MAJORITY ASK FOR IMMEDIATE PAYMENT

First Bonds Received Here Monday; Practically All Are Delivered. A belated pay-day, long the dreams of veterans of the World War, became a reality this week throughout the whole United States, when adjusted service bonds under terms of an act passed by the last Congress. In Haskell county, an estimated 500 veterans will receive the certificates, in amounts ranging from $50 to $1500, although the latter figure will be rare, as most veterans borrowed against their adjusted compensation in 1931. Figures issued from the state adjutants office in Austin recently estimated that approximately $240,000 would be received by ex-service men in Haskell county.

Spot Was First!

R. L. (Spot) Lemmon, genial clerk in Hunt's Store, was the first ex-soldier to be handed his bonds by assistant postmaster Branch Monday, and immediately sprinted across the hall to certify them for payment before Postmaster Diggs, who had set up an office across from the Legion Hall. Only about 100 of the registered parcels had been received by the local postoffice Wednesday at noon, and of this number ninety had been delivered. Average amount of payment was $400.

$31,350 in Bonds Certified

At least ninety per cent of the recipients are asking for immediate payment, the postmaster stated, $31,350 worth of bonds having been certified and sent in to Dallas for payment up to Wednesday night. Along with the parcels of "baby bonds" in denominations of $50, came Uncle Sam's check for any amount under that sum due the veteran. Smallest check noted was for $6c, and the largest was $48.60, it was said.

Much good-natured banter was engaged in between "buddies" as they proudly thumbed through their bonds and exhibited them. "How do you rate that much, buddy? You never did anything but shoot craps all the time you were in the service!" "Oh, yeah? Well, if you'd paid for everything you stole from the Quartermaster, they'd pay you off with a postage stamp!" A well-known Haskell negro, who spent several years in the service, timidly made his way into the Legion Hall and inquired, "Mistuh Branch, did mah bonus come?" Answered in the affirmative, the dusky veteran heaved a great sigh of relief and almost shouted: "Come on, Nineteenth! A'm gonna be ready to celebrate!"

Members and visitors of the O'Brien Home Demonstration Club were very graciously entertained in the home of Mrs. O. S. Johnston on June 10. Better Beds and Bedrooms was the theme of the program.

It is good to have cross ventilation in bedrooms and for a bed to be comfortable there should be a slat under each row of coils in the springs. Light weight covers, either wool or feather comforts are much more satisfactory than several cotton quilts for covering and less expensive.

SARAH ANN'S COOKING CLASS

"If you want to be pretty, eat carrots," how often have we heard this remark. There is a good deal of truth in this saying, as carrots contain many good qualities that have a direct bearing on good health. Many delicious dishes may be prepared by combining carrots with other vegetables. Try the following and see for yourself:

Carrot and Mushroom Loaf
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons shortening
3 tablespoons flour
1-8 teaspoon white pepper
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup cooked diced carrots
1-2 cup cooked diced mushrooms.
4 eggs.
Thin slices of cooked carrots cut lengthwise.

Make a cream sauce of the first five ingredients; cool slightly before adding the well drained diced carrots and mushrooms. Beat the eggs and fold into the mixture. Turn into a greased bread pan which has been lined with the long slices of carrots. Set the pan in hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm. Serve immediately with mushrooms and celery sauce.

Carrots and String Beans au Gratin
3 cups cooked string beans
3 cups sliced cooked carrots
3 tablespoons fat or margarine
1 small onion minced.
3 tablespoons flour
3-4 cup soft bread crumbs
1-2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup grated American cheese
2 eggs beaten slightly

Prepare the string beans and carrots. Melt 3 tablespoons of the fat in a saucepan and add the minced onion and cook it until tender. Then add the flour and stir until smooth. Next add the milk, salt, pepper and cheese and continue cooking while stirring constantly, until the sauce is thickened. Remove from the heat and pour it over the eggs, beaten slightly. Arrange the string beans, carrots, and sauce in alternate layers in a greased casserole. Top with the bread crumbs which have been buttered. Bake in an oven 350 degrees until set, about 30 minutes.

