J. H. (Cotton) Zahn Victim With Possible Motive Blank Mystery

John H. (Cotton) Zahn, 31, prominent young farmer living ten miles north of Haskell died at his home Wednesday night at 11:30 o'clock from the effects of strychnine poisoning, self-administered according to statements of a physician and other relatives made to a physician and officers.

Zahn's young wife, hysterical, told that her husband took something from a small bottle something around 11 o'clock while standing near a cistern on the outside of the house. He then walked around the back of the house, she said, and entered a front door, going directly to his bedroom and throwing himself across the bed.

Mrs. Zahn had retired about 10:30, she said, after she and her husband had waited until that time for expected friends from Haskell. She and their small daughter, Frances, and another small girl visiting Frances, saw Zahn near the cistern through an open window, and shortly after he had entered his bedroom his wife called and asked why he had not extinguished the lamp in his room.

Receiving no reply, she went to the bedside of her husband and noticed him deathly sick and in the throes of convulsions.

Dr. Albert Thornton, Rochester physician, was summoned immediately, but the stricken man had died before his arrival, without advancing any explanation of his act. No motive for the rash act could be advanced by members of his family.

Mrs. Zahn told relatives and officers that on Monday of this week, a small bottle containing strychnine was found in her husband's clothes, and that when she queried him regarding possession of the poison, he advanced the explanation that he had purchased it to poison dogs.

Officers indicated that no formal inquest would be held. The remains were brought to Kinney Funeral Home and prepared for burial. Rites will be (Continued On Page Eight)

Announcement of Rule Commemorated In Special Edition

Commemorating the 30th anniversary of the founding of Rule, the special issue of the Rule Review week heralded the event.

The newspaper, in eight sections, presented a number of articles dealing with persons and places as they affected the founding, growth, and development of the county, and its trade territory, together with several stories dealing with early days in Haskell.

Mr. E. B. Harris, who has been at the helm of the Review since 1919, and his assistant editor, Harris, their son, E. B. Harris, were congratulated on their initiative in publishing the special issue.

Foundation for a six-room residence of native stone to be erected by J. L. Tubbs on the Tubbs farm west of Haskell to replace a frame building recently destroyed by fire.

John P. Payne, Haskell druggist, has also contracted for a six-room brick veneer residence three blocks northwest of the square, and construction work has been under way for the past three weeks.

The old Arthur Edwards residence just north of the new Grammar School has been razed and Mr. Edwards has contracted for a new modern residence of native rock, on which work has already been started.

Among the number of remodeling projects in the various residence sections of Haskell, to District Attorney Grindstaff goes credit for almost a one-man "building boom". Mr. Grindstaff recently purchased a number of dwellings, and to date has remodeled eight of them into modern and convenient residences.

Haskell Co. Farmers Urged to Have Representation At Meet Sept. 12

Farmers of Haskell County are urged to attend and participate in a district-wide Farmers' Meeting to be held at Wichita Falls, Texas on September 12th. The meeting is one of 12 to be held in Texas during the latter part of August and through September, under the auspices of the Texas Agricultural Association and through the co-operation of the A. & M. College Extension Service.

Purpose of the meetings is to further acquaint farmers and their wives with the national agricultural program, to discuss the importance of stronger farm organization and legislation affecting agriculture and to sell more thoroughly, business and professional men on the value of an adequate agricultural program to business as well as farmers.

Although the meeting at Wichita Falls will extend over a period of two days, the second, Sept. 12th, will be devoted exclusively to farmers, while the first day, Sept. 11th will be confined to meeting of speakers with civic and business bodies of Wichita Falls and surrounding towns.

Heading the list of prominent speakers to appear on both programs is Dr. R. H. Montgomery, nationally known agricultural (Continued On Page Eight)

Farmers Eligible For Feed Loan For Livestock

A recent Administration Order received by the local office of the Resettlement Administration makes Haskell county farmers eligible to receive livestock feed loans. The local office in this city is now receiving applications for feed and winter pasturage loans, according to R. E. Skipworth, district supervisor for Haskell, Knox, Throckmorton and Stonewall counties.

As announced in last week's paper, the Resettlement Office is also receiving applications for loans to farmers to sow 1936-37 grain crops.

It is suggested that anyone anticipating the need of such loans who cannot obtain credit from local banks or the Production Credit Association, that they call at the Resettlement Office, Haskell, Texas, for full information, and inasmuch as it requires a period of some two or three weeks to obtain a loan, it would be proper to make applications in advance of their needs.

A shift in assignment of teachers for the different grades will likely be made, school officials announced.

