FORTY-EIGHTH YEAR

WELCOME TO THE FAIR

NINTH ANNUAL FAIR OPENS HERE TODAY

MANY ATTRACTIONS BILLED FOR FAIR; GOOD HORSE RACES

Local Fair Rated "Class A" Among County Fairs in Texas, and Race Track is Conceded One of the Best

The Haskell County Fair which opens its ninth annual entertainment here today has been rated as class A among the county fairs of the southwest. This has been made possible through the cooperation of the people of this section and the untiring efforts of the officers and directors of the organization.

Without this cooperation the Haskell County Fair could not have hoped to be what it is today, a compliment to everyone who has lent the slightest aid and assistance, as patron, exhibitor or worker. To the county citizenship goes the credit of producing better crops, poultry and live stock, bringing credit upon themselves as well as Haskell County and making it possible for the fair to be classed among the better expositions of the state.

The amusements this season promise to surpass anything ever offered here and the carnival and midway will prove of unusual interest due to the class of entertainment offered. The horse racing card will be the feature race meet of West Texas this season on account of the large purses offered which has attracted some of the best horseflesh of the southwest and further interest will be manifested in the meet, because the races will be operated under the new racing law permitting par mutual betting, which will give those with a little sporting blood an opportunity to place their money on the horse's nose that comes under the wire first, if they are good at picking a winner. The track is in excellent condition and with the large number of horses entered for the different events, the public is assured of being well entertained each afternoon during the fair.

Special attention has been given the lighting effects, at the main exhibit building as well as the race track section. This work has been under the supervision of H. C. King of the West Texas Utilities Company.

Sheriff W. T. Sarretts made a business trip to Throckmorton Tuesday.

An American custom: Observing one week in the year as Thrift week and urging us to spend our heads off the other 51.

CONTRACT TO BE AWARDED OCT. 23 FOR BRAZOS BRIDGE

Among the contracts scheduled for letting by the State Highway Department on October 23, that will be of interest to the people of Haskell county will be a new bridge across the double mountain fork of the Brazos on Highway 18 west of Sagerton. The structure will be 988 feet long according to announcement made by the Commission Monday.

Included in the letting for October 23, will also be the grade and drainage structures on Highway 16, from the Haskell county line thru Knox city to Benjamin. This contract will cover about 13 1/2 miles.

W. G. Forgy Is New Member of Free Press Staff

An addition to the staff of the Free Press was made last week when W. G. (Bill) Forgy, who has been connected with newspapers in Oklahoma, assumed a position as assistant on advertising and news.

Forgy's most recent connection was with the Mayes County New Deal, at Pryor, Oklahoma, although he has held varying positions on newspapers published at Altus, Frederick, and Pawhuska, Okla.

He and Mrs. Forgy have moved into the house recently vacated by Raymond Taylor.

Floyd Johnson of Coleman is spending this week in Haskell with his brother, W. C. Johnson.

Misses Lillian and Mildred Townsend of Ryle were visitors in Haskell Monday.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. PARTAIN HELD SATURDAY

The Funeral Services of Mrs. Frank Partain were held at the First Methodist Church Saturday morning October 14, 1933 at ten o'clock, with Rev. A. W. Gordon the Pastor officiating and Rev. C. H. Eckles assisting.

Mrs. Partain died Thursday night October 12, 1933, at 9:30 o'clock after a brief illness. She was born in Arkansas in 1880, came to Fannin county Texas, at an early age. She was married June 22, 1896 to Frank Partain. They moved to Haskell in 1906 and have lived here continuously, except three years they spent in Ft. Worth.

Mrs. Partain joined the First Methodist Church here, by vows in April 1922. She was a kind mother and neighbor and her going will be missed by her many friends.

Those surviving are: her husband, J. Frank Partain, Haskell; her mother, Mrs. D. C. Duke, Abilene; and four daughters, Mrs. Tice Wagner, Elreño, Okla.; Mrs. Milton Wilfong, Haskell, Texas; Mrs. John Partain, Haskell; and Miss Louise Partain, Haskell. Also two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Cora Griffen, Abilene; Mrs. Ira Blair, Rochester, Texas; and Mr. Mose Duke, Los Angeles, California.

All of the above were here for the services, except her mother and the brother who were unable to be here. Funeral arrangements were in charge of W. O. Holden of Jones Cox and Co. with interment in Willow Cemetery.

Active Pall Bearers were: D. H. Persons, A. H. Wair, W. A. Duncan, Charlie Reese, J. A. Frazier, and J. P. Payne.

Honorary Pall Bearers were: F. G. Alexander, W. E. Sherrill, Jim Ellis, and B. Cox. Ladies assisting with flowers: Mrs. C. P. Woodson, Mrs. Charlie Reese, Rev. Mrs. C. H. Eckles and Rev. Mrs. A. W. Gordon.

Sheriff J. B. Davis and his father from Sherman, Texas, were business visitors in Haskell last Friday. Olen Dotson made a business trip to Mineral Wells last Friday.

Strikers who insist upon not returning to work until all their demands are granted ought to remember that none of us are getting all we would like to have in these trying times, but half a loaf is better than none at all.

George W. Goetze Is New Manager of Perkins-Timberlake

George W. Goetze, who has worked for Perkins-Timberlake Company in Wichita Falls for the past two years, and for four years in Vernon prior to that time, assumed management of the local store Monday, replacing Raymond Taylor, who resigned.

Mrs. Goetze will arrive in this city, so Mr. Goetze states, just as soon as it is possible for him to secure a dwelling.

The local Perkins-Timberlake store made a good showing under the leadership of Mr. Taylor, who has been in charge for about one and one-half years, and his many friends were sorry to hear that he and Mrs. Taylor were leaving Haskell.

Mr. Taylor expects to re-enter business in Wichita Falls, his former home.

PASTORS OF CITY PROTEST SALE OF BEER DURING FAIR

The following petition has been presented to the Fair officials by the pastors and ministers of the city protesting the sale of beer in the city during the Haskell County Fair:

"To the President and Board of Directors of the Haskell County Fair Association: We the ministers and pastors of the Haskell churches appeal to you as leading citizens, to use your influence in protecting the best moral interests of our people by not permitting beer to be sold at the Fair. Much direct and indirect harm would most certainly result from such encouragement to drinking.

