2 INCHES OF RAIN FALLS HERE SINCE SATURDAY NIGHT

Sufficient Moisture Now In Ground For Spring Crops; Growing Grain Helped

The entire county is said to have an excellent season, with the exception of a portion of the county surrounding the Roberts community, north of town. This community has had some moisture, but the rains have not been as heavy as in the other sections.

Considerable damage was done Sunday night by a hail and windstorm in the Center Point community which ranged in a southeastern direction through the Post community. Several houses and barns were damaged. The rainfall was also heavier in these communities than was reported in Haskell.

Payment of Delinquent Taxes To Avoid Penalty Is Urged

In order to save considerable money in the payment of taxes, the taxpayers of Haskell county are being urged to pay all delinquent taxes before June 30, the last day, to avoid penalty, by Ed F. Fouts, tax collector.

In connection with the payment of delinquent taxes, Fouts received a letter this week from the Hon. Geo. H. Sheppard, comptroller of public accounts, which stressed the importance of paying. The letter is self-explanatory as is quoted below: "You will recall that from time to time since 1930, the Legislature has been suspending interest and penalties on delinquent taxes. Last May, the last measure of this kind was enacted, which provided a 2% penalty on all ad valorem taxes delinquent on February 1, 1933, (later they included the split tax payment which became delinquent on July 1, 1933), if paid by December 30, 1933, and 4% penalty, if paid by March 31, 1934, and 6%, if paid by June 30, 1934."

Next Week Designated For Annual Event; City Will Provide Help

If you should happen to see some unusual activity in the way of cleaning up on the part of Haskell citizens next week, do not be alarmed, because from Monday until Saturday the annual "Clean-Up Week" will be in force and the actions of other parties should remind you to see to the cleanliness of your own yards, alleys, or what have you.

A proclamation was issued last week by Mayor A. P. Thurman, which called upon the citizens of Haskell to cooperate in making a clean-up drive throughout the city, and was especially issued to all civic organizations. The main part of the clean up battle is to be waged against unsightly alleys and vacant lots.

According to Mayor Thurman, means for the transportation of all trash from the homes will be provided at no cost to the home owner, which in the opinion of most citizens, should prove a stimulant to everyone to have trash hauled away.

Forget a bridge party, ball game, sewing circle meeting or an "SI" game, but don't forget to cooperate with others next week in making Haskell a more beautiful place in which to live.

FRIDAY, 13, HOLDS NO TERROR FOR ROCHESTER COUPLE; SECURE LICENSE

At least two persons paid no attention to the popular superstition of Friday the 13th, and are willing to have everyone believe they consider the day just like any other—if the securing of a marriage license here Friday can be taken at face value.

Although more than one person took pains to suggest to Lofton Aldridge, of Rochester, that he was securing a marriage license on a day when evil things befell everyone, he simply could not see it that way and apparently believes that Friday, the 13th is a day of good luck, because he intimated that he would also get married on that day also.

SPECIAL VENIRE OF 70 SUMMONED FOR JAY'S CASE

One of Alleged Slayers of O'Brien Farmer To Go on Trial April 23

OTHERS ARE SET

Defense Summons Witnesses From Home of Sam Jay and Dick Skipworth

In addition to the indictments brought in by the Grand Jury now in session, approximately 50 old cases appear on the docket for the April term of District Court in this county. Judge Clyde Grissom will occupy the bench.

Grand jurors selected were Dave Guinn, foreman; Lynn Pace, J. F. Kennedy, S. N. Reed, Ed Verner, D. G. Griffith, Ross Oliver, Marvin Cobb, I. A. Leonard, W. Z. Wadzeck, W. A. Cameron, R. S. Edwards.

Occupying the most attention is the so-called "torch-murder" case of O'Brien, 18 miles northwest of Haskell, which has been set to be heard on Monday, April 23. Sam Jay, Dick Skipworth and Clarence Absten were charged with the murder of Herschel Melton, O'Brien farmer on December 7, after Melton's body was rescued from the ruins of his burned home, with his skull crushed. The three men were indicted by the January grand jury on evidence submitted by H. F. Grindstaff, district attorney, and B. C. Chapman, county attorney. Indictments were later made against the accused for arson by the grand jury.

