

The WOMAN'S Page

Methodist Missionary Society.

On Monday April 22nd the Woman's Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, and continued the study of the Book of Ezekiel, with Mrs. H. M. Smith as director. With Mrs. R. C. Montgomery at the piano, all joined in singing "The Kingdom is Coming." The song was followed by a prayer by Mrs. Irby. Mrs. Matt Graham who was a delegate to the Woman's District Missionary Society, which met in Childress recently, was present and gave a most interesting report. After the reading of this report, the director took charge of the program. Mrs. F. T. Sanders gave a splendid introduction to the lesson. Each chapter was read and discussed and many interesting points were brought out. Ladies taking part in the reading were Mesdames Irby, Oates, Graham, Montgomery, Sanders, Leon, Davis and Wilson. Mrs. Sanders gave a very interesting description of an ancient commercial galleon or ship. The director evinced a thorough knowledge of the subject, which was shown by her skillful questioning. As a closing song, all joined in singing "Work for the Night is Coming." This was followed by the reciting in unison, of the Lord's Prayer. The hostess invited all to remain for a social hour.

At this time, assisted by Mesdames Persons and Freeman, delicious refreshments of sandwiches, tea, olives, and wafers were served. Twenty-four members were present for this meeting. We were happy to have with us, Mrs. Tate, and hope she becomes a member.

We meet on next Monday in the home of Mrs. T. C. Cahill and continue the study of the book of Ezekiel.

Guests were Mesdames J. L. Odell, Jr. Matt Graham, Foster Davis, C. E. Baker, Jim Williams, Geo. Goetze, Earnest Yeatts and Miss Louise Mullino.

Gypsy Rambler Picnic.

Yera's side, the losing one, in our recent campaign, entertained Era's side Monday afternoon with a picnic. Nine cars and about sixty people were along when we reached Yera's picnic grounds. After such entertainment as climbing trees and killing snakes (nearly), we were carried around the table. Sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, punch, cookies and candies were there and then they weren't. Every one had plenty and nobody had too much. We then came home.

Those attending included the club membership almost to a girl, our five boy-friends (or proxy members), Mrs. S. A. Roberts, Mrs. C. M. Conner, Mrs. Whitley, Mrs. Ed Fout and Mrs. Whimbish. We wish to thank the mothers for their help and also every person who took cars.

South Ward Events

The South Ward P. T. A. opened last Thursday with Mrs. Ballard presenting in burlesque form a beautiful friendship quilt to the outgoing president, Mrs. John Crawford. The quilt was used that night and as tradition says: "Whatever your wish, will come true." I wished that South Ward may continue to do golden deeds to everybody, whenever there is an occasion.

Mrs. Koonce, the incoming president, was presented with a gavel that was designed and built in Texas at Technological College, Lubbock. She responded by saying: "Law and order would prevail in South Ward."

Mrs. Mack Perdue gave the report on the convention in the form of a news item, with Orin McLain acting as news boy.

Roll call was answered by "What Constitutes a Friend?" Some said a friend was a person who loaned money to a friend and he knew he wouldn't pay it back, yet kept on liking him.

Devotional, John 15:14. "You are my friends if you do whatsoever I command you."

Are You Helping Your Child To Make Friends?—Mrs. Perdue.

The first grade won the basket of flowers for having the largest number of mothers present.

South Ward fourth grade won first prize in "Highway Safety" poster out of 13 counties.

This meeting brought to a close our year's work. A father and son banquet will be given in the early part of May and we earnestly urge each father who receives an invitation to attend this. If you don't have a son, adopt one for that evening.

And now, we bid good-bye until next September.

Mrs. Wayne Koonce, president. Mrs. Irene Ballard, secretary. Mrs. John Crawford, Reporter.

Surprise Birthday Dinner.

On Easter Sunday, April 21, relatives of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hutchens of Rochester gave them a surprise by gathering at their home for a birthday dinner in honor of Mr. Hutchens' 71st birthday. Each family brought a wonderful basket and a delightful dinner was served buffet style to the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Hutchens and daughters Frances and Joe, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hutchens and daughters Floy Mae and Floeing and honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hutchens, all of Rochester.

In the afternoon an Easter Egg hunt was enjoyed by all, after which the guests departed to their respective homes wishing Mr. Hutchens many more happy birthdays.

RECIPES AND MENUS
By Department of Home Economics
Texas State College for Women
(C.S.A.)

DENTON, Texas. — Within the homes of today there are many labor-saving devices and among these electricity is found to be the one most used.

At first we thought of electricity only with the presence of light, but now we have our numerous electric appliances other than light both large and small to suit the family's many needs. Such appliances as percolators, waffle irons, grills, toasters, heaters, hot plates, fans, refrigerators, and ranges are used within the modern kitchen.

Among the larger appliances in relation to foods in which the housewife is so vitally interested are the refrigerators and ranges. In using the refrigerator many delicious and wholesome desserts may be served as well as furnishing a perfect storage place for left-over foods.

