The T. J. Tidwell Shows will open here Monday morning at Fair Park and will remain for the entire week of the Haskell County Fair. Haskell people who have seen the Tidwell Shows this year state that they have one of the best organizations on the road today. Several thousand dollars have been spent on improvements during the past few months and they have more and better shows and riding devices than ever before. The Tidwell Shows have been the feature attraction on the midway during the Haskell County Fair for several years and have the reputation of being one of the best carnival companies on the road today.

M. PEARL OPENS DRY GOODS STORE ON WEST SIDE

M. Pearl of Lubbock and Lamesa has opened a new dry goods store in the Baldwin building on the west side of the square and is now ready to serve the people of this section. Mr. Pearl states that his stock is not complete by any means as he has been handicapped in getting prompt shipment on merchandise from the factory and wholesale houses. However, a large part of his merchandise has arrived and he would appreciate a visit from the people of this section, as he says that he is anxious to get acquainted with the people of Haskell and Haskell county.

Mr. Pearl's family arrived last week and they have leased the Leman residence on North Clark street where they will make their home.

Buick-Pontiac Open Sales Rooms Here

Turner-Wagley Motor Company has opened their sales rooms in the Tonn building across the street from the Tonkawa Hotel and one door west of the Jones, Cox & Co. store. The new firm will handle the Buick-Pontiac automobiles as well as used and reconditioned cars.

The new firm has been doing business in Mineral Wells for a number of years and comes to Haskell highly recommended as to their straightforward business policies and they will be an asset to the business circles of Haskell.

E. P. Smelling and E. E. Paires will have charge of the sales department according to Mr. H. E. Dennis, who was here the first of the week from Mineral Wells, assisting in getting the new sales room opened. Mr. Dennis was well pleased with business prospects here and stated that he had already met several old friends.

Buick and Pontiac owners in Haskell county will be pleased with the announcement that the new firm has opened here, as it has been several years since these two popular automobiles have been represented with an agency in the county.

Mrs. H. L. Williams and little son Barry of Merton are here visiting with the former's mother, Mrs. Booth English.

ENRIGHT CONVICTED IN CAR THEFT CASE

Accused of Taking Cars of Haskell Men Several Months Ago.

138 NEW FIRMS SECURE CHARTERS IN PAST MONTH

Austin, Texas, Oct. 10.—An increase of 39.8 per cent in capitalization was registered for new firms granted charters during September to do business in Texas, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The average capitalization for the entire third quarter of the year was 8.8 per cent above the average for the corresponding period last year.

One hundred and thirty-eight firms capitalized at $3,166,000 were granted charters in September, as compared with 141 capitalized at $2,265,000 in August and 148 capitalized at $2,015,000 in September, 1932. For the entire third quarter the 413 charters represented a decline of 4.2 per cent from the 431 granted in the corresponding period last year.

Declines in number of charters granted occurred in the oil, manufacturing and banking groups, while increases occurred in merchandising, real estate, building and transportation.

Twenty-one out of state corporations were granted charters to do business in Texas, against 20 in August and 24 in September, 1932.

Warren William Enjoys Chance at Comedy Role

Warren William, after a series of dramatic roles, now comes to the screen in First National's hilariously funny comedy drama, "Goodbye Again," which opens at the Texas Theatre today.

Joan Blondell, Genevieve Tobin, Wally Ford, Ruth Donnelly and Helen Chandler are in the cast directed by Michael Curtiz. The play is an outstanding hit on the Broadway stage.

Eddie Enright, who was arrested in connection with the theft of cars belonging to W. O. Holden and R. A. Crowell several months ago was convicted and given three years in the state penitentiary here last Saturday in three cases. Enright received a sentence of 2 years at Abilene a few weeks ago and was returned to Wichita Falls Sunday, where he will be tried on a similar charge in Wichita county.

Homer C. Coker was convicted on a burglary charge and given a two year sentence in the state penitentiary yesterday. Coker was accused of robbing the Wichita Valley station here in the spring. He was arrested by railroad officers in South Dakota a few weeks ago. He recently received a two year sentence on a similar charge in Wichita county.

Charlie Williams, charged with the possession of liquor for the purpose of sale, was tried here Monday. The trial resulted in a hung jury. Williams has been re-indicted by the present Grand Jury and his case set for trial at this term of court.

The Grand Jury reconvened here Monday.

Preparations are Being Made for the Most Complete Program of Entertainment Ever Offered the Public

RACES TO BE BIG EVENT

Race Officials Predict More Than Two Hundred Horses to be Entered

HEALTH DEPARTMENT WARNS AGAINST SO-CALLED CANCER CURE

Austin, Texas, Oct. 10.—The increasing number of persons in Texas dying from cancer, justifies a warning at this time against cancer quacks and so-called cancer cures. While newspapers as a rule do not carry advertising of this type, there are many other ways by which misinformation can reach the public. Undoubtedly there are many persons who, being thus deluged with seeking proper advice, unnecessarily become cancer victims, while others not having cancer, are fleeced out of much money for a cure," stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"There are but two ways of treating cancer. First, by surgery; and second, but the use of radium or X-ray. Treatment must be started early and in the hands of a competent surgeon. Surgery is relied upon to remove cancerous tumors and is used in nearly two-thirds of the cases. X-ray or radium is used to advantage in one-third of the cases. Frequently the two methods are combined. Self-medication, serums, colored lights, pastes, salves, and diets are valueless.

