Centennial Branding Party is Big Success!

L. O. A. Junior Study Club's Centennial Branding Party, held Saturday night at the courthouse shelter, was pronounced a big success by the 150 or so attending. The weather obviously didn't dampen the spirits or the turnout because 113 family brands were burned into the Centennial Display.

The branding fires were kept busy for three hours while the participants waited for their turn. The board will be displayed again July 14 at the Fun Night on the courthouse lawn. If you were unable to attend and place your brand on the display, you are invited to do so at that time. There will be a hot fire provided for heating the branding irons.

There were 18 entries in the Chili

Cookoff. The Chili Cartell won the award for the hottest chili. Betty Nan Tiffin and Sandi Tomlin, Aaron Younger and Wayne Nance won first-place ribbons. Second-place winners were Carol Davis and Twila Baldwin.

Other entries in the Chili Cookoff were prepared by John White, John Schott, John Burson, Johnnie Burson, Jimmy Burson, Peggy Rowell, Fred Strange, Berniece Wood, Carl Bomar, Mrs. Hartman, Elaine LaBaume, Ramona Martin and Janinne Brooks. The Chili Cartell was composed of Jerry Patton, David Tipton, Calvin Shelton, Stan Fogerson and Guinn Fitzgerald.

There were 30 entries in the Pie Baking Contest, all of which were beautiful and delicious, according to those who tasted them. First-place winner was Annell Davis' coconut chocolate pie. Gail Wyatt won second place with her coconut caramel pie. Berniece Wood's coconut cream pie was selected as third best.

In the junior division, Molly Brooks won first with her pecan pie, Lindsey Weeks won second with her buttermilk pie and Julie Weaver won third with her peach pie.

Others who entered and the pies they made included Taylor Griffin, banana; Lindsey Jennings, millionaire; Paula Garvin, cherry; Iris Burson, coconut; Lori Griffin, cherry cream; Kim Mayfield, cherry; Betty Nan Tiffin and Sandi Tomlin, lemon; Tarran Forbes, cherry; Mildred McDaniel, chocolate; Elaine LaBaume, peanut butter struesel; Wanda Strange, toasted coconut; Bessie Garrison, wild plum cobbler; Dorothy Bomar, lemon chess; Sylvia Fogerson, pecan; Peggy Rowell, Mother's Summer Pie; Addlene Towe, pecan; Vivone Arnold, pineapple; Brenda Patton, chocolate; Zelma Lee Mayfield, chocolate cream cheese; Donaleta Garrison, apricot; Lallie Patton, lemon; Ashleigh Wyatt, peanut butter; Beverly Bowman, coconut cream; Nancy Young, buttermilk.

The Pie Eating Contest was a highlight of the evening. Jimmy Burson, Wayne Nance, Stan Fogerson, Jim Davidson, Doug Forbes, Roy Dale Wood, Fred Strange and Bill Brooks dove in with hands tied behind their backs. The cherry pies—along with growing beards—didn't make a pretty sight! Stan Fogerson was announced as the winner—only it was found that a large portion of his pie was UNDER the table. The other participants were relieved not to have to finish their pies.

The evening concluded with dancing under the stars. This was reminiscent of years past with children dancing with children, grandparents dancing with

Construction to Begin Soon On Centennial Monument

Construction will begin soon on a memorial monument of native stones, native plants and granite tile to honor Briscoe County's Centennial Year. It will be erected on the courthouse square, near the windmill on the north side.

Artist John White is contributing his time and talents to help plan and landscape the project, which is being directed by the Briscoe County Historical Committee. Funding will be by donation.

For a $50.00 donation, a 12"x4" granite tile may be engraved with up to two lines. Local residents and others interested in Briscoe County are asked to memorialize pioneer ancestry by having names and dates of first residency in the county on a tile.

It is hoped that many residents, past and present, will have their family names etched on these memorial tiles. Groups of interested citizens are encouraged to band together to have tiles done for schools, churches and communities that may no longer exist in the county except in memory.

It is hoped that this can be made a centennial beauty spot. For more information, contact Judge Jimmy Burson.

SHS CHEERLEADERS—Leading the cheers for SHS next year will be Kami Martin, Christa Tucker, Shannon Weaver, Brandi Brunson, Holly Nance and Molly Bomar. The girls recently have been selling ads in the Top of Texas Football Magazine and have been conducting other projects to raise money for the supplies they will be needing during the school year. They will be attending cheerleading camp soon.

