Metz to Honor Rabelais

Rare Picture of Civil War Scene In San Antonio

Don't get excited, folks. It's all over now, and long ago, too, but the picture is so unusual it's worth a minute of your time. The sketch was made by a government draftsman who was present when the Federal forces in Texas surrendered to Confederate commissioners on the Main Plaza in San Antonio, February 18, 1861. From the picture, we gather it was a gala occasion, especially for the Confederate Texans.

FIRE DESTROYS HASKELL COTTON WAREHOUSE SUNDAY

At Least 1050 Bales Were In Building; Loss May Total $50,000.00

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Haskell Cotton Warehouse Sunday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock, seriously damaged approximately 1050 bales of cotton and a small dwelling nearby. Monetary loss is expected to exceed $50,000. A government loan of 10 cents had been granted on all the cotton, which was insured.

The entire rear of the brick structure was demolished by an explosion caused by spontaneous combustion, which seriously hampered the work of the firemen in their attempts to save the contents. The fire alarm Sunday marked the eighth time in as many days that Haskell citizens had heard such warnings.

Thumbs Down On Girls Who Smoke

FORT WORTH, March 20.—Girls who want to marry Texas Christian University boys had better not smoke or drink. At least that seems a fair conclusion, judging by the results of a referendum conducted by The Skiff, T. C. U. student newspaper. Almost exactly 75 per cent of the boys stated that they would not want to marry a girl who either smoked or drank. An additional 5 per cent voted to permit smoking, but turned thumbs down on the drinking.

The boys also listed plenty of other qualities which they would demand in looking for a prospective wife. A typical answer said, "She must be sweet, kind, sensible, beautiful, cultured, neat, ambitious, have good habits and poise, and love me above everything and everybody else." Practically to a man, the T. C. U. letter men in athletics voted against a wife who either smoked or drank.

3 STILLS, 1200 GALLONS OF MASH TAKEN IN RAIDS

Corn, Rye, and Peach Mash In Collection; Three Men Charged; Bonds Made

Five places were raided by deputy sheriffs Olen Dotson and Dan Kirkpatrick, Bill Davis, Rochester constable, and Jim McCoy, Rule marshal, last Thursday and Friday in the northwest part of the county, which netted three stills, 1200 gallons of mash and a small quantity of liquor. Three men, Johnny Stafford, Luther Stanbridge and Roy Farrar, are under bond, charged with possession, awaiting action of the April Grand Jury. They were brought before Arnold Hudspeth, Rochester justice.

The stills, which were found west of Rochester, were not in operation when found, and only a small quantity of liquor was found at the other two places near O'Brien which were raided, owing to the fact that most of the whiskey had been poured out by two women just before the officers arrived.

Girl Friend's Kiss Rouses Ire, Causes Fight, Costs $2,000

SAN FRANCISCO.—A jury decided Saturday it would cost Russell Jackson, a grocery employe, $2,000 for becoming violent when his girl friend gave another man a friendly kiss. Gordon Dunbar, a merchant, received the kiss. The testimony showed that Mrs. Dunbar was a member of the foursome on an automobile ride which led to the kiss and the fracas. Mrs. Dunbar gave the girl friend permission to kiss her husband, but Jackson beat him up anyway, Dunbar told the jurors. Mrs. Geo. Goetze and little son Eddie Duke returned the latter part of last week from Vernon after several days visit with relatives. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Ed Gilliland and little daughter who are visiting with them.

MAY CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF COUNTY IN FALL

Organization of County In 1885 May Be Commemorated If Plans Possible

NEAR ACTUAL DATE

Entire County Would Participate In Celebration and Pageant

Under plans now being formed by the directors of the Central West Texas Fair at Haskell the 1934 fair will be made the occasion of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of Haskell county. Haskell county was organized early in 1885 but plans to celebrate that anniversary in 1934 have been abandoned due to the fact that the 1934 date corresponds with greater exactness to the actual anniversary.

In this celebration every civic, social, business and political organization in Haskell county will be called upon to take part that the celebration may be one worthy of the county and its citizenship. Featuring the program of events outlined for the fair will be a pageant and parade showing the progress of this county, its history and its people from the pioneer days down to date. Tribute will also be rendered to the early settlers in the county who first carved this territory out of the wilderness.