"The great bulwark against cancer is early diagnosis. Every case is an emergency and it is unfortunate that the majority of those with cancer do not seek medical advice until beyond a permanent cure. No hope should be placed in fake cancer prophets and their treatments. Rather, the annual physical examination and an immediate reporting to your physician of any symptoms which may be suspected to be the beginning of cancer, should be relied upon. These symptoms are: Any unusual bleeding from any body opening, any lump in the breast or other part of the body, any persistent sore, particularly on the face or mouth, and chronic indigestion."

With the final week of preparation for the Haskell County Fair and Race Meet all phases of the Fair are rapidly rounding into final form for the most complete program of entertainment that has ever been offered in Haskell county.

Work has been completed on 34 stalls for the horses and by Thursday 32 more will have been completed which with privately owned stables available will probably be sufficient to take care of the entries. It seems probable that there will be a shortage of stables with the great number of entries that have been received and the number of horses now coming in. All people in Haskell having barns that might be used are earnestly requested to get in touch with those in charge of the Fair.

Tom Davis' "North Vale," "Infanta," and "Don Benito"; White & Strickland's "Queen of the Forest," "Mountain Law," "Skipper," "Pan Toy," and "Spill Tex"; Dr. E. F. Braden's "Saba"; Homer Foster's "Pasto Jure" and "Handor"; Jim Speck's "Paula C"; E. G. Bridwell's "Jack Snyder," "Lou" and "Roy"; Theo. Dunman's "Jimmy Conroy" and "Panic Lee"; Don Ramsey's "Privately"; C. E. Weldon's "Baby Wrack" and "Star Maiden"; "German Shot" and "Mix Up" of the Pence Stables; Ben Robert's "Ruby Taylor"; Ray Novity's "Atholia," "Rag Time," and "Silver Lady"; and W. McElroy's "Day Brook" have already registered at the track and are working out daily. Some of these horses after a rest in Haskell went on to the Brady Races to be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week and will return to Haskell the first of next week.

The grandstands and bleachers have been placed in repair to accommodate the crowds expected at the races and all business houses in the town of Haskell have agreed to close their doors from noon until five thirty on the first day of the races to allow their employees to attend the program offered by the Fair. This day has been designated as Haskell County Day and every citizen of the county is cordially invited to attend their Fair and Race Meet. School children will be admitted free to the Midway on this day until six o'clock.

Mr. Steve Knight of Stoneberg, Texas, Official Starter for the Haskell Races was in Haskell on Sunday and Monday to oversee the final preparations and will return from Brady this coming Monday with Mr. W. H. Caldwell, the Presiding Judge. Mr. Knight was highly pleased with the race track and pronounced it one of the best in West Texas and predicted that about one hundred horses would be here for the meet. Mr. John Culp and Mrs. William Swenson have been asked to act as Associate Judges of the Races. Certificate Betting will be in charge of Mr. John Oates with a staff of twelve clerks.

Great interest is being manifested in the exhibits and almost twice as many entries have been received as last year. There will be a complete showing of livestock, community exhibits, and individual farm exhibits. Communities from all over the county have entered their displays, displays having been received from McConnell, Bunker Hill, Post, Roberts, Midway, Meyers and Janssen. Special premiums have been offered in the livestock division and entries from 16 West Texas counties. It seems probable that the greatest showing of livestock in the history of the Haskell County Fair will be on hand for the three days.

Did you hear about the Scotchman who went down to the automobile factory with a basket under his arm to get some of that fine wheating?

N. R. A. Sponsors "Buy Now" Program

Nationwide Drive Encourages Normal Buying to Sustain Upswing of Industry

America is ready to swing into another great movement to combat the forces of unemployment, and for the next twelve weeks a nationwide program will be under way to speed up the momentum of the business machine. Just how these farflung plans will be carried out was described today by R. E. Sherrill, chairman of the N. R. A. committee in Haskell.

"This project quite naturally follows the Blue Eagle campaign," he said, "which has captured the imagination and the enthusiasm of the entire nation as nothing has done since the stirring War days of 1917 and 1918. The Blue Eagle drive, including the cadification activities of the N. R. A., has resulted in placing more than 90 per cent of the business of the country under the President's Agreement. More than two million workers have been reemployed and millions of dollars have been added to the weekly pay envelopes of those who toil. All this has spelled tremendous happiness for millions of homes and has completely changed the economic outlook.

"But it is to be remembered that this addition to the buying power of the public has also placed burdens on business because of the increased payrolls. Business must be speeded up in order to make it possible for these loyal employers who are operating under the Blue Eagle to continue to maintain their added labor costs. Then there are still many millions of men still out of work and jobs must be found for them. Something like 3,500,000 families are now receiving public relief, and, with winter coming on, this number will be greatly increased unless business in general is stepped up to a much faster clip than is the case at present."

