From that have been held back by banks all of the information available here which seek to hike the interest at the seat of affairs, my conviction charges too high. is there has been some bull-headedness on each side, and this condition has disclosed where the weak sion, it seems to me we ought to turn spots of the several programs ob-

To make the going tougher, labor leaders have ewooped down to nail fast every possible advantage they can find that they may be in a better position whenever normal economic conditious prevail again. There can be no more mistaking this terviews among our own governbit of selfishness than there can be ment officials respecting the potenby closing one's eyes to the attempts of some industrialists to line their own nests. The difference is that under present circumstances, and with the terms of the national recovery act to back them up, labor leaders are considerably more powerful now than are the employers.

The greatest weakness thus far evident in any of the several recovery efforts, according to the consensus I have gathered, is the attempt to make the rules of codes hidebeyond and inelastic. This course has resulted in handicaps being placed on some businesses that actually prohibit expansion of operation where the desired end obviously is more volume. Observers here are strength allowed by the London and contending that the NRA authorities, particularly, have employed too much haste in some instances, and again haste has made waste. I am told that there are a good many codes that will have to be amended or revised or worked over in some respects in the light of experience, but the pity of this is that able men were not given the chance to have the changes included in the codes in the first instance.

Probably, the answer to these statements will be that hearings were held and each industry was given an opportunity to state its case, which is true. Yet, in all of the terrific hustle and bustle that has gone on in the NRA headquarters, there were influences wielded that appear to some persons here as having been tinged with selfishness. I do not seek to defend either side in such controversies as occurred over the coal code or the automobile code or some of the others, for each side rather messed up the program, but, speaking generally, the staff which General Johnson has around him was capable of doing better work than was done on most of the codes.

As to the gains resulting from the united effort, figures tell the lainest story. Official statistics now that in the majority of lines of trade, there has been a greater volume of business done since NRA and the agricultural program got going than had been in months before. This brought new jobs and new jobs carry additional pay rolls and obviously that means greater comfort for those theretofore out of jobs.

Concerning the efforts to correct weaknesses in the recovery plans, perhaps the To Correct most notable is Weaknesses the move by the Reconstruction Finance corporation to push money out where it will be used. The corporation is prepared to make loans to banks if those banks will make loans to private businesses, and to supply the money to the banks at 3 per cent interest if the banks will not charge more than 5 per cent when it is reloaned. In other words, the Reconstruction Finance corporation has gone almost the whole way into the banking business, for that which it is now doing is nothing more or less than rediscounting commercial obligations.

As was stated above, whether such moves as this will serve the purpose of correcting weaknesses in the recovery plans, no one can say accurately. It is to be remembered that the prime purpose of the NRA was to boost prices, raise wages and make more jobs. Undoubtedly, some

> From our own war on the depresour eyes a moment The Foreign on conditions

Situation abroad that deplet to many observers a state of "war-mindedness" that has been evident since the end of the world conflict in 1918. One can gain little satisfaction from intialities of the foreign situation, because remarks from officials of the Washington government at this time would simply add to the flame. Nevertheless, it does no good to ape an ostrich and hide one's head in the sand. The most untrained observer can see the potential dangers once the facts are made known. In France, in Italy, in Germany, and even in Switzerland, that little republic that always has been a barometer of international relationship, there is evidence of war planning. Even in our country, attention can be called to the program for building up the navy. Our government says it wants a navy of the ton treaties, and by building it now, work is made available for the unemployed. England alone, of all the major powers, seems to be making few steps toward arming.

Interest has centered in a gigantle fortification along its frontier that the French government has constructed. No one knows what it has cost, or will cost when ultimately paid for; it is known only that there has been constructed a veritable concrete and steel system of subterranean fortresses, passageways, munitions depots and supply bases along the frontier for about one hundred miles, and that these one hundred miles roughly constitute the boundary between Germany and Italy on the one hand and the French on the other.