Creole Carrots
Cook young carrots in boiling salted water until tender but not soft. Remove seeds and fibre from a green pepper. Cut carrots, green pepper and a pimiento in thin strips. Heat a little fat in frying pan, add carrots and green pepper and cook slowly 10 minutes. Do not brown. Add pimiento and salt and pepper to taste. Mix well. When ready to serve sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Fricassee of Carrots
Select young carrots of similar size, sufficient to make 1 pound. Trim and lightly scrape them. Heat 1-4 cup of olive oil with 1 tablespoon of scraped onion in a pan, and when the onion begins to change color, add the carrots and let cook for 10 minutes, keeping them turned so that they will be evenly browned. Add to the pan 3 tablespoons of four, stir smooth, then add 1 cup each of brown stock and strained tomato pulp. Let simmer slowly for 10 to 15 minutes. Serve in the center of a border of rice on a hot platter.

Carrot and Celery Salad With Peanut Dressing
Cut cold cooked carrots in thin strips and mix with an equal quantity of crisp celery, cut in small pieces. Serve on lettuce with peanut dressing, made by whipping 4 tablespoons peanut butter into 1 cup cooked salad dressing.

Carrot Timbales
1-2 cup bread crumbs
1-2 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
1-2 teaspoon sugar
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon parsley
2 eggs
1-2 cups grated carrot
Cook bread crumbs and milk until thickened. Add butter, sugar, salt, pepper and parsley. Beat eggs until light and add with grated carrot to first mixture. Turn into greased molds. Place molds in a shallow pan and fill pan with hot water to within 1 inch of the top of the molds. Bake in an oven 325 degrees until firm. As soon as they are done, they are removed from the pan of water, a small pointed knife is slipped around the edge and they are inverted on a hot serving dish. They should slip out easily, but if they hesitate, just tap the mold gently on bottom and sides. Pour creamed

15,000 in Premiums For Livestock at Frontier Centennial

Premiums totaling $75,000 are offered to exhibitors of livestock at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial livestock show, October 1-11. This is the largest amount of premium money ever offered at a livestock show in the southwest, and most of the classes open to nation wide competition.

This premium money will be distributed among owners of registered Herefords, Shorthorns and Aberdeen-Angus breeding cattle, and of fat steers, sheep and carcases of feeder cattle, sheep and goats, dairy cattle, three year olds, Percherons and Belgian horses, jacks, mules, swine, pigeons, rabbits and grain hay.

This is to be the official livestock show for the celebration commemorating the founding of Fort Worth, 100 years. General Manager John B. Davis and livestock manager D. G. Talbot, were able to secure the breed organizations of the three major beef breeds, Herefords, Shorthorns and Aberdeen-Angus, to hold their annual shows for 1938 as part of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial.

The liberal premium money and the added honor of winning at the Centennial show is certain to bring the individuals from the most important breeding establishments throughout the United States to compete in this show when it opens on October 1.

Part of the show will be held in new buildings and a new unit from the Fort Worth Centennial celebration scheduled to open July 1, which include the horse show, and World Championship rodeo.

The auction sales will be an attraction. Present plans for the sale of most classes are through the auction ring. The sale of at least 50 carload of feeder selected from the herds in the Southwest. The cattle sale coming at the end when Corn Belt buyers are in supplies for the winter should prove attractive to men and feeders alike.

Premium lists may be had by writing the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial or D. G. Talbot, Stock Manager. The premium lists full information about classification, entries, etc.

Francis Fouts is visiting in Anson.

Improves Bedroom and Furniture With Outlay of Only $21.70

"All of my furniture and the walls and floor of my room have been improved," states Miss Alice Server, bedroom demonstrator in the Foster Home Demonstration Club. "A closet had to be built and a new window added as the room had only one window. The walls had been painted Nile green, so I gave them another coat of paint and painted the floor with deck paint.

"I moved one of the beds, an old trunk, dresser and paper flowers out of the room. My bed was enameled ivory and slats, mattress and spring cover added. Candlewick curtains were made for the two windows and the dressing table on unbleached muslin. New three-yard length sheets and towels were bought for the room. The total amount spent for the window, closet, paint and linens was $21.70."

Remodels Bedroom, Adds Closet and Repapers Room for $10

"The paper was old, dirty and sagging off the walls of my room when I started improving it," states Mrs. Lewis Clark bedroom demonstrator of the Blue Bonnet Club. "The first thing we did was to get up in the attic and clean out the sand. We removed nineteen ten quart buckets of sand that had blown in. We retacked the canvas, papered the walls and painted the wood work ivory. Built my closet to the ceiling, of which I am prouder than anything. My bed, dresser, table and chairs were painted ivory, new curtains and a bed spread were added to complete the color scheme of the room. My bed has a mattress and spring cover, mattress pad, and light weight cover. The cost of the improvements was $10.60.

