A Little Straight Talk

BY DAVE THOMPSON

With the approaching Fourth of July holiday, it is time once again to stress the importance of taking safety precautions when using fireworks to celebrate the special occasion. This same message is stressed all over the country each year, and there are still needless deaths, injuries and tremendous property losses caused by carelessly used fireworks. Even with the recent small amounts of rain we have had lately, this is still a very dry and fire-prone area, so remember to be careful and take every precaution while using fireworks.

Lions Install Officers

And Honor Ladies

The Knox City Lions Club installed officers last Tuesday night, June 21, in Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church during the annual Ladies' Night banquet.

tained banquet guests with special music.

Cheerleaders Attend Camp

The 1988-89 Varsity Cheerleaders for the Knox City-O'Brien Consolidated Independent School District were among 300 participants in the recent Big Country Cheerleader Camp held on the campus of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene June 20 to June 24.

The five day camp was conducted by Southwest Camps of Cisco, with Eris Ritchie as camp director. Instructional staff and program were supplied by the National Cheerleaders Association.

Cheerleaders were taught new cheers, stunts, chants and spirit ideas from a seven member NCA staff headed by Davonne Hunt, a professional cheerleading instructor from the NCA national headquarters in Dallas.

Attending from Knox City were Leah Rauch, Jennie Grindstaff, Ivy Maurer, Kim Bateman, and Mitzi Marion. While at camp, the girls received a superior rating on all five daily evaluations. In addition to the blue ribbons each day, they also earned a squad achievement award on Friday. The five girls were also chosen as nominees for the award of Excellence, given to the top squad at each camp.

Another award was the Spirit Stick Award on Tuesday and Friday, with the group being allowed to bring the award home on Friday.

On Thursday, Kim and Leah were selected to participate in a style show sponsored by Cheerleader Supply Company of Dallas.

Accompanying the Knox City squad was their sponsor, Debbie Harrington, who advised The Knox County News that the group really worked hard and deserved the awards they won at camp. Mrs. Harrington went on to say that she is very proud of the squad and their accomplishments.

The TCR is still considered the world's largest amateur rodeo, and each year the number of contestants continues to grow. Contestants are mostly working cowboys on the large and small spreads of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

In an effort to improve on the rodeo, several changes have been made this year. The Rocking K Championship Rodeo Co. will provide the stock. New clowns and new acts and new announcers have been contracted to make the show more entertaining. The world famous Hardin Simmons Cowboy Band will continue in tradition by providing the musical entertainment at the rodeo performances that begin at 8:00 p.m. each night.

The downtown parade on the square will kick off events for the 58th annual TCR on Wednesday, June 29 at 3:00 p.m. The theme for the parade is "Generosity in West Texas", and will recognize Shelley Smith, Administrator of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene and San Angelo, as the official parade marshall. Many riding clubs and sheriffs' posses from throughout the area, beautifully decorated floats in the commercial and institutional divisions, individual entries, antique cars, approximately 100 sponsors and hundreds of colorful cowgirls, cowboys and horses will be included.

Many of the country's top Western Artists will have their work displayed in the 15th annual Stamford Art Foundation Exhibit and Sale. The Gallery is open until 9:00 p.m. each evening.

Following the rodeo each night, western dances on the slab under the stars always attracts huge crowds of people of all ages to dance to the music of Jody Nix and "The Texas Cowboys".

These attractions plus an AQHA Quarter Horse Show, Old Timers' events, chuck wagon dinners and many more colorful traditions are all a part of the 58th annual Texas Cowboy Reunion.

For more information, please contact the Texas Cowboy Reunion at (915) 773-3614 or the Stamford Chamber of Commerce at (915) 773-2411.

Shea Stubbs Scholarship Recipient

Shea Stubbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stubbs of Knox City, was presented a $200.00 college scholarship Thursday evening, June 16, during the Knox County 4-H Fashion Show. The scholarship awarded each year by the Knox County Extension Homemakers Council will go toward Shea's college expenses as she enters Tarleton State University next month.

The seventeen year old youth plans to major in agriculture journalism due to her interest in agriculture and her enjoyment of journalism.

Shea has participated in the 4-H swine program and has been a member of the 4-H Horse Judging team. In 1987 she attended the 4-H Citizenship Washington Focus in Washington D.C.

Prior to graduation in May, Shea was also a member of FFA, FHA, Band, Golf Team, and a member of the Annual Staff. Shea is a member of the Knox City Church of Christ.

The presentation was made by Virginia Cary, president of the Knox County Extension Homemakers' Council.

STRESS AND ITS EFFECTS

Stress is a common event of everyday life and is related to the pressures everyone faces from day to day. No one is free from stress.

