CROP LOAN BLANKS ARE RECEIVED BY LOCAL COMMITTEE

J. G. Mulkey Is Candidate For Tax Assessor

Application blanks have been received by the local crop loan committee and everything is in readiness for taking applications for production loans, which are to be made to the farmers from the $50,000,000 recently appropriated by Congress.

The rules governing the loans are much the same as those used in making drouth loans last year. A first mortgage on the entire crops to be grown by the applicant during 1932 is required; the landlord must waive his interest in the crop to the amount of the loan and also all prior crop mortgages must be waived to the government to the extent of the loan. The maximum amount of the loan is $3.00 per acre and this may be used in purchasing feed, seed and other necessities used for crop production, however, it cannot be used in payment of debts, taxes or interest. The interest rate on the loans is 5% per cent per annum, the note to be made due on or before Nov. 30, 1932.

It is thought by the local committee composed of O. E. Patterson, W. H. Overton and Lynn Pace, that the loans can be secured in a minimum amount of time, due to the fact that the loan office is in Dallas and the benefit derived from last year's loan experience.

The application blanks are now in the county agent's office and plans are being perfected by the committee to assist the applicants in getting them filled out.

Mr. Mulkey is well qualified to fill the position to which he aspires and will make the county a good official if elected. He expects to make a thorough canvass of the county in an effort to see each and every voter, and place his claims for the office before them personally.

In making his announcement Mr. Mulkey issues the following statement regarding his candidacy:

"To the People of Haskell County: "After due consideration I have decided to place my name before the citizens of Haskell county seeking the office of County Tax Assessor.

"I am a young man and have been a resident of Haskell county ever since I returned from the army in June, 1919. I have never before sought a public office and I make no claim as an outstanding economic expert—if I were I'd be asking for a job on Mr. Hoover's staff. However, if I am elected, I pledge myself to cooperate with the county officials in any effort to relieve the citizens of Haskell county from their present tax-burdened situation—keeping in mind that the office belongs to the people of Haskell county, and to the best of my ability render the same courteous service you have been accustomed to in the past.

"It is my wish and intention to meet every voter personally before the July primary, but if I fail to see you please consider this as my earnest appeal for your vote.

Respectfully yours,
J. G. Mulkey"

CLOSER COOPERATION URGED BY HANDING IN NEWS COPY EARLIER

For some time past those having copy for publication in The Free Press have waited until late Wednesday or Thursday morning before bringing it in to the office. This is causing a problem in arranging its publication, and therefore, the Free Press will appreciate closer cooperation from the public.

The Free Press wants every item, however, and makes in some instances these cannot be turned in all the last moment, but where news items are held any Monday or Tuesday, no delay should be had in bringing the copy in to the office early in the week.

The average reader of The Free Press does not understand the workings of a newspaper plant. Especially in smaller towns. It so happens that two runs must be made on the press here; that is, four pages printed on Wednesday and four pages on Thursday. So it can be seen it is quite a job to get enough copy to fill the first four pages when the aim is to print as much local copy as is possible.

Correspondents in the rural communities should strive to have their copy in the mail by Monday, thereby insuring its arrival in The Free Press office by Tuesday at least.

Don't fail to send in your items. Bear this in mind, but just cooperate more closely with The Free Press and it will take matters better for all.

Horn and Trumpet Long Used to Direct Armies

According to the best authorities, it appears that the forerunners of the modern trumpet and bugle were first used for military purposes by the armies of Gideon and Saul of Biblical fame.

The Romans knew very well a fact familiar to modern tactics, that to carry a command amid the tumult of battle or down a long line of march, the penetrating tones of a brazen horn are much more effective than the sound of the human voice.

Only Three Essentials in Food for Steinmetz

Steinmetz' attitude toward food was an example of his simplifying human problems as if they were the private wants of electrical apparatus.

"So," he would say, unwrapping a brown-paper package, "to sustain life the human body requires only three raw materials. Potatoes provide the carbohydrates. Steaks provide the protein.

He never tired of this standardized ration and never could understand why others did.

Frequent Use of Words Spoken Centuries Ago

Among the oldest words in the world are the names of the numbers. When you count from one to ten you are using, with little change in their form, words that were used by ancestors who wore the animal's skins as clothing and lived in the roughest of shelters.

