this manner, he does not receive until the season's high price at the season's low price, but rather the average price throughout the year."

The association's 50 percent advance on the market value of advanced cotton continues, it was said. Deliveries to the channels of cooperative marketing this season are at least 150,000 bales greater than at any time during the past ten years.

ONE INCH RAIN OVER LARGE SECTION WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Rain which began falling about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and continued intermittently throughout the night totaled one and one-tenth inches, according to the observation of Mrs. P. D. Sanders who has charge of the Government gauge here.

Sides began clearing Thursday morning with a slight "norther" blowing and farmers and business men alike are hopeful that the weather will continue clear, as ample moisture for fall planting has already fallen.

Farm Home of J. A. Blake Burns Tuesday Morning

The home of J. A. Blake, farmer of the Gauntt community five miles west of town, was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday morning about 6 o'clock.

The fire originated in the kitchen of the home, probably caused by the explosion of an oil stove, and the flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save anything from the burning building. Mr. Blake losing all his household goods in addition to the house, which was a total loss.

A small amount of insurance was carried on the house and household goods, it is understood.

Miss Madeline Hunt, who for the last month has been on a tour through Florida, North Carolina and other states has returned home.

ALL RURAL SCHOOLS WILL HAVE OPENED BY MONDAY, NOV. 3

Although rural schools have been delayed some what on account of crop conditions, a number have begun work and practically all of the 44 rural schools will be open by November 3.

The schools are assessed of $17.50 per capita from the State which means $86,712.50 for the county, $47,585.00 of this going to the rural schools. In addition to that 32 schools have filed applications for State Aid amounting to $16,587.00. The schools have no outstanding debts or overdrafts to speak of and with this amount of state money it is hoped the districts may be able to maintain school for the usual number of months, however this will depend on tax collections.

There are 175 teachers in the county, 103 of that number being employed in the rural schools. A greater per cent of teachers were retained this year than usual, and new teachers have been selected with care as to their fitness for the different positions. Trustees are getting things in readiness for the year's work by repairing buildings and buying needed equipment.

With such interest as has been manifested by trustees and teachers, to say nothing of the host of interested patrons and children, the prospects for a most successful school term are flattering to say the least of it.

Only 8 schools in the county closed short of seven months term last year and 7 were able to maintain eight months terms. Every school in the county was scored on the State Official Score Card, and out of a possible 100 points the score stands as follows: Baker, 93; Jud, 74; Brushy, 67; Vernon, 58; McConnell, 50; Highway, 40; Lake Creek, 78; Harey, 40; Irby, 68;

More than three hundred teachers from Haskell, Knox and Stonewall counties are expected to be in attendance at the Co-Operative Teachers Institute to be held in Haskell, Thursday and Friday of next week, according to members of the executive committee of the Institute. Arrangements for entertaining and housing those in attendance have been completed, and a comprehensive program for the two days session has been arranged, with prominent educators of the state taking part in the sessions.

Sectional chairmen who have been named are: Supt. H. H. Riley of the Midway Public Schools, in charge of the High School Section; Miss Vera Mace of the "Pinecock" Schools for the Intermediate Section; and Mrs. Irene Ballard of Haskell in charge of the Primary Section. Supt. C. B. Bredlove is General Chairman.

General meetings will be held in the auditorium of the First Christian Church. Meetings of the High School Section will be held in the basement of the Methodist Church, with the Intermediate Section meeting in the auditorium of the Methodist Church. The Primary Section will meet in the auditorium of the Christian Church.

Instructors who have been secured are: Dean Boyd M. McKeown of McMurry College, Abilene, for the High School Section; Prof. J. E. Bair, North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, for the Intermediate Section; and Mrs. Chas. T. Cobb, Primary Supervisor of Johnson County, for the Primary Section.

Special Lecturers on the program are: President Chas. C. Selerman, S. M. U. Dallas; Dean T. H. Shelby, University of Texas, Austin; Supt. H. T. Fellers, President Texas State Teachers Association, Comstock; and Mrs. F. T. Sanders of this city, representing Parent Teachers Associations.

