Owls in State Playoffs Tonight

Briscoe ACS Unit Reaches PACE

"American Cancer Society volunteers in the Briscoe Unit have reached their goal in public education for PACE," said Delene Tyler, unit president.

PACE, or Priority Activities in Cancer Education, is a plan that spells out a basic Society public education program for a particular size unit. PACE helps units make the best use of volunteer power and other resources for cancer education. By concentrating on PACE objectives, units can reach the people who need help most and deliver information effectively. The program focuses on themes where prevention or early detection and treatment saves the most lives.

In order to reach PACE status, community volunteers must reach 40 percent of the youth population and 10 percent of the adult population with American Cancer Society life-saving information. Messages about different types of cancer are delivered through educational programs in organizations, businesses, health service sites and other locations.

"This is a large undertaking, but one that volunteers in the Briscoe Unit feel is important and necessary to the health and welfare of our community," Mrs. Tyler added.

Silverton's Owls will face Groom tonight (Thursday, February 24) at 7:00 in the Clarendon College Gym. They need a large group of their fans on hand to cheer them to victory.

The Owls have spent the past weeks battling injuries and illness, but should be ready for the Tigers.

Three warm-up games have been played, with Chilicothe, Lorenzo and Fort Elliott, and even though the Owls have lost these matches, they have gained valuable experience from all of them. They have been without the services of some of their players in at least two of the warm-up games.

Family Community Educators

Are you familiar with the Briscoe County Extension Homemakers Clubs? Then you are also familiar with the Briscoe County Family Community Educators Clubs. They simply have changed their name.

The National and State Extension Homemakers Association decided a different name would better reflect the actions of the club members. The majority of the clubs' members now are employed outside of the home. They also are very involved in their community and their families. Thence, the change to "Family Community Educators" (FCE).

Briscoe County currently has two active clubs, the Southwestern Club and the Progressive Club. Both clubs have an open membership and welcome the opportunity to involve others in their club work. If you are interested in joining one of these clubs or would like to form your own club, please call the Briscoe County Extension Office.

Educational programs of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to all citizens with regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age or national origin.

Charles and Mary Ann Sarchet have given a bound volume of Briscoe County News of 1993 to the Library. Bound volumes of Briscoe County News start with the year 1960.

Among donations to the Library are eight volumes of "Books in Print" by titles and authors.

New books include "Accident," by Danielle Steele. A powerful and ultimately triumphant tale of families shattered and lives changed forever by a single moment.

"Trail to Seven Pines," by Louis L'amour.

"Damia's Children," by Anne McCaffrey, combines elements of family, adventure, action and intriguing possibilities of psychic

Also in the Library: Martha Grimes' "The Man With a Load of Mischief." The village of Long Piddleton has good reason to be wary of everyone. Its cozy pubs and inns with their polished pewter and blazing hearths have become the scene of the most bizarre crimes. Who were the victims? And who was the murderer? A maniac? A stranger? or the friendly man next door?

TO THE VOTERS OF BRISCOE COUNTY

I have enjoyed going around Briscoe County, visiting with each registered voter. I have tried to see everyone, but I am sure that I have missed a few of you! If I have missed seeing you, I apologize!

I would like to be your next County Judge! I can assure you that I will be fair and honest, in all of my dealings with each and every one of you. I will also do my best to hold your taxes down each year. To those that I visited with, and to those that were not at home when I came by, I am asking for your vote in the upcoming election on March 8, 1994.

I just want to say thanks to those that I visited with! Sometimes I interrupted your dinner and etc., but you were always gracious and courteous and listened to me.

Thanks,

While musing, it occurred to me that a stroll about what I often call my memory garden was in order and I paused a while in the year 1918 about Thanksgiving time. That was the time that we moved to the little Plains City of Silverton. So I was thinking about one of the things that happened when I first was in my new hometown of Silverton.

In those days (seventy-six years ago), picnics were common. We went to town for this particular celebration, which I remember had something to do with World War I. I think it was at the close of the war. Anyway, they were still selling and buying bonds. So the City Fathers arranged for a very interesting event to take place that day. An Army pilot was to arrive and fly over and around town while dropping leaflets, what seemed to me thousands of them, and on one of the leaflets was a number. The person who retrieved that one would be given a genuine captured German helmet. If you can envision the running, crowding, pushing and shoving by five hundred grown people you can imagine the hectic activity that took place that day.

I recall vividly that I was just about to capture one of those fluttering, dodging pieces of paper when a large man ran over me and himself snatched "my paper." I was but a little lad so I couldn't do much about it. It didn't matter, though, for it did not have the number on it, anyway.

