MEMBERS WARNED TO MAKE 'CHANGES'

Credit Administration Executive Predicts Many Experiments On Way

ELLAS, Dec. 6.—A warning to farmers must be prepared to themselves to changing agricultural conditions was sounded by W. Peck, Cooperative Bank Commissioner of the Farm Credit Administration, at the annual meeting of the Texas Agricultural Association here today.

Peck predicted that agriculture will be adjusting itself for many years to come and that many experiments will be tried and efforts made to the agriculture on a parity with the industries and to maintain it at that position.

Touching upon some of the numerous economic changes that may be expected, Mr. Peck emphasized the necessity for farmers to prepare to meet the rapid shifts of agricultural positions. Without disturbing the exact types of readjustment that will be necessary, Mr. Peck pointed out three fundamental elements of preparation to meet changing conditions.

"One of these," Mr. Peck said, "is the organization of farm people into an effective association with each other. Beyond is education that goes beyond the schoolroom and the academic training of the young, and business into objective forms of this education and training. The third is the development of cooperative business enterprises designed to the distribution of farm products and the purchasing of farm supplies in the control of and for the benefit of agricultural producers."

Mr. Peck urged the Texas Agricultural Association to continue its cooperation with educational institutions in an effort to promote education among the young people on farms, as well as adults.

"There is no substitute for understanding," he declared. "There is nothing as destructive as organized ignorance. There is nothing more important than attempting to deal with important economic and social forces with no facts, misinformation, or consequent prejudice. I am appealing for your continued support of all the educational processes that are being brought to bear upon the agricultural solution of these important changes and the readjustments with which you, as farm leaders, will be concerned in the next few years."

Turning to the work of the Farm Credit Administration, Mr. Peck said:

"This cooperative credit system has an important place in the adjustment of agriculture that we are now facing. The cooperative features of the Farm Credit Administration are particularly important, for they are based upon the participation of individual farmers and their business institutions as the foundation of the credit program. Any borrower of mortgage credit from the land bank, or any borrower of short-term credit from a production credit association, or any cooperative mar-

PRESBYTERIANS HOLDING MEETING

Rev. E. C. Cargill, Seymour, Pastor, In Charge of the Revival Meeting

Refusing to base his sermons upon disputed doctrinal points, the Rev. E. C. Cargill, of Seymour, is now directing a revival meeting at the local Presbyterian Church, assisted by the Haskell pastor, the Rev. C. A. Tucker, and more interest is being manifested as the meeting progresses, according to members of the church.

The Rev. Cargill has conducted four meetings at Rochester, one of which was for a church of a different denomination. He has been pastor in Seymour for several years. The Rev. Tucker, when questioned Wednesday, expressed his approval of the way the work is being started, and issued an invitation to all, who can, to attend.

Weinert Pioneer Died Wednesday

Mrs. Mary E. Howell of Weinert died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Chas. Barton in this city Wednesday afternoon at 6:10 o'clock, and funeral services will be held at the Weinert Baptist Church this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. I. J. Duff, assisted by Rev. H. R. Whately, Baptist minister of Haskell and Rev. Caldwell, pastor of the Weinert Methodist Church.

The deceased was born in Wayneville, Tennessee, January 11, 1851, and moved with her husband, W. J. Howell to Haskell county in 1910. Her husband died at their home in Weinert four years ago.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of J. H. Kinney of the Kinney Funeral Home, Haskell. The deceased is survived by three sons, Jim Howell, Paduchak; Jack Howell, Seymour; Chas. Howell, Ranger; and one daughter, Mrs. Chas. Barton of Haskell. Twenty grandchildren and nine great grandchildren also survive.

Taxes All Paid; Owe No Man A Nickel, So Rule Pioneer Happy

Taxes all paid, and owes no man a penny, even though drought and depression has prevailed in Rule, is the record of G. W. Mays, 83, pioneer citizen of Rule, who was in Haskell Wednesday to "get a little money."

Mr. Mays, who has resided in Rule for 29 years, owns approximately 800 acres of land in Haskell county and tracts in Stonewall and Knox counties.

Although now retired, the aged Haskell county citizen has engaged in various business enterprises during his tenure as a Rule resident, and at one time, was the owner of a large hardware store in that city.

After emphasizing the fact that he paid all of his taxes at least two weeks ago, Mr. Mays, who says he was named after George Wash-

In a bi-district football game, the Seymour Panthers will invade the reservation of the Haskell Indians here Friday night, at Rice Springs Park.

Conquerors of Olney, one of the highly touted clubs of Class B football in northwest Texas, the Panthers will enter the game a slight favorite, owing to the fact that the invaders "line" is considered almost impregnable—especially at right end where a tackle by the name of Robinson holds forth.

Coaches Bill Richey and Perry Mason have been sending their charges "through the paces" this week in preparation for the Seymour fray. Lack of action on Thanksgiving Day, due to Anson's refusal to play, took part of the edge off the Haskell player's condition, but the Tribe is expected to be in excellent condition when the two teams square off.

In the opinion of most fans, the Seymour game is one of the most important of the Haskell schedule. A win over the Baylor county eleven will send the stock of the Tribe up—especially in the eyes of football sport writers and fans throughout Northwest Texas, while a loss will cause those worthies to view District 13-B games as inferior to the conference in which Crowell, Olney, Seymour and Burkburnett cavort.

The game Friday night is expected to be a battle of "lines" as both eleven have developed hard-fighting players in the forward wall. Probable Starters: Seymour: Richmond, le; Robinson, rt; Powell, lg; Meetez, c; Crawford, rg; Shawver, lt; Lewis, re; Hooser, qb; Hayes, th; Gilliam, rb; Cockerell, fb. Substitutes: Hogue, A. Henson, Cooper, Stevens, Ducus, Collingsworth, P. Henson, Ligon, Gilbert.

Haskell: Starr, le; Roberts, it; Hamilton, lg; McMillan, c; Reeves, rg; Maples, rt; Pippen, re; Adkins, qb; English, th; Sherman, rb; Kimbrough, Jack, fb.

