There were 31 sprinkler heads installed, 1,178 feet of plastic pipe and the system is watering approximately 2 acres of land. The additional 2 acres in the new east addition at Belvieu Cemetery will be completed in the near future.

In other action the board approved the bond renewal of Margie Hale of the Auditor-Treasurer office and voted to re-appoint all election judges and alternates for the 1976 year. The board voted to install carpet in the living room, hall and bedroom of the Fisher County jail living quarters.

Commissioner Thurman Terry made a motion, seconded by Wayne Porter, to accept the bid of Rotan Motor Company for a 1976 crew cab pickup. Roby School Board OK's Budget for 76-77 Year

The members of the Roby Independent School Board approved the 1976-77 budget in regular session last Monday night. The budget was approximately $20,000 higher than the 1975-76 budget. One reason for the higher 1976-77 budget is the loss of approximately $24,000 from the state in local operating money.

In addition to approving the budget, school board members voted to give school district homestead residents 65-years old or older, a $3,000 homestead exemption. In order to be eligible for the exemption, senior citizens must request in writing or by personal visit to the school or tax office and claim the homestead exemption.

In other action the board accepted the bid of Gandy's Dairy for milk for the school cafeteria. Gandy's bid 11.5 cents for white and 1 cent higher on chocolate compared to the bid of .15 higher on both items submitted by Borden. The board discussed the salaries of cafeteria workers and voted to increase them to $2.30 per hour effective in August of 1976.

Members of the Roby Independent School Board hired Ruy Rivas as the new school janitor and set the rates for school lunches at the same price they were for the 1975-76 school year. Grades kindergarten through 5th will pay 40 cents; grades 6 through 8 will pay 45 cents and grades 9 through 12 will pay 50 cents. All adult lunches served will be $1.00 each.

"The latest value figures for Texas' hog industry reflect a healthy jump from the previous year, when total value was estimated at $40,890,000," White said. Average price per head between the two years jumped from $43.50 to $67.50.

Veterans Can Get Help With Tuition At WTC

Veterans who are planning to enroll in college for the first time this fall and who will be applying for veterans' educational benefits should make application for those benefits well in advance of the beginning of the fall semester, Dan Dever, Western Texas College Veterans' Outreach Coordinator and Associate Registrar, said.

Veterans educational benefits are now paid in advance, Dever said, and if an application for benefits is received in the VA Regional Office 30 days or more before enrollment, VA normally can have the first educational allowance check available, at the college, prior to registration. Veterans taking courses in any of the Western Texas College extension centers may draw educational benefits while enrolled at the center.

Dever is in his office in the WTC Administration Building from 8-5 each week day except Friday when the offices close at 4 p.m. Veterans who cannot talk to Dever during those hours may arrange an evening appointment by calling him in advance. He has all the necessary forms to be used in making application for educational benefits.

Most veterans with service after June 1, 1966, are eligible for benefits, Dever said, provided the active duty was continuous for 181 days or more, any part of which occurred after June 1, 1966. The veterans must hold a discharge under conditions other than dishonorable.

Educational benefits for post-Korean veterans, those discharged prior to June 1, 1966, have expired under the 10-year statutory limitation, but these veterans may have entitlement to tuition assistance under the Texas Hazelwood Act.

Veterans or other adults who have not completed high school or a GED program may be admitted to WTC by individual approval, Dever pointed out, and he can help veterans make arrangements for entrance to WTC under those circumstances.

To Find Refuge

Lightning flashes across the sky. Thunder unleashes its ominous rumblings. The first spatter of rain falls briskly on a nearby row of rocks.

The wind begins an eerie song high above in the swaying tops of tall pines. Sullen banks of clouds blanket the pale moon.

The creatures of the woods scurry to their dens to wait out the approaching storm. Every living thing in the forest seems to be holding its breath . . . in anticipation . . . or in fear.

And this is the way of the world. There will always be anxiety . . . always fear — even in the heart of man.