Mr. Sherrill then explained the methods by which it is hoped these objects will be attained.

"The activities will be based on the logic of our slogan 'Now Is the Time To Buy.' You will note we are not making use of the word 'campaign.' Our plan calls for a logical systematic program to be carried on between now and the Holidays with the sole object of stimulating a well-ordered business acceleration. There is to be no emotional appeal, but rather an appeal will be made to the calm, sober judgment of the country. Of course, the element of self-interest will enter into it. For it is just about as sure as tomorrow's sunrise that price levels are going to rise. Every possible effort is now being made to put up commodity prices and every index shows the upward trend has arrived. Hence it is simply a matter of self-interest for people to buy what they can at this time rather than wait till prices go higher.

"There is scarcely a family in Haskell or a corporation either, for that matter, that has not been putting off purchases. In the homes furniture and carpets and rugs have been used that should have been discarded long ago. Repapering, remodeling and refurbishing have been put off from month to month. Members of the household have allowed their wardrobes to become depleted. In the case of factories and business houses, equipment has been allowed to run down and a general program of replenishment and rehabilitation is long overdue. Hence, we feel that we are well within the bounds of good business judgment when we say 'Now Is the Time to Buy.'

"As to our plans here in Haskell, we are keeping our old Blue Eagle organization intact. There will be a lot of work for all of us to do as the program advances. In the first place, every member of our committee is to be a salesman for this great movement. During this twelve weeks of increased effort they will spread the gospel of 'Now Is the Time To Buy.' We realize that an organization of loyal men and women such as we have here in Haskell, thoroughly imbued with the idea of doing everything possible to help stimulate business and end the depression, can make themselves a tremendously powerful force.

"We want the business men of the city who have signed up under the Blue Eagle and who have been so fine in their cooperation with Uncle Sam in this great effort, to know that we intend to do everything we can to stimulate trade for them. We believe that with an effort of this kind going on in every community of the United States, business can really be lifted out of the rut and the happy days of prosperity brought back to our land.

"We want the cooperation of everybody—the press, the pulpit, the schools, the radio, the motion picture houses and the various clubs and civic organizations and, of course, the general public. We are not going to ask anyone to make any great sacrifices. We are going to conduct this effort along sound, practical lines and we are not going to urge anyone to spend money that they really can't afford to spend. We know that prosperity can't be brought back that way. But, at the same time, we know that there is a vast amount of deferred buying in this community. There is still some unemployment here, I admit, but the vast majority of the families in this city are in a position to help swell the grand total of business activity. There are things that can and should be purchased in almost every home.

"The Government has organized this program in order to give the people of the country a chance to pull themselves out of the depression. Washington will cooperate with us in many ways but it is up to us to do our part. If we do our part and every other community in the United States does its part, the depression that has hung on now like a plague for the last few years will soon be a thing of the past."

CHURCHES

Women's Council of the Christian Church

The Council met in the home of Mrs. Dennis Ratliff with Mesdames Press Baldwin and Dennis Ratliff as joint hostesses. "Moments With the Master" was emphasized in the opening talk by our president, Mrs. Hunt, who presided during the business period.

The Devotional Theme "He went about teaching, preaching, healing," Matt. 4:23-25, was very beautifully given by Mrs. Carpenter, Prayer by Mrs. Hunt.

Mrs. Ratliff directed the program, leading the discussion of each part in a splendid way.

"Out of Bondage," as given by Mrs. Hunt, was most effective, as she told of the beginning of work among the negroes.

Mrs. Hawkins then gave a vivid word picture of successful leaders from our negro schools.

Very few were able to answer "Hidden Answers" asked by Mr. K. B. Ficks.

During the fellowship hour, a Bio's contest was one of the diversions, in which Mrs. Lynn Pace and Mrs. Henry Post answered every question correctly.

The hostesses served a delicious salad plate and punch to quite a number of members and several children.

Perhaps

Two ladies, previously unacquainted, were conversing at a reception. After a few conventional remarks the younger exclaimed: "I can not think what has upset that tall blond man over there. He was so attentive a little while ago, but he won't look at me now."

"Perhaps," said the other, "he saw me come in. He's my husband."

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
by William Bruckart

Washington.—The President lately has been stressing the necessity of providing credit, loans of money to those who want to do business but who haven't the resources after four years of the depression to get going again. Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, has made several speeches urging that the banks make loans freely to the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker. From elsewhere in the government, there is the cry that more credit shall be provided, credit here, credit there, and credit otherwise. All of which has moved observers here to inquire, "whither goest thou, Uncle Sam?"

Students of finance and economics who are regarded as knowing their oats tell me that there must be liberal use of credit at any time in this country. It seems to be the system we have built up. Now, more than ever, I am told, is there a necessity for liberal terms to borrowers. They predicate their views on that which is the fact, namely, that in every community there are businesses that would like to get going again on something like normal basis if they had the resources. These resources, however, have been depleted by four extremely difficult years, and consequently the business men have to proceed slowly.