The murder cases were first set for the January term of court, but defense attorney J. P. Cox of Sherman, filed a motion for a postponement in behalf of Jay and Skipworth, for lack of material witnesses. Absten's case was then also postponed on account of the illness of Tom Davis, his attorney. Both Skipworth, a nephew of the slain man, and Jay, a brother-in-law, reside near Sherman, and came to Haskell county at the request of Haskell county to help with cotton picking only a short time before the tragedy. While the accused stated emphatically that they had never been in trouble before, they did not deny that they, with Melton, Mrs. Clarence Absten, Lois Burleson, 16, and Joyce Parker, 14, had been on a drinking party preceding the tragedy, which started at the home of Melton, was continued at the Black & White Inn, a beer garden near Stamford, and ended late on the evening of December 7. Melton's wife was in Abilene at the time, visiting their son and daughter, students in the Abilene Christian College. The case of Sam Jay will be the first to be heard.

Hamilton Writes

Here are parts of the first and last pages of a letter, purportedly written by Raymond Hamilton, Texas desperado, to a Dallas attorney. Hamilton, who said he was in New Orleans, wrote on the stationery of a New Orleans hotel, that he had nothing to do with the double murder of highway patrolmen near Grapevine, Texas, that he no longer ran with Clyde Barrow, and that he had never killed anybody. Austin reports state that Governor Ferguson has also received a letter from Hamilton.

IMPROVED BURNER ON RANGES THAT MAKE AND BURN THEIR OWN GAS

New BAND-A-BLU Burner Marks Great Advance in Convenience and Efficiency

Housewives who long for clean, convenient gas service for cooking at low cost, will give a warm welcome to the new line of beautiful modern ranges which make and burn their own gas.

These ranges are known as the new 940 Series Safety Instant-Gas Ranges and are made by the manufacturers of the famous Coleman Lamps and Lanterns. They operate with any grade of good gasoline free from anti-knock compounds, and light instantly at the burner, just like natural gas.

Amazing New Band-A-Blu Burner

Several new exclusive features, now appearing for the first time on these 940 Series ranges, represent the most amazing developments since Coleman introduced the Instant-Gas Principle. Among the most important of these is the BAND-A-BLU Burner. As its name indicates, this burner produces a band of clear blue flame, free from smoky vapor and objectionable odors. A new scientific way of mixing the gasoline with air gives twenty per cent greater heating efficiency and fifty per cent wider range of cooking heat. More effective use of heat reduces fuel cost approximately one-fifth. Wider range gives regulation from a tiny simmering flame to the hottest cooking blaze one could ever need. An overlapping cap acts as an "umbrella", protecting the flame from boiled over liquids.

Another equally important improvement is the new dial type safety carburetor valve. This carburetor changes gasoline into gas, just as the carburetor does on an automobile. With the valve set at the starting position, the gas furnished by the carburetor valve lights instantly at the burner like gas.

Many Models—Moderately Priced

There are many beautiful models in the new 940 Series of Coleman Instant-Gas Ranges. And on all of them from the handsome porcelain finished de luxe console range to the simpler kitchenette plate type model, the BAND-A-BLU Burner and Visible Dial Fuel Control are standard equipment. All range models have concealed fuel tanks which are made of patented Everdur metal.

The new 940 Series Coleman Ranges are on display (in name of town) at (name of dealer). Everyone is invited to inspect them.

BEAUTY AIDS

By A Proprietor of A Haskell Beauty Shop.

Choosing rouge and powder shades can be very perplexing at times.

Summer is coming and a good deal of time will be spent out of doors. Rules at best are general, but most smart women wear powder a shade darker than their skin during the summer months. A little experimenting will help you decide what is best for you.

Treat yourself to an entire change in the evening. A becoming shade of rouge and a dashing bit of eye shadow can change the course of a whole life. Don't throw up your hands and say, "Oh, my husband would die if I were to wear eye shadow!" Ten chances to one, the poor dear would tell you that you were looking particularly sweet but wouldn't have the faintest idea what brought about the change.