Even when we invent new words we often bring old ones into use without knowing it. It is only about thirty years since moving pictures came in, but as part of the name, "cinematograph," we are using one of the world's oldest words.

Plenty of fresh oysters prepared by Mrs. Robertson, were served with all good eats pertaining to an oyster supper. The refreshment plate of delicious caramel and pecan pie, topped with whipped cream, and hot coffee, were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Stegemoeller, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spitzer, Mr. and Mrs. W. Deadmon, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lambert. Two of the board members were unable to attend, Mr. Heathington and Mr. Shannon. All those who attended had an enjoyable time, and expressed many thanks to the host and hostess for the pleasant evening.

Miss Pearl Deadmon spent the week end at home with her home folks. Miss Pearl has been staying at her grandmother's near Pinkerton. She entertained the young people at her home Saturday night. All who attended had a real good time.

Melvin Lewis is home from the sanitarium and doing very nicely. He went to Abilene one day last week.

Says Maya Civilization Choked Itself to Death

A new explanation of why the great Maya civilization of Central America, undoubtedly the highest of prehistoric America, suddenly faded and vanished, without any obvious reason was suggested to the Washington Academy of Sciences by Dr. C. Wythe Cooke of the United States geological survey, the Literary Digest reports. Says Dr. E. E. Free, in his Week's Science (New York): "The Maya civilization choked itself to death, Doctor Cooke believes, with mud washed from its own hillside corn patches. The former Maya country is marked today, Doctor Cooke reports, by many small, flat plains of sticky clay soil, almost impassable in wet weather. Each of these plains, he believes, once was a small lake, these lakes being connected by streams or by short portages forming a system of water highways as the lakes of North America once did for the canoes of the Indians. The Maya cities, he believes, were built near these lake highways, and maintained by this easy form of transportation. On nearby hillsides, the theory continues, the Maya farmers grew the corn, which was their chief food. In so doing they cut or burned the natural hillside vegetation. The result was that every violent rainstorm washed a part of the hillside soil down into the lakes. Slowly the lakes filled up and the hillsides grew bare. The filling of the lakes blocked the waterways, while erosion of the hillside soils ruined the farms and lowered the nation's supply of food. Finally, Doctor Cooke believes, the entire Maya nation was forced by poverty and famine to migrate to new homes in Yucatan, which is what the historical and other records show that they did."

Witch-Hazel Not Alone Useful as Divining Rod

The witch-hazel derives its name from the magic powers attributed to the slender branches of this small tree or shrub. Many believe that a small branch of the witch-hazel if held lightly while being carried along over the ground will turn toward the earth at a spot where water or gold may be found by digging. It is this divining rod characteristic which has brought it fame. The witch-hazel, however, has some real value to mankind, for from its bark comes a medicament used in liniments for external application. The bark and leaves, which are similar to the leaves of the ordinary hazel, are a source of tannin, which is used in preparation of leather.

The tree is usually found in damp forests where its scrubby growth is stimulated. It is a two-year tree so far as bringing its flowers into bearing, for the clusters of yellow flowers which appear in the fall do not develop into seed until the following spring.

Crown Is Not Old

At every opening of the British parliament the king's crown is brought from the tower of London to the throne room in St. James' palace for the occasion, says the Montreal Family Herald. For this journey it has an escort of yeomen of the guard, and when it is next conveyed to the robing room at Westminster, it is escorted by the household cavalry. It is generally supposed that the imperial state crown of England is one which has been handed down a long line of kings. In fact it was made in 1838, principally of jewels taken from old crowns. It contains a large ruby and a large sapphire, 16 smaller sapphires and four smaller rubies, 11 emeralds, more than 1,000 brilliant and rose diamonds, 147 table diamonds, four drop-shaped pearls and 275 pearls.

Resourceful Prophet

The identity of the present "Old Moore" of almanac fame is carefully hidden, but "I am informed," writes Peter Simple, in the Morning post, "that the tombstone of the original 'Old Moore' is to be seen on the side of the south porch of St. Mary's parish church, Rezeley, Kent." The story goes that "Old Moore" was a resident of that village who made a practice of foretelling some important event for each month of the following year. On one occasion he was in difficulty to prophesy anything for the following July, so he wrote that snow would fall that month—which it did—after that, his reputation as a seer was made.