But the continued shouting that there must be credit has more to it than just the fact that money ought to be loaned. The economists admit frankly that other factors must be considered. In the first instance, when the banker of your community makes a loan, he loans your money that has been entrusted to his care in the form of deposits in his bank. In the second place, the business man who borrows is taking a risk, for he has to put up collateral security with his note to the bank, and needless to say that collateral is always sufficient to insure the bank against loss. So, if the borrower fails to make a profit on the money he borrows, or if he makes a bad guess on the investment of that money, and loses, he not only loses the amount borrowed but his collateral as well. So, even if he has the resources to put up the required collateral, he is going to think twice before he borrows.

Summed up, therefore, the question of private credit or private loans on liberal terms is not limited to the banks by any means. In other words, you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink. In this case, sometimes there is no horse to lead to water and sometimes there is no water when the horse gets there.

But let us turn to a consideration of government credit. The government is putting out money in a dozen different ways and it is using the semi-government agency, the federal reserve system, to put out other money. Yet the same factors are influencing that situation as those that are at work in the field of private finance.

When the federal reserve system was created during the administration of President Wilson, one of the dreams of its sponsors was that it would make credit easy, that it would provide money when business needed it. This has been found to be true. Banks that are members of the federal reserve system have the privilege of discounting notes they have taken from their business-house customers, with the federal reserve banks. What they do actually is sell that note to the reserve bank and get cash for it, but they agree to take it up in a specified time. It is almost like borrowing from a local bank, except that the transaction is between two banks instead of between an individual or a corporation and the local bank.

The federal reserve banks are operating now on what is known as an Easy Money Policy. They are loaning money to the member banks on discounts at a very low rate of interest. In addition, the reserve banks are engaged in open market operations under which they are buying United States bonds and treasury notes at the rate of about fifty million dollars' worth a week. The theory of this is that the reserve banks, having an elastic stock of money, will put out cash every time they buy one of those government bonds, which are acquired wherever they can be bought. That has put out cash, but from what the financiers tell me the release of that currency has not resulted in banks loaning additional funds to their customers for the reasons outlined above. Since there has been so much warm of borrowers at the bank windows, the cash that has been put out by the reserve banks simply has found its way back into the banks' deposits. What then? The banks have taken that cash to pay off whatever debts they have at the reserve banks and have taken their customers' notes back to hold them until they mature. Which is perfectly natural, because the banks can earn a profit only from the interest they receive on loans, and if the customer paid 6 per cent and the bank discounted that note with a reserve bank, it would have to pay a part of that 6 per cent as interest on its borrowings from the reserve banks. Hence, with the note back in its possession, the bank gets all the interest.

Now, as to the loans that are being made by the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the Department of Agriculture, the Farm Credit administration, the Federal Home Owners' Loan corporation, and whatever other agency there may be, it is the same old story. None of them can loan unless the security is ample. That is, a farmer cannot borrow unless he has a farm which he can mortgage or a growing crop or some work stock, and the city man cannot borrow unless he has a house which he can mortgage. If it were not that way, the government would be putting out money without a chance of getting repaid unless the borrower wanted to do it. It takes no fortune teller or soothsayer to foresee where that would lead and what it would amount to in the end. It would simply be taking money paid into the federal treasury by taxpayers and virtually giving it away. Obviously, soon the taxpayers would quit paying it in.

And having mentioned the taxpayers, I gather from conversations with unbiased observers here that the taxpayers are due for a tremendous shock anyway before this recovery plan is completed. The expenditures are so vast and in so many ways that it is difficult, if not impossible, to tell how much the thing is costing.

Secretary Wallace's plan to buy up about six million pigs weighing less than 100 pounds and one million sows about to farrow, as a means of cutting down the hog surplus and forcing prices higher appears to have been only about half successful. Or, to say it another way, the program failed. Department experts won't say why it failed, but there has been a good deal of discussion in the Capital that the secretary's plan missed fire because it did not take into consideration the practical, the human side of the equation. It was a beautiful theory. I think the secretary ought not to be charged wholly with it, however, because it had its inception in the minds of certain men who claim to be leaders in agricultural thought who put their heads together with some of the professors who are so numerous around Washington.

From divers sources, I get the information that farmers in many sections of the country held off marketing their pigs and their sows, even with the premium the Department of Agriculture was paying, because they wanted to wait for those higher prices that the Department of Agriculture said would come. Quite obviously, they expected the little pigs to grow up, and when they became bigger pigs and prices were higher, there would be bigger amounts of money.

The net result of the whole show was that the Department of Agriculture put out only about $22,000,000 in its pig program, whereas it had estimated that there would be approximately $50,000,000 expended. A part of the total paid out went to the processors, such as the meat packers and butchers, as compensation for the work they did. The country's hog population was reduced by the extent of about four million pigs, while instead of one million sows being bought and killed, there were not more than one hundred thousand.

