THREE BURGLARS ELUDE STAMFORD OFFICERS THURSDAY

Haskell officers were notified early Thursday morning that three men in the act of breaking into the Bible Tire Store in that city about 5 o'clock this morning. According to meager reports received here, the men fled from the officers, leaving their car and trailer, after officers had fired upon them with a shotgun. It is believed that one of the men was wounded, and is likely to seek medical assistance. Local officers were searching south of town for the suspects Thursday morning, it being thought that the men will try to remain in hiding in this section as they have no means of getting away unless they have confederates nearby.

The car left by the burglars bore an Oklahoma license, it is stated, and officers have ascertained that it was driven to Stamford from Hobbs, N. M., according to reports.

Barton Welsh spent several days in Wichita Falls this week.

FARMERS GATHER EXHIBIT PRODUCTS FOR COMING FAIR

With the good rains which have fallen in practically all sections of the county in the past few days, farmers of the Haskell County Fair are jubilant over the prospects for an excellent agricultural exhibit this year. According to County Agent Joe C. Williams, several leading farms have already started assembling products for exhibition this year. Mr. Williams adds that notwithstanding the adverse weather conditions of the past few weeks that it is no hard matter to find agricultural products in Haskell county worthy of competition with those of any section, and he is expecting a diversity of exhibits at this year's Fair which will be a surprise to many of our own residents.

Judge and Mrs. Joe A. Jones were called Monday to the bedside of Judge Jones' brother, Ed Jones of Laredo. According to telephone call received here, Mr. Jones was not expected to survive that day.

TURNER CAMPE ON THE JOB

Turner E. Campe, known all over this section as the "daddy" of the Haskell County Fair, arrived here Wednesday to assume active charge of preparations for the forthcoming annual exposition, to be held Oct. 16-17-18. Mr. Campe states that he is here to stay, and the next two weeks will see all plans for this year's Fair in execution. Work has already started on the catalog, which will be issued shortly, and a number of entertainment features have already been booked for the fair. Mr. Campe will have an office in the City Hall, and can be found there any day between now and the Fair. Call and see him in regard to any matter pertaining to the Fair—he'll gladly furnish you any information desired.

New Crop Maize Brings $18 Ton On Local Market

An indication that Haskell county's feed crop for this year has not been a total failure was well illustrated this week, when M. A. Clifton, local feed and produce dealer, reports purchasing a quantity of new maize from W. M. Viney, well-known farmer. Mr. Viney reports a good yield from his maize crop this year, having a surplus to sell after holding enough to furnish him during the coming season. A price of $18.00 per ton was paid for the maize by Mr. Clifton.

HASKELL BAND IS TO BE COMPLETELY UNIFORMED SOON

The Haskell Municipal Band is to be completely uniformed, according to Director Joe Meacham, who says that new uniform coats for every member of the Band have been ordered and will be here in time to be worn on next Trades Day.

The move to purchase coats for the band members, inaugurated by the Bonehead Club, has met with hearty support of the business men and others who have contributed liberally toward the purchase of uniforms.

Haskell's band has made a very favorable impression upon the thousands of visitors who have attended the Monthly Trades Days, and the local organization is rated among the best bands in this section. With the securing of the new uniforms the boys are already planning their work for the coming Haskell County Fair and with several new members in prospect, expect to present Fair visitors a larger and more versatile program of band entertainment than ever.

New Manager of Local Maytag Shop Appointed

A. J. Kirkpatrick of Olney, recently appointed district manager for the Maytag Company, with headquarters in Haskell, assumed his duties here the first of this month, and has moved to this city with his family. He states that he will be located permanently in Haskell, and is well pleased with the outlook for his company in this territory. The local Maytag Shop is receiving a substantial patronage, and sales in this immediate territory are exceeding expectations, according to Mr. Kirkpatrick.

PROSPECTS FOR EARLY START HERE ON HIGHWAY WORK

Prospect that actual work on Highway 30 from Haskell to the Jones county line would be under way within the next three weeks was expressed Wednesday by Mr. Work of the contracting firm of Work & Worrell, successful bidders on one of the grading and drainage projects on this stretch of the highway.

Mr. Work was in Haskell making preliminary arrangements for construction work, which will doubtless be carried on with Haskell as headquarters. Work will be started, he stated, just as soon as materials and equipment can be placed on the ground, expressing the belief that this would not likely take over twenty days.

