Alvie Francis was presented a certificate of appreciation from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service on his retirement after 13 years of service to the farmers and ranchers of Briscoe County as a County Committeeman. The certificate was presented by Jane Allison (left), District Director for ASCS, and Earlyne Hutsell (right), Briscoe County ASCS Executive Director. Francis served the maximum term allowed (three consecutive three-year terms) plus two and a half years filling a vacancy for another County Committeeman's unexpired term. He also served as a Community Committeeman for a year and a half prior to the County Committee service. Dwain Henderson was elected to replace Francis as the new Briscoe County Committeeman for a three-year term.

Cubs Surprised With Donation

The newly-organized Cub Scout Pack recently was surprised by a donation to help with expenses of starting a new Pack.

Bill Boling donated all profits from the sale of his candy at Nana's Neighborhood over the past several months, and Spud and Betty Nan Tiffin donated their commission on those sales.

With all the expenses involved in beginning a Cub Scout Pack, this generous donation was a pleasant surprise for Pack 262.

The money will be used for supplies, advancement awards, and materials needed to help the leaders organize their individual dens.

Any child from first through fifth grades interested in joining Cub Scouts is welcome, and will need to contact Beverly Minyard for meeting time for their age group.

meeting Friday at the Center. Baptist women will be hostesses for the luncheon.

A Voice From the Country

Earl Cantwell

forth day by day to preach of love, hope and peace . . . God has his small interpreters; the child must teach the man . . . In the little world where little children have their existence, there is nothing so finely perceived and so keenly felt as injustice . . . The need of the hour is not for parents that send their children to church, but for parents who say, "Come on, let's go to church" . . . If you want to stay young, associate with young people. If you want to feel your age, try keeping up with them . . . If you want your child to be a success, you must start at the "bottom" . . . The wise man once said, "You cannot tell whether a parent has been a success or a failure until you find out what happens to the grandchildren . . ."

The attitude of some parents is humorously revealed in the command of the mother who said, "Johnny, run upstairs and see what your little brother is doing and tell him to stop it" . . . As you contemplate educating your child, you must remember that there are feelings to be disciplined, passions to be restrained, true and worthy motives to be inspired, a profound religious feeling to be instilled, and pure morality inculcated under all circumstances . . . Daniel Webster said, "All this is comprised in education" . . .

Jesus lifted childhood up and set it in the midst . . . If the patter of little feet on the stairs and the sound of little voices, if the pressure of little fingers and the touches of little lips make us thrill with gratitude and prayer, we owe this sunshine to Jesus Christ . . . It is a sad fact that if we paid as little attention to our plants as we do to our children, we would now be living in a jungle of weeds . . . Call not that man wretched, whatever ills he suffers, who has a child to love . . . A torn garment is soon mended, but hard words bruise the heart of a child . . .

Many years ago, a quaint old pastor in one of the rural churches told the men to leave their cuds of tobacco outside on a log or a stump, and he promised that neither dog nor hog would bother them . . . I refer this suggestion to persons who are so irreverent and thoughtless as to use chewing gum in church . . . Do you want Christ to represent you above as you represent Him below?

Honey Makes Winter Mornings Sweeter

"Good Morning, Honey" is great to hear when you wake up on a dreary winter morning, but it's even more special when you're served a breakfast treat sweetened with honey.

Burleson's (Texas' first and oldest honey company) suggests several tips for enhancing your favorite breakfast recipes and they have some new ideas for you to try.

The fresh aroma and taste of Special Honey Coffee will start any winter morning with a smile, especially when served with Honey Bran Muffins topped with Honey Lemon Syrup. For those on the go Honey Breakfast Crunch and Honey Breakfast Drinks provide the energy boost to start the day.

"Honey is a fat free and cholesterol free food that can be used to replace half, and sometimes all, the sugar needed in most recipes," says Burleson's spokesperson Lynn Sutter. Using honey also will help keep your baked goods fresher longer because honey, unlike granulated sugar, absorbs and retains moisture.