And where does man go for refuge? To what or to whom does he look for comfort and safety?

For centuries the Church has offered him protection against the adversities of life. It even offers him miracles. Certainly it promises solace and peace when grief and fear beset him.

Come to the House of the Lord . . . while the storm is raging . . . and forever thereafter.

Large Group Makes Roby Cash Donation

The Roby Cemetery working was held May 21; there were not too many present as there were so many who had cleaned their graves before. Those present enjoyed the dinner some of the women prepared.

A business meeting was held after lunch. Mrs. Fred Parker asked not to be re-elected as reporter. She nominated Frances Morgan who was elected as were other officers re-elected.

Mrs. Fred Parker said she would still make speeches and help in any way she could. She is appreciated for all she has done. She and Dudley Hambricht have watered the trees every week since they were put out this year.

The group thanks everyone who has helped clean the cemetery or sent money to have it cleaned. Mr. Dick Melton has put weed killer on 40 graves that people have sent him money and asked him to do. A special thanks to Mrs. Johnnie Hoodenpyle, Mrs. Jack Morton, Mrs. Jackie Terry and Mrs. Carl Matthies for making posters for the working at the cemetery; also, to J.B. Hughey, Thurman Terry and his helpers John Kiker, Jimmie Price, Rickie Sutton and Robert Grametbauer who work for the city and has mowed and hauled off trash; to Mrs. Fred Parker and Dick Melton a special thanks also. We also thank anyone who have helped in any way.

We were sorry to hear of the death of J.P. Patterson who died in February, he was a generous contributor. He was manager of the Telephone Company in Roby. Our deepest sympathy to his family.

Mrs. Fred Parker and John Kiker have both been ill since the last work day. At present they are improving and doing better.

There will be a rummage sale at the Flea Market in Roby. The money will go to the Perpetual Fund. Anyone having anything to sell or wants to work that Saturday is asked to call Dudley Hambricht or Frances Morgan.

Summer Rose Care Important

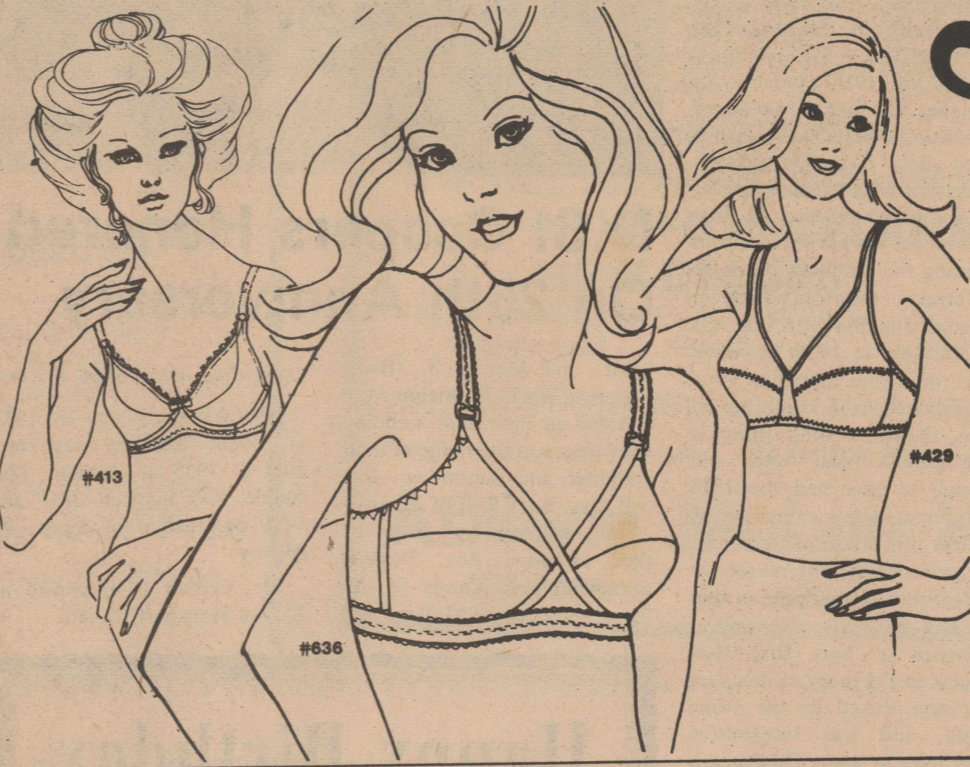

Roses are red, violets are blue; if you take care of them, they'll look good for you.

