The Haskell Indians surprised and greatly pleased local fans on Friday, November the 6th by defeating the greatly over-estimated team of the Rule High School. Victory in the tune of 31 to 6 was Haskell's share of the day. Never had Rule been so hopeful of victory, but followers of the Rule aggregation failed to take into consideration the regulars on the Haskell team and a host of good substitutes.

Hamlin won the toss and elected to defend the south goal. Hamlin kicked to Haskell on the 25 yard line where Clenton Herren received and returned to the 50 yard line. Four downs failed to make a first down and the ball went to Hamlin on their 45 yard line. Hamlin then made a first down on Haskell's 45 yard line. Three more plays failed and Hamlin punted to Herren on Haskell's 10 yard line. Haskell punted out of bounds on Haskell's 44 yard line. On the second play Simmons intercepted a Hamlin pass and carried to the 50 yard line. Haskell failed to gain and Smith punted to Hamlin's 35 yard line. Three plays by Hamlin failed to gain and a punt to Haskell was returned to the Haskell 33 yard line. Smith made a first down on own 43 yard line. The next two plays lost 15 yards and Smith punted to Hamlin's 45 yard line. A long pass for Hamlin was good for 25 yards and a first down on Haskell's 30 yard line as the quarter ended.

Just Homespun Talk

Watchman, Tell us of the night, What its signs of promise are. Mr. Dooly says we got to economize and every fellow help his neighbor. Psychologists tell us this depression is all in our minds, and when we get it out of our minds it will all be gone. That sounds mighty like Christian science to me. May be so. I know when I am sick, but it hurts all the same. Wise men who gather statistics have been telling us for a year or two that we have struck rock bottom. That is what the papers say about it, and you know they always tell the truth. Put hold on there a minute, not so sure of that. I know more about myself than what I get out of the papers. I don't feel any rock bottom under my feet. I feel kinder soft down there yet. And I kinder think we all got to walk softly for a while yet, at least till we get on harder ground. We might be on rock, but it feels mighty like soft ground to me. But Mr. Dooly said for us all to economize and every fellow to help his neighbor. That is fine if they will all help us, so I can then help them too. He thinks we ought to divide our money around when we got any to divide. And I specks he wants us to divide with the grocery store and the bank. And I specks we ought to do it

Within an hour after he had heard pronouncement of the death sentence at Clairemont Tuesday, Will Fritts started another journey—probably his last—to Huntsville to await execution on December 18, for the slaying of his neighbor, D. W. Hamilton, in Haskell county in 1928.

The sentence was pronounced at 1:30 p. m. by Judge M. S. Long of Abilene, sitting in 30th district court of Kent county for Judge Clyde Grissom, disqualified because he conducted the prosecution in the trials of Fritts. The prisoner received the pronouncement calmly, with no show of emotion. Shortly before 2:30 o'clock the condemned man, hand-shackled and wearing leg irons, was started on the return trip to Huntsville, in custody of Ranger Earl McWilliams and Sheriff Bob Goodall, who took him from Abilene to Clairemont Tuesday. He was brought to Abilene by the two officers Sunday night and remained in the Taylor county jail until the Clairemont trip was started early Tuesday.

FREE MOVIE SHOWS FORD AUTO PLANT

Sound Motion Picture Feature of Exhibit Arranged By Local Dealer

A sound motion picture graphically portaying the story of the Ford Motor Company and its widespread activities will be exhibited free of charge in a special Ford exhibit to be held at the local agency of Haskell Motor Co. beginning Nov. 18 and continuing through Nov. 19. The show will be open to the public three times each day.

The picture, entitled "A Tour Through the Ford Factory" will show the gathering of raw materials, their arrival at the Rouge Plant in Dearborn, Mich., and the numerous interesting stages through which they pass in the process of making Ford cars and trucks. It is, in short, an education in the extent and meaning of modern volume production.