The fair will be enlarged for the occasion and instead of the usual three day celebration the fair of 1934 will continue for six full days and plans are already being formed to gather the greatest group of exhibits that have ever been on display here, particular emphasis being laid on exhibits showing the development of the county. In addition the midway will be crowded by the attractions offered by Tidwell's Shows, while the Fair Park track will have a six day race meet with assurance of a greater number of entries than at the 1934 successful meet.

The directors feel that the occasion is one that Haskell county can not well afford to ignore and every effort should be made to make the event one of the outstanding events of West Texas. Each city and community is likewise being urged to begin preparations to take part in the program contemplated and to join in it by adequately showing the history and progress as well as their share in the progress and growth of the county.

It is expected that the members will conduct a membership drive in the next few days, with the playing fee so small that anyone may be able to take part.

J. H. Parsons for County Clerk

J. H. Parsons, of Sagerton, makes his formal announcement this week as a candidate for the office of County Clerk of Haskell County, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. Mr. Parsons has been a citizen of Haskell county for the past 15 years and is well and favorably known throughout the county. In making his announcement Mr. Parsons issues the following statement regarding his candidacy:

To the Voters of Haskell county: In announcing for the office of County Clerk of Haskell county, I did so after being strongly solicited by a large number of my friends over the county to make the race. I have lived in Haskell county for fourteen years and have never asked for a public office. During the fourteen years that I have lived in Haskell county, I have spent better than ten of these in the banking business. I am employed by the First State Bank of Rochester from June 1920 to January 1, 1925, and from January 1st, 1925 to Nov. 15th, 1930. I was employed by the Continental State Bank of Sagerton.

It is my desire, and I will do my best to see each voter in the county before the election. However, if I should fail to see any of you voters, I want to ask that you take this announcement as a personal solicitation for your vote and influence. If I should be elected to this important office, I will endeavor at all times to give you prompt and efficient service. I want to ask that you give my candidacy your consideration before casting your ballot, and if you can vote for me, I assure you that there is no one that will appreciate it any more than I.

Sincerely yours,
J. H. PARSONS.

Byron G. Wright Asks for Second Term as Treasurer

We are authorized this week to place the name of Byron G. Wright in our announcement column as a candidate for re-election for a second term as County Treasurer, in the coming Democratic primary.

Now serving his first term, Mr. Wright has made an efficient, courteous and obliging public official, and in keeping with Democratic custom, will likely be returned to office without opposition. However, Mr. Wright wants it known that whether he has an opponent or not, the vote and influence of the voters will be greatly appreciated, and he will endeavor to see as many of them as possible before the election is held.

In connection with his candidacy Mr. Wright issues the following statement:

To the Voters of Haskell county: In asking re-election to the office of County Treasurer of Haskell county, I do so with the knowledge that I have given my best efforts toward keeping a true and correct record of the affairs of this office and ask that you investigate my record as your County Treasurer.

My work has been interesting and pleasant, and has been a great help, and I want the voters of Haskell county to know that whether or not I am returned for a second term, I shall always feel deeply grateful for the assistance you have rendered me.

BYRON G. WRIGHT.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 113th REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT

I have been informed about one-half of the voters of Sagerton, quite a number on Wild Horse Prairie, large numbers at Rochester and Joeslet Switch have signed petitions asking me to become a candidate for Representative. I have been solicited to become a candidate from people from Throckmorton and Baylor counties.

In all frankness and fairness I will say: I don't want the office of Representative unless the people want me to have it. To make a hot contest for such a small office, in order to get to make a hard fight against graft, extravagance, high taxes, for an inexpensive Judiciary system, for laws that will protect good citizens against criminals, for laws that will force all officers to enforce the law, for laws to protect the weak against the strong, for equal and uniform taxes on all the wealth of Texas, and a new Senatorial District for this part of Texas, is too much like begging for a job with no intention of doing anything but to have a good time and for the graft in the office. It is up to you if it is your way and your office. If you want me to make the race sign one of the petitions and I will give you my answer in due time.

