SOCIETY and Club

Miss Eunice Huckabee Entertains.

Miss Eunice Huckabee and Miss Nettie McCollum were hostesses of a lovely party Saturday evening honoring Miss Ida Lillian Miller of Abilene at the home of Miss Huckabee.

The rooms were pretty with Halloween decorations and fall flowers combined where four tables were arranged for bridge. A black and yellow color theme was followed in the game, accessories and on the refreshment plate which held pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, cheese and coffee with witches as plate favors.

Those present were: Mesdames J. P. Payne, W. P. Trice, Clyde Grissom, C. V. Payne, Oscar Oates, Roy Killingsworth, Theron Cahill, Hill Oates, Lola Welsh Bledsoe, Jno. V. Davis, and Misses Nettie and Margaret McCollum, Mary Kimbrough, Madeline Hunt, Lewis Marley, Ermine Daugherty, the honoree and hostess.

4 K Klub.

Miss Lewis Manly entertained members of the 4K Klub last Thursday evening. The living room was bright with autumn flowers. Black and gold colors were stressed in decorations.

After the usual games of bridge, refreshments of individual pumpkin pies, cheese and coffee were passed to the following members and guests:

Mesdames Oscar Oates, Roy Killingsworth, Lola Welsh Bledsoe, Jno. V. Davis, Hill Oates, Virgil Reynolds, H. K. Henry, Ermine Daugherty, Madeline Hunt, Nettie and Margaret McCollum, and the hostess.

Halloween Party.

Whoop! Whoop! Whoop! The Hobos. What? When? Where? A Halloween party Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walling. Each guest upon his arrival was escorted to a fortune teller, where he learned his past, present and future. While this was in progress the remainder of the party amused themselves with ring games in the dimly lighted yard which was decorated to be the very essence of Halloween. Next a treasure hunt took place. George Kinney found the treasure, which was a large jar of mixed-candies. At the end of the search the guests returned to the party where they were served chilli and crackers. After the refreshments were served they attended the midnight matinee.

Those participating in this Halloween frolic were: Lillian Kaigler, Contine Guest, Frances Walling, Lucille Corley, of Rochester, Anna Maud Taylor, Mildred Wright, Altha Fae Davis, Ruby Mae Grindstaff, Chrystene Tucker, Anita Collier, Mary Willis, Madge Arbuckle, Miss Carmen, John Oates, Jr., Fred Akins, George Kinney, Johnny Williams, Ed Hester, Bill Whiteker, Robert Sego, Doyle Eastland, Crockett English and Carl Arbuckle.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Bible School, 9:45 a. m.
Lord's Supper, 10:45 a. m.

If you are not attending Bible School, you are cordially invited to come and be present for the Bible School hour at the First Christian Church. Visitors and new pupils are given a cordial reception. All old members who are not attending at the present are earnestly urged to make it a point to be present next Sunday. We need you and you need us.

for Better Cookery . . .

If you were offered better meals, cooked in but a fraction of the time now required, and assurance that your foods would be always of the same delicious perfection—you'd insist on an immediate realization of this ideal, at any cost, wouldn't you?

Here's a way you can have all these important advantages—and actually save money! Are you interested?

Then, drop in at the Merchandise Showroom and ask a Trained Representative to explain the many superiorities of the new Electric Range. You'll marvel at the automatic features that give you hundreds of leisure hours each year . . . you'll appreciate the controlled heat that enables you to bring all your meals to the same delicious completion . . . you'll enjoy the prospect of clean electric heat that eliminates all scrubbing of soot from pots, pans, walls and ceilings. With all these important advantages—plus the fact that modern Electric Cookery will save money for you each month—shouldn't you install your range without delay?

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

League Business Meeting.

The Senior League believes in doing things differently and having fun. Both of these characteristics prevailed in our business meeting last Tuesday afternoon. We gathered at the church in our hiking clothes and proceeded on foot to Sanders' corn patch. Believe it or not we found apples on the ground, in the trees and even in sacks of cotton seed. Everyone had to eat all of the apples they found.

After this lively sport everyone went to the house for the business. Each officer had a written report of the work they had done the past month. By these reports we saw that the League is growing and doing splendid work.

Those present for the meeting were: Elizabeth Stewart, Margaret Richey, Agnes Grissom, Jerene Kimnison, Aurline Cousins, Maurice Eaton, Mavis Branch, Frances English, Wilda Phippen, Sybil Boles, Howard Wilson, T. C. Stewart, Woodrow Adcock, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Arbuckle, Mrs. F. T. Sanders and Mrs. E. Gaston Foote.