While an unseen voice explains each scene, the audience is taken on a tour of the plant, through the great blast furnace building where iron is converted into steel, into the open hearth building where the iron becomes steel and is poured, a white hot liquid, into moulds; into the blooming mill where the steel ingots are made into bars; and into the rolling mill in which the long bars of white hot steel are reduced to definite sizes. Forty kinds of steel, each of a composition to serve a definite purpose, are used in the Ford car and truck. The picture shows also the manufacture of glass in an endless unbroken strip, a process developed by Ford engineers; the machine shops in which parts for the car are manufactured; the pressed steel building with its gigantic presses; and the coke ovens and other units in which by-products are recovered to the extent of millions of dollars annually.

Throughout the picture one sees literally miles and miles of conveyors which take much of the manual labor off the backs of men. There are conveyors carrying newly arrived materials into the plant, others taking parts from one building to another, and, of course, the final assembly line, that famous conveyor on which the parts are put together to form the completed car.

In addition to the picture, there will be a representative line of Ford cars and trucks and display boards containing car and truck parts.

The cars alone are well worth a visit for they include body types to suit any taste and to meet any occasion. Particularly attractive are the deluxe cars in which upholstery appointments are of a kind and quality usually found only in more expensive automobiles.

All the body types are featured by the Ford's new beauty of line and color. The deep radiator, the wide generous fenders, and the graceful sweeping lines of the bodies contribute to a pleasing whole. The cars may be obtained in a variety of color combinations.

A scientist claims that the world is revolving faster than formerly. He ought to remember that we are living in a faster age.

NEWS FROM OVER WEST TEXAS

Rumored That W. V. Railway to Move Shops to Stamford.

From the Stamford Leader.

One of the interesting items of news on the streets this week is the probable removal of the round house at Wichita Falls to Stamford, the argument being that Stamford is the logical place for the round house of the Valley. The work, which is pointed out, can be done here cheaper and to better advantage. This being the logical place for the Spur line, the north and south end of the Valley, it is almost certain the change will be made. It will be a fine thing for Stamford as it will mean quite a number of men to move here and then pay out a lot of money here.

The new situation will be watched with interest. All Stamford will greet the new residents when they move here.

Seymour Youth Bitten by Rattlesnake.

From the Baylor County Banner.

Rufe Coleman, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Coleman of the McFarlin farm in the Plainview community, had an unpleasant experience last Saturday with a rattlesnake. And but for the presence of mind of him and Roy Thomas and the prompt work of the latter, Rufe might not be alive today.

The snake bit the boy through his tennis shoe. Roy Thomas was present and immediately he took off one of his shoes, took out the lacing and bound it tightly above the wound. Then he went racing about a mile away to get the car, only to find that young Coleman had the ignition key in his pocket. Back he rushed, got the key and made the third mile run, being able then to bring the car and take the injured boy to the hospital. There a shot of the snake bite serum was administered, and the patient is doing very nicely.

Paducah Bank Closes Doors.

From the Paducah Post.

The Security National Bank failed to open its doors Saturday morning, and it was learned with the deepest regret that the institution was closed—temporarily at least—and would not do business here for the present.

The notice on the door of the bank Saturday morning was to the effect that the bank had been closed by recommendation of the directors.

It is not known what plans are being formulated by the directors. It is not known whether it will be opened again or not, or if it does again do business in the city any more, at what time.

Young County Sheriff Returns From Hunting Trip in Mexico.

From the Graham Leader.

Sheriff J. B. Foster returned this week from a very successful hunt in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico. He bagged three deer during the hunt, one being a ten point specimen and the other two having seven and eight points, respectively.

The party enjoyed sight-seeing as well as hunting, making a trip into the state of Sonora also. Mr. Foster stated that they visited some of the finest ranch and cattle country that he had ever seen, and was enthusiastic in his description of the mountain country of Chihuahua, which abounds in all kinds of game. The sheriff was accompanied on the trip by Jim Ellis of Fort Worth and Ralph Dickson, customs inspector, of El Paso.

Woman Hurt in Car Crash Near Merkel Dies.

From the Merkel Mail.