"Judge Clyde Grissom says that even if you sell beer under the guise of the Haskell County Jockey Club, such subterfuge would not protect you in his court. "Please help maintain decency order.

Respectfully, A. W. Gordon, C. A. Tucker, Wm. P. Hardegree, I. N. Alvis, A. P. Thurman, H. R. Whatley, C. H. Echols.

COUNTY FAILS TO REPORT BIRTHS AND DEATHS PROPERLY

Haskell county was among 177 counties in the state of Texas last year which failed to report all births and deaths in the county to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, according to a letter received from the State Registrar. The following paragraph from the letter sets forth the requirements and the penalty for failing to make the reports.

"In every State in the Union except Texas, the Census Bureau recognizes the human records, birth and death rates are computed and published. In order to overcome this condition and relieve Texas of this stigma a test of registration was made. It was found that death registration had reached the standard and in the future Texas will be shown all the favors shown other States as a matter of mortality. This result was a high compliment to the undertakers, coffin dealers and others who had charge of the burial of the dead during the time included in this investigation.

"There is attached a list of the births about which a request as to the certificate has been directed to the State Bureau, but the corresponding birth certificate can not be found filed, as the law requires. These births may have occurred in other years or in other counties or there may be an error in the name, in such event if this information is furnished the State Bureau immediately, that record may be cleared up, before the investigation is finished otherwise the birth must stand against your county as a violation of the 1927 Vital Statistic Law. Such a violation is a misdemeanor that carries a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $50.00, for the medical attendant at every birth must file a certificate with the Registrar at the time of birth. These violations appear as a reflection on your county and the list is given you believing that as a citizen you will do everything to locate these births and secure the complete enforcement of the law."

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden McDonald attended the funeral of Mr. McDonald's brother last Thursday at Van Alstyne who was killed in an automobile accident.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Scott have returned from McKinney, Texas, where they were called to attend the funeral of Mr. Scott's sister-in-law, Mrs. C. R. Scott.

A Georgia youth who married two girls was declared mentally deficient. For once the alienists seem to have agreed.

MAMMOTH PARADE TO MARK OPENING OF FAIR

TURKEY RAISERS ASKED TO MEET HERE OCTOBER 21

Turkey raisers of Haskell County are asked to meet in the District Court room of the Haskell County court house at 1:00 P. M. Saturday October 21st. At that time turkey raisers will be pooled. The meeting will adjourn in time for the horse races at the fair grounds.

Everything indicates an increase in price over last year's low. Even though a larger number of breeders was kept by the people everywhere, the number raised is much less in most cases, and reports that have been received from buyers indicate the same thing is true everywhere.

FATHER OF LOCAL MINISTER DIES AT LOMETA SUNDAY

C. L. Whatley, age 83, died at his home in Lometa, Texas, Sunday evening at 7:30, after a brief illness. The deceased was the father of Rev. H. R. Whatley, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city. Rev. Whatley was called to his bedside Tuesday and remained until after the funeral services.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Avant, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lampasas, assisted by Rev. Wilson, pastor of the Baptist Church at Lometa.

Whatley, Haskell; Mrs. E. P. Richardson, Brownwood; Mrs. Garrett Richardson, Lometa, Texas; and 16 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of J. H. Kinney of the Kinney Funeral Home of this city. Pallbearers were: Archie Murphy, Walter and Frank Reed, Harry Pierce, Luther and Frank Miller, all long time friends of the family.

The Haskell County Fair will open this morning with a mammoth street parade at 10 o'clock, which will form on Houston street west of the High School building and turn east at the Methodist Church corner for two blocks—turning south to the Courthouse at the Norton House corner, entering the square at the southeast corner—making a complete circle of the square and turn east on Walton Street to the depot and Fair Grounds.

Infant Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josey Buried Saturday

Funeral services of Myrna Lois Josey, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Josey was held Saturday morning October 14, 1933 at the home, northwest of Haskell.

Myrna Lois, departed this life, after an illness of several days. Funeral arrangements were in charge of W. O. Holden of Jones Cox & Co. Interment in Pinkerton, Cemetery.

Mrs. H. R. Jones returned to Wichita Falls Sunday after spending the week end here at her home. Mrs. Jones reports Judge Jones slowly recovering from his injuries which he received in an automobile accident in August. However, it will be months before Judge Jones has completely recovered. Mrs. Jones was accompanied to Wichita by Mrs. T. J. Arbuckle who returned Monday.

LAME DUCK IS KILLED SUNDAY

TWENTIETH AMENDMENT TO U. S. CONSTITUTION BECOMES EFFECTIVE

The Twentieth Amendment to the Constitution, abolishing the so-called "lame duck" session of Congress, became effective Sunday with two unique records in American history.

Besides changing the dates for the inauguration of the President and the beginning of congressional sessions, the amendment established a record for being the only change in the Constitution that had the unanimous approval of the 48 States.

Sponsored by Senator Norris, Nebraska Republican independent, the amendment was passed by the Senate six times before the House had a chance to vote on it.

The first State to ratify the amendment was Virginia, on March 4, 1932, while the thirty-sixth State, Missouri, came through on Jan. 23, 1933.

Although the resolution passed by the House and Senate provided that ratification of 36 of the 48 States—all that are necessary—ratified it within less than a year, and within four months more all of them had approved it. It wipes out the age-old "lame duck" session that used to begin on the first Monday in December after the Fall elections.

It also moves up from March 3 to January 20 the date on which Presidents are inaugurated. In the last Congress, during Herbert Hoover's Administration, there were nearly 200 lame ducks or members of the House and Senate who had lost their seats in the November elections.

The amendment cuts President Roosevelt's term short by almost two months. Not only that, but the weather forecasters predict stormier weather on January 20 than on March 4, when the Presidents since George Washington have been inaugurated.

Named Chairman

John Lee Smith of Throckmorton has received notification from National Commander Edward Hayes of the American Legion that he had been appointed chairman of the committee on Americanism for the State of Texas.

Washington Digest National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart

Washington—Every so often in the National Capital, there comes a bill, a period in which things seem to sag. Some times it lasts only a few days, and again it has gone a week or longer.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, one of the Democratic wheel horses, felt the situation the other day when he announced boldly and as though no one else had noted the phenomenon that "we must do something more than we have been doing."

The point I am seeking to develop is that both the national recovery administration and the agricultural adjustment administration appear to have passed into that stage from which we can look back and see the crest of the wave.