The ranges have been so perfected that a meal may be prepared hours before time to be cooked and placed in the oven of an electric range in which is so insulated that it will maintain the temperature at which it is placed in the oven until the cooking period begins by the thermostat control which operates automatically, cooking the food to a proper degree of doneness.

Breakfast: Grapefruit juice, shirred eggs, crisp bacon, melba toast, butter, strawberry preserves, and coffee.

Lunch: Pigs in blanket, savory potatoes, mashed turnips, bean multigrain butter, combination vegetable salad, ice box cookies and milk drinks hot tea.

Dinner: Veal bird creamed vermouth in casserole, string beans, butter rolls, grated pineapple nut, and cheese salad, coffee, date and nut pudding and whipped cream.

Breakfast: Cream of wheat and eggs, link sausage, garnished with apple rings, toast, butter, coffee, cream, sugar.

Lunch: Russian fritters, rice croquette with mint jelly, tomato salad, bread, butter, hot cocoa, waffles.

Cream shortening and beat in sugar. Add chocolate, and eggs well beaten. Mix and sift together flour, salt and cinnamon and add to first mixture. Add flavoring. Drop a spoonful on each section of waffle iron and bake two minutes.

Baked Ham: 15 pound ham, 1-1-2 quart flour, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons ground cloves, 2 tablespoons ground allspice, enough water to make into smooth dough. Roll out thick dough. Scrape ham and clean and wrap with the above dough. Bake 4-1-2 hours.

WANTS TO CONTEST FOR STAFF POSITIONS

Warwhoop must start "with a bang" next September, and for that reason we are now in contest to elect students who will have the honor and responsibility of editing the next year's editorial staff. Of our column editors there are several seniors, so that means that we have a new personnel almost every year. But there ought to be a change of genius and ability left in the school, and we believe there is. YOU want one of these positions of honor? If so, enter the contest which is open to all, and will continue until May 2.

SCHOOL HONOR ROLL—FIFTH PERIOD

Congratulations everybody! For the spring coming on, and lazy days ahead, we have a longer list than ever before, and several almost on. Three more seniors, two more sophomores, and one junior make it. The freshmen their own. Just one more now, and then "it will all be over but the shouting." Yes, boys and girls, it can be done, we want to see if there won't be more than three juniors on the list next time. How about it, Juniors?

Members: Frankie Dorris Bledsoe, Martelle Clifton, Frances Fouts, Al Kreger, Ruby Sue Persons, Ma Post, Billy Pogue, Marjorie E. Frances Reese, Anita Johnson, and Olive Sloan.

Honorees: Annie Barnett, Gertrude Conner, Elva Couch, Dufferin Ford, Mary Eleanor Diggs, Janette, and Ruth Woodson.

Editors: Tom Clifton, Juanita

Jenkins, and Mattie Pistole.
 Seniors: Leta Burson, Lois Davis, Woodrow Deshough, Lorena Druess, Ava Grindstaff, Lewis Hamilton, Louise McAnulty, Alberta Orr, and Beatrice Wheeler.

SENIOR SKETCHES

Winston Watson was born in 1917 in Rule, Texas. Before entering Haskell High School, he attended school at Embouse, Barry, Hamilton and Rule. When a sophomore, he was vice-president of his class. He is an excellent basketball player and has been on the team two years. He was a member of the cast for the senior play "Gangway" and then Gypsy Rambler play "The Meddlesome Maid." He is a member of the Gypsy Rambler Club. He aspires to be a professional business man.

Windsor Wells was born in Haskell county in 1918. Having obtained his previous education in the Howard school, he entered Haskell High School this year as a senior. He has contributed materially to the class and school in qualities of scholarship and industry, proving again that a student from a rural school can "make a go" of the senior year in high school. And he has revealed his dramatic ability in his "simple" role as "Simple Simon" in the Class Day program, winning the acclaim of many students as "one of the best ones in it."

Howard Whatley was born in Brownwood, Texas, in the year 1917. The education which he received before entering the Haskell Schools was secured from schools in Pampa and Brownwood. He plays football well and has been a member of the team the past two years and in his earlier school life, he played baseball. His greatest ambition is to be a doctor; you may be inclined to think that this aspiration is just to furnish variety to the family, but if you discuss the matter carefully with Mr. Whatley, you will find he is really serious about it.

SENIORS OBSERVE "CLASS DAY"

Everywhere a Senior, and on every Senior a pink and silver badge proclaiming "Class Day." Such was the impression received by the underclassmen on the morning of Wednesday, April 17, when the Seniors put on their class colors and donned an important air. Nor was that "important air" wholly unjustified, for indeed they were concerned about important matters. At the regular assembly hour they had charge of the program, and on this occasion the class president, Carl Maples, Jr., presented to the student body the gift of the Senior Class to the High School. This gift consists of two large water containers and a large number of tin cups, to be used on class picnics and such occasions.