This is the philosophy of Everett Janne, a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He suggests taking good care of your roses in the summer so they will look good in the fall.

"One important requirement of roses in the summer is adequate water", Janne says. "If there is no rain, water them thoroughly at least twice a week. Try to keep the water off the leaves, and if possible, water roses in the morning."

It's also a good idea to fertilize roses with a 10-15-5 fertilizer.

Accent ON HEALTH

President Ford has asked Congress to authorize a program to vaccinate every American against swine flu, to protect against a possible epidemic this Fall. Congress has responded rapidly, appropriating about $135 million to manufacture and distribute the vaccine and to organize the massive immunization effort.

A few weeks ago, Dr. Fratis L. Duff, Director of the Texas Department of Health Resources met with his counterparts from around the country at the National Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Georgia. The purpose of the meeting was to answer some of the questions that many people have about swine flu and the possible epidemic. Dr. Duff has provided these answers to some of the questions Texans are asking:

QUESTION: What exactly is "Swine flu"?

ANSWER: Swine flu is a strain of influenza virus that affects swine herds; it's commonly found in hogs and pigs, and is occasionally transmitted to man from swine, particularly those that deal very closely with the swine herds.

QUESTION: Why is there so much concern over swine flu all of a sudden?

ANSWER: I think to really understand this concern, you have to go back in history a little bit, to the 1918 epidemic of influenza. It was a pandemic occurring all over the world. It killed about 20 million people, with over 500 thousand deaths in the United States. At that time we did not have a means of isolating the influenza virus, so this strain of the virus was never isolated. The first virus that was isolated was in 1931, at which time the swine influenza virus was isolated from swine herds. Now, the interesting thing is that people who were old enough to have had the 1918 influenza show antibodies against this strain of influenza, the swine strain. The reason for the concern at this time is that we had a small outbreak of influenza at Fort Dix, New Jersey, in February of this year that was caused by the swine strain, and was transmitted from man to man. This means that this is the first instance of the swine influenza being transmitted from man to man, and really represents a new virus appearing in the population. When a new virus appears, it's normally followed by an epidemic.

Rep. W.S. Heatley Is Named Man Of The Year

State Rep. W.S. "Bill" Heatley of Paducah has been named a "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" for 1976 by the Texas County Agents Agricultural Association.

One of seven Texans selected for the honor, Heatley was nominated by county agents in District 3 (the Rolling Plains) of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The awards are presented annually to outstanding leaders in agriculture and related industries, said Dawson County Extension Agent Lee Roy Colgan, president of the state association. The awards also recognize the contributions made by these leaders to improving levels of living and economic growth in their communities, counties, state and nation.

Heatley will receive his award during the association's annual meeting August 1-3 at the Knights Inn in Waco.

Heatley, who has served as a member of the Texas House of Representatives since 1954, operates a ranch with more than 300 Hereford cows and farms wheat, oats, and grain sorghum on 1,000 acres in Cottle County. He is also a practicing lawyer.

The legislator has served on the Budget Board and is the only person to have served as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee for six consecutive terms. He currently serves on the House Livestock Export Committee.

Heatley has been recognized for outstanding service by such organizations as the Texas Bar Association, Texas Alcoholic Commission, Easter Seal Society, Texas Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association, Texas Pork Producers Association and the Texas Farmers Union.