Mrs. Howard Pope of Duquoin, Ill., who was injured in an automobile crash on the highway west of Merkel late Friday afternoon, died at an Abilene hospital at 1:45 Saturday morning. The body was shipped to Duquoin where burial was made.

C. H. Martin, president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego, Calif., and his wife were the other occupants of the car, Mrs. Pope being the driver. They were en route from Hot Springs to San Diego, Calif.

The accident occurred when the car crashed into a bannister of a concrete bridge four miles west of Merkel. Mrs. Pope, who was riding alone in the back seat, was hurled against the front seat, sustaining a rupture of the lung and fractures of five ribs, right leg and both arms.

Snakes in Hamlin, Big Rattlesnake Killed.

From the Hamlin Herald.

Winter is approaching. Signs point that way. Snakes are hunting warmer quarters, even rattlers.

Tuesday morning, Mrs. G. A. Poe, who lives in south Hamlin found a big seven button rattlesnake at her home. It was on her front gallery making himself at ease in the sunshine.

Such an intruder got a very unwelcome reception, and there is one more deadly rattler dead.

Not long ago Abilene reported a small rattler crossing a prominent street in that city. A car got it. But all this shows that there are plenty of dangerous snakes in West Texas yet.

Gas Company Enjoined From Collecting $2.00 Re-Connect Charge in Munday.

From the Munday Times.

Following a conference between city officials and representatives of the Stamford and Western Gas Co., last week in which the conferees could not reach an agreement with reference to the $2.00 re-connect charge made by the gas company, the City of Munday has been granted a temporary injunction by Judge I. O. Newton of the 50th District Court restraining the company from levying this charge, and during the week the company has been making re-connections without the above charge.

The injunction will be effective until Tuesday of next week on which date a hearing will be held to determine whether or not the injunction shall be made permanent.

PROFITS HIGHER LAST SUMMER THAN YEAR AGO

By gathering more buckets of eggs from the same number of hens, cheapening the ratio by use of more home grown feeds, and rigid culling of loafers, Texas poultry demonstrators have net the disheartening drop in egg prices of the past season, and actually increased their net earnings for last July and August over the same months one year ago. Profits from demonstration flocks totaling 100,000 hens rose from 5.9 cents per bird per month in July-August 1930 to 7.1 cents per bird in the same months of this year, according to Paul Cunyus, assistant poultry husbandman of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College and the United States Department of Agriculture.

These flocks are located in every part of Texas and are managed under the direction of county and home demonstration agents. Instead of being counted out on the chicken deal the owners of these hens got an average total production of 25.1 eggs per bird in two summer months of 1931 as compared to 21.7 eggs per bird for those months in 1930. While the average price received per dozen dropped from 22.3 cents in 1930 to 18 cents this year, the feed cost per dozen eggs was reduced from 16 cents in 1930 to 6.1 cents per dozen, for July and August 1931. The profit above feed cost per dozen eggs increased from 6.5 cents to 6.9 cents in this time, and the monthly profit per hen above feed cost from 5.9 cents to 7.1 cents.

"Low egg prices have worked great hardships on Texas farmers and it is to be hoped that prices will soon readjust themselves on a higher and more reasonable level," says Mr. Cunyus. "On the other hand, low prices have forced an increased efficiency of production such has never been observed before. It is a matter of pride that the majority of Texas poultry demonstrators have been able to make a profit at all during the year. That they increased their profits last summer proves that within certain limits low prices can be partly offset by heavier and more efficient production."

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Bible School 9:45 a. m. Lord's Supper 11 a. m.

We were glad to see some folks in Bible School last Sunday, whose faces we had not seen in sometime. We again urge the re-enlistment of former members, and the enrollment of new members.

We call attention to the fact that the Ruth Bible Class will have charge of the worship program of the Bible School next Sunday. Come and help these ladies in their work. They will appreciate it, and you will enjoy being present. A cordial reception awaits you.

"GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN"

The Angel of Death has descended among us once more and has taken from us one whom we dearly loved. Once more God has seen fit to call home one of his children. Once more someone has lost a mother! The most precious possession in the world. And many of us have lost a true friend and counselor. We that still have our mothers can't realize the great sacrifice until we are called to meet it.

Mrs. T. L. Green came to this country with her husband from Comanche County in the year 1903 and settled on Mule Creek. The trip was made by covered wagon and was a rather hazardous journey. Her maiden name, Ward was one of the first distinguished names along the frontier. Her father was among the first to settle in Texas.

Grandmother Green passed away at 3:30 Wednesday morning, after a lingering illness in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bill Earles at the ripe old age of 73 years and 4 days. She has been a member of the Baptist Church for 43 years and has lived a devoted Christian life. Now she has passed to her reward. Gone from this world forever. Went to join her husband in the great Beyond. Grandmother Green was an ever radiant ray of sunshine in our lives and we will miss her sadly. We shall be forever listening for a voice that is silent; a step that is stayed. Always listening for a familiar voice. At our next re-union there will be another absent. Who can fill the vacant chair? None, none can take the place of this mother and friend in our hearts. There will always be a reserved space, the space we have dedicated to the memory of this woman that is now one of God's Angels.

"In that graveyard, o, how lonely. They have laid her down to rest; As the sun is slowly sinking. In the far off golden west." —A Neighbor.

GOVERNMENT SALARIES

Some interesting facts respecting the salaries of high government officials are given in a recent publication of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, which notes that Washington's salary of $25,000 a year was the pay of all Presidents until 1873, when an increase to $50,000 was made. In 1909 the present salary of $75,000 was authorized by Congress.

Cabinet officers in the early days received what would be considered very meagre pay today. Thomas Jefferson drew $3,500 a year as secretary of state. Alexander Hamilton drew the same as secretary of the treasury. General Knox, the first secretary of war, received but $2,000, and the attorney general had a part-time job with little pay. These four were the only cabinet officers from 1789 to 1799.

Members of Congress received no regular yearly salary in the early days but were paid $9 a day when actually attending sessions. In 1816 a salary of $1,500 a year was provided, but this was repealed the following year and $8 a day for actual service was established as their compensation. In 1836 the pay of members of Congress was fixed at $3,000, in 1866 at $5,000, in 1873 at $7,500, and in 1925 at $10,000.

Leading movie stars, prizefighters, baseball players and columnists would snuff at all these salaries, except that of the President, and many of them strike, even if they do not earn much more than is paid the nation's chief executive.

FACT VERSUS FANCY

Dabbling with spiritualism or any other supposed occult ideas are dangerous to one's integrity of mind, according to Dr. William J. Mayo, eminent surgeon and medical scientist, who points out that many men of brilliant attainments have been misled by imaginary phenomena.

He mentions Sir Conan Doyle, Sir William Crookes and Sir Oliver Lodge as three outstanding examples of men of science who interested themselves in psychic phenomena and came to believe the incarnation of the dead. But he points out that these eminent men got that way late in life, after their mental powers were on the wane.

Dr. Mayo further points out that many things we experience today and understand as perfectly natural phenomena would have been attributed to the supernatural if they had been produced in earlier times. For example, if one had invented the radio during the Dark Ages he would have been considered in league with Satan and would probably have been burned at the stake.

So he concludes:

Whenever we do not understand existing phenomena let us lay the lack of it where it belongs—to the failure of the understanding which the future may clear up—and not allow ourselves to prostitute intelligence by talking about fairies, ghosts, spirits and reincarnation of the dead.

ABOUT MONEY

Some facts about money may be of interest, although that commodity itself is rather scarce so far as most of us are concerned. Our word "dollar" is the same as the German term "thaler," a piece of money first coined in Bohemia about the year 1518.

The United States silver dollar was first minted in 1794. Its intrinsic value is less than half its face value, as it contains only 412.5 grains of silver. The origin of the dollar mark ($) is not known with certainty.