HASKELL INDIANS TO BE BANQUETED

Lions Club Sponsor Entertainment Tuesday Night in Appreciation of Record

Regardless of whether he made the team, every player on the Haskell Indian roster will be banqueted Tuesday night at the Tonkawa Coffee Shop, through the courtesy of the Haskell Lions Club, as a mark of appreciation for the record compiled this season.

The entertainment program is now being arranged by a committee composed of T. J. Arbuckle, H. S. Leon, and Dennis P. Ratliff, especially appointed for that purpose.

No Auto Tags For December

If you are planning to get rid of your car license money in the next few days, you are doomed to disappointment.

The kind-hearted Legislature has decreed that you can not purchase 1935 tags until about March 1, no matter how badly you want to do so. And you can't put the new tags on your "whoopie" until April 1st.

Ed F. Pouts, tax collector, is anxious that car owners keep the new license ruling in mind.

The new plan was put into effect last year, when car owners were allowed to postpone purchase of tags until April 1. April to April has been made the permanent time for use of tags, rather than January to January, as heretofore.

slipped into a reminiscent mood and explained that his father, although a democrat, was a supporter of Abraham Lincoln—event to the extent of naming a boy after the Emancipator.

Only a slight mention was made by one of his listeners relative to the Bankhead Bill was needed to bring Mr. Mays back to the present. He quickly explained that he was in favor of the act, even though it might have faults, because he was confident President Roosevelt was trying to be fair with the farming and laboring classes.

Two hundred bales of cotton were grown on the farms of Mr. Mays last year, but only forty were gathered this season on account of the drought.

FEW CHANGES MADE FOR TOURNAMENTS

Time for Holding of County Interscholastic Meets To Be Decided Later

Tentative arrangements for the holding of various events in the Haskell County Interscholastic League were made recently by the league rules committee, with C. B. Ramsey, director of rural school athletics in charge.

Very few changes were made of rules which pertained last year, and the few outlined were made necessary, so members of the committee claimed, because more interest is being maintained in certain events.

Ramsey has been given authority by the rules committee to name the referee, place and time for the tournaments, and the director is now giving his attention to the matter.

Among new features outlined by the committee, is the preparation of four divisions in basketball, which would allow juniors to participate as both juniors and seniors, and adoption of Interscholastic League rules to govern all remaining activities; allowing one week end for junior tournament and one week end for seniors; and adoption of a two division court for girls.

In playground ball, the rules which governed last year will again prevail, except that a 14-inch ball will be used.

A separate tournament for the volley ball events may be in order, Ramsey says, providing there are at least four teams participating.

The committee in charge of track events will work out the various events for the girls, and eligibility rules will govern all participants.

A separate track for rural schools will be had at the next tournament, so the rules committee decided at the recent meeting.

REFERENDUM ON BANKHEAD BILL TO BE HELD DEC. 14

All Cotton Growers in South Will Be Asked to Express Views on Measure

NEXT CROP BASIS

Eligible Voters Will Decide Whether Government is to Hold Down Production

COLLEGE STATION. — Friday, December 14 has been set as the date for the Bankhead Referendum throughout the cotton producing states by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, according to information received by H. H. Williamson, vice-director and state agent for the Extension Service.

At this time eligible voters will be asked: "Are you in favor of continuing the Bankhead Act for next year (June 1, 1935 to May 31, 1936)? An eligible voter is defined in the Act as a "person who has the legal or equitable right as owner, tenant, share-cropper, or otherwise to produce cotton on any cotton farm, or part thereof, in the United States for the crop year 1935-36"

According to that, any person is eligible who signed a 1934 and 1935 cotton acreage reduction contract as well as any person who is or was eligible for tax exemption certificates in 1934. Any other person is eligible who presents proof that he owns and has a present right to produce cotton on a cotton farm, or any person who signs and files a witnessed statement that he has made arrangements to produce cotton on a cotton farm in 1935 by entering into a lease or share-cropping agreement.

If ownership and the right to produce cotton on a cotton farm are held jointly by two or more persons, all such persons are entitled to vote. The term "cotton farm" means any farm on which cotton, one or more years since 1927. Individuals who are in doubt about their eligibility to vote can obtain information from the community committee which will have a list of eligible voters.

Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, defines the impartial attitude of the Adjustment Administration in a statement that will be given each voter with his ballot. This statement urges cotton farmers to "examine carefully all the facts and reach a decision based upon considered judgment as to whether the Bankhead Act is needed to assure attainment of the objectives of the cotton adjustment program."

"Cotton farmers," a portion of the statement reads, "must decide whether, in their opinion, the adjustment of cotton production under the voluntary contracts is sufficient to meet to requirements of the present emergency. Will the efforts of a small minority of non-operators, the tendency toward more intensive cultivation, and the possibility of new lands coming into cotton production combine to increase total production above the point which seems desirable. That it appears, is a decision on continuing the Bankhead Act for next year." The Secretary emphasizes in his statement that the Administration is not seeking to impose its views upon the producers and that "it is for the cotton farmers to choose."

The referendum is provided for in the Bankhead Act itself. If two-thirds of those who have the legal right to produce cotton favor the continuation of the Bankhead Act, and if the President finds and proclaims that the economic emergency in cotton production and marketing will continue to exist, the provisions of the Act will be extended to cover the period of the crop year 1935-1936.

Young Women Meet at Methodist Church

On Monday evening of Dec. 3rd, the Inter-Denominational Social for the Young Women of Haskell met in the basement of the M. E. church. One of the most interesting and entertaining programs that has ever been given by this group of young people was conducted by the very capable leader, Mrs. Frank Williams. These meetings were first started some few months ago by Mrs. Williams who had the vision and the young people who have been attending have voiced their interest by saying from time to time "Let's keep it going, we like it and I am not going to miss another meeting."

A wonderful spirit of play and fellowship is shown in these groups.

