Golfers of West Texas Invited To Big Spring Meet

BIG SPRING, Texas, July 25.—Golfers of West Texas are extended an invitation to attend the fourth annual invitational golf tournament to be held here on September 1, 2, and 3. Preparations will be made to take care of a field of 150 said C. W. Cunningham, President of the Big Spring Country Club. Many West Texas golfers had an occasion to acquaint themselves with the course during the West Texas Annual Golf Tourney held here in June.

Shirley Rebbins, Big Springs ace, will defend his title as champion. Charlie Qualls of Post was the winner of the first and second annual affair.

Entertainment will be planned to leave no idle moment on the hands of those who register.

The Big Spring country club layout is difficult enough to offer a true test of golfing skill, but not too tough for the rank and file of golfing sportsmen.

HASKELL SCENE OF A POLITICAL RALLY ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Marks Close of Intensive Drives By Candidates In Quest of Votes

SPEAKERS GALORE

District and County Office Seekers Will Speak Here Behalf of Candidacies

Approximately 4000 voters will trek to the polls Saturday to cast their ballots of the July Democratic Primary and decide the fate of over 45 county candidates and help make the decision for runoff favorites in district and state offices.

For the past two months, all the activity has been on the part of the candidates, with the voter on the receiving end, but throughout Saturday, those self-same seekers for political office will step aside, breath various types of sighs and watch close-mouthed voters parade into polling places.

In last minute attempts to sway voting sentiment, practically all of the candidates and their friends have been rushing into separate sections of the county and district during the past week. Thousands upon thousands of cards have been distributed, with some of the givers smilingly stating that "no scratching was desired."

Last Rally Here

Regularly scheduled political rallies have been held throughout the county during the past few weeks, with the last one booked for Haskell Friday night. District, county and precinct candidates will be present and will make a final primary appeal for votes. It is expected that candidates for higher offices will also attend and address the crowd, which may reach into the higher hundreds. According to local officials, the rally Friday night will open at 8:00 P. M. and close when the last speaker has contributed his share of the entertainment. Parking space will be at a premium, which should not disappoint to any great extent, because a loud-speaking arrangement will be set up and all speakers should be clearly heard, although the listener is a block or more away.

Some Races To Be Close

With the exception of district judge, county attorney and county treasurer, all offices in the district and county have been keenly sought after. For representative of the 113th district, C. L. Martin, Baylor county; Dick Dresser, Baylor county; J. C. Davis, Haskell county; T. R. Odell, Haskell county; and V. L. Thomason, Haskell county, have waged an interesting free-for-all.

Henry F. Grindstaff, of Stonewall county, is being opposed for district attorney by Walter Murhison, young Haskell attorney, and son of the late W. H. Murhison, of Haskell. Both candidates have been busy throughout the weeks in an intensive drive for votes.

For county judge, Chas. M. Conner is being opposed for re-election by D. R. Brown, of Rochester, and George Proctor, of Stamford, Route 1. Proctor has centered his "fire" (Continued On Page Eight)

Pert Young Miss Makes Plain She Needs No Help From Men On Voting

An untold number of alleged witticisms have been cast at women voters, and doubtless many more will be thought up before the primary Saturday, but if the actions of one girl, who cast an absentee vote in the County Clerk's office last Saturday, can be taken as a criterion, the fairer, and lots of times "brighter" sex are as business-like as the so-called "lords of creation."

Walking briskly into Jason Smith's office, the young lady asked if she was in the office where ballots were issued to those who would

LAST SUNDAY GAME FOR MONTH TO BE PLAYED ON JULY 29

The Aspermont Aces will invade Haskell Sunday afternoon for a regularly scheduled Wichita Valley league baseball game, and the fray will mark the last time Haskell will play on the local diamond on Sundays until in September for the game which closes the official season.

Both Dot and Archie Pittman are in shape to pitch, but which one will be selected is not known at present. Archie hurled Sunday and Dot pitched Wednesday.

It is also expected that the change of players into positions they have not played very much this season, as in the game here Sunday, was only a temporary feature on the part of the management, and Thurman, Adkins, Chapman and Clift will be found in the positions they have played most of the year. Thurman is considered one of the most dependable third basemen in this section, with an arm which can get the ball to first in a hurry. Adkins has no peer in the league as a defensive initial baseman and is not the equal of Clift in centerfield.

The game Sunday will start promptly at three-thirty p. m.

