Buchstein of near Rule has netted $45.15 income during the months of June, July and August or $15.05 per month with egg prices ranging from 7 to 12 1/2 cents per dozen. Much of the profit was due to the sale of fryers and older fowls. She believes that culling the flock, adding young pullets to the flock and treating for lice and worms necessary steps in production and as a result her flock is in excellent condition for fall production.

NEWS FROM OVER WEST TEXAS

Balls Youths Effect Rescue At Lake Tuesday

From the Ralls Banner.

What would undoubtedly have been a tragedy was narrowly averted by a couple of Ralls youths at the swimming pool, Silver Falls Lake, near Crosbyton Tuesday. Mrs. Hettie Smith, of Crosbyton was "padding" around in the pool in an inter tube, being unable to swim. In some manner she got loose from the tube and was unable to reach the rock that was nearby. Arnett Ware, age 14, and Estral McElroy, age 16, who with some more Ralls lads were spending the day at the lake, perceived her plight, and jumped in the lake and swam to her rescue. They were able to pull her to safety and to revive her.

These young men have received life-saving instruction through the Boy Scout and Red Cross organizations, both being members of the Red Cross Junior Life Saving Corps and having merit badges in the same line in their Scout work. Estral has already received his Eagle Scout badge, and Arnett is slated to receive his at the next Court of Honor.

A larger order will be delivered at the end of the season. These fish for stocking the lake were secured through the efforts of the City Council in co-operation with Sen. Ben G. O'Neal of Wichita Falls. The order to be delivered later in the season will be the same as this order. It is the ambition of the City Council to make the local lake one of the best fishing places in West Texas and they are doing much to accomplish their purpose.

Chillicothe Valley Fair, Begins September 17th.

Chillicothe Valley News.

Chillicothe's first annual community fair will become a reality next Thursday morning, September 17, when the doors of the exhibit buildings are thrown open.

Because of the necessity of increasing the quality of agricultural cropland, and realizing this the method to encourage competition, the Chamber of Commerce of Chillicothe, sponsor of the event, began the first steps toward its realization, later to be taken up by directors appointed from eleven communities, and right on the eve of the first fair of this kind community exhibitors are "prancing" to get started.

From all indications the largest crowd to ever come to Chillicothe at one time will be here, and plans have been made accordingly. Aside from the agricultural exhibits which will gain much interest, the rodeo and other entertainment features carded during the fair are expected to play a great part in bringing many thousands here, coming as far away as Wichita Falls on the east to as far west as Childress. (Odell) will send a great representation from that city, and it is believed a great number will come from Crowell on the south side. The communities will be represented just about 100 per cent.

Road Topping Is Now Being Done.

From the Baylon County Banner.

The Morgan Construction Company has moved in and the force is busy laying the finishing surface on highways No. 30 and 23, to the Knox and Throckmorton county lines. This company made a deal with the firm that got the other contract, so that the Morgan company is carrying out both of them.

It is going to be a swiftness in finishing these two contracts. Rock is being placed alongside the road, and when asphalt laying starts it will not be long until it is completed. Rock for the Bomarton road will all be placed this week, and asphalt laying will begin next week.

The company has its crusher and is crushing rock for the contract. Amarillo has the largest highway underpass in Texas. It is seven hundred and seventy feet long, connects two main portions of the city and carries the traffic of eight state highways. Three hundred carloads of steel and concrete were consumed in its construction, and it cost a quarter of a million dollars.

Open Subsoil Best for Growing Apples

Commands Moisture and Plant Food Necessary.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
With thousands of acres of land well suited to apple growing lying idle, many growers in the Ozark region of southwestern Missouri and northwestern Arkansas are trying to produce apples on land that is not adapted to the purpose, according to A. T. Sweet of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The situation arises from the fact that apple trees do not grow well, produce abundantly, or live as long as they should on soil that has a tight subsoil. Where there is an open subsoil the trees send their roots deep down into it for moisture and plant food. In order to make use of the level areas, growers have often selected orchard sites which have a tight subsoil when there was plenty of the more desirable land near.

In a study of the relation between subsoil conditions and growth of apple trees in the Ozarks, Mr. Sweet found that a twenty-year-old tree often commands the moisture and food of at least 5,000 cubic feet of soil if the subsoil is open and porous. He also found that root diseases are in many places an accompaniment of bad subsoil conditions.

Pear Blight Confronts Orchardist in Autumn

Leaves that fall in autumn will be the orchardist's assurance that pear blight confronts him. In the worst recurrence of the bacterial disease since 1914, the new epidemic is strongest in the eastern half of the United States, but extends from coast to coast, says Dr. M. B. Waite, principal pathologist of the bureau of plant industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

It is the queer retention of dead leaves by which farmers and orchardists will spot diseased branches and leaves in their clean-up work. The disease also attacks apple trees and quinces. The best control methods are cutting off and burning the diseased branches and cutting up the affected areas in the bark of limbs and trunks. Care must be taken that all tools and the wounds made by them be disinfected by a solution of corrosive sublimate to prevent spread of the disease.

