W. B. Brazelton, Owner of Lumber Interests, Dies

Word has been received here of the death of W. B. Brazelton, 77, of Waco, recognized for many years as a leader in the lumber industry. Mr. Brazelton's death followed a two month's illness.

The deceased had many friends in Haskell, having been the owner of a lumber yard in this city for a number of years.

Mr. Brazelton was associated with the late William Cameron, founder of the lumber firm of William Cameron & Co., of which he was general manager. When Mr. Brazelton retired from the firm in 1897, he became associated with the late Capt. C. L. Johnson, under the firm name of Brazelton & Johnson. Later he organized the firm of Brazelton & Pryor, and at the time of his death he was senior member of the Brazelton Lumber Company.

Mr. Brazelton had varied interests in addition to his connection with the lumber industry. He was chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Waco, affiliate of the Republic National Bank of Dallas. He also was president of the Behrens Drug Company of Waco and president of the Wood County Cotton Oil Company of Mineola.

A charter member of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas, Mr. Brazelton was past president of that organization. He also was a member of the board of advisers of the Lumbermen's Underwriters.

daughters also made detailed statements relating occasions on which they had been forced to submit to advances of their parent. Eads seated himself on the ground while officers dismantled the body, apparently unmoved. While officers were removing dirt from around the small cardboard box, Eads requested Officer Dotson to give him a match to light his smoke. Eads denied parenthood of the infant and gave investigators the name of a married man who resides in Haskell county as the father. Officers refused to divulge the man's name. Mrs. Eads told officers she had been married to Eads for 28 years. The family has resided in Haskell county for two years, moving here from Young county. They have resided here at intervals for about 10 years. Rumors of the case have been discussed by Haskell citizens for some time, but it was not until Thursday afternoon that officers secured enough evidence to warrant starting their investigations. In this you select your choice for the winners of the third and fourth race. Having done so go to the daily double booth and give the clerk the post position number of your horses, giving first the number of the horse in the third race and then the number of the horse in the fourth race. You will then receive a ticket with these numbers in bold type upon their face, the left hand number being the number of your horse in the first of the two races and the right hand number the number of the horse in the second of the two races. The calculations for this payoff is identical with that for straight bets, the tickets on the winning combination taking all the pool.

Methodists— (Continued from Page One) Bene district. Only a few families were living in this section at the time. Rev. Wiseman started preaching in a country which Mr. Alexander terms "wild, western country, with but few members to encourage him in his battles, and even these felt somewhat 'backslidden' on account of the associations of the day, as most of the people here were out for the money to be made and paid very scant attention to religious affairs." Rev. Wiseman rode horseback from Anson, 30 miles south of this city, with no trail of any sort to guide him.

Having decided on your horse and the manner in which you wish to bet go to the designated window for that type of bet and for $2.00 the clerk will hand you a ticket bearing a large number on its face together with a symbol. This number is the mutual number of the horse and having received this ticket be sure and check the number against the mutual number of the horse on the program for the day. In this way you make sure that no mistake has been made and that you have the ticket desired. No mistake of this kind can be corrected after the race is run. Be sure also not to mutilate your ticket—for tickets mutilated or with an indistinct or partial mutual number will not be honored. Keep your ticket until the winners are officially announced for it may happen that the ostensible winner will be disqualified and your losing ticket will become a winning ticket. Tickets are good immediately after the race but may be cashed at any time within your convenience. Present these tickets at the window designated for the cashing of tickets of that type.

Under the Texas Certificate System, having selected your horse by reasoning left up to you, go to the mutual booth situated between the grandstand and the bleachers. There you will find six windows devoted to the sale of tickets and six to the paying off of winning tickets. Two of these windows are for the sale of "straight" tickets, two for the sale of "Place" tickets and two for the sale of "Show" tickets with a like division of the payoff windows. Thus you may bet your horse in any one of three manners. If you buy a straight ticket your horse must run first for you to win. If you buy a place ticket you win if the horse comes in either first or second. If you have a show ticket you win if your horse is either first, second or third. Under the Texas system the amount of the payoff on tickets is calculated in the following manner. For purposes of explanation let us presume that in the race upon which we have a ticket there are five horses—Sun Beau, with five tickets sold on him, Mary Jane with thirty tickets sold on her, Red Head with ten tickets sold on her, Making Time with fifteen tickets sold on him and Old Gold with forty tickets sold on him. This sale of tickets will place a total of $200 in the mutual pool. From this the association will take $15.00, the State $5.00, leaving a total of $180.00 in the actual pool. Then to calculate the winnings on a straight ticket that sum is divided by the number of tickets sold on the winning horse. Thus if Old Gold won with forty tickets sold on him the payoff will be $4.50 while if Sun Beau, the dark horse, won the payoff would be $36.00. In a similar way to calculate the payoff on place bets, presuming that the same division of tickets existed as above set out for straight tickets, the sums of money placed on the two "Place" horses would be first subtracted from the purse of $180.00 and the resulting sum divided by two and the resulting sum added respectively to the sums bet on each of the two horses. Thus if in this race Red Head and Mary Jane placed the sum of $90.00 (the amount bet on the two) would be subtracted from the $180.00 leaving a balance of $90 which would be divided in two equal sums of $45.00. Then $50.00 would be added to the $90.00 placed on Mary Jane making $140.00 in this pool and $50.00 added to the $200.00 placed on Red Head making a total of $70.00. The $140.00 would then be divided by the number of place tickets on Mary Jane (15) and the result would be a payoff of $9.33 while the payoff on Red Head would be $7.00, 70 divided by ten. The method of calculating the payoff on show bets is identical with that for place bets save that

