BEER PERMIT OF BLACK & WHITE CLUB MAY BE REVOKED HERE MAR. 8

Manager of Beer Garden Nabbed in Liquor Raid Saturday; Was Once Candidate for Office of County Judge

On a motion by County Judge Chas. M. Conner, a hearing will be held in county court here Friday, March 8 to determine whether the Black & White Club, a beer garden located near Stamford, shall be closed permanently as an aftermath to the raid staged last Saturday upon the place by Haskell county officers, who arrested Jessie Theodore Herring, owner, and George Proctor, manager, and former candidate for county judge, on spirituous liquor charges.

According to the attorneys for Herring, the closing of the Black & White Club Tuesday was done through the voluntary action of the owner, while Herring, himself, in a statement to the press, declared that he wished to cooperate with the interests of law and order in every way that he could.

"Through influences over which I had no control, conditions were caused which some people considered not good," Herring avers, "and I have closed the Black & White Club voluntarily, pending many changes which I contemplate making. It was closed through my own initiative.

"I intend to see that those persons who have been employed at the club shall not again be connected with it, and I intend to dispose of my interests as soon as possible," the owner added in a pistive manner.

An injunction was filed Wednesday by H. F. Grindstaff, district attorney, and B. C. Chapman, county attorney, in district court to have the Black & White Club closed permanently.

Dale Watson, Black & White Club employee, was arrested Saturday night, and charged with possession of liquor for purposes of sale.

The county will be represented by B. C. Chapman, county attorney, while Herring and Watson will be represented by Davis & Davis and F. M. Robertson. Proctor's counsel has not been announced.

The hearing on March 8 will mark the first instance in this county where any attempt to revoke a permit to sell beer has been made.

The surprise raid on the Black & White Club Saturday noon by B. C. Chapman, county attorney; Giles Kemp, sheriff; Mart Clifton and Dan Kirkpatrick, deputies; Al Cousins, Haskell chief of police; and Jimmie McCoy, Rule chief of police, netted 14 pints of bottled-in-bond and over 300 empties, it is alleged.

Judge Conner held an examining trial at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and Herring was charged with possession for purposes of sale, while Proctor faced two cases of "for sale" and one case of possession for purposes of sale. Bond was set at $1,000 in each case by the county judge, and all cases were bound over to await action of the Grand Jury in April.

Davis & Davis, local law firm, represented both Herring and Proctor at the examining trial.

Also corralled in the raid were two girl employees of the Black & White Club, but they were both released after the trial.

Polka dot taffeta adds a touch of spring to the practical jacket costume

Peasant Influence Accentuates Slimness with Full Lines

Spring fashions reflect the peasant influence, but not in a too accurate sense. Fullness is used effectively, below shoulder yokes back and front, with a suggestion of gathered flounce at the back of the skirt above the neckline. The resulting flattery is most satisfactory. Waistline, hips and shoulders look twice as slim by comparison.
Soft crepes, rough or smooth, can be dressy or not-so-dressy. It all depends on the degree of lingerie touches you crave. The simplest frock becomes quite a formal affair with a few dashes of lace and pleatings. You can add or subtract this confectionery according to your need—but even the most sedate spring frock needs a frivolous touch here and there. It's just the spirit of the season, and there isn't a thing you can do about it. Except enjoy it immensely.

Our British cousins would say that anything smart is "swish." Well, you have to "swish" to be smart in these United States this spring. Why? Taffeta, of course. Than which there is no whicher! There is such a wide choice, you simply can't escape at least one version. Plain, striped, plaid, checks, changeable, warp prints and so on and on. There are suits, jacket frocks, day time dresses. In fact, you might say, it's smart if it's taffeta!

Spring suits just about hold the center of the stage at the moment, but sooner or later you will realize that spring sunshine is hinting about summer. Then you will need a bit less weight and warmth. The jacket costume is the answer. You preserve your suit silhouette smartly, and can discard your jacket with perfect ease, when Old Sol, gets really in earnest. For instance, a checked, striped or gayly printed top frock with dark skirt and matching jacket completes a very satisfactory costume. Minus the jacket, you are still very sure of your chic.

Methodist Missionary Society.

On Monday February 25th, twenty-four women of the W. M. S. met in the home of Mrs. R. C. Montgomery. With Mrs. Ethel Irby at the piano, the call to worship was made by all singing "Jesus Calls Us," after which Mrs. Fields offered a prayer. The hostess was also director for the afternoon, and presented a most excellent program. The subject being "Stewardship," the director read Malachi 3rd chapter, 10th verse, for her scripture lesson. Extracts from "Man's Obligation to His Maker" by Major McClung, were read and interesting comments made. The director has long been an advocate of "Tithing." Not only has she preached it, but has also practiced it. Knowing this made her program more effective. Prayer by Mrs. Sowell, followed the reading of the scripture lesson. A song, "Pay the Tithes" to the tune of "Send the Light" was sung. Mrs. Breedlove next gave a most interesting article on "What Jesus Saw in a Penny." Mrs. Hill Oates rendered a beautiful solo, choosing "Was That Somebody You" as her song. Mrs. C. L. Lewis next told of some noted "Tithers," among them being William Colgate, founder of the great business which bears his name. Miss Ellen Cannon favored the Society by the giving of two readings, the first being "A Church Member Version of the song, 'I'll Do What You Want Me To Do, Dear Lord'" the other "The Stewards Psalm". All joined in singing "When Methodists All Learn How to Tithes" sung to the tune of "Since Jesus Came Into My Heart." Prayer of dismissal by Mrs. Kimbrough. The hostess invited all to remain for a social hour. Assisted by Mesdames Irby and Oate, and Miss Cannon, a delicious refreshment plate of sandwiches, fruit cake and hot chocolate topped with whipped cream was served. We were delighted to welcome Mrs. Bartram as a new member, also pleased to have Mrs. Chapman of the Presbyterian church, as a visitor.