If you'd like to substitute honey in your own favorite breakfast recipes, Burleson's offers these guidelines and tips.

★ Because honey provides about 17% moisture, reduce liquids called for in recipe by 1/4 cup per cup honey used.

★ When baking, add 1/2 teaspoon baking soda for each cup of honey used.

★ Reduce your oven temperature by 25°F to prevent over browning.

★ Coat your measuring cup with vegetable cooking spray before you measure honey. (It will pour more easily.)

★ Store honey in a dry place at room temperature. (It will keep indefinitely.)

Owls Run Into Injury Trouble, Lady Owls Continue to Win

Tuesday night of last week, the high school teams traveled to Motley County High for a series of three games. Owl starter Stoney Hubbard went down in the second quarter with a sprained ankle and was unable to play the rest of the game and also Friday night's game against Amherst. The next morning in PE class, Owl starter Braden Towe went down with a sprained ankle. He was able to play against Amherst, but was not able to perform up to par because of his limp and the fact that Amherst quickly began trapping him.

As of Tuesday morning it looked like both Hubbard and Towe would be back in the lineup for the games at Spur.

Already the Owls had lost Phil Patino with a knee injury that likely will keep him out of athletics the rest of the year. The Owls have a good team, but have little depth on the bench.

The Junior Varsity boys lost their game at Motley County, but the Lady Owls rolled on to a 45-41 victory over the Lady Matadors.

Dedra Johnston led the scoring with 18 points, followed by Molly Bomar, eight; Brandi Brunson and Leslee Weaks, six points each; Christa Tucker, five, and Lori Brannon, two points.

The Owls were staying in the thick of the battle until they lost Hubbard. They trailed by only five at the midway stop, but went on to drop the match by 11 points.

There was balanced scoring throughout the team, with Lance Holt getting 13; Hubbard and Zane Henderson, 10 points each; Matt Francis, nine, and Towe, eight.

The Lady Owls played hard, did a good job on defense, and earned a 47-44 victory over Coach Anette Shely's girls from Amherst here Friday night. Dedra Johnston was the leading scorer, and tossed in the three-point shot that gave the Lady Owls a one-point lead with a few seconds left in the game. With five seconds on the clock, Dedra was fouled and went to the line and tossed two more points in, giving the Lady Owls their margin of victory.

Brandi Brunson scored 12 points; Leslee Weaks, seven; Kami Martin, Christa Tucker and Lori Brannon, four points each; Molly Bomar, three points.

Lady Owls 5 14 34 47

The Owls were ineffective with Towe limping and Hubbard out of the lineup against Coach Jack Shely's boys from Amherst. Several of the Junior Varsity players saw action in the game.

Four players scored in double figures, with Matt Francis leading the offense with 20 points. Lance Holt tossed in 17; Zane Henderson, 12, and Kevin Womack, 11. Brandon Sarchet added four points to the score.

The varsity teams traveled to Spur Tuesday and will be hosting Claude Friday with tipoff at 5:00 p.m.

Junior High Teams Rolling to Victories

Monday the seventh grade Owls and Lady Owls played their games against Hedley Junior High, and the eighth grade teams played Patton Springs Junior High.

The seventh grade Lady Owls led off the action by suffering a narrow 16-12 defeat after having played a pretty good game. They started slowly, not scoring in the first period, and weren't able to overcome the deficit even though they got close a few times.

Scoring for the Lady Owls were Misty Wilkinson, five points, one of which was a three pointer; Lindsey Weaks, four; Amanda Cruz, two, and Lindsey Jennings, one point from the line.

The seventh grade Owls led most of the second half in their game with Hedley Junior High, but the green Owls put on a rally at the end of the game that closed the margin of victory to one point, 45-44.

Jay Arnold led the offense with 10 points, but Jared Holt, Jeremy Holt, David Gamble and David Donahoo were right behind him with eight points each. Donny Burson tossed three points into the baskets.

