STATION IS GIVEN LOCAL LEGION POST

National Headquarters Says Work Outstanding; New Officers Inducted

MEET ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Ex-Service Men Asked to Be Present When Service Officer Installed

After electing new officers on November 17 and installing them a week later, a drive for membership has been waged by the local post of the American Legion to such extent that the post has been recognized by national headquarters, in Washington, and 52 additional new members secured since the above mentioned date.

The new officers now serving are as follows: F. B. Reynolds, post commander; Larry Smith, first vice commander; Tom Donohoo, second vice commander; J. A. Shriver, sergeant-at-arms; Walter Ford, adjutant; Charles Conner, chaplain.

A meeting of the local post with the purpose of electing a service officer to succeed Mr. Donohoo, county administrator in the CWA district so far as ex-service men are concerned. According to Legion officials, it is imperative that the act be done in the interest of the unemployed Legion members and other ex-service men. This officer will be selected from either Haskell or the Rule post. Every ex-service man is invited to attend and partake of the luncheon to be served.

Not only has the national headquarters commended the local post members for their zeal in acquiring new members, but their work in all of worthwhile projects is being drawn the attention of the legion officials.

Large Circulating Library Prospect For This County

Through the efforts of Minnie B. ... county superintendent, progress is being made in the establishment of a circulating library among the schools in Haskell county.

In order to receive state aid, it is necessary that the schools receiving such aid set aside $10 per teacher for books, and although such an amount would not allow any extra school to maintain a very extensive library, the grouping of schools will enable them to have a circulating library of which all are proud, as there are 103 schools in the county.

As soon as possible a librarian from the State Capital will be here to help catalogue all books in charge to this county.

Firemen to Raise Xmas Funds for Widows, Orphans

Members of the local fire department at their regular meeting Monday night, voted to endeavor to provide Christmas baskets to the widows and orphans of Haskell. This is in line with their activities in the past, with the exception that this year's contributions will go only to widows and children who have no means of support, it being the opinion that local relief work now being provided would do away with the necessity of aid for other families.

Contributions to the fund will be appreciated by the fireboys, and boxes in which donations may be placed will be found at a number of local stores.

ACCIDENTS BEFALL WAGON AND SEVEN AUTOS LAST WEEK

No One Seriously Injured In Collisions; All On Highway No. 30

Seven automobiles and one wagon were involved in accidents on the Haskell-Abilene highway over the week end.

Saturday night a Ford roadster driven by John Kirby and occupied by his brother and Bob Robinson and another young man crashed into the rear end of a wagon, just outside the city limits of Stamford. The wagon, driven by Geo. Garnes, was completely demolished and Garnes was carried to a sanitarium for treatment. The boys in the car received only minor bruises.

On returning from Abilene, the Chevrolet coupe driven by Miss Donna Davis, and accompanied by Miss Jesse Vick and her mother, Mrs. R. L. Vick of Rule hit a sand bank on the edge of the pavement and turned over near Anson. The car was badly damaged, but the occupants escaped with minor bruises.

Sunday night a Ford sedan belonging to Tom Clark of Rochester collided with a Chevrolet belonging to W. R. Parsons of Goree, on the highway three miles this side of Stamford. Both cars were badly damaged and the occupants received minor cuts and bruises.

A new Plymouth sedan driven by Howell Burton of Sunday collided with a model T Ford sedan on the highway five miles south of town Sunday night and turned completely over two or three times. Mr. Burton was returning from Stamford when the accident occurred. The Ford, belonging to V. W. Elmore, pulled onto the highway from a side road in front of the on-coming car. None of the occupants were seriously injured.

Consensus of opinion of the voting coaches and newsmen was the determining factor in selection of the players.

LOCAL POSTOFFICE EMPLOYEES DUE TO GET 2-DAY RELIEF

Christmas Holiday Season Will Find Very Little Postal Work Done

In order that all postal employees who can be spared shall have the opportunity to spend Sunday, Dec. 24, and Christmas Day with their families, orders have been received by the local postoffice from James A. Farley, postmaster general, that there will be no city delivery, village delivery, rural delivery or window service in any part of the nation on those days. The order is mandatory.

The only exceptions are that special delivery and perishable stuff, star routes, limited collections and dispatches usually provided on Sundays and holidays for first class mail and daily newspapers. Postmasters will schedule for duty on Christmas, December 24, and on Christmas Day only a sufficient number of employees to perform the service outlined to receive and store, but not work, incoming mail. During the holiday time the volume of mail is greatly reduced.

