13th Annual KC Watermelon Festival set for Saturday, July 28 at the City Park

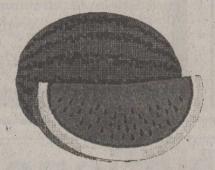

Despite sweltering temperatures, officials from the Knox City Chamber of Commerce are going full speed ahead with their plans for the 13th Annual Watermelon Festival scheduled for Saturday, July 28.

Held every year in the City Park here in Knox City, the one day event serves to spotlight the area watermelon industry.

Usually bringing hundreds of people into Knox City, this year's event should be no different as the Chamber of Commerce has lined up a host of activities and vendors to peak everyone's interest.

Beginning at 8:00 in the morning with registration for the car show, events throughout the day also include a golf tournament at the Knox City Country Club Golf Course, a sand volleyball tournament, live music, vendor booths, food booths, crafts, and free watermelon slices.

The Knox City Swimming Pool will also be celebrating the event with free swimming and games and contests that include relays, belly flop and cannonball competition under the name of 'Red Belly Day'! If you get hot during the day, just remember that both the free swimming and contests are pen to everyone, regardless of age. The 'Last Chance' band from Abilene will provide the musical

Greyhound band to report for practice on Wednesday, August 1; schedules are listed

Greyhound band director Mark Tucker has announced that this year's band season will get underway Wednesday, August 1, with juniors and seniors ONLY reporting from 1:00 to 2:00 p.m.

Freshmen and sophomores are to meet from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. and everyone is to report from

3:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., he said. Full band rehearsals will be

Thursday and Friday, August 2 and 3 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Mr. Tucker said that the band will begin working on their field show Thursday or Friday and it is very important for students to attend.

The week of August 6 through

10 will be full band from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. with the exception of Wednesday.

A real estate agent was showing a house to a young couple and their daughter when he turned to the little girl and asked her if she was anxious to get a new home. The little girl looked up at the man and politely said, "No sir, we already have a home, we just need a house to put it in."

Our community should be very much the same from the point of view that we are blessed with being able to live in our quiet little town and establish and maintain the sense of closeness with our neighbors that does not seem to be available in larger places. We also have the facilities necessary to promote the community activities that many of us find to be so important in our day to day lives. Stop now and think about what we have and what is needed to maintain the sense of "family" that Knox City provides. We have the buildings and houses that provide places for us to work, worship and reside, but is a building that houses a business of any true benefit to anyone without the dedication of its owners and workers to provide the services that each particular business specializes in? Is a building that provides for a place to worship of any benefit it there is no congregation to meet there in Christian fellowship with one another? Is a house really a home without the cooperation and love of each family member to keep the household functioning properly?

As citizens of Knox City, we should be in one accord from the point of view that we have the town to live in with the businesses and services that we required to live comfortably, but are we all working toward the same goal? I have been told all of my life that if you are maintaining the status quo then you are falling behind with each passing day. Advancement is required in the effort to just keep up with this every changing world. Improvement only comes from putting forth the extra effort required to get ahead of the everyday issues and actually have something to show for the effort.

This is the commitment that the staff of the City of Knox City is making to you each day. The employees are working hard to provide services to all of us and at least a little bit extra for us to move ahead. The dedication of each of these people has been amazing. Without fail they have demonstrated time after time they are willing to put out the extra effort with true pride in the task that they perform. My thanks to each of them personally each day and I ask that when you see Mark, Wesley, Jimmy, Harry, Lance, Kayla, Robert and Erik that you tell them how much you appreciate the jobs that they are doing on your behalf.

The work that has begun on the ditches and gutters is making some dramatic differences in the appearances of our residential streets and with the return of our residential streets and with the return of our street sweeper, we are beginning to see what Knox City has the potential to show to everyone that may come into this place that we call home.