A complete program for the two-day program will be found in this issue.

NEXT TRADES DAY TO BE HELD MONDAY NOVEMBER THIRD

Plans of the committee having in charge the Monthly Trades Days are being completed for the next fair, to be held Monday, Nov. 3rd.

In addition to the usual events staged heretofore, a good entertainment program is being worked out which will include several events not staged heretofore which will make the day highly profitable for those who attend.

This month's Trades Day, due to prevailing weather, was postponed one week, but large crowds were there for the occasion notwithstanding, and business men who are participating express themselves as well pleased with the events.

On next Trades Day an award of $100 in gold will be made to the farmer bringing a bale of cotton from the farthest distance and having it ginned at any gin participating in the Trades Days. This is in addition to the other events.

Announcement of special events for the day will be made in next week's paper.

South Ward School Wins First Prize In Fair Parade

In the parade of the Haskell County Fair, the South Ward School float, "Miss South Ward" won the first prize of fifteen dollars, which was offered to schools.

The color scheme used in decorating the float with its arches and butterflies, was silver and emerald green. The queen, Helen Ballard, was crowned in green with crown and sippers of silver. She was seated on a silver throne.

The girl attendants were in silver, the boys in white. The attendants were Ruth Joyner, Tom Clifton, Addie Lee Hayes, Leon Highnote, Martelle Clifton, Labry Ballard, Eva Jo Ratliff, Paul Crawford, Bobbie Jean Bailey, Buddy Crawford, Missie Purdie and Desmond Dufrenoy.

We wish to thank all who contributed in any way to the success of the float, especially for the use of the wagon, team and driver, lumber and the work of the patrons.

The Boreans, "The Class of Southern Hospitality."

When the members of the fair sex step into the domain ordinarily ruled over by the sterner sex, just look out for action.

The members of the Borean Class with one accord straightened up and gave their head a shake, last Sunday when they realized that a class was being organized in a room adjoining theirs.

That was part of the actions aroused by the advent of the ladies.
Another part of it was a "reaction"
as a result of a suggested contest coming from those selfsame ladies.

There are lots of things I could think of that would be easier on those ladies than a contest with the Boreans. But with a sigh of resignation we submit ourselves to their pleasure and patiently await the inevitable outcome.

We had a good lesson last Sunday and if you are halfway wise you will be in your place next Sunday.

EXTRA CHAUFFEUR WEDS HEIRESS

Eileen Kilbourne, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kilbourne, Haverhill Road, eloped last night with Wade Rawlins, the family chauffeur. Nobody was aware of the romantic attachment existing between the couple, and the sudden elopement becomes even more mysterious in view of the fact that Miss Kilbourne had resented Rawlins' presence in their home and had even attempted to have him discharged. Rawlins had obtained a position as chauffeur in the Kilbourne home after Mrs. Kilbourne, whose hobby is reforming tramps and starting them on the way to respectability, had seen him hovering about her home. His skill as an auto mechanic won him a place as the Kilbourne chauffeur. Considerable mystery is attached to the entire affair, arising through rumors of Rawlins' past. According to an unknown source, Rawlins is supposed to have been a former captain of the Cold Stream Guards. Having lost his fortune, continues this rumor, luck ran against him, and his friends would not consider his attempts to get a foothold in the business world seriously. When he heard of Mr. Kilbourne's philanthropy and her hobby, Rawlins is said to have come to her just as her chauffeur quit, and he was immediately taken on. Upon the return of Kilbourne, who was then out of town, Eileen, little Marion, and Kane Kilbourne informed him of the indignity brought upon the household through their mother's philanthropy, and Mr. Kilbourne was about to discharge Rawlins. He reconsidered the matter and permitted him to stay. Having been thrown together as mistress and employe, the romantic affair is supposed to have started and thrived. Reginald Denny plays the part of Rawlins, the likable chauffeur who elopes with an heiress in the gay, novel comedy, "What a Man!" presented by Sono Art-World Wide Pictures at the Texas Theatre October 31 and November 1.

