Reception Honors 1992 National Champions

"You have put Muleshoe on the map, and we are very proud," Mayor Darrell Turner said at the reception honoring the Muleshoe All-Star National Champions Thursday afternoon. "With the press as my witness, I proclaim next week Little Dribblers Week in Muleshoe."

Mayor Turner and Jack Wilson, Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture manager, then presented a certificate to each of the girls and their coaches.

Mike McDearmon, chamber president, also spoke, expressing his appreciation to the group. He also told them how proud Muleshoe was of them.

Mrs. Jack Wilson and daughter baked two sheet cakes with Congratulations Little Dribblers inscribed on the top. They also baked individual miniature cakes, with basketballs on the top, for each of the team members. A miniature basketball and net accented the serving table.

The team played five games to win the National Championship in Georgetown. On Friday, June 5, they played Fairfield, TX at 1 p.m., losing the game 36 to 47. At 7:15 p.m. Friday they played Seminole, TX, winning the game 31 to 22.

Saturday morning the team got an early start when they played Central, Louisiana, at 9:15 a.m., winning the game 37 to 33. Their next game was with Fairfield, TX at 2:15 p.m. Friday. They won this game 33 to 25.

In their final game, the team played Gulf Coast at 7:15 p.m., Saturday for the National Championship. Winning the game, 34 to 33, they became the 1992 National Champions.

Bitter-Sweet Feelings Dominate Meeting

A large crowd was in attendance for the first meeting of the 1992 Leadership Muleshoe Charter Membership Meeting. Parents, friends, siblings, and community leaders all attended this event held Thursday, June 18th at the Muleshoe Church of Christ family room.

"Bitter-Sweet" was how Chamber of Commerce president, Mike McDearmon described the feelings of everyone as they said farewell to the charter members who started the organization and introduced the incoming 1992-93 membership.

The meeting was called to order by president, Jody Field. After routine business was conducted, each member reported on the highlights of the recent Democracy In Action Tour to Austin. Patricia Del Toro ended the reports by reading a letter from State Representative Layton Black. Black praised the youth and commended them on the leadership skills they displayed while visiting him in his Austin office.

Mayor Darrell Turner had some special comments for the outgoing members of the organization. "You have been a group of active, involved leaders. You have made Muleshoe very proud," the Mayor told the group.

Special recognitions were then made by R.A. Bradley and Carolyn Johnson, advisors for the organization. A commemorative engraved picture of the group on the "Democracy In Action Tour" was presented to each member.

"An organization is only as strong as its leadership," Mrs. Johnson told the audience. "We have been very fortunate to work with ten great leaders this year. Now we want to recognize the one who has led these ten." Mrs. Johnson was referring to Jody Field, the organization's first president. Jody was honored and presented an engraved clock for her work as president during the 1991-92 year. Special recognitions were also given to the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's directors and management, the Muleshoe Journal and Channel 6 TV, for their support and participation through out the organization's charter year.

The program ended with Mike McDearmon, Chamber president and Jack Wilson, Chamber manager introducing the 1992-93 membership. To belong to

Lions Club Hears Program On Crop Loss

Curtis Preston, Bailey County Extension Agent, spoke to the Muleshoe Lions Club at noon Wednesday. Preston spoke on the crop loss due to the adverse weather conditions the past several weeks.

Preston stated that before the bad weather began, Bailey County had 91,000 acres of cotton and the county now has 10,000 acres. He stated that most of the farmers would go back with soybean or grain sorghum.

"Approximately 7,500 of the 18,000 acres of corn has suffered some damage, resulting in a 40 percent yield loss," Preston continued.

Wheat was also damaged. He reported that there was about a 20 percent wheat loss due to the weather.

A large percent of the farmers were insured and although they were set back, providing we don't have any more bad weather, they should come out, according to Preston. "Although we will not have the big crop like we started out with," he continued.

Rural Land Values Should Increase

Rural land values in Texas should rise gradually throughout the 1990s after decreases in the previous decade, according to a Texas A&M University agricultural economist.

"Barring some unforeseen economic problems, it would appear that between now and the year 2000, we're going to have appreciation generally in farm land values across Texas," said Dr. Ivan Schmedemann, a professor of agricultural economics at Texas A&M and a research with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Much of that increase will be caused by improved net returns to the land. That, Schmedemann said, in turn depends on what happens to demand for agricultural products.

"Indications are that demand will increase somewhat during the 1990s," he said.

