Confesses Slaying

Pictured here is Arthur C. Wilson at Ysleta, Texas, where he stepped from a train in custody of Sheriff Albert A. Anderson of El Paso county, and to go by auto to El Paso to stand trial for the "desert murder" of Mrs. Irene DeBolt, found nude and strangled in the cactus near Van Horn several months ago. Wilson has allegedly confessed to the slaying after a world-wide search resulted in his capture at Trinidad.

Last Inspection of Entries 'Yard Beautiful' Sept. 11

Many weary weeks of trying to keep lawns and yards beautiful by Haskell people will come to an end officially on Tuesday, Sept. 11, so the Haskell "Yard Beautiful" committee decided Wednesday morning in special session. Out-of-town judges will be secured to make the final decision and award the prizes to the various winners. A departure from the usual manner of making awards was decided upon by the committee last spring by placing homes in three distinct classes—home owners with more than seventy foot yards; home owners with less than seventy feet of yard; renters with yards exceeding seventy feet; and renters having less than that amount, making six cash prizes in all. The awards were set at $7.50 for first prize in each classification and $5.00 for second prizes. In addition, $5 worth of floral stock will be given by the Conner Nursery & Floral Co., to the person having the most beautiful yard in the city—irrespective of classification. The prize money was made possible by the cooperation of various Haskell business men individually and by the Haskell Service Club.

SUM OF $12,000 PAID TO STOCKMEN

Total of 1282 Head Cattle Purchased by Government Here in Two Weeks

In the first two weeks that the government cattle buying plan has been in effect in Haskell County, a total of 1282 head have been purchased by agents, which has netted growers approximately $12,000. Of the total bought, 282 old or diseased cows and immature calves were destroyed, while the remainder were shipped to other points in the U. S. where grass is plentiful. It is estimated by government agents that at least 5000 more head of cattle will be purchased in this county before the time limit expires. One factor which has proved detrimental to the purchasing of cattle in this county is based upon the fact that most of the stuff to be sold is in small bunches, which has handicapped the agents in the bringing to this point, thereby causing many growers to wait probably weeks in order to sell, to conform to the daily quota as set by the government. Buying in Haskell County is done on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Local Attorney Is Conciliator

French M. Robertson, former county attorney and well known lawyer of Haskell has been appointed Conciliation Commissioner for Haskell county by Judge James C. Wilson, according to an announcement by R. J. Murray, Supervising Conciliation Commissioner of the Northern District. Under the terms of a recent amendment to the National Bankruptcy Act, Federal Judges are required to appoint a Conciliation Commissioner in each agricultural county and at any time within five years after the amendment takes effect, a petition may be filed by any farmer before the Federal County Conciliation Commissioner, stating that the farmer is insolvent and unable to meet his debts as they mature and that it is desirable to effect a composition or extension of time to pay his debts. The County Conciliation Commissioner then attempts to work out a settlement which will be satisfactory to a majority of the farmer's creditors, both in number and amount. If a Commissioner secures their approval the Court may then make the settlement binding on unsecured minority creditors, even though they disapprove the basis of settlement. The final step which the debtor may take as a last resort after all other efforts have failed is to file a petition in bankruptcy under the recently adopted Frazier-Lemke amendment. Under the provisions of this amendment, the debtor may be allowed to retain possession of his farm for a period of either five or six years. During this period he may make certain payments under a six year purchase plan, including the payment of taxes and one per cent interest on the principal each year in addition to certain payments on the principal of the debt. This plan is followed provided the secured creditors give their consent. If they do not accept the plan, the farmer may retain possession by paying to the Court a fixed annual rental. At the end of this five or six year period or before the debt is paid, the farmer may be required to complete a survey of the territory.

LARGE CITIES WANT TEXAS CENTENNIAL

Bidding Brisk on Part of All Places—Committee To Consider Claims

Activity in the larger cities of Texas became more pronounced during the last week in the effort to secure the central celebration for the Texas Centennial of 1936. In Houston an organized campaign was in progress to secure at least 30,000 signatures to petitions stating that the signers would vote bonds in the sum of $3,000,000 to make the city's proposal to the Centennial Commission good, in the event it is accepted. In Dallas the Committee of 100, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, had secured the formal consent of the city government to the calling of a bond issue there in the amount of $2,500,000 to assist in the financing of that city's proposal, in the event it is accepted. Reports from San Antonio were that the civic leaders there are becoming very active and the Alamo City is expected to have a definite proposal for submission on Sept. 1. A committee there has held several meetings on the subject in recent days. Fort Worth and Austin civic leaders also are active, although no definite proposal has yet been agreed upon in either place. A subcommittee from the Centennial Commission is expected to visit Haskell Monday and is expected to visit Haskell Monday.

STANDARD PRODUCT AIM OF EXTENSION AGENTS IN COUNTY

Series of Meetings Slated To Inform Demonstration Clubs On Methods

MONEY-PROFIT SHOWN

The musical sound of money was literally heard by a number of representatives from home demonstration clubs at Blue Bonnet Monday when they heard Miss Nora Walters, demonstrator, explain at a special meeting how the sales of standardized products had netted her $91.86 from 276 cans in 1933 and $54.05 so far this year from 167 cans. A special demonstration on the proper method of killing poultry was held also at the meeting under the direction of R. H. Maxwell, county agent. Backing up the statements of Miss Walters, so far as the values of standardized products is concerned, Mr. Ed Welsh and Mrs. A. A. Gauntt also explained to those in attendance exactly how such procedure is valuable. At the meeting Monday, which is the first of several to be held throughout the county, twelve fowls were killed and made into chicken tamales, boned and ground meat, and then canned. Twelve communities were represented, with the following club members in attendance: Mesdames W. C. Norton, E. B. Falloway, Josephette; A. R. Couch, Haskell; Claire McLennan, R. L. Bohannon, Ericsdale; W. J. Kendrick, Ed Stodghill, Rose; Elgin Carothers, Homer Turner, and Miss Nora Walters, Blue Bonnet; Ed Welsh and Jesse Smith, Midway; Urban Trimmer, R. P. Barnard, O'Brien; Floyd Hutchens, A. A. Gauntt, New Mid; Lucy Day and Miss Maude Newberry, Hutto; W. E. Johnson, Will Bland, Center Point; M. O. Haskell P. T. A. To Hold Night Meet

The first meeting of the Haskell Parent-Teachers Association will be held Thursday night, September 13, in the high school auditorium. Judge John Lee Smith of Throckmorton will be principal speaker, and several musical numbers will be presented upon the program. Petitions of the school are being urged to make their plans to be present at the meeting, and a general invitation has been extended to the public to be in attendance at the program. Meetings of the Parent-Teachers Association are usually held in the afternoons, and this custom will be adhered to through the coming school year, but association leaders arranged the first meeting as a night affair in order that the public might attend and learn many facts concerning the work of the organization and to hear Judge Smith speak.

