State Is Only Able to Pay Only 30 Per Cent on Principal, Making Additional Levy Mandatory On Part of County

According to information receivby County Judge Chas. M. Conner from the State Highway depart-ment, Haskell county will be required to make a tax levy sufficient to take care of the county's part of the road bond indebtedness, which amounts to $23,880.10, com ing due next year.

The Commissioner's Court estimates that on the present valuation of approximately $8,000,000 it will necessitate a levy of 35 cents on the one hundred dollars for the year

The State Board of County and District Road Indebtedness adopted their budget on July 1st, which permitted them to take care of all their required portion of the inter-est on bonds for the counties but only 30 per cent of their required portion of the principal, leaving Haskell to take care of all the principal amounting to $14,000, less only $2,382.08, or a total of $11,617.72 on the principal alone, coming due

The reason the state is unable to take care of its portion of the principal, is due to the fact that the gas tax set aside for this purpose is in-sufficient to meet the obligation. It is mandatory upon the county to set a tax rate sufficient to meet the obligations that are not paid by August 23rd has been designated as Texas Day and August 25th the 25,000 scouts will put on a great program at Soldier's Field.

The total cost for the entire trip from Abilene and return is only $36.55 which includes round trip fare, round trip Pullman accomodations including three nights occupancy of sleeping cars in Chicago, all meals on dining cars going and returning, all breakfasts while in grounds to Fort Dearborn at the fair, and many other items. Sleepers are to be parked a stone's throw from the 18th Street entrance. Parents and other members of Boy Scout families may join the party at the rates $2.00 higher.

As this is an approved Boy Scout Trip Executive Ed Shumway hopes that many Chisholm Trail Council Scouts will leave August 20 on the Boy Scout Special Train to the Chicago World's Fair.

HOME OWNERS LOAN CORP. ARE APPOINTED

The Home Owners Loan Corporation has appointed Judge L. D. Ratliff, Sr., as Attorney, and Emory

ty. Haskell county has been placed in the Amarillo district, and Mr. Menefee states that anyone who wishes to make application should write directly to the Amarillo office as the application blanks have not been received here. The Home Owners Loan Corporation was organized for the purpose of relieving home owners who are in distress and are about to lose their homes.

The relief is offered on the following plans:

Eighteen-year 4 per cent, tax free bonds to the amount of mortgage and accrued interest will be given by the corporation to the mortgage holder in exchange for the mort-Chicago, sightseeing trips in Chica- gage. The corporation will take a new first mortgage and give the home owner 16 years to pay it off, at 5 per cent interest.

Unpaid taxes, paving and other liens on the property will be paid by the corporation.

Money for necessary repairs will be advanced.

If absolutely necessary, the cor poration will give the home owner a three year moratorium on his payments. The corporation is authorized to make payment, extensions

In special cases, where the holder of the mortgage demands a cash settlement, the corporation will lend up to 40 per cent of the appraised value of the property in cash-but on such loans the interest rate will be raised to 6 per cent.

The maximum relief offered is $14,000, or 80 per cent of the appraised value of the property, whichever is the smaller amount.

The first step for the home own er to take is to obtain and fill out the application blank and reach an agreement with the holder of the nortgage on the settlement that the latter will accept. This application and agreement then are sent to the office of the state manager. After checking the application ,the manager will notify the home owner to eall upon the appraiser in his county to have the value of his property fixed. A fee of $5 will be charged the home owner by the appraiser If the appraisal is satisfactory the home owner then will be directed to visit the corporation's attor ng 72 per cent of the average ex- ney in his county, to have the title ports for the prewar period, 1909 to his property examined. This will cost the home owner $10, in addition to the charge of making an abstract of the title. It is estimated that the average cost of abstract will be $3.50. These steps having been taken, the attorney will take from the home owner a mortgage and deed of trust, in behalf of the corporation and bonds will be transferred im-mediately to the mortgage holder.

Procedure is the same when advantage is sought to be taken of the sed within two years prior to actment of the law last June 18. the former mortgage holder will

"First, take the cost price of the improvements on the property, plus the value of the land inself in one bracket. Then take the present market value of the property in another bracket. Take the reasonable value of the property capitalised upon a rental basis, less reasonable the property would have rented for school this fall. at the time of its construction. We will say $100. Then take the fair rental value at the present time which we will say is $50. The two together will be $150. Divide by two and you will have an average rental value of $75. "This, capitalized around 10 per cent as you can see, will make the property worth gross about $9,000. We will say that the property has been built for five years. That will mean a fair deduction for depreciation of 5 per cent, or $1,800, and make the figure to be used $7,200.