Y. L. THOMASON.

GAS TAX EVADERS PAY IN $3,000,000 FIRST 9 MONTHS

New Enforcement Law Aids State in Securing Such An Impressive Sum

AUSTIN, March 20.—Gasoline tax evaders 'coughed up' more than $3,000,000 in extra revenues to the state during the first nine months of the new enforcement law was in operation, the Texas Good Roads Association estimated today from Comptroller Gerge H. Sheppard's complete report for 1933.

Three hard-pressed state departments—schools, bond refunding and highways—share in the captured bounty, the first two at the rate of $750,000 each and the last named at $1,500,000.

The impressive sum regarded at the capitol as "just the finding money" because it took nothing from any other bureau and required no new taxation, came entirely from sources which had been able to avoid gas tax payment until violation was made a felony and the comptroller provided with adequate enforcement machinery.

A comparative table of gas tax payments, month by month, for both 1932 and 1933, compiled by J. W. McReynolds, the comptroller's chief of gas tax operations, shows vividly the value of the new law.

Gasoline tax collections fell $200,000 a month below 1932 during the first three months of 1933. The new law was enacted March 21. April payments were only $63,000 while in May they jumped $31,000 ahead of the previous May. June was $122,000 ahead, August $189,000, September $303,000 and December $465,000.

The improvement in tax payments ranged from a 10 per cent decrease in January to a 20 per cent increase in February.

An additional $189,000 is involved in gas tax claims now in the courts, the comptroller reported.

Suntan and Beige Lead Shades For Spring Hosiery

For several seasons hosiery colors have been extremely neutral. The beiges with a grayish cast that made them wearable even with gray were the only important beige. But this spring tells a different story, and it may be attributed to the tale of tweeds. For with all these warm colors, a true beige or sun-kissed stocking will look best. These shades are strong and countless washings do

West Texas County Officials Meet This Week in Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, Mar. 14.—West Texas county governing bodies will focus their governmental problems when the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association convenes here for their semi-annual convention on March 22, 23 and 24.

County Judge Charles Lewis, in charge of local arrangements for the convention, states that program and entertainment features have been worked out in detail. Responses from members throughout West Texas and a general interest in tax, road and relief matters points to an unusually large attendance.

But if it's big enough, it can make a heaven on earth.

Old Court Bell Sold For Junk, Re-Purchased, May Be Used Again

The old Haskell courthouse bell, which has lain neglected for the past two years, may once again occupy its former important place in the lives of Haskell citizens, if a petition, which will be presented to the county Commissioners at their next meeting, is acted favorably upon. Once again the 1310-pound brass bell may call people to court, toll the news for those who may depart this life and add its clarion notes to the general excitement when fire is raging, instead of lying neglected since 1931, when the new structure was erected, and finally being sold for junk.

If this old relic should again be restored by an act of the commissioners, it will be because Y. L. Thomason, local service station operator, stepped forward recently and halted the removal of the bell to a junk yard in a neighboring city. He saw the junk dealers about to leave Haskell, with the bell, minus clapper, on the truck. Upon questioning the buyers, and being reassured that the bell could be re-purchased, Mr. Thomason, who has lived here for 34 years, promptly paid for the truckage and gave his word that the remainder would be forthcoming, if he had to pay for it himself. At the rate of 3 cents per pound, which the junk dealers had themselves paid, when they purchased the relic from the contractors of the new courthouse. The action of Mr. Thomason has been commended by many "old-timers," who still believe the bell could be put to good use by the city and county.

The old courthouse structure was erected in 1892, and the bell installed shortly afterward—before most of the present Haskell business men were born, and while the "old-timers" vividly recall when the bell was brought here "all the way from east" the greater part of Haskell's citizenry does not, even though perfectly familiar with the tone and uses to which the relic was put, and many are now just as anxious as Mr. Thomason that the bell be used once more as the "town crier."

Chapman several years later. He engaged in business until about 11 years ago, when he retired and moved to Abilene.

Mr. Whitman was affiliated with the Baptist church, having been converted at the age of 21.

A REAL MOTOR DANGER

This winter has already shown a number of deaths from carbon monoxide fumes which pour from the exhaust of automobiles. They have occurred mostly during cold spells, when motorists are inclined to run the engine for a few minutes before leaving the garage.