- 1 level teaspoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon ground chili peppers
- 4 or 5 chopped jalapenos
- 2 heaping tablespoons flour

Moose meat has little fat and does not require thickening. In fact, additional liquid may be needed.

Parkers Enjoy Tour Of Western States

June 3, Charlie and Fern Parker drove to Safford, Arizona, where they spent the night with Elvin and Dorothy Norris. Early the following morning, the four of them drove to Gilbert, Arizona, where they picked up Edwin and Ann Norris. After a big breakfast at Shoney's, the six headed to Las Vegas, where they spent a short night and four of the group left a few nickels.

They traveled on to Salt Lake City where they enjoyed a tour of the Mormon Tabernacle and Temple Square and a short look at the great salt lake, which smelled like a sewer!

They moved on to Jackson Hole, Wyoming, then traveled through the Tetons to Cody for a couple of days. They visited the William (Bill) Cody Museum, spent a day at Yellowstone National Park. A day in Yellowstone was worth the trip.

The next three nights were spent in Crawford, Nebraska in the home of Ralph and Alice LaPlant, an uncle and aunt, with day trips to Wall Drug, Mount Rushmore, the Badlands, a drive through Custer Park and up Iron mountain in order to go through the tunnel for a different view of Mount Rushmore, Rapid City, Deadwood and a day of rest.

They returned home by way of the million-dollar highway through Silverton, Colorado, Mesa Verde, Four Corners and Monument Valley. They left Edwin and Ann in Gilbert, Elvin and Dorothy in Safford, and Charlie and Fern arrived home late June 16.

Mr. and Mrs. King Honored With Golden Wedding Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Oford King were honored on June 6, at a fiftieth wedding anniversary reception and family dinner. Friends and relatives called to extend their best wishes to the couple between 2:00 and 4:00 p.m. in the Pioneer Room of First State Bank in Silverton. A family dinner followed at the Senior Citizens Center.

Mr. King and the former Christene Beal were married June 6, 1942 at Hollis, Oklahoma. They ranched in Childress County before moving to the Plains in 1969.

The anniversary events were hosted by the couple's children, Ray and Glenda King, Earl and Brenda Rowan, Joe Bob and Kathy Via, and six grandchildren.

July 4 is Most Highly Celebrated Holiday in U. S.

The Fourth of July is one of the most highly celebrated of all holidays throughout the United States, and rightly so. This occasion should be remembered and celebrated because of the rights and the freedoms that each possess.

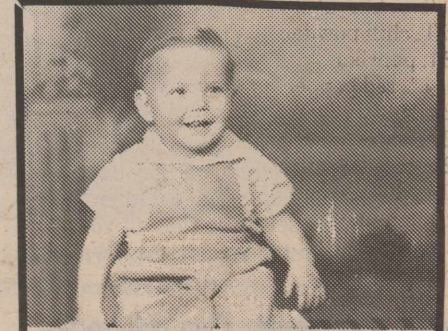

People are reminded this time each year that far too many will not have much to celebrate in this great State of Texas. Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, states, "At least 50% of all traffic deaths are alcohol related and during this holiday many people will celebrate by consuming alcoholic beverages. We urge those that drink to plan their celebrations and to always have a sober driver behind the wheel of their automobiles, if the automobiles must be used. For everyone to remember: if you drink, don't drive—if you drive, don't drink. Become a responsible person, if you are going to drink; help us protect you, as well as the other people, on our state streets and highways."

EXTENSION TOPICS FOR TODAY

by Ronda Alexander

Briscoe County Extension Agent - Home Economics

What Do You Do With It?

With June being declared as "Waste Management Month" in Briscoe County, there are many areas that need to be addressed. Once you sort your items, you need to know where they can be taken.

Some centers will pay you by the pound for your recyclable items; however, depending on the item, you may just be donating it. Other places have centers set up so that all you have to do is drop off your items. (Walmart stores have these types of centers set up in their parking lots.)

If you are unsure of your nearest recycling center, check the yellow pages, under recycling. In our surrounding area, Plainview is the closest, with one center available. There also are some centers in Lubbock and Amarillo. Before going to a center, you might call and check to see what items they are taking and how much they are paying, if anything, per pound. Shopping around may make you a few dollars more. Some important things to keep in mind are: the cost of your phone call (if you call); your time and gas to deliver the items, and how accessible the center is.