"We will say that the place cost to build it five years ago the sum of $10,000. Its present value is $6,000. Capitalized on the rental basis, $7,200. Add these three figures together and you will have $23,200. Divide that by three and it will give you a fair appraisal value for this property of $7,733.33."

Shaw warned appraisers that while the corporation is anxious to relieve distressed home owners, its plan "is not in any way to be construed as one that will allow those who have their loans financed to refinance them on a lower rate of interest and the plan is not to compete with private lending agencies." In addition to the relief offered home owners laboring under mortgages they can not pay, the Home Owners Loan Corporation offers a cash loan up to 50 per cent of the appraised value of property not otherwise incumbered, to pay taxes and assessments on the real estate, to provide for necessary maintenance and make necessary repairs. Loans under this section also are payable in 15 years at 5 per cent interest.

There will be a tax of four cents per pound placed on all cotton goods, which each retail store must pay Sept. 1st. This tax will be added cost to all merchandise made of cotton.

Shorter working hours-the increase in wages, will add to the cost of manufacturing and distribution and this naturally will be added to the price of merchandise you will have to buy later.

Improved Prison Conditions Lessen Desire to Escape; More Recreation; Better Sanitation in Penitentiary

Worth Star Telegram

Increased recreational activities improved sanitary conditions and better living arrangements have helped cause a decrease in the number of prisoners escaping from the Texas penitentiary system, according to Lee Simmons, the general manager.

With fewer guards on duty than in past years and with more in mates "within the walls" and at the various prison farms, Simmons quoted the following figures to show that escapes are on the decline:

Total escapes since Jan. 1. this year Escapes last year Total escapes during previous three-year period

An athletic field adjoining the walls, a library, a new classroom and a recreational building provide means of passing away the leisure time within the walls. Seven thousand new books have been added to the library during the past year, according to Simmons, the total number now being 12,000.

"These books were bought from the commissary fund and cost the taxpayers nothing." Simmons said. The commissary fund is made up partly from the commissary in the prison where the prisoners and visitors are allowed to make purchases of candy, soft drinks and sundries."

The athletic field for years has been the scene of baseball games, a prison team meeting teams representing various cities every Sunday during basball season. Convicts whose records are good see these games without cost. Natty uniforms and regulation equipment have been purchased from the receipts from the public, a grandstand being provided with seats at 25 cents each. It is this baseball field that will be the scene of the prison rodeo to be staged by the inmates on four Sundays in October.

Money from the baseball games made it possible for the penitentiary system to erect the new, spacious classroom within the walls.

In the recreation hall picture shows are given and religious services are held on each Sunday. Catholic priests and Protestant ministers alternate in holding the ser-

It is only the inmate with a mark of misbehavior who has to wear striped uniforms. The others wear grey trousers and white

According to Warden Wald, who is "captain" to all the prisoners and officials, less than two per cent of the convicts now are giving the guards any trouble. He said that when a man is received at the walls" he is told that his crime, insofar as prison officials are concerned, is a thing of the past. He is told to be obedient and to make a good prisoner and his life in prison will not be as bad as if he were disobedient.

"When we do all the law says for the prisoner, and then a little ised agency for the protection and more, we expect him to do some-thing," Waid said. "We believe in furnishing recreation for the men when off duty. If their minds are occupied, they are not getting their heads together and figuring out some way to get out of here.'

America's Biggest Deal in Real Estate, in 1842

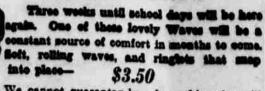

Daniel Webster, as secretary of state, signed the patent conveying to the Choctaw Indians "a tract of country west of the Mississippi river in fee simple, to them and their descendants" in March, 1842, John Tyler signed as President.

That patent, comments the New York Sun, consummated the most gigantic trade in real estate on record in America.

The Choctaws bartered what, at that time, comprised eighteen counties in the state of Mississippi. Negotiations had been proceeding twelve years before the concluding papers were passed.

The trade was "bound," in the lan guage of real estate men, in 1890, when agents of the federal governarchance of lands.