To get the proper shade, if you're in doubt, pinch one cheek lightly until the natural flush shows, and then experiment with rouge or mixtures of rouge on the other cheek until they match in color—and presto! There you have it. Some women can improve on nature in their choice of rouge shades, but this is a good test to follow.

Your health will effect your rouge. If you're not feeling up to par, rouge will sink into your skin, and you'll find you will need a lot more color than when you are feeling normal.

Time of day, the color of your dresses and the time of year effect the use of rouge. The general rule is to use a lighter, brighter tone of the same shade at night and deeper, richer tones in winter.

You need less rouge in the bright glaring daytime light.

Janet Gaynor, who has auburn hair, brown eyes, and a fair skin, uses rachel powder, day rouge, light pencil. Sharon Lynn, who is a red lipstick, brown eye shadow, brown head, uses rachel powder and day rouge, medium lipstick, grey eye shadow, brown pencil. Beatrice Lillie and Lillian Sande, brunettes from England, use brunette powder, raspberry rouge, medium lipstick, brown eye shadow, and black pencil. Dixie Lee, a blond, uses flesh powder, light rouge and lipstick and a brown pencil.

If you fall under the above types you might follow their lead with good results.

For the person who has iron grey hair, dark eyes and a dark skin, the dark powder, rachel and light ochre in combination with raspberry lipstick and medium rouge lightly applied, should give a good effect!

Grey or white haired women should choose their colorings with care, and should guard against the effect of a faded appearance.

POLITICS AND RELIGION

Theoretically, according to our constitution, no religious test is permitted as a qualification for holding office. Practically, however, we know that a candidate's religion, or lack of it, frequently does cut a considerable figure.

For example, when James G. Blaine ran as the Republican candidate for the presidency in 1884, the fact that his mother was a Catholic was used against him, and when in an indiscreet moment his friend Rev. Burchard referred to the Democrats as representing "rum, Romanism and rebellion," the tables were turned against Blaine. Cleveland carried New York and won the election. Many also believe that Al Smith's defeat was due to the fact that he was a Catholic.

The case of Mr. Blaine's father, Ephraim Blaine, who ran for the office of county clerk in 1843 is not so well known. He was opposed on the ground that his wife was a Catholic, and it was even charged that he was of that faith. So, the elder Blaine got a certificate from the village priest, Father Murphy, which read:

"This is to certify that Ephraim Blaine is not now and never was a member of the Catholic church; and, furthermore, in my opinion, he is not fit to be a member of any church."

This apparent disapproval by the priest was effective, and Mr. Blaine was triumphantly elected.

COURTNEY HUNT, HASKELL'S REPRESENTATIVE

Probably one of the best advertising stunts for the state of Texas that has been done in a long time is the Texas Press "Full House" special train that is making a tour of the east this week, with more than 100 business men and editors aboard. The delegation is in Washington today and will be the guests of President Roosevelt, Vice President Garner, and other government officials. Haskell is represented on the train by Courtney Hunt, and when we say "represented" we mean all that the word implies, as Mr. Hunt is probably one of the best posted men in this section on the needs of Haskell county and West Texas. He is enthusiastic over the possibilities of his home town and will not miss an opportunity to let the world know of the many advantages offered here. Haskell is to be congratulated on having a man of Mr. Hunt's ability, willing to make the trip in the interest of the community, at his own expense and a sacrifice to his own private affairs.

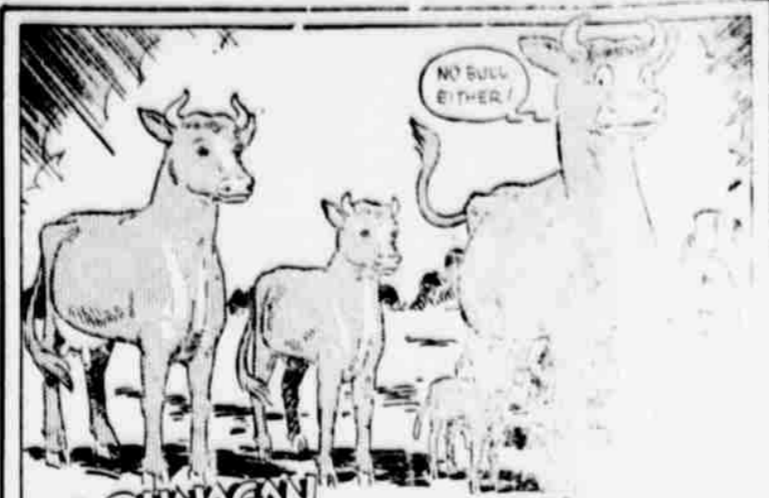

DOES NOT CHOOSE TO RUN

Former President Herbert Hoover, recently swinging across the country conferring with G. O. P. leaders in many states, will not be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1936, it is said.