JAMES L. McNEESE

Pledging himself to oppose monopolistic control of the Railroad Commission, James L. McNeese, prominent Dallas attorney, has announced his candidacy for the place on the Commission to become vacant at the end of this year.

He pointed out that Texas receives income from oil produced in this State which is given to the school fund, and said he would discourage the importation of oil produced abroad which does not yield school revenue.

He emphasized that the Railroad Commission has become the most powerful agency of government in Texas, vested with wide powers for regulation of railroads, buses, trucks and the oil industry, and that the efficiency of its members should be of interest to the voter.

James McNeese was at one time in my employ. I can heartily recommend him to my friends for Railroad Commissioner. Since Mr. McNeese will not be able to campaign in Haskell county, I would consider it a personal favor if my friends would vote for him for I have a special pride in seeing him carry Haskell county.

COURTNEY HUNT.

To The Voters of Precinct No. 1

I have found that it is impossible to see each and every voter in the precinct and I wish to assure those whom I have been unable to see that their vote in the election Saturday will be sincerely appreciated. I regret that it has been impossible to meet you and place my claim for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 1 before you personally, but I hope that you will consider this a personal solicitation for your vote and influence.

I wish to thank those who have assisted me in my campaign for the office as well as the many words of encouragement from others. If I am nominated and elected as your commissioner I will do my very best to fill the position in a creditable manner.

AB HUTCHINS.

Walter E. Jones of Gregg County

Candidate for Commissioner of General Land Office

A new man in state politics who promises a new deal. He believes that the land office needs new blood, thorough renovation and the installing of a modern system of handling the business of the office.

Mr. Jones comes to the voters well recommended by his home people. He has the unqualified endorsement and active support of the friends of organized labor. He has furnished this paper with copies of endorsements which are proof of his loyalty to labor and of their friendship to him.

There can be no doubt but that Mr. Jones is thoroughly equipped for the office. He is a college graduate as well as a man of practical business and professional training. Elect him and he will fill the office creditably to himself and the state.

Stamford Downed By Braves 4 to 3 Here Last Sunday

After a battle which lasted 12 innings, the Haskell Braves defeated the Stamford Stars here Sunday afternoon 4 to 3 due to the efficient hurling of Archie Pittman. Allowing only four hits and one of those uncalled for because two fielders stood and let the ball drop safely, waiting for the other to take it, and striking out 18 of 36 to face him, the Haskell right-hander gave the fans a pitching performance which probably bested anything seen in this section this year.

Ragged support was given Pittman at times by his teammates, which accounted for practically all of Stamford's runs.

Day, pitcher for Stamford, kept his low curve and slow ball mixed up and proved pretty much of an enigma to Haskell's hitters, with the exception of Cox, Thurman and Adkins, who garnered more than one bingle. Almost flawless support was given Day by his team mates in the field. Drive after drive was smacked by local batsmen which looked good for hits, were pulled out of the ozone by Stamford's fielders. In fact, Stamford played heads-up, chattering baseball until the last man was out in the 12th.

Box score table with columns: Stamford, Bradford, Alfred, Weeks, Counts, Beatty, Partwood, Withrow, Polacek, Nance, Salzman, Day, p.

*Nance batted for Polacek in 9th. xOne out when winning run scored.

Summary table with columns: Haskell, Henshaw, Cox, Chapman, Thurman, Pierson, Cliff, Adkins, Murphy, A. Pittman.

Summary: Sacrifices, Allred, Withrow. Struck out by Day 4, Pittman 18. Base on balls off Day 4, Pittman 2. Hit batsman, Day 3, Pittman 1. Left on bases Stamford 9, Haskell 11. Double play, Weeks to Counts to Withrow. Passed ball, Cox. Time, 2:10. Umpires Hauser and Billinton.

Haskell County Among Leaders In Breeding Stocks

Hon. J. E. McDonald, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture states to H. K. Henry who is caretaker of the State jack located in Haskell county, that the people of this section have taken advantage of the opportunity to breed to this high grade jack and that it shows an increased interest in better live stock for this section of Texas. He also says that Haskell ranks among the leading counties of Texas in breeding, according to the number of Jacks or Stallions placed in these counties.