Travelers' Aid Society

The first non-sectarian committee organized to do travelers' aid work grew out of the plans of the St. Louis exposition in 1904. Miss Grace Hoadley Dodge, one of the great leaders of the Young Women's Christian association, saw a growing need for placing the uncoordinated work in New York city on such a co-operative and non-sectarian basis as was carried through at the St. Louis fair, and in 1905 she brought about the formation of a committee of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish women to make a survey of the work in that city. The resulting 'non-sectarian, noncommercial Travelers' Ald society of the city of New York thus became the first independently organassistance of travelers.

Kingdom of Kerry Kerry, the setting for Irish Killarney, is called a kingdom by the Irish, probably ruled by the king of Fairyland, for so Queen Victoria once called it. Slea head and Dingle bay, the heart of Irish-speaking Kerry, are the center of a district in which Irish mythology, archeology and history are extraordinarily well represented. The wild coast line is unsurpassable in grandeur and pagan and early Christian remains abound. So all around in Kerry, to Valencia island, Carragh lake, Stalgue fort, Waterville, Castle Gregory, Parknasilla, Doon bay at Ballybunion, you must go if you would know the realm which is the kingdom of Kerry.-Exchange.

It means that the firm or store which displays it is cooperating with the President in his drive to increase employment.

It means that this employer has agreed to accept a shorter working week in order that more jobs may be created.

It means that he is paying a "decent living wage" for this shorter week.

It means that his employees have accepted shorter hours so that others, now unemployed, may be enabled to share in their work.

It means that all those who display it are worthy of your patronage and your whole-hearted cooperation because they are "doing their part."

Finally, it means a concerted drive by all industry to wipe out unemployment and end the depression!

Look for it! Talk about it!

THE BLUE EAGLE IS HERE

The blue eagle of the NRA is flying proudly on his mission from Haskell shop and store windows.

Haskell is ready, or speedily preparing, as the entire country lines up for the new offensive against depression. The activities of the past two weeks which saw many local employers pledging whole-hearted adherence to the President's program, speaks of the community's enthusiastic enrollment for the battle and its confidence in the outcome.

Days of sixteen years ago are recalled as the new call to patriotic service is heard and answered.

But there is a vast difference. The purpose then was to organize national resources and sentiment bebrought untold losses and economic disturbances from hind a war on foreign soil that cost millions of lives and which we are still suffering.

It was necessary to mobilize to meet the perils of those days, however costly. It is no less imperative to meet the challenge of a new enemy at home in the form of unemployment and national economic distress.

The task of sixteen years ago was performed with effectiveness. The new job must be carried through with equal determination and equal patriotism.

The program will not fail because there is no other way out. The country cannot afford to have it fail. We must do our part.

THE ANGLER'S SAINT

One of the most quaint and lovable characters in history was Izaak Walton, whose fame rests principally upon a notable treatise on fishing, called "The Compleat Angler." published 280 years ago. It has been written of him that "there is hardly a name in literature, even of the first rank, whose immortality is more secure or whose personality is the subject of a more devoted cult."

This year is a sort of triple anniversary of Walton, as he was born in 1593, 340 years ago; published his most famous book in 1653, 280 years ago, and died in 1683, 250 years ago.

It is also said of him that "multitudes who have never put a worm on a hook have been caught and securely held by his picture of the delights of the gentle crait, and by his easy, leisurely transcript of his own simple, peaceable, lovable and amusing character."

In addition to his "Angler," he wrote several charming volumes of biography dealing with the lives of distinguished personal friends, of whom he had many, most of whom were devotees of the piscatorial art.

In contrast with the vast majority of those who have gained lasting fame through war and strife. Walton has lived to charm succeeding generations by his gentleness, kindness and love of nature. He may well be considered the patron saint of fishermen.

REDUCTION OF INFANT MORTALITY

In the long list of accomplishments to the credit of modern medical science, perhaps none has a greater significance than the success attained in the reduction of childhood deaths.

Queen Anne of England, born in 1664, bore 17 children, only one of whom lived more than a year, and he died at the age of 11. Now large families of children often grow up without a death.

Through medical education and the treatment of early defects the child's chance of reaching maturity has been greatly increased, especially during the last half century. The lengthened average span of human life which now prevails is largely due to reduction of mortality among infants.