War on Weeds

Weeds are the railwayman's enemy as well as the gardener's. If left alone they would choke the permanent way as effectively as in like circumstances they would do our flower beds and gravel paths. The British Southern railway made an effective weed-billing train by coupling two old tenders together and fitting them with spray pipes and tanks. A special form of liquid weed killer is used, and the spray pipes have an effective range of about ten feet.

Wisdom

That which we call wisdom is no heritage from our forebears, nor can it be learned in a classroom. It is to be found in the living of life. Maturity of judgment comes when thought has been compassed by knowledge and life tempered by experience.—Grit.

She Dressed Well for $22 Last Year

"It's just as important to save money by spending wisely as to make a larger income," declares Mrs. Will Young, wardrobe demonstrator for the Elm Dale Home Demonstration Club in Taylor county. To prove it she has her clothing account to show that she dressed appropriately last year for $22. She is pictured above fitting a foundation pattern to a neighbor, Mrs. H. R. Clemmer. As wardrobe demonstrator Mrs. Young helps her neighbors select lines and colors and materials suited to their individuality, at lowest cost. A total of 176 Taylor county farm women received similar aid last year from 114 of these community wardrobe demonstrators who in turn have been coached in the art of becoming dress at low cost by Miss Caroline Chambers, home demonstration agent.

"I have found a good clothes closet is very important in keeping clothes looking well and wearing well," Mrs. Young says. "Mine was built out of sheet rock for $1.98 and has been worth many times its cost. I have been able to dress very cheaply because I inventory my clothes once a year, make up a budget, plan and buy carefully, use a foundation pattern, and keep account of my clothing expenses."

Jesselet H. D. Club.

The Jesselet H. D. Club met on March 8th in the home of Miss Mae Cothron with eight members present, and our agent. The house was called to order by our chairman, Mrs. G. R. Couch. Miss Partlow had charge of the meeting. She discussed economical wardrobes, and demonstrated on dress materials and patterns. The meeting was very interesting, and many new thoughts were brought out. After the meeting the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Gene Lancaster, served refreshments of hot chocolate and cake. The next meeting will be with Miss Bonnie Bright, March 22. Ladies don't forget to bring your dozen eggs.

167 MILLION DROP IN FOOD EXPORTS

Greatest Loss in Meats, Says Commerce Chief.

Washington.—Exports of foodstuffs from the United States dropped to a total value of $374,000,000 in 1931, C. H. Kardell of the Commerce department's foodstuff division, announced. The value of foodstuffs exports in 1930 was $541,000,000, a decline of $167,000,000 in a year. The 1931 figures, he said, was on an approximate level with pre-war foodstuff exports, but the decline does not represent loss in quantity so much as decrease in prices.

Trade in cereals and cereal products, meats and fats and oils showed the greatest loss, according to Mr. Kardell, while shipments of fresh, canned and dried fruits, fresh, salted, smoked and cured fish, and feeds and fodders increased considerably.

"The foreign market for fresh fruit," the report stated, "particularly apples, oranges, grapefruit, and lemons continued to show the expansion of past years and in this year of low prices the total value of all fresh fruits exported practically held its own amounting to $50,240,000, compared with $50,008,000 a year ago.

"The total value of grain and grain products exported in 1931 aggregated $106,016,000 and constituted approximately 28 per cent of the total value of all foodstuffs exported compared with 35 per cent in 1930 and 38 per cent in 1929. Wheat and wheat flour combined, comprise about four-fifths of the trade in cereals, with nearly as much wheat exported in 1931 as in 1930. Lower prices, however, resulted in a decline in value of 44.3 per cent. About one-fourth less flour was exported with a decline of 50 per cent in value compared with a year ago.

"Meat products comprised about one-tenth of the value of the food export trade, and show a greater decline compared with a year ago than any other class of foodstuffs. There were approximately 254,000,000 pounds of meats of all kinds exported in 1931, valued at $36,000,000, a decline of 127,000,000 pounds and $20,000,000 compared with 1930. The bulk of the decrease occurred in the bacon trade, which fell off from 94,846,000 pounds in 1930 to 38,428,000 pounds in 1931."