REV. E. G. FOOTE TELLS BONEHEADS OF EUROPEAN TRIP

The members of the Bonehead Club at the weekly meeting and luncheon Tuesday enjoyed a short talk from Rev. E. Gaston Foote who told of his recent trip to Europe, having returned only last Friday from a six-weeks tour of England, France, Germany, Belgium and Italy. A good attendance of members was noticed, with one visitor, Mr. Phillips of Lubbock, who is connected with the State Telephone Company, recent purchaser of the Haskell Telephone Company properties in this section.

During the business session the resignation of John S. Rike as Secretary was accepted. Mr. Rike having moved this week to Aspermont. A spirited contest developed in the election of a successor to Mr. Rike, with Boneheads Bagwell, Ammons, Holden and Hill Oates nominated for election. Several other aspirants for the lucrative position were checkmated when President D. P. Ratliff called a halt in the nominating after it became evident that every member present would likely be nominated or nominate himself for the position. In the first poll, Boneheads Bagwell and Ammons were eliminated when the canvassing board discarded a batch of illegal ballots, contending that these two candidates had no business seeking the office anyway. In the run-off primary, Hill Oates, being out of town, was elected by a small majority, probably due to the foresight of several of his ardent supporters in stuffing the ballot box.

One of the most delightful programs of the year was rendered by four pupils of Miss Katherine Rike, who gave several readings and dancing numbers, with Miss Rike at the piano. Those taking part on the program were Misses Mary Sue Murchison, Louise Pierson, Betty Sue Persons and Winona Frances Post.

Members of the Club are making active preparations for their Booster Trip in the interest of the coming Haskell County Fair, and have in mind several entertaining features to be staged on that occasion. They are intensely interested in putting over the Fair this year in co-operation with its officers and directors, and recently pledged and raised a fund of $500 as operating expenses for the preliminary work of the 1930 exposition.

Misses Anita and Frances Collier have returned from a six weeks visit to Dallas, Fort Worth, and Greenville.

Scattered rains in various sections of the state within the past few days have brought relief from sweltering temperatures, and have relieved drought conditions which have prevailed in many parts of the state.

In Haskell county rains which began falling Tuesday ranged from three inches northeast of Haskell to heavy showers in the west part of the county, but altogether have been fairly general over this section and are of unestimated benefit to crops which had begun to suffer from the dry, hot weather.

Daily press reports show the rainfall to be light, but general in practically all sections of the state, with further rainfall forecast during the remainder of the week.

John S. Rike Is Named Cashier Aspermont Bank

John S. Rike, who for the past few years has been connected with the Farmers State Bank as assistant cashier, has been elected Cashier of the First National Bank of Aspermont, and assumed his new duties the first of the month.

The appointment of Mr. Rike as Cashier of the Aspermont bank comes as a promotion for his efficient services and ability demonstrated here, and although he will be missed from the local business circle, his many friends wish for him every success in his new position.

BURGLARS ENTER FILLING STATION AT RULE TUESDAY

The second attempt to burglarize a Rule business house ended in failure Tuesday night when two men had broken into the Rule Motor Company filling station evidently became frightened and left the building after they had prized open a large cash register and damaged it considerably. Nothing was taken from the station by the burglars, but they seemed to have gone about their work in a leisurely manner, according to officers of the Sheriff's department who visited the scene Wednesday morning and secured a description of the two men.

A filling station and grocery store at Old Glory, in Stonewall county, was broken into the same night by the same men, officers believe, and several articles of clothing and foodstuffs taken, and officers are of the opinion that the men then drove to Rule where they entered the filling station there. A description of the car and two men has been furnished officers over this section in an attempt to apprehend the suspects.

No Trace Found of Car Stolen From Rule Man

Local officers state that no trace has been found of the Chevrolet sedan stolen from Geo. B. Tanner at Rule on the night of July 26th. The theft was noted shortly after the car was taken, and officers were notified, but the thief or thieves evidently had well-laid plans for their getaway, and have been successful so far in eluding capture. Sheriff Sarrels, accompanied by Mr. Tanner, made a trip of several hundred miles in an attempt to trace the stolen car, going as far west as Hobbs, N. M., but met with no success. Mr. Tanner states that no insurance was carried on the automobile, and although confident of its recovery in

THREE MEN HELD HERE IN CONNECTION WITH ROBBERY OF DRUG STORE AT RULE

SEVERAL HUNDRED HEAR FERGUSON SPEAKER FRIDAY

A crowd of several hundred people heard Judge N. S. Kilgore of Benjamin, Texas, who spoke on the courthouse lawn here Friday night in the interest of the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for Governor.