IS A GOOD YEAR TO BUILD ECONOMICALLY

Run-Down Buildings Are Unprofitable

- When a progressive real estate dealer buys a building for resale he redecorates it and adds modern improvements to both the building and the grounds. That is good business. The real estate man or builder knows that the improvements add more to the value of the property than they cost.
- Refinishing the exterior of a building with a light-tinted stucco, repairing the roof or re-roofing with a fireproof material, converting unused attic space into sunny rooms, building a sanitary, concrete basement, putting down concrete sidewalks and driveways—these are some of the improvements that will often make a modern home out of an old house.
- Now is a good time to bring old buildings up to date at a surprisingly reasonable cost. Ask your building material dealer, architect or contractor for suggestions on modernizing.

Also Consult made at Waco—by Tom workers of Texas materials. ... Along with other considered quality products, your building material dealer can furnish you other Atlas products (concrete) or non-Atlas Atlas White Portland Cement. Ask for Atlas search.

"When I was a child, if I did not feel well, or if I had a cold, my mother gave me Black-Draught," says Mrs. Orpha Hill, of Wofford, Ky. "When I was married, it became a family medicine in my own home, as it was in my mother's."

"I take it for headache and especially for constipation. When I get bilious, my skin gets yellow and I have a very bad taste in my mouth, and a drowsy feeling all during the day. My eyes burn and I get dizzy, or my head is swimming. When I take Black-Draught, it seems to drive the impurities out of my system and I feel fine. I am seldom without this reliable remedy."

TAKING THE GUESS OUT OF BUSINESS

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

BANKERS and business men err in not adopting more universally the tactics of the scientist. When the scientist wishes to fathom the mysteries of the universe or resolve things into their component parts he calls to his assistance the magnifying power of the microscope. There before him, like an open book, lie the secrets of nature which unaided eyes cannot observe.

The uncanny power of the microscope's all-seeing eye has revealed countless secrets for the material and intellectual progress of humanity. It has enabled us to study the processes of growing cells in plant and animal life, trace the causes of disease and successfully combat the ills of mankind; it has aided the engineer in his search for stronger and more serviceable materials, giving us taller, lighter and more sanitary structures, and better highways; it has disclosed the defects in steel rails and brought us an era of safer railway travel; it has added to the food supply of the nation, in fact, it has affected favorably nearly every activity of the human race, whether it apply to production, distribution or consumption, in time of peace or in time of war.

In the business and banking world, economic research and analysis serve as the microscope through which we are enabled to see basic factors more clearly and thus determine the causes of success and failure. Only recently have we begun to realize the full value of research and analysis and apply them in such a way as to eliminate the guesswork that was characteristic in industry a few years ago. "Eliminate the guess and reach success" might well be a motto for all of us.

Boy, 13, Builds Plane; Won't Fly It Himself

Memphis, Texas.—Construction of an airplane by a thirteen-year-old boy is said by Memphis residents to mark the city as the home of one of the youngest plane builders in the country.

Bobby Hagsdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hagsdale, will have his plane completed in a few weeks. He is building it in the rear of a local garage where he has worked every day except Sunday since school closed last May.

L. E. Clark garage employee, has aided young Hagsdale in doing the welding and metal work and James G. Hammond helped to cover the wings.

The engine develops 28 horse power. It was bought in Fort Worth by Bobby.

Bobby expects to get an experienced pilot to try out the plane. "I am too young," he says. The test flight will be made either in Amarillo or Wichita Falls. "I want to learn to fly before I try this machine," the youthful builder added.

Famous Oregon Gold Mine Is Rediscovered

Fort Oxford, Ore.—Considerable excitement has been caused here by the belief that the Lost China mine on the Sixes river has been found.

The story of Lost China runs back 75 years to the days when Capt. Williamson Tichenor, early-day sea captain, founded this little southern Oregon town.

Captain Tichenor did considerable prospecting in the early days. He is said to have taken out some $20,000 worth of gold from the mine.

Chinese laborers and Indians figured in the subsequent prospecting, and cluttered the figure while white men searched other gold fields. Then a fire swept over the country, changing the aspect of the terrain, and the Lost China became somewhat of a legend.