Mrs. Montgomery is a delightful hostess and the Missionary Society deems it a great treat to be invited to her home. On next Monday the Bible lesson, with Mrs. Fields as director, will begin and we meet in the home of Mrs. O. E. Patterson. Mrs. Fields urges a good attendance. So all come and be on time—3 P. M.

TEXAS WEEK

This week, beginning Sunday, Feb. 24, is Texas Week, as Texas declared her independence on March 2, 1836, and March 2 comes during this week.

There are many reasons why Texans should be proud of their past history and their forefathers who fought in the Texas War for Independence—and they should be glad to have the opportunity of remembering them with fitting celebrations. Texas has the most glorious early history of any state in the Union. For instance, Texas has been under six flags, those of France, Spain, Mexico, Republic of Texas, United States, and the Confederacy. Also, "Thermopylae had her messenger of defeat, but the Alamo had none." Texas has been a nation of its own, with a government similar to that of the United States.

When the Centennial year comes, all native Texans should help to make this the greatest of Texas celebrations, and one that will attract people of other states to Texas; for it is a strange fact that people of other states know little about Texas history, even though we have the greatest history of any state! Will you help the leaders of this campaign to let other Americans know about Texas?

SENIOR SKETCHES

We take great pleasure in introducing to you "The Life of our Senior Class," Crockett English. Crockett was born in 1917 and has been reared in Haskell, where he has received all his education. During his four years in high school, he has played football three years, and has twice served as class president. He is an excellent speaker and due to this fact he has declaimed several times for the Haskell schools; last year he was on the debate team and this year he is one of our best debaters. He is also connected with the Warwhoop staff and is our class reporter. Taking part in "Gangway" he added a very dramatic element to the play. Crockett wishes to become a lawyer and rank high in politics.

John E. Fouts, who professes himself to be a gentleman, was born January 31, 1916, in Haskell, Texas. He has been a resident of this city all his life and has secured his education in the Haskell Public Schools. As a result of his part in the senior play "Gangway" he has recently become known as "Percy." John E. played tennis for Haskell one year. He aspires to be an aviator, and contrary to the hopes of many girls, he also wishes to live to the age of thirty and to not marry.

Ava Grindstaff was born in Haskell, 1917. She has gained all her education from Haskell schools. She has been a Gypsy Rambler ever since she entered high school. Scholarastically, she ranks among the highest. She has recently been selected by students and faculty to represent H. H. S. in the program that the D. A. R. is sponsoring. She is a good speaker and is on her debate team this year.

BOARD MEMBERS AND TEACHERS ENJOY SOCIAL

On the evening of February 19th the members of the Haskell School Board and the teachers of the schools gathered at the high school in a social meeting. First they enjoyed a short program which was presented in the auditorium, and which was also attended by various parents. This program consisted of three numbers from the Rhythm Band of the North Ward school, directed by Miss Madalin Hunt, and three numbers from the Choral Club of the South Ward school, directed by Miss Velma Hamblinton. Then the board members and teachers were directed to the Home Economics laboratory where they were served by the freshman Home Economics class.

Following the meal, a short business session was held by the members of the board, after which the remainder of the program was presented. At this time the high school was represented by Woodrow Dishong, extemporaneous speaker, who spoke on "Electrifying American Homes" and by Crockett English, debater, who discussed phases of the debate question. These two are members of the public speaking class, which is taught by Mrs. Wimbush. As a special feature of the evening the group was favored with an address by Dean G. C. Boswell of McMurry College, who spoke on matters of mutual interest to teachers and trustees.

SENIOR GIRL ENTERS D. A. R. CONTEST

The Daughters of the American Revolution are sponsoring a trip to Washington, D. C., in April to one senior girl from each state. The qualifications of this girl must be: dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism; and of course it is understood that the candidates must make passing grades in all studies. Each high school in the state submits the name of one senior girl, who is chosen in the following way: Three girls are elected by the student body and one of these three is selected by the faculty members as representative. The final decision, or one girl's name from each state, will be drawn by lot. Ava Grindstaff was chosen as the representative of our high school, and we would be very glad if she should be lucky enough to win the trip.

OH, BY THE WAY—

One freshman girl frankly admitted that she thought people always sang "My Bonnet is Over the Ocean."

There is one girl up here who must think a lot of Haskell High School, because the other day she fell face down in the hall (in a manner most amusing) and then sat there talking to the floor.

Something must be done about this out-of-town dating—did you ever notice on Sundays how Haskell is suddenly filled with either Stamford girls or boys, or Rochester and Munday?

We have noticed several students at school lately scratching their heads and wondering if they are scratching for knowledge.

Miss Davis was heard once to say that she used to have a Model T Ford that was the "out shakings" car she had ever had.

John Guest seems to wander down by the Norton House nearly every afternoon to take a certain little girl riding on his bicycle.

We overheard a student say the other day (in a convincing tone) that he was in favor of longer lessons and shorter class periods. (Wonder if he is in his right mind?)

Have you ever tried to count the Barnetts, the Wisemans, the Roberts, and the Williamses in Haskell High School?

Be sure and "talk up" our Invitation Track Meet, because it really is to be a big event and means much to Haskell High School. Remember this event will help get our boys into better shape for bigger events.