Armstrong Home Six Miles South of Haskell Burns

The five room residence and barns on the Sam Armstrong farm six miles south of Haskell was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The residence, which was occupied by C. G. Balthrop and family was completely destroyed with all the contents. The residence first caught in the kitchen from a defective oil stove and the fire soon spread to the adjoining buildings. The Haskell fire department was called but arrived too late to save any of the buildings. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Big Boys and Little Boys Grunt and Groan In Football Practice

Grunts—groans—more grunts and groans are now being heard on the high school football practice field, as Coach Bill Richey puts his charges through the system of calisthenics he has outlined, in order to have every man fit for the opening game with Monday, Friday night, September 21. Husky-looking lads and not so husky-looking lads are receiving plenty of splendid training this week, and not one player, or would-be player but has suffered aching muscles. Those same youngsters, in the spirit of youth, romped gleefully around the field on the first day practice was called, and managed to invent a few struts of original concoction in the new uniforms, but all that has passed now. Richey is a firm believer in the saying that "a well-trained boy is not easily liable to injuries" and from his manner of training, very few Haskell boys will receive injuries if training rules are faithfully kept. It is too early for the coach to determine the men who will be fit for the opening fray, but it can be safely stated that those in the best of condition will receive first call, regardless of football playing, and in order to be in the night opener, each player will have to train and train hard. No namby-pamby condition will win football games for Haskell.

Shades of Former Days In West!—A 25c Saloon Check!

Found—one 25 cent purchase check on the Star Saloon, of Haskell, Texas! Perfectly good, but about forty-two years too late! The identity of the original owner is not known; nor is it known whether the check was kept as a memento or whether the owner was unable to return before prohibition was enforced! Recently, Bill Bricker, of Breckenridge, son-in-law of Wayne Perry, purchased a used car in that city. In cleaning out the car he found the purchase check, which he gave to Mr. Perry, who will continue to save it as a souvenir. According to early settlers of Haskell county the Star Saloon was in Haskell a short time—evidently finding the competition too strong from the Whisk Saloon, whose proprietor labeled it "The Road to Ruin." A check of the 1892 Free Press files reveals that the Star Saloon was an advertiser of "fine liquors."

COTTON INTERIMS NOW BEING GIVEN

Growers Allowed Forty Per Cent of Total Allotment Now By Government

With each grower allowed forty per cent of his total cotton allotment, interim cotton certificates are now being issued by the county cotton committee, composed of Henry Smith, Weinert; D. M. Guinn, Sagerton; J. Frank Simmons, Post; O. D. Pool, Rochester; and C. T. Jones, Weinert; and the county supervisor, I. L. Sturdivant. Official certificates are expected to arrive within the next two weeks. Nine hundred certificates have been issued. The drought has played havoc with the amount of cotton which most farmers expected to raise, and it is estimated that the amounts now being received on the forty per cent basis will eventually take care of all the cotton which a number of growers will be entitled to.

Rehabilitation Will Be Pushed

AUSTIN, Texas.—The Texas Relief Commission's program of rural rehabilitation will be pushed to the limit during the next two months, it was announced today by J. E. Stanford, director of the department, as he issued instructions to his field supervisors to employ assistants to help them carry out the program during the next eight weeks. It is the aim of the department to house every family possible and supply them with capital goods before the winter season arrives. Federal authorities have been asked for a grant of $500,000 for rural rehabilitation in Texas in September as against $250,000 for the current month. Stanford reported the program now being carried on in 142 counties and said it will be extended to others as soon as rains break long existing droughts in these counties.

Rosh Hashono To Be Observed Here By Pearl's Store

In observance of Rosh Hashono (Jewish New Year) the Pearl Dry Goods Store will remain closed Monday, Sept. 10, so M. Pearl, manager, stated Wednesday. Rosh Hashono is observed by the Jewish people throughout the world, and marks the beginning of the year for Jews, who base this method of calculation on when the world is supposed to have been created, instead of the Christian way of marking time since the birth of Christ. Notification was received Tuesday by M. Pearl, Haskell merchant, from A. & M. college stating that his son, Emmanuel Hillel Pearl, had fulfilled all requirements and had been granted his Master of Science degree in chemical engineering. Emanuel Pearl is expected in Haskell soon by his father, and will remain here for a short time. Houston, Texas.—Sailors of the Houston yacht club have planned several dances to raise funds to send a crew to Pensacola, Fla., to compete in the Lipton Cup races there.

PETITION GIVEN TO COMMISSIONERS CALLING ELECTION

Voters Will Decide Whether Sales of 3.2 Beverage Shall Be Prohibited

COURT UNANIMOUS

Through an action of the Commissioner's Court Tuesday, voters in Precinct 4 will have an opportunity to again express their approval, or disapproval, of 3.2 per cent beer with a ballot on Saturday, September 15. With more than enough signatures attached, a petition was presented to the Commissioner's Court Monday, which called for an election to be held, prohibiting the sale of 3.2 beer in precinct 4, and the request was granted by the unanimous vote of the court members. Precinct 4 covers the south one-half of the county, and the nearest place to Haskell where beer is sold legally is located within six miles. The sale of beer was voted in during the latter part of September, 1933 by a vote of 79 to 46, with Sagerton casting the largest total in favor of sale, 62 to 22. Bunker Hill joined the ranks of those favoring beer with eleven votes for and only one against, but both McConnell and Joe Bailey signified their wishes in the matter by casting negative votes against and only two for, and Joe Bailey clamped his own lid on with fourteen votes against sale and four votes for 3.2 beer.

Young Presbyterians Plan Program for September.

On Thursday evening August 30, the Council members of the young people's Society of the First Presbyterian Church met and discussed plans for the month of September. The meeting was opened with prayer, then the president, Calvin Frierson, introduced some new ideas to be used in the weekly programs. He stressed very strongly that each committeeman become more familiar with his work and furnish as much material in his field as possible. The thing that was touched on more than anything else was titling. Each agreed to do all he could to help make this unanimous practice in the Society. Much interest is being shown in its already. Methodist Missionary Society

On Monday afternoon Sept. 3rd, a very interesting meeting of the Missionary Society was held. At this time the two Circles met for the first time since July.

A large crowd was present. We were especially pleased to have Mrs. Hollis Atkison, president of the Mary Alexander Circle, present. She was accompanied by several members of her Circle. The president, Mrs. O. E. Patterson, having called the Society to order, a song, "Faith of Our Fathers" was sung. Our musician, Mrs. R. C. Montgomery, was at the piano. Mrs. Irby gave the devotional and chose for her subject "Patterns in Harmony". She compared the workings of a well organized group to a well organized orchestra. She stressed that each to do their best work must be thoroughly in harmony. This was followed with a prayer by Mrs. Sowell.

The President called for reports of officers. Most of these were present and gave good reports. The President announced that Mrs. Wallace Cox, who is Superintendent of Mission Study, would begin her lessons on next Monday. The Society is very enthusiastic over the Rummage Sale which will begin at an early date. All are urged to look over their supplies and have everything in readiness when Mrs. C. L. Lewis, chairman of the Rummage Sale Committee, makes her call. We were pleased to welcome three visitors: Mrs. Therwanger of Shreveport, Mrs. M. U. Lively of Fulghum, who is a member of the Missionary Society of Central Methodist Church, Fort Worth, Mrs. Lively, on being requested to sing, very graciously responded by singing "Garden of Roses."

SAN ANTONIO IS ENTRY FOR BIG CELEBRATION

San Antonio has submitted a bid for the honor of being the central celebration city for the Texas Centennial of 1936.