The placing of Haskell as an insurance center and the centralizing of thousands of dollars here, has the approbation of Haskell business men. Harmony Club Observes Annual Guest Day

The Harmony Club observed their annual Guest Day on Wednesday afternoon, November 22, featuring a program on Japan. The room was never prettier than on this occasion, when the entire south end simulated a Japanese garden. Grass mats covered the floor, while a trellis with rose vines and butterflies, tall baskets of yellow chrysanthemums, with small cedar trees in the background, gave a very realistic effect. A big mirror in the foreground, surrounded by rocks and small plants, made a most attractive pond, and Japanese lanterns illuminated the scene.

Guests were greeted at the door by the President, Mrs. J. T. Ellis and the following members: Mesdames Whitaker, Scott, Hawkins, Carpenter and Miss Eunice Huckabee, Mrs. Carl Arbutick, Mrs. Carl Power, Misses Anna Bell Burt and Gladys Fouts were ushers. Members were dressed "en costume" and sat about in the gardens, during the following program:

Men Who Got Up Before Daylight

... guaranteed your heat for tonight

GAS does seem an impersonal thing when it turns on at a wall cock... just concentrated heat in a pipe... so easy and so silent one might think it came up under its own power, out of one's own backyard.

But there are hundreds of people working to supply the very heat that will warm your house this evening. Many reported on their jobs before sun-up. Some are on guard all night.

Since approximately one-half of all gas required in the home for the entire year is used during the three winter months of December, January and February, you can see why men have to get up before day during this season. Scores of these men are at the wells, at compressor stations, and walking the pipe lines, guarding your gas service every step of the way to keep it dependable.

So your heat is not an impersonal thing. It is an hour-by-hour service, watched over constantly. Through this care and attention it stays so inexpensive that 15 cents' worth a day is the year around average household requirement for heating, cooking, refrigeration, and hot water supply.

"A Good Woman" by Louis Bromfield completes his tetralogy under the general title "Escape." You have read the other three "The Green Bay Tree," "Possession" and "Early Autumn" all of which are on the free shelves. Now read "A Good Woman" for just a few cents.

Read about Ray Lanier from out where the West is still young. Ray was broke but he was still Lord of Lonely Valley. Janet Corliss came to his rescue in Modoc City when he fell under a rain of bullets from a hidden gun. That's how Ray gained a trained nurse and staunch ally. The rest of this romantic adventure story you may get from Peter B. Kynes' "Lord of Lonely Valley."

Use This Laxative made from plants

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT is made from plants that grow in the ground, like the garden vegetables you eat at every meal. NATURE has put into these plants an active medicine that stimulates the bowels to act—just as Nature put the materials that sustain your body into the vegetable foods you eat.

In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative, free from synthetic drugs. Its use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemical drugs to get the bowels to act daily. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a STUP, for CHILDREN.

Methodist Missionary Society

The Methodist Missionary Society met November 27 in their annual Harvest Day program directed by the treasurers, Mrs. Guy Mayes and Mrs. R. L. Harrison. Mrs. Mayes being conventional treasurer and Mrs. Harrison local treasurer. Mrs. Carter used as her devotional, II Timothy, 2:15. "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." Many thoughtful helps were brought to us. Mrs. Mayes used, "Thanksgiving" as a prayer. Lewis Smith sang an old negro melody, "Deep River" by Burleigh.
The Methodist Missionary Society will continue the Rummage Sale next Saturday. While the Society profited by this sale others profited by it also, in that they were able to find articles that were useful for a small amount. Please bring anything you wish to donate to the building formerly occupied by the Payne Drug Co., Friday afternoon or Saturday morning. The Missionary Society expects to make the Rummage Sale an annual affair.

"STAGE MOTHER" TO OPEN HERE WITH NOTABLE CAST

Alice Brady plays a leading role in "Stage Mother," theatrical drama adapted from an original story by Bradford Ropes and filmed by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios to be shown Sunday and Monday at the Texas Theatre.

She will be remembered for her sensational personal hit in "When Ladies Meet," and it is said that she outdoes all of her previous portrayals in the new picture. Her role is that of a domineering "stage mother" who forces her child to success on the stage through difficulties that create powerful human interest.

An exceptionally strong cast has been assembled to appear with Miss Brady. Maureen O'Sullivan plays the young daughter struggling for theatrical fame under her mother's guidance. Franchot Tone is seen as her young lover and is said to give another brilliant performance as in "Today We Live," "The Stranger's Return" and "Midnight Mary."