JUNIOR DECLAIMERS HEARD IN PRACTICE

In regular assembly on Wednesday February 20, the Haskell High School junior boys and girls practiced declaiming for the Interscholastic League Contest. All showed remarkable talent considering short practice, and it seems that Haskell will be well represented in the approaching County Meet.

Mrs. Kaigler, who is coaching these students, informed us that for the past fifteen or sixteen years a Haskell senior girl has won first place in the county through her ability to declaim. We are proud of that record for Haskell High.

After hearing the declaimers, we all took part in about fifteen or twenty minutes of singing, with Anna Belle Stanton accompanying at the piano. We leave it to the teachers to decide if the boys or girls won in singing "Polly Wolly Doodle."

PERSONALS

Misses Ina Ruth Greer and Evelyn Reed of Rochester were visitors at our school Friday afternoon.

Joy Cobb is back in school after an illness of two or three weeks.

Misses Eloise Vick and Esther Rogers of Rule visited Miss Vick at school the first part of last week.

James Casle, a former student, visited friends at school Friday afternoon.

Misses Claudia Sue Moseley and Yvonne Jamison were visitors of Geraldine Norris during the week-end.

Misses Alberta Orr and Loree O'Neal spent Sunday in Rochester. Miss Lorene Wright has been absent from school for over a week on account of illness.

We are sorry that Maydell Barnett our editor-in-chief, and Crockett English, assistant editor, are absent at this writing.

FUTURE FARMER NEWS

Some of the officers of the Future Farmer Chapter went to Abilene to a district meeting February 15th.

Those who went were Lewis Hamblinton, Jack Kimbrough, Fred Gilliam, Fred Sanders, Woodrow Roberts and Mr. H. T. Sullivan.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS MAKE TOUR

Six charming girls (so they were told) of the Haskell High School made a tour of Haskell county, Saturday. Their aim was to go to the basket ball tournament at O'Brien to help our girls win (which they would have done, had the rooters appeared on the scene in time), but because of being delayed they met Haskell coming home in defeat, on the road between O'Brien and Rochester. Although the game was lost and the day was ruined for the basket ball girls, it was not to be so with this adventurous lot. After finding out the score and the time of the next game, they continued on their way to Knox City. This city was not very large but every detail was discovered. They dined at the Teague Cafe where service was surely demanded. Later they saw the show "Kiss and Make Up." Again they continued on their way, but this time toward home. However, the idea of adventure was not finished. Rochester soon came into view and maybe the rest of their adventure lay in this city. So to Rochester the young ladies went. Here they visited Miss Marjorie Sue Kay, Miss Annie Sue Reeves and Mrs. Charles Kay. After an hour the "gang" traveled on to Rule where they visited soda fountains and candy shops. Oh! how the money flew! When they reached Haskell, all agreed that "Home Sweet Home" is the best and has more good looking boys than any other town in the county. Don't you hope that they can go again and come back with the same report? They do.

CLASS ROOM CLASSICS FROM THE KAIGLER STUDIO

1. "Mend your speech a little, lest it mar your fortunes."—Shakespeare.

2. "Knowledge is essential to conquest; only according to our ignorance, are we helpless. Thought creates character; character can dominate conditions, and will create circumstances, and environment."—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

3. "He who would do some outstanding thing in this short life must apply himself to work with such a concentration of his forces as to idle spectators, who live only to amuse themselves, looks like insanity."—Parkham.

Well, the twelve of us in high school who have entered the declamation contest are trying to mend our speech a little, and when we have to listen to that many speeches over and over again every day, it might sound to some as though we were a little insane. Our selections this year are largely indictments against war, and we have accused our director of putting on an anti-war crusade as well as coaching the declaimers. Just a few years ago it was hard to get good material that was not an incentive to go to the battlefield or to war for one's country. But the writers and teachers seem to have developed a new state of mind and are boldly advocating the anti-war spirit. At last week's chapel program, Mrs. Kaigler presented the following high school juniors who read their declamations that they will use in the elimination contest the first week in March: Girls division: Mary Lena Tubbs, Beverly Gilbert and Mary Lou Smith; boys' division: Larry Ballard, John Guest and Claud Warren.

Let's Talk About Clothes

DENTON, Texas.—This week marks the end of "old man winter's" reign over 1934-35, and with the appearance of the first month of spring, definite plans are being made by the younger set in every city for the all important "spring wardrobe."

New ideas for informal mornings and afternoons present the chief topic for discussion, and clothes potentates at Texas State College for Women (CIA), are eager to suggest knitted things. One of the first essentials is to learn to knit, because gay little sweaters, jackets and suits will make delightful additions to your morning wardrobe.

A simple sweater that is certainly easy to wear would make an ideal costume if knitted in white with just a touch of black trimming. A white skirt, white hat with black trim, white gloves, and black shoes and bag, complete your ensemble for a morning bridge.

Then there are the sweater blouses made with short sleeves that are youthful and gay in appearance. Make them with a round or square neck and use a combination of frivolous colors. The waistcoat and shirtwaist sweaters in dull shades give a slim, tailored air and are exceedingly popular along the boulevard.

Try knitting a hat to match your sweater. A tricorne beret is always smart and makes for a jaunty appearance when supplemented by a fringed ascot scarf of brilliant hues.