With that I wish to also let you know that Gary Conn has been taken to Lubbock for what appears to be some serious illnesses. Gary has been working as a seasonal maintenance employee for the past few months and has been one of the primary reasons that you have had constant and consistent brush pickups during this time here. The information that I have at this time is limited and I do not wish to provide any inaccurate, so I will leave it that the thoughts and prayers of all of us here at the City go out to him and his family with the hope that he will recover to be with us once again.

O'Brien happenings

By Audie Johnston, O'Brien Correspondent

"Head Case - One weekend my friend, a nurse, was looking after her six-year-old nephew when he fell off a playground slide and hit his head. Worried he might have a concussion, she checked him all night. Every hour, she'd gently shake him and ask, "What's your name?"

Soon, he began moaning in protest each time she entered the room. When she went in at 5 a.m., she found something white on his head. Leaning close, she saw a crayon-scrawled message taped to his forehead. It read "My name is Daniel."

Here and There - Spending the weekend with Bro. Kyle and Leah Gulledge were Kyle, Samantha and Kayla of Mesquite. They attended church services in our church on Sunday and were blessed by being there.

Visiting Margie Sarabia and parents, Henry and Beatrice Guerrero over the weekend was Margie's brother, Sebastian Guerrero of San Angelo.

Visiting Ranzy Herring last week were Andy and Tami Hines, Pansy Hines and Julie and Stephanie Keeling, all of Lubbock; Kevin Urbanczyk of Goree, Marsha and Tamara McGaughey of Knox City, Gary Hewitt of Knox City, Claudia Reid and Sharon Mullino of Rochester.

Wayne and Kelly Hutchinson and sons will be vacationing in and around Galveston this week.

C.H. and Linda Underwood will be in Lubbock this week for C.H. to attend coaching school.

Weekend guests at Eddie and Claudia Bryant's home were their daughter Jennifer Hicks and husband Keith and daughters of Hawley and Jon and Lindsay of Lubbock, Winifred and Nina Arp of Levelland and Claudale and Jean Barnard of Knox City. They all celebrated Eddie's birthday.

Lila Sanchez and a sister left to go to New Mexico to be with their mother who is seriously ill.

J.M. and Susan Emerson were in Lubbock over the weekend to help their son Justin and wife move into a new home.

David Ellis of Childress visited with his mother, Beatrice Ellis, a while last week and helped with yard work and etc.

Show lamb and goat validation orders due Aug. 15

Every year, in an attempt to ensure fair play, all 4-H and FFA show animals must be validated. This validation is to help enforce ownership deadlines set by the Jr. Livestock shows.

In order to show a market lamb or goat at a major livestock show the lamb or goat must undergo a tag. three step validation in October. The three steps include taking a nose print, attaching an ear tag and pulling a blood sample for DNA testing. Knox County youth will validate their lambs and goats in October. Cost per lamb or goat will be $6.00 (this covers the cost of an ear tag, nose print ink and DNA testing).

One of the most difficult parts of the validation process is ordering enough ear tags. To assure that all animals will have an ear tag, and be eligible for the stock shows, an accurate number of tags must be ordered. Any youth that plans to show a market lamb or market goat should contact their Ag. Science Instructor or the Knox County Extension office with an animal count by Wednesday, August 15, 2001.

There are a few items to remember when placing your orders: 1) number of goats to be validated, 2) number of lambs to be validated, and 3) name(s) of youth that will be showing (this is to avoid duplications). Be sure to separate the number of goats from the number of lambs - ear tags are ordered separately. For those who show market swine, validation tags will be ordered later this year. As soon as you know how many pigs you plan to buy for show please notify your supervisor so that enough ear tags may be ordered. Please note how many will be barrows and how many will be gilts - each require a different ear

Anyone with questions or concerns should contact Jane Rowan in the Knox County Extension office in Benjamin at 940/4542651 or your local Ag. Science instructor. Educational programs of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age or national origin. Individuals with disabilities who require an auxiliary aid, service or accommodation in order to participate in a meeting or program are encouraged to contact the Knox County Ext. office at (940)454-2651.