"Richard Andrew Seeks a Fortune" was given through story and song. Miss Ola Bell Kennedy leading the songs and accompanied by Miss Stanton. Mrs. Williams conducting the story hour, made the adventure of young Richard very interesting. A number of beautiful and appropriate songs were sung by the group in connection with the story which seems to help everyone to enter into the spirit of the story. Rosella Morrison gave a reading, "The Girl Inside of Me."

Those out of town taking part on the program were: Little Miss Jean Glass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Glass of Rule gave two readings which were very attractively given. Misses Ruth and Jane Cole of Rule gave a number of selections of popular songs that were enjoyed by all. They are the little granddaughters of Mrs. R. J. Earnest of Haskell.

Miss Alma Sprowis conducted the play hour. Several prizes were given in a Handshake Contest which helped everyone to get acquainted. Miss Sprowis carried the group on several journeys, the Journey Kansas City proved to be very entertaining to all. A prize was given to the largest group in attendance. The Methodist group exceeded the Baptist by two, but it was decided to give the prize to the visiting group. Miss Louise Turner, president of Mrs. Brook's class received the prize with a word of thanks for the gift and the good time furnished the girls by the young women from the Methodist Church.

Nut cake topped with cream with coffee was served to the following visitors and members: Bettie Joe and Ethel Lou Stanton, Grace Cearley, Marcelle, Ola, and Ollie Frazier, Lula Ketron, Betty Ann Hancock, Eva Dell Squyres, Anna Belle Stanton, Hortense Walling, Theda Maples, Norma Anderson, Esther Johnson, Rosella Morrison, Mary Joe Morrison, Janie Lyle Martin, Mrs. T. R. Odell, Mrs. Frank Williams, Ola Belle Kennedy, Alma Sprowis, Lucy P. Pool, Odell Williamson, Elsie Bradley, Mrs. Viars Felker, Louise Turner, Katie Darnell, Murtie Kennedy. Those visiting were: Mrs. Fred Sanders, Mrs. R. J. Earnest, Mrs. Hollis Atkinson, Mrs. O. W. Cole and daughters Ruth and Jane from Rule and Mrs. H. R. Glass and daughter Jean, from Rule.

Methodist Missionary Society.

On December 3rd the Methodist Missionary Society met for the annual "Harvest Day" program. This being the last meeting of the year, officers for 1935 were elected. This program was arranged by Treasurers Sowell and Smith. With Mrs. Patterson at the piano, Song No. 222, Methodist Hymnal, was sung. Mrs. Montgomery, in a very impressive way, brought the Devotional, "Stewardship" and for the scripture, portions of Psalms 24:1-14, were read. The President next called for the reports of the Treasurers. The reports, considering the conditions of the past year, were indeed splendid. We as a society are pleased, but not satisfied, and all expressed a desire to make the year 1935 bigger and better, both spiritually and financially. A play entitled "Gathering In" was next presented. This play was given under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Smith and was well received by the audience. Those taking part in this play were as follows: Mesdames E. Martin, Lewis, Persons, Mays, Patterson, Smith, Sanders, Robt. Harrison and J. T. Wilson.

The president called for a report from the nominating committee. Mrs. E. Martin as chairman, presented the following list, the same being elected without opposition:

President—Mrs. O. E. Patterson. Vice President—Mrs. Server Leon. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. D. H. Persons.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Robt. Harrison.

Conference Treasurer—Mrs. Wallace Cox.

Local Treasurer—Mrs. Sowell. Superintendents of Study—Mrs. H. M. Smith and Mrs. J. U. Fields. Supt. C. S. R.—Mrs. P. T. Sanders.

Supt. Literature and Publicity—Mrs. John Wilson. Supt. Supplies—Mrs. A. J. Joseph.

Supt. Local Work — Mrs. Hollis Atkinson. Musician—Mrs. R. C. Montgomery. Agent for World Outlook—Mrs. Guy Mays. Chairman of Flower Fund — Mrs. Breedlove. Historian—Mrs. Irby.

Mrs. Sanders offered the prayer of dismissal. We meet again on January 7, at which time officers for 1935 will be installed. Each member of this society sends greetings to the "Free Press force" and wish for each one a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Magazine Club.

Mrs. W. G. Forgy directed an interesting program Friday at the Magazine Club on Historic Forts of Texas. After the roll call in which the Past and Present Military Posts in Texas were located, the following program was given:

Nineteen Chimneys at Port Phantom Hill—Mrs. Server Leon. Reading "Old Port Phantom Hill"—Katherine Rike.

Old Port Davis — Mrs. Foster Davis.

Where Crockett Swore Fealty to the Lone Star Flag—Mrs. B. C. Chapman.

Indian Tribes in Texas—Mrs. Kenneth Thornton.

The program was of unusual interest because nearly every member of the Club had at some time visited at least one of the old historic forts in Texas and some had lived near these and knew of the activities taking place there.

The Magazine Club is happy to announce that Hon. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University will speak at the Methodist Church, Friday Dec. 14 at 7:30 p. m., on "Signs and Symbols of Texas." This is the Magazine Club's Christmas presentation to the public, and is free to everyone.

The Hormony Club and Mrs. O. E. Patterson will furnish special music.

You are all welcome and urged to be present.

Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson of Breckenridge were here visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Robertson and Mrs. H. S. Wilson during Thanksgiving.

Let's Talk About Clothes

By a "Young Modern"

HENTON, Texas. — It's winter! The girls are again making a debut in their winter wardrobe. Old Man Winter who was quite frigid last year shows every indication of being more so this season. What's in the clothes apparel is asked in circles everywhere, but the answer is that is foremost—what kind of clothes are going to be worn? The tweed is staunchly advocated by young moderns at the State College for Women for coat material. With wide lapels, jabot collar, edged with fur, plain tailored sleeves, and a belt giving the coat a feminine appearance, one is certain to feel just a wee bit taller and more sophisticated. For "dressy" occasions in mind the evening wrap is a little more and your coat is not as flat as it might be. I suggest the seven-eighths length coats that are readily appearing in fashions. A tuxedo collar and slightly flared box effect in the coats, they add a note of elegance and lend a special contour to your costume. For sport wear, the ever-popular knee length suits made in brilliant tweeds or smooth wools cannot be overlooked. Latest trends in coats show them lined with contrasting material — a corduroy or plaid wool. Short coats with a close fitting collar and big sleeves at the wrist are an excellent addition to the wardrobe. Gaily trimmed with wooden buttons and worn with a light colored skirt, this coat will attract the attention of your friends.