Farm subsidies also will have a positive impact on net returns and land value, he said, although they will be reviewed by the federal government during the 1990s.

"I'm assuming that energy costs and other production costs will continue to rise, but we probably won't find an exorbitant rise in the cost of production between now and the year 2000," he added.

Energy costs that began spiraling in the 1970s, other production costs, inflation and rising interest rates all contributed to falling land prices, he said. The statewide average cost per acre of farmland peaked at approximately $1,050 in 1985, but fell to just more than $600 an acre by 1991, figures at the Real Estate Center at Texas A&M indicate.

"The only thing that could give was land values," he said.

Some regions began bottoming out by 1988, he said. While the center's 1991 figures are not yet complete, indications are that the statewide average price per acre will not rise for the year.

This means that over the long term, investors could find the rural land market attractive, he said.

"Prices have fallen to the extent that net returns are competitive with many alternative conservative investments, such as certificates of deposit and treasury bills," Schmedemann said. "Land is one of the few virtually indestructible assets available to balance a portfolio."

The rural recreational land market in some areas, primarily the Hill Country and parts of South and East Texas, may be slower in recovering, he said. That's because land values depend primarily on demand created by buyers from major metropolitan areas, but declining net per capita income means many buyers no longer have the resources to enter the market, he explained.

Still, a new wave of buyers could come from the "baby boom" generation born between 1946 and 1964 as assets are inherited by that generation over the next 10 to 15 years, he said.

"The only question about whether this is going to drive the market is whether their value systems have changed to the extent that they're more interested in buying consumer goods, like BMWs or bigger houses, than rural land," Schmedemann said.

Another major question is how environmental legislation will affect rural land use, he said. Already, some Hill County ranchers are forbidden to clear mature cedar because it is home to the golden-cheeked warbler and other endangered bird species, Schmedemann noted.

Host Families Needed For Exchange Students

Invite a French or Spanish student to share your home and family life this summer. Homes are needed in Texas for 210 students, ages 13 to 18 and seven teacher-chaperones, who will arrive in July and August for a four-week homestay visit.

Host families share their home, lifestyle, and summertime activities with the foreign guest. It is not necessary to speak French or Spanish because the students have studied English for several years before applying to be a participant in this program. The students wish to learn more about the American way of life, to develop greater fluency in English, and to establish lasting American friendships. Frequently, American teenagers are invited by the family of their visitor for a homestay the following summer. Medical and accident insurance is provided, and the students bring their own spending money.

The Homestay Program is sponsored by Nacel Cultural Exchanges with the purpose of promoting international understanding through an experience in family living. Exchanges of young people are perhaps the best long-range means to ensure close relations and mutual understanding among future generations.

Nacel Cultural Exchanges is a non-profit organization listed with the Council on Standards for International Educational Travel and approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. The program is widely supported by teachers in the United States and Europe. Dale Liemeier, 1828 Kessler Parkway, Dallas, Texas 75208, is coordinating the Homestay Program in Texas. Failure Of Amendment Disappointment

The failure of the Balanced Budget Amendment to the U.S. Constitution in the House of Representatives, June 11th, was a disappointment to leadership in the Texas Farm Bureau who felt the bill had a real chance of passing this time. The state's largest general farm organization has long supported such a measure to stop runaway spending and ensure the nation's economic future.

TFB President S.M. True of Plainview said, "The constitutional amendment may have been our last chance to effectively bring spending under control. Without it, Congress just doesn't seem to have the will or the discipline to make the hard choices that are dangerously close to the critical point."

"We were especially saddened because the American people were clearly behind the amendment."

The Texas delegation in the House was firmly in favor of the amendment with only 5 of the 27 dissenting. At the conclusion of the two-day debate, preceded by weeks of lobbying efforts on both sides of the issue, the final vote was 280-153, nine votes short of the two-thirds needed. Statutory budget plans are already being proposed in its place, but True pointed out that one budget act after another has been passed over the last decade while the deficit has continued to grow by leaps and bounds.

"We don't know what might have been accomplished with the amendment," True stated. "One thing is certain, we're all paying and will continue to pay through the nose for what is being done without it."

New Workers Face Severe Test

inside TEC Says

"The summer months may be extremely long for students seeking jobs," said Texas Employment Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers. "Despite apparent improvements in the economy, college and high school graduates are facing one of the toughest job markets ever in Texas. Younger workers face even more obstacles," she said.