A BOON TO EDITORS

Every now and then a citizen comes to the editor of the Haskell Free Press with an article that he wants us to run for the "good of the community".

We are beset with these requests every day. Now, strange to say, whether we run the proffered article or not, we appreciate the attitude of the contributor, and would have him repeat the dose whenever he thinks he has something worth printing.

The editor doesn't know it all. There are undoubtedly many others who could do his work better. He realizes this, and yet, being the editor, he must exercise his judgment in these matters.

Contributors who cheerfully accept this judgment are a boon to editors and we are glad to report that there are some of them in this community.

SUPPORT THE CHURCHES

Every community has, among its wise men, those who scoff at the church. They can tell you a lot of things that some church members do, and they expect you to believe that hypocrites keeps them on the sidewalk looking in.

Don't be so foolish as to believe these talkers, even if they have fooled themselves, and really think they are sincere seekers after truth. They will talk blindly about tolerance and intolerance, etc., and wind up their discussion with a few pot-shots at religion. It's an amusing custom. Regardless of what you might hear don't forget that religion is the real force in the world that leads to better men and women. The organized churches are the real servants of mankind in promoting and encouraging high ideals in everyday life.

WAR ISN'T OVER

Out of Rome comes the tragic story of 30 young Italian soldiers who were ambushed and massacred by Ethiopian natives. Thus comes the first intimation of the long guerrilla warfare that the Italian legions are sure to face in colonizing the new territory. At the same time, official communiques from Rome place the "blood cost" of Italy's Ethiopian war at 4,359 lives. Of these, 1,304 Italians were killed in combat and 1,099 died of illness or accident. The others were native troops. The Fascist campaign in Africa is not over. It faces two dire threats—guerrilla warfare on one hand and the scourge of mortal sickness on the other. It would seem that the conquest of Ethiopia has just begun.

END OF SCHOOL MEANS BEGINNING

Schools all over the United States have recently ended their sessions. Every county, including Haskell County is sending forth from school scores of young men and women, many of whom have received their last formal scholastic training.

To the graduates of the schools in this county who will continue their studies in college the closing of school is not as important an event in life as to the larger number who will begin work, leaving behind them the organized paths to knowledge.

It is important, however, as we see it, that these high school graduates, who have no hope of college, get the right idea of their own future. There is no reason for them to believe that what is popularly called education depends upon going to college. There is no reason for them to believe that their "learning" days are over.

Some of the best educated men and women that we have ever met were those who went to no college, and many even missed a high school. Besides, we must remember, that a student only gets out of school a measure of what the student's character contributes. This is his own, and no one disputes it, the non-college man or woman, busy through life can continue to acquire intelligent aids to full living by maintaining an acquisitive and investigating mind.

Let us all realize more fully than ever, that we know very little. While mankind has made wonderful progress along the path of human intelligence the field of wisdom has been barely scratched and many things remain to be unfolded to the human intellect. Let us always continue to pursue the truth.

WHY WE LIKE HASKELL

There are any number of towns the size of Haskell suffering from what psychologists would call the inferiority complex, making all sorts of ridiculous claims in order to convey the impression that they are totally devoid of hick influence. It is worth noting that the small town that shouts so much about what it has, what is expected and forever toils its head about growth that is not, thereby exhibits the boob complex to a fare thee well.

The Haskell Free Press certainly feels no apology for Haskell. It is not as large as Chicago, New York and a few other centers of mass population. It does not offer everything that these metropolitan centers afford. Its merchants do not rival Wannamaker, Marshall Fields, and others. There is no reason for us to make fools of ourselves trying to create the contrary impression.

There is one asset, possessed by Haskell and hundreds of similar communities, that larger cities cannot possess. That is a union of all citizens, working to a common end. Larger cities are divided; their very size prohibits concerted action by all the people. Here we can get together in neighborly good will, make our plans to improve Haskell, and work in unison to make this town the best place in the world in which a family can live.

That is, in our opinion, a wonderful aim for a town or city. What better service can a municipality do for its citizens than to create, preserve and protect the happiness of the families clustered in its midst? How much real joy will come into hundreds of hearts in Haskell when every man and woman realizes that the true purpose of city life is to improve humanity by making life worth more?

Weather Proverbs

When on her fourth day the moon appears spotted, her horns unblunted and neither flat nor quite erect but bent both, it promises fair weather for the greatest part of the month.—Amherst Record.