A new discovery of the mine has been reported by E. A. Lawrence, local attorney to F. E. Tichenor, deputy United States marshal during the World war, and grandson of the old captain.

SOCIETY and Club

W. M. S.
The Women's Missionary Society of the Christian Church, met in the home of Mrs. Preston Baldwin, Monday the 20th. Due to sickness in several homes the attendance was small, but with all the various hindrances, the meeting was one of the best the Society has had this year.

After a short business session, Mrs. J. M. Glass directed a splendid program, the theme, "Remembering the Past—Build for the Future," Psalms 124-126.

The director used a large poster, thereby making a lasting impression on those present, as she presented facts concerning "Jamaica," our first Mission Field.

"Hidden Answers," in World Call, were asked by Mrs. R. B. Fields. They were particularly interesting, contributing a world wide outlook on mission work.

During the social hour, Mrs. Lynn Pace was the capable diversion leader, the jumbled letters of Missions names proving most too faint for us to put in correct places. The hostess, assisted by her daughter Helen Mabel and Bulah Fay Glass served a lovely salad plate also in harmony with the lesson.

The Junior G. A.'s
The Junior G. A.'s met Tuesday of last week in the home of Geraldine Pouts. We had a very good program prepared. "Boy!" You don't know what you Junior girls miss by not being there. The only thing we hated was that our sponsors, Mrs. Burton and Miss Pool were not present. Mrs. Pouts helped take charge of the program. We illustrated our program with colored paper and we plan to use costumes in various ways to make it interesting. We are starting now in our G. A. work and hope every girl will get interested, and come and bring some one with you each time. After the program was dismissed Mrs. Pouts served lemonade and cake to the following: Ruth Welsh, Geraldine Conner, Anita Jo Simmons, Gladys Frances and Geraldine Pouts, Frankie Doris Bledsoe, Lillian Harcow, Mildred Orsborn, Elsie Ghoson, Maxine Quattlebaum, Audra Gayle Roberts, Mary Eleanor Diggs, Mary Beth Hammer, Winnie Darnell Lottie Mae Thomson.

Our next meeting will be at Geraldine Conner's, Tuesday Oct. 28. Every girl be sure and be present, and let's show Mrs. Burton and Miss P'Pool what we can do.

All ladies of the community who have the good of their community at heart should belong and should attend this and all meetings. We came out second place in our exhibit at the fair owing to so few being able to put their shoulder to the wheel. We feel that you will come forward now and help put Midway in first place another year, and by starting now, we can do this. The club members must stay together and attend regular if we ever have a club that amounts to anything. We can't say, "O we've too much to do and stay away and expect to get anything out of club work. We get out of a thing just what we put into it and if we are determined to have a club, now is the time for you to get busy and stay with it. Our next meeting day has been moved up one day on account of Nov. 4th being general election day. So be sure you are present Wednesday the 5th.

Makes $324.36 Clear Money Off Poultry In Seven Months

According to Joe C. Williams, County Agent, Vernon Wofford, eighteen year old 4-H Club Boy of the Bunker Hill Community, made $324.36 clear money off poultry from March 1, 1930 to Oct. 1, 1939. Let's let Vernon tell the story—

"I started my project March 1st, this year and closed Oct. 1st, using 39 high grade pure bred White Leghorn hens and eight prize winning pure bred Barred Rocks. I had two incubators to start with and bought three more at a reasonable price giving me a total capacity of 1400 eggs. My purpose in mind was the hatching and selling of baby chicks. As I did not have enough hens to furnish my incubators in eggs I had to buy part of them. I purchased them from my neighbor who has a good flock of purebred White Leghorns. He bought a large percent of his flock from me the previous year.

"I am just starting in the baby chick business, so I believe in satisfied customers. I believe I have succeeded thus far in satisfying my customers because I sold chicks in 1929 and every customer came back again this year for more chicks.

