All Around
The Town

BY MARY ANN SARCHET

The Centennial Homecoming Association has set 9:00 a.m. today (Thursday) as the deadline for ordering a smoked brisket. You need to order right NOW if you want one.

The briskets will be cooked Saturday at the City Hall, and should be ready to be picked up at 5:00 p.m. Saturday.

If a brisket is more than your family can eat at one time, here's a hint for saving the leftovers. Slice the brisket (Charlie uses our electric knife) and put the slices into freezer bags in the amount you'll want to use when you take it out of the freezer.

You not only will be able to enjoy beef for Father's Day Sunday, you'll help the committee have a fund to make the Homecoming special.

But first, you need to get your order in! City Hall, the Spud Tiffins or the Guinn Fitzgeralds right now!

BCAA To Meet Thursday Night

Briscoe County Activities Association will be meeting at the showbarn at 8:00 p.m. today (Thursday) to discuss building the concession stand and rest rooms at the ball park and rodeo arena.

Everyone is invited to attend the meeting.

Summer Softball Set to Begin Here

Silverton's summer softball program is all set to go here, and games will be played on Tuesday and Friday nights at the local ballpark.

At this writing, it was not known for sure whether the Silverton Fire Department would have the tournament they scheduled this weekend. If they do, the summer softball will begin Tuesday night. If they don't have the tournament, the games will start Friday night of this week.

This is the schedule to be followed.

Boys and girls in kindergarten, first and second grades will play at 6:00 p.m. Those in grades three, four and five play at 7:00 p.m.

This will be followed at 8:00 p.m. by boys and girls in grades six, seven and eight.

Beginning about 9:00 p.m., those from high school into adult years will play.

This is open to everyone interested in playing softball, and no pre-registration is necessary. If you want to play, be at the ballpark.

Branding Party, Chili Cookoff, Pie Baking Contest Planned Saturday

The Aero Care helicopter from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock landed in downtown Silverton last week to pick up Ralph Hill, who was having chest pains. An angiogram at the hospital revealed that his heart condition may not be as severe as had been thought when he was hospitalized after a heart attack last March. He is in the cardiac intensive care unit at Methodist, and expected to undergo laser surgery Wednesday in an attempt to open one of the arteries that has been blocked.

Tuesday nights of each month on the courthouse lawn.

There will be visiting, music, things to buy, something to eat and a relaxing good time for all.

Everyone is invited to come in your loafing duds and work clothes, so you can enjoy sitting on the grass or the courthouse steps. Bring your lawn chairs, if you prefer.

Briscoe County individuals and clubs are invited to have booths that sell food and drinks, crafts, etc. If you sell something that causes the lawn to become littered, you are expected to help clean up. You can set up your shop wherever there is an empty space.

The gathering will begin about 7:00 p.m. and it will be over about 9:30 p.m.

Musicians are invited to play from 8:00 to 9:30 p.m. Come, pick your spot, and start playing. Music will not be organized into a program; you can play where you wish and with whom you wish. This will be a great opportunity for young musicians and vocalists.

For more information, contact the Briscoe County Extension Service, 823-2131.

The Briscoe County Centennial Branding Party will begin at 7:00 p.m. Saturday on the courthouse lawn. Activities will center around the covered shelter.

L. O. A. Junior Study Club is sponsoring this evening of family fun. You are asked to bring your family's branding iron to "brand" a permanent wall to be displayed during the centennial celebration.

There will be a Chili Cookoff. Everyone is invited to make a pot of chili and bring it to the courthouse for judging. Afterward, you can have a bowl of the chili of your choice.

The Pie Baking Contest is for county residents of all ages. Bake your favorite pie and bring it to be judged and shared with everyone.

The evening will conclude with a dance under the stars.

This should be a special night for Briscoe County residents. Be sure to bring your lawn chairs and blankets and come ready to help celebrate 100 years of Briscoe County pride.

As a special treat, there will be a pie-eating contest. Jimmy Davidson, Jimmy Burson, Wayne Nance, Randy Stark, Russell Baldwin and Stan Fogerson are being invited to eat hard and fast to capture the title of Best Pie Eater in Briscoe County!