SOCIETY

Harmony Club

On Thursday February 21st the Harmony Club was hostess to Mrs. Harley F. Goble and Mrs. J. O. Dotson of Wichita Falls in a lovely buffet luncheon at the Magazine Club rooms. The room was decorated to carry out the "George Washington" theme. Flags made a beautiful setting for the tables which were spread with beautiful white linen luncheon cloths and silver. Table decorations were miniature cut glass baskets filled with scarlet sweet peas. Plate favors were cherry sandwiches, fruit salad, potato chips, olives, pickles, pie and coffee.

Mrs. Goble in her gracious manner gave us a number of vocal solos: "Spirit Flower" by Campbell Tipton; "My Message" by D'Hardelot; and "The Crying of Water" by Campbell Tipton. Mrs. Goble then gave us a very inspiring talk on "Music Federation." We as club members feel we were greatly benefited by her talk and feel that each of us have our small part in this work.

Mrs. Dotson gave us two piano numbers, "Lotus Land" by Cyrel Scott, and "Turkey in the Straw" by David Guion.

Miss Mary Ellen Cannon gave two readings which were enjoyed by all. Mrs. Goble then sang "The Sleigh" by R. Komitz, and "May Magic" by Anne Stratton.

Guests were Mrs. Harley F. Goble and Mrs. J. O. Dotson; members: Mesdames Arbuckle, Cahill, Ellis, Felker, Harrison, Herren, Hamblinton, Hawkins, Huckabee, Mullins, Morrison, Powers, Post, Scott, Shriver, Thornton, Whitaker, Whately, Pace, Dobbins, Patterson, Lewis, Carter, Squyres, Warren, Tucker, Kinnard, Cannon, Turner, Chapman, Oates, Wheeler.

Increase Shown In Auto Registration Over Entire State

AUSTIN. — An increase of 148 per cent was recorded in new passenger car registrations in Texas during January, 1934, as compared with January, 1933, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Reports from fifteen representative Texas counties gave a total of 4,497 registrations, an increase of 119 per cent over December. Sales in the lower price brackets made the best comparative showing, but the increase in the highest price groups was also substantial, the Bureau's report said.

186 New Charters Granted In Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. — Substantial gains over January, 1934, were recorded both in capitalization and in number of new corporations granted charters during January, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Figures from the office of Secretary of State show a total capitalization of $3,028,000, a gain of 17.3 per cent over January last year although 30 per cent less than that of the previous month, the Bureau's report said. The number of charters granted totaled 186, a gain of 27 per cent over that of January last year and 52.4 per cent above that of the previous month. The principal gains were in the oil, manufacturing, and merchandising groups.

Grocer Didn't Want Money "Blessed"

CLEBURNE, Texas. — A gypsy who wanted to "bless" some money at a local store was required to pay the county treasury a sizeable sum because she had the idea. She went into the store and started taking money from the cash register with the statement that she was going to "bless" it. The proprietor didn't think it needed blessing, so he called the cops.

Shrubs Kept Alive During Drought by Extension Workers

COLLEGE STATION. — Texas women and girls, engaged in yard improvement work under Extension guidance in 1934, carried through the drought alive 169,918 new shrubs in screen, border and foundation plantings placed according to landscaping plans. They also carried 25,666 trees through the "dry spell" and as part of improving the premises had 6,230 sanitary toilets built. To carry on their landscaping they made 7,072 cutting beds in which 100,219 cuttings were living at the time the report was made. In addition to all this 6,881 old lawns were improved and 2,522 new lawns were sowed. The reported cost of the women's yard work was $7,993.50. No estimate on what the girls spent was available. The estimated added value to the improved farmsteads because of this landscaping was, according to Miss Onah Jacks, Extension landscape specialist, at least $190,542.14 on the basis of the score card used in Extension yard improvement work.

BRAKES ON HORN-TOOTER

Several months ago English authorities made the experiment of outlawing the use of automobile horns in the night time. The stunt has worked so well that they are now considering the advisability of prohibiting the use of such horns altogether, 24 hours a day.

The original idea was to permit tired citizens to get some sleep, undisturbed by the racket of ill-advised horn-tooters. Now the authorities believe that the disuse of horns promotes more careful driving, on the theory that the man who knows he can't toot at all will use his brakes a whole lot sooner than he would otherwise.

The idea has possibilities, and it is well worth a trial. It wouldn't be a bad stunt to get reckless motorists to rely on their brakes rather than on their horns, to keep from hitting people.

And what would such a law do to the half-wit who leans on his horn-button as soon as a driver two blocks ahead stalls his engine—well, it's just too lovely for words.

DECLINE IN COFFEE

If you happen to be an average American coffee drinker you drank less coffee last year than in the year before—some 16 cups less, to be exact. This is on the words of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, which has just finished a survey showing that the consumption of coffee in the United States fell off during 1934—which, by the way, was the first full year of repeal.

Now there are two possible explanations of this fact, neither of them, to our notion, worth a great deal.

You might say that a lot of people who used to drink coffee are now drinking alcoholic beverages, and that that is why coffee consumption has dropped. Or—remembering the desperate way in which a man gropes for lots of black coffee on the morning after a thorough bender—you could argue that the decline in coffee consumption last year reflects a similar decline in the drinking of hard liquor.

As we say, we don't think much of either explanation.

ADVERTISING HASKELL

There are citizens of Haskell who dismiss all talk of town boosting as a form of bunk. They profess to believe that nobody means anything when praising his own home town and insist that its growth will come along as a matter of course.

In this attitude they are mistaken. This is a day of advertising what you have to offer. The biggest factor in business is correct advertising. If you don't think that it will help a community you ought to see what California and Florida and way stations have accomplished through publicity.