Notwithstanding the failure of the program to buy pigs and sows, the outlook for hog supplies in the principal markets during the coming marketing year is for lower shipments than in several years. The marketing year ending October 1, 1933, saw roughly 47,250,000 head of hogs slaughtered. That total, and it is fairly accurate because federal inspectors see all of the hogs killed, was the largest in four years. But the marketing year just now starting gives every indication of a considerably smaller shipment and slaughter and that probably means higher prices, according to the experts.

The relationship between hog prices and corn prices has been unfavorable for hog production in the last three months, and the prediction from the Department of Agriculture is that this condition will continue for probably a year. It is to be assumed that this will result in a smaller pig crop this fall than is usual, although since the plan to buy pigs failed to materialize into satisfactory results, I do not see how the experts can guess the dimensions of the pig crop.

Mrs. Kaigler Will Present Her Junior Class in Expression Tuesday Night.

On next Tuesday night October 17th, at the Haskell High School auditorium, Mrs. C. M. Kaigler will present her junior class in expression. There will be no admittance charges, as this is merely a demonstration program to show the progress these children have made in one month.

They will be presented in song and dialogue, and readings, with one very lovely little playlet, taken from Shakespeare's "King Lear." In this first recital we call the public's attention to the clearness of pronunciation on the part of each performer. We are especially stressing good plain reading this year. Space in the paper which is always freely given forbids our giving the titles of the numbers, but come out next Tuesday evening and we promise you good entertainment.

The following boys and girls will be on the program: Doris May Humphries, Sue Ratliff, David Patterson, Leo and Burl Southern, Sarah Beth Arbuckle, Josephine Parish, Thomas Lee Roberts, Foy Lee McKeon, Geraldine Ivy, Eva Joe and Bunis Fay Ratliff, Jane Richey, Billy Kemp, Betty Joe Ivy, Billy Jack Spear, John Guest, Reba Couch, Dale and Dean Bartlett, Jacqueline Theis, Sam Edd Chapman, Eva Ray, May, J. Pigeon Talk Is Too Much for Topsy One

(The following account of an incident which transpired at the State Fair of Texas, is from the Dallas Journal)

Maybe it was too many sips out of his private bottle or maybe he had misjudged the strength of the liquid he brought with him for his Dallas Day celebration at the State Fair of Texas.

Anyway, he doubted his own eyes and sought the aid of the superintendent of the pigeon and rabbit show.

"See here," he said, leading the official to the row of champions. "Wanna ask you something. What's matter with that bird?" pointing to a white fantail with its head drawn far down and its breast swelled out, strutting around in its cage displaying a spread of tail feathers like a miniature peacock.

"Nothing is wrong with him. He's built that way," the official explained. "Something must be wrong— all drawn up, can't see past his chest. Can it fly?" and he pushed his finger at the cage.

The fantail took a few steps and hopped to the other side of the inclosure away from the inebriated one.

"Nope, can't fly—too much tail," he opined.

His eye wandered to another cage where a black muf tumbler with wide spreading feathered anklets stood.

A ribbon on the front of the cage denoted a championship.

"Feathers on his feet," he mumbled. "Say, mister, you got a sick pigeon in there. His bill's all swelled up."

The official, genuinely worried, hurried to the pen from the other end of the row to find the semi-inebriate pointing to a black English carrier, a bird with a bill which is encircled with a layer of flesh. Not quite satisfied with the explanation that the carrier, as the fantail "just grew that way," the visitor wandered on down the row and a few minutes later came back to the superintendent again.

"What kind of pigeon you got in that las' cage down there?" he asked. "That big one."

"That's a runt," the official told him.

The visitor went back to inspect the cage, and then returned to the official, announcing, "That ain't no runt. The one in the end cage."

"Yes it is. That's the champion runt of this show."

The imber returned to the cage once more, and looked at the huge bird.

"Sure is a champion runt," he said. "S biggest pigeon I ever saw."

He looked at the official once more, and, apparently convinced he was being misinformed, he left the building. After he left the superintendent explained to a reporter, who had witnessed the entire proceeding, that runts, in spite of their names, are the largest birds in the exhibit, and the silver-blue and gray bird which caused the controversy had been adjudged champion of his class in the finals Monday.

"We have been reading about girls with adorable backs, tiny, beautiful arms, and other physical attractions. Does anybody know one who can make a good pie?"

Haskell Citizens Saved $30,000.00

DEAR FRIENDS:

We wish to call your attention to a much-needed community interest in our tax situation, involving the Haskell Independent School and our City Government.

We believe it would be well to state our connection and responsibility in the interest of this work. We came to Haskell to be here about six weeks and find ourselves pleasantly surrounded with new friends and acquaintances nearly two years later. We have endeavored to profitably serve the thousand tax-payers of Haskell in the adjustment of delinquent taxes, and have at all times had their interest foremost at heart. The latter statement is pretty hard for a tax-payer to believe we are sure, but we believe more than five hundred of the thousand tax-payers who have accepted our assistance in the settlement of their taxes will substantiate this statement. In rendering service of this nature, it is too often true that the tax-payer does not take time to make investigation to see if he is being served to the extent of tax-saving. We invite you to make this investigation, for it is you whom we are doing our best to serve.