WOMAN CHARGED IN MURDER OF INFANT

Decomposed Body Found in Field Near O'Brien Wednesday Night

A complaint charging murder was filed by Haskell county officers Thursday against Mrs. Mary Culbert, thirty-year old resident of O'Brien following the discovery late Wednesday afternoon of the badly decomposed body of an infant in a plowed field in the outskirts of O'Brien.

Two youths, Bill Walsh and his brother-in-law first discovered the object shortly after dusk last night and Walsh told his father, Hugh Walsh who notified officers at Haskell.

County Attorney Ben Charlie Chappman and Deputy Sheriffs Mart Clifton and Ollie Kittley immediately went to O'Brien and launched an investigation and Dr. D. C. Eiland was summoned from Knox City to conduct an autopsy. The two young men who first came across the body told officers that a heavy concrete stone was lying on the infant's crushed skull, which they had pushed aside to get a full glimpse of the body. The blood-stained rock had apparently been dropped on the small body, breaking every bone in the skull.

Autopsy revealed the body to be that of a "full term male infant" Dr. Eiland stated, and in addition to the head wounds there were lacerations about the back, left side, left arm and forearm and the left thigh and leg. The physician also stated that examination revealed the infant had lived for a short time after birth.

Grid Hopefuls Put Thru Paces Past Few Days

Prospective members of the '36 Haskell Indians have been getting a foretaste of what to expect on the gridiron in the way of punishment to muscles and endurance during the past few days, with Coach Bill Richey directing intensive workouts daily.

Richey had issued a call for the first workout to be held Monday afternoon, and between twenty and twenty-five boys responded—and have been coming back for "more" each afternoon.

Several seasoned lettermen are missing this year, but fans are encouraged in the belief that the 1936 edition of Indians will compare favorably with any in the district.

Man Wounded By Hijackers Near Guthrie Monday

J. A. George, 58, King county liquor package store operator who was shot and seriously wounded Monday night by hijackers who attempted to hold up his store, was reported in a favorable condition today at a Paducah hospital.

George was the victim of what officers believe to be a planned hold-up of several liquor stores and beer parlors Monday night. His attackers fled after George's son wrestled a weapon from one of the bandits. A similar foray was made by the hijackers later at another King county resort.

First of the hold-ups occurred at midnight at the George liquor package store on the King-Cottle county line, 15 miles north of Guthrie, where J. A. George, 58, proprietor, was shot in the abdomen. The second occurred two hours later at a beer stand at the King county line, west of Benjamin, where 32 cases of beer, a rifle, a revolver and $12 in cash were taken.

George, who was sleeping in front of his store, was accosted by one of two men who alighted from a light coupe, he told officers (Continued On Page Eight)

Water Minimum of 7,000 Gallons Still In Effect

Welcome news for water consumers of Haskell was contained in the announcement made Wednesday by Mayor F. G. Alexander that the allowance of 7,000 gallons at the minimum rate of $1.50 per month would be continued through the month of September.

Ordinarily, the minimum is set at 3,000 gallons monthly, but during the summer months for several years it has been hiked an additional 4,000 gallons.

Decision to allow the larger amount for the current month was made in order that property owners may be enabled to keep lawns and premises beautiful at a nominal cost during the prevailing drought.

Work Placing Five-Eighths Mile Track in Shape to Start Immediately

Automobile racing will be revived as a major attraction this year for the Central West Texas Fair and Centennial Jubilee, and will bring to Haskell a number of the fastest automobiles and drivers of the southwest in their only appearance in this section of the state on October 21 and 22—first two days of the Fair.

Staging of the automobile races this year was approved at a meeting of fair association directors Monday night, when final plans were drafted for this year's exposition.

Haskell at one time boasted one of the fastest dirt tracks for automobile racing in the Southwest, but in recent years the five-eighths mile track has been used for horse-racing and considerable improvement will be necessary to place it in condition for automobile racing. Work will be started at once on the track, according to Gene Tonn, who will have charge of the two-days race meet.

Several well-known race drivers have inspected the local track, and express the belief that under favorable conditions racing fans may expect to see existing track records lowered during the 1936 meet.

The Haskell races will be staged under supervision of the Southwestern Automobile Racing Association, Tonn has announced.

Two Days Horse Racing

Horse racing, which has proven popular during the past will also occupy a prominent part of this year's Fair, with two days, Oct. 23 and 24th, devoted to a Race Meet for horses owned in Haskell and adjoining counties, with a full card arranged for each afternoon of these two days.