This does not mean, however, that every community must go after tourists, or even after industries. There are other ways to make a city great. Mere size is not the criterion of progress. To build up an excellent community spirit, to attract to a town decent citizens and to spread among the inhabitants of Haskell a friendlier feeling is worth while, even if no great material growth follows.

ABOUT "BABY BONDS"

It won't be long now before the citizens of Haskell county will have the opportunity to buy the much-publicized "baby bonds," which the Federal government plans to put on sale around the first of March.

The President, it is said, will buy No. 1 and it is hoped that the people will take kindly to the offering. The bonds will be sold on a discount basis and a bond that will mature at $25 on a certain date will be sold for less than the sum, the difference being the interest it will earn during its lifetime.

The idea seems to be largely psychological. That people will be able to invest huge sums seems improbable but that every buyer of a "baby bond" will take more interest in the affairs of government. Moreover, holders of these securities are not apt to be advocates of wild spending on the part of the government.

This is the time of the year that citizens all over the land are attacked by what is called spring-gardening fever.

Patriots, ever ready to follow the example of George Washington, forget some of the things that the Father of the Country did.

Sandstorms. What a "dary" that one was Sunday! Reminded us of the "old timers" which caused you to appear as if you had prepared for a minstrel show after being out in one.

Speaking of sandstorms, we sincerely believe that stories told of such phenomena outrank anything we have ever heard about fishing or golfing. Many good sandstorm stories were resuscitated Sunday by "old timers."

You Title This!

"Dearie, have you been keeping up with this Phil Calmly murder trial?" inquired a Haskell woman of a friend recently.

"Have I what?" queried the said friend, and then gasped as she looked at the daily paper and read a headline as follows: "Phil Calmly Tells Story to Judge."

Wonder how flattered Phil Kenamer, of Tulsa, Okla. way, would feel if he knew that one?

Since the depression struck, we haven't often heard the expression "A Good Name Is Rather to Be Chosen Than Great Riches."

Our experiences lead us to believe that we'll soon know something about arithmetic if prices on certain necessities keep advancing upward and upward and upward.

Will Rogers (you know whom we mean) is given a lion's share of the credit for keeping us out of the World Court. We hope Will "kidd" us out of the depression—or shall we say the "late" depression? Anyway, WE'RE still in it, whatever it's called.

Well, these marble machines are about like all other games of chance. You always hear about the big winners and very little about the hundreds of losers.

An "explosion" was the cause of the fire which razed the Joyland beer garden recently we hear.

According to the Oklahoman a fence is being built around the town of Wink to keep cattle out of the city limits.

BRIEFLY—One young man of Haskell, a worker at the local relief office by the way, has found a new use for the seat of his pants—he left them on deposit at a local drug store in lieu of cash for the drinks. . . . Grady Roberts, of Chillicothe, declares the story true concerning a Chillicothe fisherman who has fished in Lake Pauline for six years without catching a fish. Ripley made mention of the fact recently. . . . Buck Kendrick and Jim Darden should settle the argument as to whose picture that is adorning the door of Judge Conner's office. . . . Dan Kirkpatrick, sheriff's deputy, declares the solidarity of lawyers, even the young ones, on the subject of "don't talk" is surprising. Yeah, Dan said that. . . . You can almost set your watch regularly every morning, except Sunday, by the customary habits of O. E. Patterson, J. U. Fields and John W. Pace. They visit the Coffee Shoppe every morning for coffee and market reports. . . . We sometimes wonder if Claiborne Payne has a propensity for straw hats from the number we have seen in the rear of the drug store. . . . Joe Ambros Brooks, of the local relief office, has a predilection for things which are to be "taken." He'll take your pencil, a cigar, cigar, "coke" or just any old thing. Joe owns several recalcitrant ducks. You wanna buy one? . . . Ben Charlie Chapman, county attorney, was in on the raid on the Black and White Club Saturday and had a "hogleg" swinging on his hip. . . . Also caught in that raid on the Black & White Club Saturday, was a titian-haired torch-singer, who was brought here for questioning. And was she MAD because she was kept parked in the courthouse for about five hours? Her sententious replies were full of meaning when someone asked her to have her picture taken. . . . Ben Charlie Chapman calls Poster Davis "Speedy." . . . Oscar Oates has been very ill. We've missed not seeing him at the drug store. . . . Ed F. Pouts, Haskell's newest insurance agent, says that when you "Pone for Pouts, Pouts Feels Fine." . . . Among the interesting people we like to talk with are Judge Clyde Grissom, John P. Payne, T. C. Cahill, Emory Menefee, Alfred Pierson, John (Dictionary) Rike, Judge L. D. Ratliff, A. M. Turner and the Rev. Chas. A. Tucker. There are many others. They are versatile in their conversation. . . . And among the charming women we like to converse with, to or at, are—oh, pardon me, here comes our wife! We'll be seeing you.

-CURRENT COMMENT-

"SOMETHING WRONG"

Nearly a year ago, when the Macon almost crashed in Texas, the Navy Department discovered that there was "something wrong" with the dirigible.

There were rumors of "something wrong" while the Macon was being built—rumors that she had to be bolstered up here, propped up there until she was 2 per cent overweight.

There were similar rumors while the Akron was being built.

And there certainly was evidence that "something was wrong" when the Shenandoah took her fatal plunge.

Just why it has taken the Navy Department so long to realize that there may be "something wrong" about dirigibles is difficult to understand.

The Record, together with a great part of the public knew that six years ago.

England discovered it five years ago, Italy came to the conclusion seven years ago, France nearly 10 years ago.