7th Owls 8 18 38 45
Hedley JH 6 20 28 44

The eighth grade Lady Owls came on like gang busters in their game with Patton Springs Junior High, earning a big 42-9 victory. The Lady Owls led at the end of each quarter, and all five of the girls shared in the scoring. Lacy Brunson led the offense with a big 23 points. Michelle Warren and Kenzie Burson scored eight points each, Shauna Kingery tossed two points in and Molly Brooks rang up a point from the line.

In their first game, the Lady Owls earned a 40-4 victory, holding Plainview scoreless the entire first half. Balanced scoring saw Michelle Warren ringing up eight points, and Molly Brooks, Misti Wilkinson and Dara Ramsey getting six points each. Kenzie Burson added four points and Lacy Brunson and Amanda Cruz got two points each.

From the very first moment of "Rebecca," ("Last night I dreamt I went to Manderley again") readers were immersed in the claustrophobic world of Maxim de Winter, his child bride, and the memory of the malevolent beauty, Rebecca. At the end of "Rebecca," Manderley is burning and Maxim and Mrs. de Winter are on their way to the continent to try to build a quiet, safe life for themselves. Could this be possible?

Susan Hill writes the sequel to "Rebecca" in the new book, "Mrs. de Winter."

December Was Drier, Warmer Than Normal On Texas South Plains

Weather across the Texas South Plains during the month of December 1993 turned out to be both drier and warmer than normal.

Temperatures averaged 1.4 degrees above normal and ranged from 3.8 degrees above normal at Olton to 0.1 degree above normal at both Tahoka and Tulia.

Silverton's temperatures for the month averaged 40.1 degrees, which was a little more than a degree below the South Plains average.

Maximum temperatures averaged 2.5

degrees above normal and ranged from 6.0 degrees above normal at Olton to 0.5 degree above normal at Seminole. The highest temperature reported during the month was 79 at Spur on the 10th.

Silverton's maximum temperatures averaged 55.0 degrees, 2.1 degrees below the South Plains average.

Minimum temperatures averaged 0.3 degree above normal and ranged from 2.3 degrees above normal at Matador to 2.3 degrees below normal at Tulia. The lowest temperature reported during the month was nine degrees at Muleshoe on the 25th.

Silverton's minimum temperatures averaged 25.1 degrees, 1.5 degrees below the South Plains average.

Precipitation averaged 0.23 inch below normal and ranged from 1.47 inches above normal at Paducah to 0.88 inch below normal at Snyder. Most of the precipitation was in the form of rain although some light snow was reported just before Christmas. Most snow amounts were traces with a few one-inch totals scattered across the area.

Silverton received .87 of an inch of precipitation during the month of December, which was almost twice the South Plains average and also was above the 45-year average for Silverton.

Tulia Council Boosts Rate For Using Landfill

The Tulia City Council recently approved a $5 per ton increase in the rate it will charge three cities for the use of the Tulia landfill, City Manager Bryan Easum said.

Beginning January 15, Tulia will charge Quitaque, Silverton and Turkey a tipping fee of $20 per ton. The previous rate was $15 per ton, Easum said.

The new rate was included in a landfill agreement with the three cities that the Tulia City Council approved.

Easum said the increased rate brings the charges more in line with actual costs at the Tulia landfill.

Silverton Mayor John Bowman said he was unsure if the new rate charged by Tulia would affect Silverton residents.

"It might not be any increase or it might be a small one," he said.

Quitaque Council member Randy Stark said Quitaque officials also have not determined whether the increase will force them to raise their garbage-collection rate.

Easum said Silverton and Quitaque have used the Tulia landfill previously under a 1989 agreement.

The new agreement, which adds Turkey, updates the 1989 agreement, bringing it into compliance with new state and federal guidelines, Easum said.

Good Impressions Last

The final step in developing hospitality habits is to make a good last impression. The last impression will stay with the customer a long time. As a business owner or a community interested in promoting tourism, you will definitely want the impression to be a favorable one.

As the customer is leaving, ask him how everything was. If there has been a problem, this will give him a chance to tell you about it and it will give you a chance to solve the problem. Try to make the customer feel good about his choice to do business with you. You definitely want his business again, so make sure he knows you appreciated him as well as his business, not just his money.