In 1968 Howard Payne College awarded Heatley and Honorary Doctor of Laws degree, and he was named an "Outstanding Alumnus" of Dallas Baptist College. Heatley is an honorary member of several 4-H and FFA clubs as well as the Texas FFA Association.

He has served as a resource person to the Cottle-King County Program Building Committee and has furnished show calves for 4-H and FFA members. He has been a keynote speaker at many 4-H events.

The state government official helped bring about improved care, treatment and training in the Mental Health and Mental Retardation Department of Texas and was a prime mover in the establishment of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Vernon and the Texas A&M Vegetable Research Station at Munday.

At Paducah Heatley has been active in the Boy Scouts, Lions Club and Chamber of Commerce.

Heatley holds B.A. and L.L.B. degrees from Baylor University.

IRS Exams To Be Given Soon

Application forms for the annual special enrollment examination which qualifies persons to practice before the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) are now available from the Dallas office of the IRS.

The two-day exam is scheduled for September 27 and 28, and will be given simultaneously in Dallas and Lubbock. The special enrollment exam is for persons who prepare tax returns professionally and who are not attorneys or Certified Public Accountants.

Application forms for the annual exam can be obtained by writing to the Chief, Training Branch, IRS, Mail Code 405, 1100 Commerce, Dallas, Tex. 75242.

Completed applications, accompanied by a fee of $25 payable to the IRS, must be received by the IRS' National Office by August 15. The application and fee should be mailed to the Director, Audit Division, IRS, Washington, D.C., 20224, Attn. CP:A:S:C. A.W. McCanless, IRS Director for North Texas, said that the right to represent clients in tax cases and other matters before the IRS is limited to persons who meet the highest standards of technical proficiency and ethical conduct. Tax practitioners who have failed to pass the special enrollment exam in past years are eligible to retake the test this year.

THE COST IS SMALL
Kindness has been described in many ways. It is the poetry of the heart, the music of the world. It is a golden chain which binds society together. It is a fountain of gladness. Kind hearts are more than coronets. Kind words produce their own beautiful image in man's soul. Everyone knows the pleasure of receiving a kind look, a warm greeting, a hand held out in time of need. And such gestures can be made at so little expense, yet they bring such dividends to the investor.

OUT OF DEBT: The July 5th celebration is still the talk of the county. Pat Wester indicated the other day that the Fisher County Bicentennial Committee raised approximately $40.00 more than was needed to expire the debt on the fireworks display. This money was raised from the sale of the Bicentennial calendars. There are a few calendars still available, but only a few. Those that are interested in purchasing this keepsake can contact Marie Phillips at Marie's Art Studio or pick up a calendar at West Texas Utility in Rotan.

ALL STAR GAME: The members of the 1976 All Star Little League team will play their first game of the playoff series on Tuesday night, July 20, at 7:30 in Merkel. They will play the Stonewall-Kent All Star team.

PICTURE TAKEN: Jimmy Markham and your faithful scribe took over 250 photographs at the July 5th celebration. Copies of these pictures can be seen at the newspaper office and can be purchased for $1.50 for a 5x7 or $2.50 for an 8x10. Speaking of pictures, we want to let the people of Fisher County know that the Newspaper Office is now equipped to take color photographs on request. If you are planning a wedding, family reunion or special event at your home contact us for information concerning color photographs. We can provide any size from a 2x3 billfold color shot to a large 20x30 color enlargement.

IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE: John Harbison, new principal of the Rotan Elementary School, is making lots of improvements.

VACATION: Franklin and Ava Leach recently took one of those dream vacations and from the way Ava described some of the events that took place it will be a vacation that will last in their memory for a lifetime. They took their camper for a two-week tour of 11 states. They went through Arkansas, Missouri, Ohio, Georgia, Oklahoma, North Carolina and others. One of the highlights was the three days spent in Georgia. Ava said that state is extremely rich in history and recommends a planned vacation there for the whole family.