The Eyes Have It!

(Copyright, 1931, by Octave Pictures)

WITE TO THE MIGHTY DEAD: Mr. Charles Edison, the inventor, is seen with his wife entering the Edison home at Orange, N. J., while huge throngs waited to pay silent tribute to the test inventive genius of all time.

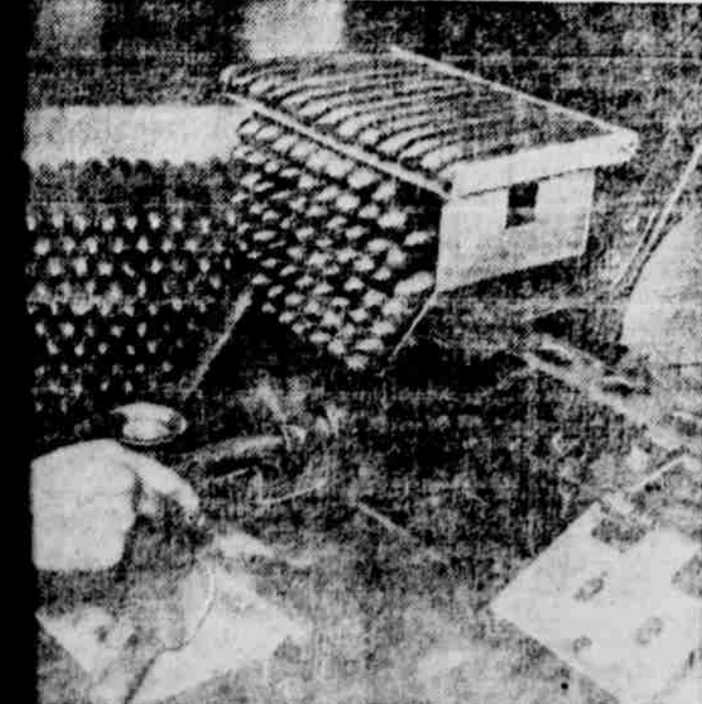

FRENCH PREMIER VISITS HOOVER: Pierre Laval, premier of France, accompanied by his daughter Josette, start for Washington to arrange with President Hoover concerted action between the United States and France in the attempt to end the world depression. The United States and France thus seek to merge economic powers, as twice before in history they have merged their military forces, for the betterment of mankind.

OVERNIGHT STARDOM: Alice Joy, who was selected to sing on the new Prince Albert Quarter Hour, broadcast by the NBC-WEAF network six nights a week, after a single audition found herself elevated to stardom and singing to millions at a fabulous salary.

HENRY FORD OF FRANCE ARRIVES: Andre Citroen (left), the "Henry Ford of France," noted French industrialist and automobile manufacturer, being greeted by Edward G. Budd, president of the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company, makers of all-steel automobile bodies, on his visit to the Budd works in Philadelphia. Citroen, leading European exponent of mass production once started Paris by acquiring right to use the Eiffel Tower to advertise his automobiles.

AND THE MODERN CIGAR: Picture shows popping of cigars. The cigar in machine at extreme right is pushed into a glass cup containing droplet of gum tar—less, odorless and physiologically inert. Operator, holding a "smoking" end, improves shape of tip. Spit-tipping, a few "hole-in-the-wall" shops, ended years ago.

THE JAPS IN MUKDEN: A Chinese child, his hands tied behind him, is seen here with Japanese troops, who, it is said, were torturing him in an effort to obtain information, just after the Japs had captured the Manchurian capital. Mukden is famous called city of stormy history.

DON'T CROWD THE MIKE: B. A. Rolfe, famous leader of the Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, showing Andy Sannella, guitarist extraordinary, just how far he should be from the microphone. Andy plays so many instruments that a unique measuring rod was constructed especially for his guidance.

LABOR LION FIGHTS BACK: Ramsay MacDonald, shown preparing speeches for his election campaign which won over the unruly English tanners.

BABE HELPS BABES: Babe Ruth is shown arriving in Los Angeles to play three ball games for benefit of ailing children and war veterans. Newsies greeted him.

AFTER MELLON'S SCALP

Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, is after the scalp of Uncle Harry Mellon, who, he charges, has no right to hold the office of Secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

Mr. Patman avers that Mr. Mellon has disregarded his oath of office by continuing either directly or indirectly to engage in trade and commerce. He cites that Mr. Mellon is the dominant stockholder in the Panhandle Company of America, the Gulf Oil Corporation, and many other great enterprises. Because of these connections he argues that the aged secretary is directly involved in trade and commerce, which the law forbids in the case of the Secretary of the Treasury.