This bid was formulated at a meeting of interested citizens there presided over by Mayor C. K. Quinn. It was announced that the contents of the bid would remain a secret until opened and divulged by the Texas Centennial Commission, in its official meeting to designate the central celebration city.

At the same time word coming out of Fort Worth is that the citizenship of that city prepared a proposal also for submission.

These in addition to the proposals made by Houston and Dallas make four now under consideration by the Commission.

It is expected that a definite announcement will be made shortly as to which of the four cities has been chosen for the honor of being the central celebration city of 1936.

"Different Slant" In Clothes Helps

By a "Young Modern"
DENTON, Texas. — Just as the "little things in life" mean more to a person, the little accessories we use with our clothes are foremost in importance and often radiate the individual personality. They can either be the making or breaking of your entire ensemble, and you can combine any color combination desired and present "that different" slant to the world in general.

Your bag and gloves mean more in the way of accessories than anything else, girls at the Texas State College for Women (CIA) believe. They lend that smart touch to any costume and make you feel "dressed up." Fall bags in alligator and lizard to match the new shoes are the latest thing, but the conventional smooth grain kid will never cease to be popular. Stitched gloves in blending tones of kid are shown in the new four button length, and a new corded silk fabric is being used most effectively for gloves during this in-between season.

Modern girls are dressing up their wardrobes this fall. With a little circle of white silk or some color and a few minutes of your time, a crisp jabot can be fashioned to "change the look" of that navy dress you had last fall. And equally cunning little collar and cuff sets can be made with gay yarn trimmings.

Why not crochet a belt or fishnet scarf out of string if you're after something really different. They're really becoming quite popular on college campuses and make a welcomed addition to any fall frock. Get into the swing for in-

Don't throw sour cream away; it is delicious when added to salad dressing; or whipped and served on a fruit tart; or used in place of sweet cream in cake or candy mixtures; or seasoned with salt, pepper, paprika and celery salt, and used for cold slaw dressing.

The cleaning closet ought to contain a whisk broom; there is nothing better for cleaning a heavy fabric covering of chair or sofa; for getting into the corners of upholstered furniture, for fluffing up cushions. Then use the small tools of the vacuum cleaners following, picking up any dust loosened by the whisk broom.

If you're drying fruits or vegetables for the summer, help the process along by using an electric fan. This is the latest method in the professional drying, and certainly an easy helper if followed at home.

Keep paraffin wax for jelly glasses in a small enameled tea kettle with spout. Heat and pour on the jelly directly from the spout. If a piece of clean cotton cord is laid across the top of the jelly first, leaving a small end dangling over the edge of the glass, the paraffin will solidify around it, and the paraffin top is then easily lifted off by lifting the string.

Early Days In Texas Recalled By Judge Pierson

The following story appeared recently in the Abilene Morning News. Judge Pierson is an uncle of A. C. Pierson of Haskell.

An associate justice of the highest court in Texas shelved the cares and dignity of his high office yesterday as he sat in a comfortable seat on the front porch of the home here of his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. S. Pierson, 2106 Swenson, and smilingly recalled his early manhood days when he drove a mule-drawn freight wagon across sparsely settled West Texas forty-four years ago.

He was Wm. Pierson, associate justice of the supreme court of Texas. With his family he paused for a brief visit here on the return trip to Austin after a four weeks' vacation trip that has carried him through Oklahoma, Kansas and the Panhandle of Texas.

"We've turned into regular rain-makers, too," Judge Pierson laughed. "When we headed out of Kansas it started raining on us and we've pulled mud practically all the way. And it even sprinkled here a few minutes ago."

To Haskell in 1890

It was in 1890 that the Pierson family left Gilmer, in Upshur county, and migrated to Haskell county. Judge Pierson was a youngster of 16 then. From June to October he drove a freight wagon constantly from Abilene to Haskell, where the family had settled.

"The John R. Jones Lumber company was a block east of where the P. & P. depot now is," Judge Pierson recalled, "and I hauled a lot of lumber from that yard to Haskell. It took a day and a half to go to Abilene with an empty wagon and two days to drive back loaded. Anson was the only place between Abilene and Haskell. We would camp on the banks of streams; just as often they were practically dry and we always carried our drinking water with us.

"We had good mules, too. My team stepped off four miles an hour without any trouble. The road to Anson led straight out Pine street then, just as the new highway does now; that sand just south of Anson was certainly tough pulling, but we always made it through, even when heavily loaded. The hill where Stamford is—it had not been established then—also was tough pulling."

Happy Days

Although for years he has held high position—eight years as a district judge at Greenville and nearly fourteen years on the supreme court—Judge Pierson insists that while he didn't know it at the time, those were the happiest days of his life.

"I love Haskell and this West Texas country," he said. "When I began practicing law I started out at Greenville. My father came to see me after I'd been there for awhile and he saw that I was terribly homesick, that I was almost crying all the time. I wanted to go back to Haskell. While I am fond of Greenville I've never had the love for any place that I have always had for Haskell."

Texans need have no fear of the state's future under James V. Allred's administration, Judge Pierson asserted. He readily admitted that when Allred aspired to be attorney general that he felt that because Allred was a criminal lawyer and the attorney general's duties deal strictly with civil law, Allred was hardly qualified for the position.

"But more than 100 times the attorney general appeared before our court," Judge Pierson said. "Each time I became more impressed with him. Finally he appeared before us in chambers with a brilliant attorney on the opposing side. Allred immediately proved that he was complete master of the law involved in the case and the master of the situation."

Bar Told "Oust Those Who Give Advice To Gangs"

CHICAGO. — Lawyers who use their knowledge of the law to help criminals and gangsters commit crimes within the law so that they may avoid punishment are one of the biggest obstacles in the fight on crime, according to Mr. Dwight H. Green, United States attorney here. He urges the bar to weed out members of this sort. Such a house-cleaning, Mr. Green said in an interview, is as necessary to help finish the fight on crime as to restore public confidence in the legal profession.

After making this appeal to his own legal fraternity, the Phi Alpha Delta, last week, Mr. Green asking for a general cleanup referred particularly to a class of lawyers who, he said, "go far beyond the ethics of the profession to a point where they will give advice to criminals on how they may commit a crime and still have some immunity from prosecution."

He did not refer, he made it clear, to lawyers who give the proper legal defense to offenders brought before the law.

All Entitled to Defense
"Every man charged with crime has the right to be defended," he said, "but he is only entitled to a legal defense and one within the bounds of ethics."

"I'm talking particularly," he continued, "about the lawyer who is associated with criminals and gives them advice prior to the time the crime is committed."

That there are such lawyers is generally known, Mr. Green said, although he admitted it is usually hard to get evidence against them. "There has always been some distrust on the part of the people for the legal profession," he declared, "and the only way to obtain greater confidence is to clean up its personnel."

Coffins Strawn On Road After Crash

Colorado Springs, Colo. — Coffins were spread all over the Colorado Springs-Pueblo highway when a trailer broke loose from its moorings, rolled downhill and crashed into a bridge.

The trailer was being towed by a truck. The trailer's cargo—an assorted lot of coffins—was reduced to splinters.