To boost the sale of bonds, the one who sold the most bonds and the one who bought the most were to receive a ride in the plane. This was indeed something to be desired. Well a young lady named Briscoe, as I recall, sold the most, and a man named Dan Montague, who was to become my father-in-law later in life, bought the most, so they both got to ride in the plane, to the envy of almost five hundred other people, save one. Among them was a very dear wonderful old lady who was in her middle nineties. She was Mother Rhea, very dear to everyone. She expressed her desire to ride in that plane. (It was, of course, an open cockpit plane.) The pilot refused, saying he would be in serious trouble if he should do so.

Well! The City Fathers did their work again and were successful in persuading him. She was placed in the plane and he took off, flew a large circle around town. When he landed, and they were helping her from the plane, she waved her arms and shouted, "Lord, I'm ready

OBITUARIES

ANNIE BREEDLOVE

Funeral services for Annie Breedlove, 90, were conducted at 11:00 a.m. Friday at the First Baptist Church in Silverton. Officiating was a nephew, Wynes Manney, Assembly of God Church, Lovington, New Mexico.

Burial followed graveside services in Memorial Gardens Cemetery at Wellington at 3:00 p.m. that same day. Arrangements were made by Lemons Funeral Home of Plainview.

Mrs. Breedlove died at 8:25 a.m. Wednesday, February 18, at Swisher Memorial Hospital in Tulia.

She was born at Clarendon January 7, 1904. She married Marion Frank Breedlove December 5, 1920, in Hollis, Oklahoma. He preceded her in death in August 1971.

After their marriage, they lived in Wellington, then moved to the Plainview area in 1923. They moved to Vinson, Oklahoma in 1938. They moved to a farm near Silverton in 1953 and she moved into a home in town in 1986.

She was a member of the Lone Star Baptist Church and the Rock Creek Quilting Club.

Lady Owls Unable to Advance in Playoffs

Silverton's Lady Owls played well in their bi-district game with Groom last Friday, but were unable to put the Tigerettes away. A large contingent of fans followed the Lady Owls to Clarendon, and most agreed that they had done their best and expressed appreciation to the team and Coach Roger Whipkey for a most-enjoyable season.

The Lady Owls led at the end of each quarter except the fourth, and were outscored 14-7 in that period. Lori Brannon and Dedra Johnston each had three three-pointers and combined for 31 points for the Lady Owls, outscoring Groom 18-0 from three-point range. The Lady Owls did well against Groom's original game plan, but it just so happened that Groom made the right adjustments in the second half and were able to take control of the game in the fourth period, stalling after getting the lead and forcing the Lady Owls to foul to get the ball back into play.

Scoring was by Brannon, 18; Johnston, 13; Molly Bomar, six; Brandi Brunson, four; Leslee Weak, two points.

This was the last game for Lady Owl Seniors Christa Tucker and Kami Martin. They have been play-makers and team leaders for the Lady Owls throughout their high school basketball careers, and will be missed.

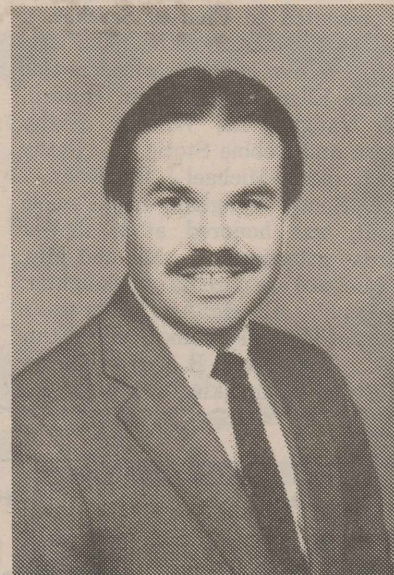

The Lady Owls will carry on next season with a few quality seniors, a large group of juniors, two sophomores and a large, good crop of girls coming up from the Eighth Grade, where they also have been winners this season.

In the first game of the double-header, Valley advanced to the next round of the playoffs to meet Happy, after a three-point victory over McLean. The Groom girls enter the second round to meet Nazareth.

Why Go to Church? Why Attend Revival?

by Brad Enloe, Pastor
Silverton United Methodist Church

What is the number-one reason why people do not attend Church? It may come disguised in many different forms but they all boil down to this: They do not believe the Church today has anything to offer them! If they really believed the church was a benefit to them, they would make a point to be there regularly.

Instead we often make lame excuses. We say the church is full of hypocrites. We say the church is out of touch with my modern needs. We claim that we can be religious and maintain a relationship with God without going to church. Some use work as an excuse. And then there are others who do give excuses but simply admit that they have gotten out of the habit of going.