Parl-mutuel betting which has been allowed under supervision of the State Racing Commission has been "outlawed" by the Fair Association this year, and no betting will be sanctioned by the officials in charge.

A committee to supervise horse races named Monday night was composed of Henry Atkinson, J. D. Montgomery and O. W. Maloy.

Duck Season to Be Open Thirty Days This Year

Duck hunters will have 30 days of hunting this fall under restrictions equally as rigid and drastic as those in force last season. Last year also the hunters were allowed only 30 days.

The new Migratory Bird Treaty Act regulations announced today (Aug. 14) by the U. S. Department of Agriculture were recommended by the Biological Survey, adopted by Secretary Wallace and approved in a proclamation by President Roosevelt.

"The new regulations," says the Biological Survey, "continue stringent restrictions on the hunting of waterfowl in order to cut down the annual kill. The restrictions put into force last year were intended to bring about a reduction in the kill and they accomplished that purpose."

Regulations for this season are summarized by the Survey as follows:

Three zones—northern, intermediate and southern—have been approved for waterfowl hunting. Last year there were two zones, the northern and southern.

In the northern zone the season this year opens Oct. 10 and closes Nov. 8, in the intermediate zone the season is November 1 to 30, and in southern zone, which includes this county, Nov. 26 to Dec. 25.

Three important species of waterfowl, the Atlantic brant and meadow and canvasback ducks have been placed on the list of fully protected species this season. These three have not shown the recovery noted in other species.

Last year's regulations not permitting baiting or the use of live decoys and sink boxes or batteries have been strengthened and continued.

Waterfowl and coot may be hunted in season from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. standard time.

The 3-shell limit on repeating shotguns in effect last year is continued this season. Hunters may use shotguns not larger than No. 10 gauge.

The 100-foot regulation for the location of blinds has been eliminated.

Early in the 80's the Bonners and the Isabelles pioneered from the lush valleys of Mississippi to the plains of the Panhandle. In 1890 J. M. Isabelle was the first judge ever appointed in Collingsworth County, and 16-year-old A. Q. (Smoly) Bonner was a cowhand on the Rocking Chair Ranch. Above, Thelma Bonner, daughter of A. Q. Farm Price Index Highest In 6 Years

The general level of prices received by farmers on August 15 was the highest in six years, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today.

The bureau's index for that date was 124, compared with 115 on July 15, and with 106 on August 15 a year ago. Grain led the march to higher prices during the past month, with both wheat and corn passing $1 a bushel, for the first time since July 1928.

Prices of truck crops rose substantially during the month; prices of dairy products were strong; chickens and eggs advanced seasonally, and meat animal prices were higher. Cotton, cottonseed, and fruits were the only major groups to recede from the July level.

Group indexes of the bureau show that prices received by farmers for grain were up 20 points during the last month, truck crops were up 19 points, dairy products were up 9 points, chickens and eggs were up 6 points, and meat animals were up 4 points. Cotton and cottonseed were down 2 points, and fruit prices dropped 9 points.

Compared with a year ago on August 15, prices of truck crops were up 42 points, grain prices were up 33 points, dairy products up 27 points, fruit prices up 21, cotton and cottonseed up 6, chickens and eggs up 1, and meat animals down 6 points.

The bureau pointed out, however, that the rise this summer in prices of farm products has all been a net gain for farmers, since farmers have had to pay higher prices for goods purchased. Short feed crops have raised the price of all feeds purchased, for instance, to the highest point recorded since September 1930.

Feed price increases, the bureau explained, were chiefly responsible for the advance in the average of prices paid by farmers for all commodities. The index of prices paid for all commodities purchased was 126 on August 15, compared with 123 on July 15, and with 125 on August 15 last year.

The index of prices paid is slightly higher than that of prices received, but the disparity against farmers on August 15 was the smallest since August 1929. This summer's gain in farm prices raised the purchasing power index of farm products to 98 as of August 15, compared with 93 on July 15, and with 85 on August 15 a year ago.

The five-year period 1909-14 equals 100 in all of these price indexes.

Car Registration In United States Gains During 1935

Registration of motor vehicles in the United States showed an increase of 5 percent in 1935 over the number registered in 1934. The Bureau of Public Roads reported that this brought the total registration to within a few thousand of the peak figure in 1930, when 545,000 motor vehicles were registered.

Total registration for 1935 included 262,211,052 motor vehicles of which 22,565,347 were passenger cars, taxicabs, and buses, 3,655,705 trucks, and 132,990 trailers. Registration revenue amounted to $322,770,000. The 5-percent gain in registration was closely paralleled by an increase in gasoline consumption which showed a gain of 4.6 percent.