A few breaths of air containing two per cent of carbon monoxide will cause unconsciousness and death within three or four minutes. The gas has no odor, taste or color, which makes it all the more dangerous. The victim is paralyzed before he has realized his danger.

About 500 deaths a year result from this terrible gas, all of which are unnecessary and result from carelessness or ignorance of its deadly effects. When an automobile is started in the garage, it should be gotten out into the open air immediately.

DON'T BE ALARMED

While admitting that "the maze of conflicting standards, impulses and interests" of the present day are at times bewildering to the younger generation, Miss Katherine Lenroot, of the Children's Bureau, declares that on the whole children are no worse than their parents were during childhood.

She calls attention to the new agencies for steady boys and girls of the teen age, mentioning the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls, each of which has a beneficial influence.

Miss Lenroot believes that more comforts of life, better educational opportunities, greater frankness in facing problems of sex, and other conditions of the present furnish a better basis of character development than was known by previous generations.

In cities and communities where statistics are available there has been a marked falling off in juvenile delinquency during the past ten years, and there has been no increase in the more serious offenses, if population be considered.

Miss Lenroot points out that each generation of adults, from the earliest times to the present has deplored the wildness of youth, and wondered what the world was coming to. She adds that those in a position to observe actual conditions do not share the apprehensions of the alarmists.

Coming from one who views the subject from an exceptional point of vantage, the conclusions expressed by Miss Lenroot are reassuring.

KITE-FLYING TIMES

In Oklahoma the other day two boys, kite-flying and using a thin copper wire for a string, were killed instantly when the wire came into contact with a high-tension line.

Kite-flying time always brings a long list of casualties. Boys like to fly kites, but many of them disregard certain elemental rules of safety. They should never use a wire for a string. They should not let a wet or damp string come into contact with electric wires. Most important of all, they should never climb a pole to dislodge a kite that has been caught in the wires.

One service that power and light companies are always glad to perform without charge is rescuing kites from their lines. They prefer to do that than have thoughtless boys get themselves electrocuted. A telephoned request for assistance will bring an expert to the rescue.

Of course the best plan is to keep kites away from wires.

Parents should caution their kite-flying children against the dangers of high-tension lines, and against using the middle of the street as a base of operations.—The Abilene Reporter.

HONORARY COLLEGIATE DEGREES

Among the valuable public services that may be placed to the credit of Will Rogers, his debunking of honorary collegiate degrees is conspicuous and refreshing. When he was offered the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities by Oklahoma City University, he gracefully declined the honor in a telegram which was both humorous and evidently sincere.

After explaining that the highest degree he would accept would be A. D. (Doctor of Applesauce) only if conferred by the kindergarten department of the Oolagah public school, he added:

"What are you trying to do? Make a joke out of college degrees? They are in bad enough repute as it is without trying to hand 'em around to comedians. The whole honorary degree thing is the 'hooney.' I got too much respect for people that work and earn 'em to see 'em handed around to every notorious character."

Collegiate degrees conferred as a result of conformance to curriculum requirements are generally futile enough. The honorary degree is not only futile, but positively amusing to anyone with a sense of humor approaching that of Will Rogers.

Weather report — Warm today, colder tomorrow. Warmer the next day—with a sandstorm thrown in to make things cheerful.

The Haskell baseball team is now selling books of tickets to games next season. The cost is small. The local entry will be a good one this season, and a better one if the town will support it as it should be supported. The method the management is using to raise funds is a much better one than to solicit donations. If you like baseball, if you would like to see Haskell play good baseball or if you're a booster who isn't afraid to help a booster boost, buy one of those books if you possibly can.

We've lived in East Texas and therefore can vouch for this story: A woman living in Athens, recently used the Dallas Farm-News as a medium in an effort to locate the children of her sister, whom she hadn't seen for 34 years. It developed that they had been living only 15 miles from her all that time.

Did you see Will Rogers in "Mr. Sketch" at the Texas? Remember "Oh, from Missouri—you're a long way from home" phrase? Whoever wrote that line in HAS traveled.

We drove into California with a Kansas license, and heard it said: "Drive into Oklahoma with a California license—and heard it again: 'Ditto other states—Texas included. And we were right in the state we were born in. East is East, and West is West—and the twain meets in saying them these words."