Another idea is to start a local collection center or recycling coalition. Citizens in Lubbock have formed a coalition entitled Waste Watch. The Waste Watch group and the League of Women Voters (in Lubbock) have networked together to help make a difference in Lubbock.

One of their activities has been to put together a booklet with information about recycling centers available in Lubbock. Anyone who is interested may drop by the Extension Office and look at the booklet. It is very informative.

4-H'ers Do Well At 4-H Roundup

In the spring of each year, 4-H'ers compete at their District 4-H Roundup contests for the privilege of advancing to the State contests. The top two placing contestants in each event from the 14 districts advance to the State competition.

Four Briscoe County 4-H'ers participated in the State 4-H Roundup at College Station June 8-11. Ashleigh Wyatt competed in the 4-H Design contest and placed first. Wrangler was the sponsor of a $250 scholarship awarded to Miss Wyatt for her first-place entry. She also competed in the Clothing Educational activity and placed ninth with her clothing recycling method demonstration.

Placing seventh in the Beef Cattle Junior Symposium method demonstration contest were Josh and Jeremiah Brooks. Will Sperry placed eleventh in the Farm and Ranch Economics method demonstration category.

Scholarships totaling $822,000 also were awarded to 112 graduating senior 4-H'ers at the State Roundup. Donors for these scholarships were Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, San Antonio Livestock Exposition, Downtown Stock Show Auction Syndicate, Southwestern Exposition and Livestock Show, Texas Grain and Feed Association, Texas Farm Bureau, C. J. Davidson, 4-H Volunteer Leaders' Association of Texas, Raymond Dickson Foundation, Texas Association of Extension Home Economists, Texas Extension Homemakers Association and Texas A&M University Collegiate 4-H.

July 4 is Day to Celebrate Freedom

July 4, 1992, is a day to celebrate America's freedom and to remember that Americans are unique in the world, says U. S. Senator Phil Gramm.

"America is a stronger and better country than ever and every American should take pride in the fact that after more than two centuries of challenge, our unique nation prospers," he said.

Gramm said that Independence Day also is a time to remember that America is not a great and powerful nation because the smartest and most talented people in the world came to live here; they didn't.

"America's greatness lies in the fact that it affords ordinary people an opportunity to succeed through hard work and by using their God-given talent," the senator said.

"Independence Day is a time to take pride simply in being what we are: Americans."

Recycling—a growing business

From quiet rural byways to bustling urban centers, the business of recycling is growing by leaps and bounds in Texas.

It's growing as more and more people understand that we have to reduce our waste stream because landfills are filling up and being closed by tougher anti-pollution rules. More and more corporate managers and entrepreneurs understand there is money to be made from trash.

The way is being led by thousands of concerned individuals who collect recyclable materials and by the business community. The Texas General Land Office has helped set up 10 corporate recycling councils around the state, involving more than 700 businesses.

These businesses are not acting solely from a sense of civic duty. They are increasing their profits, and that's a message that needs to be broadcast loud and clear.

The businesses are collecting quality waste paper, aluminum cans and bottles for resale. Some are changing their manufacturing processes to cut waste that otherwise would go into a landfill.

For example, Miller Brewing Co. in Fort Worth is saving thousands of dollars in landfill tipping fees and making a considerable amount of money. Miller is selling organic residues from its brewing process to be used as cattle feed and composting material.

The councils are helping to close the economic loop by encouraging businesses not only to collect recyclable materials but to buy products made from these materials. The growth in the number and variety of these products is astounding.

Recent recycling exhibitions co-sponsored by the land office and local councils in Houston and San Antonio attest to the fact that recycling is on the threshold of becoming a full-fledged industry here in Texas—a profitable, job-creating industry.

Who would have ever thought in our throw-away society that shredded plastic soda bottles could be recycled into carpeting for office buildings? Or that old cardboard boxes could be transformed into pencils?

Two more exhibitions are slated this year—Corpus Christi this September to coincide with the fall Adopt-A-Beach cleanup, and Austin in November. The Austin event, co-sponsored with the LBJ School of Public Affairs, will focus on purchasing requirements by state government agencies to fulfill the mandate of Senate Bill 1340.