Mr. Kilgore spoke for about one hour, and was frequently applauded as he discussed Mrs. Ferguson's platform, stressing among other things the fact that she proposed to give the small land-owner and farmer equitable rights and an extension of time in redeeming property sold under mortgage. The speaker outlined other pertinent planks of the Ferguson platform.

Judge Kilgore, a former resident of Haskell county, is actively campaigning the state in behalf of Mrs. Ferguson's candidacy, and will speak in various sections of the state during the campaign, closing with a speech in Hunt county, his former home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Yaeger and daughters Mary Gaynelle and Lauretta of Farmersville, enroute to Carlsbad, spent last week end in the home of R. C. Montgomery and wife. Many old timers will remember Mrs. Yaeger as Miss Laura Hale who visited Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Neathery in Haskell about thirty years ago.

In the near future, will more than likely sustain a sizeable loss due to the theft.

One of the largest crowds yet to attend the monthly Trades Day was present Monday for the fourth monthly affair, with everything going off smoothly and hundreds of those who were here expressing themselves as highly pleased with the program arranged for the day. Patrons of Haskell merchants were heard to express on every hand their appreciation of the time and money spent by local business houses who are sponsoring the Trades Day each month, and more and more people are being added to the list of those trading here as they are becoming acquainted with the fact that it pays to "Trade in Haskell."

A free picture show at the Texas Theatre drew capacity houses all day Monday, with many people standing in line waiting for seats at the beginning of every performance. Music by the Haskell Band throughout the day was another enjoyable feature of the occasion.

Plans are already being worked out for next Trades Day on Sept. 1st, and visitors on that date are going to be surprised with several new entertainment features, according to the committee in charge. For one thing, a water fight between the two companies of the local Fire Department will be staged in the afternoon, or possibly with a team from an adjoining town if present plans work out. This is only one of the features for the day, and onlookers are promised plenty of excitement, as the boys will have two hook-ups from their 500-gallon pumper to insure plenty of pressure for the fight. A large ball and 180-foot cable has been ordered by the local department especially for this occasion.

Plans for other major attractions are being considered, with the committee determined to make the next Trades Day the biggest and most diversified in point of entertainment of any yet held. Look for further details next week.

Misses Nettie and Kathleen Mulino have returned from Europe, having accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Foote, and making the same trip.

Our Own State

There are many of our people who have been all over our country, and have travelled extensively in foreign lands, who have never visited many of the most famous and noted scenes in their own state. The story of the settlement of Texas is a tale of romance and adventure. The scenes where the early pioneers struggled against difficulties and dangers, is a record of marvelous achievement. We should know better the famous scenes of this arly struggle. The marvelous beauty spots of our own state should be better known.

Our industrial development is a modern marvel. We should visit its farms and factories and cities and observe the new ideas there worked out. We have enough to occupy several summer vacations just touring around our own state.

Home Town Thoughts

A little less time spent in growing about high prices, and a little more in reading about the bargains advertised in The Haskell Free Press would help all our bank accounts.

If each householder would keep nice grass on his home place and plant more shrubs and flowers, our city would be famed for many miles as a beauty spot.

Support the enterprises of your home town with your patronage, and your home town will be able to support you.

What a Bank Man Says

The American Bankers' Magazine recently said: "No business in any town should allow a newspaper published in its town to go without its name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns."

If all or most of the business and professional men of a community should decide that this would be a good policy, what would be the result? Many things would happen. The newspaper columns would give the impression that the place was such a live business center that more trade would come in. The home newspaper would improve and print many more features, which would draw attention to the town. Such general advertising would be a wonderful move for business progress.

Attractive Modern Homes

Every time anyone builds an attractive new house, and most new houses are attractive, something is done to make a community more pleasing to people. If the citizens of a town want to see their home place develop, they need in most cases to set aside some portion of their savings and capital to erect new dwellings.