There is no charge for any of these activities. Bring your chili and pie and come prepared to have a good time in Silverton!

Summer Vacation is Travel Time For Many

It's vacation time and time to start thinking about summer travels and those year-long planned vacations. Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, says, "With some pre-planning on your part, the summer travels can be made a lot easier and a whole lot safer."

Mayor Cawthon suggests that before you take to the road you first check out yourself or other drivers in your group to ensure that everyone is well rested. Do not push yourself to the limit; ensure that you take proper breaks and spread the driving out over short distances. Ensure that all drivers feel good physically and emotionally and that no driver is taking medication or has had any alcoholic beverages to drink.

Make a check of the vehicle to include tires, brakes, belts, hoses, wipers, lighting and fluid levels and include spare parts for any minor repair that might unexpectedly come up. Remember to use your headlights to allow other drivers to see you in adverse conditions. At night, do not over-drive your headlights. Over 50% of all traffic deaths happen at night. Also, remember that at night, your eyes take four to seven seconds to re-adjust to night conditions after facing bright lights.

Keep posted on weather conditions. Adverse weather can affect your ability to see and be seen. In bad weather, slow down and put on the low beam headlights. If conditions warrant, it is advisable to stop and take a break. Be alert to traffic conditions and if you are traveling at night, and especially on weekends, be aware that a lot of drivers sharing the road with you are either fatigued or intoxicated. Alcohol-impaired drivers cause at least 50% of all fatal accidents. One of your best defenses against the drunk driver is your safety belt, but it is only effective if you and all your passengers wear them.

Let's all work together to make this summer a safe one on our Texas highways, Major Cawthon advises. Driver friendly: it's the Texas way.

Traveling Companions Enjoy Visit in Northern States and Canada

Sybil Martin and Nina Martin left Silverton June 1 for Pierre, South Dakota to visit Sybil's sister and brother-in-law, Iva and Clarence Russell. They were entertained with a hamburger cookout which was attended by Iva's children and their families.

Iva, Clarence, Sybil and Nina left Pierre June 4 for an automobile tour of the Badlands and Mount Rushmore. They had planned to spend the night at Missoula, Montana, but there was no room at the inn and they had to drive on and on and on. Finally they got the last two rooms in Ronan. The next day they drove through Glacier National Park and headed north to Calgary, Canada. They drove west toward Banff, and spent the night at Pigeon Mountain.

On Sunday, the group drove north through the Canadian Rockies, and stopped at Lake Louise. They continued to the Columbian Ice Fields near Jasper. They toured the glacier in a giant snowmobile. After backtracking to Banff, they drove east across Alberta and Saskatchewan, then traveled south through North Dakota, stopping at the birthplace of Lawrence Welk. They arrived back in Pierre June 9.

Iva spent the next day patiently giving the visiting ladies a quilt-in-a-day lesson.

They left for Texas the next morning, and arrived back in Silverton June 12. They describe the trip as a very memorable one.

Leslee Weaks is Second-Place Essay Winner

Leslee Weaks, daughter of Gary and Cathey Weaks, is second-place winner in the Briscoe County essay contest conducted in May by the English departments in Silverton and Valley high schools.

Miss Weaks will be a sophomore in Silverton High School this fall. She enjoys basketball, track and being with her friends. She hopes to see Briscoe County flourish and remain a place she's proud to call home.

In her essay, she wrote:

Briscoe County: A Very Special Place

Briscoe County is a very special place that could not be easily copied any place else in the whole world. There is a special bond among friends and neighbors. Everyone is treated like an old friend, whom they know and love with all their heart. There are places in the county where you can go to relax and know no harm will come your way.

The people of Briscoe County are like an old boot: they always seem to be there and fit. Although they change with time, they still help you through the bad times and keep you dancing during the good times. You always know the people are trustworthy and wouldn't try to harm you in any way. The people never change and try to become like the people in large cities who feel safer carrying a gun than walking down the street with a friend.