Local "Hunter" Hunting Hunting On Check Charge

As a climax to one of the most brazen confidence rackets ever perpetrated in Haskell county, charges have been filed here against one H. K. Hunting, who persuaded a local hotel manager to cash checks amounting to $92 and talked so glibly that he departed from Haskell in an almost brand-new automobile on the strength of a telegram from a Chicago concern with whom he was no longer employed. He was traced to Ohio, where officers at Greenville are holding the appropriated car. In the search which took place, the efforts of a telegraph company, an automobile finance corporation, the hotel association and numerous officers were combined.

According to S. D. Roberts, manager of the Hotel Tonkawa here, Hunting showed him a telegram which was supposed to have been received from Chicago, instructing Hunting to make numerous trips out of Haskell, which necessitated the cashing of other checks. The same telegram was used upon the local Ford dealer in the purchase of the automobile as part of the down payment. Hunting, with his wife, then departed from Haskell, promising to return in a few days with the remainder of the money, which he failed to do, although Roberts received several letters, so he states, allegedly from Hunting from Dallas and south Texas since.

To complicate matters, the local telegraph operator states that she remembers receiving the telegram in question, but no trace of any copy can be found.

Approximately 25,000 miles has been covered by telegraph and telephone in an effort to locate the missing man by Roberts, the telegraph company and the finance corporation, and as the trail grew warmer, suspicion grew that Hunting had a confederate who mailed the letters here, on account of the fact that while Roberts was receiving letters from Texas points, Hunting, in his almost brand new car, apparently was breezily traveling along in Ohio.

Barn Is Rained

Cleveland.—A barn on an Ohio farm, which is a landmark for United Air Liners' coast to coast pilots, had another distinction. The rain that falls on one side of the roof flows into the Atlantic, and the rain on the other empties into the Gulf of Mexico.

Texas Is Land of Mixed Names

Before the millions of people come to our Centennial in 1936, it behooves Texans to polish up on all Texas matters in order to explain everything to the visitors. One of our mixtures, which confuses outsiders, is the following:

Lockhart is the county site of Caldwell county, Caldwell of Burleson county, while Burleson is in Johnson county; Brownsville is the county site of Cameron county; Cameron of Milam county; Fort Stockton the county site of Pecos county; Pecos of Reeves county; Columbus of Colorado county; Clorado of Mitchell county; Beaumont of Jefferson county and Jefferson of Marion county; Seminole of Gaines county and Gainesville of Cooke county; Breckenridge of Stephens county; Stephenville of Erath county; Hallettsville of Lavaca county; and Port Lavaca of Calhoun county; Stratford of Sherman county and Sherman of Grayson county.

But if those are a mixture, the following must be a scramble: Quitman is the county site of Wood county, Woodville is the county site of Tyler county, and Tyler the county site of Smith county; Ozona the county site of Crockett county; Crockett of Houston county; Houston of Harris county, and Harris is in Fort Bend county; Athens is the county site of Henderson county; Henderson of Rusk county; Rusk of Cherokee county; and Cherokee is in San Saba county; Carizmo of Dimmitt county; Dimmitt of Castro county; and Castro is in Medina county; Canadian is the county site of Hemphill county, Hemphill the county site of Sabine county, and Sabine is in Jefferson county; Bellville is in Austin county, Austin of Travis county, and there are two towns of Travis, one in Bexar and the other in Falls county.

Claude is the county site of Armstrong county, Armstrong is in Kenesaw county, and Kenesaw is in Karnes county; Lamesa is the county site of Dawson county and Dawson is in Navarro county; Kermit is the county site of Winkler county and Winkler is in Navarro county; Muleshoe is the county site of Bailey county, Bailey is in Fannin county and Baileyville is in Milam county; Graham is the county site of Young county, Young is in Freestone county and Youngport is in Bell county; Brownfield is the county site of Terry county, Terry is in Orange county and Terryville is in DeWitt county; Rio Grande is the county site of Starr county, Starr is in Lubbock county; Star in Mills county and Starrville in Smith county; New Boston is the county site of Bowie county, Bowie is in Montague county; Sanderson is the county site of Terrell county and Terrell is in Kaufman county; Mt. Picnickers Warned To Be Careful of Food-Water Used AUSTIN, TEXAS. — Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, warns those going on a vacation or picnic, to be careful about their food and the water they drink if they want to avoid unpleasant after-effects.

"As to foods," Dr. Brown said, "First, be sure that what you take is perfectly fresh. Second, take things that won't spoil. During the hot muggy weather that prevails at this time of the year, it is hard to keep any kind of food in good condition, as every housekeeper knows. Rich, perishable food taken off the ice and carried around for several hours before using will spoil very quickly.

"It is better to avoid rich salads and indigestible combinations and to stick to the simpler things. Sandwiches of which an infinite variety can be prepared—cake, the simpler the better—and plenty of fresh, ripe fruit, are usually safe and satisfying and should form the principal part of your menu. Whatever you take, don't overeat and don't indulge in all sorts of queer mixtures. If you do, the day after the picnic is not likely to be a pleasant one for you.

"And as a third precaution: Take your own drinking water, unless you are sure that the water supply of the place where you are going to spend the day, is free from contamination. Thermos bottles, thermos jugs, fruit jars, can all be pressed into service. It may be more trouble to carry water from home, but it is much safer than to drink water from a source that may be contaminated with disease germs, especially those of typhoid fever."

Birth Rate of State Is Shown For First Time

AUSTIN, TEXAS. — For the first time in the history of Texas, the United States Bureau of the Census has published the Texas birth rate along with that of the other states in the Union. Last year 107,924 births were registered with the Texas State Department of Health.

Texas, in comparison with the larger states, ranked first in birth rate, 17.9 per thousand of population; third in number of births; fifth in population. This is the first time comparisons could be made between all the states and Texas is proud of her showing in this first test.

To secure admission to the Registration Area of the United States it is necessary for at least ninety per cent of all births to be filed with the State Department of Health. Each parent or relative of a new born child should make sure that its birth is filed with the local registrar.

The registration of births is valuable to the individual in that a birth certificate may be necessary to secure passports, prove school age, prove citizenship, prove right to vote, prove legal age for marriage, prove age for military service, prove right to hold public office, prove right to property inherited, prove qualification for jury service, prove age under child labor laws, prove nationality in foreign countries, determine the birth rate in state, counties and cities, establish proof for pensions, insurance, compensation, etc.

A Delayed Spanking Cost Father $6,400

Cuyahoga Falls, O.—The delayed spanking of his four-year-old grandson cost Geo. Porter, former mayor, $6,400. Porter, a short time ago, had discovered the youngster playing with matches. "David, if you do that again," he threatened sternly, "I'll spank your hands."

A short while after that, a straw stack on the Porter farm put a dent in David's memory. He tossed a lighted match into the straw. The fire consumed two barns with a total damage of $5,500. In the ashes was $900 in currency, which had been hidden for safe-keeping.