New homes, put up with all the recent modern improvements, seem so very attractive to people, that a lot of them want to move in right off when they see such a house. When a town has plenty of such new homes, it is a wonderful aid toward the growth of that community.

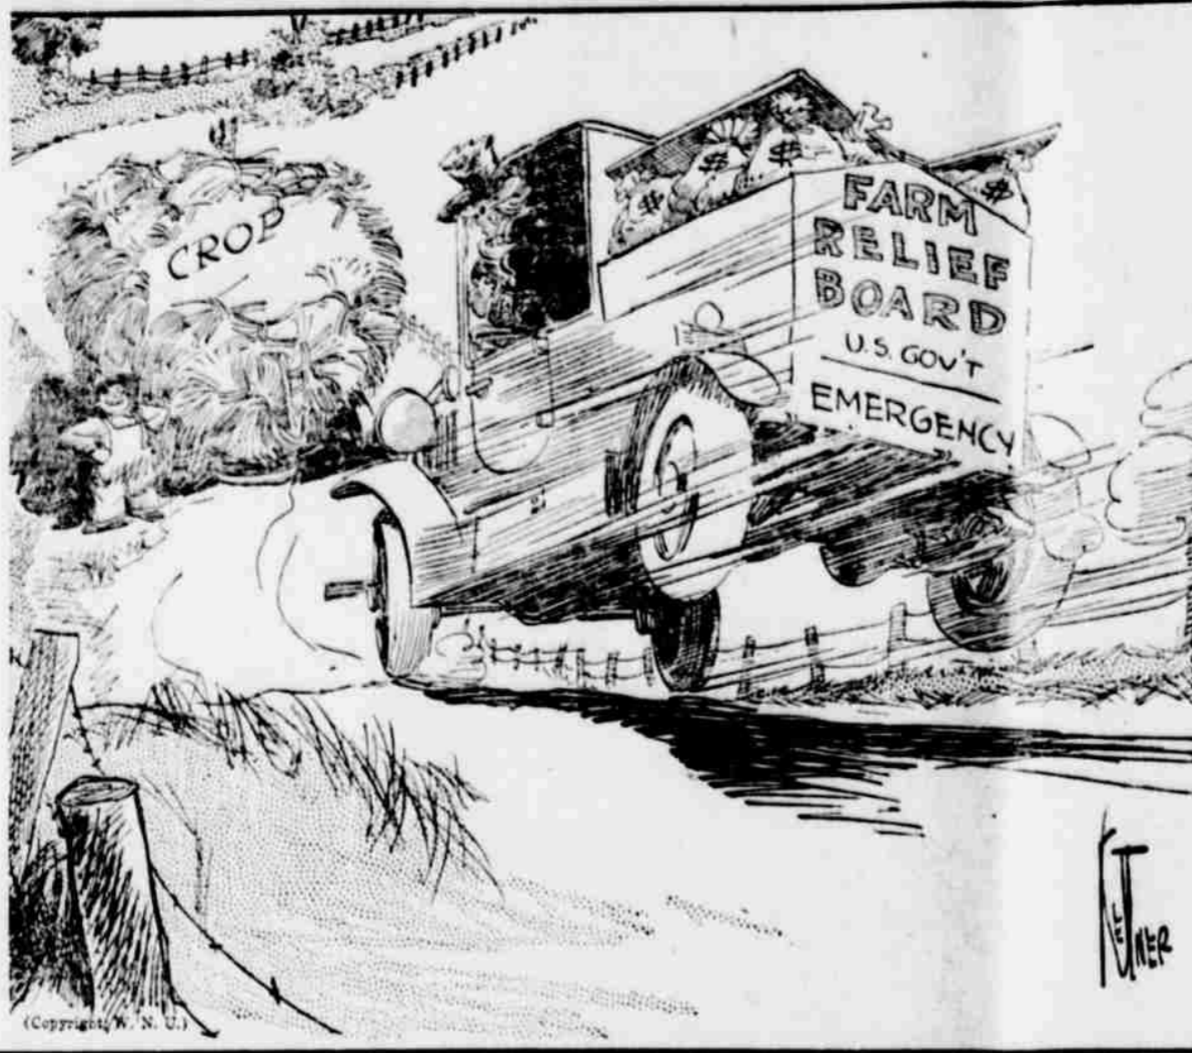

Two Ways to Beat Crime

A commission appointed by President Hoover is now studying how the laws can be enforced and crime can be checked. Certain changes in laws and legal methods, which would operate toward more prompt and certain justice, would help cut down crime. The criminal element would not be so ready to defy the community.