The confusion in the Navy Department is due to the fact that the "something wrong" applies not only to the Macon—but to dirigibles in general.

Impractical, unwieldy, undependable, inefficient, the "something wrong" with the dirigible is inherent in that type of aircraft. And to argue that the Graf Zeppelin is still aloft is simply to point out a lone exception which proves the rule.

The American people may well thank President Roosevelt for putting thumbs down on the building of any more "coffins of the air."—Philadelphia Record.

FOODS TASTE BETTER

When Cooked Electrically

Electric Cookery brings out the flavor in foods. Only a small amount of water needs to be used to cook vegetables, as they are practically cooked in their own delicious juices. Meats shrink very little cooked electrically, as there is no excessive dry heat to rob them of juices and flavors.

The results are foods taste better and retain the vitamins because the flavors and health properties are not destroyed by excessive cooking or drowned in excessive water to be poured down the sink. Of course you can look for better health from this modern electric cookery. Before you buy your next range . . . investigate the electric way of cooking.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

...Peas
...Peas make excellent table peas. The white Crowder has a delightful flavor and grows very well. The cream or lady pea is a fine little pea to plant for table use. It is very sweet and quite delicious when used green.

There seem to be a number of blackeye peas. The ones which have large eyes, that are really black, are much better than the little old gim-let eyed kind. Those with brown eyes are not much good either. It takes forever to cook the ones with the tiny eyes and they never do taste as well as the large-eyed peas
commonly called blackeyes.

The recent severe weather ruined nearly all the winter greens. Some of these will be able to put out from the roots, but most of them are gone for good. When the Swiss chard dies from cold there is not much use hoping for anything else to come through. Many people are not familiar with the good points
of this delightful vegetable and it deserves a place in every garden for several reasons. It stands hot, dry weather better than any of the other leafy vegetables. Even when it can't put on fresh leaves it will stand there and wait for a rain and not die out. I had some go through last summer and I believe in any plant which can come back after that drought. Use Swiss chard like turnip or mustard greens or prepare as you would spinach. Be sure to cook the big brittle midribs either with the greens or prepare separately as you would fresh asparagus.
Use the outside leaves and leave the bud to grow and the plant will likely live several years.

One of the best turnips I ever planted was called Shogoin. It can stand lots of punishment like dry weather and cold and, most surprising of all, the insects leave it alone.
Lice got all the other turnips near
it last fall, but left Shogoin alone for some reason. The leaves are very tender and have no sign of bitter flavor.

Varieties of Lettuce

It is a good idea to get lettuce
planted early as it stands cold well enough. I have always had the best luck with Big Boston. If it gets a good start early it will make nice hard heads. However, many prefer the New York Mammoth which market gardeners grow through the South and Southwest. The leaves are thick, firm and crisp, and the heads are large. It is a good shipper. Iceberg is a large, crisp lettuce and stands hot weather better than many others. It is usually sown in August and makes well in the fall.

As a rule mustard will not stand as early planting as other greens. If you want a new variety that will stand cold try Tendergreen. It is also called Japanese mustard-spin-ach and comes from the Orient. It grows very rapidly and may be gathered twenty-one days after planting.
I planted in the fall and it stood several light freezes without being hurt, but when the temperature went down to 4 degrees the last of January the whole patch was laid
low. I shall plant again this week.

Radishes should also be planted
early as they like cool weather.
Iceberg is a long, white variety that is a general favorite. It is earlier than any of the other white radishes
and is very tender, almost transparent. The little round red radish, which has a white tip, is a quick grower and one of the prettiest to go on the table.

I have never been able to do much trying to make early vegetables out of the kind that do not like rather cool nights. Snap beans, squash and all kinds of melons like warm weather. Once I was in a terrible hurry for snap beans and so planted them when I did my other things. They came up all right and looked around to see how they liked their place in the garden and were evidently displeased, for they just stood there. There was not enough cold to kill them, but they refused to grow. Some of them bugged the ground so closely they got all out of shape. By the time spring really opened they seemed too tired of merely living to get up and grow. The ones I planted three weeks later out of the very same package got off to a good start and made a good crop. Right there I learned not to try to make beans grow out of season. They like hot days and fairly warm nights and there is no use in putting the seed
in the ground until spring is here
to stay.

Tomatoes

Tomatoes demand warm weather
for growth, but it is practical to start the seed in a hot bed or indoors where they can have plenty of sunlight and then set the plants

in the open when all danger of frost is over. Different varieties are suited to different localities and so it is better to consult an experienced gardener before purchasing tomato seed. The Stone tomato is a general favorite and does well in nearly all gardens. Acme is another good tomato.

Onions are about the most encouraging vegetable I ever grew.
They are not particular about the soil and are willing to grow in all kinds of weather. Even if the tops freeze completely the roots will come out unless the ground was frozen too far down. Many gardeners prefer to buy Bermuda onion slips rather than use sets. These usually are cheaper. These onions will not endure freezes and come out again unless they have been set rather deep and had a chance to get established before the freeze.

Gardening is a great adventure if you want to make it one. Of course you will want to plant all the old favorites which the family likes to eat, but there are always new things to try. I never would have known the delightful flavor of Swiss chard had I not tried it out to see what it was like. Now it is my favorite green because it can stand all kinds of weather and has such a grand flavor and cooks so very quickly.
By will means try at least three new vegetables every year. The seed cost very little and you might make a great discovery.