The cause of action being alleged as follows: Plaintiff sues each and all of the Defendants in trespass to try title, alleging that on the first day of January, 1934, Plaintiff was the owner, in fee simple, and was lawfully in possession of the following described property situated in Haskell County, Texas:

All of that certain tract of land in the Lewis T. King Survey No. 174, Abstract No. 303, patented to Lewis T. King by Patent No. 330, Vol. 13, dated Jan. 3, 1855, lying in Haskell County, Texas, and described by field notes as follows, to-wit:

BEGINNING at the northeast corner J. M. Stephens Survey No. 172 and the northwest corner Lewis T. King Survey, said point being a stake driven in the ground, from which an 18-inch Mesquite marked "X" bears N. 47 deg. 50 min. East 37.08 vrs., and the center of a cistern six feet in diameter bears S. 50 deg. 20 min. East 9.5 vrs.;

THENCE east along the north line this survey 1,750.5 vrs. to a stake on line with a fence to the south, from which point an 8-inch Mesquite marked "X" bears S. 10 deg. 40 min. E. 36.80 vrs., and a 12-inch Mesquite marked "X" bears N. 38 deg. 10 min. W. 39.22 vrs.;

THENCE S. no deg. 20 min. E. along said fence line, crossing Miller Creek at 118.08 vrs. a slough at 527.4 vrs., a creek at 1,221.8 vrs., and a slough at 2,214.7 vrs., in all 2,244.1 vrs. to a bridge spike driven in ground in line with a fence to the north and west, from which the center of a slough bears east 24.66 vrs.;

THENCE north 89 deg. 47 min. W. along said fence line, passing set stone marked N. L. 3 at 223.92 vrs. and a set stone marked NW3 at 944.49 vrs., in all 1,761.48 vrs. to a stake in creek bottoms on line with a fence to the south and east, from which an 18-inch Elm marked "X" bears S. 66 deg. 30 min. W. 14.94 vrs., and a 4-inch Hackberry marked "X" bears S. 69 deg. 25 E. 12.74 vrs.; thence N. no deg. 3 min. W. crossing branch at 9 vrs., and Miller Creek at 20.16 vrs., and a small creek at 2,219.83 vrs., in all 2,237.83 vrs. to the place of beginning and containing 697.05 acres.

That on or about the 15th day of January, 1934, Defendants, and each of them, unlawfully entered upon and dispossessed Plaintiff of said premises, and without the aid of Plaintiff, to Plaintiff's damage in the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00).

Plaintiff further alleges that the Defendants, and each of them, are claiming some character of right, title and interest in and to said land and premises, the exact nature of which is unknown to Plaintiff; that such pretended claims are inferior to the rights of Plaintiff and cast a cloud upon Plaintiff's title, which ought to be removed.

Plaintiff prays for judgment against each and all of the Defendants for the title and possession of the above described premises, for removal of the cloud cast upon Plaintiff's title by the pretended claims of Defendants, and each of them, for damages, costs of suit and for general and special relief legal or equitable.

You are commanded so to summon each Defendant and serve this citation by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return date hereof, in some newspaper published in your County. If there be no newspaper published in said County, then in any newspaper published in the nearest county where a newspaper is published.

Waterfowl Stamps Placed On Sale At Post Office Here

Migratory bird stamps, which must be affixed to state licenses of hunters shooting waterfowl, arrived at the Haskell postoffice this week.

The stamps will be issued at postal stamp windows at the postoffice only to applicants who fill out blanks, present their hunting licenses and pay the $1 fee.

Money derived from the stamp fee will be used in the federal program to protect and restore waterfowl. Postmaster Diggs stated, the stamp does not exempt the hunter from complying with state laws and federal regulations, Mr. Diggs emphasized.

Failure to possess the stamp while hunting waterfowl is punishable by federal regulation to the extent of a fine not to exceed $500 or imprisonment for not more than six months, or both fine and imprisonment.

Roosevelt Calls Liberty League "Un-neighborly"

WASHINGTON.—The program of the American Liberty League for protection of property rights and the Constitution was indorsed—so far as it goes—by President Roosevelt at his press conference last week.

But, having said that, Mr. Roosevelt proceeded to a smashing and extensive attack on the league for the omissions from its program—omissions which he considered of even more importance than the inclusions.

Reverting to Biblical allusions he remarked pointedly that any man should be praised who sets out to support two of the Ten Commandments. No one could take issue with him on his adherence and his devotion to their teachings. But to hold to only two and lose sight of the other eight was to President Roosevelt a rather questionable position.

He implied that this is exactly what the Liberty League has done. He said it has taken a position urging the Government to fulfill its obligations in these two respects, but has forgotten that the Government also has obligations to do such things as provide employment, to keep its citizens from starving, to save the aged from poverty and to see that economic justice prevails.

Taking a slightly different, but still Biblical tack, he remarked that the two great commandments are "Love God, and Love thy neighbor."

He added that someone had remarked to him that the tenets of the league sounded very much like emphasizing the love for God, but forgetting "your neighbor."

Mr. Roosevelt said he felt very strongly that when one comes to a definition of American principles one ought to go all the way instead of stopping with only two or three. And as he continued to speak generally about the group he referred repeatedly to the two objectives it has set for itself, namely the right of property and respect for it, and the Constitution.

SOME EARLY AMERICAN SCHOOLS

One of the first laws passed in America in the interest of education was enacted by Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1647, and required all towns of 50 or more householders to appoint a teacher to instruct children to read and write. No special qualifications were set for teachers, and the pay was exceedingly small.

Even before this law was passed, Dedham, Mass., had a free school supported by taxation, the teacher receiving $66.80 per year. In most cases, however, the town paid a portion of the expense and the pupils made up the remainder through tuition fees. The record of one school shows that the tuition charge was 67 cents for three months.

Closely following Massachusetts, similar schools were established in the Connecticut colonies, and in 1867 the New Haven colonial court ordered that each town not already maintaining a school should open one and pay one-third of its expenses, the rest to be paid on a per capita basis by families served.

Plymouth Colony later on provided school money by leasing its fisheries on the coast, thus raising about $150 a year. In New Amsterdam, now New York, the first schools were supported by the West India Company, but controlled by the Dutch Reformed Church.

There were also "dame schools," taught by women in their homes, these teachers receiving as little as 10 shillings, or $1.67 a year. In 1682 the salary of President Rogers of Harvard University was fixed at $516 a year, one-third of which was paid in provisions and other goods.

In the early elementary schools only reading, writing and the Bible were taught, those who desired to learn arithmetic being obliged to resort to a special "ciphering master."

From these small beginnings has grown the great public school system in this country, which places within the reach of every child, rich or poor, a good common school education.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

Perhaps in no other industry is there such a variety of conditions as in the newspaper business. Totaled indiscriminately, there are something like 14,000 newspapers in the United States, ranging from the smallest country weekly which prints only two pages in its own shop, with additional pages printed by a syndicate, to the great metropolitan dailies which employ thousands of persons each.

For the smallest, probably not more than 25 pounds of paper is required each week, while the Chicago Tribune uses for one Sunday edition all the paper produced from timber grown on 240 acres of land.

According to Grove Patterson, the well known writer, the New York Times employs 3,100 persons, with a payroll of $25,000,000 a year. Hagar's newspapers and magazines use more than $40,000,000 worth of paper a year in normal times.

But in spite of the disparity between the smallest and the largest of American newspapers, the publisher of the small country weekly need not be overawed at the size of his metropolitan rival. The local newspaper has a place in the life of his community which the great dailies can not usurp. If the local publisher is alive to his opportunities and makes the most of them.