The New Age

If the 1920's were the age of the flapper, put down the 1930's as the New Age—the New Leisure, the New Hoover, the New Deal and Nudists.—Buffalo Times.

Bachelors may long sometimes for the tranquillity of married life, and married men always do.

CURRENT COMMENT

CHURCHES AT CENTENNIAL

(Dallas Morning News)

The Baptists have set a commendable example in their use of the facilities of the Texas Centennial Exposition for religious services. Of the throngs crowding into the exposition grounds in the next six months, many persons will welcome an opportunity to attend church services. In addition to the two religious buildings, the exposition has in the new bandshell a suitable place for church meetings.

As Dr. George W. Truett pointed out Thursday evening to an audience of 5,000 at the Centennial, religion has played an important part in the history of Texas for more than a century. Some of the earliest white settlers in the area were missionaries. A little more than 100 years ago, one of the chief causes of disaffection against Mexican rule was the absence of freedom of worship. Most of the great leaders of Texas have been men of strong religious faith.

No less than political candidates and other speakers, religious leaders of the Southwest will find hearers at the Centennial. Moreover, there will always be many wishing to attend concerts of religious music. The Centennial will be a meeting place for people of all faiths.

The Baptist series probably will be followed by Centennial meetings of other denominations. It would be hard to find a better site this year for church reunions and rallies.

Haskell County History

[As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.]

Twenty Years Ago—1916

Hon. O. B. Colquitt, former Governor, addressed a large crowd in the district court room in the interest of his candidacy for United States Senator. He met with a hearty reception in Haskell.

The Haskell Steam Laundry had installed a new cleaning and pressing department and secured the services of O. Wilder, experienced tailor.

The Ford fire truck had arrived and the members of the local department were elated. The truck carried 1,000 feet of hose, and did away with the necessity of firemen bothering with the old hand-drawn hose carts, allowing them to go direct to the fire. The apparatus was to be kept at the Haskell Garage, and W. H. Starr was to be driver.

Travis J. Arbuckle, who had charge of the furniture department of Jones Cox & Co., was painfully injured when he accidentally discharged a 22 caliber rifle, the bullet passing through his thigh. The mishap occurred as Mr. Arbuckle and T. B. Russell were loading their car preparing to return to Haskell from a fishing trip on the Clear Fork. They came immediately to town and Dr. Kimbrough dressed the wound.

John L. Tubbs purchased an interest in the Haskell Laundry and was to be outside business manager, according to O. F. Kolb, his partner in the business.

While ripping some lumber on a band saw at his shop, A. Tomm allowed his left hand to follow the board too far, cutting the fore and middle fingers so badly that they had to be amputated. His hand was dressed by Miss McGuire, nurse in Dr. Odom's office, and his fingers amputated by Dr. Kimbrough.

Wade Brothers of Stonefall county, who had been making some experiments with clay south of town, announced they had been successful in making some excellent bricks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Tubbs gave a party for the young folks complimenting Miss Mary Mooney of Motley county, who was visiting in Haskell.

Mr. W. B. Anthony and family, Mrs. Neathery and visitors, Miss Eva Fields and Mr. W. E. Sherrill were on a camping and fishing trip on the Clear Fork.

Messrs. Fred and Pete Sanders object to loafing, so a few days ago they left in search of work. We hope they are successful in their commendable object.

Since the scare resulting from the terrible St. Louis cyclone, quite a few Haskell residents were having storm-cellars dug. It is a prudent precaution.

Haskell was to be represented at the Sunday School Convention in San Antonio June 23, 1896 by Messrs. S. W. Scott, Lee Pierson, Misses Fannie Hudson, Fannie and Mary Tandy, and Laura Garren.

Miss Lillie Rike's friends were welcoming her home from Sherman where she has been attending college.

Dr. Scott, who had just located in Haskell, was having a neat residence erected in the east part of town.

A new postoffice had been established in the neighborhood about twelve miles northeast of Haskell and was opened for business. The new office was named Vontress for Mr. Vontress Roberts.

Judge H. G. McConnell let the contract for another building on the north side to join the one now almost complete.

The railroad was coming and would probably reach Haskell by the first of July. The suggestion here on advance that a mammoth Railroad and Fourth of July Celebration be held in Haskell.

Farmers of various sections of the county, in town on business reported crops in excellent condition, and were jubilant over prospects for a bumper crop.