Mr. Henry says that he is equipped now to handle this jack and during another season, he will be in a position to serve the people of this county even better than he has this year. Mr. McDonald states that this jack will remain in Haskell county and that he hopes with the receipt of additional funds to place other jacks and stallions in this section. From every portion of Haskell and adjoining counties, farmers and stockmen have taken advantage of the opportunity offered them by the Department of Agriculture and within the course of a few years, says Mr. McDonald, he is able to compare this program, Texas will be the leading live stock producing state of the nation, and farmers and stockmen will be receiving income from out of the State through the sale of horses and mules of a very high type.

WHO WILL PAY?

Who will pay the taxes after all property has been confiscated and all capital has at last found its way into the coffers of the government?
The optimistic answer is that that will never happen. Probably it won't but we are coming closer to it than we realize. In some middle western states more than fifty per cent of the farms have been foreclosed and are being worked by lessees, not owners. In some cities it is cheaper to tear a good building down than to allow it to stand—because taxes on the structure are greater than the income it produces. In other cases it is cheaper to close a factory, because under present conditions, returns are not great enough to meet the tax bill and other running expenses.

It is very easy to advocate soaking the rich to help the poor, but over-taxation of capital is the surest way to produce distress, unemployment and depression. When people are afraid to invest their money in producing enterprises, because of fear of increased taxation, the country faces a crisis from unemployment and actual confiscation of capital and jobs by taxation.

FOR THE COMMON WELFARE

The principal reason for the existence of the farm cooperatives is to benefit their members by stabilizing markets and raising prices to levels where producers are able to make a reasonable profit.

At the same time, the public at large obtains just about as many benefits from successful agricultural co-operation as do the farmers themselves.

No one gains when agriculture is profitless. The farm is the greatest single market in normal periods for the products of our factories—the great bulk of urban industrial workers can trace their employment directly or indirectly to the farm consumer.

A constant supply of agricultural goods is essential to our national life—and when markets are disorganized, and prices are in the basement, the farmer is unable to efficiently keep the great machinery of production and distribution going.

The thinking public is solidly behind the co-operative movement, and a wide measure of the success it has achieved in the face of great obstacles, may be attributed to that. Urban and rural groups have the same objectives, and they must pull together for the common welfare.

A BROKEN-DOWN HORSE

Two years ago a wholesale grocer out in Benton, Illinois, took a fancy to a supposedly broken-down race horse named Indian Runner and paid $3,000 for him. Maybe it was a mere whim or a gambler's hunch that caused the grocer, D. A. Woods, to make an investment which most turfmen would have considered unspeakably foolish. But just see what happened.

After giving Indian Runner good care and a few weeks of rest, Woods entered him at Lincoln Fields, where he broke the track record in his first race. Since then he has virtually monopolized the handicap stakes in the West. On the Fourth of July he won for the second consecutive year the Stars and Stripes handicap at Arlington Park, where he also won the Inaugural handicap the last two years. His total winnings to date have been $45,000—not a bad return on a $3,000 investment. And he isn't finished yet. On the other hand, others have spent fortunes in an effort to develop a winner without success. All of which goes to confirm the old saying that you can't tell by merely looking how far a frog can jump or how fast a horse can run.

TOO MUCH THEORY IN EDUCATION

Approving the idea that our system of education, even professional education, is encumbered with too much superfluous theory and non-essentials, C. B. Gordon-Sale, an eminent English engineer, expresses doubt concerning the value of such an amount of higher mathematics as must be mastered by young engineers.

He declares that "many of the involved theories, embodying yards of calculation, are out of place and liable to warp the mental outlook to such an extent that it takes years of experience to again attain a reasonable view of engineering problems." He further asserts that he has never found use for much of the technical training he received in college, but he constantly needed knowledge of cost estimating and other practical matters not taught in the classroom, but which had to be picked up by experience and corrected mistakes. He contends that the amount of matter one must get through in a college course today is so great that no time is left for basic principles.

Mr. Gordon-Sale merely expresses what a good many thoughtful persons, including some leading educators, have suspected for a long time. There is too much theory and too little practice in modern education.

We realize that only our two readers will read this collection of blarney, because everyone is too busy "politicking," but it's become a habit and there's a certain amount of space to fill in the newspaper. Our better-half will read it, however, in order to tell us we shouldn't have said "so-and-so."

We're not hinting or insinuating anything you understand, but if any farmer wishes a newspaper write-up of his watermelons, cantaloupes or such, we must sample some of the evidence in order to write a REAL story. Even an automobile needs PRIMING with gasoline.