"I put out good, healthy, vigorous, purebred chicks at a reasonable price. I also sold started chicks at a higher price, and to do this I had to have brooders and brooder houses. I had two brooders and one brooder house to begin with so all I had to do was to build a brooder house. This was done at a small cost as I found enough used material on the place to build a good house. The only things I had to buy were a few nails and glass cloth to go in the front part of the house. I needed to do no advertising to sell my chicks as my former customers did my advertising and most of my neighbors bought from me. I could not satisfy the demand.

"I had to buy all my feed so I cut down expenses by buying the ingredients and mixing my own feed. I sold chickens most any age or size according to the wants of my customers. Due to the demand for my chickens I did not get to keep many for myself, but still have several high grade pullets.

"I have learned to cull and do my own culling and mating and cull for the neighbors. I believe in pure bred poultry and believe in showing them at shows and fairs. I have tried to do my best with my poultry this year and have given them and my incubators close attention. I started in to succeed and believe I have made a success. I have made a pretty fair profit, especially considering the year.

"I kept records on my poultry to date and they are as near correct as it is possible for me to keep them. I am going to sell baby chicks next year also, but I am going to try to do even better than I have done this year.

"Market poultry sold $29.65, Poultry used at home $ 5.50, Eggs sold $16.85, Eggs used at home $24.25, Breeding stock sold $94.50, Baby chicks $148.25, Males on hand 12 $42.50, Females on hand 78 $162.00.

200 SEEK ROOMS IN MODEL POORHOUSE IN OKLAHOMA
New Institution Has Every Comfort and Convenience of Modern Resort Hotel.

Newkirk, Okla.—"Over the hill to the poorhouse."

That's a journey nobody wants to take, although it has furnished material for poets, dramatists, painters—even movie producers.

To thousands of penniless, homeless ones, who have been forced through circumstances to make such a journey the grave would be more acceptable—but that is all changed now in Kay county, Oklahoma, of which this city is the county seat. Today 200 names are on the waiting list, men and women clamoring for places as guests of the new $200,000 farm home just nearing completion on a rolling hillside three miles east of this city.

The new building is made possible through oil tax money, the structure itself costing $20,000 and as much more to equip it. It will have dormitories, private rooms with bath, a fine dining hall and every convenience of a modern resort hotel. There will be a music hall; radio, player piano, a chef who can prepare the finest of foods, a private hospital and the inmates will be given only such odd tasks about the grounds as they may desire to keep them occupied, for which they will receive small sums weekly as spending money. The 20 inmates of the old home will be preferred customers and first on the list for the new institution.

"No, we are not pauperizing them," says H. E. Cook, superintendent of the home, "we are just providing adequately for the unfortunate of this district. Kay county is fortunate in having plenty of funds, and we are building for the Another surplus that is worrying the government is that of prisoners.

Several congressmen are said to be dieting. The only item they share with their constituents is the baloney.
Who remembers when the reformers used to rave about the coca cola menace?
There is a lot of complaint because Congressmen don't begin to legislate until 13 months after their election. Often it would be better if there was a delay of something like 13 years.

Home Town Thoughts

A politician can not get elected simply on his good looks, without telling the people what he can do for them, and a business can not expect to win out solely on the good looks of its store, without telling people by advertising what that store will do for them.

If you buy goods at home, your home town keeps both the goods and the money, while if you buy elsewhere, the town gets the goods but some other town gets the money.

No football team wins games without enthusiasm, and no town goes ahead without that quality.

Out of Town Trade

Modern retail trade is a great competitive race, with the stores drawing shoppers and customers from many miles. Advertising will draw trade a long distance.

This competition is a perfectly fair game which will be won by those who display the most aggressiveness in pushing their trade, and who do the utmost to please the people who visit their stores. The warm and friendly manner, the cordial welcome to customers, the ability to call them by name, are large factors in holding the trade after it has been once attracted.

Trade That Drifts Away

Business men sometimes become rather bitter in speaking of those of their townspeople who go away from home to buy their goods. While such a policy of distant buying impoverishes a community if it exists to any large extent, yet some business men lead to such action on the part of their townspeople by their failure to push their goods energetically.