Forty Years Ago—1896
J. S. Rike was in Farmersville on business.

A large crowd attended the ice cream "festival" given at the Methodist Church, and the ladies were very proud of the nice sum received from the event.

Messrs. J. E. Ellis and J. L. Crosswait and Mrs. J. N. Ellis spent a few days outing on the Clear Fork fishing.

A stack of wheat belonging to W. R. Rouse near Haskell was burned during the night. It was believed the fire was set by some sneak. The loss was a serious one for Mr. Rouse.

Wade Brothers of Stonefall county, who had been making some experiments with clay south of town, announced they had been successful in making some excellent bricks.

who seek to do the will of Christ and to glorify his name." At length, Jesus revealed his identity to these disciples who returned to Jerusalem and found ten of the apostles together, discussing the appearance of Jesus to Peter. The Savior appeared then to this group and a week later to the eleven apostles to converse. Thomas, who had been absent the preceding week. Several other appearances during the forty days are also given as Jesus appeared to seven fishermen led by Peter, to all the apostles and to a large gathering of five hundred, also to his brother James, who became as a result a leader in the early church.

We cannot understand the mystery of the nature of Jesus during this period. He passed unperceived through the doors as if spiritual yet he exhibited his wounds and ate food as if material. Perhaps his form was interchangeable. So, the ascension is a mystery to us but as J. Patterson Smyth says: "We believe that the visible event which we call the ascension was his kindly condescension to simple human minds. We naturally connect that higher life which is beyond our present comprehension with the blue heavens above, or the blue heights beyond the blue. In concession to this simple thought, instead of just disappearing as at other times, he rose from the earth and a cloud received him. It only means that he had passed from our present sphere of existence to another sphere beyond our own."

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mathany came in last Friday after spending several days in South Texas. On their return they visited the Centennial at Dallas. They say it is worth anyone's time to go see the sights there.

Waterloo How often have you heard the expression "He met Waterloo" denoting defeat, some person or failure of a project? Is an accepted phrase nowadays and has been over one hundred years.

Exactly one hundred twenty-one years ago—1818, 1815—Napoleon was defeated by Wellington in the Battle of Waterloo, shattering the dreams of world conquest envisioned by the former.

Unprepared, your Waterloo may be lurking in the destructive elements of fire, hail storms—but we have facilities to protect you against eventualities.

HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

JESUS EXALTED

International Sunday School Lesson for June 21, 1936.

Golden Text: "Wherefore also God highly exalted him, and gave unto him the name which is above every name." Philipians 2:9.

(Lesson Text: Luke 24:36-53.)

Jesus was buried late Friday evening, following the crucifixion. Two prominent Jews attended to his burial.

Joseph of Arimathea, a member of the Sanhedrin, was bold enough to request the body from Pilate and give it to a place of interment in his own new tomb excavated in the rock.

Nicodemus, one of the rulers, who early in the ministry of Jesus came to him by night, also assisted him. As it was almost the beginning of the Sabbath the process of embalming was very hastily done.

The three-day period foretold by Jesus passed not three days as we count them, but according to the Jewish method, that is, part of Friday, all of Saturday and part of Sunday, during which time Jesus was in the tomb.

Early Sunday a group of faithful women proceeded to the tomb to complete the embalming which the two men had hurriedly done Friday evening. To their surprise they were met by angels who advised them that Jesus had risen. They hurried back with the news and immediately Peter and John proceeded to investigate the report. Peter entered into the tomb and found the grave-clothes perfectly arranged but the body of Jesus was gone.

The first appearance of Jesus was to Mary Magdalene. This is noteworthy in an age when women were not regarded as highly as now. Shortly afterwards he appeared to the other women of the party. The first man who saw Jesus was Simon Peter, although we have no details of this appearance, it being merely stated that he appeared to Peter.

We have a very good account of the appearance of Jesus to two disciples, not apostles, walking from Jerusalem to Emmaus, a village about seven miles from Jerusalem. These two men were dismissing the various events of the recent past when Jesus joined them and in answer to his questions they told him briefly about Jesus and his work, how he had been killed and with him the hope that he would redeem Israel and then of the strange story from Olivet.

In his conversation Jesus referred to the many scriptural passages about his career and interpreted to them the application to himself.