The Germans, under Adolph Hitler's direction, lately have com-War Clouds for business what Over Europe is said to be one of the largest airports on the European continent. It is located almost on the border between Germany and Austria, and some qualified observers maintain it was placed there because of the growing pro-German sentiment in Austria. Their thought is that Hitfor expects some time to have control of Austria, and he assured the pro-Germans of Austria that he is looking after their interests by providing an air fortification where it will be of assistance to them in event of trouble from outside of the two nations. In other words, the implication is that Germany is gradually coaxing Austria back into an alliance such as existed under Kaiser Wilhelm.

In addition to these things, one cannot overlook the Hitler assertions that are strongly anti-French, nor the Mussolini declarations indicating he will have more territory. nor the fact that the French have 680,000 men under arms this year. Likewise, it cannot be passed as insignificant that Britishers are reported to be steadily disposing of French real estate holdings, investments that have been heavy in years past. It may be only hot-heade on the part of statesmen, so-called, now in power in these several na-tions, or it may be that there are grievances that are real instead of fancied. Whatever the underneath fancied. Whatever the underneath condition may be, or is, it is apparent there are potentialities of war obtaining in Europe now that have not been visible in a decade, and in thinking of a European war, it is well to remember the course of that conflict which raged from 1914 to 1912.

A RECORD SMASHING YEAR

So many all-time records in sport, aviation, and other competitive fields have been broken already this year that it is difficult to keep track of them. It is likely that 1933 will be known as the record-smashing year in all activities requiring high personal courage, endurance and

Added to the feats of the Mollisons, Post, Balbo and others in aviation comes the new non-stop record of the French aviators, Rossi and Codos, who flew from New York to Rayak, Syria, approximately 5,900 miles. This was nearly 600 miles in excess of the previous record.

New baseball history is also being made. Consider Carl Hubbell, pitcher of the New York Giants, who hurled 18 innings in a row without allowing the St. Louis Cardinals a single run, without giving a base on balls, striking out 12 and permitting only 6 hits in the 18-inning game which the Giants won, 1 to 0. A few days ago Hubbell had won his 16th straight victory, in 8 of which his opponents had been allowed no runs, and had pitched 46 consecutive innings without a score against him, an all-time record.

Dizzy Dean of the Cardinals set a new strike-out record for a single game by fanning 17 Chicago Cub batters and winning 8 to 2. The previous strike-out record for a 9-single game by fanning 17 Chicago Cub batters and winning 8 to 2. The previous strike-out record for a 9. inning game was 16. held jointly by Fred Hahn, Christy Matthewson, Rube Waddell and Nap Rucker.

In the domain of economics some record-smashing is being done by the Roosevelt administration and it would be fine if business could do a little record-breaking to keep the world of sport company.

NEED NOT STARVE TO REDUCE

It is not necessary to starve one's self in order to reduce weight, according to Dr. Kenyon, a leading woman specialist of New York, who prescribes a liberal diet to her too heavy patients. This is her recommendation for the day's meals:

above the ground. For dinner a liberal portion of lean meat again may be taken with vegetables and fruit, but For breakfast a serving of fruit, one egg plus the white of another egg, coffee or tea without sugar. For lunch a large serving of lean meat, fish or fowl may be taken, or a small helping of either with a glass of buttermilk or skimmed milk, also any vegetable that grows no bread, using a bread substitute if desired. Before retiring a half cup of orange juice is permissible.

On such a diet Dr. Kenyon asserts that 13 of her women patients reduced about 30 pounds in 13 weeks, while one lost 72 and another lost 74 pounds in about nine months.

Like the broker, we do not guarantee this information, but simply pass it along as it was given to a women's medical society recently.

FIRST AID TO LEISURE

One of the by-products of the industrial codes is a tremendous increase in the amount of leisure time at the disposal of the average employe.