Fair Price for Silage Hard Matter to Figure

Because silage does not enter generally into trade, there is no widely accepted method of figuring its value. Such a plan would be helpful, however, since silage is one of the leading cattle feeds and is often sold in quantities to neighbors, by farmers who have a surplus.

Analysis shows that good corn silage contains approximately one-third as many nutrients, by weight, as high grade mixed hay. In this case a fair price for silage can be computed by taking a third of the market price per ton for hay. If the price of hay is unusually low or high, the value of silage may be figured by allowing from four to five bushels of grain, and about 500 pounds of dry stover per ton of ensilage. This price will usually compare closely with that obtained by taking one-third the price of hay.

Gypsy Ramblers.

This is just to let you know that we Gypsy Ramblers have not died but are still on the map and are planning big things. During the summer we almost went to sleep but now we're wide awake and just as peppy as ever.

We had a meeting September 9 and attended to some business. We also voted in some new members. They are: Lucile Roberts, Bernice Willman, Odell Williamson, Elizabeth Stewart, Dorothy Sego, Marcella Prater, Beatrice Moser, Lillian Harrow, Josie Bell Wadzick, Ava Grindstaff, Rozelle Jones, Ollie Hester, Mildred Grissom, Virginia Williams and Marguerite Anderson. A grand hike was enjoyed by all who took part Monday September 14th. We donned our blue overalls, white shirts and red bandanas and hiked to Sander's windmill where we had a good time. A good picnic supper was prepared and eaten with much appetite. We were only sorry that we couldn't eat more.

After supper we initiated the new members and about sun set we started home. We were very glad to have had with us some of the organizers of our club also.

What will it be,
 Skipper....

SAIL or STEAM

An Old Sea Captain once said "Any windjammer can ride out a storm with the hatches battened down and the sails clewed up; but it takes a steamship to ride out a dead calm."

The steamship captain doesn't wait for trade winds to blow him into the Port of Profits. He musters those trade winds with the driving power of live steam...piles fuel under his advertising boilers... starts his craft towards Profits and usually reaches port before the old-fashioned skippers have spread their sails for an occasional buying breeze.

Becalmed on a glassy sea today, business will eventually be favored by that buying breeze. But why wait for it? The powerful engines of NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING are ready and waiting to stir up the unruffled expanse of buying-indifference. And fuel is cheap... much cheaper than marking time while some wiser navigator gets to port ahead of you.

Put more steam behind your efforts

COTTON ON THE BARGAIN COUNTER

"Cotton is once again on the bargain counter," according to Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas.

The price might go a little lower under pressure, but it is considerably below bulk line cost of production and in the long run, a good investment," Dr. Cox said. "A number of factors have contributed to the deplorable situation. The most important of these have been the very bad business conditions which have prevailed for nearly two years, the unprecedented supply which is the result of the coincidence of a record world carryover of American cotton of 9,000,000 bales and the very large crop of 15,584,000 bales estimated for this year, and finally the uncertainty prevailing in the cotton market itself due to many causes such as the Farm Board and its policy in disposing of its already large holding, uncertainty as to the extent Congress may attempt to limit the free operation of markets, and uncertain political conditions in a large part of the world.

"The United States Government's estimate of 15,584,000 bales of 500 pounds gross for the United States was perhaps 1,500,000 bales more than was expected. That many traders were of the opinion that the estimate was too high is attested by the fact that the decline in price was not in proportion to the indicated increase in supply over private estimates. The Government estimate of production for Texas was 4,098,000 bales, the third largest crop on record for Texas.

POOR RADIO PROGRAMS

It must be obvious to the most casual radio listener that the standard of programs, which has never been high, is steadily deteriorating. One recent writer declares, with rather convincing argument to back his contention, that radio is committing suicide.

While it may be true that there may still be heard a few high class programs, if one will exercise due diligence in picking them out, for the most part the offerings on the air are not worth listening to by anyone possessing intelligence above that of a moron.

Regardless of individual tastes most persons buy radio sets for the purpose of entertainment. The form of entertainment most suitable for radio is music, especially instrumental music. Speeches, lectures and so-called educational features may appeal to some, but all these are available in unlimited quantity by means of the printed page.

Then there are the long-winded advertising harangues which appear to be constantly increasing in length and stupidity. How any business concern can expect to build good will through such inflections on a long suffering public is hard to understand.

BANKERS ON ADVERTISING

Bankers are hard-headed business men, basing their deductions on proven facts, and the following published in the American Bankers Magazine, is sound advice:

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a 2-line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at a paper. This is the best possible town advertiser. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

THERE IS NO DOUBT ABOUT IT

"A newspaper that carries a good line of advertisement is to the shopper what the time table is to the tourist," advises the Nowata Star. It is also a fact "busy people study these advertisements in the home or in the office and before they start shopping they know where they are going."