NO FREE SERVICE

There is a growing belief on the part of business men that many concerns are carrying the idea of so-called free service too far. The fact is that no such thing as free service exists. All service which costs money to perform must be paid for by some one.

Take such a simple example as that of free delivery of merchandise sold, and it may readily be seen that the maintenance of delivery trucks or messengers adds to the merchant's expense of doing business. He must pass this expense on to his customers in the form of an increased price for his goods.

While this is fair and proper in principle, the injustice lies in the fact that the customer who does not demand delivery must usually pay as much as the customer who does. If no one required delivery the price might be correspondingly reduced. That this is true is illustrated by the "cash and carry" stores and in a modified degree by the cafeteria system.

The same principle applies to all business which supplies "free" facilities or free service to customers. In the long run someone has to pay, although it is not always the customer who receives the benefit of the extra service.

THE LITERARY DIGEST POLL

The politicians are keeping eagle eyes on the Literary Digest's latest poll, which is to determine whether the public still has faith in the Roosevelt policies in general. In preceding polls, the Digest has been so astonishingly accurate that some wits have suggested calling off elections as an economy measure, and abiding by the Digest returns. So far the present poll shows strong Roosevelt support. He is even carrying Pennsylvania, strong Republican stronghold, and the only large state carried by Hoover in 1932.

FAMILY REUNIONS

Family reunions are coming more and more into popular favor, and the summer and fall of 1934 will probably see more and more of these gatherings of the clans.

As our American civilization takes on age, men think more of their forefathers and of the part which they played in the building of the great structure we call America, but nothing can be gained or accomplished if we live entirely in retrospect. Family reunions serve more than pride. A day of jollification in the open where friendship with blood relations is renewed, and where troubles and hopes can be shared and better understood, should mean much to the man who may have begun to despair and may need encouragement.

We've been told several times that the way for us to get news for this newspaper is to create it—and since that fire at our residence Saturday, we've been accused of doing just that thing, but such is not the case. That fire was genuine. We know, because we helped fight it and have several extremely sore muscles as a result. Our better-half started to burn trash—and the dry grass caught fire. You know the rest. It didn't take the fire department long to get there, however, and outside of the grass, which wasn't wanted a few minute trees and a few semi-wild bushes upon our person, no damage was done.

Some of us may fear at the volunteer fire department, especially if we're on the sidelines, and sneeringly remark that "they saved the ground even if they didn't save the house" but boy, what a feeling of relief and confidence you have when those lads (and grown-ups) reach the scene of fire. They hushed us about our "confabulation" but we're not replying in the same manner. We liked their help so much, that we'll probably call 'em out again sometime.

We observe that the depression hasn't taught some of us any sense, so far as financial matters are concerned.

We note that the people of the United States still have confidence in President Roosevelt, if the Literary Digest poll is correct, but give us time, brother, give us time, and we'll treat him about like we have all the others since George Washington was inaugurated President. Vilify them while alive, and then glorify them to ridiculous heights after they have escaped our shifts of muck and mire.

J. A. Kennedy, editor of the Monday Times, and who isn't ashamed to admit that he "Thinks Out Loud" in a column, took the names of S. A. R. and ourselves into his musings last week when he quoted us as saying that Haskell would have a real baseball team for the second half of the Wichita Valley League. He also takes a six dig at us for not publishing the standing of the various teams, but as we told him at the time of our conversation there are certain reasons why we haven't. One of them is that we are "so busy" and another is another! J. A. K. has exposed us, but we'll stand by our guns, as we should, and a centerfielder that can go and get them and also hit.

THE HASKELL FREE PRESS

With all due respect to young Joe Bailey, he should know by the time that politics is a game and where some people may think certain actions on the part of the high-cups is "unfairness," other groups and candidates think said actions are all hunky-dory, and the voters will still vote as they please.