After this presentation, the main feature of the program followed, at which time "Mrs. Jarley's Famous Waxworks" was introduced to the student body, with Dorothy Herren playing the part of "Mrs. Jarley."

This very amusing farce presented each member of the class as a wax figure representing some character in history, song, or story. Dating from the time of Nero and Alexander the Great to that of the deceased Mr. Jarley, the figures wore costumes curiously fitting and appropriate. Even the tub of Diogenes seemed surprisingly modern, and Nero changed his fiddle for a ukulele.

Skilfully assisting "Mrs. Jarley" with her display were her two assistants "John" and "Peter" (Carl Maples and Howard Whatley) who adjusted and placed the figures, groomed them, oiled them, and wound them up. Much of the success of the performance is due to the patience and vigilance of these two technicians, who worked untiringly till every figure came to life—although sometimes it required vigorous shaking to get some of them to "go," quick thinking when occasionally one was wound too tight, and quick action when they got overbalanced.

Throughout the performance the audience was highly amused; and after a period of nearly an hour's length the students went to classes still laughing, and divided in opinion as to whether Shakespeare himself or Simple Simon was more natural—or rather, more "statuesque." And some of the Seniors celebrated the remainder of the day still wearing the traces of sideburns and whiskers, white powder and rouge.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT HAS ELIMINATION FOR RALLY

Geraldine Conner was selected to represent the second year Home Economics Class for the tailored dress and selection of food. Frances Fouts and Frankie Dorris Bledsoe were selected to represent the first year class; Frances, for the selection of appropriate dress for various occasions and Frankie Dorris for the school costume. The Home Economics Club selected Marvina Post to represent the club.

The following judges helped in the elimination: Mrs. J. B. Post, Mrs. C. V. Payne, Mrs. W. P. Trice, Mildred Shook and Mrs. Rod Clifton.

HERE AND THERE

This week-end is a "double-header" for the Seniors, with the Junior-Senior banquet on Friday night, and the Senior Meet at Hardin-Simmons on Saturday.

Those cans and cups were not such a bad idea after all, for pronto the Gypsy Ramblers think up a picnic, and the cans and cups get initiated. Fine! That's what they are for.

There is a certain boy in high school who is just as courteous and attentive to his sister as he is to any other girl—and we admire him for it. Courtesy, like charity, should begin at home.

Here's a poem dedicated to all the seniors who are having a struggle with grammar:
 "I know I do not write so well;
 I would do better if I could—
 But I'd rather split infinitives
 Than do the same to wood."

MOOY

Janice—I could wish to die in some primeval forest with the autumn leaves covering me with a soft mantle.
 Beverly—Yes, just like a nut.

John E. was describing a fish he had caught. He stretched his arms to full length and said, "It was that long, Sleepy. I never saw such a fish."
 Sleepy: "Neither did I."

Anita Jo—"Do you love me?"
 John—"Sure."
 Anita Jo—"Then why doesn't your chest go up and down like the heroes do in the movies?"

Louise Mc: "Hugh was more than an hour trying to persuade me to name the day."
 Louise R: "Did you give way?"
 Louise Mc: "Yes, I was afraid the chair would if I didn't."

Bob: "They say I have eyes like my father."
 Geo. W.: "Yes, I've heard somebody remark that you were pop-eyed!"

Mr. Richey: "What is the difference between lightning and electricity?"
 Woody: "You have to pay for electricity."

We would have more jokes but you wouldn't do anything but laugh.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

How Odell daintily called the cows home with her bright red handkerchief?

How "cute" Fred looked in those little panties?

How John E. portrayed a bashful young "miss" which he ain't?

How well Louise R. laughed about nothing?

How Winston fiddled on a ukulele and tried to keep his dress on?

How Windsor played the role of a wax figure so well?

How the "Statue of Liberty" looked, with the "boys" trying to push her arm up when she wanted it down?

How Woodie D. counted his wives (I beg your pardon they were Henry's VIII's.)

How Gerry T. set most-forgiving pose fell over and had to be set up again at Virginia's feet?

How Woodrow W. looked as William Shakespeare? (We wonder what Shakespeare would say?)

How Carrie Belle flopped her pretty blue wings and didn't even leave the floor?

How Lorene danced lively around with a wand and a pair of wings?

How well Hugh played the role of a "deceased" husband?

How the character of Buffalo Bill was portrayed by Clovis?

How Billy looked with his clothes on backward?

How Crockett wept so bitterly and yet made no sound?

How Vida Lee stepped out of her quiet role and became a maniac?

How Ava tried to slap her lover (ahem!) Lewis?

How well the Siamese Twins, Lee and Lyndel were suited in size?

How Rip V. Winkle (Robert Couch to you) stretched and yawned in public?

How near Woody R. and Maydell came to falling, to say nothing of laughing?

After you have read this line you are through.
 So adieu, kind friends, adieu.