MEN STILL COUNT

The way a good many people are talking about the so-called Recovery Program, one would think they expected some sort of a system which would relieve everybody of responsibility and which would run all business without regard to intelligence, initiative or industry.

That's nonsense, of course; nevertheless, there are a lot of people who still do not realize that any system, like any machine, has to have men to operate it.

The success of the administration's program will depend entirely upon the quality of the men who head up the business enterprises of the United States. In other words there isn't going to be any change from the ancient truth that every institution, whether it is a rat-trap factory or a railroad system, is the lengthened shadow of a man.

Owen D. Young, who uses his brains to about as good advantage as any man we know of, pointed out that what broke down and caused all our economic woes, was not human beings but the system under which business and public affairs were administered. What is being done now is to try to change—and improve—the system, but it will still take men to run it.

We have an idea that young men growing up in the world of business and affairs from now on will find just as great opportunities for self-expression as anyone had under the old system; but as things point now, they will operate the system very much more for the benefit of everybody and very much less for the benefit of a few individuals.

We find that many men who were thought to be entirely selfish in their point of view are accepting the idea that any scheme which works for the benefit of the entire social group is far better than one which benefits some but not all. Under the old system it was inevitable that there should be inequalities and injustices. We do not anticipate that any plan of human devising will ever be entirely free from them, but with the right men of the right spirit at the helm of things, there is hope.—Courier-Chronicle, Humboldt, Tenn.

WITHOUT A PRESIDENT

It may not be generally known that every four years the United States is without a President for several hours, but such is the fact. The term of the outgoing President expires at midnight on March 3 and the new President is usually sworn in about noon on the following day. During the intervening hours the country is without a chief executive.

The question of whether a vacancy existed during this interval was discussed early in the history of the country. In response to an inquiry, Chief Justice John Marshall wrote on February 21, 1821:

"There has been uniformly and voluntarily an interval of 12 hours during which executive power could not be exercised."

If an emergency demanded, the new President could be sworn in immediately after his predecessor's term expired at midnight on March 3, but no situation has ever existed to make this necessary. Under the provisions of the "lame duck" amendment to the Constitution the term of President Roosevelt and that of future Presidents will expire on January 20.

If one had to name any single thing as the typical American characteristic, it would probably be just that habit of looking ahead, or forever going on with the quest. We have often been a proud and boastful people, but we have seldom been satisfied with a present moment. One era has succeeded another in our history, but never have the people as a whole been content to relax.

A wise man is he who puts into the hands of boys and girls many and good books of biography. For, in this way, our future leaders will grow to appreciate the world's yesterdays, live soberly and wholesomely today, and acquire for themselves fortitude and understanding and high devotion for tomorrow's exacting tasks.

COULD WE—

—do without our police force, our courts, our army, navy and air force while the world is in such a troubled condition? They are our protection. Could we do without them?

Can you safely do without protection. Insurance is your guard. If you do not have any, or enough, don't you think it would pay you to invest a few cents each week, so that you and your loved ones will be protected in case of accident?

THINK IT OVER!

F. L. Daugherty
"THE INSURANCE MAN"

SKETCHES

By W. G. FORGY

We've never been accused of knowing very much about football, or anything else for that matter, but we liked the way the Indians played last Friday, and the smooth way the officials handled the decisions.

Not that it matters, but people are still having a heck of a time pronouncing this writer's name. While several have called us names, probably that we didn't hear, about one in ten pronounce the name of "Forgy" correctly. It's Scotch! Before the well-known secession from England, it was spelled "Forgie" but was later shortened because it took more ink for the extra letter. Anyway, For-gy is pronounced For-gee.

It is surmised that Jim Ferguson, Al (Boloney) Smith and Bill Murray may be senatorial candidates next year. If elected, and in the company of Huey Long, Bill Borah, Hiram Johnson, et al, will there be individualistic personalities in that senate or not?

We never knew that our better-half could create so many "dishes" out of one lone turkey. And custom says we should have another bird Christmas!

Probably the "sound dollar" Al Smith refers to is the one Morgan can hear the sound of in his bank.