Turk Official Opens Campaign on Vendettas

Istanbul.—The vendetta still flourishes in Turkey, according to Sukru Kaya Bey, minister of the interior.

Sukru's special investigations have disclosed that in the province of Ourfa, on the Syrian frontier, about half of the population of a quarter of a million are obliged by village and tribal custom to keep up vendettas.

Every family has a "debt of blood," and is armed to defend itself. Even if the authorities punish a person for a criminal act against a neighbor, the neighbor's family still will feel themselves bound to inflict a personal revenge.

Sukru discovered that the vendetta habit was equally strong in other frontier provinces. One of the government's first steps to eradicate these customs has been to transfer into European Thrace a whole nomad tribe from the eastern provinces. The tribe, 4,000 strong, traveled across the Black sea, with their flocks and chattels, to their new home.

Where Aged Recluse Burned to Death

Firemen are shown here taking the charred body of Miss Betty Stallworth, 85-year-old Marlin, Texas, recluse from the smoking ruins of her home, in which she burned to death during the cold weather last week. It is believed she set fire to the house by building a big fire in the stove and going back to bed.

When Man Killed Lover and Self

Tangled marriages are being unraveled as the result of the death last week of Sgt. Thomas Z. Lane, Houston recruiting officer, and Mrs. Bernice Palmore, whom Lane introduced to friends as his wife. Officers believe that Lane shot Mrs. Palmore, then himself, because she threatened to go back to her husband. Pictured above is Mrs. Palmore where she fell on the sidewalk in front of their Houston home after Lane shot her. She died a few minutes after the photo was taken.

Good Program at Texas Theatre All Next Week

The coming week's program at the Texas Theatre promises to be one of the best that has been shown at the local playhouse in many moons. The patrons of this popular theatre will not want to miss a single program.

Opening Friday "Riders of the Purple Sage" will be the feature picture and continue through Saturday. This is a Zane Grey story, which in itself assures the program to be good. It was filmed in the picturesque Verde Valley of Arizona by the Fox Corporation and features a notable cast headed by George O'Brien, Marguerette Churchill, Noah Berry and others. This is said to be one of the best Western pictures shown here in some time. Monday and Tuesday "Blonde Crazy" the Warner Bros. picture featuring James Cagney and Blondell—is dominated by the use that gentlemen are said to prefer. This is a rapid fire picture, plenty of action. The adventures give this picture as one of the best that has been shown here in season.

Wednesday and Thursday "The Hari" the famous World War picture featuring Greta Garbo, George Raft and Ramon Novarro is said to be one of the greatest pictures of a year.

The Texas management is showing some of the best pictures that can be purchased, and the bookings include a program of pictures during the next few weeks that cannot be excelled by the houses in the larger cities.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Daugherty left Thursday for Harlingen. They will return next Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Oates and son, Kenneth of Graham are visiting friends and relatives here.

Firmly ensconced in his make-shift house, a squatter has taken up his abode on an island created by mud and shells thrown up by a dredge at the second entrance in the breakwater at Corpus Christi, Texas, and says he will homestead the island, rapidly becoming larger. The island is in front of the main section of the city, and will eventually become very valuable. City officials are taking steps to evict the squatter, who refuses to give his name.

PIED PIPER LURES EUROPE'S GHOSTS

Modestly Admits He Has Way With Wraiths.

London.—A modern pied piper, who lures ghosts instead of rats, has all the engagements he can handle these days. He is Robert King of Hempstead, and he travels about Europe ridding haunted houses of their wraiths, casting out devils and other such odd jobs. King modestly admits that he has a way with ghosts. "First I diagnose the cause," he said, "and if it is caused by a dead person, I attempt to cleanse the room. Disturbances can be broken up by a stream of concentrated thought that has the same action as a pin on a bubble. This stream is fortified by a religious ritual. King recently was called to a house. Its occupants sensed a peculiar atmosphere, one of depression and extreme sadness. He was told there also were mysterious knocks, creaks and shadows. "I stayed in the hall alone," said King. "Soon I sensed a disturbance that was like a current of air. I followed it. It led me to a room at the top of the stairs. There was the center of the psychic disturbance. It was tremendous, a kind of epileptic storm. The room was saturated with violent feeling, rage and murderous hate. "I was able to visualize the cause. I discovered that a woman had been murdered by her husband. I saw him kill her. She had betrayed him. He had discovered her sin. "Having discovered the origin of the malevolent feeling, I set about to cleanse it. The spirits left the room. The house became healthy again. There were no more knocks or creaks."