With the coming of winter, this increase in leisure time may cause somewhat of a challenge to religious, educational and cultural organizations. Leisure spent aimlessly, with nothing costructive to occupy the mind, can easily become a demoralizing factor, as "idleness is the mother of mischief." On the other hand, leisure properly used and well directed can become a potent factor in the development of a nation's culture. During recent years American culture has largely been fostered by the women of our country. Having more leisure time than men, they have, through clubs, churches and educational institutions, developed their spiritual lives and enhanced their appreciation for art, literature and music.

As a result of the new schedules under our revised economic system, there should be an increase in the sale of papers, periodicals and books; and a corresponding increase in the enrollment of clubs, concert courses and schools, for American men will, in increasing numbers, become interested in the so-called higher values. In so far as this much desired result takes place it will speak well for the future of this country-a nation which has today failed noticeably in its contributions to the worthwhile and lasting in drama, in art, in novel and essay, in philosophy, and in music.

SHOULD BE FIRED

Numerous stories are told, some true and some untrue, of the stupidity of government officials "clothed with a little brief authority." One which seems to be well authenticated was told in press dispatches recently about a Federal deputy game warden in Indiana.

A humane gentleman and bird lover named Foster

Lewis found a red bird with a broken leg in has back yard. He had the wounded bird's leg and nursed it back to health. After the bird was well it refused to leave its benefactor and persisted in staying about the house.

Then came the deputy game warden, who points out to Mr. Lewis that he is violating the Federal migratory bird law by keeping a red bird on his premises and Mr. Lewis was arrested.

We do not know how the case came out, but if that rame warden was not fired he didn't get what was com-

Make The Pennies Bigger

When James Buchanan was President and tall beaver hats were in vogue; when gentlemen wore broad cravats and ladies wore hoop skirts, the pennies they tossed to children were as big as quarters. But the cart-wheel coppers your grandfather got for keeping his lace collar clean were not as big in buying power as the pennies of today.

A penny then might buy a pastry, or ten of them take one to the Fair, but your great-aunt and greatuncle couldn't have gone to a movie at any price.

Sixty years ago the ladies could go shopping for dry goods and buy silks that would make you green with envy, linens that were linens and broadcloths that beggar description. But what their favorite store did not have they usually got along without.

You can pick up your newspaper and in fifteen minutes you can know what the different shops are offering in fabrics, patterns, varieties and qualities that great-grandmother never dreamed could be gathered together under any conditions.

Times have changed, and so have merchandise and business methods. One of the influences that has helped to bring about so much of change, that has helped to multiply opportunities and increase the spending size of our pennies is advertising.

Every merchant, every manufacturer knows that advertising materially reduces selling costs by increasing the demand for and the distribution of the products of hundreds of thousands of mills. Indeed, many of the things we count today as necessities or simple luxuries could not be made and sold at their reasonable prices except as advertising has created a broad market for them, making millions of sales at little prices and little profits.

Washington.-The farm aid pr gram with respect to wheat now has entered its second Farm Aid phase. It is facing its real test at this time, just as the cotton program faced a real test when the farmers were asked to plow under their growing crop, ers is concerned. Secretary Wallace is asking the wheat growers to reduce their acreage for next year's erop 15 per cent below their average in recent years. It is now distinctly up to them, therefore, if they want to go on through with the allotment plan for which there has been much agitation in congress during the last six or sight years. Contracts are being sent around for the farmers to sign and agree to go through with the plan to boost the price of wheat by controlling the production.

Accompanying this development in our strictly nationalistic program, however, is another of international character. I refer to the agreements recently reached at London, where by a step has been taken to deal with the wheat problem by concert of nations. It can have far more influence than can our program at home if it succeeds, but Washington observers seem to have their fingers crossed until they see some movements abroad indicative of complete sincerity on the part of some of the nations that have signed the London agreement.

The conference at London placed ing was worked out-and signedthat:

The major wheat importing and exporting countries of the world face the facts of the world wheat problem and agree on a program of action to seek to correct them.