Chicken Pot Pit
One quarter teaspoon salt; one quarter teaspoon pepper; one fourth teaspoon of paprika; two tablespoonfuls of melted butter; two and one half tablespoonfuls quick cooking tapioca; two cups cooked chicken, cut in pieces; one and one quarter cups milk or chicken stock; six to eight unbaked baking powder biscuits, rolled one quarter inch thick.

Combine ingredients in order given. Turn into greased casserole and bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 25 minutes, stirring mixture twice during first ten minutes of baking. Place biscuits on top of chicken mixture after it has baked ten minutes, return to oven, and bake 12 to 15 minutes longer, or until the biscuits are browned. Serves four.

Hobby of Texan Runs to Clocks

AUSTIN, Texas. — Clocks—old clocks, new clocks, grandfather clocks, imported clocks, a calendar clock, and the clock the mouse runs up—all are contained in the collection of 21-year old Marvin Wright here, whose lifetime hobby has been to collect rare timepieces and see what makes them tick.

Wright has 13 clocks in all, five in the living room, three in the dining room, one in a bedroom, and four noisy models in the garage. He began at three and has continued experimentation with clocks until his collection is worth more than $1,200, although its net cost was less than $50.

The perpendicular mouse clock is numbered from bottom to top, with a tiny white mouse pointing the correct time. The piece is about 25 years old. Wright owns a half-made French clock, imported to Texas while the territory was a Mexican possession.

Honest Minister
A minister married a couple. "How much?" said the groom. "Whatever you think it's worth," said the minister.

The man hesitated, fumbled, then handed him fifty cents. The minister was a good sport. He fumbled, hesitated, then counted out twenty cents in change.

Volume 1 By Haskell High School Students No. 9

A HINT TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT

One paramount purpose for attending school is to learn to take our place in society at large. One of the first places some of us have failed is here at school. Girls, it is necessary to assume an air that you are better than the boys who attend our school. Boys, the same applies to you. If you deem it quite necessary to feel this way about it, you are not going to reap the full benefit from your high school life.

Some boys assume the Ispakoff-she-dressed-nice attitude. Clothes don't make the girl—but in some cases clothes make the boy—speak very little seems to be based on a boy's or girl's achievements in school. Beautiful but dumb is good enough for some. But, boys, don't let this interfere with your courtesy toward all of the girls. And, girls, it would make it easier for the boys to be more courteous if you would be a little more thoughtful about keeping in your place.

I had the experience of walking to town from school a few days ago behind a girl and boy, also going home from school. They were on the opposite side of the street. The boy evidently desired the girl's company so he straightway called her to come across and walk with him. The girl went across. Had it been me, the boy would have come across or else we wouldn't have walked together. And, boys, walk on the outside.

It is customary for both boys and girls to enter the front door at times. As a general rule—the first there, the first to enter. Girls, it is not only a boy's place to open the door and allow you to pass, but it is your place to wait until he does so. He feels just as awkward when you check him from doing this as you do when he fails to do it.

Courtesy never hurt anyone, boys and girls, let us keep in our place and practice it.

Ten Commandments For School Conduct

1. Be on time.
2. Be cheerful.

Be courteous.

3. Be courteous.
4. Be careful.
5. Be clean.
6. Be attentive.
7. Be steady.
8. Be proud.
9. Be a man.
10. Be truthful.

More About the Ex-Senior Homecoming.

In a recent issue of the Warwhooop, announcement was made that the Seniors of 1935 will sponsor a get-together affair for all Haskell High graduates since the class of 1930—including that class. This "homecoming" (some of the exes themselves have called it that) will occur at the High School building on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 27. Those attending are invited to come at any time between the hours of seven and eight on the evening of the twenty-seventh for an informal social occasion; after this, all will go to the auditorium where the seniors will present their best talent in a program. Several ex-seniors—some of the favorite "old timers"—will also appear on the program. It is hoped that the entire occasion may be a happy time for all—a time when all may meet and greet old friends in a real holiday spirit.

Class Room Classics From Kaigler's Studio

1. "Thought once awakened does not slumber."—Cadye.
2. "Bows for speakers on the public stage are out of date."—Alice Evelyn Craig of the Los Angeles (Calif.) Schools.
3. "A living voice a breathing harmony."—Byron.
4. "Language whether spoken or sung, consists of two separate and distinct processes, carried on simultaneously; word production and tone production."—S. S. Curry.

Our department was recently asked why students do not bow before addressing an audience. Well, we will let one of good authority speak for us. And we think it will bear repeating. "Bows for speakers on the public stage are out of date" by Alice Evelyn Craig of the Los Angeles, Calif. schools. We are hard at work on our Christmas Chapel program. We will reverse the adage, "From the Sublime to the Ridiculous" by beginning with a comic skit "Two Sweethearts for One" and climax our program with a melodrama "War." We will be assisted on this program by three popular high school boys; one of them will be dressed in a military suit, just home from college—we are giving you plenty of time, girls, to choose a good seat in front.

Gypsy Rambler History

The Gypsy Ramblers Club was organized in 1928 by twelve girls with Mrs. Geo. Wimbish as sponsor and Miss Elaine Mills as co-sponsor. The girls submitted the constitution and by-laws to Mr. Bass and Mr. Dodson, superintendent and principal at that time. After they had been in the hands of Mr. Bass for several days he approved them and the club began to exist as an organization. The girls also submitted suggestions to Mr. Bass for a name for the club. Two of the names were the Gypsy Club and the Rambler Club. Mr. Bass suggested that the two be combined and called the Gypsy Rambler Club.