"Our local offices around the state have twice the number of job applicants this summer as last summer. It's obvious that this is going to be a tougher than normal season," she said. Managers of local TEC offices agreed that the economic situation is forcing individuals to be more diligent and persistent in their job searches. Many are being forced to settle for jobs that are not what they expected.

"Basically we're telling high school graduates that they are going to have to be flexible and willing to at least start in a low paying job. We have some college graduates willing to take jobs in fast food restaurants and they are displacing younger job seekers," Nabers said.

TEC reports indicate the job market this summer is filled with many more applicants than jobs, and often the available jobs pay very low wages. More than half the new jobs generated in the past 12 months were in food and health services. This growth includes openings in fast food restaurants and positions for nursing aids, therapists, janitors and cleaners.

Smaller cities in Texas, especially those with unemployment rates of less than six percent, offer greater opportunity to high school students and recent college graduates. Such cities include Amarillo, Bryan-College Station and San Angelo.

Areas with stronger-than-average job growth during the past year include Austin, Beaumont-Port Arthur, Houston, San Antonio and all four of the Texas border areas: Brownsville-Harlingen, El Paso, Laredo and McAllen-Edinburg-Mission. These cities hold promise for younger workers.

Occupational demand varies by region. The Dallas/Fort Worth area has numerous job openings for such positions as temporary office clerical workers, and employees in the food service and health-related industries. Nurses are in extremely high demand, with some being hired even without resumes. The highest demand was for clerical workers.

"The temporary agencies are screaming for applicants," Emily Zimmet, a TEC office manager, said. "They need light industrial and assembly workers, especially clerical workers able to do data entry."

JoAnn Parker, manager of the Northwest Dallas TEC office, said clerical positions account for as much as 50 percent of the summer jobs in Dallas. Salaries for these jobs range anywhere from minimum wage to $8 an hour. However, competition for these positions has become more intense.

"Most companies are requiring students or recent graduates to have high aptitudes in English and math or established customer service skills," Parker said. "No longer are we finding that requirements are limited to typing 40 words per minute. Companies are looking for individuals with special abilities and special skills. And by far, this is the best market for both males and females."

Figures from the Fort Worth/Mid Cities office show that salaries for college graduates range from $20,000 to $30,000 a year. An example of some average salaries are:

- Programmer Systems Analysts $20,000
- Electrical Engineer $29,000
- Accountants $25,000
- Registered Nurses $25,000

Competition throughout the state remains high. Employers report that it is not uncommon to receive 100 resumes for every job posted. Most grant 10 interviews before a position is filled. "It's definitely a buyer's market," Nabers said. "It's actually twice as hard to find a job as it once was. Employers tell us they are looking most for problem solvers. They say it's up to the job applicant to convince them that they are exactly that."

Nabers said college student should consider internships or co-op programs. Many of the largest employers in Texas participate in such programs and this offers an excellent opportunity for students to gain consideration for full-time employment.

Other skills in demand are child care, warehouse distributing, telemarketing, truck driving, retail sales and other related positions. The demand for child care workers is said to exceed supply throughout the state. An increased demand for construction workers also exists in some parts of the state.

In Houston, small- to mid-sized companies are hiring as well as medical-related firms and state government agencies. An average wage in the Houston area is $4.35 for summer temporary work for high school graduates. College graduates can expect wages ranging from $7 to $12 per hour, according to Fred Murry of the Houston TEC office.

"It's a full-time commitment to find a job," Nabers said. "Individuals should not become discouraged too quickly and it is important not to take the rejections personally. The competition is fierce."

San Antonio has probably one of the richest markets for temporary summer workers in Texas. Sea World and the newly-opened Fiesta Texas together will employ more than 5,000 people during the summer months. "We tell most of the high school students looking for work during the summer to begin applying for jobs at these parks early," Al Debarros of the San Antonio TEC office, said. "Although most of the hiring for these positions is usually completed early, openings do become available throughout the summer."

Other industries offering jobs in San Antonio include local education services and health care services. The job market is also supported by five Air Force bases and one Army base located there.

The McAllen-Edinburg-Mission area is struggling through double digit unemployment ratings, despite the strong job growth that is now being reported there. A TEC representative for that area said a large number of jobs available in the Valley are centered in the retail and restaurant industries. These markets, he explained, are expanding because of the growing number of Mexican citizens crossing the border to do their shopping. Major retailers such as Service Merchandise, K-Mart and Wal-Mart, have taken advantage of this extremely large consumer group. The area is also supported by jobs in agriculture, local government and health services, but jobs are far too few.