Finally, thank him for coming in and invite him to come back. This adds a very personal touch which has been forgotten by some of our larger businesses of today. If you've noticed, a good impression is something WalMart has strived to achieve. They have someone welcoming you into their store at the front door and someone at the exit door thanking you for shopping with them. Make sure you leave as good an impression with your customers as they do.

This concludes our series on developing "Hospitality Habits. The background information for this series was taken from the "Texas Hospitality Training Workbook."

FmHA Moves to Speed Up Loans

"Texas farmers applying for assistance from Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will experience a breath of fresh air this year," George Ellis, FmHA Texas State Director, said recently.

"I have today taken action to delegate the full loan approval authority allowed under the Federal Regulations to FmHA County Offices in Texas," Ellis added.

This action means that FmHA Supervisors at the County level will be able to exercise loan approval authority up to the full County limit without prior reviews being required at other locations or even by FmHA officials at the same location.

"As this new year begins, I feel this will be a real help to our farm customers, and I intend to pursue this type of change in the future, wherever I can," said Ellis.

FmHA County Supervisors previously were subject to a complicated system of reviews and re-reviews of loan applications in order to approve an FmHA loan. This system was instituted several years ago in order to insure fewer mistakes and more uniformity from County to County.

"I still intend to hold FmHA Supervisors to the same high standards as in the past; however, I am dedicated to streamlining the process so that our farm customers will have funds available to them at the time they are needed," Ellis said.

Farmers Home Administration, as an Equal Opportunity Lender, makes loans or grants to individuals or groups and guarantees to approved lenders without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, familial status, and handicap. Complaints of discrimination should be sent to Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Easements May Help FmHA Borrowers Restructure Debts

"Farmers with loans from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) may be able to put flood-damaged land under conservation easements in exchange for a reduction in their debt," George Ellis, FmHA State Director, said recently. Use of the easements is not limited to flood areas, but it may be particularly helpful in such areas.

"Eligible lands may include wetlands, marginal farmland, highly erodible land, woodland, wildlife areas, and several others," Ellis said. "In certain areas, there may be instances where farmland was damaged so severely by the recent flooding that restoring it may cost more than its agricultural value. In those cases, a conservation easement may be a solution. Under this program, a voluntary easement can be placed on a portion of the land in return for a reduction in the amount owed to FmHA."

Ellis said the easements are for 50 years or more and can help wildlife habitat. "Not only can FmHA farm borrowers take marginal acreage out of production in this way, they also can materially reduce their farm operating costs," Ellis said.

Farmers who think they may be eligible should contact their local FmHA County Office for further information. Farmers Home Administration, as an Equal Opportunity Lender, makes loans or grants to individuals or groups and guarantees to approved lenders without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, marital status and handicap. Complaints of discrimination should be sent to Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Extension Program (LREP) has designated "Parenting" as an issue in Briscoe County which needed to be addressed by the Briscoe County Extension Service. For 1994, the focus of the Briscoe County Home Economics programs will be on parenting. If you would like more information about the programming efforts which will be conducted, please feel free to call me.

Handling Problems

Occasionally, when working with the public, a problem will sometimes occur. The fifth step in developing hospitality habits is to handle all problems effectively.

If there is a problem, listen carefully to what the customer has to say so that the problem may be fully identified. Use your common sense to identify possible solutions to the problem. If you cannot help solve the problem, connect the customer with someone who can. Show a genuine concern for the customer's problem and try to get it resolved immediately. Work cooperatively with others to solve the customer's problems as quickly as possible. Remember, without the customer, you have no job.

Finally, go the extra mile to make sure the customer is completely satisfied. It only takes one bad experience to hurt a business. The customer who has had a bad experience will tell many others about their experience and it doesn't take long for word to spread. Make sure you do your part in handling problems effectively.