The motto "In God We Trust" first appeared on the bronze 2-cent piece in 1864, and since 1865 has been used on gold and silver coins. The eagle appeared on the first coins issued, and on most coins ever since. Coining of silver dollars has practically ceased in recent years.

It may not be generally known that half-dollars, quarters and dimes are legal tender only for debts not exceeding ten dollars, while nickels and cents are legal tender only up to twenty-five cents.

Any kind of money, however, would be accepted as legal tender just now, especially on subscription accounts.

BIG CONTRACTS LET

Contracts were awarded a few days ago for one of the largest construction projects launched in recent years—the building of the Rockefeller Radio City in New York. These contracts involve an expenditure for material and labor of approximately fifty million dollars, the work to start by December 1.

The whole project will cost 250 million dollars, and additional contracts will be let from time to time until it is completed, giving employment to many thousands of workmen in the various factories which will supply the material and in construction forces on the site of the new "city," which will cover several blocks in the vicinity of 50th street and Fifth avenue.

There will be a 60-story tower to be the largest office building in the world, a music hall to seat 6,100 persons, an immense sound motion picture theatre, an additional office building 33 stories high and numerous other buildings of great size.

When completed this new Radio City will be by far the most costly and imposing amusement center ever erected. That construction is to begin on a large scale in the near future is welcome news, as it means work for many men of the building and other trades who sorely need it just now.

DISCARD BILLBOARDS

In response to a letter sent out by the General Federation of Women's clubs and other organizations, 141 of the largest national advertisers have agreed that the use of billboards which deface the landscape should be abandoned. The same view has been expressed by 16 of the largest advertising agencies.

Advertisers are beginning to realize that billboards which mar the scenic beauty along the nation's highways are a source of annoyance and irritation to tourists and others, which does not make good will for the firms which indulge in their use.

The view of most of the concerns consulted is fairly expressed by the Haines Advertising Agency of Philadelphia, which writes:

"We have not been able to check any great tangible results from outside billboard advertising. Accordingly we prefer newspapers and can not see why our beautiful landscape should be marred by prominent advertising."

Another firm declared that "nobody would suffer very much if all signs and billboard advertisements were abolished, as there are certainly enough other forms of advertising available."

Many large advertisers have voluntarily discontinued billboard advertising during the last four or five years, and it is safe to say that the efforts of the women's organizations in eliminating unsightly outdoor signs will convince many others that they are not only defacing the landscape, but involve a waste of money which might be spent more profitably in other publicity mediums, particularly the newspapers.

How Soon We Forget

Smiles

Why take life too seriously? You'll never get out of it alive.

A colored man rushed into the store and complained to the storekeeper that a ham he had bought a few days before was not good.

"That ham's all right," said the storekeeper.

"No, suh, boss, it sho' am bad!"

"Can't be bad; it was only cured last week."

"Well, suh, boss; I reckon day ham done had a relapse."

Lady of house: "Have you ever been offered work?"

Dusty Rhodes: "Only once, Ma'am. Aside from that I've met with nothing but kindness."

Friend: "Is your poetry always returned?"

Rhymer: "Not unless I enclose stamps."

Clerk (to manager): "I've been here ten years doing three men's work for one man's pay. Now I want a raise."

Manager: "I'm sorry, I can't give you a raise just now, but if you'll tell me who the other two men are I'll discharge them."

"Last night I drank seven cocktails, I wonder if I did wrong?"

"Good heavens, girl, can't you remember?"

Contractor: "I've just caught that man Brown hanging about smoking during working hours, so I gave him his four days wages and told him to clear out."

Foreman: "Good heavens, guvnor. That chap was only looking for a job."

A Chicagoan and a citizen of Los Angeles met. "Do you mean to say," asked the Chicagoan incredulously, "that in California you have three hundred and sixty-five days of sunshine a year?"

"Exactly so, sir," proudly replied the man from Los Angeles, "and that's a mighty conservative estimate."

Jimmy giggled when the teacher read the story of a man who swam a river three times before breakfast.

"You do not doubt that a trained swimmer could do that, do you?"