Now, as always, the home town newspaper is the best and cleanest exponent of constructive journalism.

"JUST A LIBRARY BOOK"

The book skidded heavily from the boy-bike rider's hand to the sidewalk. He grinned at the passerby. "That's all right; it's just a library book."

Where is your imagination, boy? Just a library book? New, it was marked carefully by the library lady, and listed on cards. A little boy, whose home has few books, was its first reader. Hungry for those things that book held within its covers, he turned its pages carefully, so not to break the back. He read it. He read some parts of it twice, and, when the borrowing time was up, hugged it under his arm as he took it back where it was again put on its shelf.

He still remembers and is helped by words he read in it. Next a little girl had it. She was sick. The words in the book made her happy, even when she was so weak her mother had to read it to her.

And other boys, and girls—so many of them—hungry for what is in that book; made happier, richer because of that book.

Boy, if I could be what I want when I leave—this world, I think I would like best to be "just a library book" taking joy, and love, and helpful ideas to girls and boys who love to read—providing not too many of your kind got hold of me, boy, because even a book doesn't like to be dropped or thrown around, especially a library book which has so many other homes than just yours, where it still wants to visit and help folks.—Advertiser, East Aurora, N. Y.

RANDOM COMMENT — Believe it or not, we've been in Haskell nearly one year and have not seen any kind of a railroad train. Oh, yes, we have them, but not close to the courthouse square. One Haskell miss (a high school student) isn't sure she is in favor of the lights for football, owing to the fact that there may not be Friday afternoons off as in the past. . . . Four-year old Vick Post says "potato chips are my favorite dish". . . . A friend of ours recently told us that we became careless sometimes and split our infinitives. Frankly, we don't wear anything like that on our person. . . . There's one thing about the first of the month—if you're turned that way, you can be made to feel important by the number of people wishing to see you. . . . We note that Bates Thornton is gaining in weight. The drinking of buttermilk is conducive to increased poundage. . . . If the owner of the automobile with license No. 517-335 wants to know the license numbers of the car which backed into his car Saturday and dented the front fender, we'll gladly furnish it. There was no excuse for such driving as the other driver had plenty of room to park his car.

Ten Thousand Dollars!
With the government publishing returns concerning money into the bank which the ordinary person cannot comprehend. . . . We took our notebook in hand and asked sundry persons what they would do in the event someone handed them ten thousand dollars. The replies were typical of West Texans, and we are printing a few that are suitable for publication. Some of the said replies were of the type better left unprinted.

John Rice: "Ten thousand dollars isn't enough. If I was given all the money in the world I would apply it on the interest of the money I owe." (Now how much does he owe?)

Lee Short: "TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS! I would drop dead, so there is no reason to discuss the matter." (Not a government work?)

F. L. Daugherty: "Well, sir, I would take eight thousand and pay my debts, and use the other two in the purchase of a good car and having a good time." (Wonder what his idea of a good time would be, intriguing thought.)

J. Elmore (Jelly) Smith: "What's the gag? I would give it to the O.W.A. of course." (But do the letters O.W.A. mean what most think?)

Sam A. Roberts: "I won't take a cent to answer that one. Pay and pay and pay!" (Evidently a "paying seller".)

Wallace Kimbrough: "Buy a life insurance policy, date some wax and get on places and see things!" (An interesting man.)

Mark Martin: "Buy a new newspaper, start a column and burn certain other alleged politicians to a cinder for asking silly questions." (We would give THAT man $10,000.)

Walter Morse: "It's a dream, but I would do a lot of necessary and unnecessary things." (The other's idea, irrelevant and immaterial.)

F. H. Kinney: (First statement withheld) "Oh, if you put it in that light, I would rather think the matter over and let you know. See you later!" (Dictated, but not read, hey?)

Fritz Taylor: "Umam! I would buy some salt and salt the rest of it down." (In that large pocket book he purchased to house his dime we presume.)

Maxie A. P. Thurman: "I doubt what I need it, but if anyone should hand me that much money I would use it—and probably turn it to be like one man I know who is worth ten thousand dollars, and live with a cent!" (Slightly too deep for us to comment about.)

H. H. Ackison: "What would I do if someone gave me ten thousand dollars? I would say 'thank you' like any nice mannered boy!" (Why didn't you thank us for that "snake" you matched us for—and won, then?)

W. H. Freeman: "See the World's Fair and the World Series." (Rowe, Rowe, Rowe Tigers.)

Manley Branch: "Faint first and then do things surprising." (For instance?)

Shahir Hassen: "Drop dead! Why, is someone giving you that much? What is a good remedy for hay-fever?" (Something of a questioner, himself.)

Troy V. Post: "Put it back into the insurance business and make it grow to $25,000." (Optimistic.)

Roy Sanders: "Put it back into the insurance business and make it grow to $80,000." (Very optimistic.)

Rufus Backs: "Pay my debts, buy a 1932 model car." (In other words, he might not have much left, but our solution for that would be for Rufus to buy our 1929 model and have a nest egg, as it were.)

Plaintiff further alleges that the Defendants and each of them are claiming some character of right, title and interest in and to said lands and premises, the exact nature of which is unknown to Plaintiff; that such pretended claims are inferior to the rights of Plaintiff and cast a cloud upon Plaintiff's title which ought to be removed.

Plaintiff prays for judgment against each and all of the Defendants, for damages, costs of suit, and for the title and possession of the above-described premises, for removal of the cloud cast upon Plaintiff's title by the pretended claims of Defendants and each of and for general and special relief, legal or equitable.

I AM STILL RICH

(By Bob L. Smith)

We have passed through a panic, a depression, a crash on the stock market and are now more than ever in the way through the depression.

Industrialized Barn at Fair Draws Over 800,000 Visitors

Chicago.—An industrialized barn, one of the most unusual farm exhibits ever shown, awaits visitors to Chicago during Farm Week at the World's Fair from August 11 to 18. The barn is part of the 11-acre Ford Exposition.

The building was originally erected in 1933, the year Henry Ford was born, on his father's farm in Dearborn, Michigan. It was brought plank by plank to the fair and re-erected to illustrate Mr. Ford's theory that the farmer can increase his income by processing crops for industrial uses.

The barn at the fair is set in the middle of a soy bean patch and is completely equipped with machinery which extracts the oil from the beans and prepares the oil and meal so that they may be sold to manufacturers.

The Ford Motor Company has 17,000 acres in soy beans, and yet has to buy large quantities from farms to meet its requirements. Each Ford car has twenty parts made of soy beans, including the steering wheel and engine parts. In addition, soy bean oil is used in manufacturing the body enamel which is used on all Ford cars. As a result of continuous experimentation, it is believed that the use of soy bean products will be greatly increased in future.

Since the World's Fair opened nine weeks ago, more than 800,000 persons have visited the industrialized barn, and a total of nearly

When the depression came I was smelted to take invoice and soon discovered that I WAS STILL RICH. All my capacity for the enjoyment of life was intact.

My 200,000 eyes are just as good as they ever were. Every landscape at sunset is mine if I want it. Views and oceans are added to my collection every week. A sense of hearing is unimpaired and by it I became an heir to a world of beauty and inspiration.