Babson Predicts Trade Revival

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Affirming that the United States is gradually working toward normal business, Roger W. Babson, president of the Babson Statistical Organization, Wellesley, Mass., speaking before the Chamber of Commerce here today, enumerated 12 indices which showed that recovery was on the way and that the chief difficulty today was the ill feeling between Republicans and Democrats and between employers and wage workers.

Data presented by Mr. Babson revealed that bad situations are constantly being cleared up; more money is available for expansion than ever before; inventories have been steadily declining the past year; department stores sales in the last quarter of 1934 have increased more rapidly than dollar volume; five times as many big companies declared back dividends in January
than the year before; power consumption is ahead of last year; failures are at a very low level; collections are distinctly improving;
strikes are falling off; farmers have $6,000,000,000 of income in 1934, against $5,000,000,000 in 1933; employment and pay rolls have risen sharply in the last two months and steel and automotive activity are much higher in the last two months.

Mr. Babson made a plea for jobs for young people, which he said was far more important than providing pensions for the aged.

Talking Terrier Is Protected From Too Many Visitors

TACOMA, Wash.—Fan mail and visitors are becoming a problem in the life of Boots, Tacoma's famous talking dog.

Boots' week-end visitors have become so numerous that its owners,
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Young, have been forced to curtail sightseers to save the canine's health.

Professor Frederick Bolton of the University of Washington was impressed by the talkative Boston terrier and declared the dog had "a remarkable degree of intelligence."

Boots' linguistic accomplishments include such phrases as "My! My!"
"I want out" "I want my mop" (his favorite plaything), and "I want my mamma."

If sent by a ship it's a cargo, if sent by car it's a shipment.

How One Man Lost 22 Pounds

Mr. Herman Runkis of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—My first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all of the aches and swellings out of my joints
—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now
feel like a new man."

To lose fat safely and quickly
take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—a quarter pound jar lasts 4 weeks. Get it at any drug store in America.

If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

Perfect Accord

"I don't like to say anything that might embarrass the summer boarders," said an old farmer to his new hired man. "If I frown at you when we are at the table, that means for you to quit eating."

"All right," replied the hired man.
"I don't like to say much myself.
If I frown back at you that means
I ain't goin' to stop."

No Wonder

Judge—Why did you pick a fight with this inoffensive man? He's a perfect stranger to you.

Culprit—Excuse it judge. All me
friends was away on their vacations.

The "liquid test"

... it ENDS bowel worries for many people

This is a test that tells you whether the system needs a cathartic change.
If you have constant sluggish spells or bilious attacks, and laxatives seem to make things worse, it would be wise to try this:

Stop all use of any laxative that does not encourage variation from a "fixed dose" (which may be entirely too large a dose for your individual need). Use instead, a liquid laxative that you can measure and regulate as to dose. As necessary to repeat,
take smaller doses, less and less often,
until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

Doctors use liquid laxatives, and
a properly prepared liquid laxative,
containing natural laxative agents
like senna and cascara is a joy and a comfort; a real help in establishing regularity. Ask your doctor about this! (Doctors use liquid laxatives.)
You can get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup
Pepsin, which is a most dependable liquid laxative, at any drug store.

Death Rampant on Texas Highways

HOUSTON, Texas.—Death ran rampant on Texas highways during 1934 according to statistics on motor truck accidents for that period, made public here following a survey conducted by the Railway and Express Association of Texas.

A record compiled from the survey shows that during 1934 a total of 316 persons lost their lives in accidents on Texas highways in which motor trucks were involved. This was an increase over 1933 by 153 deaths resulting from the same cause. A comparison of the figures shows 1701 accidents recorded in 1934 as against 1487 in 1933, or an increase of 214, with 2314 persons injured as against 1972 the previous year, an increase of 342.

These figures were compiled from accounts of truck accidents appearing in Texas newspapers during the year and are supported by clippings which have been filed in the association's offices. The survey reveals that faulty brakes and exhaustion of the driver as the result of long hours at the wheel are still principal causes of these accidents.

RECIPES AND MENUS

(C.S.A.)

DENTON, Texas.—The use of fruit in the diet is no longer looked upon as a luxury but as a necessity. At least two fruits should be eaten daily. Fresh fruit is to be preferred but when it can not be secured dried fruit may be used to a good advantage.

The use of dried fruit has many advantages. They are within the reach of everyone the year round. It is especially during the late winter and early spring when fresh fruits are scarce that dried fruit holds an important place in the diet. They are inexpensive and for this reason can be used by everyone. They are important in the diet because of the valuable mineral salts and organic acids present. They are a good addition to the diets of both children and adults. They may be combined with many other foods. Cereals are especially good when combined with raisins, dates, and apricots. The juice left over from dried fruit may be used in puddings, sauces, gelatin desserts, sherberts, ices, cold beverages, or fruit salads.

Many people make mistakes in cooking dried fruits. In order to have a perfect finished product they should be properly cooked. They should be washed thoroughly and then covered with cold water and allowed to soak for several hours. The fruit should be cooked in the same water in which it is soaked and kept at the simmering point until it is done. If sugar is to be added, it should be added when the fruit is nearly done.

Menus

The following menus show dried fruit which may be used in the diet:

Breakfast: Orange, Cream of Wheat, Cream, Sugar, Bacon, Toast, Milk.

Lunch: Cream of Tomato Soup, Crackers, Lettuce Salad, Dressing, Whole Wheat Bread, Butter, Apricot Whip with Whipped Cream, Wafers, Hot Tea.