Our colors are taken from the American flag; the white representing loyalty, and the red representing bravery or valor. These colors are brought out in our uniforms, which consist of blue overalls, white shirt and red bandana.

Our constitution states that there were to be only twenty-five members in the club and that they were to be only Juniors and Seniors of High School. However, an amendment was later passed to the effect that Sophomores and Freshmen might become members of the club, and that there might be more than twenty-five members in the club. The Juniors and Seniors were to be the Senior Ramblers, the Sophomores were to be Junior Ramblers, and the Freshmen were to be Sub-Junior Ramblers. These changes were made to prolong the life of the club. The Seniors' prestige is shown in that they have authority over the younger members; they decide all important questions; and they take the younger members as their little sisters. Our constitution also states that if a member misses three meetings or three hikes in succession without a good reason she is automatically dropped from the roll. No girl is to use suggestive language or do anything that will bring shame upon the name of the club or upon her name. She must be willing at all times to bear her share of the load; she must show sportsmanship, cooperation, and be friendly with all members.

On our hikes we wear our uniforms and each girl helps carry the load. After we have reached our destination each girl takes her turn at the skillet. Then we all eat together. Every summer we go on a delightful outing which lasts about a day or two.

The purpose of the club is to make money each year to buy something useful for the school. In 1931 every girl was glad to see a long dream of the club's come true—that of presenting to the High School a curtain for the stage. The following year we were glad to find that we were able to furnish the stage with a suite of furniture. Since that time we have given to the school a table for the stage and several pictures, including a picture of Washington, "The Turquoise Moccasin," an etching accompanied by an Edgar A. Guest poem, "A Scene in Brussels," and the Rheims Cathedral. We have also equipped the Superintendent's office with a flat-topped desk, a swivel chair and two office chairs. This year we have had made for the girls a dressing room, have presented the school a flag, and some song books.

I think I am speaking for every member in the club when I say it has meant much to every girl who belongs or has belonged to the club. It teaches her sportsmanship, comradeship, and cooperation. I hope and believe that the club will carry on its good work in the future as it has in the past.—Ethel Irby, President of the Gypsy Ramblers Club, 1933-34.

DID YOU KNOW—

- That the girls do have a good basketball team?
- That Kathryn Wair and Mary Frances Allen have boy friends in Munday?
- That Ed Parsons wishes to deny the statement appearing in this column about deep "interest" in Sager-ton?
- That special attention is given to Christine Tucker about the middle of every history class? Twice lately she's received "special delivery" letters at this time. She's worth 13c to somebody.
- That Miss Vick had a hard time gathering together the $300.14 for our Senior rings? 14c is hard to get hold of this day and time she says.
- That Beatrice and Norma spend entirely too much of the 7th period discussing the "worthy ones" from Rule
- That Edwin Bledsoe is a good basketball referee? So the girls tell me.
- That one of our husky forwards, Velma Davis, unlevelled our basketball court the other afternoon when Maggie Lee tripped her?
- That Martelle Clifton wonders how it feels to be in love? (You tell her, Marvena.)
- That our lockers are to be inspected again in the near future? (Students be sure Mr. Wimbish finds them in order and all books covered.)

Discoveries Show Ancients Afflicted With Taxes, Bills

AUSTIN, Tex.—Even the ancient Babylonians had to contend with taxes and bills, according to evidence in a collection of early tablets displayed in the anthropology museum at The University of Texas.

To the average observer, the small tablets on display in the anthropology department appear as nothing more than small stones with curious markings, but to the anthropologist they are the dark-age equivalent to bills and tax receipts received today. A translation of one of these tablets reveals that it is a list of taxes payable in sheep and goats, dated the twenty-fifth of the month. It was found at Drehem, a suburb of Nippur, where there was a receiving station for the temple of Bel. The date is about 2300 B. C. A butcher's bill, found near the same place and dated about the same time, lists one fat sheep, three sheep and one lamb killed for market and delivered.

In the same collection there are receipts in payment for goods and contracts, all written on clay or stone tablets. One tablet dated about 2300 B. C. bears an inscription ordering one fat sheep and one kid goat to be sacrificed to the Goddess Nana. Another tablet, found at Jakha and dated about 2360 B. C. represents a long contract containing lists of merchandise, apparently the cargo of a canal boat.

Texas Planning Huge Campaign To Stop Floods

AUSTIN, Texas.—With Uncle Sam's help, Texas will continue a fight on depression with a campaign to halt river floods and save water for arid lands.

Bills passed at a recent session of the Texas legislature contemplate co-operation of the federal government in river projects to cost not less than $47,500,000, and possibly much more.

The state authorized use of $6,000,000 on the Brazos River if a PWA loan not less than $30,000,000 is obtained. For a $15,000 preliminary expenditure by the state on the Neches River, the federal government is expected to provide a $7,000,000 dam. On the Colorado River the state merely created a nancing authority. Under it PWA plans will provide $4,000,000 to complete a dam left unfinished because of the drought.

It will be Texas' first large reclamation work. The state is to divide its major streams into within state boundaries. Here they have been ineligible for aid. PWA projects are not to interstate work.

A monument has been erected near Garden City, Kan., to "Buffalo" Jones, pioneer planter who helped found the city.

4-H Wardrobe Demonstrator Is Elated Over Work

"Everything I have to wear I have made by my foundation pattern," says Maurine Norton, first year wardrobe demonstrator of the Josslet Home Demonstration club. Miss Norton has provided adequate storage by building a closet which is 31 inches wide, 5 feet long and extends to the ceiling, with 3 shelves, with rods and racks for hanging.

In order to teach her little sister correct clothing habits, Miss Norton is sharing her closet with her and has arranged a rod at a convenient height for her clothing.

This Demonstrator is keeping a record of all clothing expenditures, plans to make shoe rack, hat rack, and laundry bag to improve storage space and she will compete in the clothing contest sponsored by the Council to award a trip to A. & M. Short Course in June.