Gold Smuggled Out of Egypt by Camel Convoys

Calro.—New drama in the form of gold smuggling by camel convoys has come to the Egyptian deserts and caused the camel caravans to redouble its vigilance in its new task of helping to enforce the government's gold ban export. A considerable quantity of the $74,000,000 gold in Egypt, mostly hoarded by the peasants, has been smuggled out of the country since the government abandoned the gold standard in September. The burning sands of the Sinai desert have resounded to the crunch of camel convoys pursued by the camel corps. Large hauls have been made, but many big convoys have gotten through to Palestine and thence to Syria, where the gold is sold to French agents. Most of the gold left in Egypt is in the possession of the peasants in the form of coins, ingots, and ornaments. Many have felt the lure of the high price of gold now being offered in Europe and have sold their belongings to speculators. The Arabs in Transjordan and the Hedjaz, who were paid in gold by the British government in reward for their services during the World war, are known to be disposing of their hoardings.

Culture of Indians Is Traced to Old World

Berkeley, Calif.—In spite of the extreme variety and dissimilarity of Indian languages in North and South America, there is evidence in their tribal initiations and secret society ceremonies to show that originally their culture was derived from the Old world, and that since that time their spiritual and mystic life has been dominated by the ancient civilization of the Mayas in Central America. These conclusions are reached by Dr. Edwin Loeb, lecturer on anthropology at the University of California, in an article entitled "The Religious Organizations of North Central California and Tierra Del Fuego."

Bride Freed From Sleep-Walking Mate

Berlin.—A Berlin bride has obtained a divorce on novel grounds. She had been very happily married a few weeks when one night she awakened terrified to see a white apparition on top of a wardrobe. Switching on the light she was amazed to find that her husband had clambered up there in his sleep. When the next night he repeated the performance she packed her bags and returned to her mother. It transpired that he was addicted to wandering in his sleep at the time of full moon, and the court ruled that he should have informed his wife of that fact before he married her.

A thoroughbred stallion was received in Haskell Tuesday night from the Government Remount Station at Fort Reno, Oklahoma. The stallion's name is Westerman, and his sire was Aldrim. Both have been famous racing stallions and Westerman is a proven sire of good colts.

Many people realize that a shortage of good horses in the U. S. now exists. The government recognizes this also, and is willing to go to the expense of placing horses in certain suitable locations free of charge. The government will not accept horses weighing less than 1000 pounds and prefers them from 15 hands to 16 hands, 2 inches in height. Horses that are good enough for government use are paid for at the rate of $165 per head.

Westerman will be kept at the Haskell Horse and Mule Barn and will be in charge of Ben F. Roberts. Officials of the Remount Station will only allow 50 mares to be bred to Westerman and therefore a charge of $4 per mare must be made. It was at first thought that $3 would take care of the expense but at that time it was thought the stallion could take care of 65 mares. If a mare fails to get in foal she may be tried again.

People who are interested in breeding mares to Westerman should communicate with H. K. Henry, teacher of Agriculture of Haskell at once. Only mares that will bring colts that measure up to government standards will be allowed to breed. The last one requested may be the first one selected, because of the superior type of the mare. Breeding fees may be paid in feed or money but the fee must be paid on or before the day of breeding. Arrangements to pay with feed may be made with Ben F. Roberts.

Westerman was secured through the efforts of H. K. Henry, teacher of Agriculture of Haskell. Shipment was made immediately after the visit last Monday of H. K. Henry and R. C. Lowe to the Remount Station at Fort Reno, Oklahoma.