In addition to regularly employed physicians and nurses by public health units, thousands of volunteer workers are co-operating in the noble task of saving babies' lives. For their effective efforts in this and other directions looking to the preservation of human life the medical profession and those co-operating are entitled to the highest praise.

GET READY TO PAY YOUR TAXES

Municipalities just now are having a hard time to make their financial ends meet. Bank credits are practically non-existent.

Many people are in such strained financial circumstances that they cannot pay their taxes, but there are many others in every taxing unit who are taking advantage of leniency in the collection of taxes to let their taxes go unpaid. All such should pay their taxes when

Of course our taxes are too high. They will be too high for years to come on account of the fixed charges lastened upon us by years of reckless spending. The past cannot be helped; the future must bring a diminution of taxes; but the government must go on and taxes st be paid.

It hurts to pay exorbitant taxes, but it is a patriotic duty that must be met.

THE BEGINNING OF COTTON RAISING IN STATE OF TEXAS

Inasmuch as cotton is the backbone of Texas prosperity it may be could. said that Jared Groce, the first man to plant cotton on a commercial basis in the province, was the father of Texas agriculture.

He was the founder of the cotton industry in Texas, for he not only established the first plantation cultivated by slaves, but in 1825 built the Bragos.

James E. B. Austin reported to the Mexican government in 1833 that there were thirty cotton gins in the municipalities of Austin and Brazoria, and that the municipalities of Liberty and Nacogdoches were "very well provided with gins."

Austin also reported this same was 7500 bales-they were smaller

The first cotton exported was carried to the interior of Mexico on the backs of mules, it was in bales of fifty and one hundred pounds, a mule load consisted of three hundred pounds.

In 1831, however, Edwin Waller took a schooner load of cotton from the mouth of the Brazos to Matamoros and by the next year the shipment of cotton by water to New Orleans was established.

It has been estimated that the $600,000.00.

The prosperous condition of the cotton planters of Texas in 1836, on the eve of the revolution was one of the chief reasons why the colonists showed such reluctance to engage in an armed conflict with the Mexican government.

England and France both became interested in Texas during her struggle with Mexico, due to the fact that she was such a great cotton producing territory, either nation would have been glad to annexed Texas to their country, because of the ample supply of cotton the first cotton gin on the banks of she could have furnished their cotton mills.

It was cotton that attracted the interest of England, and it was England's interest that alarmed the United States and brought about | the move toward annexation.

There are no available statistics on the annual production of cotton in Texas during the republic, but in year that the cotton crop of Texas 1848 the crop amounted to 39,774 five hundred pound bales.

During the Civil War large quan tities of cotton were exported through Mexico and good prices were obtained.

Imagine yourself on an unfamiliar highway at night in the country. You want to go to Allison. You come to a forked road. No signs! Which way? You turn left and come to a crossroad. No signs. You turn right. You come to a town. It proves to be Liberty. You go back to the fork and turn left. A mile or so farther on you come to another crossroad. A sign pointing right says "Allison three miles."

But for that sign-post you might have traveled miles—spent hours, and come short of your destination.

Imagine yourself in need of hosiery, clothing, breakfast foods or anything else, and this newspaper without advertisements! Think of the number of stores you would have to visit, qualities and prices to check, reliabilities to consider.

Advertisements are sign-posts. They are information. They save you from wandering aimlessly from store to store. They keep you advised of the newest products; of the latest values. They save you time, and put greater buying power in your dollars. They assure you of quality and service in merchandise, for only honest goods honestly advertised can stand the spotlight of publicity.

Island Still Has Lure for Treasure Seekers

Cocos island's secret, reported discovered by a divining rod, has not been given up, after all, and we armchair sailors feel better now.

That speck in the Pacific is legendary as piracy itself. Even before treasure seekers began to dig and tunnel there it was the capital of pirate lore. For generations jobbound stay-at-homes, in contemplative moments, have felt a proprietary interest in it.

The wealth of the sacked Nicaraguan city at Leon lies there, left by the crew of the Bachelor's Delight in 1685; the loot of the Lima cathedral, buried by the Mary Dwyer's crew in 1821, is hidden there; the booty of "Bonito of the Bloody Sword" has been there a century. So the legends tell.