In this interpretation, we may be sure that Jesus stressed such facts as these, pointed out by C. R. Erdman: "The Scriptures contain authoritative messages concerning Christ; these messages can be understood only by those who believe in Christ, and are guided by him; the essential truths concerning Christ center in the facts of his death and resurrection; in witness of the salvation thus secured, repentance and forgiveness of sins can be preached; this salvation is to be proclaimed in all the world; the followers of Christ are the messengers by whom this good news is to be made known; the power for such proclamation is imparted by the Spirit of Christ who was manifested in new power on the Day of Pentecost, and who is now an abiding Presence and a Source of limitless strength to all

TAKE 123 GALLONS FROM THROCKMORTON WAREHOUSE
 People just take things from whom they belong to. This holds true in Throckmorton. The lock of Jim Merrill's warehouse was prized off last week and approximately 123 gallons of oil was taken. Sheriff Zack McWhorter has been searching around only to find this same kind have been taken elsewhere. The sheriff got the oil from near by counties that have been found and they are not of their hide-out. They will not be but a short time until the party or parties are arrested. — Throckmorton.

her graduation been employed in the Mineral Wells schools. She is learning the ropes in connection with her new position, and will be ready to take over when Mr. Jackson leaves.—Baylor County Banner.

125 STONEWALL SCHOOL CHILDREN TO GO TO DALLAS
 Tickets and badges were distributed to 125 Stonewall County school children this week who will go to Dallas Saturday and sing in 50,000 school chorus at the Dallas Centennial. Children from practically all schools of the county will be included in the group that will leave here Friday traveling in school buses.—Aspermont Star.

FREAK RATTLER CALLED ALBINO BY CABETAKER
 Exhibited in Monahans last week end was a freak rattlesnake which exhibitors said was an albino. Although otherwise a normal rattler, the reptile was a vivid yellow with a diamond marking on his back of pale brown, the yellow shading into a greenish-yellow near the eight rattles. The snake, exhibitors said, was captured about six miles from Wink. They plan to take the queer creature to the Centennial, they said. Pigmentation in the iris of the eye was not absent as is usually the case in any albino, the snakes optical orbs being the usual brown with black elliptical pupils. He did not seem to possess the ugly disposition ordinarily attributed to Texas rattlers, for he never buzzed his buzzer while a member of the News staff gazed at his serpentine loveliness, although his caretaker prodded him with a length of wire and otherwise harassed him in an effort to persuade him to voice his ire.—Monahans News.

DEATH SENTENCE OF TAHOCA KILLER AFFIRMED WEDNESDAY
 The Texas court of criminal appeals Wednesday affirmed the death sentence of Elmo Banks, negro, for murder of Deputy Sheriff F. E. Redwine in the Lynn county jail at Tahoka March 6.

Banks in escaping from the Lynn county jail on the top floor of the courthouse, shot the deputy sheriff fatally. Following one of the largest man hunts in this section, Banks was captured early March 8. A jury at Tahoka quickly convicted him of murdering the deputy sheriff March 13 and fixed the penalty of death. Banks has been held in the Lubbock county jail since the trial and will be returned to Tahoka for setting of the date of his execution after the court of criminal appeals returns a mandate to 106th district court.—Post Dispatch.

RAIN AND HAIL VISIT MEGARGEL SECTION
 Last Saturday afternoon this section was visited by clouds that brought hail, wind, rain and lots of lightning, the kind that struck hard and left its mark where it struck.

The hail here was not so heavy but varied in size from that of large buckshot to baseballs, doing some damage to crops and roofs. South of here, at Spring Creek, the size of hail is reported to have been several inches in diameter. Large enough to knock big holes in roofs. West of town the wind was worse, to the extent that at the Jake Sykora farm wagons were torn up, a grainery and chicken houses wrecked. North and east of town some damage is reported from both wind and hail.—Megargel Times.

BULL ATTACKS CHILLICOTHE FARMER
 Jim Flynn, residing east of Chillicothe, has a broken collar bone and severe bruises as a result of being attacked by a bull at his home last Saturday evening. His condition was serious enough it was necessary to take him to a Vernon hospital for medical attention. Since then he is said to be resting satisfactorily. Flynn had just finished feeding the stock and started toward the gate to return to the house when the bull struck him in the back, knocking him against the barn. Thanks to the aid given by a small dog who nipped the animal in the nose several times, Flynn managed to reach the gate and freedom, but not until he had been badly hurt.

His right collar bone was broken, has a badly swollen right arm, presumably caused from torn muscles, and a bruised back.—Chillicothe Valley News.