Babies as young as eight months of age can detect stress in their mothers and show signs of depression as a result. Only in death does one have freedom from complete stress.

Excessive stress stems from meeting the demands of family, maintaining a household or work. Sudden expenses, unemployment, sickness and death can also produce unexpected pressures.

However, some pressure serves as motivation to get things done. Stress is like medication: the right dose is good for you, but too much can be a poison.

Like poison, stress also affects the health. The body may signal the mind that stress levels are too high. The signals should be listened to before serious conditions such as emphysema, ulcers, colitis or a heart attack develop.

Some of these health signals include:

- * quickened heart beat
- * increase in hormones produced by the adrenal glands
- * increased circulation
- * increased lung activity
- * High blood pressure
- * full energy as a result of glucose in the muscles and brain
- * improved muscle function
- * acceleration in blood clotting mechanisms
- * improved hearing and eyesight
- * cold hands and feet
- * suspension of digestive processes resulting in indigestion.

Everyone reacts to stress differently, so there are different ways of managing stress. Breathing deeply to improve oxygen intake, exercising, or taking an imaginary 10 minute mind vacation to a peaceful place are all helpful methods of relieving stress. Talking to someone about the problem can also help.

Abuse of alcohol or drugs can worsen stress. In the long run, you have to get over both the stress and the side effects.

Since stress cannot be avoided, there are things a person can do to minimize the effects of it. Eating right; getting enough sleep; allowing time for relaxation and organizing personal life, home, or work area can all be helpful.

Benjamin News

By Gladene Green

Wasn't the rain nice? It sure has cooled the temperature and helped people's dispositions a lot! Haven't had the official amount but whatever it was, it sure came at a good time and a whole lot more just like it wouldn't hurt a bit. But any amount is needed and we are very thankful for it.

We still have several on our sick list. I visited Sue Moorhouse in the Seymour Hospital on Saturday. She's in good spirits but is low on energy as chemotherapy always leaves folks. It's a wonderful thing but the side effects are sometimes not too pleasant. Anyway if Sue gets to feeling stronger, she hopes to return home the first of the week.

Bill Benson finally finished his tests and got all the results. He's doing fine except for a few suspicious cells and they plan to give him another round of chemo. He goes into the hospital today (Monday) for a couple of days for his treatments.

Bill Pierce underwent surgery Friday in the Seymour Hospital. He is doing fine and should be able to leave the hospital in a couple of days.

Grace Snailum was able to come to the Care Home in Knox City Wednesday. I visited her today and she seems to be feeling better but is weak so will remain there until she's stronger. Also visited Audrey Nolan and Lona Feemster. They are doing o.k. and are always glad when folks "drop in" on them for a visit.

MORE ABOUT HOMECOMING

In writing about the Homecoming parade last week, I forgot to tell you who won in the overall entry category. 3rd place went to the Junior High Cheerleaders; 2nd - the Church float; 1st - went to the "Little Ole Hens" H.D. Club. Congratulations to all these people and I apologize for missing you last week.

RETURN FROM VACATION

Kenneth and Jessie Roberts and granddaughters, Rebekah Duke of Benjamin and Trisha Roberts of O'Brien, returned home Monday after a 10 day trip to Woodbridge, Virginia to visit with the Roberts' son and his family, Bill, Sue, Kevin and Jennifer. They went at this time to attend Kevin's graduation from High School. He was one among 700 who graduated. His plans are to attend the University of Texas in the fall.

The Roberts and the girls did some sight seeing both going and coming from Virginia and reported a wonderful trip.

LOCAL'S GRANDSON RECEIVES HONOR

Brad Cunningham, a student at Amarillo College, received two collegiate awards recently from the United States Achievement Academy.

Cunningham has been named a collegiate All American and was a United States National Collegiate Award winner in Criminal Justice. He will appear in the scholastic All-American Collegiate Directory and the United States Achievement Academy official Collegiate Yearbook, both published nationally.

The academy selects USAA winners

upon exclusive recommendation of professors, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the standards of selection set forth by the Academy. To be eligible for nomination, a student must have a 3.30 or larger grade average and have leadership qualities and possess responsibility, motivation, enthusiasm and desire to improve and learn, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and receive recommendation from a professor and director. Young Cunningham was nominated by Professor Lee Bradshaw of Amarillo College.

Brad is the son of Tommy and Willa Kilgore of San Antonio and is a 1983 graduate of Hereford High School.

His grandmother, Ozelle Kilgore resides in Benjamin and he is also the grandson of the late Herbert and Mary (Jack) Cunningham of Munday.