RAIN: We can certainly be thankful for the abundant rains we have had since last weekend. In fact, as I write this piece, rain is falling to the tune of a fine mist. The farmers needed the moisture and the ranchers are getting overflowing stock tanks from the recent liquid gold. The rains also affect the purchasing habits of farmers. We heard of a farmer that bought two new tractors earlier this week. When you can see the end of the tunnel you don't mind sticking your neck out a little.

CENTURY PLANT: If you are interested in seeing one in bloom you can drive by 1010 McKinley in Rotan.

CORRECTION: Due to an error on our part, the McCaulley Independent School Equalization Board meeting notice in last week's paper gave the meeting date as July 9. The Board is to meet July 19 at McCaulley School.

AN APOLOGY: We owe an apology to Marie Phillips for failure on our part of properly recording on film the attendance at her recent Art Show and Sale. We shot two rolls of film of the artists, paintings and spectators but as luck would have it, they were the only two rolls that were not properly developed of the 16 that were taken over the Bicentennial weekend.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: "A prayer in its simplest definition is merely a wish turned Godward", -Phillips Brooks.

Girls Basketball Coaches Clinic Begins July 14

The Texas High School girls coaches association yearly 1976 summer clinic will be held July 14-17 at Brownwood Coliseum in Brownwood. Lectures will be held four days in basketball, track and volleyball.

The All Star game and lectures are educational for all junior high and high school girls who plan to play basketball or run track this coming year. Coaching school is mainly for coaches but lots of high school students attend especially on Saturday for sports lectures and then stay over on Saturday night for the All Star game. Tickets can be purchased at the gate.

game time is 7:30 p.m., July 17.

All Star players are nominated to play in the North-South All Star game by their high school coaches. A panel of coaches select the top 30 players and 20 alternate players from all over the state to make up the teams. The value of the game is that a person can see the best players from state perform during this game. Area girls involved are Judy Banks, Wylie, 1st team player; alternate players are Jane Blackwell, Anson, Becky Jnell Coahoma, Sissy Andrews, Comanche, and Letha Strickland, Forsan.

The North may have the top players with 6'3" Jill Rankin from State 2AA champs Phillips High School, Robena Johnson, 5'11 1/2" from state runner up Canyon High School, D'Lynn Brown, 5'11" from state champ Stratford High School.

Well it finally came that good rain we have all been waiting for, and wasn't it just at the right time. We got a little over 2 inches here at the house but got over 4 inches on the other two places. It was a pretty general rain though and everyone seemed to have benefitted by it.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Rogers of Rotan visited with Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Kincaid on Thursday. The Kincaids report over 4 inches of rain since Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Williams went to Dallas on Wednesday and stayed until Friday. They went for the Cancer Society. While in Dallas Mrs. Katherine Council and Mrs. Williams met for a visit. Mrs. Council was a good friend of the Williamses when they lived in Abilene years ago, and they hadn't seen each other for over 25 years, so they sure had a good visit. Mrs. Council now lives in Dallas.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Nash Miers on their 50th Wedding Anniversary which they celebrated last Sunday, 4th July. They had a small family affair and attending were: their daughter, Mrs. Betty Blanche Cox and their granddaughter Cheryl Cox from Oklahoma City. Mrs. Sarah Miers and Sue and Turner Houghton all from Roby, also Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nash Miers and family.

Randy Etheredge, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Etheredge, spent the weekend at Roby visiting with the Jim Wilburn family. Mrs. Sam Etheredge accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Windell Barrett and family to Lubbock on Saturday. Both of her grandchildren participated in the Open 4-H Horse Show which was held there.

Screwworms Invading Texas Plains Area

Screwworms moved into 30 more Texas counties during June as 2,305 infestations were recorded in 102 counties, says Dr. M.E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program.

The parasite has been recorded in almost all Edwards Plateau and Hill Country counties. They are steadily moving northward into Plains counties, observes Meadows. To date Armstrong is the most northerly county to submit a

(3) Release of APHIS reared sterile flies to mate with wild flies.

