We Should Get Busy

By JIM, The Editor

The prohibition election is set for August 24th. There are other amendments to be voted upon on the same day. Those of us who stand for the repeal of the present prohibition amendment and the Dean Law should realize the necessity of at once organizing a campaign to put this amendment over. Already the anti repeal prohibition element is getting busy and preparing to vote this amendment down. We should not will long the anti-reminimize their strength and support. It is going to be a funny line-up. On our side we will have old time anti prohibitionists who never did believe in prohibition and in addition to that there are thousands of heretofore prohibitionists who are smart enough and fair enough to realize that prohibition has been a farce and a failure. In fact it has been the most ridiculous governmental policy that was ever enacted by the people. On the other side we will have the prohibition politicians, the political preachers, the bootleggers and I am informed that the breweries of the state are to join in voting down the amendment permitting the sale of intoxicating liquor. So it appears now that this is going to be the line-up. Our side wants to authorize by law the sale of intoxicating liquor, and in addition, pass such regulatory laws as will do away with the present evils in the liquor traffic. We want to get the taxes that will come from the sale of intoxicating liquor which will amount to at least five million dollars a year revenue and the revenue from this source alone will in two or three years pay off the present twenty million dollars deficit in state revenues. Or we could use the money with lamps and candles a major for the occasion, which marks the to pay the interest and sinking funds on our bread bonds, or we could give it to the schools, or we could pay part of its $4,000,000,000 work re- program distinctly as one of pothe deficiency in one year on our Confederate pension fund. In fact, there are many things we could do with lief program. this money, but lets not forget that we cannot do anything until we vote to repeal the present law.

I am amused at the position of the Governor on the prohibition election. He appears to regret and com- fication, to employ thousands of ted States Chamber of Commerce plain at the Legislature for not at the same time passing an enabling act to put prohibition in effect as soon needy, make life more abundant was distinctly in the lime light as the law is repealed. But at the same time he says he is going to vote against repeal. I wonder if in his own mind he admits that repeal is going to carry. It will carry if our crowd will get busy, but it won't carry by itself.

I trust that a meeting will be called at an early date to organize this campaign and lets settle this prohibition question once and for all. Therefore, for the reason stated we should get busy.

PONCA CITY, OKLAHOMA

Ponca City, Oklahoma, 17,000 population, has everything that any other city has—excellent parks, neatly kept streets, fine city buildings, a municipal airport—and yet in three years it has not needed to raise any money by taxes to pay city expenses. The reason? It has its own municipal water and light plants. And the rates are no higher than in near by towns where public utilities, with their great profits, are in the hands of private companies.

A SIMPLE MINDED FELLOW

WHAT WILL CONGRESS DO ABOUT IT? (By P. A. SPAIN, Paris, Texas)

Out in California a radio repair man evidently had "lucked well" and has sent to Uncle Sam $35.00 to help him out in carrying out his New Deal. This simple-minded ignorant man has ments with other nations, in which agreements the best interests been taught by ignorant or designing people that money originated outside the Government. When in fact, it orginated with the Government itself.

That poor soul has no idea where his $35.00 came from. He seems to think he made it. Silly man. Uncle Sam whom he thinks is a pauper and whom he thinks he is helping to support, made that money, and can make a billion more any day he wants

Uncle Sam made it and turned it over to a lot of shylocks who afterwards loaned it out at high interest rates among the people, and some of the borrowers hired this ignorant radio mechanic at low wages, and he thinks he must be generous and give some it back to Uncle Sam to keep him up. Poor ignorant soul.

DEMAND AND SUPPLY We are thinking about prices, of demand and supply And wondering if money can make prices go high; Prices on an average, we would consider here,

Not prices of a single thing as each one would appear. Will that law we call supply as it effects demand Be working at the money end of prices, as they stand? If supply of money great demand for it should fall

If supply of money short will not demand get high And more of labor, wheat or goods, required, it to buy? I for dollars do exchange my labor or my wheat Man with money does no more when exchange complete. Thought that only I have sold and only he has bought Misleads us in our thinking and tangles up our thought. Just as truely I have bought his money with my hay And just as truly he has sold his dollars, we call pay.