Fast Digging Saves Two

WESTMINSTER, Md.—The fast work of other members of the gang with whom they were working saved the lives of Benny Hatchet and Bill Thunderbird, negroes, who had been completely buried by a cave-in of a deep ditch they were digging. It took a half hour to extricate Hatchet who had been caught in a stooped position. They were semi-conscious when reached but soon revived in a doctor's office.

They were appointed committee men. Rev. Bryan Keathly of Graham was named as evangelist and superintendent of home missions at the meeting.

Calvin Frierson, Byron Frierson, Miss Willie Bell Frierson and Miss Lollie Hester went to Cisco Tuesday as a committee from the Presbyterian church to select a location for a cabin on the new Presbyterian encampment grounds.

and of PWA grants of the kind proposed for this city. "We don't feel like we are being unfair to anyone in asking for an opportunity to present the facts in question because we did not know of the action that had been taken until two days ago," Owsley told the Board, "and if you gentlemen will postpone any action toward making a survey until later, we will appreciate the matter very much."

"Mr. Schroeder (of Abilene, vice-president of the company) will endeavor to be here at a time convenient and will be prepared to speak of the actual revenue and costs of the Haskell situation," Owsley also said.

The first matter brought before the Board Tuesday pertained to the salary of Al Cousins, police chief and city traffic officer. Cousins, according to Board members, is paid $1 each month as police chief and $74 as traffic officer, and that his tenure as the latter official expired April 1 through the action of the old Board members, three of whom retired from office at that time.

Cousins asked that his full salary be set. Action was deferred by Theis, Fouts and Sanders, the only members present, until later, at which time Cousins was again placed on a full salary of $75 per month.

Immediately after the representative of the West Texas Utilities had stated his purpose, and action deferred, the proposed survey was brought up for discussion by Mayor Thurman for the benefit of Alderman Theis, who was not present at the Friday meeting.

Hardin-Simmons Plans Senior Day

ABILENE, Texas.—With plans completed to handle the largest crowd of West Texas high school seniors ever assembled, Hardin-Simmons university is preparing for its second annual High School Senior Day to be held on the university campus April 27. Two thousand are expected for the affair April 27.

High lights of the day will be the Eighth Annual West Texas High School Band Contest and intra-squad football game. Immediately preceding the game which will be played under the lights on Parramore field a massed band concert will be given by 200 picked musicians from the high school bands entered in the contests. This concert will be directed by H. A. Vanderhook from Chicago, supreme judge of the contest, and Marion P. McClure, conductor of the Cowboy band.

The football game will be the last session for the Cowboys for the spring under the tutelage of their new mentor, Head Coach Frank Kimbrough. The fifty-man squad will be divided, and a regulation game will be played. A loud-speaking system is being installed, and Coach Kimbrough will make remarks to the crowd during the fracas concerning the details of the game in progress.

A marching contest for bands will be held between halves of the game with all bands competing for a handsome loving cup.

The morning program will be held in the university auditorium at which time a musical and novelty program will be given. The university will be host to a barbecue dinner for all visiting students at the noon hour.

Resume Services To Cattlemen

COLLEGE STATION, Texas.—To offset the irregular pasture conditions due to drought and recent dust storms in West Texas, the Federal Livestock Feed Agency in Kansas City, Missouri, will resume its services to ranchmen and farmers for a short period.

It was announced last week by George W. Barnes, assistant state drought director at College Station.

"A large number of cattle in the drought belts will have to be moved," Barnes said, "to feed during the remainder of the spring and early summer."

The Federal Livestock Feed Agency was set up by the Federal Government for the purpose of acting as a clearing house between livestock, feed and pasturage men.

The ranchmen and farmers by listing their livestock and pasturage in the Agency will be able to get in touch with each other, thereby benefiting both pasture and livestock men.

This agency has numerous plans for advancing the interests of all livestock, feed and pasturage men at a small expense to all parties concerned.

Every county agent in this district is requested to inform ranchmen and farmers of the services of the Federal Livestock Feed Agency which is located at 755 Livestock Exchange Building, Kansas City, Missouri.

ATTENTION! OWNERS OF CEMETERY LOTS!

Have you noticed the wonderful improvement in the appearance of the cemetery? You must know this change has not come about by accident.

The upkeep of the resting place of our beloved dead, depends upon the sale of lots, grave digging, and yearly assessments. The assessment for a quarter lot is 75 cents per year; one-half lot $1.50; for a whole lot $3.00.

If you are delinquent in your assessment please see Mrs. Buck Crawford, the sexton. Mrs. T. J. Ar buckle, treasurer Cemetery Association, or Jones, Cox & Co., and pay at least a part of your dues.

We are in need of larger water mains and Mr. Joe Maples has offered to do the work if we can secure the materials. We are indebted to Mr. Frank Dodson for some concrete work.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford have worked untiringly the past week re-marking and re-listing lots. They found a number of lots that have never been paid for and some that have been delinquent in assessments for years, and the owners cannot be located.