Female screwworm flies mate only once in their lifetimes. Eggs they produce after mating with a sterile male will not hatch—ending the life cycle.

Arizona has recorded 42 screwworm cases in nine counties this year. New Mexico's cases total 22 from six counties.

Buzz Bugs Hold Monthly Meeting

The Buzz Bugs Club met July 7 in the Community Building. Games of dominoes and 42 and refreshments were enjoyed by: Lelia Nash, Dovie Stewart, R.E. Curlee, Joe L. Henry, Mamie Crow, W.W. McNaron, Preston Beene, Velma Wallace, Gaynell Henry.

The club meets on each Wednesday and visitors are always welcome.

Screwworms are larvae of the screwworm fly. Adult females of this species deposit their eggs on wounds in warm blooded animals.

As eggs hatch the worms enter the wound. They feed on life flesh for about a week. After growing to half an inch in length they drop to the ground to pupate, emerging as adults in another week.

The Screwworm Eradication Program is operated by the Animal and Plant Health Service (APHIS). It is based on:

(1) Rancher care of animals to prevent a large population buildup;

(2) Prompt submission of samples of all worms found in wounds; and

New Pilot Plan Instigated For Texas Hospitals

Twenty-two rural area hospitals across Texas will begin furnishing extended nursing care type services to Medicare patients in July as part of a Social Security Administration pilot project in cooperation with the Texas Department of Health Resources and the Texas Department of Welfare. Acting as coordinator will be the Texas Hospital Association, announced O. Ray Hurst, CAE, president of the Austin based association.

Participating in the project are hospitals in Albany, Archer City, Anson, Buna, Kountze, Pearsall, Yorktown, Grapeland, Hico, Floresville, Hondo, Bastrop, Big Lake, Breckenridge, Burnet, 2 hospitals in Cameron, Canadian, Gorman, Hubbard, Johnson City, and Shiner.

"All of the hospitals involved has less than 100 beds," said Hurst, "and are experiencing lower than ideal occupancy due to such things as population changes and improved transportation. Yet, there is a demand in these rural areas for high quality long-term nursing care, the hospitals should be able to increase their utilization of facilities and personnel. This in turn could help contain rising health care costs."

Hurst went on to say, "In our discussions with the administrators of the involved hospitals, each has assured us that their hospital will continue to maintain a high level of service and care to all of their patients."

By the time the project is completed in 1978, some 40 Texas hospitals will be involved.

The rehearsal was at 7 p.m.

Thursday June 24, hosted by the Tunes at the Feed Lot outside Austin.

The wedding was a yard wedding at the Robert Green home in Austin. Hurricane lamps and pots of chrysanthemums lined the paths to the altar. The brides gown was champagne white and she wore a picture hat. The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Myra Green. She was dressed in yellow dotted swiss with a yellow hat. Best man was Jack Everett from Thrall. Music was furnished by Cherry Chism. Robert Green, father of the bride, escorted the mothers to their chairs and also escorted his daughter to the altar. Rev. Cecil Tune, father of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony.

The Billy Carl Tunes spent several days in Arlington and were in Rotan for the July 4th celebration. They were with the Rev. Tunes on Sunday to attend his Bicentennial service in the park.

Supplemental Security Money Is Available

People who plan to apply for supplemental security income payments can save time by first getting together some information about themselves, according to Glyn Hammons, social security district manager in Abilene.

The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or over or blind or disabled. People can get information about applying for the payments by calling or writing any social security office.

"When applying," Hammons said, "it's a good idea to have with you as many of the following as possible: a checkbook, if you have one, to show how much you have in the bank, any savings account books, stocks and bonds, life insurance policies, automobile registration cards, latest real estate tax statements if you own a home or any land, last year's income tax return, W-2 forms, and evidence of all other income."

It may save time, too, according to Hammons, if people applying for supplemental security income payments show how much cash they have on hand and know the value of their car, if they own one.