Patrons, our plan of tax adjustment submitted to the school and city officials and adopted by them, is acknowledged to be the most liberal proposition ever offered the tax-paying public. This community is benefitted to the extent of over THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS under our Tax Certificate Plan and we plead that you each join hand in hand in making the plan a success. We make this plea believing you will come to our rescue. We know you are being offered a fair adjustment on delinquent taxes and feel that a great interest should be shown when your interest has been considered in this liberal plan. This community is no more than the people here make it and it is impossible to maintain our schools without your assistance.

The City is laboring under strenuous efforts due to so many delinquent taxes. It has been some time since they have been able to pay anything on bonded indebtedness. We know our city must have taxes to survive. We know our community would not be very inviting without the protection and advantages our city government affords. The cost of city government has been reduced some TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS in the last four years and this reduction in cost has made it possible to offer you the liberal plan in payment of delinquent taxes. Again, your personal interest has been considered, but the TAX SAVING PLAN will be of little importance to you without your interest and assistance. All delinquent notices will be in the mail this week and next, and when you receive them, consider the plan and direct saving offered you personally. We feel that this move is a most beneficial one and that you will be grateful for the action taken by these governing bodies.

We appeal to your good judgment as to the merits of our plea for your co-operation and immediate action in a tax-adjustment program that saves you every THIRD DOLLAR that is against your property.

Facts presented reveal a condition of which you may not be aware. The amount of delinquent taxes due your School is more than TWENTY-SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS and approximately TWICE that amount in the City. You must realize this condition can not go on if the doors of these institutions remain open. Concrete facts are that immediate assistance is greatly needed. We contend that this condition is not the pleasure of the people and that they only need to know that immediate action is vitally important.

The delinquent rolls, notices, and receipts have been compiled to conform with partial payments in cases where you are not in a position to pay the whole amount. Your attention is called to this fact as a great many feel that it is necessary to make full payment in order to get proper credits.

We are calling for assistance right now in the amount of FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS for our school. This amount can be raised without imposing a hardship on any one. There are about one thousand tax-payers and if each of you will pay only a part of your taxes at this time, you will render help at a very opportune time. We want to remind you that it is FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS we need and not half that amount. We are only asking you to help in accordance with our actual needs. Friends, we urge each of you to do everything in your power to help us NOW, and for every TWO dollars you pay, you will be given credit for THREE, and receipted accordingly.

The writer has endeavored to lay the above facts before you in the spirit of community interest and trust that you will lend every effort to help in this mutual problem.

Respectfully submitted,

By REX RAGAN, Adjuster.

NEW FRENCH LOTTERY

Hard pressed by needs for funds, the French government is about to adopt an old expedient to replenish its treasury—a national lottery.

Lotteries are generally held in disrepute in these days, but in former times they were common. For several years, back in its early history, Harvard University was partially supported by a lottery, and the United States government authorized many such enterprises in the first years of the nineteenth century.

According to press reports, the proposed new French lottery will provide that 60 per cent of the sums realized from ticket sales will be distributed to prize winners, while the remaining 40 per cent will go to the government.

The act under which the lottery will operate specifies that the first 10 million francs accruing to the government shall be distributed to "destitute families, the victims of agricultural calamities and droughts."

A commission of distinguished war veterans will conduct the lottery's operations, and no income tax will be charged winners on their gains.

The odds against a ticket buyer are heavy, but human nature being what it is, there will no doubt be many customers for the new gamble, even at the odds of 100 to 60. We would much prefer the Roosevelt plan.

BUNK ABOUT VITAMINS

A lot of the propaganda going about concerning dieting and the vitamins is the bunk, according to Prof. Solomon Strousse, a well known scientist, who declares that the normal diet of normal persons provides all the vitamins needed.

All this talk about vitamins, he says, is something comparatively new, dating only from 1911. Much attention has been given to the subject, but even today little is really known about it. Manufacturers of yeast and special foods have attempted to capitalize the popular idea that vitamins are an all important component of one's diet, but many of the claims made by advertisers of food fads are foolish.

Prof. Strousse asserts that all nutritional needs will be met by a diet including a quart of milk daily, two fresh salads, two servings of leafy vegetables, one serving of meat and liberal quantities of butter, cereals, fruit, bread and water.

He adds that when the nutritional needs of the people suffer because of poverty or a disturbance of the food supply, ill health can apparently be traced to the lack of something in the diet, but this does not necessarily mean a deficiency of any particular vitamins.

From all of which it may be concluded that almost any kind of wholesome food provides a satisfactory diet, so far as maintaining health is concerned. But faddists must have their fads, and if following a fad makes a faddist happier, why not let him or her go to it?