And did you hear the one about the lady who kept wondering why the electric light bill was so high until she stepped into the kitchen one day and found that the colored maid was in the habit of opening the refrigerator door so the room would be kept cool while she did the ironing?

With Mr. Lindbergh connected with one transport company and Mr. Rickenbacker connected with another, we can't help remember they are human, although heroes, and MAY be slightly prejudiced in the matter of carrying the mail.

And while the "other" Roosevelt family may be great Americans, we can't appreciate the atmosphere of "royalty" which Alice and her brothers pretend. We'll still follow F. D. who in our opinion typifies the real "American."

INK SPOTS—A Black & White Inn placard announces "last buffalo in Haskell county" was served visitors Tuesday night. Let's see now—was it in 1880 or 1890 when we killed those buffalo for their hides? Anyway, the "last" Haskell county buffalo is dead, and we can now concentrate on the rabbit drives. . . . Wonder what's become of the old time automobile manufacturer who stressed "free-wheeling" in the sales talk? . . . Famous question: "Lion, let's go fishing!" Famous reply: "All right!" . . . What a habit a habit is! A woman actually ceased her conversation the other night when she heard another woman start talking over the telephone on a radio program. . . . We know two candidates for mayor who aren't glad-handing anyone in order to be elected to office.

Wonder if that local banker, who found a roll of currency on the floor in a local cafe recently at a Service Club meeting ever located the owner? We'll bet he put it on the floor himself, because no one else has that much money. . . . We notice Roy Sanders has been fitting hither and yon around his home-place plant.

Web Dillinger gone, that woman sheriff probably is convinced of the old saying that it's the woman who pays, etc.

The newspapers say that Mrs. Moley was baking pies when Dillinger walked out of her jail. And we'll bet that she's a better pie baker than jailer.

Our friends are good at saying the good and saving all skin on the bad. Eye glasses can be the usual surroundings of the good things of our life—nothing of the bad. Trying to elect our friend—IS A LOT LIKE THAT (don't you think?) Seems, as it don't seem, somewhat out of place to all of the mistakes of our friend. Maybe I had better lump some of mine by saying, I have made many mistakes. Yes, many, not a few. Did you get it, MANY? If I can manage some way to convert them, my mistakes into assets, helps; that is to say, stepping stones—if I can and will do it, I can or should become less liable to do such blundering things in the future.

Naturally, we every one of us appreciate the good things that our good friends say of and for us; the good things they hope and try to do for us, provided of course, we think of the matter as they, naturally, expect us to and as we should. Becoming a mayor or not becoming a mayor is not something to be come excited about. One of the two will. The other won't. That should end the matter. We are neighbors, citizens, and MUST, if we do the right thing about this or any other matter that is for the good of our city, cooperate, pull together—NOT APART, as is sometimes the case. Let us EVERY ONE of Haskell's citizens, give him, self, his influence, his money, tax money, his cooperation to the extent required—NO MATTER WHO MAY BE ELECTED. Let it be THURMAN or let it be SOUTHERN. I am sure we, Mr. Southern and I, shall be glad to abide the decision of Haskell's citizenship.

Let us be at peace among ourselves.

Mr. Odegard was 49 years old. He entered the telephone business in 1918.

Some Naked Truths About the Movies

There is a power back of the movies that is opposed to good bought churches of Christ. There is a money power of the movies that hates the name of Jesus and the religion as Christianity. This power is seeking to destroy Christ by destroying the sanctity of marriage. Many pictures at triangular family affairs and make a mock of the marriages. Many of the great stars live with one companion for a short time and soon take on another. They go on from mate until there is a multiplicity of marriages. It is that the redeemed people of God can enjoy entertainment from such a source. It is stranger still to think that a man could vote to give the movie the Sabbath day to defile the churches of Christ. Church-member, the writer and men that did not claim to be anything, so far as religion concerned, to tell him that he was exactly right in this fight at the movie. They have volunteered their vote and offered to pay for this space. These men believe in the home, the Sabbath, and intend to get right with God before it comes. These men will cast a vote for the sake of their name, but the Christian should cast a vote for the sake of Another power back of the movies is one that likes to rebel against the Protestant Denominations. If a Protestant minister appears on the screen, he is pictured as one who is half-dressed and is always the object of laughter. If a minister is used to play the part of a hero or is needed on some dignified occasion, he must be a Catholic priest with his collar buttoned backwards.