During the sag, it seemed all at once that NRA could no longer muster the enthusiasm within its own corps to shout about its progress. It apparently had struck a snag. The reaction from the fall was immediate.

In attempting to depict the situation as it exists at this time, I intend no criticism. On the contrary, I believe I should reverse the words of the noble Roman and say that "I came to praise Caesar and not to bury him."

Whether one views the NRA, in principle, as the right course, it remains as a fact that something had to be done, and apparently it had to be something of the sort of the NRA.

One of the reasons why NRA has reached the stage in which we now find it, is because of congressional shortsightedness. Perhaps congress ought not be blamed for all of it either, because it is just possible that advisers of the President did not use their heads.

recovery act was so drawn that the administration could club business with the code provisions and force the "partnership" with the government, but omitted supplying the administration with a right to hold over labor.

Debts Up Again

The presence in Washington of Sir Frederick Leith-Ross as the representative of the British government to talk about revision of the government's $4,000,000,000 debt to the United States has brought the debt question to front once again.

Then, there is the trade angle of the debt question. Our nation must export goods. There must be cotton and wheat and corn and flour, and hundreds upon hundreds of different kinds of manufactured goods shipped out of the country.

The Trade Angle

From these two views of the debt problem, it seems to me it is plain how painfully close to all of us it is, though apparently a thing of remote consequence to the rank and file.

It happens that I was the only Washington correspondent who reported all of the original sessions in which the foreign debts were funded into long-term obligations.

From these two views of the debt problem, it seems to me it is plain how painfully close to all of us it is, though apparently a thing of remote consequence to the rank and file.

Washington—Every so often in the National Capital, there comes a bill, a period in which things seem to sag. Some times it lasts only a few days, and again it has gone a week or longer. It has happened even under the "new deal." Time is allowed, as it has been consistently heretofore by these bills, during which a lot of thoughts crystallized, and many persons gain a different perspective, if not a true one, at least a changed one.

HOW THE STATES WERE NAMED

What's in a name? That is the question which the seventh grade of Waco State Home undertook to answer, regarding certain states in the United States. It occurred to these young people to peep behind the name plate of a state and see if perchance they might learn something of its history, of its traditions, and of the life of its people. They consulted references in their own library; they wrote to several libraries; in every case the correspondent was courteously answered, and in some instances the material was received immediately. In some instances references were given to other agencies or channels of information, as bureau of publication; traveling free library in connection with the state's university; while from North Dakota the pamphlets, letters and all materials came thru the commissioner of immigration. Results from a few of these inquiries are given.

Arizona was obtained from Mexico by the treaty of Gaudalup-Iddago, in 1848. It had been called by this name since 1736. The early Spaniards gave the country its name, from a word which they heard among the Papago or Pima Indians, "Arizonac," meaning "little springs." Arkansas takes its name from the Arkansas Indians, who lived along the Mississippi and near the mouth of the Arkansas river. The story of Florida's name is well known. Ponce de Leon, looking for the Fountain of Perpetual Youth landed on the coast of this beautiful land and named it "Pascua Florida," because there were so many flowers and because it was Easter. The name meant "flowery Easter." There are different stories about how Idaho got its name. Some say the name was taken from a steamboat called 'Idaho,' which used to run on the Columbia river. Another story is that some miners were going through the region and were awakened one morning by Indians shouting "Idaho! Idaho!" The Indians meant "gem of the mountain," and they considered "Idaho" a good name for the whole name. Iowa, nicknamed the Hawk Eye

State, in honor of the Black Indians, was probably given its name by Joliet and Marquette. These two men came down from the north over the Great Father of Waters, which also was named by the Black Hawk Indians. They had traveled several days on the western side of the Mississippi, when they discovered some footprints close to the bank of the river. Going farther they found a path leading from that place. They followed it, and soon stumbled upon a Black Hawk Indian camp. They gave the sign of peace, gave the Indians bright beads and soon made friends with them. The two Frenchmen stayed with the tribe about a month. During that time they were so impressed with the beautiful territory that they applied to it the name by which the Indians had already called it, "Iowa," meaning "beautiful land." Louisiana was named in honor of Louis XIV, who was king of France at the time of La Salle's exploration. The present state is but a small part of the great valley of the Mississippi which La Salle named in honor of his king in 1682. Louisiana is the only state in the Union which the French really settled for good. Its laws and many of its customs are different from those of other states, because it was settled by French.

41 PER CENT COTTON IN THIS DISTRICT IS MIDDLING OR BETTER

41 per cent of the cotton ginned in this section of the state has been strict middling or better according to the weekly report issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. 58 per cent of the cotton was reported as yellow tinged or spotted, as compared with 42 per cent to date. The department reports little change in the staple, about 80 per cent of the cotton from this area so far has been 7-8 to 31-32 inch in length. Untenderable cotton declined this week according to the report.

Speaking at a horse show, an English duke spoke of autos as "foul things" and "horrible brutes making life hideous." We wonder if his wife could be one of those back seat drivers?

NUMBER FAILURES DURING SEPTEMBER IN TEXAS SMALL

Although liabilities were large the number of commercial failures in September was extremely small, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. There were only eighteen bankruptcies in September, against 23 in August and 47 in September, 1932. Liabilities of the firms, however, totaled $845,000, compared with $785,000 in August and $790,000 for September last year. Assets, on the other hand, were only $110,000 as against $418,000 in August and $410,000 in September, 1932.

For the entire third quarter of the year the number of failures was 51 per cent less than for the corresponding period last year, total liabilities were 51 per cent less; and assets of the failed concerns were 54 per cent less than those of last year.

Average liabilities per failure were $46,944, compared with $23,182 in August and $17,000 in September, 1932.

HOW YOU MAY PLACE YOUR MONEY ON THE PONIES

Few people in West Texas are familiar with the new law legalizing betting on horse races and for the benefit of the turf fans who may desire to back their judgment with their money at the races during the Fair, the following explanation of the certificate system is given:

Some, of course, have attended races at various tracks of the country and have either backed their choices through the certificate booths or pari-mutuels. In reality, there is no difference, only in name. Some States have the mutuels, while others legalized the certificate system. The latter is the case among the States recently passing horse betting laws. But when it comes to placing $2 straight, place, or show, the fans go through the same procedure.