"You should also have your social security card," he said. "Disabled or blind students 18 to 22 should have a school identification card, tuition receipts, or similar evidence of school attendance."

The supplemental security income program is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The Abilene social security office is at 142 South Pioneer. The phone number is 698-1360.

JESUS KNEW WHAT WAS IN MAN

In the gospel of John chapter 2 and verse 25 we read: "But Jesus did not trust himself unto them, for he knew all men, and because he needed not that any one should bear witness concerning him; for he himself knew what was in man." What a fearful and thought-provoking statement.

Not only does Jesus know the general nature of man—the weaknesses and strengths that are the common lot of all men—He knows each man in particular. He knows us as individuals. He knows what a man was, what he is and what he may become. Men see us as we appear to be, but Jesus sees us as we are. Jesus weighs my heart, not in the scales of worldly estimation, but in the scale of heavenly realities. How frightening, yet how comforting.

How frightening that Jesus can pull back the veneer, remove the whitewash and see the very inner recesses of the heart—the hypocrisies, pretensions, deceit, ill-will, envy and whatever other sinful attitudes that may reside here, however well hidden they may seem—and expose them to divine judgment. How dreadful the thought that nothing escapes the all-seeing eye of God.

Yet there also may be found comfort in the knowledge that Jesus knows what is in us. When my good motives are questioned and impugned by "judges with evil motives" (Jas. 2:5, NAS), it is comforting to know that Jesus sees and knows the sincerity of my heart.

It is wonderful to know I have a Savior who knows my needs and my desires; who hears my groanings and sees my sighs and stands ever ready to come to my relief. It is comforting to know that while Jesus knows my failures, he also knows what I am attempting to be.

Knowing that Jesus knows the pretentious heart and condemns it is a powerful incentive to forsake every false way. Knowing that He knows my heart and approves what He sees touches me with a desire to seek an even higher plane. But either way let us never forget: "Jesus knows what is in man."

Too much fabric softener used in washing can make clothes such as diapers and towels non-absorbent. If this happens, decrease amount of fabric softener or occasionally omit using it—alternate washes with and without, suggests Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M Univ. System.

The more hair is shampooed, the more conditioners are needed, says Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M Univ. System.

Commissioner Thurman Terry made a motion, seconded by Wayne Porter, to accept the bid of Rotan Motor Company for a 1976 crew cab pickup. The Rotan Motor Company bid was $5,400 difference to the county while the bid from F&M Chevrolet was $5,205 difference. The reason the low bid was rejected was on account of delivery of a 1976 vehicle not being assured.

REMEMBERING... By BILL D. BROOKS

FIRST GRADE

My mom took me to my room the first day. Good thing, too, I probably couldn't have found it by myself. The school was big, a maze of hallways, big rooms and dusty trophy cases. A friend of mine a year older than me had told me there were over seventy-five students in that school in the twelve grades and I believed it when I saw the building. My teacher seemed nice enough that day. She smiled at my mom and asked me if I had all my supplies. I held out my big chief tablet and cigar box of used-up crayons but she didn't take them. She told me to take the desk in the third row, four seats back.

The desks were made of heavy black cast iron and had wooden tops and seats, complete with carved initials, ink stains and scratches. There was a groove in the top for pencils and a big round hole. I learned later the hole was for an ink bottle, though we weren't allowed to have one. Traditionally, the bottles were used to dip pigtails into and our teacher wasn't going to have any of that. The desks were all hooked together with wooden runners and the front of my desk was the back of the next one. Joel sat in front of me. He seemed nice enough. One day I looked down and discovered my shoes were wet. Joel didn't think about going to the toilet soon enough.

None of us liked to go to the toilet. It was the outdoor type and was very dirty and smelly. Older kids sometimes gave little ones trouble out there. They would threaten to drop you into the hole or throw your books or lunch down there or other things just as bad. There was never any toilet paper in the toilets and that made matters worse. One kid's mother made him carry some with him all the time in his hip pocket. We kidded him about it but we used to borrow from him when there was a real emergency. Our room had big high windows but they were too high off the floor for us to see outside. Kids might be distracted from the learning process if they could see outside. The teacher furnished our pencils. They were big fat ones with no eraser. We weren't allowed to sharpen them, she took care of that for us.