AROUND THE SQUARE—"Bunny" Dryden, the wire-walker, hasn't a thing on Clyde Railey, manager of Perry's. Railey sholy does get a lot of stuff in the show windows without breaking a thing. . . . People still forget the injunction about throwing the first stone in some of the talk anent certain persons living in Haskell. . . . We haven't lived here very long, but people will gossip, and we know the "lowdown" on several high-and-mightys. . . . Notice that the "True Confession" type of magazines still have a big sale. . . . Hope we're present when Ford's Bakery cuts that big cake. . . . Several news items could have been written if all the names of all visitors to Stamford Thanksgiving could be chronicled. . . . The Black & White Inn in Stamford has had to build an annex. . . . The horn on our car developed a "short" last week and would honk at inopportune moments. We were embarrassed several times when it honked. It looked like we were trying to make "pickups". . . . Good news for local merchants! We saw several packages being mailed back to Leers-Lobuck Saturday. . . . Wonder who has to sweep up all those circulars and cards that are thrown down on the postoffice floor? . . . R. A. Crowell, jeweler, was among the first to decorate his store windows for Christmas. Wonder why all the stores don't spend a few cents and put a real holiday atmosphere around the square? Noticed an old model Ford in the position usually occupied by a V-8 in Monty's, Monday. . . . J. E. Reeves, in Reeves-Burton, is always courteous, no matter how busy he is. . . . We try to visit all places, but the jail is one place we have avoided. . . . Some of those fellows that bowl must have been baseball pitchers. How those balls do curve! . . . We were offered a lil' drink by three different persons last week, but had to decline. We never drink "hard likker." No hard feelings. . . . S. Hassen wants us to go hunting with him sometime. . . . Outside of having no gun, no license, no shells, no huntin' clothes and a place to go, we're in shape to go where he leadeth. . . . With Santa Claus peeking around the corner indications point to the fact that quite a number of engagements will be broken. . . . There's one little fem not so far off the main stem who is expecting a "damont" Christmas. . . . Perhaps R. A. Crowell knows of others, but he won't tell. Prosperity must be returning! Walked around the square twice Wednesday and not a single person asked for the price of a "cuppa coffee." Either that or they think we belong to the fraternity. . . . Car dealers say that "used" cars are very much in demand right now. Maybe so, but we'll bet not nearly as much as formerly when several finance companies made their "demands." . . . The "boss" has figured out that we now have about four readers, including ourself. . . . We'll pester those others again next week.

I Believe In Tomorrow
By P. R. Hayward

I BELIEVE IN TOMMORROW: I BELIEVE IN IT BECAUSE IT HAS NOT YET COME. And I am young and youth always believes that tomorrow will be better than today. I believe that I will do tomorrow what I failed to do today and be then what I have not yet been. I trust future. Youth is always glorious because it trusts the future. Youth will attempt the impossible, scale the mountain that is supposed to be inaccessible, and dare the thing that age will fear. "We specialize in the wholly impossible, doing the thing that no one else could do."
I BELIEVE IN TOMORROW BECAUSE IT IS UNSPOILED. I have not nor has anyone written on it with the grimy finger of folly or selfishness or sin. No wars have been fought in Tommorrow. No child has been whipped in Tommorrow. No lie has been told or dishonest deed done in tomorrow. No man has treacherously failed a friend in Tomorrow. No workman has been underpaid by his employer, nor has any laborer shirked his task in Tomorrow. No children have been slowly executed in body and in spirit by the awful guillotine of the slums of Tomorrow. It is one clean and beautiful day, the day on which dreams come true, on which the impossible things will yet be done, on which I shall have the nerve and will to be and to do that which was too much for me in the grim battle of Today.

I BELIEVE IN TOMORROW

FACTS ABOUT YOUR EYES

As I stated in my previous article, the eyes are not a supernatural part of the body at all. They are controlled by simple muscle action the same as all other parts of the anatomy. Therefore, the eye muscles can be overworked and become fatigued or exhausted just the same as the arm or leg muscles can.

There are four main causes for eye fatigue and they are all abnormalities in the structural development of the eye. First, An eye being structurally too short causes far-sightedness. Second, An eye being structurally too long causes near sightedness. Third, The Cornea of the eye having an irregular curvature, causes one part of the eye to be more far-sighted or near-sighted than the other. This is what is known as corneal astigmatism. Fourth, An abnormal relation between the accommodation and convergence functions of the eye, one being too strong for the other.

In their effort to see clearly and maintain binocular vision, the eyes overcome these defects by strain. This is why they soon become fatigued or exhausted. And the only possible remedy to help such eyes out of their trouble is, to place before them clear non-tinted lenses of proper strength to neutralize these abnormalities.