The world is filled with plains, canyons, parks and lakes, but not all in the same place like they are in Briscoe County. The peacefulness of the canyons gives you a place to go where you can be enveloped by the tranquility of nature. The canyons have caves to explore, extraordinary rocks to view, and even bones of extinct animals to discover. Mackenzie Lake is a place to go where you can swim, ski, take a hike, or enjoy a picnic. The Caprock Canyons State Park offers many of the same things as the lake. The plains are a place to go to soak up some sun, think about your day, or to dream of the Indians that so long ago roamed where you're sitting. All of these places are for each of us, but we take them for granted. Many people say that there is no where to go in Briscoe County, but you can go as far as your imagination will take you. Hidden within the rugged beauty are Indian camps or archaeological digs where you may look for dinosaur bones.

Briscoe County may not be filled with bright lights and loud noises; but it is filled with friends, loved ones and even peacefulness. Briscoe County is the place to go to find the precious treasures that the cities have lost: love, trust and the special bond that holds people together.

A Voice From the Country

Earl Cantwell
Gems & Allegorys

I have thought that our Supreme Court is the place for deciding the right or wrong in matters of supreme importance. But there is one matter in which the Supreme Court made a mistake. This was when they handed down the eleventh commandment: "Thou shalt not, in your classrooms, read the other ten."

Perhaps one of the most desired words in our language is "Joy" . . . It is multiplied when divided with others . . . So rejoice that you can rejoice over your rejoicing . . . Joy is more divine than sorrow, for joy is bread and sorrow is medicine . . . Joys are our wings; sorrows are our spurs . . .

Mark Twain left us this beautiful observation: "I have found much joy in simple things: a plain clean room, a nut-brown loaf of bread, a cup of milk, a kettle as it sings, and a leaf-flecked square upon a flood, where yellow sunlight glimmers through a door . . . I have found joy in things that fill my quiet days, a curtain's blowing grace, a growing plant upon a window sill, a rose fresh cut and placed within a vase. A table cleared, a lamp beside a chair, and books I long have loved beside me there."

If life seems full of struggle, it also is full of joy; trouble is temporary; happiness is eternal . . . Grief may be able to take care of itself, but to get the full value of joy, we must have somebody to divide it with.

When it comes to tax reduction, never was so little waited for by so many for so long . . . The primary purpose of education is not to teach you to earn your bread, but to make every mouthful sweeter . . . Our cities are growing so fast their arteries are showing through their outskirts . . . Progress may have been alright once, but it apparently went on too long . . . Perhaps there is only one cardinal sin: impatience. Because of impatience we were driven out of Paradise; because of impatience we cannot return.

Don't expect to enjoy life if you keep your milk of human kindness all bottled up . . . Kindness is the golden chain by which society is bound together . . . Kindness gives birth to kindness, and may have converted more sinners than zeal, eloquence or learning . . . It may be that to give pleasure to a single heart by a single act is better than many head bowings in prayer . . . Forebearance should be cultivated till your heart yields a fine crop of it . . . Pray for a short memory as to all unkindness.

It is better to whistle while passing a graveyard than to shut one's eyes and scream . . . Mrs. Karl Marx is said to have observed, at the end of a long and rather bleak life, how much better it would have been if dear Karl had made more capital instead of writing so much about it.

To be interested in the changing seasons is a happier state of mind than to be hopelessly in love with Spring.

Waste Not, Want Not

The Briscoe County Extension Service has declared June as "Waste Management Month" in Briscoe County. Each year America generates 160 million tons of residential and commercial solid waste. If this trend continues, we will be generating 200 million tons a year by the year 2000. Much of this could be recycled, reducing the environmental damage caused by mining, logging and manufacturing raw materials, while decreasing the amount of garbage being discarded. Additionally, we can save or recover a significant portion of the energy and raw materials used in manufacturing new products.

According to the National Solid Waste Management Association, only 4% of the 160 million tons of waste produced each year is recycled into usable material. As much as 30% more is recyclable, but this is dependent on the consumers' willingness to sort waste materials. Recycling also requires community support through organized recycling programs and the convenience and availability of local recycling centers.

One of the best examples to show how recycling can save energy is through recycling aluminum. Using scrap aluminum to produce new aluminum requires only 5% of the energy needed to product it from raw materials.