"No, sir," replied Jimmy, "but I wonder why he didn't make it four times, and get back to the side where his clothes were?"

Judge: "How far were you from this spot when these cars collided?"

Witness: "Twenty-two feet and nine inches."

Judge: "How do you know it was exactly that distance?"

Witness: "Because I measured it thinking some fool might ask me."

Employee: "Do you have an opening for a bright young man?"

Employer: "Yes, and don't slam it as you go out."

"Say, Dad, I got in trouble at school today and it's all your fault. Remember when I asked you how much a million dollars was?"

"Yes I remember."

"Well, the teacher asked me today, and 'helluva lot' isn't the right answer."

Classified Ad: "If the person who stole the jar of alcohol out of my basement will keep name and return Grandma's appendix, no question will be asked."

A deputy sheriff was sent to take an inventory of the property in a house. When he did not return for three hours, the sheriff went after him and found him asleep on a lounge in the living room of the house. He had made a brave effort with his inventory, however. He had written down: "Living room—1 table a sideboard, 1 full bottle whiskey." Then the "full" had been crossed out, and "half full" substituted. Then this was overlined, and "empty" but in its place. At the bottom of the page in wobbly writing was written: "One revolving carpet."

China's Flood Toll One of World's Greatest Human Sacrifices

Starving flood sufferers rush into water to get food.

A situation of starv. horror now prevails in the flooded areas of the Yangtze Valley where the receding flood waters are creating havoc that beggars description, according to a report received by Dr. David A. Brown, Chairman of Flood Relief in China, from the National Flood Relief Commission in China.

Flood Relief in China, an organization jointly formed by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, and China Famine Relief, U. S. A., is seeking $2,500,000 to buy food and medicine for as many as possible of the tens of millions of men, women and children facing starvation, disease and death as a result of the catastrophic floods.

In order to avoid a conflict with the country-wide campaign for funds for the relief of the unemployed in the United States, as well as with the annual roll call of the American Red Cross, Dr. Brown has informed Walter S. Gifford, director of the President's organization on unemployment relief, that Flood Relief in China's fund solicitation would be limited to mail appeals only now, and will be resumed after November 25th, the date fixed for the close of the unemployment campaign. In reply, Mr. Gifford has expressed his appreciation of this act.

Millions of refugees, rendered homeless and completely destitute by the floods, are living under conditions which give promise of nothing but death, according to the report of the National Flood Relief Commission.

Because the vast Yangtze Valley has been inundated, most of the richest crop-bearing territory in China will produce nothing this year, thus creating an inevitable famine. In addition, the flooded districts must cope with problems of epidemic prevention and rehabilitation.

In the basis of a nation-wide survey of the extent of the damage done by the floods, the commission reports that millions of farmers find themselves homeless and without seeds to plant their crops and buffaloes to till their fields. Almost insuperable difficulties confront the relief workers in the prevention of disease among the refugees who are huddled in improvised camps, where without the slightest attempt at sanitation, an epidemic may break out at any hour and spread like wild fire among people weakened by privations.

With millions of Chinese fighting for their lives over thousands of square miles devastated by the swollen Yangtze River, the National Flood Relief Commission, composed of Chinese and prominent foreigners resident in China, is seeking financial assistance from the people of the entire world in order to cope with the present situation.

While the task is not beyond human effort, the commission declares, "it is of such magnitude that only the co-operation of the people of the world can insure its success."

National Headquarters for Flood Relief in China have been opened in New York City at 205 East 42nd Street, where contributions are being received for dispatch to China.

While Firestone, Edison, Ford and Burroughs were touring, a light and a tire on the car went bad. Mr. Ford went into a store and said to the merchant: "What kind of lights do you have?" "Edison," replied the merchant. "And tires?" "Firestone". "You may be interested to know that Mr. Edison and Mr. Firestone are out in my car, and that I am Henry Ford."

As the merchant was putting on the tire, Mr. Burroughs, who was well adorned with white whiskers, leaned out of the car, and the merchant looking up at him said: "If you tell me you're Santa Claus, I'll crown you with this wreath!"