These quarter, one-half, and three-quarter lots are choice locations, and will be offered for sale by the Association.

Mr. Crawford invites inspection and suggestions. He is interested and anxious to make our Cemetery the most attractive to be found.

Many a Friend Recommends BLACK-DRAUGHT

People who have taken Black-Draught naturally are enthusiastic about it because of the refreshing relief it has brought them. No wonder they urge others to try it!

Mrs. Joe O. Roberts, of Porterville, Ala., writes: "A friend recommended Black-Draught to me a long time ago, and it has proved its worth to me. I find that taking Black-Draught relieves the various headaches which I had to bear. A purely vegetable medicine is just what I needed."

CONSTITUTION, HEADACHE

IN APPRECIATION

We are deeply grateful to all who contributed in any way to the success and happiness of our sixtieth anniversary celebration.

Although we had great joy in anticipation of it, and much pleasure in planning and preparing for it, the ecstasy of the occasion far exceeded our fondest hopes.

The children were all present, some of them having come a few days in advance, to help keep count of the hours until the festival day would dawn.

Cards and telegrams of congratulations were showered from old time friends, many of whom we had not heard from in half a century.

More than a hundred and fifty of these dear friends and comrades of other days called, some of them coming hundreds of miles, and bringing with them hearts overflowing with gladness and cheer, and the sweetest recollections of bygone days.

Our most gracious neighbors perfected the occasion, by their many acts of kindness. Forming a complete circle about us, coming from every street and bypath, each apparently striving to excel the other.

BASEBALL ALIVE AS EVER

One of the plainest signs of the recent depression was the blight which fell on the ancient institution of professional baseball. Minor leagues died like flies in a frost, and those which survived found an abundance of red ink in their ledgers. All this led some people to suppose that the American people no longer cared for the game itself with their old-time enthusiasm—when all that was really wrong was that people simply didn't have the money to spend on it. This year, from all accounts, is bringing a great revival in the sport. New leagues are being organized in all sections of the country. The spring training trips of the big leaguers were attended by the biggest crowds in recent years. Every indication points to financially successful seasons. A revival of interest in baseball? Not at all. Just a sign of returning prosperity.

HELPING THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Very few citizens take time to think what the public school system means to the average child. Without free popular education many children would grow into adults without being adequately prepared for taking proper care of themselves in a business world based upon competitive manners.

We were talking to a prominent merchant of the city yesterday along the general subject of education. He did not have an opportunity to attend school for long, and yet we have talked with no one who appreciates more fully the value of an education not to his own child, but to the children of the other man. Hundreds of good citizens in this community would be unable to educate their children without free schools.

When we reflect upon the value of an education to a child we realize the thing that school taxes are paid for. When the citizen thinks only of the amount he has to pull from his pocket for the maintenance of the school system he exhibits a lack of the cooperative, unselfish spirit which must be the backbone of a successful republic.

TO UNITE AGAINST CRIME

A promising beginning is being made in the task of providing the United States with a unified police system which can cope with modern criminals. Fourteen states and some 150 cities are expected to get together in the near future in a scheme of co-operation by which information can be exchanged promptly and co-operation can be achieved. State bureaus of identification are being established to co-operate with the federal bureau at Washington. Legislatures are considering schemes to have state police forces supplement the work of sheriffs and country police. The result of all this should be to make the path of such men as Dillinger and Floyd infinitely more rocky. The kind of co-operation that will enable the law to strike promptly across state and city lines is precisely the kind of thing that the criminal cannot cope with. It is encouraging to see that we are going to get some of it.

TRADING AT HOME

There are any number of people living in this town who laugh at the idea that it is best to buy at home. They take the position that it does not matter where they spend their money if they get their money's worth. They subscribe to the doctrine that the only obligation they owe to the home town is to get what they can out of it.

Our idea of trading at home does not include buying goods from merchants who attempt exorbitant profits. It does not necessitate the acceptance of worn, dirty or bedraggled goods from old time merchants who think that it is up to the community to keep them in business. It only means giving the local merchants a chance and then, to buy if he can reasonably meet other competition.

The local merchants, on their side, have duties in regard to this trade at home idea. They must keep the buyer informed as to what they have to sell. They must stock new goods. They must be accommodating and render real service to the purchaser. They must refuse to push shoddy goods, or to sell to a customer something that is apt to be unprofitable. In short, they must maintain, at all times, the confidence of the community.

The average citizen should, we take it, have pleasure in increasing the total volume of local business. Out of this sum is taken the prosperity of all of us. The larger it is the bigger the average share. Every citizen that spends his dollars at home helps that much in making the business of the community bigger. He helps the town expand, put on new growth and support new enterprises.