Nabers is the Texas Employment Commissioner who represents all Texas employers. TEC is the state's official employment agency serving both employers and workers.

Land Office To Sell Tracts

An August 4 sale of state land ranging from a 1.5 acre tract near downtown Dallas--at a mere $430,000 per acre--to wide open country in the Trains-Pecos--going at $25 per acre, has been scheduled by the School Land Board, chaired by Land Commissioner Garry Mauro.

Most of the 97 tracts are isolated from other state land and cannot be blocked up into larger or more marketable form. Or, in the case of 15 properties, they are tax foreclosures. If all property is sold, the minimum income for the Permanent School Fund (PSF) will be $2.7 million, while income from the sale of tax foreclosures could net $41,000 minus cost of sale, for the Capital Trust Fund.

"We have some excellent property at good price," said Mauro. "Interest in real estate in Texas is definitely on the rebound and this is a great time for the land office to dispose of surplus assets."

The PSF will retain all minerals and mineral leasing rights, as well as right of ingress and egress for the exploration and production of minerals.

The 1.5-acre tract near downtown Dallas sits immediately across Stemmons Freeway from Reunion Arena and is on Industrial Boulevard north of Simmons Plaza. The property was part of the Trinity River bed before the river was rerouted. Law states that river beds are the property of the state.

The largest property is a 1,245-acre tract in Ward County. The smallest are several lots in San Antonio. Properties are located in more than 30 counties, with multiple tracts in Brewster, Culberson, Dallas, Eastland, El Paso, Nueces, Reeves, Ward and Wheeler counties.

Social Security-- Getting What You Deserve

by Martha A. McSteen

Have you ever checked your Social Security earnings record? If not, you may want to make a note to do so. It could mean more money in your pocket down the road.

Few people know that between 1978 and 1984, more than $58 billion in wages were not credited to the Social Security records of an estimated 9 million working Americans and beneficiaries. Additional errors between 1984 and 1988 raised the total to about $68 billion.

These errors are important because how much workers earn and how long they work are key factors in determining the amount of Social Security benefits they receive. Inaccurate records mean a possible loss of benefits.

The findings came from a General Accounting Office report that prompted the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare to sue the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service to correct those records and implement proper procedures to make sure they don't recur.

Finally, after a four-year battle, the fight is over. The lawsuit has been settled. The Social Security

Study Leads To Safer Surgery

The discovery of genes responsible for how drugs affect the body could someday lead to safer surgery according to scientists at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"Our findings could lead to the development of safer and more effective anesthetic drugs," said Dr. Glenn Kirsch, an associate professor of anesthesiology at Baylor. "Some of the current drugs, when combined in different forms, can be risky and can cause side effects."

Kirsch said although anesthetics are generally safe, he hopes that improved drugs will be developed that more accurately control pain.

The research team identified genes in rat brains that encode five types of ion channels responsible for brain impulses.

Ion channels are electrically sensitive proteins that are found on the surface of nerve and muscle

Administration and IRS have agreed to implement procedures that will go a long way towards ensuring accurate and timely crediting of employee wages. Equally important, the government also agreed to make it easier for present and past workers to correct incorrect records and apply for any retroactive payments. For example, the agency also will accept a claim if the government has a record of a person's earnings in the year immediately before or after the year in question, and the claimed earnings are consistent with the worker's earnings history.

Currently, correcting an earnings error can be difficult because it requires all kinds of paperwork and records that may be difficult or impossible to obtain. I strongly urge all working Americans and Social Security beneficiaries to call or visit their Social Security office every few years to request a Personal Earnings and Benefits Estimate Statement and check their earnings record.

A little effort now could save you a lot of unnecessary headaches in the future. (Martha A. McSteen spent 39 years with the Social Security Administration and served as acting commissioner of the agency from 1983 to 1986. She has been president of the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare, the nation's second-largest senior education and advocacy organization, since 1989.)

cells. Much like an electrical current moving through wires, ions move across cell membranes through "channels," controlling thought processes, sensory perceptions and movement.

Kirsch and his colleagues found receptor sites where drugs "stick" to certain ion channels, giving the researchers new clues to the brain's response to anesthetics and many nerve drugs.