JUST SOME OLD MAN

Who is dead?
Did you ever ask that question when you heard the tolling of the church bell?
And if you did, did you receive the answer:
"Oh, it's some old man."
Yes, just some old man.
Even his face is no longer remembered.
His face may or may not have been familiar upon the streets of the town he inhabited.
He was just an old man.
Ah, the irony of fate.
It is not long since the old man you bury today was young, ambitious, and just as handsome as you are.
He, too, then replying, "Oh, some old man."
The same old query and the same old answer.
Generation after generation it is "just some old man."
Some day you too will be "some old man."
Just some old man.
It does not seem possible, does it?
It certainly can't be that you, the handsome, well dressed, perfectly groomed, smart, clever, cunning cock-of-the-walk will be "just some old man."
Well, we'll admit that it does not seem probable and that Providence should make an exception in your case.
But the exception won't be made.
Nature is as exact as the multiplication table.
And Providence has pretty much gone out of the exception business. So you better make up your mind that some day you will be just some old man.
"Oh, it's so disagreeable."
Yes, we know but we can't change it.
So when you hear the church bells tolling and you ask: "Who is it?" and the answer comes back "some old man" just say to yourself: "There's my funeral if I live a few years more."
Yes, there it goes.
See how they hurry!
They want to get the old man stored away as quickly as possible, that they may go back to their business and their pleasure.
The casket is lowered. The minister says "Dust to dust."
It's all over and the crowd scrambles home again.
"When are they burying today?" you ask, as you see the empty hearse return.
"Oh, some old man."
When you hear that just say to yourself, "some day I'll be that 'Some old man'."
Yes, in spite of all the fuss and all the feathers, you will be just some old man.—Gunnar Bjornson in Minnesota, Minnesota, Mascot.

APPEAL TO UNDERWORLD

Citizens of the United States stand aghast as the nation-wide search for the Lindbergh infant has thus far proven futile, and the grief-stricken parents have been constrained to negotiate for the freedom of their kidnaped baby through two underworld go-betweens from New York City.

While the parents of the abducted infant should not be censured, it is a sad commentary on the authorities that the victims of this cruel outrage have had to appeal to the underworld.

The underworld, waxing bolder and bolder, has become a sinister oligarchy against which no person or thing seems secure. The average American city politics permit police and crime to rule in an unholy alliance. The underworld supports the politicians who in turn protect gangsterism.

Under these shameful conditions, crime has flourished, and now stalks the land with the most malicious boldness. It is a most sinister picture for which public apathy and political corruption are to blame. If this crime does not shock the public into action against the growing menace of lawlessness nothing else can.

Meanwhile the heart of the nation throbs with the thought of the lost child and its grief-stricken parents.

A CENTURY'S ADVANCE

From the advent of the railroad until the beginning of practical aerial transportation there elapsed approximately a century. The mighty advances of science and invention in between these epochal events were so great as to tax the imagination. Within the span of these hundred years a thousand marvels have been born, which it would take months of research to enumerate and describe. A few are jotted down off-hand.

Railroads, steel ships, perfected cotton gins, the telegraph, the telephone, the phonograph, the sewing machine, anaesthetic, the X-ray, radium, motion pictures, automobiles, radio, aircraft, television and many others, together with innumerable improvements and refinements which have been added to the original inventions and discoveries.

The advance of the past hundred years appears all the more remarkable when we reflect that mankind has lived and labored under some sort of civilization 10,000 years. The achievements of the last century have been greater than those of all the hundred centuries which preceded it.

These achievements will be strikingly portrayed by the big fair to be held in Chicago next year in celebration of "a century of progress."

THE BEST RISK

When you read in a paper or magazine that during 1930 $945,000,000 was tied up in closed banks, don't jump at the conclusion that the $945,000,000 was lost. Experience shows that since 1854 closed banks have paid back to depositors approximately 90 per cent of their total deposits. This average is ten times as much as ordinarily paid to creditors in commercial failures. Stockholders in closed banks usually lose, but depositors rarely lose more than a small per cent. After all, your bank is still the best risk.

Four Day Notice to Move

Snapshots

The Lindberghs have lost none of their grip on the heart of the nation. The kidnaping of Baby Lindbergh even crowded the Sino-Jap war off the front page.

Over in England where kidnaping is unknown, the Briton wonders what kind of people we are to allow baby stealing to become a profitable racket.