-CURRENT COMMENT-

THE TOWNSEND PLAN (From The Texas Weekly)

The Townsend Plan to pay pensions of $200 a month to all persons of sixty years of age and over was voted down in the lower house of Congress Thursday. The vote was 206 to 56. The amazing thing about this vote to us is that more than twenty per cent of the members of Congress voting on the proposal cast their ballots in favor of it. It would require more than two billion dollars a month, or more than twenty-five billion dollars a year, to pay $200 a month to all persons of sixty and over in the country. And the persons to whom it would be paid under this plan represent less than nine per cent of the population. The amount that would be paid to them would be the equivalent of 52 per cent of the total wealth of all kinds produced in the United States last year, according to the estimate of the National Industrial Conference Board. The total production of wealth of all kinds produced in the United States last year was the equivalent of about $1,700 a family. And yet this plan proposes to pay to the aged the sum of $2,400 a year. The thing is so absurd on its face that it requires only a knowledge of the simplest arithmetic to recognize its impossibility. And yet 56 elected representatives of the people, 56 men for whom a majority of the voters in as many districts voted in the election last November, constituting more than twenty per cent of the members voting on the question, favored this proposal. It is unbelievable. And yet the brutal fact cannot be denied. What a commentary on the caliber of our national lawmakers! If men possessed of sufficient standing and ability to win a Congressional election believe that Government revenue can be obtained in any such amounts as this, is it any wonder that State legislators do not realize the necessity of economy in government? If there are men in Washington who believe that the Government can appropriate 52 per cent of the country's total production for a single purpose, the most extravagant legislator at Austin becomes a piker by comparison.

What you ask of a Bank

Depends Upon What You Know About a Bank

A great many people do ask impossible things of a bank—just because they do not thoroughly understand what are the right and the wrong principles of conducting a bank.

There is a reason back of every safe rule in banking. The banker does not act from whim, or favor this person or that; he follows the charts of experience. He tries to steer a safe course, as the captain does with a great liner. Nobody asks the captain to head for an iceberg. Nobody should ask the banker to depart from any of the sound principles which give protection to the bank's depositors.

THE OLD RELIABLE

The Rural Community Has Come to Town

The rural community and small city faces a new future. Electric service and all that electric power and light mean to home life, commercial and industrial development is now available for a more constructive and wider field of achievement.

Much work, planning, testing, engineering and large investments of capital was necessary in order to make this possible. Our 2600 miles of power transmission lines, interlacing 49 counties in West Texas and serving 160 towns and communities provide an adequate and economical source of dependable electric service with precise regulation to meet the requirements of modern day appliances.

Today hundreds of small West Texas towns and communities can offer to industry this modern electric service in proximity to its raw materials . . . two very necessary prerequisites for industrial progress.

We point with pride to our part in assisting the small towns and communities in this way, thus guaranteeing to them the same opportunities in respect to power as the larger metropolitan cities enjoy. It is our policy to fully co-operate with the small towns and communities we serve so that they may realize the full benefits accompanying and made possible by electrical development.

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

The senior editor and Lonnie of the composing department had been indisposed most of the week but Mr. Greer and Mr. Neill buckled down and got the paper out.

A creaser of the X ranch was the city Wednesday. When he goes to town everybody becomes agreeable and polite and he is glad to see him.

A few men may have piled more money than Jim but they do not have the friends and do not get as many glad hearts as he.

Henry Parsons returned Wednesday from Vernon with his bride. He and Miss Frankie Ballew were married Tuesday.

The Free Press has received some and pretty job type and is prepared to do all kinds of job printing. We can please you if you can please.

Sam Smith, fireman at the oil mill, was badly scalded on his face and hands when a blow pipe blew out the boilers Saturday at the mill.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

Messrs. Burwell Cox, J. F. Jones, T. B. Russell have purchased interest of Mr. Levi McCollum in the hardware, implement and furniture business of McCollum and Cason and will continue the firm name of Cason, Cox & Co.

Mr. Fred Sanders who teaches the Howard school on Paint Creek was in the city Saturday. He says that he has a fine school and that things have gone on pleasantly. The school will close in three weeks.

Messrs. H. M. Rike, R. D. C. Stephens and C. R. Peters went off on a fishing expedition a few days ago, but we have had no reports as to the results.

A fine rain fell in all parts of Haskell county last Sunday. It measured an inch and three-fourths in town.

40 YEARS AGO TODAY

On Wednesday last the Free Press family with other guests participated in a royal dinner of wild turkey and numerous other good things to eat with the family of R. B. Fields.

The school trustees of this district have entered into contract with Prof. W. W. Hentz to teach the Haskell public school for the ensuing year. He will hold the position of principal.

We are informed that one trucker who recently opened up a small banking business at Throckmorton and succeeded in getting together several thousand dollars from confident parties, folded his tent, pocketed the bundle and left last week for parts unknown.

THE HOLY SCRIPTURES

International Sunday School Lesson for April 28, 1935.

Golden Text: "Oh how love I the law! It is my meditation all the day."—Psalm 119:97.

Lesson Text: Psalm 19:7-14; 2 Timothy 3:14-17.