CHURCHES

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST
 A. F. Thurman, Preacher.

The study of some people reveals this: They are experts at guarding their money, protecting it to the very end of the way, yes, keeping it all the way—then leaving it—having made no preparation what so ever for the better place. STRANGE, BUT TRUE!

Some people are charitable, indeed charitable, willing, ready, anxious, to overlook, pass by—EXCUSE downright meanness in others, provided of course, it is the sort they like to do—and are doing.

There are those who give away what they CANNOT wear, things they CANNOT sell, and will be greatly disappointed when they do not receive great marks of honor for same. Wonder what it would be like—watching that sort trying to make a sacrifice. Well, that type is making a sacrifice; best for the worst—souls for mammon. What can be given in exchange for that soul. NOTHING. Too late, too late! Remember this "THERE WAS A CERTAIN RICH MAN," and this too "THE LOVE OF MONEY IS THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL."

Church going is a habit. Yes, and a good one if it is directed by the Lord. Not one reason can be given for not going. Why do people exchange the habit of going for the habit of not going? What is the advantage. Note the disadvantages of not going. Be ashamed. Come on. Do your duty. "The welcome is not what it should be," says one. The welcome to NOT go is plenty strong, no doubt—BUT WHERE TO, please. Where are you headed for? Come on!

The sermon subject for the morning hour, 11 a. m., is to be: "An Exceedingly Unpopular Campaign—A Clean-Up Campaign."

The subject for the evening hour, 7:15 p. m., is to be: "How Jesus Put A Man On His Feet." Always glad to have you with us. Come!

Shoot Eagles and Coyotes From Airplane

These two men, E. G. Pope, left, and Ray Bumgardner of Fort Stockton, Texas, have developed a new sport, and at the same time have done sheep men of Far West Texas a real favor. They successfully hunt eagles and coyotes from the air. Their bag of 45 eagles in Culberson county over the Guadalupe mountains definitely establishes man's superiority over birds in the air. The flying hunters are pictured with their prize bird, an old Mexican brown eagle with a wing spread of eight feet. Eagles have been particularly bad about carrying off lambs in this area. Expenditure of 90c For Tile Profitable for Club Woman

An investment of 90c for a sack of cement for tile resulted in all the fresh beans and tomatoes the family of Mrs. Paul Josslet of Josslet H. D. Club could use.

120 feet of tile was made by using one part of cement to four parts of sand and enough water to make a so-called "dry mixture". A trench was dug placing the tile 10 inches from the surface of the ground. Water was run into the tile from a hose. This water was supplied by a windmill. Beans and tomatoes were planted on this tile which produced all the family could use fresh. Two rows of beans in the same garden planted off of the tile produced nothing. The tomatoes planted off of the tile produced about 1-4 the amount of those on tile.

"We think tile is a good investment, for it takes so much less water than surface irrigation," says Mrs. Josslet.

Let's Talk About Clothes

By a 'Young Modern'

DENTON, Texas.—It doesn't take much to make an attractive costume. And with simplicity attaining popularity heights, it is easier than ever before. Just take some dark wool material in solid or mingled colors, cut on simple lines and add a trim that will make for smartness.

Then the question arises—what kind of a trim is smart. In considering the question, some would think it meant buttons, buckles, contrasting materials and fabrics, but students at Texas State College for Women (CIA) advocate are "twin bracelets," gay rings and ear clips. These little additions can lend grace to any costume.

The twin bracelets, wider on one side than on the other showing a cuff like appearance, are made of wood cut in long and narrow links and can easily trim any costume. In bright gay plaids, mingled and solid colors, they are placed at each wrist of a long sleeve frock, forming the cuff.

The slave bracelets in gold and silver links set with bright stones are "coming back" and are shown as decoration for the dark winter frocks. The wide buckle effect styles are being made in wood, and add a decorative as well as a matching note with the belt of your dress.

You can't get away from costume jewelry—when you get the bracelets, then comes the ear clips, rings, novelty pins and clips. They all make for style, and give you the latest tips for the fashion parade.

Good Seed and Use of Poison Assured Large Yield Cotton

FRANKLIN.—Matt Salvaggio, 13 year old 4-H club boy of Robertson county, is a firm believer in the use of good seed and poison as factors in producing cotton, according to V. L. Sandlin, farm demonstration agent. Using practically the same cultural methods as used by other farmers in his community, young Salvaggio produced 569 pounds of lint cotton on one acre of land while his neighbors did not make more than 375 pounds. He ascribes the difference to the fact that he planted good seed which produced a large proportion of lint from the seed cotton and that he used 14 pounds of poison on his crop at the proper time.

The gross proceeds from this one acre amounted to $101.26 resulting from the sale of 569 pounds of lint at 14 1/2 cents per pound and 962 pounds of seed at $39 per ton.

Better the Golden Rule than the rule of gold.

Hospitals in Ecuador use boa-constrictors as a treatment for paralysis. Most of the patients imagine they have the ailment and pet boas are turned loose in the paralysis wards, scaring the patients into action.

Pain is a penalty for sinning against our bodies, and also a warning that some evil needs correcting.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

The drive for the sale of Christmas Seals sponsored by the Haskell County Tuberculosis Society has been launched and will continue until Christmas.

The purpose of this annual sale of Christmas Seals is to secure funds with which to carry on the fight against tuberculosis. This method of raising funds is notable in that it does not require a large contribution from anyone. Even those in reduced circumstances can still afford to buy Christmas Seals.

Few, if any efforts in combating disease have met with the same degree of success as this organized warfare against tuberculosis. It has resulted in reducing the tuberculosis death rate from 201 per 100,000 in 1904 to 61 per 100,000, but in spite of the great improvement made, tuberculosis is killing one-fifth of all who die between the ages of 15 and 45.