The most provoking husband is the one who talks indistinctly in his sleep.

Some fellows consider that persuading their banker to renew a loan is a good day's work.

An economist is one of those superior fellows who tell us when we are in the middle of a bad fix.

There is little danger of being struck by lightning or a new idea.

If you don't think you are better than your neighbor you have an inferiority complex.

An educator advances the novel idea that school children should be taught how to spell.

Fewer college girls are marrying, a survey reveals, which may indicate that higher education improves the judgment.

Maybe Cain would have turned out better if Mother Eve had been up on her child psychology.

It appears that every nation represented at Geneva is strong for disarmament for the other fellows.

A politician's success depends to a great extent upon his ability to recognize the bandwagon at first sight.

Japan says she'll quit fighting if the Chinese withdraw from Shanghai. If the Japanese would withdraw from Shanghai it probably would end the war, too.

Foreigners in China will do well if they make a dash for the "open door" that opens outward.

The modern test of statesmanship is to devise a new and relatively painless tax.

Some politicians are more concerned over getting credit for relief measures than in getting the relief itself.

Gambling is said to be a common weakness, which may account for a lot of marriages.

Excuse It Please
A fellow dialed his home telephone number.

"Hello," he said, "Is that Mrs. Brown?"

"Yes," she said.

"This is Jack speaking. I say, dear, will it be all right if I bring home a couple of fellows to dinner?"

"Certainly, darling."

"Did you hear what I said?"

"Yes—you asked if you could bring home a couple of fellows to dinner. Of course you can, dear."

"Sorry, madam," he said as he hung up. "I've got the wrong Mrs. Brown."

Jack—When I was around twenty one I made up my mind to get rich.

Vaughan—And yet you're not rich.

Jack—No, I decided it was a lot easier to change my mind than my fortune.

Triple-Entry Bookkeeping

A New Yorker was examining an applicant for a job of bookkeeping. "Of course, you understand double-entry?" he said. "Sure," said the applicant. "The last place I had I kept the books triple entry—one set for the boss, showing the real profits; a second set for the shareholders, showing no profits; and a third set for the income tax people, showing a loss."

They Understood Willie

Auntie—Do you ever play with bad little boys?
Willie—Yes, Auntie.
Auntie—Why, Willie? Why don't you play with good little boys?
Willie—Their mothers won't let me.

When the young husband reached home from the office he found his wife in tears.
"Oh, John," she sobbed on his shoulder. "I had baked a lovely cake and I put it out on the back porch for the frosting to dry, and the dog ate it."
"Well, don't cry about it, sweetheart," he consoled. "I know a man who will give us another dog."

Dr. Moore—You know married men make much better patients than single men?

Nurse—Why do you say that?
Dr. Moore—Because they are used to taking orders.

The fellow who buys haphazard—or the one who puts his everyday purchasing on a business basis?

The latter, of course. He is the one who reads the advertisements and discovers just where he can buy what he wants.

Four Texas Army Posts May Not Be Closed

Here are the four Texas Army posts which the Federal War department ordered closed this spring, which through the efforts of Texas Senator Tom Connally and Texas Representative R. E. Thomas will remain in use at least until January 1, 1933. Upper left shows Fort McIntosh at Laredo; upper right is Fort D. A. Russell at Marfa; lower left is Fort Clark at Brackettville; lower right is Fort Brown at Brownsville. Protest from these cities that protection was needed along the Mexican border and that the towns would lose revenue of the posts were the reasons for not abandoning the forts. The cities succeeded in having the abandonment order permanently set aside.

Plaintiff alleges that Dan Oatsmith and Eula Mae Oatsmith are husband and wife; that on the 4th day of March, 1929, the defendant, Eula Mae Oatsmith, executed and delivered to the defendant Neal her certain six vendor lien notes, each for the principal sum of $437.50, one due on or before January 1, 1930, and one due annually thereafter until all are paid; that all of said notes were executed by said defendant, Eula Mae Oatsmith, as a part of the purchase money for the following described land situated in Haskell County, Texas, to-wit: Being 50 acres of land and known as the North one-half of the West one-half of the North one-half of Subdivision No. 2 of the Red River County School Land, League No. 71, Patent No. 545, Abst.