Along the Way

A news dispatch tells of a store that is selling books by the pound. What a chance to lay in a supply of light fiction.

It is said there are three million golf players in the country. In fact they admit it themselves.

Why take life too seriously? You'll never get out of it alive.

Prepared For the Worst

Young Husband: "Sweetheart, what did you do with that rubber plant Aunt Jennie gave us?"

Wife: "Why, honey, I put it upstairs in the window. Why do you ask?"

Young Husband: "Oh, no reason at all. I was just wondering what you put in this salad."

Logical Enough

Guest: "Look here! How long must I wait for the half portion of duck I ordered?"

Waiter: "Till somebody orders the other half. We can't go out and kill half a duck."

A Bad Sign

"Is Jim a liar?"

"Well, I don't know as I would go so far as to call him a liar, but I'll tell you this much, when feeding time comes, his pigs won't stir until he gets someone else to call them for him."

The Quality of Mercy

A Feminine Foible

The hired girl had been sent down to the brook to fetch a pail of water, but stood gazing at the flowing stream, apparently lost in thought.

"What's she waiting for?" asked her mistress, who was watching.

"Dunno," wearily replied her husband. "Perhaps she hasn't seen a pailful she likes yet."

Resigned to Her Fate

A wealthy old lady was very ill and sent for a lawyer to make her will. "I wish to explain to you," she said weakly, "about disposing of my property."

The lawyer was sympathetic. "There, there, don't worry about it," he said smoothly. "Just leave it all to me."

"Oh, well," squeaked the old lady, "I suppose I might as well. You'll get it anyway."

Twenty Years Ago Today—1911

Miss Mabel Elliott of Anson visited her cousin J. E. Walling the first of the week.

Last Saturday Virgil Hudson gave a splendid demonstration of his skill with a rope. While sitting on his horse at the corner of Hughes and Clark streets, Mrs. Byson's buggy horse got loose from her with the buggy and came tearing from the west side down Hughes street. Mr. Hudson got his rope down and as the horse came to the corner of the square he turned south on Clark street—he gave chase and made a throw and caught the runaway horse by the neck with the rope and slowly checked the runaway without injury to the buggy or horse. Mr. Hudson was riding a good cowhorse and did the thing so skillfully a cheer went up from the crowd that had collected.

Miss Mabel and Fannie Baldwin and Mamie Odell will leave today for Ft. Worth to attend Texas Christian University.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Carlisle have returned from a family reunion in Dickens County.

Miss Ruth Veasey left the early part of the week to attend Simmons College at Abilene.

Mrs. A. P. McGregor who has been visiting her sons A. W. and Chas. McGregor, returned to her home at Waco Wednesday night.

Thirty Years Ago Today—1901

R. D. C. Stephens has a new daughter at his house. The young lady arrived Thursday evening, weighing 10 pounds. Riley says that he would have 4 boys now if it had not happened that they are all girls.

T. C. Dodson our assistant post master left Thursday morning on a visit to his parents at Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. J. S. Rike and daughter Miss Lillie left Wednesday morning to visit relatives at Farmersville.

Because it has access to such a remarkable film library, Pathe included a brief but comprehensive pictorial history of the war in its production, "Beyond Victory," as a prologue to the dramatic story. Thousands of ex-service men will be able to see themselves on the screen

If you've never rolled your own with P.A. you've missed a smoke trick. Just spread some of that smooth rolling, smooth smoking Prince Albert in a makin's paper. Then go ahead and roll the best little cigarette that ever took form in your fingers. So quick and easy...

Notice how Prince Albert stays put in the making, without fuse or muss. That's because P. A. is crimp-cut.

Cool as a cucumber right off the ice. Sweet as a melon from the same place. Mild as a sisterly kiss.

Do you like a pipe? You will with P.A. for packing. The most contented bunch of pipe-smokers in the world will tell you that pipes were born for just such tobacco. Men who were pipe-shy for years have found that they can smoke a pipe now...and enjoy it. You try it!

You Can Make Your Own Electric Rate

Your true electric rate is not the amount paid per kilowatt-hour for service used on the first or top step—but the net average cost per kilowatt-hour for all current consumed. Residential customers of the West Texas Utilities Company paid, during 1930, an average of only 6.5c per kilowatt-hour—and those customers using an electric range and electric refrigerator received service at an average rate of approximately 4c per kilowatt-hour!

The statement, then, that "you can make your own electric rate" is obviously true, for the more you take advantage of the many conveniences and comforts of electric service, the more inexpensive your service will become. The addition of new Electrical Services will reduce your average cost per kilowatt-hour and bring you new comforts and conveniences worth far more than the slight cost of the additional service required.

The average residential customer now uses fifty kilowatt-hours per month. He could increase his service to three times that amount and only increase his total bill by approximately 10c a day.

Investigate the possibilities of complete household electrification. You will be surprised to find the equipment exceedingly moderate in first cost, and the operating expense ridiculously low.