FAMILY GET TOGETHER

The Sunday following Homecoming June 19, the brothers and sisters and a few other relatives of the late Pate Meinzer met at Earlene's for a get together. Lots of visiting and a covered dish lunch was enjoyed by the following: Nela Beth Swanner, Tyler; Claudia Rentrop, San Augustine; Lewis and Mattie Lou Meinzer, Childress; Doug and Bobbye Meinzer, Knox City; Betty Meinzer, Hale Center; Gene and Sandra House, Arlington; Don and Wanda Joyce Jennings, Wichita Falls and Tommy Benson and Lance, Abilene.

Also dropping by to visit were Rick and Patsy Meinzer and Trapper and Wyman, Sarah, Hunter and Pate Meinzer.

FIREMEN ASKS CO-OPERATION

Dennis Duke, local fire chief, has asked me to ask each of you to be especially careful this Fourth of July weekend with fireworks. The rains have helped but after a few days of sun and wind the vegetation will dry considerably and the potential for fire will be very great. Refraining from fireworks altogether is the best answer but if you do set any off, please be careful.

HERE 'N THERE

Odessa Cox had quite a houseful for Homecoming. Visiting here were Jim and Nelda Cox and sons of De Soto, Harry and Earlene Cox of College Station, Larry and Glenda Cox Bearly, Erie, Colorado, Charles and Reba Cox Morrell, Humble, Dale and Glenda Cox, Harlingen, John and Barbara Jones, Corpus Christi, Lance and Joyce Poe, Seymour, Ada Bell Benge, Seymour and Sara Glaze, Wichita Falls.

Visiting Buster and Louella Tolson Homecoming weekend were Gertrude Sams Jones of Lawton, Oklahoma and Tommie Sue Sams Bishop of Shallowater.

Claude Elmer Jennings of O'Dell was here also for the Homecoming activities.

Homer T. and Kathleen Melton who are presently residing in Lubbock spent the weekend at their home here in Benjamin.

I spent the weekend in Munday and enjoyed a family dinner with both girls and their families in the home of Rick and Diane Herring. On Sunday the occasion was my birthday! Which one? Take a guess!! Did have a very enjoyable day and a delicious meal!!

Visiting James and Jimmie Klutts Homecoming weekend were her sister and brother-in-law, Jean and Roel Galloway of Sherman and her mother, Opal McLain of Leonard. Mrs. McLain remained for a longer visit.

Rex and Maretha Patterson visited her sister and family, the Johnny Hertels in Fillmore, Oklahoma a few days recently.

Beckie Taylor of Munday visited her grandmother, Gladene Green, several days last week.

Dutch and Imagean Young, Dee Ann Lamb and Anthony and Billy Carl and Kathy Benson and family attended the Young family reunion at Possum Kingdom Lake during the weekend.

Homecoming weekend guests of Randy and Dorothy Hibdon, Chrystal and A.R. were Betty Hibdon and grandsons Michael and Nicholas Hibdon who reside in Oklahoma, Lois Goldon of Seymour, Mary Ann Paxton, Karen and Lynda Benson of Slaton, Connie Harvey and Paula of Haskell, Sarrah Golden, Justin, Jennifer, Theodore and Andrew and Jimmie Burrell of Olney, Linda, Steve, and Matthew Kearns of Seymour, Michael Golden and Bob Golden of Fort Worth and Billy Golden of Reno.

Charlie and Audie Snailum came from Wichita Falls to help place Grace Snailum in the Care Home. Bonita Pyatt met them to stay for a while to get her mother settled.

Visiting in the Snailum home over the past few days were Bonita's husband, Bob Pyatt; her son, Mike Pyatt; his wife, Patti; Brad and Mary, who are enroute to their new home in Marietta, Georgia. Mike is a Major in the U.S. Army and has just completed his Master's in Music at Northwestern University in Chicago, Illinois. He will be the Director of the Army Band at Fort McPherson, Georgia.

Also visiting their grandmother over the weekend was Tamie Bryan and her son Brinton and daughter Halston of Lubbock and Rodney Pyatt of Lubbock.

Friday, Charlotte Kelly and Sara Snailum from Abilene visited their grandmother in the Care Home.

Jane's News Notes

WHEN TO CALL YOUR CHILD'S PHYSICIAN

At one time or another, every child has some kind of physical trauma—a cut on the head, a broken arm, a wasp sting. Amid the flowing tears, parents have to decide whether to call the doctor, make a trip to the emergency room or treat the child at home.

If you don't feel confident about such decisions, consider some ways to gain competence and confidence in handling these situations. Reading a good book on children's health and family medical care is a start. Taking a first aid course and a course on cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) will also help equip you for emergencies.

Understand that some situations require an urgent call to your child's doctor, while others can wait for regular office hours. But don't worry about making a mistake in deciding which is urgent and which is not. If you're in doubt, frightened or seriously concerned, call immediately.