The exporting nations agree to control exports and to adjust production so as to help eliminate the excessive carryovers of wheat. The wheat importing countries agree to cease further efforts to expand production within their own countries and agree to a policy of gradually removing tariffs and trade barriers as world wheat prices rise.

conference will establish a joint committee to watch the working out of the plan in its various steps. This committee will meet from time to current wheat crop is calculated at time and will be responsible for seeing that additional steps are prop- thing of a gain over the 1932 reerly taken.

an agreement among all of the nations on a start, and we have our own program well under way. The International understanding is long on promises, and to my way of thinking will be a long while in fulfillment. Our own program, whatever its merits be, is proceeding along quite different and quite definite lines and if the theory be right is dependent for its success upon those who grow the wheat and not upon whims of international politicians and jealousies between nations.

There are so many "Ifs" in the international agreement which, after all, hinges upon Many "Ifs" what the nations themselves do. If in Pact all of the signatory nations perform and try to adjust production downward, such as the United States has started to do. and remove tariffs and quotas and other trade barriers, then it is considered as possible that something may come of the conference understanding. But those whom I mentioned as having their fingers crossed are asking whether, for instance, Australia, or the Argentine or Canada, will enforce production control. And, if they don't, then what? Also, what about the situation if Italy, which now has a tariff of $1.07 (gold) on imported wheat, don't cut off some of that amount? Statesmen may alt in a conference and fix things up in a big way, and later their governments have a way of forgetting just what the agreements were, or else find loopholes in I had a letter from one of my readers in central Kansas, asking whether I thought the London agreement would have any effect on the wheat situation this year. My reply was that it would have none and could have none, and I might have added the further thought of my own that it probably never will have much effect, because it is un-likely there will be the necessary concessions by all concerned. If all of the participating nations entered into an international arrangement wholeheartedly, wheat production and prices could be stabilised. There remains, however, that ever recur-

To get back to the domestic plan: Secretary Wallace's decision to cut the acreage 15 per cont next year brings up several questions. Pif-teen per cent of what, for example? Let me quote George Parrell, of the agricultural adjustment administration, so there can be a definite at

"In many western counties, wher drought has prevailed during the last three years, three-year averages are not representative of 'farmers' production. These countles have favored using county average yields and individual tarmers' acreages as the basis for farm allotments. Other growers, however, whose yields are higher than the average and who ing the support of the cotton plant. are able to attest their production, discriminates against them.

"To meet this situation, we have presented to wheat growers a combination plan which is expected to insure determination of fair allotments to all farmers.

"The combination plan provides that in each county, where the combination plan is used, the total production of farmers who submit authentic records with their applications for allotments, will be subtracted from the total production of the county as shown on the official figures in the Department of Agriculture. Allotments for farmers who do not have proved records will be calculated on the basis of the average yield for the county, less the proved production."

The net result of all this is that farmers can claim their beneat payments on the Benefit basis of actual production on Payments their individual farms for the last three, four and five years, if they are able to supply records showing what that production was. This can be done several significant elements into even if the county committee dewritten form. A general understand- cides to use average county yields and the average acreages of growers as the basis upon which the 15 per cent reduction is to be calculated.

This arrangement applies only to the 1934 crop. There may be more or less than the 15 per cent reduction ordered in the fall of 1984 which will affect the 1984 crop.

On the basis of a theoretically complete sign-up of the farmers and a 15 per cent reduction, there would be approximately 9,600,000 acres now in wheat that would not be planted for harvest next summer. On the same theoretical base of average production, the reduc-The countries participating in the tion in wheat grown would be about 124,000,000 bushels.

With wheat prices about where they are now, the income from the about $325,000,000, which is someturn on wheat, which has been figured at $177,000,00. But if the farmers this fall will receive something in addition to the prices for this year's crop. Thay are due to receive cash from the processing tax. The Department of Agriculture has figured the tax will yield something like $120,000,000, and so the total return this year may be as large as $450,000,000.