For those not familiar with the terms, the definitions are:

- Straight—First
- Place—Second
- Show—Third

There are separate windows for each. If you wish to wager $2 that a certain horse will win, you go to the "straight" window and call the horse's name. You are given a ticket bearing a number under which the thoroughbred is racing for that day, as the animals go by number in the mutuels or certificates rather than name.

It is the same for "place" and "show." If you buy a "straight" ticket and your horse is the victor, you win your wager. If you have a "place" ticket and the thoroughbred runs first or second, you collect; with "show," it is the same, provided your horse wins, runs second or third.

However, you do not share in any money other than that in the division in which the certificate was purchased.

Which means that if you have a "show" ticket and your horse runs first, you will receive only your share from the "show" pool. The money for the three positions is placed in separate pools.

Most puzzling to the majority of the fans contacted during the opening meets was why they weren't given definite odds. They couldn't understand that the odds aren't known until the windows close at the sound of the bugle for the race.

As soon as the horses start to the post the windows are closed and calculators total the amount in each pool and number of tickets sold on each horse in the race.

And the odds are determined by the number of certificates purchased and the total in each pool, straight, place and show.

To show at a glance the process of this ascertainment of the dividends due winning backers, a supposed 10-horse race is used for illustration and methods and results are presented as follows:

Horses—	$2 Tickets
Old Rosebud	425
Roamer	415
Spur	268
King Gorin	268
Borrow	184
Ormesdale	105
Sasin	62
Rickety	315
Sunbonnet	187
Hendrie	49
Total	2,103

Suppose Old Rosebud was first, Roamer second and Borrow third.

Then to ascertain the value of Old Rosebud's victory you would reduce to dollars the total number of tickets sold, 2,103, by multiplying by two, which gives $4,206. First, before anything else is done, the commission for the state and association conducting this meeting is deducted.

That leaves $3,995.70 for division. Divide $3,995.70 by 425, the number of tickets sold on Old Rosebud, which returns $9.40 for each $2 invested in Old Rosebud.

Place tickets at $2 each may be supposed to have sold as follows:

Horse—	$2 Tickets
Old Rosebud	673
King Gorin	451
Roamer	258
Spur	302
Borrow	136
Ormesdale	245
Sasin	42
Sunbonnet	117
Hendrie	89
Total	2,845

Place backers of Old Rosebud and Roamer would come in for payment and the calculation of their respective dividends is made by multiplying the 2,845 sold by two, which totals $5,610.

As in the case of the straight tickets, the commission for the state and association is deducted, leaving $5,329.50.

Then add together the number of tickets sold on Old Rosebud, 673, and Roamer, 258, which totals 931.

Reduce to dollars as before by multiplying by two, which totals $1,862. Deduct this $1,862 from the total net value, $5,329.50, which leaves $3,467.50.

Divide the $3,467.50 in halves, which is $1,733.75.

Divide one-half by the number of tickets sold on Old Rosebud and the other half on the number of tickets sold on Roamer. The 673 Old Rosebud tickets divided into $1,733.75, leaves a balance of $2.57 and the 258 Roamer tickets divided into $1,733.75 is $6.71.

These results are added to $2, which in each case was paid for the ticket. Which brings the actual result that backers of Old Rosebud for place would be entitled to a return of $4.57 for each $2 invested and similarly the place backers of Roamer would be entitled to $8.71. It is the same with the "show" position, only three horses figure in the division.

Question "Popped" More Frequently in Fall Than in Spring!

In the spring a young man's fancy may lightly turn to thoughts of love, but in this country of cotton checks it is the fall of the year when the young men seriously think of matrimony.

The office of County Clerk Jason W. Smith shows that although Dan Cupid may shoot his darts into the hearts of young gentlemen during the spring months, the fall months are the ones which portray tangible results of the wounds received.

In the merry month of June only seven licenses for marriage were issued by Mr. Smith while during the month of October to the 17th day, 139 licenses have been issued.

Those who decided to don double harness and venture upon the seas of Matrimony since the first of Oct. were:

- Carl Harts and Miss Irene Roberts
- Ovid Cobb and Miss Ruth Harndt
- Harley H. Russell and Miss Bessie Massie
- Marvin V. Crawford and Miss Charlene Clark
- Walter D. Counts and Miss Alma Johnston
- Jack Bouldin and Miss Lola Faye Andress
- William W. Williams and Mrs. Tina Stoneman
- Orie Carmack and Miss Zada York
- R. R. Creech and Miss Stella Mae Hibdon
- Fowler Carroll and Miss Violet Stewart
- Jewell Tankersley and Miss Christine Stanfield
- M. W. Brandholtz and Mrs. Mary Isreal

- Clode E. Stumpp and Miss Odesa Wilson
- John Alverson and Miss Gernta Martin
- I. C. Rhoads and Mrs. Lillian Bland
- Alvin Brewer and Miss Marie Wheeler

Ballew School Will Open Term Oct. 30

The Ballew school will open on Monday October 30th, according to an announcement made by the Board of Trustees this week. The opening has been delayed in order to give the children of the district an opportunity to assist in the gathering of the cotton crop.

LARGE NUMBER OF HORSES ENTERED FOR 3 DAY MEET

With an entry list composed of fastest race horses in the southwest, racing fans are assured their money's worth this afternoon, tomorrow and Saturday at the race meet. The committee who has had charge of the race program has spared no expense in securing the best horses available. The fact that the horses offered for prizes are more than twice as large this year as any posted at other race meets in west Texas this year has been instrumental in interesting owners of the better horses from a distance.

The track is in excellent condition and is rated as the best in west Texas by those who are in a position to know, and the only thing that will keep the meet from going down in History as the greatest held in west Texas this year, is if weather conditions are favorable. The gates to the race track section will be opened this afternoon at one o'clock with the program scheduled to begin at 2:30.

Among some of the famous horses entered for the meet are:

- Tom Davis' "North Vale," "Infanta," and "Don Benito"; White & Strickland's "Queen of the Forest," "Mountain Law," "Skipper," "Pan Toy," and "Spill Tex"; Dr. E. F. Braden's "Saba"; Homer Foster's "Pasto Jure" and "Handor"; Jim Speck's "Paula C"; E. G. Bridwell's "Jack Snyder," "Lou" and "Roy"; Theo. Dunman's "Jimmy Convoy" and "Panic Lee"; Don Ramsey's "Privately"; C. E. Weldon's "Baby Wrack" and "Star Maiden"; "German Shot" and "Miz Up" of the Pence Stables; Ben Robert's "Ruby Taylor"; Ray Novity's "Atholia," "Rag Time," and "Silver Lady," and W. McElroy's "Day Brook."