Montana led the list in percentage increase, with a gain amounting to 16.7 percent. Other States ranking toward the top were South Carolina toward 10 percent, New Mexico 11.8 percent, and Louisiana 10.2 percent. Nebraska was the only State showing a decrease in registration, the loss came to only 0.1 percent.

SARAH ANN'S COOKING CLASS

Creole cookery has held an individual place in the world for many years. These famous recipes are the merging of the customs of France, Spain, Mexico, the Choctaw Indians and old colored Mammies from New Orleans. Many of the dishes are made from small portions of a number of ingredients and the use of piquant sauces, in this way the house-keeper can easily use left-overs.

Creole Hash
Use equal parts of ground cooked meat and potatoes, some minced onion, chopped green pepper, salt and black pepper to taste. A dash of nutmeg is put in at the last. Cover and cook very slowly for 1-2 hour. Turn once and cook until the crust is crisp and tender like thin French pastry.

Meat Loaf
To 3 cups of cooked meats mix a small slice of suet, 1-2 cup of mushrooms, 1-2 teaspoon each of salt, pepper, allspice, 3 cloves and a dash of cayenne. Add the beaten yolks of 2 eggs and moisten with a little milk or gravy. Line the bottom of a baking dish with strips of bacon and fill with meat mixture. Dot on top with bits of butter. Bake 40 minutes in a rather hot oven.

Fig Fritters
Combine 1 cup of flour, sifted, with 1-2 teaspoon of baking powder, a pinch of salt, 1 tablespoon of sugar, 1 tablespoon of butter, 2 eggs and 1-3 cup each of cream and milk. Add the fruit last. Then have ready a kettle of deep very hot fat and drop the fritters in by tiny spoonfuls. They'll puff up and brown very nicely. Peel the figs, cut into pieces and sprinkle with sugar. Let stand for an hour. Add juice and fruit to the batter. Canned figs are equally good and, of course, need not be left to stand.

Lemon Fritters
Combine 1 cup of flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon baking powder, adding the beaten yolks of 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon of butter and 1 cup of water. Beat in 2-3 cup of sugar and the juice and rind of 1 lemon. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of 2 eggs. Fry in the same way as all fritters.

These fritters may be served the year round and give a pleasant acid flavor to the meat course.

Chicken Gumbo
Cut up a 4 or 5 lb. chicken and brown it in fat in a deep kettle along with a pound slice of ham. To this add 1 quart of diced carrot, fresh or canned, 1 quart of tomatoes, fresh or canned, 1 large onion, chopped, a bit of hot red pepper and the herbs—some parsley, bay leaf, thyme and a little horseradish root. Before you cover the pot for a long, gentle simmering add 2 quarts of water and salt to taste. Simmer for several hours, very gently, on low heat. Serve with quantities of hot, dry cooked rice.

Bean Croquettes
Take 2 cups of cooked beans, add salt and pepper to taste, 1 teaspoon vinegar and 1 tablespoon melted butter. Form into small balls, dip into beaten egg and roll in bread crumbs. Fry in hot fat and serve hot.

Pecan Cream Cake
Chop 3 cups of pecans almost as fine as meal.
1 1-2 cups of sugar.
2 tablespoons of flour.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
6 eggs.
Beat the yolks of eggs well, add the sugar and beat again thoroughly. Mix the baking powder with the flour and nuts. Fold the nuts and flour mixture into the stiffly beaten egg whites. Fold them in, don't beat. Then fold the egg-white mixture into the egg yolks and sugar. Blend very gently and pour the mixture into 2 layer cake pans that have been lined with greased paper. Bake in an oven 375 degrees for 15 or 20 minutes, then remove them very carefully and let cool in pans. Just before served, spread whipped cream thickly between layers.

Creole Pralines
3 cups white sugar.
1 cup water.
1 tablespoon butter.
1 teaspoon vinegar.
3 cups pecans.
Place sugar, water and vinegar in deep pot and boil to the soft ball stage. Add butter and 3 cups pecans. Continue to cook until syrup when dropped from the spoons spins a thread. Remove from fire and beat 1 minute; then drop by spoonfuls upon buttered boards or into well-greased old tea cup saucers, which will serve nicely to mold the candies.

Mrs. J. W. Gholson and children returned the latter part of the week from Dallas where they spent most of last week.

For Bad Feeling Due to Constipation
Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins of Lela, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, itching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

Health of the little city is good. Everybody is busy gathering their not too good crops. A rain would help late stuff and pastures.