Another power back of the movies is that which tries to bring down to earth the animal in men. The impression has been left that "Down to Rio" was the only indecent picture that has been shown on Sunday. It is true that the pictures for the last few days have been better, as many said they would be until the action is over. Practically every Sunday night picture has had. Take for example, the picture on Sunday, February 18, advertisement for that day read as follows, "See 300 Ladies Like These In Footlight Parade." In that picture three women, with not as much as six inches of cloth on, were used in order to excite the animal in men. Many times in using a coming picture on the screen, they will tell us that the picture has a strong "SEX APPEAL." Is it true that we are in a day when such a base motive can be used in order to excite a cultured, intelligent, religious, church-going people to go to the movies? Will you give the DAY intended for worship to any picture to be used for such a base purpose? It is true that all pictures are not wholly bad. Some are used for baits, but you remember that all baits contain hooks.

In conclusion, may I answer a question? I have been asked many times how the other ministers of the town stood on the Sunday movie. The question is a very foolish one. It would be impossible to find a man whose inner life had been purified by the grace of God and who had been called by His grace to preach the word of Christ that was not opposed to the Sunday show. There is not a sinner in Haskell that would have a particle of grace in a preacher that indorsed a Sunday show. I have known every preacher in Haskell except one and I know where they stand. However, it is not necessary for me to say for them, because they can speak for themselves.

A few wisps that masquerade as bangs are very good. Not everyone can wear them, however. The sweet young things can impersonate Winged Victory very easily, but the oldsters have to have a little softening—a little less of the reckless and the runaway.

Rolls and long bobs are as extinct as the Dodo bird, but the few knots of long hair you see are like the poor, they are always with us. They're human nature.

Watering Garden With Tile Takes Much Less Water

"Watering our garden by use of tile takes less water and a lot less work," says Miss Nora Walters of Blue Bonnet Home Demonstration Club. Last year 300 feet of tile was laid in the garden and this year more is being put down. In watering the garden this way the moisture rises to meet the roots of the plant and crusting and breaking of the soil is eliminated.

America - here they are!

To fill the record-breaking nationwide demand, Chevrolet cars are being produced at a record-breaking rate of 4000 units a day!

CHEVROLET
A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Chevrolet

Drive it only 5 miles and you'll never be satisfied with any other low-priced car

CHEVROLET factories are breaking records, trying to give America all the cars it wants. 4000 units a day are rolling off the assembly lines. February output was twice that of January. March output, according to present indications, will be three times that of January. More Chevrolets are now being produced than any other make of automobile in the world. And today, Chevrolet is happy to report that all its dealers will soon be in a position to make immediate deliveries.

When you consider how short a time the new Chevrolet has been in production—when you consider, also, that the 1934 car is not last year's model improved, but a basically new automobile, with sweeping changes in design—this production record becomes somewhat of an accomplishment. But, a still greater accomplishment, in our opinion, is the way that these cars have all been produced!

Despite continued nationwide pressure for more and more volume, every car that has left the factories has been built and tested to meet Chevrolet's highest standards of care, precision and quality. The result: When you place your order for a new Chevrolet, you'll not only get a big, rugged "Knee-Action" car—you're also assured of getting a typical Chevrolet car in economy, dependability and long life.

Ford Is Prepared To Spend Fortune To Improve Ideas

FORD MYERS, Fla.—Mr. Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer who made a fortune by sticking to one idea, and says he is willing to spend his fortune to improve that idea, believes that the world is run by dissatisfied people, so states the Associated Press.

"President Roosevelt is a dissatisfied man," said Mr. Ford. "If he was not dissatisfied, he would not attempt Herculean experiments to improve existing conditions. If we had not been dissatisfied with the first automobiles, they would have been discarded and the horse would have taken their places."

"When dissatisfaction leads to improvement in conditions and produces a better order of things, it is a good thing. That is why I am glad to observe that so many people are dissatisfied. Maybe they will do something about it. Maybe they will help the leaders with vision enough to try to build a better world for all people to live in."