RANDOM BRIEFS—All we needed was a camera to get a real human interest picture the other day. About six negroes were lined up on the west side of Perry's store, poking in watermelon. . . . F. L. Daugherty is still improving his place, in our opinion. He's added red paint to his house roof—which is a particular weakness of ours. . . . To keep the record clear, J. T. Atkins, star first-baseman of the Haskell team, DID steal a base—in 1932. . . . Hot as it has been, it won't be long until advertisements of fall clothing will appear. Daily newspapers are already featuring furs. . . . We believe we would enjoy sub-zero weather and about a four-foot snow right now. . . . Raymond Brooks has a campaign feature that might work, if elected. He'll be tickled to tell you all about it. . . . Government costs have increased again. Eight girls are now working in the cotton office. . . . Sparky, the dusky-hued, says "No nigger is worth $11—let alone paying that for fighting!" . . . Believe it or not, as the feller says, there is a certain minister in town, who has such high arches in his feet, that when not standing on his foot, he can wear a seven and one-half shoe, but when he rests his foot on the floor, it takes a size "nine" to fit him.

The more we see of politics, the more we're glad we are simply a bum newspaper person.

What's become of the people who proclaimed in a solemn manner that when women entered politics, and voted, that a "refining" influence would be in order?

RAIN INTERVIEWS
Roy Sanders—Well sir, all I know is what I've heard—and that was plenty. It will rain Saturday, (what Saturday, he didn't say) so I'm told, because all the dogs are lying on their backs, with their feet in the air; the mesquite are putting out new sprouts, water in the wells is rising; horses are running around in the pastures; and Defoe says it will rain.

Fritz Taylor—I'll admit I don't know when it will rain, but I'll tell you what we'll eat if it doesn't: good, old horsemeat, with not much fat on it. When it does get ready, however, I'll let you know in plenty of time, because my corns will give an advance warning.

Elmore (Jelly to you) Smith—After due deliberation upon the subject of rain, which seems to be of interest to all, I do not hesitate to state, (and you may quote me on this) that rain will fall in the vicinity of Haskell when sufficient moisture is gathered overhead and is pulled earthward by gravity.

Clay Smith—Nerts to you!
Lon Pate—When the July political primary is a thing of history.

Giles Kemp, Olen Dotson, Dan Kirkpatrick, Chas. W. Bledsoe, Martin Gregory, C. A. Lewellen, Russell Davenport—Sh-h-h! We're running for sheriff and can't make a statement now.

Hubert Watson—Ask Dad, he knows!
Judge Clyde Grissom—(Editorial note: Judge is on his vacation and couldn't be located for a statement at this time.)

Anton Theis—Oh, yes, our Formal Opening will be held Saturday in our new location.

John Pierre Payne—What do you think?
Raul English—When a certain writer on the Free Press fails to mention that the Haskell ball club has no new players! (Editorial note: Heck, sir, no! It won't rain, because Haskell will have several new players on the bench Sunday!)

Hill Oates—I'll let you know after the primary.

A. C. Pierson—Not me. You can't catch me on that one. I've lived here too long.

R. H. Maxwell—Tell me when the cotton checks will arrive and I'll tell you when it will rain. Plop!

Ed F. Fouts—I'm really sorry, old fellow, but I'm busy right now. If it was anything about the office, I could tell you. Don't mention it.

Hollis Atkinson—When will it rain? We have some nice bananas today, and the grapes are delicious.

Foster Davis—Lawyers are supposed to be paid for ADVICE!
Ben Bagwell—Sometime!

Troy Post—Roy Sanders is our rain prophet, but why guess or worry when you can wangle malted milks?

Everyone Should Report 'Catching' Diseases Stated

AUSTIN Texas—Asked who is responsible for reporting the occurrence of typhoid fever, tuberculosis, measles, whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other "catching" diseases to the Health Department, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, said:

"According to the laws of Texas relating to public health, a physician is required to notify the health officer of the city, town or county in which the illness occurs, immediately and in writing of each case of a notifiable disease that is under his professional care. They in turn notify the State Department of Health.

"But the responsibility of reporting the diseases that are usually spoken of as 'catching' and that spread from person to person, or are contracted in handling or eating contaminated foods, or in drinking contaminated water, or that are spread through the bites of insects or in handling infected animals, is not limited to the doctors in attendance on such cases. Parents, guardians, householders, hotel-keepers, superintendents of institutions, principals of schools, public, private or parochial, masters of vessels, owners or operators of dairies or ice-cream manufacturing or distributing plants, are also charged with the duty of notifying the nearest health officer of each actual or suspected case of a 'catching' disease that comes under their observation.