In this time of economic depression when unusual demands are being made upon the charitable purses, there may be a tendency to neglect this important work and withhold from it the funds which are customarily donated for this purpose. This should not be. Depression brings lower living standards. Overcrowding, malnutrition, and lack of medical and nursing attention follow depression and unemployment, while tuberculosis thrives on those misfortunes and makes it more imperative than ever that the society be given generous support in its sale of Christmas seals. Everyone who does so will have the satisfaction of knowing that he has helped to beat back tuberculosis.

On behalf of the unfortunate children who cry to you for help, and on behalf of all the men and women who look to the Tuberculosis Society for aid in the fight against tuberculosis this appeal is made.

Buy Christmas Seals and you will have a happy Christmas because your generosity will help others.

CHRISTMAS GIVING

Once more the season is at hand when we are busily engaged in preparing gifts for Christmas.

Let us bear in mind that "it is more blessed to give than to receive" only when we give in the proper spirit of Christmas. Many people have the wrong point of view about Christmas giving and, to a large extent, the beautiful custom of giving gifts on Christmas has been commercialized. Some give beyond their means to make a show; some give gifts with a view of placing the recipient under obligations to reciprocate, while others give gifts simply because they have received gifts and feel that it is expected of them.

The real Christmas spirit fills only those whose thoughts are about the happiness they expect to bestow upon their friends, and upon unfortunates who think they have no friends.

It is not so much what you give, as to whom you give and the spirit in which it is given.

There's a poor woman living around the corner. Very few, if any, are thinking of what she would like to have for Christmas. Next to yourself she would be the happiest person in Haskell if you were to walk in on her early Christmas morning with a gift of something good to eat or something warm to wear.

If you wish to convince yourself that "it is more blessed to give than to receive," try it.

LINCOLN AND DAVIS TO SHARE HONORS

The statue of Abraham Lincoln which for 23 years has stood in the rotunda of the Kentucky state capital is to have as a companion the statue of Jefferson Davis, president of the ill-fated Confederacy. An appropriation has been made by the Legislature for the Davis statue and add to this will be a fund raised by popular subscription. It is planned to have the statues stand together, back to back, with Lincoln facing the North and Davis looking to the South. Thus will Kentucky honor two of her most distinguished sons, for both were born on Kentucky soil, only a little more than 100 miles apart.

Jefferson Davis was born in Todd county, June 3, 1808, and Abraham Lincoln first saw the light of day in Larue County on February 12, 1809. Both left Kentucky with their parents at an early age, Davis going to Mississippi and Lincoln to Indiana and later to Illinois. In 1861, Davis was made President of the Confederacy, a few days before Lincoln's inauguration as President of the United States. Lincoln was destined to die at the hand of an assassin at the age of 56, while Davis lived to the ripe old age of 81. After the Civil War, Davis was arrested, charged with treason, and was kept a prisoner for two years, but the proceedings against him were finally dropped. When amnesty was offered in 1868, Davis refused to take the oath of allegiance to the United States and thereby forfeited his right to vote. Nevertheless, Jefferson Davis was chosen by his adopted state, Mississippi, as one of its two representatives in Statuary Hall, popularly known as the Hall of Fame, in Washington, where his statue was placed in 1929. Now his native state, Kentucky, gives recognition to one of the South's greatest statesmen of his time.

"Each day adds momentum to the forward move of business viewed from a national aspect. One of the best indicators are reports on bank deposits. This means people are confident. Much has been accomplished in a few months. Most of it has been due to the steady hand in Washington."—Sacramento Calif., Union. (Ind.)

"Intelligent Republican members of Congress, looking for guidance as to their future tactics, won't find much help in the Chicago statement of policy. The opposition must do more and better thinking if it is to devise a program which affords a genuine alternative to the policies now governing the country."—Collier's Magazine.

Snow—and we didn't get to see it. We were on a vacation "Up North."

Christmas shopping. Now is the time to do it. And, people, let us all try hard to find in our own stores what we wish to purchase before going off to another town. Keep that money, as much as possible, in Haskell county. Haskell county stores may not have what you wish to buy, but instead of just "thinking" they do not, investigate and find out. We know the owners of Haskell stores have purchased a lot of beautiful gifts.

Take this tip: Watch the advertisements in the Haskell Free Press for worthwhile, and economical, Christmas Gifts. And don't get the idea that because a merchant advertises he has to charge more for his merchandise, because he doesn't. You can buy advertised merchandise cheaper, believe it or not. The person that really PAYS in the long run, and is the loser, is the merchant that does not advertise. How do we know? Shears, Lobuck & Co. taught us.

Here's an interesting fact: U. S. recovery efforts so far costs less than ONE YEAR of the World War, claims Donald R. Richberg. Saving of life instead of destroying. And then some people still grumble.

We are not what you would call an admirer of Walter Winchell's "journalistic" efforts, but we do appreciate his attempts in behalf of the widows of the slain federal officers who "got" Baby Face Nelson. Winchell wants the dead officer's wives to receive the reward money or to be given a living pension. At present federal officers cannot receive reward money, even though they have been the ones to rid the country of dangerous gangsters. The wife of a federal officer cannot live on mere "honor." Our memories are too short, anyway. Heroes today—and forgotten tomorrow.

RAMBLING—From what we can observe, Haskell postoffice employees are now selecting their people a broader scheme. . . . S. Hansen will call us "Judge Alphonso" . . . Attorney John Willoughby thinks "Night of the Sinner's Partners" . . . Clay Smith was caught out trying to collect a few pennies Monday by Mike Radley and WGF and owing to the fact that Clay was the only one that had any money (visible) he stood for our coffee. . . . Raul English has been heard muttering quite often about some football player being ineligible. . . . There's a drug store in Vernon that has weight scales and it costs nothing to weigh. And is business rushing!