Additional Biblical references: I Peter 1:23-25; I John 1:8-10; I Kings 22:8-20; Nehemiah 8:1-8; I Peter 2:24-25; Acts 17:10-12; I Hebrews 1:1-4.

The selection which we have from the 19th Psalm testifies to the realist's acceptance of the law of Jehovah, and ends with a prayer that he may live in accordance with the divine law.

Our selection from second Timothy reveals the attitude of the great apostle Paul to the divine scriptures which he knew in his day, that they were righteous and good for man.

The Bible is a collection of writings and is not a single piece of literature in the sense that it had one author. At different times varied writers were responsible for different parts, yet it has been recognized as a unit. Fundamentally, all its books deal with the relationship between God and man.

Throughout it the theme is a holy God who demands righteousness, who will not countenance evil and who will reward good. No other religion in the world has been read so widely and the responsiveness of the human heart to its story in different times and lands testifies to its divinity. Its effect on his mind has been inestimable. It is a matter of truth that in those lands where this great book has been known and followed liberty and happiness have excelled. Human misery has been alleviated by its message and human hearts have found peace and contentment which has been found by those who know this book.

The Bible is divided into two testaments of thirty-nine and twenty-nine books, respectively. Fifty-eight authors contributed to its pages over a period of fifteen hundred years, employing three different languages. One cannot read the Bible with appreciation unless he understands the processes by which it came to us.

Take the New Testament. There are four lives of Christ. One was in Rome; one was in Italy; one was in Palestine; one in Asia Minor. There were twenty-one letters, ten were in Greece and Macedonia; in Asia; one in Rome. . . . And for a long time a number of books begin to be pretty well known. In the third century the New Testament consisted of the following books: the four Gospels, Acts, thirteen letters of Paul, I Peter, and in addition, the Epistles of Barnabas and Hermas. This was not called the New Testament, but the Christian Library. Then these last books were discarded. They ceased to be regarded as upon the same level as the others. In the fourth century the canon was closed—that is to say, a list was made up of the books which were to be regarded as canonical.

In studying the Bible one should secure all of the assistance which critical study and research have made available. Realizing that the location of the incidents told in this book occurred in a strange and different land, centuries previous to our own day, and that the people to whom the words were originally addressed differed in manner and custom of life from our own, one should realize the need of assistance in trying to assimilate its contents.

The oldest Hebrew manuscript of the Old Testament which we have dates to the tenth century. A. D. The oldest Greek manuscript of the New Testament goes back to the fourth century. The Septuagint (Greek) translation of the Old Testament was made in the third century B. C. The Vulgate (Latin) translation of the New Testament was about three centuries A. D.

One need not be confused by apparent contradictions which exist. Every word is not to be literally interpreted but on the other hand neither is the essential story a myth and legend. The temporary and incidental character of many passages should not crowd and weaken the eternal and everlasting truths which it contains. The revelation of the divine creator and ruler of the universe is gradual and progressive—the idea of the early Israelites as to God's character and nature was far inferior in many respects to the presentation of him by Jesus.

Yet, a growing knowledge and better appreciation, as the various authors covered a mental and spiritual growth representing different stages in religious and ethical development.

The Bible contains a remarkably wonderful collection of literature, embracing parts of every kind known to men. It pictures primarily human nature in its relationship to the Creator, including all the emotions and the experiences of man—hate and love, fear, trust, sin and righteousness, doubt and trust, despair and hope, temptation and triumph.

WASHINGTON. — According to statistics of the Federal Bureau of Air Commerce, there has been an increase in the purchase of small civilian airplanes. In 1934, 853 such airplanes were purchased, including 661 monoplane and 192 biplanes. The official season of the Wichita Valley baseball league opened Sunday, April 21 in Seymour, Munday and Stamford, with Haskell, Hamlin and Stamford emerging as opening winners. The three games drew good crowds.

Hostilities among the six teams will be resumed next Sunday with a complete change of schedule. Hamlin nosed Munday by a score of 9 to 8 in a free-hitting contest marred by errors. Henning, Hamlin righthander, went the distance, while Robertson and Pittman divided the honors for the Knox county entry. Wood, Hamlin centerfielder, hit for the circuit.

Stamford salted away its opener by ringing up ten safe blows and eight runs to Goree's five hits and five runs. Both teams made numerous errors. Day, of Stamford, buried steady ball and dove down in the pinches.

Haskell pranced on the Seymour field in new uniforms, but did not let the matter interfere in winning a ball game, shutting out the Baylor county entry 7 to 0, although Stalvey, of Seymour, allowed only one bingle up to the fatal fifth. Jones pitched masterful ball for Haskell, and Adkins, first sacker, led the hitting brigad with a triple, two doubles and a single in five trips to the plate. Norman, also of Haskell, hit a home run with one on base in the seventh.

Although brevity is the soul of wit, some senators still manage to be funny.

School Trustees of County Named

Tabulation of returns of the various school trustee elections recently held in this county have just been completed by members of the Commissioners Court and the winning candidates named. Trustees for both independent and common school district were voted upon.