About 30% of the energy usually required when producing glass from raw materials can be saved by using recycled glass in glass production. According to the American Paper Institute, about 28% of all paper products consumed in the U. S. are being recycled by consumers and manufacturers. By reusing paper products through recycling measures, the paper industry saves about 20% of the energy required to make paper from fresh timber.

There are many ways that you, as a consumer, can assist in waste management. The following are just a few ideas: using reusable cups and dishes, rather than disposable ones; purchasing the economy size; buy products using the smallest amount of packaging, and buying recycled and recyclable products. If you are interested in more information about waste management, contact the Extension Office at 823-2131.

John Deere 9960 cotton pickers, forming the brand of the King Ranch in Texas, each can pick enough cotton in one hour to make as many as 11,475 shirts, 3735 pairs of blue jeans, or 46,275 diapers. The picker, produced at Deere's Des Moines, Iowa factory, incorporated advanced technology that can do the work of 500 people picking cotton by hand.

Pre-season expectations for the size of the 1992 Boll Weevil Diapause Control Program have changed dramatically, according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers. So far 1992 has gone from having the potential to be the largest in the 29-year history of the program to being relatively small.

The catalyst for the turn-around is the weather. The same rain and cool temperatures that devastated much of the High Plains in the last few weeks also have created an unwelcome scenario for overwintering boll weevils as they emerge from hibernation.

"What the rains have done is to create a situation similar to an enforced delayed uniform planting date," explains Roger Haldenby, PCG Boll Weevil Program Coordinator. "The reduction in cotton acreage, and the delayed start much of the crop will have, makes the climate very inhospitable for emerging boll weevils."

Haldenby notes that weather conditions which have so far devastated 700,000 to one million acres of cotton also have deprived boll weevils of a necessary food and reproductive source.

Boll weevils' primary food sources are the fruiting squares and small bolls of young cotton. The late start of this year's crop means that the remaining cotton plants will not begin fruiting until later and weevils that have come out of overwintering will starve from the lack of food.

The boll weevil reproduces by laying its eggs in the developing boll, known as a third grown square. It is unlikely that many emerging weevils will be able to survive until cotton reaches this stage resulting in a suicidal emergence that will minimize the first generation of new weevils.

Suicidal emergence occurs when boll weevils come out of overwintering habitat too early and are not able to survive until they can find food and lay eggs that will start off the next generation. The opposite situation is known as effective emergence; this occurs when weevils emerge late enough to survive until they can feed and lay eggs.

Haldenby notes that trap catches have increased dramatically in the last week indicating that we are now at, or approaching, peak weevil emergence. He explained that all cotton in the PCG control zone, on the High Plains and in the Rolling Plains has been severely set back by adverse weather in the past two to three weeks.

"In almost all areas weevil emergence remains suicidal as the available cotton is not viable as either a food or reproductive source," says Haldenby.

He adds that the delays in getting this crop to a stand could also delay the mapping of cotton acres inside the control zone. Cotton acres inside the control zone usually are mapped beginning the first week of July when cotton fields are becoming easily identifiable.

Disposal of Used Oil Must Be Done Safely

Used oil is a valuable resource that should be recycled for several reasons. One of the main concerns with used oil is that it can cause harm to human health and the environment if disposed of by pouring down storm drains, onto the ground, or into the trash. It takes only one gallon of oil to ruin one million gallons of water.

Some of the benefits of recycling used oil are:

1. It takes only one gallon of used oil to make the 2.5 quarts of lubricating oil that it takes 42 gallons of crude oil to make.
2. If all of the used oil in the U. S. were recycled, it would save the U. S. 1.3 million barrels of oil per day.
3. One gallon of used oil used as fuel contains about 140,000 BTUs of

Two Cylinder Club has Play Day at Paul Armstrong Farm Southwest of Hart Saturday

Texas Plains Chapter of the Two-Cylinder Club held a playday at the Paul Armstrong farm southwest of Hart over the weekend. Over 300 attended Saturday.

A large variety of tractors and stationary engines, and the Model A Club from Plainview's antique cars were seen.

The next playday will be held at the Donald Webb home in North Amarillo July 4-5. They plan to thresh wheat with one of his steam engines and show a separator. Rumor is that there may be a tractor pull. They will have good food and a good time.