"This new information will help us find specific sites in the body where channel and drug interaction occurs," he said, "which could be useful to an anesthesiologist who wants to anesthetize the brain and not the heart, for example."

In collaboration with Baylor's Department of Molecular Physiology and Biophysics, the team is pinpointing parts of the channel that may control vital bodily functions, such as heart rate and brain activity.

Heritage Center Receives Five Awards

The American Quarter Horse Heritage Center & Museum recently earned an impressive five awards in the Thirteenth Annual Mitchell A. Wilder Publication Design Awards Competition. The Texas Association of Museums (TAM) announced 74 winners in the statewide competition.

The Wilder competition encourages museums to strive for better communication through excellence in publication design and media production. The awards are named in honor of one of the early advocates of excellence in museum publications, Mitchell A. Wilder, founding director of the Amon Carter Museum in Fort Worth, Texas.

A total of 12 gold citations were presented, including one for the Heritage Center's Performance Theater movie which is shown in an interactive minitheater on the second floor. Produced by Hillmann & Carr of Washington, D.C., the movie's six, four-minute segments demonstrates a wide variety of American Quarter Horse activities and outline the breed's history.

Eighteen silver citations and 44 merit awards also were presented. The Heritage Center earned a total of four merit awards for the informational brochure and "Whoa!" billboards designed by Holland, Merriman and Christian of Amarillo; the commemorative dedication poster designed by Trafton Printing, Amarillo; and the orientation movie produced by Donna Lawrence & Associates of Louisville, Kentucky.

Additional honors recently earned by the orientation movie include a silver in the Telly Awards and a gold in the Louie Awards which recognize creative excellence in communication works produced in Louisville.

The Telly awards showcase and recognize outstanding non-network and cable television commercials as well as film and video productions.

Telly entries do not compete against each other; rather, entries compete against a standard of excellence. The silver award puts the Heritage Center among prestigious company. Last year's winners include such advertising and producing giants as: ABC News, CBS Broadcast Group, Olgilvy & Mather, Saatchi & Saatchi and Walt Disney World.

The movies in the orientation and performance theaters, as well as an upbeat informational movie about horse ownership, are a part of the Heritage Center's permanent exhibits. Located in Amarillo, Texas, along Interstate 40 East at Quarter Horse Drive, the museum is open daily. Summer hours through August 31 are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

For more information, contact the American Quarter Horse Heritage Center & Museum, 2601 I-40 East, Amarillo, Texas, 79104, (806) 376-5181.

Ladies Golf Association Meets

The Ladies Golf Association met Wednesday June 17 at the Muleshoe Country Club. Linda Elder assisted by Sherry Hunt planned the menu of beef stroganoff, rice, green beans with almonds, green salad, raw vegetable sticks and strawberry shortcake.

The regular monthly meeting was called to order by President Carolean Hamilton. The minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report was made.

Sherry Hunt reported that an 800 telephone number had been obtained to buy the smoke filters for $69 each. A motion was made to purchase an additional ice chest which is needed in the concession stand. A motion was also made to install tarpaulins at the concession stand so that they could be in use at the next tournament. Jeanetta Precure was appointed to take care of this task.

There was no new business presented. However, Jeanetta Precure read an invitation for the club to join the Western Lone Star Seniors Association at Shamrock. Joining the association was tabled for the time being.

Ladies receiving golf balls for the previous month were Jeanetta Precure, Helen Templeton, Evelyn Riley and Jo Timberlake.

Pro Jeff spoke to the ladies on turning in their scores to him so they may get their handicaps established.

Eight ladies traveled to Clovis for High Plains last week. Seven points were gained placing the Muleshoe ladies in the lead.

The ways and means chairman, Jeanine Gunstream reported that $998 (before expenses) was made on the sale of concessions during the men's tournament.

Birthday girls for the month of June are Neets Foster, Mary Frances Holt and Cookie Bamert. This reporter "goofed" on the last report in omitting Jerry Mayo from the birthday list. Hope that she had a good day. Congratulations, ladies.

The punch bowl for today's luncheon was furnished by Analita Haley in celebration of her "hole in one." We understand that this was Analita's second! Congratulations, Lita.