If this be true, he is showing a fair degree of common sense. Unless conditions change materially, Franklin D. Roosevelt will have the inside track with 90 per cent of the voters of the nation. Most likely conditions will improve so steadily that it will be useless to put an opposition candidate in the field.

All the Republican candidates would get out of the fight would be the fun of running second, and that does not appeal to Mr. Hoover.

CITY ORDINANCE

An Ordinance prohibiting the running of chickens at large in the city of Haskell, Texas, and providing a penalty for violation thereof and declaring an emergency.

Be It Ordained By the City Council of the City of Haskell, Texas:

Article One
All chickens running at large within the corporate limits of the City of Haskell, Texas, are hereby declared public nuisances and they shall be removed as hereinafter provided.

Article Two
All persons are prohibited from allowing chickens to run at large on any lot, block or parcel of ground within the corporate limits of the City of Haskell and the city marshal or such other officer as may be designated by the City Council of the City of Haskell is required to impound such chickens as are allowed to run at large in violation of this article. Such officer shall be entitled to collect for the same the sum of 50 cents for each chicken so impounded as his fees, it being further provided that sale shall be made of chickens impounded under this ordinance within five days unless redeemed by the owner thereof within that time. Except where specified herein the ordinance creating the office of city pound keeper and defining his duties shall apply to chickens impounded under this ordinance. Any person, whether by himself or another who violates this article shall be fined not less than $1.00 and not more than $25.00.

Article Three
If any person take or attempt to take any chicken out of the public pound of the city or any place used as such, without permission of the city marshal, or shall tear down, injure or interfere with the said public pound or place as used in any manner whatsoever, or shall prevent or undertake to prevent or otherwise interfere with, hinder, delay, molest, obstruct or be in the way of the City Marshal while undertaking to impound any such chickens, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than $5.00 nor more than $100.00.

Article Four
Any person upon whose property chickens are allowed to run at large by another may and is by this article empowered to pen such chickens as come upon his property provided however that he shall immediately deliver such chickens to the city marshal. In so acting such persons shall have all powers herein given to the city marshal and such protection as is given the city marshal under Article Three of this ordinance, said article being of full force and effect in its provisions and penalties as to individuals temporarily impounding chickens under this Article.

Article Five
The fact that there is at present no ordinance regulating the running of chickens at large within the corporate limits of the City of Haskell, Texas, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the rules requiring ordinances to be read at two stated meetings and not to become effective until ten days after publication, be suspended, and such rules are hereby suspended, and this ordinance is passed on second reading and final passage, and shall take effect and be in force from and after final passage and publication, and it is so enacted and ordained.

Passed and Approved this 10 day of April, A. D. 1934.

A. P. THURMAN,
Mayor.

Attest: R. H. Banks,
City Secretary.

Along the Way

Our friend, the absent-minded professor, jumped out of bed in the middle of the night, ran to the stairs and shouted: "Who's down there in the kitchen?"
"Nobody," said the burglar.
"Well, that's funny," said the professor, "I could have sworn I heard a noise."

"Confound you, sir," said the general. "Why don't you be careful. Here, instead of addressing this letter to the intelligence officer, you have addressed it to the intelligent officer. You should know there is no such person in the army."

A Western stockman, who had mortgaged his cattle to the local bank, was called in by the banker and told that the note was due and must be paid the following day. The cattleman asked: "Were you ever in the cattle business?"
"No," answered the banker.
"Well, you are now," replied the cattleman, and walked out.