If a purchaser compares in his mind some home town concern that never pushes for trade, that runs along in an old fashioned way, with some out of town business that is hustling for new customers every day, and going the limit to please new trade, it is not wholly surprising that he quite frequently forgets the wise advice that tells him to buy at home.

Hallowe'en Outbreaks

In many towns, the Hallowe'en celebration begins early in the fall days as soon as it is dark after the evening meal, and the kids can prance around the back yards without their identity being discovered. There are plenty of incentives to such marauding. There are remains of edible fruit to be raided, there are overripe vegetables which serve as missiles of warfare between the neighborhood gangs.

As soon as it was discovered that various pranks and tricks are tolerated at Hallowe'en time, the youngsters began days or weeks in advance to work off these stunts. They gain immense satisfaction from ringing people's doorbells and rattling their window blinds, and perpetrating other favorite exploits. Then when Hallowe'en comes, the tradition of many communities permits fences and gates to be removed and often burned in bonfires, and various rough tricks perpetrated that may destroy some property. It can be said of such doings, that a little of them goes a long way.

There is a general sentiment that mild sportiveness can be tolerated. But if it leads to destruction of property and rough and inconsiderate action annoying to elderly or infirm people, it is about time for some powerful hand to intervene and say that there are sharp limits to such mischief.

Most useful men can look back on their boyhood days, and recollect various mischievous doings. A boy is not necessarily headed for jail, because he breaks loose in some such escapades. However, the boy with the crooked mind gets a wrong bent from such experiences. He gains the impression that law and authority do not amount to so much, and that there are ways of circumventing these forces. The boy who acquires that idea graduates from the Hallowe'en gang into the roddy element, from which it is only a step to the beginnings of crime.

Much as you may dislike bobbed hair you must admit that a bob-haired woman looks better than a bald-headed man.

Nothing will get you up in the air like an inflated ego.

Public Building Program

Congress has voted to appropriate $560,000,000 for public buildings, to be spent in ten years. It seems generally agreed that these buildings will save money previously spent for rented quarters, and also avoid paying more for sites for such buildings later on. It would seem an excellent idea to hasten this program along, with a view to setting idle people to work.

The government has already hurried up this program, and 66 additional contracts for such buildings have been let since last January. The buildings now under construction will cost $100,000,000.

It is more important than many public men and business people realize, for the government to do every possible thing within its power to relieve unemployment. While the number of unemployed people may have been largely exaggerated, and while business conditions are not as bad as many pessimists feel, yet the number of people still out of work is far too large. The existence of any such body of idle people does more to promote the growth of communist sentiment than anything that could be accomplished by all the agitators that the Russian government could send over here.

The way to beat that agitation, is to get our idle people to work. If the government would modify its plans and hasten the progress of the ten year program referred to above, it would help a lot. The buildings are all needed. In all probability they would be erected with much less expense during the coming year, than if the program is carried out through a ten year period.

A business corporation facing such a situation, and seeing a chance to save money and keep its help contented by prompt action would go ahead and put up those buildings within a year or two, even if it had to borrow money. It would seem that such a program would be equally desirable for the government.

THE DIVORCEE TO SHOW AT THE TEXAS THEATRE OCTOBER 29 AND 30

Jerry, modern-thinking daughter of a physician, marries a news-paperman with very definite ideas. On her first wedding anniversary, she discovers her husband's unfaithfulness, and instead of forgiving, makes good her determination to play the game the man's way. Her husband's best friend is the first lover she encounters to make good her threats.

Ted, the husband, is confronted by his wife's confession. Appalled, he casts her aside. Elbowed she pledges to benevolence, and the primrose path, closing her door only to her husband. A divorce follows and she makes good her vow, leaving all sight of Ted in the wild escapades that follow.

In the meanwhile, Paul, a former sweetheart, tells Jerry of his own unhappy marriage, and begs her to wait until he is divorced, so they may marry. She agrees, but learns how much he means to his invalid wife. Instead of carrying out her pact, she sends Paul back to his wife. It then is revealed to her that her former husband is leading a riotous life abroad.