The drawing was won by Darlene Henry. The twenty three members present for the meeting were Linda Elder, Claudine Elliott, Jeanine Gunstream, Pearl Gupton, Analita Haley, Carolean Hamilton, Ruby Hart, Mary Frances Holt, Argilee Millen, Jeanetta Precure, Dorothy St. Clair, Marlene St. Clair, Helen Templeton, Jo Timberlake, Lavern Winn, Martha Young, Cookie Bamert, Charlotte Fields, Neets Foster, Darlene Henry, Sherry Hunt, Kay Fields, and Lynn Campbell. We welcome new

Gilrobert Rennels

Achievement Academy Names Rennels Honor Roll Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announces that Gilrobert Rennels has been named a United States National Award Winner in Honor Roll. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American High School students. Gilrobert, who attends Muleshoe High School, was nominated for this national award by Linda Marr, counselor at the school. Gilrobert will appear in the United States Achievement Academy official yearbook, published nationally.

Gilrobert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rennels and is the grandson of the late Gil and Olabelle Lamb of Muleshoe and the late Robert and Troy Rennels of Ft. Sumner. He will be a Senior at Muleshoe High School this fall.

Gilrobert is an active member of the First United Methodist Church of Muleshoe where he also participates in United Methodist Youth and served the church as the only acolyte for several years.

In 1991, he was nominated as a Republican Page for the U.S. House of Representatives by Congressman Larry Combest. He has been invited by the One Hundred and Second Congress of the United States to attend the Congressional Youth Leadership Council in Washington, D.C. this fall.

Gilrobert is the recipient of the Paddaruski Medal from the National Guild of Piano Teachers. He has played in the Guild auditions for 10 years, memorized 10 piano selections each year and received a grade of superior. He took piano 8 years from Elaine Damron and 2 years from Lisa Hamilton Lee. Last month he received a plaque from Mrs. Lee for making the highest guild grade out of all her students. For two consecutive years he received the award from Mrs. Damron for most practiced hours among her students.

He received the MHS Library Science Award from Mrs. Barbara Milburn and has just been selected by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture as a new member of Leadership Muleshoe. Gilrobert is also active in the Student Community Action Club at Muleshoe High School.

As a freshman, he was selected as both student of the day and student of the week. Gilrobert has been chosen to attend the Southwest Texas State University summer writing camp in San Marcos July 12-17.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy Award Winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, executive director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the standards of selection set forth by the academy.

The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest in aptitude, leadership quality, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director. Gilrobert is qualified to apply for scholarships from the United States Achievement Academy.

Flanary Receives Award

Five professorships and an academic chair, carrying stipends totaling $30,000 have been awarded to six New Mexico Military Institute faculty and staff members for the 1992-93 school year.

All but one of the stipends have been awarded competitively for the past five years. They were established during NMMI's Centennial Fund campaign, which began in 1986 and has raised nearly $15 million for the enhancement of academics, facilities and cadet life.

The most prestigious of the awards is the John F. Burton Academic Chair, which was presented to Maj. Kathy V. Flanary, a media specialist in the Paul Horgan Library area of the Toles Learning Center.

The endowed chair was established by James L. Burton, NMMI high school class of 1950, of Oklahoma City, in honor of his brother, John F. Burton, who was killed in Korea in 1952. It provides a stipend of $7,500.

Flanary, who has been at NMMI nearly seven years, will use the stipend to establish an archive system at NMMI that meets state and national standards for microfilming historical papers, both to preserve them and make them available to researchers.

She will take a state archivist exam in October, and will finish writing a "History of New Mexico Military Institute's Periodical Publications," which she started in 1989.

Flanary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moore of Muleshoe.

The truth is a great enemy to conversation.

Some people are very cautious about paying bills.

Money Talk

By Stanley James

One of the better ways to make money when interest rates are relatively low, as they are today, is with rental property.

One investor recently decided to build a garage with an apartment overhead. The cost of the 2-car garage and apartment above was only $12,000.

It was a modest apartment but included a 6 by 8 bathroom, a similar sized kitchen, plus one 12 by 12 bedroom and a living-dining room measuring 24 by 12, plus ample closet space--and an attic!

Rent for this new apartment is $500 a month. The same amount invested at 8 percent would bring in less than $100 a month?

Which is the best investment--if one doesn't object to the job of overseeing rental property (and can get a good tenant)?

The rental property brings in five times what the same money earns at 8 percent!

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Eleven Kiwanians, one honorary Kiwanian, and one guest met this Friday morning at the Dairy Queen for breakfast. Our honorary Kiwanian this morning was Dee Morris. Dee is a celebrate to us. She is one of the Little Dribblers team who went to Georgetown and won the National Championship Basketball. Dee, we are very proud of you and all of the other young ladies.