Monday—Bible Study, 7:45 p. m.
Wednesday—Prayer Meeting 7:45 p. m.
The Bible Study last Monday evening was the lesson on the personality of God. Deists claim that God made the universe, yet sustains no further relations to it. Christian Theism claims that God not only created the universe with its creatures, and man, but that he still upholds it, and has a very personal relationship to man. Prayer to an impersonal influence or a force would be mockery, but prayer to a personal, loving and all-wise creator is sensible and effectual.
Next Monday we study the lesson on the Unity of God. This is just what any orthodox evangelical denomination teaches. Everybody welcome. Bring note paper and pencil to take notes. The text is Evans, "The Great Doctrines of the Bible."

High School Seniors Invited to Meet at Simmons April 28

An invitation is extended to all High School seniors living within a radius of one hundred miles of Abilene to attend Senior High School Day, Saturday, April 28, to be held on the campus of Simmons University.
The occasion will be sponsored by the women of the Abilene Baptist churches with the co-operation of Baptist women throughout this section of the state.
High School Senior Day will consist of a program given by Simmons students and faculty in the University chapel at ten o'clock, followed by a noon picnic dinner on the campus with Simmons as host. In the afternoon visitors may take the opportunity to inspect the plant of the institution.
Transportation to and from Simmons University will be provided. All students who wish to remain over night have a welcome awaiting them in the homes of Abilene.
This invitation is not extended to Baptist students alone, but to High School seniors of all denominations.
Sponsors of the movement hope that this "get together" of High School Seniors residing in this section of the west may prove to be an occasion of real fellowship and genuine enjoyment.
Speakers from the sponsor group are to visit the different High Schools and communities, deliver invitations in person and explain further plans for Senior Day.

Demonstration Is Given On Fitting, Altering Clothes

"Every woman has individual problems in fitting garments," Miss Johnnie Reed says. That is one reason why they need an individually fitted pattern. Fitting and altering patterns was demonstrated by the agent Tuesday April 10th, when the Josselot H. D. club met in an all day meeting in the home of Miss Mae Cothron. Some essential points in altering sleeve patterns are:
(1) To lengthen a sleeve slash pattern above and below elbow.
(2) To shorten sleeve make a fold in pattern above and below elbow.
(3) To alter sleeve for a large upper arm, slash sleeve at center top for four or five inches, spread apart.
(4) To alter for large upper arm muscle, slash in and up of the under side of pattern; spread the amount needed. This does not give any extra fullness in arm's length.
Twenty-four members of this club made foundation patterns last year. Their aim is a hundred per cent pattern club this year.
Visitors present were Mesdames John McGuire, W. D. Darden, Floyd McGuire, J. L. Lewellen, S. E. Cothron, A. L. Lancaster, Griffin Linn, Roy Britz, W. C. Norton, Fred Monke, S. G. Perrin, Frank Curry, J. B. Edwards, Walker, W. E. Taylor, C. A. Lewellen, Misses Maurine Norton, Mae Cothron, Bonnie Brite and Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Johnnie Reed.

84-feet of Tile Laid At Mitchell

"We have our 84 feet of tile laid," says Mrs. Ben Lilliard, tile demonstrator of the Mitchell Home Demonstration Club. "We took a carpenter's level and got the trench level," said Mrs. Lilliard. She estimated that the 84 feet of tile cost them 90 cents and they had about a fourth of a sack of cement left. The sand was got at spare time and the labor was done at home. She has lettuce planted on her tile and just as soon as it has grown off the tomatoes will be ready to put on the tile. Since her garden was in a sandy section the tile was not laid as deep as in the tighter land section.
Mrs. Lilliard's garden planting schedule is based on her canning budget that she plans to fill in order that her family may have a balanced diet.

Gay Prints Invite Use Sewing Machine

DENTON, Texas—The gay prints and the glad spring colors present a bewitching picture at yard-goods counters just now and beguile us on to getting out sewing kits to starting work with a vim. Those experienced in the art of needlework and design will find in the new spring fabrics inspiration for original creations and for the expression of their individuality. Seldom have fabrics been more alluring and more glamorous than they are at present. And the experienced will be glad to compare the new fabrics with the old patterns and patterns. Securing the right size of pattern is important for the success of the garment and for the ease of work. If the pattern is average in size it is sufficient to select the patterns according to the best measure thus insuring a reasonably good fit through the hips. But if the hips are large in proportion to the bust it is wise to select the pattern according to hip measure. All standard patterns give instructions for altering the length.