French Robertson grumbled because his newly arrived daughter's name was misspelled last week. It should have been spelled "Marinda French" Sorry. . . . S'funny, Theron Cahill never calls us "Forgery" anymore. . . . Trav Arbuckle is becoming the fact that the football season is about over—and nights too cool for croquet. . . . Believe it or not, we shook the hand that shook the hand that shook the hand of the Rice Institute football captain! . . . Joe Penner, of radio fame, constantly asks if "you wanna buy a duck?" while Hod Atkinson reiterates over and over his famous question of "wanna pitch?" . . . Haskell may have a new cafe soon.

We were not the only suckers that had our confidence in T. C. U. misplaced. . . . Willard Warren has smoked his taped up pipe so long that he now believes he has discovered something worthwhile. A patent possibility, perhaps. He has urged us to break our pipe and tape it up like he has his because, sez he, the excess nicotine is absorbed by the tape! He's Scotch, sez us. . . . Hubert Watson, of Texas University way, returned home for the holidays, and while here, he gravely inquired as to our health. Hush, little Hubert, don't you cry—you'll be a politician bye and bye.

Let's Watch Our Speed
Whose children they were, we do not profess to know, and it doesn't matter, but they were careless—as most children are. They are not supposed to know as much as "grown-ups" and therefore have not had enough experience to know that it is extremely dangerous to run helter-skelter into the street in front of an approaching automobile and that it is always better to wait before crossing. These children may have been yours or YOURS. Whether they were or not, their lives were in our hands for about one second Monday afternoon.

We were driving on the pavement north of the First Methodist Church, at about twenty-five miles per hour. We approached a street crossing and noticed that several school children were also approaching. We didn't think much about the matter, except that we did not increase our speed. Most of the children saw us and waited, but just as soon as we prepared to drive in front of them, about four youngsters suddenly darted forward. They were not killed simply because we were not driving fast, and therefore had time to step on our car brakes and stop. We believe that if we had been driving as fast down that street as we have seen MANY other drivers doing, some of those children

-CURRENT COMMENT-

WHEN FIRE ENGINES GO OUT (Industrial News Bureau)

Most of us have never outgrown a thrill of excitement at seeing the fire engines roar by. The hurrying rep apparatus, the scream of the siren, and the sight of the gleaming equipment, is the stuff that makes for vivid drama.

We might enjoy the spectacle less, however, if we stopped to realize that we are paying the bill for the engine and for the fire it is going to. The cost of maintaining and operating fire departments is an essential and major item in every municipal budget—and the more prevalent fires are, the more the department costs.

And here's a fact that may come as a surprise to the bulk of citizens—we must all chip in and pay for the property which is destroyed or damaged when fire sweeps through it. We pay our share in a number of ways. One of the ways is through higher insurance costs—the rate in any community, over a period of time, is based upon the amount of fire loss.

If the fire happens to affect a factory, men are thrown out of work, investments are lost or impaired, and the entire community feels the adverse effect of lost purchasing power and destroyed opportunity. Again, in the case of any fire of substantial size, taxable property is eliminated from the tax rolls, and the revenue lost to the community must be made up by higher taxes on all other property.

Fire prevention is both a duty and an obligation which every citizen owes to his neighbor and his community. It is in the interest of everyone—it means actual cash savings to us all. It's fun to watch the fire engines go by—but it isn't so much fun to pay the bill.

Children should be warned time and again about crossing streets. We know most school teachers make it a practice to caution, but we wonder sometimes if parents spend very much time on that subject. They should—for their children's sake.

And the warning ALL reckless, irresponsible, not-a-brain-cell-working speeders (men and women alike) should have is a good talking and for the first offense maybe a stiff fine. On a second offense there should be some way to prohibit that person from driving an automobile until they had time to learn about the rights of others. Watch those speeders, and report them. Your child may be injured, or killed. All the regrets, and remorse, in the world won't bring back a life.

Citation by Publication

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Haskell County—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Haskell if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in a newspaper published in the nearest county to said Haskell county, for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Lloyd A. Fry, who is a non-resident of the State of Texas, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be held in the county of Haskell at the Court House thereof, in Haskell, Texas, on the 7th day of January, 1935 then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court, on the 17th day of November A. D. 1934, in a suit numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 4504, wherein J. T. Hester is plaintiff and the Haskell National Bank and Lloyd A. Fry are defendants. The nature of the plaintiffs demand being as follows, to-wit:

The plaintiff alleges that he and the defendant, Lloyd A. Fry, entered into a contract on the 26th day of December, 1933, whereby said Fry agreed to sell to the plaintiff about 292 1/2 acres of land in Haskell county, Texas, and the plaintiff agreed to purchase the said land provided that the defendant, Fry, would convey to him a good merchantable title to said land; that by the terms of said agreement the plaintiff deposited in the Haskell National Bank Haskell, Texas, the sum of One Thousand and no-100 Dollars ($1,000.00) to be held in escrow by said Bank as a guarantee that he would perform his part of the agreement. Plaintiff says that it developed that the said defendant Fry, did not have a good title to said land, and that by reason of said fact this plaintiff is entitled to have returned to him his $1,000.00. But the defendant, Fry, is unlawfully claiming said money, and the defendant, the Haskell National Bank, has failed to return said sum of money to this plaintiff.

Plaintiff prays for a judgment ordering said bank to pay to him said money, and it be determined that the defendant, Fry, has no right to the same.
Herein Pail Not, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
Given under my hand and seal of said Court at office in Haskell, this 3rd day of December, A. D. 1934.

YOUR HEALTH

By John W. Brown, M. D. State Health Officer

AUSTIN, Texas.—Now is the time for the prevention of Pellagra, says Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. This disease is generally noted in increasing frequency following the winter months.

Pellagra is not a germ disease and is not contagious. It is caused by deficiency of certain important elements in the dietary, as has been proved by years of research by the authorities of the United States Public Health Service.

It seems to be demonstrated that the inclusion in the diet of food rich in Vitamin G serves to prevent the development of Pellagra. Diet is also the chief factor in the cure.

Pellagra may be prevented by eating a balanced diet consisting of lean meat, eggs, vegetables, and fruits. Whenever a person develops the disease, however, treatment should be under the direction of a doctor.