ONLY ONE RULER NOW

Three years ago, James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, returned to this country and surprised some individuals by naming this nation's rulers—a list of 64 big money men and labor leaders headed by John D. Rockefeller and Andrew W. Mellon. Strangely enough the list did not include the name of former President Hoover, nor that of Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York at the time. But upon returning from Europe recently the former Ambassador announced that his old list of American Rulers had been eclipsed by one great ruler. He declared that not one of the men named rightfully remains on his list of "rulers" and that he had long ago wiped the slate clean and written in the single name of Franklin D. Roosevelt. He is the Moses who is leading this country out of the wilderness of despair.

SUCCESSFUL WAR ON KIDNAPERS

Attorney General Cummings claims a perfect record of success for his department in its recent activities against kidnaping and racketeering and it deserves the highest commendation.

"Of the 15 kidnaping cases thus reported and investigated," he said, "there have resulted 17 convictions, one death sentence, two life sentences, and terms of imprisonment aggregating 312 years."

In view of the fact that laxity in law enforcement against kidnapers and racketeers has prevailed so long, this record over a comparatively brief period is one in which the department may well take pride.

Until recently when the concerted drive was begun by the department of justice news of the kidnaping wave covered the front pages of newspapers throughout the country. The effect of the drive of the federal authorities can already be noted with fewer and fewer kidnaping cases brought to the attention of authorities.

It is evident from the justice department's record that an attack boldly and systematically waged against kidnapers and racketeers can be successful, and this commendable work should be continued until the kidnapers and racketeers are driven from the country.

Let's Reminisce On The Past a Little

R. E. SHERRILL

About 53 years ago, 1879, Uncle Bob Hollis thought he wanted to be a sheriff for a while, so he took over the job over in Throckmorton. And you know Throckmorton had jurisdiction over this county at that time. One cold morning in January, 1881, when the snow was on the ground, he needed Bob Wilfong for a witness, and Wilfong was on a ranch in Stonewall county at the time. There was only one house in the county and no roads, so he came by Rice Springs, using a compass to keep his direction. At the spring he found two tepee tents with a few Tonkawa Indians out from Fort Griffin for a hunt. The buffaloes were gone, but there were plenty of antelopes and turkeys. Since there were no roads it was a little difficult to get about, but everything went well on the trip. Later on he was here again, and this time he found a pile of buffalo bones twice as long as the Haskell National Bank and as high as they could be piled. About two years after that Bob and Frank Wilfong moved over to the newly started town of Haskell and built a house about three blocks southeast of the square, and planted a little mulberry tree in the yard. This was the fourth house built in the town. Just west of this house was the third built by Labriere, a little three room house which still stands, the oldest house now standing in town. When we came here Armstead Mason was living in this Labriere house, and we got the privilege of boarding with them for a few weeks till we could get a house of our own. Well, that little mulberry tree lived and grew till it got to be a large tree, and there it stands today to mark the spot. So you see, you can't tell when you plant a tree or build a house what will be its history, or how important or insignificant it may be. While speaking of trees, you know that fine bois d'arc tree that stands in front of the old place once occupied by Judge Sanders, southwest of the Baptist church and east of Dr. Taylor's place, the finest tree in the town. Mr. Sole built the first two rooms of that house and Dr. T. M. Lewis added to it. The place was sold to Judge Sanders, and his sister, Mrs. Jones, planted the seed that made this fine tree. When you pass by these two trees stop and take a good look at them. They are worth looking at. If they could talk they would tell you many things you do not know.

Here's a jump for the track meet to practice on.

An Irishman who had been in Alaska told the following story: "I landed me boat on an island. I went ashore and when I got up to about the middle of the island, I meet the biggest bear I ever see in me life. There was one tree on the island, and I made for that tree. The nearest limb was a big one, which was about twenty feet from the ground, and I jumped for it." Someone listening to the story asked, "Did you make it?" The Irishman replied, "I did not make it going up, but I caught it coming down."

Since the World War the whole world seems demoralized. Wars and rumors of wars, murder, robbery, kidnapping, graft, defaulting in office, business and bank failures, adultery, divorce, famines, floods, earthquakes, high taxes, these fill the newspapers till there is no room left for such news as we ought to have. Men's hearts are failing for fear of the things that are coming on them. What a pleasure it is to turn away from all these things to something better. Read this delightful little poem sent me by the Scripture Gifts Mission of Toronto, Canada.

Quiet from fear of evil,
Dwelling with Christ my king,
Resting beneath His shadow,
Gladly my heart shall sing.

Quiet from fear of evil,
He with His peace endows,
Nothing can harm His children,
But what His hand allows.

Quiet from fear of evil,
There on His throne above,
High above all the nations
High above all the nations

Sitteth the king we love,
Quiet from fear of evil,
Trusting of Him I sing,
Jesus the world's great victor,
Jesus our glorious king.

Harmony Club in First Meeting of New Club Year

The Harmony Club opened its season Wednesday October 4th, with the annual luncheon. The president, Mrs. J. T. Ellis, directed the special program. The response to roll call was "Summer Current Musical Events." Paine, "Baracolle" by Rubenstein, Mrs. O. E. Patterson, Voice, "Day of Promise", Mrs. Bert Welsh. Mrs. Tommy B. Hawkins discussed the program outline for the coming year. Mrs. Ellis' message to the club was indeed beautiful and inspiring. The message follows: "Ladies of the Harmony Club: 'I'm little accustomed to the part I am now attempting to perform. 'Seldom has it been my privilege to assume the leadership of an organization I esteem more highly than our beloved Harmony Club, whose members have always been dependable and trustworthy.