A thorough understanding of the patterns and the making of all necessary alterations before cutting will greatly reduce the chance of error. All darts and pleats should be pinned in and the various parts of the pattern pinned together along the seam line indicated in the instruction before trying on the pattern for a final check of size and becomingness. In placing the pattern on the material great care should be observed in maintaining the correct grain of the material. The markings on the pattern which indicate the straight grain should be placed so they are equidistant from the selvage or from the center fold of the material.

In marking the position of darts, pleats and seam lines, a tracing wheel will be found helpful. If the material is very sheer, however, it is better to use small pins or tailor's tasks made with silk thread. The seam finishes depend upon the weight of the fabric and the nature of its weave. Finely woven silks and wools which do not fray may be finished with the scissors or with a picking machine. Rayons present the most difficult problems because of the instability of their yarns and their tendency to fray. Overcasting with fine stitches is a very satisfactory solution in such cases.

EDWARD G. ROBINSON'S 'DARK HAZARD' COMING TO THE TEXAS THEATRE

"Dark Hazard" First National's novel and colorful picture starring Edward G. Robinson as an inveterate gambler and follower of dog races, comes to the screen of the Texas theatre Saturday at 11 p. m. and Sunday and Monday.

The picture, which is based on the novel of W. R. Burnett, author of "Little Caesar," in which Robinson gained his first screen fame, deals with a man whose passion for gambling is so strong that he gives up love and home and eventually everything in life considered worthwhile because of it.

The title of the picture is taken from the name of a racing greyhound, "Dark Hazard," owned by Robinson in the story. Thrilling dog races and typical racetrack crowds were filmed at a popular California track near Los Angeles.

The dog "Dark Hazard" in the title role has an important part in the picture, not only as a racing dog but as the bone of contention between Robinson and his wife, Genevieve Tobin in Robinson's leading lady, playing the part of a distinguished gambler's wife, Glenda Farrell is the other woman in a triangular love affair which occurs in the cast include Robert Barrat, Gordon Westcott, Robert Armstrong, George Meeker and Henry B. Walthall. Alfred E. Green directed the picture.

RULE COPS HOT GAME HERE SUNDAY

With Blondy Cross in the box, Mose Simm's aggregate of all-stars from Rule defeated the Haskell Braves 4 to 3 Sunday afternoon, April 15. Red Nichols, new Haskell hurler from Wichita Falls, toiled on the mound for the Braves and with better support on the part of the outfielders would have won the season's initial Wichita Valley league game.

Mr. Cross was stingy with hits and although one of the largest crowds to attend a baseball game in Haskell in years witnessed the fray, he took no pity on local batters, who sincerely wished to distinguish themselves before the ladies.

Another alibi (if one is needed) for the loss can be chosen in the person of one Mr. Hollis, who pitched first base for Rule. His pitching of the first bag brought no cheers from the grandstand, but his hitting was the cause of Haskell's hopes of winning to reach a new low. In fact, the only way that you could keep that man off base was to throw the ball to the second baseman and refuse to send it towards the plate. Such manner of playing isn't according to good baseball, so all Mr. Nichols could do was to pitch and hope the batters would be satisfied with his work. At all the good playing made by the Braves, however, more than one of the Haskell ladies present said "Definitely, the work was not in all fashion. The work on the mound was outstanding. Jim Murphy, Brave second-sacker, did a piece of fancy work in the 7th when he went far to his left and took Heather's batsman. That was looked good for a hit in any man's ball park. Nichols, who had previously buried his four innings this season, looked good on the mound.

Haskell lost, but the fans received their money's worth by seeing a real baseball game.

Sleepwalker Milks Cows

THREE FORKS, Mont.—A farmer, whose name the sheriff obligingly is keeping secret, registered a complaint that his dairy herd was being milked by marauders nearly every night. Deputies kept watch for several nights before they saw the farmer himself, in nightgown and carpet slippers, walk in his sleep to the barn, milk the cows, pour the milk into his pig sty, and somnambulate back to bed.