The grandstands and bleachers have been placed in repair to accommodate the crowds expected at the races and all business houses in the town of Haskell have agreed to close their doors from one until five thirty in order that their employees may have the afternoon to attend the program offered by the Fair. Today has been designated as Haskell County Day and every citizen of the county is cordially invited to attend their Fair and Race Meet. School children will be admitted free to the Midway on this day until six o'clock.

Mr. Steve Knight of Stoneberg Texas, Official Starter for the Haskell Races is in Haskell to oversee the final preparations with Mr. W. H. Caldwell, the Presiding Judge. Mr. Knight is highly pleased with the race track and pronounced it one of the best in West Texas and predicted that about one hundred horses would be here for the meet. Mr. John Culp and Mr. William Swenson have been asked to act as Associate Judges of the races. Certificate betting will be in charge of Mr. John Oates with a staff of twelve clerks. Every college man should study Greek so that he can remember the name of his fraternity. A real test of courage in a small town is to come up street wearing spats and carrying a walking cane.

This chart is based on figures from the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics and national electric rate figures. The rate curve of the West Texas Utilities Company follows a more sharply descending slope to a point 85% below the normal level, which is 18% lower than the national average rate reduction shown above.

Your Average Electric Rate Is 85% Below Other Living Costs!

Complete electric service is the most reasonable item of expense in your family budget. It is the only item that has consistently been improved in quality and lowered in cost. Today it is 85% below other items of family expense... and still going down!

During the past ten years your average electric rate has been reduced more than 53%—while in spite of two years of rapidly lowering prices other items entering into the family budget still remain 32.5% ABOVE THE NORMAL LEVEL!

Just think of it! The 1932 dollar spent for general living expenses bought only 26% more than the 1922 dollar (according to the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics), while it bought from the West Texas Utilities Company 115% more residential electric service than the 1922 dollar!

This is a remarkable record! In spite of constantly increasing costs of government, the West Texas Utilities Company has effected economies which have given you the benefit of rate reductions amounting to more than 53%! And now, with commodity prices again following a sharply ascending curve, today's electric rates are even farther below general commodity prices than shown in the above chart.

Your dollar spent for electric service buys you more in real value—and more in comparison with that same dollar spent for other service or commodities—than any money you spend.

FARMS

Sodium chlorate proved such a destroyer of Johnson grass in a demonstration by Dallas Miller in Newton county last year that six of his neighbors are pooling orders for the poison to use on small patches on their blackland farms.

There are now 93 farm boys in Wheeler county who have registered sows and gilts for their 4-H club work. For some time business firms or individuals have furnished registered gilts which have been loaned to boys in return for one gilt from the first litter. The additional gilts are distributed to more boys on the same plan.

An average of 90 tons of feed will go into the six new trench silos constructed in Gregg county last summer. The growing interest in silos is the result of one such feed saver built with the help of the county agent last year.

By crop rotation and plowing under two crops of peas Bill Humbert of Frio county increased his corn crop this year from 13 bushels per acre to 40 bushels per acre.

The cost of making 192 pounds of American cheese demonstration methods was found to be $9, and this for farm-produced milk, 109 Victoria county women recently discovered.

COLORADO—A trench silo is good drought insurance, according to Ray Cook of Mitchell county who fed two-year-old ensilage to his cattle when his pasture played out last spring. Two years ago when he had plenty of feed and much of it sappy sorghum of doubtful keeping value, he dug a trench silo of 40 to 50-ton capacity at a cost of $60. This high cost, says the county agent, was due to the fact that part of the trench had to be blasted out of sand rock. After holding in reserve two years Mr. Cook found only about 8 inches of spoilage on the sides and top of the trench. He thought the expense of digging and filling a little high at the time but now considers it well worth the cost.

ANGLETON—Fall budding of native pecan trees to improved varieties is gaining in popularity in Brazoria county and now most of this improvement work is done from August to November, reports J. H. Sandlin, county agent. Farmers and ranchers believe that the buds tie into the bark better and come out in better shape in the spring if set in the fall. They also claim that the buds are not pinched off by the bark as badly when the buds are dormant on the trees during the winter.

CISCO—The use of gasoline in the "worming" of poultry has another advocate in Lee Hemphries who operates the Frazier Poultry Farm in Eastland county. He recently used five pints of gasoline to successfully worm 1500 hens and pullets.

As outlined by J. C. Paterson, county agent, a small 1-8 ounce syringe with short piece of rubber tubing attached was used to introduce the gasoline into the digestive tracts of the birds. About one teaspoonful per adult bird is the dosage. The remedy is effective and very cheap, but care must be used to get the liquid safely past the windpipe and direct into the crop.

Farm Folks Benefit From Services of Extension Service

College Station—Crowds of farm folk are gathering this month on farms in more than 1000 Texas communities to see for themselves how farm families have won for themselves health and plentiful living by following the 4-H pantry demonstration of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. Collge. Known as achievement days these gatherings serve as rallying points for the further spread of living at home methods outlined by county farm and home demonstration agents, says Miss Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent.

Farm home canning in Texas this year should exceed last year's record, estimated to have been at least 100,000,000 containers in all of Texas, according to Miss Horton. She points out that Texas is said to use more than half of all the tin cans sold for home canning purposes in the United States, in addition to large numbers of glass jars.

The important thing about the 4-H pantry way of getting a food supply is not so much the large supply of canned food put on pantry shelves as it is the selection of that supply to give a healthful diet. Miss Horton declares, "A random collection of canned stuff may avert starvation yet bring ill health in its wake. The close relation of diet to health is well known. When storing food for the unproductive months it is just as easy to plan the supply to get the necessary amounts of each type of food needed for healthful living. That is what the 4-H pantry demonstration has done. It is to spread this useful information of how to plan and get a balanced food supply that the achievement days are held," she concludes.

SHIFT TO PASTURE LOWERS PRODUCTION

Shifting production from wheat and corn to pasture and cover crops expected to take place on millions of acres under the adjustment programs of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, would tend to lower total production of milk and meats, according to Department of Agricultural specialists.