Our guest this morning was Jon Robin Watkins. Jon Robin was our program. Jon Robin is sponsoring a blood drive as his project for his Eagle Scout. The Scout motto is "Be Prepared". The Kiwanis Club was everything but prepared this morning. It seems we were disorganized and not ready for anything.

With president Larry Parker having to go to work early, he was not there. V.P. Randy Lewis, after two trips to get the TV and VCR and hook ups, we forgot the controls, so Jon Robin had to present his program without his video. Jon Robin stated that the Blood Bank wanted him to have his Blood Drive in June because the people seem to slow down on giving blood in the mid-summer months and the need for blood rises in the summer months. So if you have never given blood or have been slack in this field, please reconsider and come to the First Bank of Muleshoe's basement on June 25th, 12 noon to 6 p.m. It will only be a small discomfort for you with the prick of a needle and you will be giving "Life" itself. Help this young man earn his Eagle Scout Badge and help mankind in general. Jon Robin would like to collect at least 30 pints of blood.

Jon Robin, we apologise for being so disorganized and not paying attention. Forgive us and come back and tell us how your blood drive went.

In the absence of President Larry Parker, and V.P. Randy Lewis running back and forth getting the T.V. and VCR, Glen Morris called the meeting to order. Hugh Young led the club in the pledge to the flag and Lyndon Huckaby gave the invocation.

J.O. Parker has been looking for a friend for two weeks, even in the yellow pages but decided to have Herb Langfitt as a friend and gave the Friendship Coin to Herb.

Our Sweetheart, Tiffany Angeley has graduated from high school, been on a trip, been to camp and has a job and has forgotten us. She doesn't Love us any more!!! Tiff, we sure miss you.

DOORS OF HOPE

New doorways are fascinating, especially strange exotic doors. They are so because they promise unexperienced wonders, untested experiences. Old doorways are friendly because they promise the security of the known and the comfortable.

The doorway to a church is of still another kind; it is a doorway to hope. Man works and plays with great zeal, but in the end he knows that something greater than work or play is the real meaning of life and so he goes to Church. There he worships the Giver of meaning, Our Father in Heaven. Be sure you open this doorway and let hope shine into your life.

Lowest Texas Vet Interest Since 1984

The Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB) has reduced the interest rate on veterans home loans to 7.25 percent interest--the lowest rate offered by the board since the home loan program was started in 1984.
"Lowering the interest rate to 7.25 percent makes our home loan program far and away the best deal in today's market for a veteran looking for affordable housing," said Garry Mauro, chairman of the VLB. "It places us below the VA, below FHA, and below conventional rates."
Since the rate reduction announcement, the VLB has certified more than 800 Texas veterans to receive the low-interest home loans.

Mauro urged any Texas veteran thinking about a home loan to call the VLB at 1-800-252-VETS for assistance.

"These changes mean substantial savings for Texas veterans," Mauro said. "For example, the new 7.25 percent rate means the monthly payment on a $45,000 home loan would decrease from $346 to $307 (principle and interest)--a savings of $39 a month. That amounts to a $14,000 in savings over the life of a 30-year loan."
"That $39 a month can mean the difference between qualifying or not qualifying for thousands of Texas veterans that are struggling with the rising costs of home ownership," Mauro said.

"Lower monthly payments will also enable our state's 1.8 million veterans to get more home and more value for the same amount of money," Mauro said.

While new legislation that took effect in September raised the amount of a home loan a veteran can receive through the VLB to $45,000, veterans are not limited to homes in that price range. Veterans who want to buy a home costing more than $45,000 can combine their VLB loan with a FHA, VA or conventional loan.

Since all Texas veterans home loans are funded by bond sales and there are no discount points charged on a loan, the loans have consistently been below the existing market rate for home mortgages. This results in lower monthly payments for Texas veterans.

Dear Louisa,

I am a woman of sixty years and my eyesight has been failing me for the past two years. I visited my doctor and he told me I have cataracts in both eyes and advised me to have these cataracts removed.

I am afraid of this operation but I have reached the stage where I cannot recognize my friends unless they are very near to me. What would you advise me to do?

I, of course, could not advise you what to do as I am not an expert along that line. However, I do have several friends who have had cataracts removed and who are now able to read small print and drive cars.

I understand that your state has a wonderful clinic in Atlanta, and in other cities. So my advice to you is to go to the best man in that line and follow his advice.