The medical experts tell us that urgent situations include the following:

- *Losing consciousness.
- *Any ingesting of a known or suspected toxic substance. You can also get help from a Poison Control Center. Here is the number for our area 409-765-1420, be sure and write it down by the phone. (This is a toll call).
- *Impairment of breathing accompanied by a change in color of the skin, including the lips, fingertips or general skin surface.
- *Bleeding from nose that cannot be stopped, or bleeding from the mouth, ear or bowel.
- *Temperature of 103 degrees or above.
- *An accident in which you suspect damage to the head, back or limbs.
- *Persistent vomiting beyond a two-hour period.

Parents can't be prepared for everything, but they can learn enough to handle minor illnesses and injuries and know which situations require a trip to the doctor.

SLOW COOKER SAFETY

How safe is food prepared in a slow cooker? If it's done properly, slow cooking is safe. The potential problem in using a cooker is the time it takes the pot to heat to bacteria-killing temperatures, which is generally about two hours.

For tasty—and safe—slow-cooked dishes, remember these precautions:

- *Keep perishable foods refrigerated until you're ready to use them. Refrigeration prevents rapidly reproducing bacteria from getting a head start in the two hour danger period.

*Don't use frozen meat or poultry. It takes longer for frozen foods to reach bacteria-killing temperatures. Using frozen meat or poultry can also result in undercooking since the cooking times given in most recipes are based on thawed ingredients.

*Don't overload the cooker. Portions of meat or vegetables rising above the cooking area won't fully cook. Also, when too much food is stuffed into the pot, it will take longer to cook it thoroughly. Since overloading can delay cooking and make thorough cooking uncertain, it raises the chance of bacterial growth.

*Don't use a cooker for large cuts of meat, like a roast. Even after the pot reaches temperatures hot enough to destroy bacteria on the roast's outside, it'll take longer for these temperatures to penetrate to the center of the roast. As a result, it may be undercooked.

*Don't use a slow cooker to heat leftovers. They need to be reheated at high temperature to kill bacteria. Reheating leftovers in the cooker spells danger because the pot doesn't heat fast enough.

BACK CARE

It may surprise you to learn that you can hurt your back even when you're sound asleep, since certain lying down positions put stress on your lower back.

As with sitting, standing and all other waking activities, it's important to avoid a swayback posture when sleeping or lying down. That's why sleeping face down on your stomach or sleeping on your back with your legs straight can be bad for your back. Both of these lying down postures tend to cause your lower back to curve into a swayback position.

There are two recommended sleeping postures. The preferred one is to sleep on your side, both arms in front, with your knees and hips bent so your body is in a partially curled up position. Some people are most comfortable in this position with a pillow between their knees. The pillow helps to prevent the top leg from dropping forward over the bottom leg which causes your back to twist.

Lying on your back is also an acceptable sleeping position if your legs and knees are slightly bent and raised. You can do this by putting one or two pillows under your knees. Raising the knees and legs helps flatten out the lower back and prevents swayback.

Your mattress should be firm. Sagging mattresses spell trouble because your back won't have proper support. If your mattress isn't firm you can put a board under it to help give your back support.

And use a pillow just large enough to fit the space between your head and the mattress, so that your head is in line with your spine, and not tilted either up or down.

SETTING DYES

There are a variety of "home remedies" for setting dyes in fabrics. The two most popular methods recommend using salt water or vinegar. These methods probably have their origins in the old dying processes where salt was used in the dyeing procedures for cotton and linen, and vinegar was used during the dyeing of wool.

The University of Nebraska recently investigated a variety of these treatments. They concluded that none of the treatments were effective and that some actually increased the amount of color loss in the fabrics following laundering.

Contrary to the results of the University of Nebraska Study, here is a home remedy that claims to set dye in denim: 1 cup table salt - 1 cup white apple cider vinegar.

Place new fabric in machine and fill with hot water (as hot as possible) add salt and vinegar and run fabric through the normal washing cycle. You may want to add some fabric softener at the appropriate time. Dry the fabric as you normally would. Once you have set your dye, never put the fabric back in hot water, launder it in cold.

Now if you're curious about the validity of the home remedies, try it for yourself!

Streams In Desert Places By Ozelle Stephens

The love of God is greater far than tongue or pen can ever tell. It goes beyond the highest star and reaches to the lowest hell. It doesn't matter where you are or in what circumstance you find yourself you cannot go beyond His love and care. It is in the beautiful sunshine that shines upon you. It is in the cooling breeze that blows upon you. It is the spirit that gives you breath. The only way you can keep it out of your life is to close your hearts door and refuse to answer the tender knock. You can refuse to let Him and sup with you and you with Him. When you do this, you refuse the sweet peace and joy that He longs to give you, yea the eternal life that he bought for you with His own life upon the cross of Calvary. Stop, consider His great love. Ask and He will give to you. Seek and you will find Him more glorious and wonderful than tongue and pen can ever tell.