Passed in the 1991 legislative session, the statute requires state purchasing officials to give preferential treatment to products made from recycled materials. The bill sets as a goal the recycling of 40 percent of Texas' solid waste stream by the beginning of 1994. Toward that end, regional and local solid waste management plans must include recycling goals and state agencies must separate and collect all recyclable waste.

SB 1340 also directs the land office to conduct a comprehensive market development study and seek direct input from an advisory committee formed by both public and private sector entities interested in promoting recycling.

Other exciting activities are happening which clearly indicate that creative thinking on reducing the waste stream is being carried to fruition. For example:

- Texas A&M, has set up a comprehensive recycling program that is a model for institutions of higher learning.
- A dairy farmer near Stephenville has started a project that aims at recycling potentially polluting barnyard wastes by using them as a profitable composting material.
- Champion Paper Co. is building a state-of-the-art de-inking plant near Houston that daily will recycle hundreds of tons of old newspapers, magazines and other reusable paper.
- A plastic recycling plant in Junction is mixing plastic chips with cedar sawdust to make doors and window frames of extraordinary durability.

Many problems remain on the recycling horizon, but I'm convinced that the value of linking environmental improvement to economic opportunity will overcome them.

Businessmen and businesswomen interested in joining or forming a recycling council, or who have ideas about making and selling products from recyclable materials, can get help at the land office by calling (512)-475-1600.

Keeping an eye on Texas

Tourists travel to Texas

Surveys show that Texas draws visitors from across the U.S., with almost half 55 years old or older. Favorite attractions include San Antonio's Alamo, missions and River Walk; West Texas' Big Bend National Park, Fort Davis and Palo Duro Canyon; and the state Capitol and the LBJ Library and Museum in Austin.

Note: Survey was of tourists who stopped at Texas Travel Information Centers. Colorado and Kansas are tied for 17th place among the top 20.

TAX FACTS

by JOHN SHARP
TEXAS COMPTROLLER OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Repairs, remodeling, restoration of a residence

There is no tax on the labor to repair, remodel or restore residential real property. That means family dwellings—including apartment complexes, nursing homes, condominiums and retirement homes, but not hotels. The property does not have to be the residence of the owner.

Nonresidential repair, remodeling and restoration

On the other hand, the total amount charged for remodeling, repairing or restoring nonresidential real property is taxable. Examples of nonresidential real property are hospitals, office buildings, refineries, warehouses, parking garages, retail shops, restaurants, manufacturing facilities and other commercial establishments.

Taxable jobs on nonresidential real property

These jobs on nonresidential real property are taxable:

- rebuilding real property,
- upgrading any part of an existing structure,
- replacing any part of an existing structure, except for minor replacement of parts during maintenance of the real property, such as replacing a bolt on an elevator, or

- repairing damaged, broken or defective parts of a structure.

Repair or remodeling includes reroofing and repainting, but if the job is maintenance (scheduled, periodic work on real property necessary to keep property in good working order by preventing its deterioration), tax is not due on the labor.

If you remodel or repair real property

When you repair or remodel non-residential real property, you should collect state sales tax plus any local tax on your total charge for the job. This figure includes all costs passed on to your customer, except building permit fees you pay on your customer's behalf.

Danny Ulrey

Ulrey is Third-Place Winner in Briscoe County Essay Contest

Danny Ulrey, son of Rev. Steve and Julie Ulrey of Quitaque, tied for third place in the Briscoe County essay contest with Holly Nance. Miss Nance's essay will appear in next week's issue.

Mr. Ulrey will be a senior in Valley High School this fall. Following his high school graduation, he plans to attend McMurray University in Abilene to major in paralegal assistance.

His hope for Briscoe County is that more tourism will be promoted in the area.

Following is his theme:

Beautiful Briscoe

Briscoe County's unique topography makes it one of the prettiest counties in Texas. Its vast plains look like they go on forever, but they don't; they start to turn into canyonlands in a blink of an eye. When traveling down the caprock one escapes everything on the plains.

Visitors from all over the world come to Briscoe County to see the scenic beauty, have fun with our outdoor recreation, relax, and to listen to the Indian stories which took place in Briscoe.

The plains of Briscoe are partly grassland, some of which is natural range just as Coronado found it exploring the panhandle. Another reason grassland is widespread is the Conservation Reserve Program or CRP which helps to keep the grasslands the way they are. With irrigated agriculture on the plains, there can be more crops grown and make the plains bloom in a new and special way. The mystique of limitless horizons lets the visitor see for as long as he can. The wide open space gives room to dream. In a moment, the terrain of the tableland maybe washed away in the hues of a regal sunset or wrapped in the awesome power of a summer thunderstorm.