"So it is with this confidence we start this year's work.

"Let us set our aim high and work diligently toward our goal.

"We may meet with disappointments and may at times be a bit discouraged but through patience, assistance and cooperation we may be able to appear in the capacity for which we aim.

"Wherein we may have failed, let us profit by that failure, and through sincere efforts become a Harmony Club in its truest sense, harmonizing our lives into the great plan for the uplifting of mankind. Not only will our future seem glorious but the present will be full of light, love and strength. The hardest task will not be beyond our power, and hope will sing her conquering song to our tolling hearts."

Arrangements were in charge of the entertainment committee, of whom Miss Eunice Huckabee is chairman. The club rooms were beautifully decorated with pink and white radiance roses and queen's wreath.

Members present were: Mesdames J. D. Hughes, Bert Welsh, O. E. Patterson, Jno. W. Pace, J. T. Ellis, C. L. Lewis, G. H. Morrison, Tommy B. Hawkins, A. J. Shriver, T. C. Cahill, R. L. Harrison, A. W. Harvest Moon Party

On last Friday evening October 6, the Gypsy Ramblers rambled to the lawn of Miss Kathleen Crawford for a Pajama Lawn Party. The lawn was decorated with spoons, pumpkins, witches and owls.

Treasures were hidden in jack o' lanterns in four directions from the house. As the guests returned from this search each person brought a stick of wood and added to the campfire which was built on the lawn.

Immediately after the campfire was lighted by the President, "Shorty" Irby, we joined hands and formed a twenty foot circle around the fire. Each Gypsy stepped to the center and introduced herself, and the new members were given their nicknames.

Miss Crawford was very fortunate in securing a fortune teller from Austin. She consented to come for a small fee. It is very seldom that the fortune teller stops in towns of this size. She read the palms of all present, telling their past, present,

Haskell High School Dramatic Club Sponsors First Chapel Program

On last Wednesday the Haskell High School Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mrs. C. M. Kaigler, gave the first program of the year. The prologue to the one act play was readings of a more or less romantic nature—these interspersed with piano numbers and a song, "You've Got to be a Pothall Hero" by Lillian Kaigler, interpreted by the football captain Thurman Bynum and yell leader Lily Fay Staker. These readings were given by George William Fouts, Geraldine Hunt, Ethel Irby, Robert Barnett, Tommy Clifton, Helen Higgins and the football mascot, little Miss Jane Richey, daughter of Mr. Bill Richey the coach. Lillian Kaigler and Leo Roberts each gave mother's and dad's versions of their courtship days. The one act play, "The Wrong Baby" was a day nursery in charge of an elderly lady, Mrs. Brisson who wishing to get off for a day in order to get ready to go to a wedding, asked her niece, a flighty young thing to take care of the day nursery babies for her just for one day. As she (Helen Higgins) tries to attend to the babies and read a love story at the same time, the babies are neglected and at last she sends the Wrong Baby home. Girls having a part in this were: Geraldine Hunt, Helen Higgins, Ethel Irby, Lois Mapes, Mary Lena Tubbs, Lottie Mae Thompson, Dorothy Lewellen and Ruth Josselot.

Seniors Select Class Ring

Monday was a very thrilling day for the Seniors, for they selected their class ring. A committee of five was elected by the class to choose three rings from the salesman's samples. After much consideration, the rings were selected and submitted to the class. Explanations were given about each ring before they were passed around for each student to examine carefully. Then a vote was taken, and as a whole, the class was highly pleased with the ring that was selected. Measurements were taken by the salesman, so the order could be sent off this week.

Last Sunday the Juniors of the Presbyterian Church elected officers as follows:
President—Catherine Pace.
Vice President—Norman Hancock.

Reporter—Jean Kendall.
Visiting Committee — Chairman, Catherine Pace; Flossie Hester, Christine Lowe, Theodore Pace, and Tommie Frierson.

Modern Swapping

"What are you going to give Joe for his birthday?"
"The necktie I gave him last Christmas."
"How can you give him something he already has?"
"He hasn't got it. He gave it to me for my anniversary."

Out of the Frying Pan

Teacher—Really, Johnny, your handwriting is terrible. You must learn to write better.
Johnny—Well, if I did, you'd be finding fault with my spelling.

"Yes," said the commercial traveler, "we have received letters of appreciation from England, Wales, Ireland—and a postcard from Scotland."

Mr. and Mrs. had just returned from the preaching services:
Mrs.—Did you notice the new hat Mrs. Brown had on today?
Mr.—No—er—I'm afraid that I was dozing a little.
Mrs.—Huh! A lot of good the service did you!

"I suppose your baby sister cries some?" asked one of the neighbors.
"Cries!" said Mary, "why she just seems to look on the dark side of things all the time."