ONION AND POTATO STORAGE

As harvest of onions and potatoes in home gardens and commercial fields is being completed, there are a few things you can do to keep vegetables longer.

The first thing to do is remove all loose dirt with a brush but avoid damage to onions. The bacteria found in soil can cause deterioration of the onions. Cut roots off the onions to be sure onions are free of soil.

Onions will store for 2-3 months if kept in the crisper of the refrigerator. Other onions should be stored in a dry cool place with low humidity. Temperatures should remain about 80-90 degrees. My wife, Amy, offered a good tip to me a few years back that her family did. Amy suggested to me to use old pantyhose to store onions. The hose will hold many onions and can be tied in the limbs of trees, garages or other storage areas. If onions are small, knots should be tied between onions to avoid contact with other onions.

To store potatoes, it is best to keep in total darkness, a cellar or storage shed will be best. Allow potatoes to be accessible to air so deterioration will not occur. Potatoes should be stored at 85 degrees.

If potatoes are constantly exposed to light, the vegetable will turn green and is not digestible to humans.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, handicap, religion, or national origin.

MRS. DAVID LEON ROYE

Miss Jones, Roye Wed In Bride's Parents Home

Sarah Jane Jones and David Leon Roye exchanged marriage vows Saturday evening, June 25, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jean Jones, 908 South Fourth in Knox City.

The Rev. James Patterson, United Methodist minister, performed the seven o'clock ceremony beneath an archway covered with peach and beige silk flowers and greenery.

Roye is the son of Mrs. Thelma Roye of Midland and the late Dr. James Paul Roye.

The bride's mother provided the wedding professional at the piano.

Kendal Cagle of Wichita Falls sang "The Lord's Prayer" acapella during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a gown from the Jessica McClintock collection in linen and lace. The gown featured a high Victorian neckline and full sleeves which tapered at the elbow and were buttoned with pearls. A large bow complemented the back of the gown as did a bustle effect. The bride carried a arm bouquet of spring flowers in shades of peach and yellow with streamers.

Attending the bride were Alisha Haigood of Wichita Falls, maid of honor; and Nancy Jones Huber, the bride's twin sister, matron of honor. They were attired in peach tea length gowns with gathers at the waistline and back of the hem. They also carried arm bouquets of spring flowers similar to that of the bride's.

Darius Slovacek of Dallas was best man. The bridegroom's brother, Jim Roye of Midland, was groomsmen. They wore black tuxedos, white shirts and black cummerbunds, as did the bridegroom.

The reception followed the ceremony. The serving table was covered with an imported cloth brought from China by the bride's father to his mother, the late Mrs. Emma Jean Jones. The three-tiered Italian cream cake was topped with a bridal couple and scattered with sweet peas and roses. Crystal and silver appointments were used. The bouquets of the bride and her attendants centered the refreshment table. Serving were

The major factors in choosing to attend college in Vernon were convenience and costs; however, Edward has been extremely pleased with the friendly and caring faculty at VRJC. He has received assistance through the scholarship, Pell Grant and Carl Perkins Work Study programs. He has been able to get on the jobtraining by working in the VRJC computer labs. When he leaves VRJC, he plans to work in his field while continuing his education part time.

Options for Health

by
Dr. Scott White

DR. SCOTT WHITE is offered as a public service by Scott and White Memorial Hospital and Clinic in Temple.

Q. I know loud noises can cause hearing loss, but are there other ways that someone can lose their hearing?

A. Yes, there are several ways someone might experience hearing loss. These include medical problems, heredity, noise (as you noted), drugs, viral diseases, accidents and tumors.

Medical problems: Children develop hearing problems (usually medically or surgically treatable) such as fluid behind the eardrum. Many adult hearing problems may also be eliminated through proper medical care and surgical care. For example, a plug of wax or foreign object in the ear canal can be removed to eliminate the problem and restore hearing. Otitis media, a middle-ear-bone fixation problem, is many times treated surgically.

Heredity: The "genetic clock" is responsible for many hearing losses. A family history of hearing loss oc-curing at age 55 increases the possibility of family members having a hearing difficulty at age 55.

Noise Exposure: As you said, exposure to excessive noise causes hearing loss. Noises which damage hearing include gunfire, firecrackers, farm machinery, motorcycles, chain saws, power tools, lawn mowers, loud music, etc. The use of good ear protection is recommended whenever you will be exposed to excessive noise. Ear plugs or muffs help prevent hearing deterioration.