But such methods are a good deal like curing a disease after it gets thoroughly started. It is better for a man to cure the causes that lead to disease, so he won't get sick. If he would do certain healthful things before these troubles start, he would not probably need doctors, nurses, or medicines.

Thousands of boys go wrong merely because they never had a chance to develop some gift that was latent in them. They could not fit into the conditions they had to meet, could not get their lessons in school, or do any kind of a job in sight. In many cases, no one extended any helping hand to them. Consequently they developed an attitude of rebellion, and becoming bold and defiant, they developed into lawbreakers.

A Hurry Call

A lot of those boys have talent, and the majority of them could have made good at some useful occupation. Many of them have mechanical ability, but their parents or the schools they attended required them to keep working on book lessons which for some reason they could not grasp. If someone could have discovered what their abilities were, and places could have been found for them where they could make use of such mechanical talent, they would have made good.

The more talent, the more originality and initiative a boy has, the more he is likely to use these talents in some wrong way if that ability is not recognized. It should be someone's business to find out what abilities such boys have, and give them a chance to develop them before they get started on the wrong path.

How many times have you been asked if it's hot enough for you? What wouldn't you like to do to the pest?

Here's a hot tip. Buy airplane stock and wait for the rise.

We know a lot of golfers who need an accountant more than a caddy in playing 18 holes. City noises kill many, a scientist declares. But the makers of the noises seem to be immune.

Keep Her Cool - and Laying

Hot, fat, lazy hens that are allowed to sweater and sizzle in summer will not lay next winter. Feed your birds a ration balanced for summer. Feed less grain feed—it is heating. Keep your hens cool and comfortable in hot weather and they'll reward you with lots of eggs when winter comes. Feed cooling Chicken Chowder.

Opera Roles Make Heavy Drain On Physical Stamina, Say Stars

Songsters Of Metropolitan Hail Demise Of Craze For Boyish Form

By Mable Love

SINGING in the famous Metropolitan Opera, far from being solely a matter of talent, training the vocal cords, and some skill in acting, imposes a physical strain demanding the singer's closest attention to the effort to maintain the same degree of physical perfection as is the goal of the athlete.

many roles call into play the muscles of the body. "In Hansel and Gretel," she says, "I jump and kick and skip about through the whole performance."

Now living in Hollywood where she is making her motion picture debut, the singer tells of seeing a young movie actress pause suddenly in front of the camera, stare wildly about her, and fall in a dead faint.

We have joined with Firestone to not only meet but BEAT Mail Order and other Special Brand tires on Price-Quality-Service

Come in and see the facts for yourself

YOU no longer need to send for tires by mail, nor do you have to buy tires made by some unknown manufacturer. Firestone prices are now the lowest in tire history, but more important than that, Firestone quality has never been higher.

We've taken the mystery out of tire buying

Visit our store and we will show you the "inside facts" about tires. We have actually cut up new tires and have the cross sections for you to examine—you will easily see why Firestone quality is so outstanding.

Don't worry about punctures and blowouts

Punctures and blowouts are bothersome and most people fear them—but NOW, because of the patented Double Cord Breaker, Firestone has practically eliminated them. Come in and let us show you this feature that puts two extra plies of cord right under the tread where most road wear comes and where punctures and blowouts start.

Compare Prices and Specifications

Because Firestone Tires hold all world records on road and track for speed, safety and endurance, many people think they are high priced—but just check these low prices—then compare quality—you will be dollars and miles ahead.

Tornadoes are beyond the control of man, and the only defense is insurance to pay for the damage they cause. Almost every day the newspapers carry big headlines with reference to the latest disaster. No locality is exempt—you may be next. Anywhere in this country—windstorms can and do destroy millions of dollars worth of property. Each year adds to the list of places which "could never have a destructive wind storm"—and did. Windstorm insurance rates are so low that it is not worth the risk to be without it. Let us tell you how little it costs to protect yourself from loss through damage done by wind to your home, business property or car. Wind destroys a lot of what you value! FORD PLANE CARRIES ARMY CREW IN NON-STOP FLIGHT TO PANAMA