The famous slogan of Ford Motor Company is, "Have you driven a Ford lately?" Well apply that question to your local church. "Have you tested your local church lately?" Not just attended one Sunday morning service and quickly slipped out the back door, but attended all its functions. We do not choose an automobile simply by looking through the glass from the outside, nor merely by sitting in the seat. No, we test drive it, try out all of its gadgets, check out the acceleration. We want to know, "What can this car do for me?"

No vehicle can operate without someone sitting in the seat. The same truths apply to the church. The church has a lot more to offer than just a Sunday morning sermon. Have you tried the Sunday night services? Have you tried its mid-week services or youth groups? The church cannot function without people sitting in its seats and taking responsibilities in its ministries.

The church does not exist just for those who come. It exists for the world. The church is not just an institution established by man, for man. It is established by God through Jesus Christ, for the world! The church has been around since Jesus told his disciples, "Go ye therefore into all the earth preaching the gospel and making disciples of all men."

It is God's will and decree that people (that's you) relate to him and to each other as part of a larger body (that is the church). John Calvin once said, "You can not have God as your Father without the church as your mother."

The book of Revelation depicts the Groom (Jesus) returning to the earth to marry the Bride, which is the church not an individual. God's plan of Redemption and salvation is more good news than any one man can carry by himself. This message has been entrusted to the followers of Christ as a body, a group of believers.

Now you can give all the excuses that your feeble minds can contrive on why you should not go to church, but you are not arguing with me but with God. It was His plan and He implemented the church almost 2000 years ago. Hebrews 10:25 said, "Let us not give up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but let us encourage one another and all the more as you see the Day (of the Lord) approaching."

Oh, to be sure, the church has its flaws. We are at times some of the worst hypocrites with the best intentions. We have our pews (I wish I could say full) sparsely with sinners from all walks of life. We are far from perfect. We make mistakes, we at times say hurtful things, gossip, fall short, etc. etc. But we are still the church that God has chosen in this day to bear witness to and minister in His name.

Sometimes we reason that we should not go to church because "they will make me stop doing some of the things I really like doing." "They will expect me to live a certain way." "People will hold me accountable." "I just cannot bring myself to do all of that."

There may be people inside the church that make it their personal business to keep the world in order, but it has been time honored and thoroughly tested that they cannot do that. Even Jesus was not able to do that while on earth. But God calls us to live by His standards which is holiness and sinlessness. Even though we may never attain that in this lifetime, it still is to be our goal. And if God uses the church to convict you to stop any particular way you are living, perhaps you should ask yourself if that is a way you should be living anyway. Is it good for you?

I see a whole generation of young people growing up without any moral or ethical consciences. Not to accuse any individual of that but it is easily seen by looking at society. They have no desire to walk hand in hand with God, much less do they understand spending an eternity with Him.

Do not be fooled; there are requirements that must be met before we are allowed into heaven's gates. Although I do not believe that sitting in a church pew is one of those requirements, it is probably the best place to learn about and learn how to carry out those requirements.

How strongly can I say this? It is nearly impossible in this day and age to find the straight and narrow path without the light of Christ shining through the body of his believers, which is the church.

The church is not just for women and sissies unless you call God, the King of Kings, one of these! You are not too old to start attending again. You have not been out of touch too long. You are not too unhealthy or crippled up to attend. If need be, someone will come to your house, pick you up, and carry you up the steps. Pride goeth before a fall. You are not too bad, nor have you sinned too much to come to church. You have not already served your time; you are to be a part of the body until God calls you home.

What is a few years of devotion and service to the Lord compared to an eternity in heaven? Come on, make an investment with a return out of this world! Make a commitment to your local church.

What better way is there to test drive a church than by attending a Revival. Revivals are designed to revive us, to renew us, to give us another chance to get straight with God.

The United Methodist Church of Silverton invites you to attend their annual Revival March 2 through March 5. See WHY GO TO CHURCH? Continued on Page Six

THANK GOD FOR WHAT YOU HAVE BEFORE YOU ASK FOR MORE

There are many ways of saying our prayers, according to our faith and our personal style of doing things, and most of them are acceptable; as long as we are sincere and don't turn the prayer into a "shopping list" of unnecessary material things. We should begin by thanking God for all the blessings He has already granted us, including every day of our lives. Then we should pray for the health and well-being of our loved ones and friends, for the sick and the bereaved, for the cure of disease, for world peace and harmony, and for freedom and friendly cooperation among all nations. Beyond that, let us remember that God will grant only the requests that are right for us, because in His infinite wisdom He knows what is best, far better than we do.