We may have the wrong slant on things as usual, but for the life of us we can't understand why the wearers of the most modest of bathing suits are considered O. K. by some people, and then those same humans criticize other women for not wearing four or five petticoats in the summer time on our streets. If it is "decent" for men and women to sport themselves in a small amount of clothing at a swimming pool or on a beach before other people, it is decent to do so in other places where people can see them. Skin is skin any way you look at it. The thing for a lot of us to do is to have cleaner thoughts. If we want to see evil, we'll see it, but if we are inclined to thoughts of goodness, we'll not even see anything suggestive.

INK SPOTS. Wonderful thing about "imagination." One Haskell matron failed to appreciate the hot weather, so much so that other day that she took all the available ice cubes out of the refrigerator, placed them in a bowl in front of the electric fan, turned on the "juice" and then propped herself in front to enjoy the Alaska-like (?) breeze. Operator in Jelly Smith to you has been more than usually popular during the past week. Ask him about it. No, sirree, the city didn't cut out our water off on the 16th for failure to pay. We fooled 'em by forking over the day before, but several others had to pay a visit to the office and have a chin-chin with Rufus Banks, the courteous city secretary. Mayor Thurman was to be found among those having conversation with Rufus, and in fact, according to the water commissioner Gene Tonn, water was cut off at Thurman's place first on account of the fact that another person was supposed to take care of such a bill and the matter was overlooked. We don't see Foster Davis as often as we used to. Lon Pate tells us that he'll take us fishing sometime with the "gang" providing we promise to not print anything we might hear talked about ancient things not having to do with sand fishing. We can't tell, half the time, whether Walter Murchison is extolling the merits of horse racing, is speaking as a political candidate or just telling us a few things for the good of the cause. He seems to know his own mind, but if Roy Killingworth, a well-to-do valet, or just too busy to off for more. Little Nance explains that the theory of a foot is the hand is worth two in the hand, may be true for some people but as far as she is concerned they can all stay in the bush. Most birds have "mites" on them anyway. With the C. W. A. office merely attending to routine affairs, district court not in session, the H. P. C. A. office moved to Spur and the weather too warm for most people to move around, our "news" sources are drying up, and it looks like we'll have to start doing a little "creative" work of our own. Wonder how many women attend cooking schools to learn the noble art or merely to win some kind of a prize? We'll refer the above question to the husbands. Emory Menefee actually desires someone to think up a good slogan for his insurance business, so don't forget to help him out. You only have a few more days left (until June 25th), so they that impulse of yours and think up a good one for him. It won't cost you a single thin dime. Our county-citizen Sam West is again playing hangup baseball for the Saint Louey Browns and Reg Hornsby, another Texas product. Wish we had Samuel on our Haskell club for the second half of our pennant race, but we suppose Saint Louis needs him, so we'll not tempt him with a better offer.

We Americans, according to a trade report, buy millions of dollars worth of Chinese tung oil every year, and still we can't speak the language.

The only time some people are willing to "give until it hurts" is when they're giving free advice.

A scientist claims that a kiss shortens one's life by two minutes, but with nothing much but time on your hands what does an hour or two mean, anyway?

Most of those who now fear for the future of the young generation forget how they used to steal out behind the barn to smoke or hid in the haymow to read a dime novel.

Every once in a while you hear some person blame the depression on the automobile, and we presume that the one before this was blamed on people spending too much for rubber-tired buggies.

The artist sees only the grandeur of the past in a classic ruin, while the hard-headed business man wonders if they got the bonds paid off before the thing fell in.

We heard of a girl the other day who held 13 spades and forgot to redouble, but fortunately she's not married and she won't have to hear about it the rest of her life.

We never could understand why lawyers called them briefs when they're always so darned long.

The new 32 beer is supposed to be non-intoxicating so if you get a little full on it you can plead you're merely physically drunk but legally sober.

Those new rubber bathing suits should enable bathers to swim for quite a stretch.

Ours is a Frigidaire '34

Automatically—at a finger touch—ice trays glide from the freezer of the Frigidaire '34! But that's only one of the features of this fine Frigidaire.

For instance, the Super Series Frigidaire '34 has automatic defrosting; it has Lifetime Porcelain inside and out; it has the new Sliding Utility Basket for eggs and small articles; and the Frigidaire Servashelf that's so convenient when rearranging things in the refrigerator.

Nor is that all . . . double Hydrator capacity; interior lighting; faster freezing; and more-than-generous food space, with extra room for tall bottles. And the powerful, quiet motor operates on a remarkably small amount of current! Will you come in and see what's happened in electric refrigeration?

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY, 1934

Before a two-year-old is allowed to start for the first time he must be granted a diploma by the starter, who schools him in barrier manners. The youngster must learn that the starting gate is a friend rather than an enemy, protecting him from the savage kicks of other horses. Some trainers lead their young colts up to the gate and let them play around it for hours before attempting to lead them into the padded stalls. A few horses take to the schooling kindly on their first outing; others become tractable by degrees; still others are never reconciled to the gate. Reveille Boy, winner of the 1930 American Derby, was one of these latter. On nearly every start he had to be taken outside the stalls before the field could be dispatched.