We did get to use dust erasers once, though. The black-board erasers were clogged with chalk dust and the teacher sent three of us boys out to dust them. We pounded them on big flat rocks out behind the building. But there were so many we got to goofing off and started dusting each other. Covered with chalk dust, we looked up to find the teacher, hands on hips, glaring at us. That was the last time we got to dust erasers but the first of many times we got paddled.

I either learned enough that year to go on to second grade or the teacher just wanted to get rid of me. I was glad, though, because second graders were big kids and they got to do what they wanted. They got to pick the desk they wanted. They could keep a notebook with real notebook paper and they even got to sharpen their own pencils.

Judging by television commercials, the average American housewife is obsessed with keeping her kitchen clean. But just how clean? Suppose a health department Food and Drug inspector visited your kitchen. Would it pass the inspection?

According to the Texas Department of Health Resources, there's a good chance it would not—and that might be part of the reason that the incidence of food-borne disease, such as food poisoning, is far more common in the home than in public restaurants.

Of course, how clean you keep your kitchen, and the sanitary practices you follow in your own home, are entirely your own business. But you might find it interesting to compare your own food-handling practices with the official rules that food service establishments are required to follow. So let's take a brief health inspection of your kitchen.

We'll start with the kind of food you serve your family. As a general rule, whatever you bought at the supermarket should be okay, since the supermarket itself must abide by similar health department rules. But there are some things you need to check. Is every food item properly labeled to show both the contents and the source? Did you pick up some dented canned goods? If you did, throw them out—you can't use them. The same is true of any food package that was accidentally broken or opened before you got it home.

You know that jar of home-made pickled peaches your neighbor gave you? And the home-canned tomatoes you bought at a little fruit stand on a back-country road? Throw them all out. Home-canned products can't be used in a restaurant: the danger of food-borne disease from improper processing is just too great.

What about the way you store your foods? Dry foods, such as cereals, bread, flour, sugar, and so on, must be stored in air-tight containers once the original package has been opened. Out goes that half-empty cereal box in the pantry! Speaking of the pantry, you know that bag of potatoes sitting on the floor? That's against the rules: all foods must be stored up, off the floor.

Anything that might spoil at room temperature must be either refrigerated or frozen—of course. But is your freezer set to maintain zero degrees Fahrenheit? And does your refrigerator keep everything—top to bottom, front to back—at no more than 45 degrees? You'd better check with a good thermometer. Incidentally, if you're concerned about wasting energy by setting the refrigerator temperature that low, look at it this way: you'll probably make up for the loss because your foods will stay fresh and enjoyable several days longer at 45 degrees than they would at 50 degrees or more.

One major point to watch for: If you're in the habit of sticking fruit juice, beer, or soda pop cans in an ice cube container to cool them down quicker, you'd better not plan on using the ice for anything else. In fact, the health inspector will frown on storing anything in ice.

There's one major problem in almost every kitchen. When you're preparing a complete meal for your family, what happens if the meat is done before the vegetables are ready? According to the health inspectors, you'd better keep the meat hot—not less than 140 degrees Fahrenheit. The same rule applies to all cooked foods. If you ever let cooked food stand for more than a couple of minutes at temperatures below 140 degrees, you're not only breaking the rules—you're openly inviting a serious case of food poisoning.

If there's one thing the average housewife probably thinks she's doing right, it's washing dishes—especially if she uses an automatic dishwasher. Unfortunately, a health inspector probably wouldn't agree. Unless, of course, she uses a triple sink for hand-washing, in three stages; washing in soapy water, rinsing in hot water, and a final sanitizing rinse in water that has been heated to 180 degrees or more, or in a sanitizing chemical. No triple sink? No sanitizing rinse?