There is at present quite a fad among a number of doctors, both medical and optometrist trying to relieve eye strain by means of orthoptic exercises and tinted lenses. And either only makes the trouble worse in the end. A certain amount of exercise is necessary to keep a person healthy. But if a person is already exhausted physically what he needs is rest.

Likewise, eyes that are tired from the strain of overcoming physiological defects need rest, not an hour's extra work daily.

It is just as reasonable to believe that exercising will make a short man tall as to believe it will make a short eye longer or a long eye shorter.

As for tinted lenses, there are a few instances where the eye should be protected temporarily from the glare by a shaded lens. These are cases of badly inflamed retinae caused by such pathological conditions as bad kidney trouble, irritis, measles, etc. It is just as sensible to try to cure lumbago with tinted lenses as to try to correct physiological abnormalities of the eye with them.

A few of the direct results of the above eye abnormalities are, frequent headaches, pains in back of neck, also in and around the eye balls, twitching lids, dry, itchy eyes, red swollen lids, dizziness and nervousness when doing close work, indigestion and constipation.

School children who have such physiological eye defects are nervous, irritable, often bothered with styes, under weight, light eaters, often complain of eyes, head or stomach hurting, make low grades in their school work and some fail. In some cases, the child's eyes will cross; in others will turn outward.

None of the above structural eye defects can ever be corrected by medical treatment, orthoptic exercises, or tinted glasses. As stated above, the only possible remedy is to keep before such eyes clean, non-tinted lenses of proper strength to neutralize the defect.

Holiday Mail—

Volume of mail increases approximately 200 per cent. It is a physical impossibility to handle this great mass of mail matter efficiently and promptly within a few days. Therefore to assure delivery of their Christmas presents, cards, and letters by Christmas Day the public should shop and mail early. Do your Christmas shopping so that you can mail your gifts, greetings, and letters to relatives, friends, and loved ones at least a week or 10 days before Christmas, according to the distance. This will not only make it certain that they are received before Christmas Day, but will be a great aid to your postal service and to postal employees and enable them to spend the Christmas holidays with their families.

All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine. Articles easily broken or crushed must be securely wrapped and crated or boxed. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in, around, and between the articles and the outside container.

Glassware, fragile toys, or crockery must be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.

Cigars: Ordinary boxes of cigars wrapped in paper only will not be accepted. Pack in a manner to prevent damage by shock or jar. Wrap in corrugated pasteboard or similar material. Cigars must be in good shipping condition.

All articles easily broken or damaged must be plainly marked "Fragile."

Parcels containing perishable articles shall be marked "Perishable" and packed in suitable container, according to contents. Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery, will not be accepted for mailing. Use special delivery stamps to expedite delivery.

Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, postoffice box, or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return card should also be written on the wrapper for use if tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be enclosed inside the parcel. Do not mail Christmas greeting cards in red, green, or other dark colored envelopes, or in very small envelopes.

All-Conference—

taking has rested upon the shoulders of Post and Sanders, who worked unceasingly to accomplish the goal. Daily, they could be seen working together, and as they have stated, when one would become a bit pessimistic or have the feeling that they had done well enough, the other would think otherwise and proceed to hurry matters along. Post, who was born in Haskell, has had seven years active experience in the insurance business, having served with the Fidelity Union as agency secretary of Dallas, and with the Trinity Insurance Company as cashier, severing his connection a few months ago to help form the local organization.

Sanders was also born in Haskell and is a graduate of the local schools. He received his business education in the University of Texas, where he became interested in the insurance profession, and has served in public life for the past ten years. He is experienced in practically every phase of the insurance business.

Morton Will—

In Haskell in memory of my husband, Francis Marion, to cost $50,000; if I live, I expect to have it done myself."

Judge Leslie's opinion, sustaining the trial court's decision pointed out that the bequest, if any, was made to no one, no executor was appointed, no trustee named for carrying out the clause of the will, and no plan given for operating or maintaining the hospital.

The appellate court also concurred in Judge Chapman's decision that the residuary legatees, Alex and Joe Lee Ferguson, should receive the part of the estate mentioned in the hospital clause.

The will was made May 5, 1924, and Mrs. Morton died March 10, 1925, without children.

She made several small bequests to relatives, including $100 each to brothers, James E. Ferguson and Alvah Ferguson.

The city of Haskell, as intervenor to the action of Alex and Joe Lee Ferguson, sought to have the hospital clause construed as valid.—Abilene Reporter.