Trustees shown to be elected are expected to qualify by May 1, according to Matt N. Graham, county superintendent. In order to qualify, Graham stated that the law requires that the person elected "Must be able to read and write; must have resided in the school district for at least six months; and must be a qualified voter." There has been some confusion as to whether a poll tax is requisite to qualification, Mr. Graham said, and called attention to the fact that in a ruling issued Saturday by the Attorney General, was to the effect that a person must be a qualified voter, in other words, be exempt from paying a poll tax or see have one.

HOUSE OUTLAW MARBLE MACHINES

Vicious Form of Gambling Members Told in Debate on Machine Amendment

AUSTIN, Tex.—Marble machines that enable a winner to receive either money or goods would be outlawed under an amendment added in the House Monday to W. O. Reed's bill to tax the machines. The bill, before the body by consent, was proposed to make enforceable the law taxing the machines. The State has been receiving practically nothing from the tax because the existing statute has been attacked in the courts. It was estimated by Reed that his bill would guarantee a return of around $700,000.

The amendment to outlaw machines that return money was by G. C. Morris who had introduced a bill containing even stronger provisions. Morris attacked the machines as a vicious form of gambling and they also were assailed by G. C. Canon. The House refused, 70 to 61, to take the Morris amendment, and then adopted it, 74 to 54. The bill would fix the tax at $10 a year on machines that are operated by a nickel and at $20 where larger coins are used. Efforts to increase the tax to $25 and $50 failed. An amendment by Howard Davison to authorize local officers to destroy machines on which no tax had been paid was adopted.

Farmers Planning Erosion Control

AUSTIN, Texas.—Farmers, under the direction of county agents, moved grimly over the entire length and breadth of the Texas Panhandle and Plains country last week, bent on controlling wind erosion. Nature, using the wind as a lash, has assailed Northwest Texas for the last 45 days, whipping soil from the land and carrying it in all directions.

Now the government will help these dust-choked farmers list their land in an effort to prevent further losses to the elements.

County agents working with committees in 45 counties last week were approving contracts under which these farmers agree to list their land in return for fuel or feed for tractors or teams, the amount to be determined by the number of acres to be listed.

Results of a survey submitted to the Texas Relief Commission by Dr. O. B. Martin, director of the extension service at A. and M. College under whose supervision the program will be undertaken, contemplated.

Grass Found Help In Prevention of Drifting Sand

Grass growing on all sides of the garden has kept the sand from cutting and covering the vegetables, according to Mrs. C. A. Lewellen, cooperator in the Josslet Home Demonstration Club. The grass prevents sand from drifting into the garden and covering the plants, which are very badly in need of protection of the sand storms.

Keg Full of Man

OXFORD, Miss.—After raiding a still and taking two arrested men to jail, raiders returned to the scene and proceeded to throw empty barrels out of a second-story window. One of the kegs was heavier than the others, and to the surprise of the officers, when it was opened they found a man hidden within.

plate listing of 5,395,000 acres. For this work, the federal emergency relief administration has made available through the Texas Relief Commission, funds to be granted to these farmers at the rate of ten cents per acre for the land to be listed.

E. A. Baugh, assistant director of the Texas Relief Commission, last week announced plans have been completed whereby farmers may obtain purchase orders by presenting approved contracts to county administrators.

"Farmers in the affected area are requested to remember that land to be treated in this program must be selected by the county agents, who are executing the program in all instances. The Relief Commission acts merely in a purchasing, disbursing and accounting capacity," Mr. Baugh said.

Purchase orders may be presented for the amount of fuel or feed called for in the contract. Cash will not be delivered to the farmer, and no cash will be sent to the counties. All purchases will be paid from the state office of the Texas Relief Commission. This procedure was adopted in order to carry on the program with all possible speed.

Relief officials said they expect supplemental applications for funds from Dr. Martin as a result of continuation of his survey in the affected counties. These applications will be granted until the federal allotment of $750,000 for the program has been exhausted Mr. Baugh said.

A completion date of May 1 has been set in order to assure concerted action in the campaign against the wind.

The Relief Commission will further cooperate by furnishing budgetary labor and clerical help where it is needed. Budgetary workers in most cases will be used to drive tractors on large tracts of land where one farmer will be unable to complete the work in the allotted time.

Relief officials announced that they had signed contracts with six oil companies for fuel at one cent under the market price and that they had negotiated successfully for exemption from the four-cent state and one cent federal gasoline tax. In addition to the six companies with whom contracts have been signed, relief purchase orders from any company that files a written quotation in the same amount as that in existing contracts.

Counties in which the program will be carried on are Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Roberts, Hutchinson, Moore, Hartley, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Donley, Armstrong, Randall, Deaf Smith, Hall, Childress, Motley, Cottle, Foard, Parmer, Castro, Briscoe, Swisher, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Gaines, Dawson, Borden and Clay.