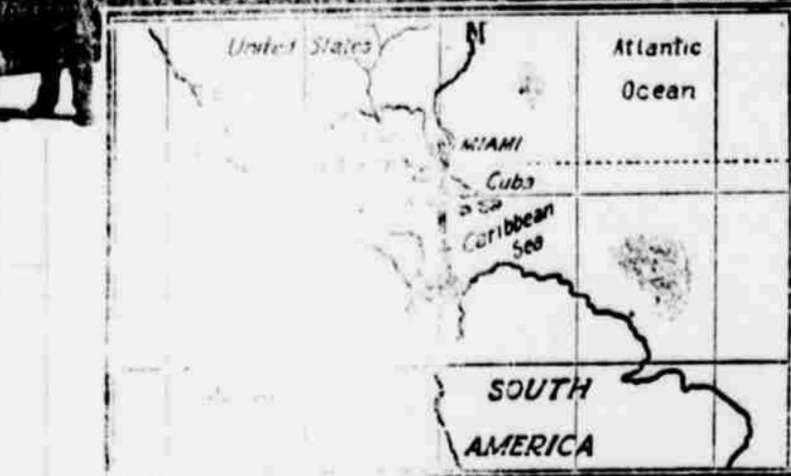

AVIATION history was made recently when a crew of four Army airmen, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Jacob E. Fickel, executive officer of the Air Corps Material Division at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, landed at France Field, Canal Zone, after a non-stop flight in a Ford tri-motor transport plane from Miami across the blue wastes of the Caribbean. The plane with its heavy gasoline load covered the 1140-mile jump in 11 hours, 20 minutes.

To military men, the flight was of great tactical interest as it demonstrated the practicability of direct air contact between continental United States and Panama without the necessity of crossing any country but Cuba. From a military standpoint this is considered important as Central American countries have been averse to permitting American military planes to fly over their territories.

Flight of Military Value
Of greater interest, perhaps, was the fact that the big Ford plane still had 200 gallons of fuel in its tanks when it was landed at France Field. The weight of this amount of gasoline is greater than the weight of a great demolition bomb, proving that the Ford transport could have carried such a missile to its objective.

Lieutenant Albert F. Hezenberger, who was navigating officer of the flight, won international fame four years ago when he successfully navigated an Army plane in the first flight between the Pacific coast and Hawaii. Lieutenant E. C. Whitehead was co-pilot and Sergeant K. D. Wilson radio officer.

Despite the fact that the plane carried in the cabin 440 gallons of gasoline, weighing more than 2,500 pounds, in addition to the 200 gallons in its tanks, it took off easily after a 900-foot run in the early dawn. Average weather conditions were encountered during the flight, the plane having favoring winds part of the time and head winds the remainder.

The navigation throughout the flight was by compasses and radio, no astronomical observations being taken, the plane being held on its direct course without difficulty, and reaching a landfall at the Canal Zone within a mile of the mark aimed at. Throughout the flight, Colonel Fickel was in constant communication with pilots in the cockpit by means of a telephone.

Plane Phone Effective
This method of communication proved extremely effective, particularly because of the fact that Colonel Fickel, from his seat behind the temporary emergency gas tanks in the cabin, was able to communicate instantly with Lieutenants Whitehead and Hezenberger in the pilot's compartment. In the same manner reports received by radio were transmitted to the pilot and navigating officer.

Landed on Schedule

At 3 o'clock the afternoon of the flight, after all but 250 miles of the course had been covered, Colonel Fickel radioed to the army station at France Field that he would arrive at 5:30 p. m. The landing was made at 5:30 p. m. to the second.

The plane carried for emergency a rubber boat, capable of inflation by air, and equipped with an 8-pound radio set powered with a 6-volt battery and having a range of 50 miles. Its use was not necessary, however, although the crew reported after the flight that their only period of anxiety was when they were flying over Bartlett Deep, one of the deepest spots in the Caribbean.

Middle Life Suffering

"THREE years ago, I was in bad health," says Mrs. J. B. Bean, of Kirbyville, Texas. "I was going through a critical time, and I suffered a lot. My back hurt almost all the time, and my legs and ankles ached. My head hurt me until sometimes I would be almost past going. As I had used Cardui before, and knew how much I had improved after taking it, I got a bottle and started taking it. I continued to use it for several months. After a while I regained my health, and I feel that I could never have gotten through that awful time without Cardui."