Drugs: Certain drugs are harmful to hearing, but are used only when less potent drugs are ineffective. A temporary hearing loss and ringing in the ears may be caused by aspirin. However, once discontinued, hearing returns.

Accidents: Head fractures may injure the hearing nerve or damage the middle-ear mechanism of hearing.

Tumors: Tumors or growths on the hearing nerve, brain or in the middle ear, may impair hearing.

Q. I recently heard of a new procedure called MRI. Can you explain the procedure and its benefits?

A. MRI stands for magnetic resonance imaging, a major new technological advance in diagnostic imaging. MRI offers significant advantages to your physician in seeking answers to particular clinical questions.

Magnetic resonance imaging is a diagnostic technology that produces images by using a magnetic field and radiofrequency waves. The radio waves cause the protons of hydrogen atoms to resonate or shift their orientation within the magnetic field. When the radio waves are turned off, the protons return to their original alignment with the magnetic field. These shifts create a signal which is received by antennae and analyzed by a computer to produce remarkably detailed images.

MRI allows physicians to examine you without having to perform surgery, which is a comfort for many patients. There are very few restrictions for MRI, and it is considered virtually risk free for all patients, except those with certain metallic implants and extensive life support systems. A very small percentage of patients may have surgical implants such as a pacemaker or artificial heart valves which would prevent them from having a MRI examination.

Q. My wife and I have decided to not have any more children. Therefore, I am thinking about getting a vasectomy. I have two questions. One—what advantages does a vasectomy have over other forms of birth control? And two—will my "manhood" be affected?

A. For men, the most common permanent sterilization method is vasectomy, which is the surgical interruption of the sperm-carrying tubes (vas deferens). Sperm are then effectively blocked from reaching the urethra. Approximately 500,000 men have a vasectomy each year.

Vasectomies have several advantages over other forms of birth control including:

1. The operation is permanent and future precautions are not needed.
2. It is safe and surgically simple with a minimum of side effects and complications.
3. Future health hazards have not been proven.
4. It is economical when compared to many years' cost of other contraceptive measures.
5. Short surgery and recovery time with minimal discomfort.
6. Fewer risks than other contraceptive measures.
7. The procedure is performed as an outpatient, which eliminates a hospital stay.

Following the operation, there is no change in sexual performance, so your "manhood" should not be affected. The ability to have an erection and satisfactory intercourse with orgasm and ejaculation is maintained. Since sperm occupies only a small portion of the semen, the volume of ejaculation is almost the same. Some couples even say their sex life is improved because the fear of producing a pregnancy is gone.

Putting Things Into Perspective

Although the public perceives cancer as more serious than cardiovascular disease, consider the following:

Your chance of contracting AIDS (assuming you and your partner are heterosexual and you don't shoot illicit drugs into your veins):
1 in 1,000,000

Your chance of being struck by lightning:
1 in 600,000

Your chance of being murdered:
1 in 10,000

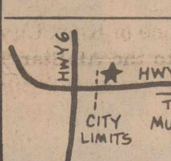

Your chance of dying in a car accident:
1 in 5,000

Your chance of dying of cardiovascular disease:
1 in 2

June 27, 1988

The livestock auction at Haskell had a big run of area cattle last week as cattle owners began to sell off cows as the drought got worse, but on Saturday night a general rain which reached two inches in some places, gave livestock owners a little relief. It was a grass saver and should help feed and cotton (if the cotton was planted) but the tanks caught very little from the Saturday night rain. Sunday was pleasantly cloudy and Monday morning there was a fog. Monday was the first time in a long time that there has been enough moisture for a fog.

Vula and Derrell Hord's grandson, Chad from Corsicana, will be staying with them for the next two weeks. Their daughter-in-law, Dottie is recovering from a foot amputation. Dottie is a diabetic and the surgery was the result of a foot injury. Vula reports she is in good spirits.

Emily Gray spent the weekend with her grandparents, Newell and June Looney.

Mike New, the grandson of Owen and Irene New from Haskell, filled the pulpit at the Gilliland Baptist Church Sunday in the absence of Brother Barton. He told about a missionary trip to Brazil last summer with 76 other Texas Baptists.

Letter To The Editor

Box 44
Knox City, Texas 79529
June 26, 1988

Mrs. Stacy A. Thompson
Editor/Publisher,
The Knox County News
Drawer 9
Knox City, Texas 79529

Dear Stacy:

I am appalled that I, and evidently a lot of other people have sat meekly for almost seven months waiting for decent water in our town. I am humiliated every time I take a bath, brush my teeth, wash my dishes, do my laundry, etc., because the odor is so bad. I wonder what visitors think if they drive down the streets with their car windows open when residents are watering their yards. One can "smell" who has a well and who is using City water.