"A health department is a department of public safety—much like a fire department. Immediate reporting of the 'catching' diseases is asked in order that the disease fighting activities can be gotten under way without delay to safeguard those who are in contact with or exposed to these diseases and to prevent the diseases from spreading to others."

Centennial—

(Continued from First Page) The Centennial city and that duty shall be performed to the absolute letter of the law under which it is operating.

"The legislature in its wisdom enacted a law, naming the personnel of the Commission. The same law provides that the city offering the greatest financial inducement shall be chosen as the Centennial city. That's exactly what the Commission will do. It has no choice. It is non-partisan. It is boosting the claim of all Texas to the right of a great Centennial celebration in 1936, which in extent and magnitude will truly reflect the glories of the past and mirror the future.

"As business men of long experience members of the Commission realize that a celebration of this magnitude requires financing. If millions are given by the successful city for the celebration it will not have paid anything but a very modest figure. Chicago, in a season, attracted twenty million visitors. They expended there an estimated $640,000,000.

"There can be no doubt that Texas will attract more visitors than has Chicago. This is true for the simple reason it has and will have a great deal more to offer. In the first place all Texas is here and now assured that when stage a celebration of the first magnitude it means just that. Texas is a State of the first magnitude. Anything it does must be commensurate with that. It goes without saying that such a celebration will result in the greatest influx of visitors ever seen in a commonwealth or a city.

"Money is required for the celebration—a minimum of $15,000,000. But money is desired only so that the dream of revering the Texas of the past and picturing the Texas of the future may be possible. Its culture, its romance, its history, its achievements, its future are the important themes of the Centennial. They are the working basis of the celebration. Let no man deceive you. The celebration has not been and will not be commercialized. Any of the great Texas cities have the facilities or can provide them to stage the Centennial. It is nothing but right that the fortunate city should share in the expense of staging the Centennial. Of course, such city in the end, will not have expended a dollar. It will get its investment back—and that with compound interest."

Drought—

(Continued from First Page) Approximately 20% normal, will be exhausted in 10 to 20 days if conditions continue as at present.

2. Pasture conditions: Native grass (very dry with low feed value). No temporary pastures, (Sudan, taint hay, etc.)

3. Number of cattle and conditions: (a) Beef, approximately 6500 head—30% normal. In 10 days estimate only 30% normal. (b) Dairy, 45% normal. Small pastures, no grass; shortage of feeds and cows failing rapidly.

4. Crop conditions: (a) Feed, 15% normal. (b) Cotton 35% normal.

5. Number of families on relief in Haskell county approximately 350 families, increasing weekly.

6. Health conditions fair, but water shortage may change condition.

Two tank cars of water is being shipped to Weimert, Texas, daily for domestic use.

One stockman is hauling water for 1000 head of cattle a distance of 15 miles. Numbers of farmers are hauling water and the number increasing daily.

Therefore we, the Commissioners of Haskell county, Texas, at the above session of said court, respectfully request that Haskell county be placed on the emergency drought list.

Passed by the Commissioners of Haskell county, Texas, this 14th day of July A. D. 1934.

Many Seek Sheriff's Job
A regular free-for-all has truly been waged for the sheriff's office. Seven candidates, J. D. Kirkpatrick, Olen Dotson, Charles W. Bledsoe, B. M. Gregory, Russell Davenport, C. A. Lewellen and Giles Kemp, have been searching the highways and byways for elusive votes.

On account of a recent state ruling, which combined the offices of collector and assessor, two strong candidates will be pitted against each other for the office in the persons of Ed F. Fouts and Mike B. Watson, present collector and assessor respectively.

Minnie Ellis, present superintendent of public instruction, is being opposed for re-election by Mrs. Ed Robertson, Houston E. Stevens and Matt N. Graham.

HASKELL TEXAS

To The Voters Haskell Co.
Owing to the fact that this has been an unusually busy summer in the office of County Superintendent, I shall be unable to make a thorough canvass of the county before the Primary on July 28 in order to discuss with you my candidacy for re-election, as I would like to do. Schools were late in closing and more than the ordinary reports have been required.
I wish to take this means of soliciting your support for the office of County Superintendent, and offer my record of a fair and efficient administration as a basis for re-election. If elected I promise you continued efficiency and a fair deal to everyone—especially the children.