"I am glad that people are getting over the machine age bugaboo. The more we improve machinery, the more skilled men are needed to make and operate the machines. Better machines make better workmen. More skilled workmen receive higher wages and this improves the scale of living."

"Labor not capable of growing in skill with the efficiency of the machines, has no place in modern industry. These men should go back to the country and learn to make their living—become independent and self-sustaining."

"When I tell people to go back to the land and produce crops, they cry over-production and point to the farmer who can't sell the crops

Wall That Prisoners Tried to Scale

Here is a part of the wall around the Texas State penitentiary at Huntsville, over which five convicts attempted to escape. Three were shot by alert guards in the attempted break. Some idea of the height of the wall can be obtained from the steps leading up to the blockhouse (which are on the outside). The prison is known in the underworld as "The Walls" because of the size and thickness of the walls surrounding it, and to distinguish it from the prison farms, which are not walled in.

he already produces. That is because both agriculture and the farmer have been in a rut for a long time. The staple crops are out of date—almost obsolete. We can use just so much wheat, corn and cotton. The call is for new crops to be used in new ways.

"For instance," he said "on our farms we are producing soy beans. From the beans we make oil which goes into the paint used on every car. The soy bean is replacing a staple crop—flax. The bean restores the land, makes it richer, while flax pulls the life out of the land and makes it useless for other crops."

"Intelligent farmers, assisted by chemists and researchers, will develop new crops for new purposes. We will be growing many raw materials instead of digging them out of the earth. In this way agriculture will become necessary to industry and the two will prosper together," he concluded.

CARD OF THANKS

May we take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us over the loss of our wife, mother, and sister. Especially do we thank you for the beautiful floral offerings. Should sorrow enter your home may you find the same consolation is our wish—Will Seelig and family. Mr. and Mrs. Erick Opitz and family.

As usually happens, the prices of cotton and wheat go up just after the farmer has sold his crop.

Seymour Votes In Favor of Showing Movies on Sunday

SEYMOUR, March 21.—Sunday movies were approved by Seymour citizens today as liberals cast 198 votes and the opposition 108 in an election on the question.

The election culminated a hotly-contested question which has been the center of an imbroglio between local ministers and Sunday movie advocates for the past few weeks. Both sides busily campaigned for a number of days preceding the election.

Theatre

NEW FACES SEEN IN "THE WOMEN IN HIS LIFE"

Constantly the theatre public clamors for "new faces" and so, in "The Women in His Life," which comes to the Texas Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, March 27 and 28, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is answering the picture patrons' prayer.

The cast is headed by Otto Kruger, a veteran of the stage, but whose features upon the picture screen are comparatively new. Since joining the M-G-M family a few months ago he has appeared in "Turn Back the Clock," "Beauty for Sale" and "The Prizefighter and the Lady." He plays the role of Kent Barringer, a sensational trial lawyer who falls to disgrace and then redeems himself through great sacrifices.

JOHN BOLES SINGS IN "BELOVED"

The screen's outstanding singer still retains his position as the monarch of movie melody.

Half a dozen years ago John Boles played the star role of the Red Shadow in "The Desert Song," the motion picture's first operetta, and the popularity established then has kept him in the minds of the public ever since as the screen's sweetest singer. Others have enjoyed temporary success, but in point of service Boles qualifies as the undisputed leader in his line.

Now he has been announced to open an engagement at the Texas Theatre on Thursday and Friday, March 29 and 30th in the leading male role of "Beloved," Universal's "musical romance of a century," in which he is featured with Gloria Stuart. In the picture Boles sings three songs—"My Beloved," "Forget" and the popular favorite "In the Gloaming."

Cash Income of Farmers Shows 41 Per Cent Advance

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics in the first of a series of new monthly reports said the cash income of farmers during January was $184,000,000.

Of this income, $24,000,000 was from sale of farm products and $60,000,000 from rentals and benefit payments under the crop reduction program, the report said. The total was 41 per cent greater than in January, 1933.

The income from products marketed not including benefit payments was 4 per cent higher than in December and 23 per cent higher than in January, 1933.