Next I made two hat stands to be placed on shelves, and got an old rod from an old cook stove that was 3 1/2 feet long and painted it white. This was used the full length of the closet to hang the hangers of dresses on. My shoe rack was made from broom handles and a fruit box. Paint was used that was already on hand to paint this."

Mrs. Lancaster tells other points about her work as follows: "I keep my family's clothing clean and mended and my closet in order at all times. Each member knows where to find his or her clothing, whether it be underwear or outer clothing. In buying our suits, coats, etc., we try to buy something we can wear for more than one year. In working over some wool material I made my daughter a new coat that looked practically new for the cost of $1.25. The material was cleaned and the wrong side was used out that gave it a new appearance.

"We have a club of 20 active members and each has a good fitting foundation pattern. We have had four all day meetings to cut and alter patterns. I have cut or helped to cut 43 patterns and 23 of them were for members that did not belong to the club. It is a pleasure to me to help in any way in Extension work. I have carried 5 non-club members to the meetings this year. I think I have the last word in wardrobe work which is a sleeve board I can press my coat or any sleeve which was difficult before having the sleeve board. I attended the clothing school held at Munday by Mrs. Dora Barnes, Extension Clothing Specialist and received much valuable information that I passed on to my club members in the way of different sleeves one can cut by use of foundation patterns.

"Our Wardrobe Achievement day was held June 5 with 15 members present and 10 visitors and our agent Miss Reed. We have had 5 closets remodeled, 3 hat racks made, 3 shoe racks, 43 foundation patterns and 247 garments using the patterns. We had 17 dresses entered in the county clothing contest, being the largest number from any club in the county.

"I have had 178 people to see my

A new Fisher body type for five passengers furnished in the de luxe manner and equipped with a smart spacious streamline trunk built in at the rear

CHEVROLET proudly presents the new Sport Sedan as the most beautiful model ever built by Chevrolet or any other manufacturer of low-priced cars. The genius of Fisher Body designers was allowed full scope in designing this latest addition to the Chevrolet line. And your own eyes will tell you that these makers of masterpieces have never created anything finer. On a long chassis embodying Chevrolet's combination of exclusive features—fully-enclosed Knee-Action, an 80-mile-an-hour, 80-horsepower engine, cable-controlled brakes, and all the rest—is mounted a body that combines full five-passenger capacity, the luxury of custom cars, and the convenience of exceptional luggage space. There is no crowding in this smart car—Fisher craftsmen have provided plenty of leg room and elbow room. And there are more de luxe touches than we have space to tell about. If appearance and convenience come first with you, and you wish to stay in the low-price field—here, beyond a doubt, is your car.

CHEVROLET MOTOR CO., DETROIT, MICH. Compare Chevrolet's low delivered prices and easy G. M. A. C. terms. A General Motors Value.

PEOPLE who have an eye for handsome lines will admire the way the spacious trunk merges into the body lines. The long, streamlined sweep sets this car apart in any company. And make no mistake about it—handsome as this trunk is, it is a decidedly practical feature. It holds enough for a cross-continent tour, and specially-designed locks make it tamper-proof. You will appreciate it more, the longer you drive this smart and roomy model.

working for a Greater Texas

LIFE INSURANCE FUNDS are reservoirs of thrift which feed the streams of progress. The funds of Texas legal reserve life insurance companies play an important part in the progress of Texas, through financing community development projects and home ownership.

At the close of 1933 these companies had $83,000,000.00 working for a greater Texas... invested in loans on farms and city property, in state, county and municipal bonds, in home office buildings and real estate.

This $83,000,000.00 is money in motion, constantly increasing, and parts of it constantly being paid back and reinvested. Every Texan shares the benefits of these investments. Not only are needed improvements made possible, but the money is put into circulation... spent for raw materials and labor.

In 1933 these companies put into circulation an additional $30,000,000.00... in payrolls, taxes, purchases and payments to policyholders and beneficiaries.

When you show a preference for insurance in a Texas legal reserve life company you join hands with these companies and their 1,200,000 other policyholders in making Texas a better state in which to live and make a living.

THE new Ford V-8 can "take it" with a heavy load in any weather because every part is a true, heavy-duty truck part. In designing this unit no compromise with passenger car manufacture has been allowed at any point in the chassis or body. The new Ford V-8 has a special, heavy-duty, 8-cylinder truck engine. It develops 80 full-horsepower. Dual down-draft carburetion has added to the V-type engine's inherent economy and power. New floating copper-lead connecting-rod bearings prevent bearing failures. These brand-new inserts do 850 pound out. The rear axle is full-floating. The driving pinion is straddle-mounted. See the new Ford V-8 now on display at your nearest Ford dealer's.