After a well known Socialist had made a tour of the South, two negroes were discussing the socialistic idea of having everything in common. Joe had been converted to socialism. "So," asked Amos "if you had two horses you'd give me one?" "I sure would," answered Joe. "And suppose you had two pigs, would you give me one of them too?" "I done told you I would." "And," continued Amos, "if you had two goats, you'd give me one of them too?" "Go on there, you nigger, you knows I've got two goats."

Patient (to dentist): "I think you could have got my tooth out easier than that. I could move it about with two fingers."

Dentist: "Yes—and you could move a cow's tail with one finger."

Haskell County History

Forty Years Ago Today—1891
Three teachers composed the faculty of the Haskell Public Schools forty years ago according to a news story in the Free Press of November 14, 1891. The Teachers were, I. D. Warren, Principal of High School Department, Grammar School teacher Miss Gillie Rike; Primary teacher Miss Sallie Ramsey.

The following comment was made in the editorial column: "Some of these days we may be called upon to write your obituary, we will be expected to extoll your good qualities and lie like the devil about what sort of a man you were in the flesh. We shall also have to print some notices of your funeral for which your widow will pay us. Now what we want to suggest is, that you pay up your subscription and not leave that to be paid by your widow. We could also give you a better sendoff in an obituary notice if you are not in arrears when you die."

The following is a list of ex-Confederate soldiers now living in Haskell County: S. L. Robertson, R. B. Miller, M. L. Haggard; S. J. Preston,

BROUGHT MORE RELIEF

I have suffered for the past 25 years with rheumatism and constipation, and must say I have gotten more relief since taking Crazy Crystals than anything I have ever tried. My wife also takes the Crystals for stomach trouble. She had to take some kind of purgative medicine every night but now she takes only Crazy Crystals.

The American Red Cross in Action

Above—Red Cross paid the grocery bill, and maintained the health and morale of more than two million drought sufferers. Balanced rationing and ample provisions prevailed. The Red Cross commanded the services of thousands of volunteers. It was an impressive demonstration of neighbors helping neighbors. At right—Hot lunches for school children in the drought area.

Colorful and strange is a field trip out of Manda. The native mesa house is a real home that warmly welcomes the Red Cross nurse.

Bits of cheer at Christmas time—80,000 boxes spread good will and happiness round the world. An important phase of Junior activities.

Men's classes are popular features of Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick.

The American Red Cross was founded in 1881. It is, by Presidential proclamation, the National Relief Agency. It is chartered by Congress, headed by the President of the United States, and supported by annual memberships.

These memberships make possible a program which includes:

- Disaster Relief—1,000 catastrophes in 50 years—all the way from Johnstown flood to Drought.
- Veterans—380,000 social and financial problems in a year for ex-service men and their families and for the men of the regular Army and Navy.
- First Aid—73,000 certificates awarded in a year—the answer to the annual toll of 100,000 deaths from accident.
- Life-Saving—70,000 candidates pass tests in year—one way to prevent the 7,000 drownings now occurring each year.
- Public Health Nursing—1,340,000 visits to patients in 12 months—building health in home, school, and community.
- Home Hygiene—568 Chapters conducting this work—teaching the family how to care for sickness.
- Nutrition—138,000 children and adults taught in year—better food and better bodies.
- Junior Red Cross—7,000,000 school children enrolled—spreading cheer and good will round the world.
- Insular and foreign activities—aided in 12 disasters last year.
- Volunteers—110,000 in one year—ever ready in war and in peace.

Says Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes: "The American Red Cross represents the united voluntary effort of the American people in the ministry of mercy. It is the best and most effective expression of the American heart."

The annual party for disabled veterans on the lawn of the White House. President Hoover who is also president of the American Red Cross is interested in all phases of Red Cross service to both the sound and the well among soldiers, sailors, marines, veterans and their families.

Water Safety methods, as taught by the Red Cross, prevent many needless deaths from drowning.