I believed the lake "turning over" story for a while, but I finally gave up on that. Nothing could make the water turn this long unless Nessie has come from Scotland for a visit to Miller Lake!

Since I hadn't heard other people complain about the vile tasting, smelly water, I decided the trouble was only in my pipes. Last week, I took a sample of my water to City Hall where the City Secretary and the City Manager assured me it is not just my problem. Neither they nor the Mayor could tell me what is wrong, but they did agree there is a problem. Other "City Father" types like to say the odor and taste are fine and there is no problem.

Does Knox City have a WATERgate? It seems to me we are living with a great hoax. Something very bad is wrong, but there has been a terrific cover-up. I suggest to the citizens and the "Power-That-Be" of Knox City that it is long past time to contract a water engineer to come here, determine the problem and correct it.

Sincerely,
DeAlva Marshall

Worleys Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. L.V. Worley have recently returned home from a two-week vacation through the eastern states. They accompanied Jewell's brother and his wife, "Twister" and Joyce Dotson of Carthage for the trip that took them through Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Missouri.

Jewell said they enjoyed several good shows while in Branson, Missouri, and especially enjoyed Jakell Island in Georgia. She reported the scenery was beautiful and the trip "wonderful", but said, "Texas surely did look good coming home, especially the highways!"

MRS. WAYNE EUGENE HUTCHINSON
...the former Kelly Lauren Earp

Couple Repeat Saturday Vows In Weinert Baptist Church

On Saturday, June 25, 1988 Kelly Lauren Earp became the bride of Wayne Eugene Hutchinson at First Baptist Church in Weinert. The Reverend Steve Peace of First Baptist Church in Rotan officiated the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Earp of Weinert. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hutchinson of Knox City are the bridegroom's parents.

The sanctuary was decorated with a candle brass arch flanked by a unity candle table and greenery. The table held three large brass candlesticks bearing the white unity candles. Fantasia and several potted azaleas completed the altar setting. Small branches decorated with flowers, bows, and birds in the bride's chosen color accented each window. Pews were marked with rhubrum lillies, gypsophilia, and greenery.

Trish Horny, college roommate of the bride, of San Antonio registered guests at a table laid with cerise glitter satin topped with a crystalline ruffled cloth.

The bride wore an original gown of white glitter satin overlaid with crystalline which was designed by herself and handsewn by the bride's mother. The bodice featured a scalloped neckline and dropped, scalloped waistline embellished with imported re-embroidered alencon lace, irridescents, and pearls. The off-shoulder puff sleeves were accented by curled crystalline ruffles. The full gathered skirt featured an over skirt of crystalline edged with ruffles along the hemline draping the sides of the skirt to create an apron effect. Scalloped re-embroidered lace embellished with irridescents and pearls topped the ruffled hemline. The cathedral train was overlaid in rows of curled crystalline ruffles. The bride wore a satin hat accented with a spray of white flowers, pearl loops, and a pouf of tulle strewn with tiny seed pearls forming a fingertip veil. She carried a free-form bouquet of white silk gardenias, azaleas, and satin roses, cerise morning glories, cerise honeysuckle, and English ivy enhanced with irridescents and lace ribbons and seed pearl sprays.

For something old, the bride chose an antique gold bracelet belonging to her mother. A strand of pearls belonging to the bridegroom's great-grandmother was borrowed. The traditional blue garter was given to the bride by her college roommate. Pennies minted in the birth years of the couple were worn inside her shoes.

Pianist Pam Gibson and organist Sandy King provided musical selections. As the candles were lighted by the bride's cousins, Tad and Del Smith of Panhandle, Randy McLelland sang "Wind Beneath My Wings", accompanying himself on guitar. The mothers of the couple were escorted by their sons to the altar to light the unity candles as Cindy Guess sang "Through the Eyes of Love." The bride's mother chose a mauve gown accented with a beadwork belt and pearls. A peacock blue gown was worn by the bridegroom's mother which featured a self belt adorned with rhinestones. Both wore orchid corsages.

Karen Harlan of Weinert, was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mindy Hutchinson, sister of the bridegroom of San Angelo; Stacia Leach of Haskell, Linda Wade of Abilene, and Darla Griffis, Laurie Hester, and Amy Castillo, all of Weinert. They wore formal gowns of cerise glitter satin with dropped, scalloped waistlines, scoop necklines, and curled ruffles over each shoulder, fashioned by the bride's mother. Each carried nosegays of silk mums, lillies, and azaleas in shades of the chosen color and wore hair combs of cerise ribbon and pearl loops.