All of the old affection comes back to her. She may not need Ted but Ted needs her, whether he will have her or not. She goes to him in Paris and hides in his room until he comes home. There is a dramatic scene in which he realizes his responsibility for her straying from conventional propriety. Both have erred and repented—but not too late, for they are to try again.

"You Can't Afford to Miss Electric Range Conveniences"

"Hundreds of progressive and enthusiastic housewives have told me about the many electric range advantages, and I feel sure that now we've adopted this new, convenient and more economical system of rates, even more of you will profit by the superiorities of electric cookery, and at the same time lower the average rate for any other additional service used."

"You see, an electric range uses about 125 kilowatt-hours a month, and under the new rate system, practically all of this current would come on the lowest rate."

"In the average five-room house, normal use of electric service, without an electric range, water heater or refrigerator, will consume most of the 45 kilowatt-hours of the initial and second rates, after which all service—electric lighting, refrigeration, heating, cooking or any other use, will be figured on the 3c basis, when you use an electric range or water heater—4c when service does not include heating or cooking."

"Under the new one-meter rate an electric range will be appreciated more than ever, and is no longer a luxury."

"I have some more important messages for you, so meet me here next week."

FATHER DIES IN SON'S ARMS AFTER BOY RUNS HIM DOWN

Youth Giving Aid After Collision Finds Parent Breathing "Good-by to Mother."

Hagerstown, Md.—Merle Sprengle, Jr., fourteen, was riding his bicycle home through the night to hurry to a bountiful dinner which his mother had promised. Without warning, an obscure figure of a person arose before the dim light of his wheel. Thrown into a ditch, he heard a man moaning beside him. He hurried to give help, held the man in his arms, and by the flickering rays of his overturned bicycle lamp recognized his father, who breathed heavily a "Good-by to mother," and then died from a broken neck within the convulsive clasp of his sobbing son.

The father had been working on the farm of a neighbor, Washington King, and was quickening his steps homeward for the dinner. The son was returning in an opposite direction from an errand for his mother when the fatal accident took place. The boy lifted the body of his father upon the seat of his bicycle and struggled to the door of his home, where the mother, awaiting the return of her husband and boy, with steaming dishes ready on the table, was overcome when she answered the rap at the door and was faced with the limp body of her husband supported by her astonished son.

Four other children were gathered around the table filled with delectable dishes when tragedy stalked into the house.

Note From Coolidge Nine Years on Way

New Bedford, Mass.—A letter written nine years ago by Calvin Coolidge, then governor of Massachusetts, was received by Joseph Booker, this city, a few days ago. With the letter Mr. Coolidge enclosed the quill which he used in signing an act authorizing cities and towns to appropriate money for memorials to soldiers, sailors and marines, April 9, 1920.

Mr. Booker, past commander of Charles V. Gridley Camp, No. 48, Spanish War Veterans, was singled out to receive the pen as a souvenir because he was state commander of the organization at the time and had been active on behalf of the measure.

The letter was turned over to the Massachusetts Department of the Spanish War Veterans in Boston to be delivered to Mr. Booker. Because his address was not at hand at the time, it was put aside. It remained unclaimed and forgotten until a few weeks ago.

The man who ran across it looked up Mr. Booker's address and sent him a message to call for the document and the quill. He gave a note to his son, who works in Boston and comes home week ends, authorizing him to receive the memento, and the son brought it home.

The letter read: "It gives me great pleasure to hand you here-with a note which I have today signed authorizing cities and towns to appropriate money for memorials to soldiers, sailors and marines. Very truly yours (Signed), Calvin Coolidge."

Ring, Lost 30 Years, Found in Jersey Sewer

Brightwaters, L. I.—A ring lost more than thirty years ago by Milton Sears, who died in 1900, was returned to his widow, Mrs. Emma Sears, after it had been found in a sewer in Patterson, N. J. The ring, upon which was embossed a Masonic emblem, was inscribed with its owner's name. When a laborer found it, he turned it over to Joseph H. Quigg, secretary of the Passaic Valley sewerage commission, an acquaintance of Mr. Sears, who had conducted a stationery store in Patterson for many years. Mr. Quigg mailed the ring to Mrs. Sears.