PADUCAH NEGRESS IS MURDERED
 In an affray starting Sunday morning at 3 o'clock in the Blue Front, colored section in northeast Paducah, Gertrude Nixon, negress died as a result of bullet wounds from a 25 calibre automatic. Savannah Ray and Sam (Packing House) Wynn, colored, are lodged in the Cottle County Jail charged with the murder.

Justice of Peace W. F. Wimberly said the affray started as the culmination of an argument over the purchase of chock beer. The two negroes charged with the murder escaped following the shooting at the notorious gathering place of local colored people but were brought into custody Monday evening when Sheriff A. A. Payne arrested the man in Childress and the negress twenty miles northwest of Childress.—Paducah Post.

BANK IN PROSPECT FOR MONAHANS
 Location of a bank in Monahans seemed assured for a near date as several men were making inquiries concerning the possibilities of the venture. At least one man, whose name was withheld, was ready to establish a National bank here with a capital stock of fifty thousand dollars, and two others were willing to invest in state banks with capital stock of twenty five thousand dollars. Others were scheduled to arrive in Monahans during the week for the purpose of "looking the situation over." It seemed likely that the promptest of the various investors would get the bank, according to local men who have been active in the campaign for the bank.—Monahans News.

WINNERS COUNTY BEDROOM CONTEST ARE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Merchant Wins First; Mrs. Dozier, Mrs. Kendrick Second and Third

Mrs. Louise Marchant, Mrs. S. S. Dozier and Mrs. W. J. Kendrick were award winners in the Bedroom Contest sponsored by the County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs, for demonstrators and cooperators.

Judging was done last Saturday.

Mrs. Merchant, bedroom demonstrator in the Jossilet Home Demonstration Club will receive a trip to the annual Short Course at A. & M. She made practically all of her furniture without any assistance. She gathered up all of the old discarded furniture available, which included an old wooden bed, table, and orange crates. Lye was used to remove the finish, then each article was torn completely down and rebuilt from designs taken from magazines and original ideas. The furniture made included a combination drop leaf table and desk, book shelf, a bed and dresser. The room was canvassed and papered, woodwork and floors refinished, and shelves and drawers added to the closet.

Total amount spent on improving the room was $14.56. Mrs. Merchant says, "I feel well repaid for my time and work, besides the satisfaction of knowing that I did all of it myself with the exception of my aunt helping me to hang the paper."

Mrs. S. S. Dozier of the Hutto Home Demonstration Club won the mattress for the demonstrators.

Mrs. Dozier had a bed, a quilt box, and dresser in her room to begin with. The floors and wood work had never been refinished in any way. She took the old quilt box and built a closet from it, making one side for quilts and the other for clothing. The closet has two doors. The top frame part on the wash stand and dresser was taken off and the mirror hung flat on the wall. Spokes in the head of the bed had been removed so Mrs. Dozier put the foot of the bed at the head and sawed off the head, putting a wooden cap over each post. All of the furniture was then painted Nile green except a bedside table and desk, which was painted ivory. Mrs. Dozier made a new fifty

Jossilet—

(Continued From Page One) where Mr. Jossilet engaged in farming and ranching. Disposing of the Cooke county property, they came to Haskell, where he acquired substantial land holdings. Mr. and Mrs. Jossilet were the parents of eleven children, nine whom are living today. Mrs. Jossilet and two of the children passed away several years ago.

Mr. Jossilet's 90th birthday this year was the occasion for a family reunion at which 77 direct descendants were present. The observance of his birthday had become an annual affair with his children, and had been religiously observed for years.

Former Judge Of 39th District Dies in Ft. Worth

Ed J. Hammer, 79, pioneer West Texas jurist, died at his home in Fort Worth Tuesday night following an illness of three weeks.

An early day resident of Haskell, and former Judge of the 39th Judicial District, Mr. Hammer will be recalled by many oldtimers of this section. During his long residence in Haskell, he occupied the old "Boone place" and served for several years as District Judge. Records of the Haskell County Bar Association reveal that Judge Hammer was the eighth person admitted to the Haskell county bar.

A native of Fort Bend county, Mr. Hammer was reared in Galveston, where he read law and took the bar examination. Later he moved to West Texas to begin practice, finally locating in Haskell. From this city he removed to Sweetwater, and later to Fort Worth. Funeral services will be held in Sweetwater Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

His widow, two sons, and six daughters survive.