John Stewart Mill a writer on Political E-Co. Said and said it plainly so no one need not know; "If the whole money in circulation (Breaking quote)

Was doubled prices would be doubled."—Let us note. He said demand for money is all the goods for sale And all our money is demand, that for goods entail Goods and money both, he said—we cannot quote exact— Seek each other, purpose for, to be exechanged, intact. Our goods are seeking money and money, goods is seeking, Each would gladly be exchanged and in anothers keeping.

To increase supply of goods deminishes demand And when demand for money goes, down in any way Twill be shown in price of goods demanding better pay. He who has his labor, then, for sale to any one

Finds demand for it increased and work for him begun. Some there are who will contend that we will nothing gain By having money plentiful, no benefit attain. This might be true where money was quite enough at start

When our cash is kept so scarce bank credit takes its place It taxes us with interest high until 'tis a disgrace.

The man who owes no debt at all still must interest pay It finds its way into the price of all our goods today, Because processors every where bank credit have to use And charge their over head expense to price of shirt or shoes Consumer pays it in the end, just another tax Not to help our government; to grind the bankers ax.

LEMKE HITS FOREIGN TRADE POLICY

These two departments of our government are now selling our domestic markets to European horse traders. This in order to please the Chase National and the City National Banks of New York, who with the international bankers, have investments in foreign countries, and who now desire that the American people should pay those investments indirectly, by permitting the balance of trade to be against us, sufficient "to service the foreign debt." These departments of our government are now engaged in entering into further reciprocal trade agreeof this nation and our people are entirely forgotten.

During the last session, the majority in Congress passed the reciprocal tariff law, which gave to the president the right to reduce tariffs fifty per cent. They also passed a bill creating free zones within our country, at the important ports, where the foreign nations can store their agricultural manufactured products within our borders for one year, without paying any duty, thus putting our foreign competitors in a position to flood our markets with their commodities at the opportune moment.

As a result of this un-American policy, our country is now being deluged with foreign agricultural and manufactured products as never before in its history, products produced and manufactured by peon labor and human slavery, in foreign countries He is being fleeced every day by money merchants and Uncle Sam with the lowest possible standard of living. Space will not permit is helping them to fleece him by printing their money just as us giving you the amount of all agricultural and manufactured they demand it, and is thus helping them to graft on the public. products imported during the last year, but we shall give you a few of the items imported during the month of March, this year.

During that month, we imported 51,921 cattle, 24,704,798 we imported 4,928,552 pounds of butter and 4,220,458 pounds of cheese, all in competition with agricultural products produced by our own people.

During that same month, we imported 233,491 bushels of barley, 1,613,158 bushels of rye, oats, about 2,000,000 bushels of wheat, 19,283 barrels of flour, and 27,197,030 pounds of malt barley, and over 50,000,000 pounds of oil cake and cake meal made from soybeans, cotton seed, flax seed, and other products. We have no objection to that part of the international trade that is the natural result of our civilization and of our intercourse among nations, that which comes to us naturally and necessarily, but why go horse trading? Especially when we know that we are the poorest horse trades in the world, and always got the short end of the stick. We usually trade away two or three good young colts, and get in return a few old worthless plugs. That has been our record.

Our total foreign trade is only 6 per cent of our total commerce, and if we eliminate the interlocking international manufacturers, it is only 3 per cent. Why eternally attempt to increase the 3 per cent and forget all about the 97 per cent? During this. depression, we have lost less than 4 per cent of our volume in agricultural, mineral, and manufactured production through the collapse of foreign trade, but we have lost from 45 per cent to 55 per cent of manufactured goods in our home market. Why waste our time on the 4 per cent when we ought to pay attention to the 55 per cent? Again, the excess of our exports over our imports at present amounts to less than one-half of 1 per cent of our toal commerce. Why try to get concessions from foreign nations in order to increase that one-half of one per cent in place of developing our domestice market? We should pay more attention to again raising our standard of living to where it used to be. age of keen competition and substitution. The insane policy of rstricting agriculture, through the triple A, in order to surrender our domestic markets to foreigners, must and will be stopped.

Poverty must be wiped out. No nation can call itself either Christian or civilized that permits babes, little children and the aged to suffer for food, clothes and shelter.-Labor's Voice.