Cotton Producers are Invited to Cotton Research Meeting

The Texas State Support Committee (TSSC) is inviting Texas cotton producers to attend a meeting January 20, 1994, in Lubbock. The meeting will focus on reviewing the TSSC research projects supported in 1993.

The TSSC is made up of cotton producers from each of the nine regional cotton producing organizations in Texas. The committee's objective is to study, develop and evaluate innovative research affecting the state's cotton industry. Funding for this research comes from the research and promotion program, which is supported by all cotton producers.

The TSSC supports research projects on both statewide and regional levels. Projects supported by the committee in 1993 range widely in the areas of research conducted. Areas addressed include plant breeding for improved fiber quality, insect control, harvest-aid management and improved cotton profitability.

Each of the researchers who conducted the projects in 1993 will provide a brief report on the results of their project. They will be available to take questions from the audience, and will be on hand to visit with individual growers. Cotton growers are encouraged to attend and learn about some of the latest developments in practical research, and to see first hand how their dollars are being used to improve cotton production in the future.

The scheduled meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the auditorium of the Texas Agricultural Extension & Research Center in Lubbock. All cotton growers and other interested individuals are welcome and are encouraged to attend.

For more information, contact Dr. James Supak, 409-845-0884, or Dr. Kater Hake, 806-746-6101.

No Prerequisite Required

Becoming a parent is one of the few things left that can be done without having to take a test or to get a license; however, it is one of the most important responsibilities one can have during their life. The New Jersey Home Economics Association defines parenting as "taking the responsibility for the care and well-being of a child and working toward the goal of helping that child reach its full emotional, intellectual, social and physical potential."

Parenting is more than simply becoming a mother or father, biologically. It involves many skills for which most of us are not well prepared. There also are many disagreements between parenting professionals about the "right way" of parenting, making it hard to decide exactly what we should be doing.

The way a child is parented determines how the child's needs are met, not only in childhood, but throughout life. It also affects a person's approach to learning, people opportunities and their overall emotional stability.

Medicare and Hospice Care

by Terry Richardson
Social Security Office Manager
Plainview, Texas

When a Medicare beneficiary needs hospice care for a terminal illness, Medicare Hospital Insurance (Part A) may cover the cost of the required services. Home care, inpatient care—when needed—and a number of other services may be paid for under the hospice benefit.

To receive this coverage, the patient must meet three conditions: (1) a physician certifies that the patient is terminally ill—with a life expectancy of six months or less if the disease runs its normal course; (2) the patient chooses to be cared for by a hospice instead of using standard Medicare benefits for the terminal disease; and (3) care is provided by a Medicare-participating hospice program. The approved hospice and the beneficiary's attending physician must jointly establish the plan of care.

Medicare will pay almost the entire cost of the following services if they are provided by a Medicare-approved hospice:

- ★ physicians' services;
- ★ nursing services;
- ★ drugs, including outpatient drugs for pain relief and symptom management;
- ★ short-term inpatient care, including respite care;
- ★ home health aide and homemaker services;
- ★ physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech/language pathology;
- ★ medical social services;
- ★ counseling, including dietary advice; and
- ★ medical supplies and equipment.

Medicare pays for: two 90-day periods of hospice care, one additional 30-day period, and an extension of unlimited duration, if it is needed. These "benefit periods" can be used consecutively or at intervals but, at the beginning of each period, the beneficiary must be certified as terminally ill. There are special rules when you change hospice programs, cancel and re-elect hospice care, and use your standard Medicare coverage for treatment of a condition that is not related to the terminal illness, even if you remain in the hospice.

To find out about Medicare-approved hospices in your area, contact your state or local health department, state hospice organization, or local Social Security office. Or, call the toll-free telephone number of the National Hospice Organization, 1-800-658-8898. Information about Medicare hospice benefits is found in the leaflet, "Medicare Hospice Benefits—A Special Way of Caring for the Terminally Ill," available at your local Social Security office or by calling Social Security's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213. Detailed information about the Medicare program is found in "The Medicare Handbook," available free by calling the Health Care Financing Administration's toll-free number, 1-800-638-6833.