Boy Dies on Exact Day Predicted to Parents

New Haven, Conn.—The strange case of a fifteen-year-old school boy, who died on the exact day and hour which he had predicted for himself 30 days ago, was expected to become the subject of a searching investigation by New Haven officials.

The school boy, Salvatore Piana, died recently at the home of his father, Ernest Piana, a tailor. The cause of his death was pneumonia, according to Dr. Santa Capocciola, the boy's physician.

Newton, England.—Pleading innocence, no matter how small the request, seems to be the policy of the local bench.

The bench ordered the husband to pay his wife 3 cents a week, 3 cents a month or a little less than a dollar a year.

LAST SUNDAY

Last Sunday was another encouraging day at the Baptist church. 221 came to Sunday school in spite of muddy roads and slippery streets. A large crowd filled the auditorium for the preaching service. The evening service was also well attended. The evening services are of such a nature as to appeal to the young people and are evangelistic in every sense of the word.

BAPTISTAL SERVICE NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT

The church members are very anxious that our church be a real soul-winning institution. We doubt that is the burden of the whole church. In a small way our prayers are being answered. There have been several conversions since the summer revival. Sunday night will mark the third time the baptistery has been filled since the revival meeting. We do not write these words in a spirit of boasting, for we all know that we are just beginning to do what God expects us to do in a large way. There ought to be conversions in every service. When we go through the year without conversions, it just shows our guilty distance from God.

Sunday 11:30 a. m. Subject, "THE PATH THAT LEADS TO THE KINGDOM OF GOD."

Please read Matt. 23:17-23, before coming to the morning service. In this scripture we find that two men wanted to become disciples of Christ and receive the chief places in the Kingdom of a girl. They were earnestly rebuked and informed that the chief place had been prepared for them. In the Kingdom of God, there is a place for every body and to become great for the glory of God, there is a place laid down for us in the Bible. Let's take a walk down this road Sunday morning and see what the hope is for us to become great.

Ford Digs Two Mile Tunnel for A Billion Gallons of Water a Day

NEARLY a billion gallons of water a day—more than is used by the cities of Detroit, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Washington combined—will be the capacity of a huge tunnel now nearing completion at the Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Michigan.

The tunnel will replace the present water intake system which supplies the Ford plants with 500,000,000 gallons a day. At the same time the company is remodeling its power house to greatly increase the power output. Both improvements, costing several million dollars, are being made to enlarge the production facilities of the Ford plant.

The head of one of the sections of the Ford tunnel showing the machinery used to burrow through the ground. In the foreground is one of the concrete blocks used to line the tunnel which has an inside diameter of fifteen feet.

In construction of the waterway, the largest of its kind ever undertaken by a single business concern, the engineers are burrowing fifty feet under ground for a distance of two and a half miles. They have gone under main highways, railroads, street car tracks, bridges, a cemetery and a creek.

One of the most difficult tasks was that of tunneling under Baby Creek at a point which is crossed by a railroad bridge and where also a large sewer is under construction by the city of Detroit. The pipes that provide the foundation for the bridge and those driven by the company constructing the sewer formed a network on each side of the creek. It was the task of the Ford engineers to burrow under the creek, sewer and bridge, going between the pipes without striking or weakening them.

Boring of the tunnel is accomplished by means of a shield—a large steel cylinder fourteen feet long and twenty-one feet in outside diameter with a solid steel shell or skin two and a fourth inches thick. This shield has a bulkhead which is made fast near the front end. There are four openings through which the mud streams, like toothpaste from a tube, as the shield is shoved forward by twenty powerful hydraulic jacks.

When the shield has been pushed forward sufficiently concrete blocks two and a half feet wide and five feet long, each weighing 3,120 pounds, are placed to form a ring around the circumference of the tunnel. One of them acts as a key stone so that the lining of concrete, which is eighteen inches thick, withstands the pressure of the earth. After this steel form is set up and filled with concrete to form a solid inner lining which is also eighteen inches thick.

The present intake system of the Ford plant has a capacity of 500,000,000 gallons a day. The new tunnel will be able to carry 913,000,000 gallons.