It strikes us that the congressman's interpretation of the law is far-fetched and unwarranted. There is no secret about the Mellon wealth or industrial holdings, but as long as he is not directly or actively engaged in these operations, he meets all requirements of the law. In fact, the Supreme Court has held that ownership of stock is not a disqualification for this office. If this were the case there could be little chance of securing the services of a man capable of filling this important office. It is almost silly to presume that a man should reduce himself to pauper status in order to serve as the head of the Federal Treasury. If Mr. Patman can show that Secretary Mellon has improperly used his office, or his official influence to further his business interests, this attempt to get the distinguished Secretary of the Treasury will not get very far.

IF ALFRED E. SMITH WERE PRESIDENT

If Alfred E. Smith were President today what a howl would be going up from the Republican press throughout the country! When Grover Cleveland was President they vilified him most unmercifully and got it for years after he was out of the White House; and the late Woodrow Wilson was practically crucified after he had led the Democrats triumphantly through the World War.

With the Democratic press there is a broader tolerance which is very much to their credit. Mr. Hoover has been roundly criticized for unwarranted optimism at the beginning of the depression, for his ability and his fatal policy of delay, but, with few exceptions, opposing newspapers have refrained from holding him personally to blame for the collapse of business. However, excuses were not lacking for so doing. It was Hoover himself who said that the success of the Republic ticket would insure a continuance of prosperity. In view of all his invited promises Mr. Hoover has been treated with unusual fairness. Never has he shown any disposition toward constructive and courageous action, as in the war debts moratorium and the bank credit plan. Democratic newspapers have as a rule been among the first to commend him. They realize that these are perilous times and that it is poor business for all concerned to attempt to wreck the country for the mere sake of putting a political party further down and out. They realize that those who serve their country best serve their party best.

DON'T LOSE HEART

When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he ran for the Legislature in Illinois, and was badly swamped. He next entered business, failed, and spent seventeen years of his life paying on the debts of a worthless partner.

He was in love with a beautiful young woman to whom he was engaged—then she died.

Later he married a woman who, because of illness, was a constant burden to him.

Entering politics again, he ran for Congress, and again was badly defeated.

He then tried to get an appointment to the United States land office, but failed.

He became a candidate for the United States Senate and was badly defeated.

In 1856 he became a candidate for the Vice-Presidency, and once again was defeated.

In 1858 he was defeated by Douglas.

His failure after another—bad failures—great setbacks. In the face of this he essentially became one of the greatest men of America, whose name is honored and loved throughout the world.

When one contemplates the effect of a series of setbacks like this, it is made up of kind of feet small to become discouraged just because things he is having a hard time in life?

Be still, sad heart, and cease repining—

Behind the clouds is the sun still shining—

As each life some rain must fall—

Our days must be dark and dreary."

PROBLEMS OF RELIEF

It is true to say that the money which the generous people of our country will give for the relief of the unfortunate should be wisely expended to give the maximum amount of relief and that extraordinary care should be used to see that none of it falls into the hands of the undeserving. There is grave danger that the grafter will get his unjust portion and that the poor and proud may suffer. A case in New York, Newark, N. J., the other day, where a man who was receiving a weekly dole was found to be the owner of valuable real estate and had actually added to his holdings while receiving relief. Those who have the distribution of such funds should see to it that the prideless grafter is excluded from any benefits from funds intended for the relief of the suffering.

Regarding the fact that legislation in the past has not helped very much, two old ideas, the "equalization fee" and the "debenture" are being dusted off for presentation to the next Congress by some friends of the farmer. If the farmers could find some way to get the law of supply and demand their condition might be improved.

A Wisconsin man has named his son Connie Mack, although the name is in the World Series. Judging from the name there ought to be a number of streets named after him.

A story man should have a good memory.

If the meek ever do inherit the earth there'll likely be plenty of real estate sharks waiting to subdivide it for them.

Speaking of the wonders of America, how about the people's patience with politicians?

Forty Years Ago Today—1891

Frank Nalley is building a residence in the west portion of town. Earl Peden and George Fields, age 13 and 14 years went down on Red Creek Saturday and killed four large wildcats.

The town is full of contractors giving in their bids on the new Courthouse.