Fears that possible marked increase in acres of grazing land would result in adding to existing surpluses of dairy and livestock products are said to be groundless. Pasture crops, even if utilized fully without restrictions, produce far less livestock feed per acre than harvested grain crops.

"Records from various parts of the country show conclusively that land in harvested grain and forage crops produces at least twice as much livestock feed as the same land in pasture," say livestock specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Specialists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service point out, however, that many of the improved pastures in East Texas are producing more feed per acre than cultivated crops on similar land.

"Since 1890, farmers have reduced the acreage of grazing land about 10 per cent and increased the acreage of harvested crops about 50 per cent. This increase in cultivated land has been largely responsible for increasing the production of pork and milk approximately 50 per cent. It therefore appears clear that reducing the acreage of corn, wheat, and cotton by returning a part of the land to grass will decrease rather than increase the total meat, milk, and wool supplies. Reduction of cotton acreage cuts down the supply of cottonseed meal and hulls which are used for livestock feed."

Commenting on the suggestion that dairy farmers could produce fewer gallons of milk and still make more money, by producing at a lower cost and reducing the quantity of milk going to already overloaded markets, the Federal Bureau of Dairy Industry recently issued a statement which pointed out the advantages of shifting land to permanent pasture.

Observations of dairy-farming methods in many sections, together with results of feeding experiments, having convinced the bureau that "many farmers would find it advantageous to change their system of farming to one in which they would keep most of their land in permanent pastures and legumes, and feed very little if any grain."

MRS. STARK DONATES BIBLE PUBLISHED IN 1611 TO UNIVERSITY

What library authorities deem the greatest single book ever brought into the State has just been given to the University of Texas by Mrs. Marian Luther Stark of Orange, Texas. This is a first edition of the authorized translation of the Bible, familiarly known as the King James Translation, printed in 1611. Because of its influence upon the development of the English language and literature it has come to be called "the greatest book in the world."

In 1604 King James of England sought out the best scholars of his kingdom and entrusted to them "the task of revising the "Bishop's Bible," the edition then in most common use. The result, after seven years of labor, was the most admirable translation of the Bible ever made in any language, the model by which the English tongue has developed.

A perfect copy has long been unobtainable. The Stark copy is an unusually good one, being the tallest known. It was bought several weeks ago in England by Mrs. Stark, who is adding it to her collection already given to the University.

Mrs. Stark, mother of Regent H. J. Luther Stark, has given to the University of Texas a collection of rare books and manuscripts valued at approximately three million dollars, and a fine arts museum of equal or greater value.

Vice President

JAMES A. FARLEY
Postmaster General

SILLIMAN EVANS
Fourth Asst. Postmaster General

TEXAS TO BE HOST TO HIGH OFFICIALS

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 18th.—Texas will be host to the largest party of Federal officials ever to make a grand tour of the Lone Star State when Vice President John N. Garner and Postmaster General James A. Farley with numerous other distinguished personages visit the banner Democratic State of the Nation beginning October 18.

The tour has been arranged as a goodwill tour of Democratic party officials to the State that gave Jack Garner to the Nation, and will afford an opportunity for genial Jim Farley, the National Chairman and top political man of the Roosevelt Administration, to pay his respects to the Vice President's native State. Coming here by air in an armada of transport planes, the party will first visit Fort Worth, then Arlington Downs to open the racing season and will then come into Dallas this afternoon, Oct. 19, to prepare for what is planned as the greatest political rally ever staged in Texas, where great political rallies are the rule.

In Dallas the officials will be guests at a tremendous banquet in the Adolphus Hotel at which Maury Hughes, the State Chairman will be toastmaster. There will be no speech making at this banquet in order to permit the party to adjourn promptly to the huge new Stadium at the State Fair of Texas for the gigantic night rally.

Young Joseph Weldon Bailey, Jr., Congressman-at-Large, will have charge of the night meeting at which Mr. Farley will make his only formal address for the entire tour. The Vice President, Senator Tom Connally, and Congressman Hutton W. Summers will also be heard on this occasion.

From Dallas the party goes to San Antonio, then to Uvalde for a party on the ranch of the Vice President and a chuck wagon dinner on the ranch nearby of Ralph W. Morrison, and then to Houston.

Accompanying Mr. Farley will be J. C. O'Mahoney, First Assistant Postmaster General, W. W. Howes, second assistant, Clinton Eilenberger, third assistant, Silliman Evans, fourth assistant, and Harlee Branch, Executive Assistant. Another official on the list is L. W. Robert, assistant Secretary of the Treasury, better known to his many friends as Chip Robert. J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller of the Currency, and Col. Carroll Cone of the Department of Aeronautics will accompany the party.

E. E. Hurja, executive assistant to Secretary Ickes in the public works department, formerly of Breckenridge, is another ex-Texan coming. Richard F. Roper, Executive Secretary of the Democratic National Committee, and Marvin McIntyre, secretary to President Roosevelt, will be in the party. James A. Moffett, Federal Oil Administrator, who assisted in organizing the nation's petroleum industry under a code will accompany the party and it is possible that he will confer while in the State with Texas oil leaders regarding the industry here.

Frank Walker, executive secretary of the executive council, Senator Pat Harrison and several other Federal officials will be included.

Mayor Curley of Boston, Emil Fuchs, owner of the Boston Braves, and several others will join the party at Fort Worth, where they will be met by Vice President John N. Garner.

BUY NOW; LOAN NOW

The NRA is passing through the first two stages of its career—signing up employers under the codes and the securing of millions of signers for the consumers' statements of co-operation. Both of these operations are now nearing completion and the time has arrived for the third to commence—the "buy now, loan now" campaign. Much depends upon the co-operation of the public and the bankers if this third and last phase of the NRA drive is to carry the entire project successfully over the top to victory.

The work thus far accomplished, while there has been tangible results in increased employment and a rise in certain commodity prices, will, on the whole, be time and energy wasted, unless this final culminating act can be triumphantly carried out.

Note that the two go hand in hand—a buying wave on the part of the public means the placement of new orders for commodities and the placement of these orders means the need for credit on the part of both manufacturers and merchants with which to finance augmented payrolls, the purchase of new stocks, raw materials, etc. The slogan for this third NRA period is therefore appropriate—"Buy now; loan now."