The caprock escarpment divides the tablelands of the high plains from the rolling plains and with an abrupt contrast causes the beautiful panoramic views. With Tule Canyon in our county there is geological treasure with a wall that reveals what happened here millions of years ago.

The physical features bring many outdoor recreation activities. The terrain lends itself to a good habitat for game, which means it is excellent for hunting. With Lake Mackenzie and Lake Theo in our county, there is an opportunity for fishing and water sports. With canyons in the county many people like to hike and ride bikes through the undisturbed natural surroundings.

With the natural terrain in Briscoe

County, we try to keep our heritage alive and fresh. It was home to the Comanche and other Indian tribes who found shelter in the caprock and water from the creeks. Briscoe County had been a trading area for centuries and was a major route for the Comancheros during a long journey. Ranching in Briscoe County brought people together to live in harmony with the land.

With all of this beauty in Briscoe County with the plains and canyonlands I am surprised this county is not as big as New York City, but I am glad it is not; all of this beauty would be gone.

High Plains cotton producers are still wondering what hit them following three weeks of above normal precipitation and below normal temperatures.

According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) one of the key factors for many producers deciding what to do about recent weather damage is whether or not a deficiency payment can be expected in 1992.

Through 1992's first four months deficiency prospects are much better than they were through the first four months of 1991. Through April the weighted average price received for cotton was 50.78 cents per pound, an incredible 15.62 cents below the weighted average price for cotton during the same period one year ago.

"A combination of factors is currently working together to keep cotton prices considerably lower than last year," notes PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. "One of the biggest appears to be the high level of world cotton stocks following the 1991 crop."

Johnson adds that prices have remained relatively stable even though the High Plains could end up with a large number of cotton acres being shifted into alternate crops or being classified as conserving use (CU) acres under provisions of the 1992 cotton program.

Under the 1992 cotton program producers deciding not to replant cotton or an alternate crop on their failed acres will be eligible for a deficiency payment in 1992. If accepted by ASCS acres designated as prevented planting or CU for pay will be guaranteed a 15-cent final deficiency payment on up to 92-percent of their permitted cotton acreage. Final payments will be reduced by the 6-cent advance payment most producers received at program sign-up.

Preliminary damage estimates indicate that as many as a million acres of cotton destroyed in recent weeks probably will not be replanted. Heavy losses in counties north of Lubbock will probably account for the majority of these losses, even though a significant number of cotton acres also were lost to the south. Many of the southern acres, however, are expected to be replanted if producers can get back in the field in the next three or four days.

"Producers in the southern portions of the High Plains have a better chance to go back with cotton and still make a crop because they have a slightly longer growing season," explains Johnson. "The next week to ten days will really bring out the extent of our losses and open a lot of eyes to what we have been going through out here."

GOD'S LOVE APPEARS IN THE COOL SHADES OF SUMMER

When springtime flowers disappear,
The sun is bright and skies are clear.
The funtime season now is here,

And temperatures will soar;
Sometimes to record high degrees,
But offset by a gentle breeze

When we are camped beneath the trees,
With happy times in store.

This season comes in greens and blues;
Just right for backyard barbecues,

Or simply taking off our shoes
To walk along the shore.

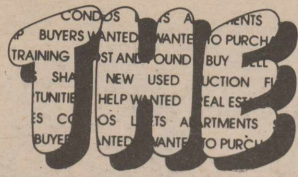

The lessons of our faith command
That all of us enjoy first hand

This fun-filled season God has planned
When summer comes once more.

CARDS OF THANKS

To all my friends in Silverton and Briscoe County: Thank you sincerely for your support, acceptance and help in so many ways during my ministry for the past two years. It was good to be with you during that time. Please feel free to stop by anytime you come this way. The church is located at 311 Harrison, just a few blocks north of the light.

May the peace of the Lord be with you.

Lee Roark

We truly appreciated all the nice cards, many phone calls, good wishes expressed personally before and after from those who were unable to attend for whatever reason. We really enjoyed seeing and visiting with those attending our anniversary reception. You made it a very joyous fiftieth wedding anniversary for us!

We love you all.