The temporary suspension of business of the Road to Ruin Saloon seems to have had an evil effect on the adjoining restaurant.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Dodson a fine girl on October 31st.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Medlin a 11 pound boy on November 1st. Oscar Martin and Miss Annie Cather were married at the Methodist Church Thursday evening at 5 o'clock in the presence of a large congregation of their friends. Rev. M. W. Rodgers officiating. The church was beautifully decorated, the house having been darkened, it was lighted by lamps which displayed the costumes of the bridal party to the best advantage.

The following gentlemen were in the city this week: E. C. Evans, W. W. Edge, J. A. King, John Thurganger, Jasper Millhollon, John Jones, W. L. Casner, Capt. A. Cummings, Capt. J. S. Williams, Uncle Ben Tyson, J. M. Waters, L. P. Wade, Capt. Hunter, E. Hill, I. M. Burns, J. M. Therman, C. C. York, J. A. Bailey and others.

Kills a Panther

Last week Messrs A. C. Peden, W. W. and R. B. Fields, Robert James and Joseph Fields went down on Paint Creek turkey hunting, but the most exciting part of the hunt was a fight with a large panther. The party was camped on the creek and about 10 o'clock one night they heard their old dog baying about 100 yards from camp. Joe and Bob Fields went to the dog and found that he had a large panther up a bending tree. It was very dark but Joe shot at the body of the animal and hit him with a few small shot, but most of the charge having struck a limb. The panther started down the tree and Joe shot again. The panther went off and the dog followed. He came back in a few yards of where he had been, and took to another tree. The boys hollered for help and Messrs Peden and Jim Fields went to their assistance. On arriving they built a light of leaves, so they could see as the moon was not shining. Joe Fields again shot the panther and he came down out of the tree and attacked Jim Fields and he fearing that he would hit the other boys who were on the other side of the animal, did not shoot but beat the animal off with his gun, as long as he could and finally fired the whole charge entering the animal's neck. The panther then turned, walked a few steps and laid down. A few more shots killed him. During the whole time he roared ferociously and seemed to jar the earth. In fact it is highly probable he belonged to the tribe of Mexican Lions. He was nine feet from the tip of his nose to the tip of his tail.

What! HAIR OINTMENT IN YOUR MOTOR OIL?
Petroleum jelly forms the base for many hair ointments—and many motor troubles. This heavy, jelly-like salve gives motor oil a false body which turns water-thin in engine heat. Ask the nearest Sinclair dealer for Sinclair Opaline—the motor oil which has had petroleum jelly removed at as low as 60° F. below zero—a temperature much lower than required for just removing wax. Ask the Sinclair dealer.

Society

The Helen Bagby Circle.

Mrs. B. T. Cowley was hostess to the Helen Bagby Circle, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Robertson was at the piano when the meeting was opened with song. Mrs. Whitley gave the opening prayer and taught our Bible lesson, Romans 4th chapter. The report of the Buckner's Orphans Home box committee was much better than last year and Mrs. Reynolds gave the closing prayer. We will meet with Mrs. John Couch next Monday at 3:30 o'clock. Let's all be present with a good lesson. Those present were: Mesdames Whitley, Reynolds, Norton, Robertson, Gates, Simmons, Taylor and Cowley.

Sherman-Meriwether.

Last Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. Duke, Methodist Minister of Plainview, Miss Elsie Meriwether of Lockney and Lewis Sherman were united in marriage. Carl, a brother of the bride was the only attendant. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for El Paso, New Mexico, where they spent the week-end returning to Haskell Monday.

Miss Meriwether is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Meriwether of Lockney. She finished school at that place going from there to Plainview where she attended business college.

Mr. Sherman has lived in Haskell since boyhood and is well known in this section having held a responsible position in the Haskell National Bank for the past three years. The couple have a host of friends who join the Free Press in wishing them much happiness and prosperity in their life together. They will be at home in Mrs. T. A. Williams' apartment.

Camp-Koonce.

Miss Ella D. Koonce one of Haskell's leading society girls and well known in literary circles was quietly married last week to L. C. Camp of Hobbs, New Mexico, with her mother, Mrs. Cecil Koonce and Miss Patsy Koonce of Haskell present.

Miss Koonce has resided in Haskell since childhood finishing high school here and attending college at North Texas State Teachers College at Denton. The groom is formerly from Abilene. The couple will make their home in Hobbs, New Mexico, where Mr. Camp is connected with an oil company. Many friends of the bride join the Free Press in wishing them much happiness.

Smith-Martin.

As a climax to a romance that began as Seniors in Haskell High School four years ago, Ruby Martin and J. Elmore Smith were married Oct. 9 at the home of Bro. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of Anson Baptist Church, who was a former classmate of the bride in Simmons University.