The Two-Cylinder Club continues to grow. In March the membership stood at 110. President Don Sarchet of Amarillo receives calls almost daily from those who are interested in the club. Yearly membership for a couple (and the ladies do attend these playdays) is $10.00. If you would like to join the club and get on the mailing list for the newsletters, you can give your $10.00 to Charles Sarchet and he will forward it to the proper club officer.

Heart Attack: An Emergency That Demands Urgency

It's scary. It's shocking. But it could happen — to anyone, anytime, anywhere.

Heart attack, after all, is America's leading killer.

So listen to your body talk. And respond immediately. Denial and delay can be deadly.

Heart attacks occur when blood supply to part of the heart muscle is severely reduced or stopped.

Usually, cholesterol deposits narrow arteries in a process called atherosclerosis. A blood clot that forms at such a narrowing can cause an attack. In these cases, the heart muscle is damaged and death can be imminent.

During a heart attack, the American Heart Association says your body will likely send one or more of these warning signals:

- Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest that lasts more than a few minutes.

- Pain that spreads to your shoulders, neck or arms.
- Chest discomfort with lightheadedness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath.

Only a victim knows how it feels to have a heart attack. So don't chance it. Writing off these signs as indigestion or something else less serious could mean writing off your life.

More than 300,000 of the estimated 500,000 Americans who died of a heart attack last year didn't reach the hospital alive, the American Heart Association says. Yet the faster you get proper medical help, the greater your chance to survive.

Heart attack, then, is an emergency that demands urgency. So know what to do if you or someone around you shows any of the signs.

First, be prepared. Know which area hospitals have 24-hour emergency cardiac care. Choose the facility nearest your home and

If heart attack warning signs occur, don't deny them. Respond quickly. Call the emergency rescue service. Or get to the nearest hospital emergency room. Have someone drive if you can get to a hospital faster by car, but don't attempt to drive yourself.

You can help prevent heart attacks and other cardiovascular diseases by knowing and reducing the risk factors. You have no control over heart disease risks from diabetes, heredity, sex, race and age. But you can change others: cigarette smoking, high blood pressure, high blood cholesterol, physical inactivity, obesity and stress.

office and tell your family and friends. Keep a list of emergency numbers near your telephone, in your car, on your job and in a prominent place in your pocket, wallet or purse. Take a cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class with your family and co-workers.

You may need to change your diet, lifestyle or take medicine to adjust some of these risk factors. You definitely shouldn't smoke.

Talk to your doctor about the risk factors that you need to reduce for better health. Contact volunteers and staff at your nearest American Heart Association office for more information. They can help you prevent and respond to heart attack — an emergency that demands urgency.

FAITH SHOWS YOUR FATHER HAVING THE RIGHT ANSWERS

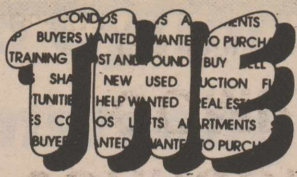

Your father had to be a sage
To help you through your childhood stage,
And all the wisdom he'd impart
Convinced you he was pretty smart.
He'd tell of his experience,
While building up your confidence
That whether you'd succeed or fail,
Your common sense would still prevail.
Then later, without thinking twice,
You chose to spurn his good advice,
Because of pressure from your peers,
But then, as you advanced in years,
You learned that in his whole life through,
Your father did his best for you.
So faith will tell you, come what may,
To honor him on Father's Day.

- Gloria Nowak

A father is a man who expects his son to be as good a man as he meant to be.

CARDS OF THANKS

It was a true joy seeing the enthusiastic, excited faces of all the boys and girls this past week during VBS. Many people deserve a special thanks for their time and hard work given to make Bible School a fun and rewarding experience.

To all the teachers, craft workers, nursery workers, kitchen helpers, student workers and parents who shared your children with us — a most appreciative and sincere thanks.
Bryan Donahoo

Dear friends and loved ones,
For every caring thought, loving word, uplifting prayer, beautiful flower and lovely card, we thank you.

The food, calls and other acts of concern at the time of our husband and father's death made our sorrow easier to bear. Loving folks like you make this world a better place.

- God bless you all.