REHABILITATING MANY TEXAS FARMS

125,000 Acres Now Under Lease for Sustenance Plots In Texas

AUSTIN, Texas.—Rural rehabilitation, having taken a firm foothold in Texas with the leasing of approximately 125,000 acres for sustenance plots, during 1935 will mean expert supervision of agricultural and home activity on rehabilitation farms in an effort to insure success of the program. It was announced last week by J. E. Stanford, director of individual rehabilitation in the rural department of the Texas Relief Commission.

"These people in the past have had capital, labor and land, and have failed," Stanford said, "so we are going to add a fourth ingredient, farm management, and we expect to make our operations come out on the plus side financially."

All counties having 75 or more rehabilitation families, a farm manager will be employed to supervise agricultural operations of these families. Rural home supervisors, of whom there already are 60 employed in Texas, will supervise home activities by giving instructions in the preservation of foods, cooking, sewing and other household duties.

"We intend to budget our farmers' time or labor, and his land," said Stanford. "We will offer him the advice of a trained agriculturist on when, where, and how to plant, quantities of food needed for subsistence purposes for his family, in short, how to take full advantage of his farmstead."

Stanford also announced a plan whereby those farmers who operate successfully this year may look forward to ultimately owning their places.

"The leased farms that we now have will be used as a 'proving ground' and to all families that stand the test' farms will be sold on a long-time basis at a low rate of interest."

Texas Rural Communities holding corporation for the rural department, will very carefully select and purchase these farms on a rental-purchase plan.

Recipes

Apricot Whip: Soak 1 pound of dried apricots until they are plump. Cook slowly for twenty minutes. Remove from the fire and press through a sieve. Sweeten to taste. Just before serving, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Serves six.

Sliced Ham Baked in Raisin Sauce: 2 slices of ham (1 1/2 to 2 1/4 inch thick), 1 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon mustard, 2 1/2 cup raisins, 1 tablespoon butter.

Place the slices of ham in a baking dish or pan and cover with 1 1/2 cup water. Dot with bits of butter and bake about twenty minutes, basting frequently. If the water cooks away, add more. Pour over it a sauce made of the remaining 1 1/2 cup water, brown sugar, mustard, and raisins. Cook until tender and brown.

Speaks After Six Years

DALLAS, Texas.—Speechless for six years, Joe Henry, 41, blew the last notes of his harmonica, turned to his friends and asked: "How'm I doing?" His friends gasped and Henry gasped. It was the first time he had uttered a word in six years. His voice continued to function perfectly.

What Enjoyment

"Now, children," said the teacher who was trying to boost the sale of the class photographs, "just think how you'd enjoy looking at this photograph when you grow up. As you look, you'll say to yourself, 'There's Jeannie, she's a nurse; there's Tom, he's a judge; and—'"

And there's teacher, she's dead!" came a voice from the back of the class.—Tit-Bits.

1935 Dodge Car Makes Appearance At Local Showroom

Dodge is featuring the airglide ride this year, achieved through use of the levitator which does away with the tendency of the car to sway or roll. R. L. Burton of the Reeves-Burton Motor Co., local distributor, said Saturday.

"Aside from redesigned bodies," the dealer said, "Dodge improvements include the high-compression Red Ram engine, a synchromatic front suspension, ventilated clutch, synchro-shift transmission, improved engine and chassis features.

"Interiors afford more leg and head room with a clear-vision ventilation system. No filler apron bridges the body and running boards, making possible lowering of floors four inches, without sacrificing door clearance.

Airglide Provided

"The synchromatic front wheel action incorporates a rigid front axle, specially soft, thin-leaf springs, double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers and a rubber cushioned synchro-shift mechanism or ride levitator. The power plant is moved eight inches farther forward and the rear seats six inches, so that passengers are cradled between axles. The levitator transfers the shock of one side partially to the other to give the airglide ride.

"The flat-leaf springs, front and rear, are of equal resiliency. "The steering mechanism moves the Pitman arm crosswise instead of lengthwise for easier steering.

"The floating power engine mounting, are simplified and rearranged more completely to absorb vibration.

"The eighty-seven-horsepower motor has 3 1/4 x 4 1/2-inch cylinders with a standard 6.5 compression head, with combustion space arranged for greatest mixing of gasoline and air."

YOUR HEALTH

By John W. Brown, M. D.
State Health Officer

AUSTIN, Texas.—"The general increase in diabetes throughout the United States during the past few years is eloquently reflected in the Texas figures. In 1929 only 367 persons were recorded as having died of this malady, while last year about 700 succumbed. Even making allowances for undiagnosed cases in earlier days, the increasing deadly power of this malady thus becomes apparent. And while perhaps it is the least publicized of the major killers, it nevertheless, deserves an appreciation of some of the predisposing causes as well as of the methods to combat them," states Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

It can be said that, whatever the exciting cause of its development may be, diabetes is definitely associated with the soft living of the general among the so-called collar workers. And it is less likely to flourish among the laboring classes.

"Thus it is noted that professional men and women, educators, lawyers, business executives, accountants, food and drink, laboratory scientists and bench people in general, short, the sedentary workers more likely to become victims of this disease than are those who labor manually. And to this list should be added the housewife in the section have in numerous instances proved to be doubtful blessings.

"Therefore, it is plain that a maximum of physical exercise is not only profitable to the face and gear themselves to a normal living regimen. The individual involved in this suggestion should under the doctor's direction, avoid overweight; eat proper foods in proper amounts shunning excess sugar and sweets; have a physical examination at least once a year; and regularly exercise the large muscles of the body either in work or in play."

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—More than sixty-nine blood transfusions, Mrs. Solomon G. Loh after almost a year's illness, was stricken while on her moon last spring.