Serving his brother as best man was Chuck Hutchinson of Dayton. Groomsmen were Kevin Eaton of Abilene, Matt Reid of Waco, Tyke Meizer of Knox City, Steve Howard of Zephyr, Ronnie Casey of San Angelo, and Arnie Joe Pharr, cousin of the bridegroom of Knox City. Ushers for the ceremony were Johnny Earp IV, brother of the bride, of Munday, Tad and Del Smith, and Arnie Joe Pharr.

The bridegroom chose a black tuxedo with tails, white pleated shirt with black studs, white bowtie and vest. Groomsmen also wore black tuxedos, white shirts with black studs, cerise bowties and cummerbunds. All wore boutonnières of minuet roses and gypsophilia.

Jeremy Harlan, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. He was dressed identical to the bridegroom and carried a glitter satin ring pillow which was made by the bride's mother and sister.

Krystal Hutchinson, niece of the bridegroom, and Lynzie Harlan, niece of the bride, carried white baskets of rose petals decorated with cerise ribbons, bows, and lace. They wore formal gowns of cerise glitter satin with front dropped waistlines, ruffled shoulders, and back bow sashes. Loops of cerise ribbon and pearls adorned their hair.

Cindy Guess and Randy McLelland sang duets of "To Me," "One Hand, One Heart," and "Endless Love" during the ceremony. As the couple lit their unity candle "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do" was sung by the duet. Following the ceremony, pink balloon bouquets lined the roadside to the home of Melanie and Bob Wood of Weinert, where the reception was held. The home was decorated in the bride's chosen color with a handmade heart wreath, windsocks, hanging baskets, yard candles, flowers, and brass accents.

A three-tiered cake, decorated with fresh azalea blossoms, sat above a cascading fountain of cerise pink upon a large brass tray. The strawberry cream cheese cake was served with brass and crystal appointments. The bride's table was laid with a crystalline cloth over white. Pink ice cream punch was served from a brass punch bowl. Centerpiece of the table featured a Precious Moments wedding party figurine. The centerpiece was designed and created by the bride's sister. Cream cheese mints and peanuts also were served. Assisting at the bride's table was Kelly Powers of Panhandle, Renee Casey of San Angelo and Donna Griffis of Weinert.

The bridegroom's table was covered in a natural linen cloth accented with two smaller ecru hand crocheted lace tablecloths. A footed brass bowl held an arrangement of fresh fruit and greenery. Red velvet cake, holding an arrangement of hand-dipped chocolate strawberries was served along with individual chocolate strawberries, toasted almonds, and pink mints. Serving were Ila Kay Gross, cousin of the bridegroom of Knox City; Becky Underwood of Knox City; and Kelly Hutchinson, sister-in-law of the bridegroom of Dayton. An ornate brass samovar coffee service was used.

The buffet table of assorted finger foods, fresh fruits and vegetables with dips, was appointed with crystal and brass, and accented with a footed brass candelabra. A crystal punch bowl of Dr Pepper was served from a brass tea cart on the patio. Hostess Melanie Wood was assisted by Dorethy Harrison, Wanda Hester, Wanda Vojkufka, Linda Adams, Alice Yates, and Mrs. J.N. Stewart Jr.

Shanna Murphy of Weinert and Angela Peace of Rotan distributed wedding scrolls, programs, and cerise roses filled with birdseed.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at the Shamrock Cafe in Munday Friday night.

The bride, a 1986 graduate of Weinert High School is a junior at Angelo State University majoring in elementary education. She is employed by Texas Bank of Commerce in San Angelo.

The bridegroom, a senior physical education major at Angelo State, is a 1984 graduate of Knox City High School. He is employed by Ethicon, Inc. in San Angelo.

Carriker: It's Time To Talk Issues

(Roby) State Representative Steve Carriker, Democratic Nominee for the recently vacated 30th District Senate seat, surprised his Republican opposition by actually showing up to accept an "award" that the Republican said he was giving Carriker earlier this week. An embarrassed Bobby Albert III declined to turn over his homemade "left wing" award to Carriker and left the Abilene press conference without responding to reporters questions.

While Albert had called the press conference to criticize Representative Carriker's record on taxes, Albert refused to say how he would have handled last session's budget crisis differently.

Afterward Representative Carriker said that the voters are best served by both candidates appearing together to respond to the same questions on the same issues so that the public can make an informed decision. "It's time to drop the name-calling and talk issues," Carriker said. "The Republican should trash his canned speeches and phony awards. He should come out from behind Bill Clement's political consultant and stand up on his own to give some straight answers about important issues like education, health care, the economy, and the budget."

The Carriker campaign has already given its okay to a public forum in Wichita Falls and a televised debate to be carried by an Abilene station. "I hope Bobby will agree to these public appearances before his schedule gets too 'busy,'" commented Carriker.