Then there's my million dollar ranch and my half million dollar penitence. No doctor has sentenced me to spinach for the rest of my life. Better have plain food and an appetite than to sit down to a banquet and no appetite. No man can be rich who is compelled to take food from his stomach.

The depression has not lowered the value of a single friendship. Neighbors still greet us in the same cordial way. Business associates have in us and our sons hold us in high respect. The wife's welcome at the close of the day has not deteriorated in the least and our rights continue to lavish their affection upon us with the same old extravagance.

My faith in the goodness of the universe is unimpaired. By that I am emboldened as I face death and despair. The prayers my father taught me and the faith in God instilled in me by a devout mother remains as priceless treasures

No depression can touch. No nation becomes great by becoming rich. Neither does a man find enduring satisfaction by owning something—only by becoming something. The most degrading poverty is that which results from failing the spirit that the body may be served.

This depression has cost us some of the things we created but it has robbed us of none of our power to create. We may lose some of the beautiful things but we have lost no love of the beautiful.

It is a challenge not a catastrophe. A generation that has conquered the air and sent giant planes circling the globe, has plunged into the deeps and sported on the ocean's floor, which has climbed above the clouds and lived in the stratosphere, is now forced with the challenge to rise above its dependence on mere things and see an emancipation of the spirit of man.

The last six months have been for men a thrilling spiritual adventure through which they have discovered their real wealth. Bereft of real dividends and profits, they are discovering the sustaining powers of strong religious faith, the abiding values of courage, heroism, honor, charity and trustworthiness.

A financial crisis can wipe out profits and bring business to a standstill but character is beyond its reach. It can rob us of all we have but it cannot affect what we are.

The investments we made in ambitious youth, hospitals, crippled children's camps, colleges and service institutions go on paying dividends. The deepest satisfactions of life—those which come sharing and serving remain secure.

I am still rich because I am independently rich—none of my wealth depends on business conditions or market reports.

New Money Due To Reach Banks Within Few Days

New $10 silver certificates, issued under President Roosevelt's order nationalizing silver, will be received by local banks within the next few days. The first of the certificates for the 11th federal reserve district were received at the Dallas Federal Reserve bank last week.

The certificates are also being issued in denominations of $1 and $5. In appearance the new certificates are virtually the same as the old ones. However, there is some difference in the wording, with the new certificate pointing out: "This certifies that there is on deposit in the treasury of the United States, ten dollars, payable in silver on demand." It also states that "this certificate is legal tender for all debts, public and private."

The old certificates said "This certifies that there has been deposited in the treasury of the United States 10 silver dollars," and that the certificate was acceptable in payment of public debts only under certain conditions. It made no mention of its being acceptable in the payment of private debts.

or may repurchase the farm by paying a price set up on it by three appraisers appointed by the Federal court.

Mooney, who is Chairman of the Texas Farm Debt Conciliation committee, strongly recommends that every effort be made by distressed farmers to secure a voluntary adjustment of their debts through the Farm Debt Adjustment Committee already appointed in each county, or with the aid of the County Conciliation Commissioner before resorting to bankruptcy proceedings under the Frazier-Lemke amendment. The amendment requires farming under the jurisdiction of the court, and gives the farmer no assurance that he will be able to borrow the money at the end of the six year period to pay the appraised price of the farm.

Standard Products

Miss Johnnie Reed, home demonstration agent.

"I attribute the success of my work to the fact that they have been sold under the Better 4-H label, and the sincere criticism of my friends has acted as a spur to would be better," Miss Walters said Monday.

Mrs. Welsh said that she followed directions given in the extension bulletin C-95 and to date has put up sixty cans of poultry.

Mrs. Gauntt also explained how she had improved the quality of canned chicken and the benefits to be derived from standardizing products.

In giving the killing demonstration to the group, county agent R. H. Maxwell points out that fowls killed by sticking is quicker, gives a better bleed and improves the appearance of meat, leaves no ugly ragged end of the neck, prevents flopping and bruising, and makes picking easier. The method suggested by Mr. Maxwell is, hanging the fowl up by the feet and holding the head of the fowl in the left hand, a sharp knife is carried inside the throat and the jugular veins are cut. The knife point should travel from left to right far enough back in the throat to sever both veins about their junction. The mouth is kept open to allow the blood to flow freely. The sticking must be done before the bird dies. A knife point plunged into the back of the brain causes a muscular paralysis which loosens all feathers.

The scalding or semi-scalding must be done with the water from 125-128 degrees, points out the home demonstration agent. The meat is separated leaving the light meat all in one piece and the dark all together. There is less shrinkage in tissues with the fowl cut in this manner to cook to slip off the bone.

Next Speaker?

Representative Sam Rayburn of Bonham, Texas, is a candidate for Speaker of the House to succeed Henry T. Rainey, who died recently. He is an administration stalwart, was the House whip behind the stock exchange and oil control bills, and is highly esteemed by colleagues.

brewer's yeast and fresh fruits are especially valuable. Having provided these essentials of a proper diet, the rest may be arranged according to family and personal likes. In this way pellagra may be avoided.

Pellagra Takes A Heavy Life Toll

AUSTIN, Texas.—Six hundred and forty-five Texans died last year of pellagra, declared Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. Pellagra is a disease that is caused by lack of proper foods. It comes on slowly and may not be recognized until the victim begins to have a sore mouth, stomach trouble, and swelling and scaling of the skin. When these symptoms appear the disease has been present for some time.

The longer a person has pellagra the harder it is to cure, so one should be on the lookout for the early symptoms such as nervousness, indigestion, and burning of the feet and hands. The disease may become so severe as to affect the mind.

Pellagra is not contagious. As long as a person eats enough of the right kind of food and is not otherwise diseased, he is in no danger even if he lives with a pellagra patient.

The prevention of pellagra depends upon eating the right kind of food at all times. To make sure that the diet is right, it should always include plenty of milk daily, some fresh meat, and as many fresh vegetables as possible. Tomatoes, whole wheat products, salmon,

Poor Teeth Are Source of Many Other Diseases

AUSTIN, Texas.—A fact that is not generally understood, according to Dr. John W. Brown, is that diseased teeth may frequently be associated with disease manifestations in other parts of the body. The interrelation and interdependence of the various parts which comprise this marvellous bodily mechanism are so sensitive that in many instances when matters go amiss, not only is the location of the affection affected but other parts become involved also.

Thus diseased teeth or gums may directly develop an infection of the nose, eye, head sinuses, the stomach, and even the intestinal tract. Again, germs from a diseased mouth may be transported by the blood stream to the kidneys or heart, thus causing serious trouble frequently ending fatally. Even such extremely painful and tenacious conditions as neuritis and arthritis can often be directly traced to infection in and around the teeth.

The man or woman who respects health as the greatest of all earthly assets will do well to heed the ordinary principles of mouth hygiene; being conscientiously adhered to, they can be relied upon to protect against the conditions that take such a tremendous and unnecessary toll.

Drought May Be Disguised Help

ARLINGTON, Texas.—The drought may be discouraging to a lot of people, but to E. E. Davis, dean of the North Texas Agricultural College, here, it appears as a potential "godsend in disguise." Mr. Davis, a student of agricultural affairs, believes that it will have the effect of clearing away surpluses that have been a drag on the market, and envisions the greatest era of prosperity in the history of the southwest for 1935.