The marriage of these two popular young people united two well-known pioneer families of Haskell county.

The bride is a young business woman of Haskell, who is now cashier of Haskell Telephone Co. She received her education in Simmons University.

The groom is employed by Oates Drug Store and received his schooling in Tech College.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home in the Mrs. T. A. Williams' apartment.

South Ward P. T. A. Program.

Thursday Nov. 5 at 4 p. m. the following program will be rendered: Song "America the Beautiful"; Devotional—Rev. Whitley; Prayer—Supt. L. Redlove; Feature "Mother Learns a Lesson"—Mrs. H. R. Wagoner; Musical Reading—Miss Cannon; Home of Today, Family Income and Expenditure—Mrs. V. Bailey; Piano Solo—Miss DeWitt. Our motto is: "Better homes, better schools and better babies." Come and help make it so. Reporter.

Glad Girls Entertained.

Mrs. C. M. Conner entertained the Glad Girls Sunday School Class last Friday night with a lovely party in her home. After various 'spooky' games everyone was allowed to have their fortune told by a 'real' fortune teller. We were then invited outside where we found our prophecies buried in the ground. These were dug up and read over candle light. We were then served tea from the witches pot and doughnuts. Those who enjoyed this delightful party were: Mary Willis, Lois Spiker, Lucille Gilstrap, Frances Walling, Anna Maude Taylor, Kate Darnell, Emma Grace Harcrow, Mattie Muriel Walling.

Lucile Reagan Circle.

The Lucile Reagan Circle met Nov. 2 in the home of Mrs. A. C. Roberts, with six members and one visitor present.

The Leader brought us an interesting scripture lesson on the fifth chapter of Romans. In the absence of our teacher, Mrs. Roberts taught an interesting lesson on the 5th and 6th chapters of our Mission study. Larger Stewardship. The Circle will meet at the church on Thursday of this week to quilt.

Fortunately, most of the red propaganda is unread.

SAGERTON

The Sagerton school reopened on Monday November 2nd, after six weeks dismissal for cotton gathering. All of our teachers returned in time to attend the teachers institute at Haskell last Friday and Saturday. They reported having enjoyed the institute very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Lefevre made a business trip to Abilene last week. Price Martin went to Abilene the past week end.

Beulah Mae Summers spent a few days last week with her aunt, Mrs. Reising of Rochester.

Miss John L. Summers attended the football game at Haskell last Friday.

Mrs. Frank Batson with her daughter and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith were trading in Stamford last Friday.

Bro. Erwin preached Sunday morning and night at the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bell, with Mr. Frank Bell and wife along with Mrs. E. E. Luck and daughter, spent the past week end in Cleburne with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parsons made a business trip out to Big Spring last week.

Miss Florise Massia entertained the "Willing Workers" Sunday School class with a Halloween party at her home Saturday night Oct. 31. About sixty young people attended the party. There were many different games, with the ghost and witch, along with the old clown, all to make everything merry. A street serenade which took in the town. After all the fun, the late hour approaching, they were served delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cake, punch, candy, everything decorated with the color scheme. The refreshment plates were very attractive with decorations, and small candles, representing electric lights. All who attended expressed a wonderful time, thanking the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Daugherty of Rule spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Lefevre and family. They attended church services while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jan Laughlin with their children, of Rule, spent Sunday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Laughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Ross and baby visited their relatives in Rule Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Engleman and daughter visited in Haskell Saturday.

The M. E. Society will meet at the church Monday evening at 4 p. m. Next Sunday the last Quarterly M. E. Conference of this Circuit will have their conference at Stamford, at the parsonage with the pastor, at 3 p. m. All that can should go.

Since Mr. Coolidge turned magazine writer he had found that economy of words doesn't pay.

FLAT TOP

Grandmother Kainer of Stamford spent Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stremmel and family.

William Reber and son Albert of Old Glory visited relatives of this community Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. August Stremmel and children, Herbert, Annie, Willie and Edwin, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stremmel and children, Emil, Hilda and Lena, and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kainer and son Everett all of this community, attended the Sons of Herman meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Quade and family near Kite Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Mueller had as visitors Sunday, relatives from McCullum county.

Otto Lippe and son Fritz, of Mill county, spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Emil Kainer and family.

Mrs. Emma Lammert and daughters of Sagerton were visitors in the home of Mrs. Mammie Schonertst and family.

Misses Sophia and Bertha Hagerman are spending a few days with relatives of the McConnell community.