With payrolls being increased both in number of individual pay envelopes and in the amount of currency contained in each, there is every reason for believing that the public will do its part on the purchasing end; but how about the bankers? Will they or will they not advance the necessary loans?

The President is studying various credit policies, and indications are that if the bankers of America refuse to advance short time loans to merchants and manufacturers after a million dollars for the specific purpose has been loaned to them from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation at 3 per cent that pressure will be brought to bear to force them to do so; and incidentally, the government even now is so heavily involved in the banking business that it is in a position to make it decidedly uncomfortable for the banks which refuse to co-operate in the national recovery program.

WHEN WINTER COMES

It will be conceded that there will not be as much unemployment this winter as last. The NRA is placing millions back into gainful occupations, but even at that our nation will enter the winter with several millions unemployed, and the fact must not be overlooked that these millions will be in more desperate circumstances than during the four preceding years, as private savings and reserve funds among the unemployed are, in the majority of cases, largely depleted. This means that the demands upon charity and public welfare agencies will perhaps even be in excess of those of last year.

Inasmuch as the NRA is showing itself more effective in the large industrial centers than it is in the smaller cities and towns, the probability is that in these smaller population units the most severe strain will be felt during the winter months. Those living in such communities should therefore not rely too heavily upon prospective improved economic conditions, but should rather fortify themselves against a hard winter.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has emphasized a difference between theory and reality which needs to be kept in mind as winter approaches.

In theory, Mrs. Roosevelt said, the Federal government will see that no one starves or lacks for shelter. "But unless communities are alert to meet their human needs," she added, "people will starve and the delightful theory won't help them one bit."

In other words, the aid that the Federal government is extending and will extend, does not take the place of community and individual responsibility.

We are still our brothers' keepers. We have our own neighbors, friends and townspeople to look after and our own problems to solve.

No matter what theory may be held in Washington, that theory may not save the family a few doors down the street, and we cannot stand by, waiting for Washington to do something while they suffer.

Mrs. Roosevelt's reminder supports that of the President, which is that philanthropy, understanding and practical sympathy are still qualities which will be needed in generous measure this winter.

WE ALL PAY TAXES

It is estimated that 70 per cent of the national income is not subject to direct taxation—income comes from government bonds, or is exempt from taxation because its owners' total receipts are below the levels touched by the income tax law.

That provides a pretty sound reason for public laxness about taxation. A majority feel that it is no trouble of theirs—that it is a problem belonging strictly to the minority which must pay direct taxes.

We all pay taxes, if we earn a thousand a year or a hundred thousand—and the bulk of governmental income comes from those whose incomes are in the lower brackets.

We pay taxes whether we own property or not, as the amount of rent paid includes a part of the taxes on the property. We pay taxes when we go to a movie, turn on an electric light, take a spin in the car, go fishing, or do anything else. We pay them when we are asleep—the maker of the bed, mattress and blankets paid taxes, which he passed on to those who bought his product. The more he paid, the more we paid to sleep.

Tax-freedom, whether for an individual or a business, is a beautiful illusion, and it will never be anything else. If your income falls within the 70 per cent mentioned, don't be pleased about it. You're paying your share of excessive taxation, and you'll continue to pay until you do something about it.

HASKELL COUNTY FAIR HAD ITS INCEPTION TWELVE YEARS AGO

"FAIR" STAGED IN 1921 BY HASKELL WOMEN FOR RUNNER OF PRESENT EXPOSITION

Some twelve years ago the ladies of Haskell decided to have a Haskell County Fair on a larger scale than they had ever had—not a Bazaar—but a real County Fair along lines that all County Fairs are conducted. But at that time the men were not especially interested, at least not many of them. The ladies went right ahead, secured a building, sent representatives and circular letters to the rural communities and enlisted the cooperation of quite a number. They planned their booth in such a way as to show to a splendid advantage the leading products of the county. Yes, to the rear of the building were a few pens and stalls where a showing was made of Haskell county's fine cattle, stock and poultry. Haskell county citizenry were surprised. They had been so busy tilling the soil, planting and breeding up, that they had not taken the time to take an inventory of their stock in hand. Enthusiasm ran high. The men stepped up and said, "Why, we'll have a real Haskell County Fair next year." And a real Fair the Haskell County Fair has come to be. (The ladies might have felt keenly that phrase, "a real fair") but they have over the rebuttal "We started the Fair."

That Haskell county's natural resources class with the best in the state is a matter of history for they have captured many first, second and third prizes in various county and State Fairs. The exhibit hall contains artistically arranged booths displaying products of every important industry and interest the county boasts. The poultry show is a fair within a fair, with practically every community in the county vying with each other with pure bred poultry of every strain. The same can be said about the cattle and swine departments.

But the pride of the Haskell County Fair Association and thousands of Fair visitors is the race track, second to none, which attracts the same as do the larger county and state fairs over the south. The races this October 19, 20 and 21 will be the best the country can produce. And as the ninth celebration approaches it can in all truth be called the Haskell County Fair—for the Haskell county people are cooperating in a wholehearted, enthusiastic manner. The proof of the success of any organization or association is its growth and the growth of the grounds, the buildings, the grandstand, the departmental booths, stables, and show rooms has been phenomenal. The facts so far have dwelt entirely with local exhibits, but in keeping with the customs of all Fairs, these always has been a good carnival company on the main grounds and this will be the case this year, only the assurance comes from those in authority that it will be the best that is on the market.

The Haskell County Fair October 19, 20 and 21 will mobilize the largest crowd ever before seen in the county's metropolis, the city of Haskell—and, like the finding of the New World, "the women started it all!"

"Is there hot water in your house?" asked one small boy of another.

"There is," replied the other, "and I am always in it."

HEALTH OFFICER
 WARNS AGAINST SCARLET FEVER

The State Department of Health has just issued a warning in regard to scarlet fever, as the number of cases usually increases during the fall months. Last year over twenty-six hundred cases were reported in Texas. The majority of deaths occur from October through February.

Scarlet fever is a very contagious and serious disease. Grown people may catch scarlet fever, but children under 15 years are most likely to have it, if exposed. It is especially dangerous for children under 5 years, and for babies. Do not let your children take any chances with scarlet fever. Call the doctor as soon as the symptoms appear.