"I firmly believe that the southwest is facing the greatest era of prosperity it has ever known. Farm purchasing power is due to return with astounding rapidity. Drought and government control are clearing away the surpluses of wheat, cotton, and livestock, that have been a drag on the market for past years. Better prices, greater purchasing power, and increased consumption are in the immediate offing. The hopes for tariff adjustments, quota reductions, and debt settlements with the consequent increased imports and exports resulting in greater purchasing power abroad are growing brighter each day," Mr. Davis said.

"The present drought is only a temporary setback," Mr. Davis continued. "It may even be a godsend in disguise. At any rate, its evil effects are being more than compensated for by fundamental adjustments pointing toward a permanent, intelligent agricultural prosperity. I think the year 1935 will mark, in a very positive way, the effects of a new era of prosperity for our farm population. Our schools and other social service agencies, together with all forms of legitimate business, will rejoice with the farmer in this new day of intelligently regulated abundance," Mr. Davis declared.

Cut the legs separating the second joint and drumstick. Remove the wishbone. Bend the two bones just under the wishbone back so that the breasts will pack into the can. Pack thigh and drum sticks in can around the breast. Fill can about half full with sauce. Seal while hot and process at 15 pounds pressure No. 1 cans 45 minutes; No. 2 cans 55 minutes.

For large hens and turkeys it may be desirable to remove meat from the bones before canning. In that case cut from the bones in pieces large enough to serve. Pack and process as above.

Farm Purchasing Power Increases

COLLEGE STATION.—Farm purchasing power on the average throughout the United States has been 25 per cent higher during the first nine months in which benefit payments have been distributed through the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act than in the corresponding period of the previous year.

This is the conclusion reached by L. H. Bean, economic advisor to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, following a study of the prices farmers receive for their products, compared with the cost of commodities they buy. Cash income, including benefit payments, during this nine month period increased 38 per cent but this increase was partially offset by an increase in the cost of commodities farmers buy.

Benefit payments on production adjustment contracts contributed nearly one-fifth of the net increase of 25 per cent in purchasing power. For the first four months of 1934, the net increase in farm purchasing power was 28 per cent over the first four months of 1933.

Mr. Bean's study also shows that the purchasing power of the farmer increased somewhat more than the purchasing power of the country as a whole during the first four months of 1934. During this period, the total national money income, including the distribution of emergency funds was about 20 per cent higher than in the corresponding period of 1933, but the cost of living for the country as a whole increased eight per cent, leaving a net increase of 12 per cent in the national purchasing power. The net increase in farm purchasing power was 28 per cent for the same period.

Marine Corps Are Filling Vacancies

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—The United States Marine Corps District office in New Orleans announces that the vacancies recently created in the Marine Corps by Congress will be filled in limited monthly installments during the next few months.

The number of qualified applicants in June was greater than could be accepted in the authorized June installment. The excess was carried on the waiting list to be accepted in July.

The Marine Corps is the only military service in the world which requires that its accepted applicants must have the educational qualification required for entrance to college. Only those who are graduates from high schools or have equivalent education from other schools are accepted.

This high standard is maintained because Marines must be capable of learning quickly the arts of all arms of the military service ashore and of the naval service on board battle-ships and cruisers.

The Marine Corps is the Navy's little army, and serves on board the Navy's battleships and cruisers, and ashore in overseas territory and in foreign countries when it is necessary to land forces to protect U. S. interests.

While their educational qualifications are equal to those required for entrance to college, their physical standards are rigid. They must be over 18 years old and not under 66 inches tall. Also they must furnish evidence of character and good standing. Their duties and responsibilities require exemplary men who can be trusted to act with credit for our country throughout the world in difficult situations.

The U. S. Marine Corps District Office, 535 St. Charles St., New Orleans, La., receives by mail and considers all applications from Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Mississippi, and is the only District office in Savannah and Macon, Ga., where applicants in the Southern states are considered, etc.

Centennial

nal Commission will receive the various proposals in Austin on Sept. 1 and these will be immediately referred to the full Commission for decision. The highest and best proposal will be accepted, the requirements being a site of not less than 200 acres, ample parking space, convenience to transportation, certain specified buildings, the furnishing of utilities, etc. No minimum requirement as to cash has been set, although the Finance Committee, headed by Gen. John A. Hulen of Fort Worth has said that at least $15,000,000 is necessary properly to finance the celebration, this fund to be secured from the successful city, the State and Federal governments.

This, of course, represents merely the preliminary financing, and the completed plant will likely represent an expenditure of possibly three times that figure. Immediately that the central celebration city is chosen it is expected that a campaign, in co-operation with its leaders, will be launched acquainting the Nation and the world with the plans for the Centennial. Heretofore all publicity work has been directed solely to the State of Texas, although the message by personal contact has reached all sections of the country.

On November 1, as provided by law, the Commission will select those cities holding secondary celebrations. It is specifically provided that such celebrations shall be held at the Alamo, San Jacinto, Goliad and Brenham on appropriate dates. Other communities having spots of historical interest may secure celebrations upon the assurance of the co-operation of their citizens, and without financial offers. The entire State is showing keen interest in the friendly contest in progress among the cities to secure the central celebration. But the spirit almost universally is that full co-operation will be given the winner and that the celebration is to be all-Texas and supported by all Texas, regardless of who the winner may be.

Tempting Tamale Recipes For All

Masa (Tamale Dough)
2 cups tamale flour.
2 tablespoons chicken fat.
1 teaspoon salt.

Solid flour with hot broth making a soft dough which will spread easily. Let set about 10 minutes, work dough again adding more broth, if necessary. If one prefers a more highly seasoned tamale, they may add enough chili pulp to make red and hot.

Commercial shucks may be used or they may be prepared at home. Select shucks from long ears of corn and clip ends. Put in a large vessel, cover with hot water, bring to a boil, cover vessel, set aside until ready for use. Remove a few shucks at a time, dry slightly and spread with tamale mixture. To do this place shuck on flat surface. Take a tablespoon of masa, begin 1 inch from large end of shuck, and spread to about 3/4 inches in length and 2 1/2 inches wide. In center of this dough place 1 tablespoon of meat mixture, forming it into a roll (about the size of your finger), roll shuck and fold back both ends. Pack in cans, and add 4 tablespoons of broth. Before sealing place in cooker, leave petcock open and steam for 15 minutes. Seal and process at 15 pounds pressure No. 1 cans 45 minutes. No. 2 cans 55 minutes.

Barbecue
Meat may be barbecued in a pit or on a rack in a covered metal tub where it will absorb the savory smoke from the drippings falling upon live coals.

Cut bird as directed in figures 1, 2 and 3. Cut legs from back, cutting as closely to the bone as possible. Cut wings and shoulder blades from breast. The neck, back, wings and shoulder blades are better made into ground meat.

Place the breast and legs on the rack to barbecue. Let sear until white, then baste with sauce made as follows:

- 1 1/2 cup butter or chicken fat.
- 1 tablespoon tabasco sauce.
- 2 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce.
- 1 teaspoon salt.
- 2 cups catsup.
- 2 1/2 cup 5 per cent vinegar.
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion.