For all of us advecturers who weigh anchor only in fancy the lure of the rugged little tropic island is happily enduring. There, thus far defying all comers, even those with an electric divining rod, is the last outpost of pirates, Happily their secret still is safe. and happily we armchair voyagers still hold our lien upon their loot -Boston Herald.

Dreaded Copperhead Is

Not Aggressive Snake The copperhead, one of the enakes the very name of which strikes terror into the heart of the city man out in the hills, is highly poisonous, but nowhere near the aggressive enemy that story has pletured it to be. The snake, as a matter of fact, is singgish and is unlikely to be of menace to humans unless it is encountered in brush or by rocks where the contact is made by the human,

The copperhead is a member of the rattlesnake family, but has no rattles. Its head is of a burnished copper color, while its body is of a dark - brown color with dark blotches, more or less Y-shaped, on the sides and round on the stomach. It will attain a length of four feet at maturity.

It is usually found in damp places and in rocky country from early spring until autumn. It has a number of other names, such as pilot, copperbelly, red adder and redeye.

Lord Dunedin is right in suppos ing that by 1875 he could have been playing lawn tennis in a rectangular court with the net at the height that it is today; but it would be incorrect to say that by that time the court had been standardised. One of the earliest manuals on the new game-Jasper Smythe was its author, and I imagine that it was just issued in the spring of 1875makes it quite clear that for some time both the hour-glass-shaped and the rectangular courts were in use, the London Times.

Incidentally, "sphairistike" was by no means the first attempt at a game of tennis without walls, "Field tennis" was played in more than one place during the Eighteenth century, and there is a print of "Long or Open Tennis" dated 1837.

Locusts as Human Food

Locusts were reckoned among the clean things which might be eaten by the Israelites (Leviticus 11:22) and being vegetable feeders are still among the articles of food in occasional use among oriental people. John the Baptist is said to have subsisted upon them and wild honey while remaining in the wilderness, although a tradition has it that his locusts were the sweet edible pods of the locust or carob (a kind of acacla) tree, used as food for sheep and cattle in Europe, and known as St. John's bread, considered holy by certain of the Jews (Matthew Evidently the master of the bouse, see ing impending destruction by the tide of lava, leaped free, his bed, called to his wife to follow and snatched his purse. But both were overwhelmed.

Policane by the Acre

A lonely little island in the Southern Pacific off the coast of Peru is the world's largest gathering place for pelicans, according to Boys' Life, the monthly periodical of the Boy Scouts of America. The name of the island is Lobos de Afeura, and about thirty acres are perpetu-ally covered with pelicans, batching their young or digesting the pouches of fish which they scoop up from the neighboring sea.

TEXAS CIVILIAN CAMP AT BLANCO IS MODERN ONE

bright and shining example of army sanitation and organization. The enrollees at this camp are employed in building a dam across the Blanco river to provide a lake for the State Park on Highway 66 at this point, but they have also erected four semi-permanent buildings for the use of the camp. These are a mess hall, bath house, latrine and supply house.

While not classed as semi-permanent, the hospital tent is floored and tightly screened. With its woodwork and furniture enameled a gleaming white, it presents a striking appearance, quite in keeping with the neat, clean grounds, the tents lined up with mathematical precision and the neatly whitewashed trees in the camp. Captain J. J. Canella, 9th Infantry of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, is the commander of the camp at Blanco. His company was given a hearty welcome by the people of Blanco, when they arrived on June 16th, and a room in the old court house which stands in the center of the town square was turned over to him for headquarters. Since then he has also been given the use of a farmhouse adjoining the camp.

From a closed restaurant Captain Canella purchased a range and a display case formerly used as a pie counter. The range was promptly installed in another room in the court house, and the pie counter. after a thorough cleaning and enameling, is now doing duty as a dustproof medicine and bandage case in the hospital tent. From the bakeshop a regular Army baker, Private Merle M. Jones of the 2nd Tank Company, Fort Sam Houston, is turning out delicious cakes and pies for the camp.

A high order of talent is found among the enrollees at this camp. John L. Wray, Jr. of Edinburg and San Antonio is an experienced newspaper reporter and has been serving a number of papers as special correspodent. He is also an experienced actor and last week directed a home talent play and minstrel that packed the Blanco High School Auditorium and netted enough money to construct a boxing ring for the camp. It is expected that the players will go on a tour over the week ends and repeat the perform ance in nearby towns. A similar The State of Texas, show is planned each month.