If your child is going to have scarlet fever, the first signs you may notice are that he seems tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually, there is a sore throat, chill, vomiting, or convulsion. The child has fever. His skin is dry and hot. His tongue is furred, and, under this white covering, it is red and swollen. In ordinary cases, these early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. Little flat red points, close together, appear first on the neck and chest. Soon the rash is over most of the body and brilliant in color.

The doctor is required by law to report the case to the local health officer. Do your part by following carefully the quarantine instructions which the health officer will give you. Children who have had scarlet fever, or who have been exposed, must not return to school until permission is given by the health officer and physician. A severe or fatal case of scarlet fever may devel-

LOANS TO FARMERS WILL BE DISCUSSED AT MEETING HERE

All farmers of Haskell or adjoining counties interested in seed loans for next year from the government or who want to secure a loan on land through the Federal Land Bank, either as a new loan, or to pay off one already on the land should meet in the District Court Room of the Haskell County Court House on Tuesday evening October 24th, at 8:00 P. M. At that time information as to the way in which loans may be secured will be given by H. K. Henry, teacher of Vocational Agriculture, of Haskell.

Texas Had First
 Cotton Gin in 1825

Inasmuch as cotton is the backbone of Texas prosperity, it may be said that Jared Groce, the first man to plant cotton on a commercial basis in the province was the father of Texas cotton.

He was the founder of the cotton industry in Texas, for he not only established the first plantation cultivated by slaves, but in 1825 built the first cotton gin on the banks of the Brazos.

James E. B. Austin reported to the Mexican government in 1833 that there were thirty cotton gins in the municipalities of Austin and Brazoria, and that the municipalities of Liberty and Nacogdoches were "very well provided with gins."

Austin also reported this same year that the cotton crop of Texas was 7500 bales—they were smaller than our bales. The first cotton exported was carried to the interior of Mexico on the backs of mules; it was in bales of fifty and one hundred pounds, and a mule load consisted of three hundred pounds.

In 1831, however, Edwin Waller took a schooner load of cotton from the mouth of the Brazos to Matamoras and by the next year the shipment of cotton by water to New Orleans was established.

It has been estimated that the Texas cotton crop of 1834 sold for $600,000.00.

The prosperous condition of the cotton planters of Texas in 1835, on the eve of the revolution, was one of the chief reasons why the colonists showed such reluctance to engage in an armed conflict with the Mexican government.

With the early shipment of cotton to New Orleans, Texas cotton brought three cents a pound more than the Louisiana cotton and it was said that the Texas farmers were able to produce a hundred pounds per acre more than they were.

England and France both became interested in Texas during her struggle with Mexico, due to the fact that she was such a great cotton producing territory, either nation would have been very glad to annex Texas to their country, because of the ample supply of cotton she could have furnished their cotton mills.

It was cotton that attracted the interest of England, and it was England's interest that alarmed the United States and brought about the move toward annexation.

There are no available statistics on the annual production of cotton in Texas during the republic, but in 1848 the crop amounted to 39,774 five hundred pound bales.

During the Civil War large quantities of cotton were exported through Mexico and good prices were obtained.

SUBSISTENCE CROPS MAY BE PLANTED ON LAND RETIRED IN 1934

"Subsistence" crops may be planted on cotton and wheat land retired by signers of Government contracts, but "commercial" crops are forbidden. This is the interpretation given the contract regulations by O. B. Martin, director of the Texas A and M College Extension service.

As "subsistence" crops he classes those used as food by the family or fed to livestock to be consumed by the family; and those that enable the soil to subsist by enriching it or by saving it from destruction by erosion.

By following this simple classification," Mr. Martin comments, anybody can determine for himself what he may or may not plant on retired acres in most cases. Farmers must bear in mind that in signing contracts with the Government they have leased the land and have no right to use the contracted acres at all in any way unless given express permission to do so by the Government. Because so many farmers need more land to produce the family food requirements the Administration has permitted contract signers to use retired acres for this purpose. It is a privilege that should not be abused. The Government also permits any use of the land that tends to build it up or save it."

Achievement Day Program Given By Josselet Club

"4-H Pantries that feed the family" were displayed by Mrs. C. A. Thomas and Mrs. Paul Josselet of Josselet H. D. Club to club members and others in their homes Oct. 10 in an achievement program.

These organized Pantries planned according to Extension methods and filled according to food budgets have made meal planning and meal preparation easier for the owners.

Foods were divided into groups such as leafy vegetables, starchy vegetables, fruits, etc. and placed on labeled shelves.

Mrs. Thomas also had a table of gift suggestions such as home made soap, eggs, pop corn, relishes all of which come from the farm.

"Our flour and meal are made from wheat and corn grown on the farm also," Mrs. Thomas said.

In spite of conditions which have made the year a failure for many garden raisers, Mrs. Thomas reported 300 containers of food in her pantry and Mrs. Josselet 312, when meat is killed and late vegetables canned both will have gone far toward filling their budgets.

Those present were Mesdames Fred Monke's, S. G. Perrin, J. B. Edwards, John Thomas, Jesse Josselet, G. L. Walker, Nathan Poster, C. A. Thomas, Walker, Paul Josselet, E. L. Lancaster, Holt Eastland, Luther Tolliver, Bill Swartz, Cody West, G. R. Couch, Miss Mae Cathron, Miss Johnnie Reed, H. D. Agent, and visitors Mrs. Boot Collins and Miss Luby Pool of Haskell.

URGES SPORTSMEN TO RECOVER GAME CRIPPLED BY GUNS

FEDERAL OFFICIAL ASKS ALL HUNTERS TO AVOID NEED-LESS LOSS OF GAME

Pointing out the tremendous annual wastage in ducks and geese crippled or killed during the open seasons and never recovered, W. C. Henderson, associate chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, in a statement issued today (October 14) on behalf of both the Advisory Board, Migratory Bird Treaty Act, and the bureau, urged American sportsmen to unite in a campaign to reduce these losses. The statement follows:

"Authorities estimate that for every two ducks killed and brought to bag, at least one bird is crippled and probably lost. This becomes appalling when it is realized that probably 15,000,000 ducks are counted into the bags of American gunners each season. It means that at least 7,500,000 birds are crippled and lost. They are not included in the gunner's bag, and they are not included in the numbers of birds that return north to rear young. In such cases the stock of breeding birds is thus seriously decreased without any resulting benefit, except to the creatures that prey on the unfortunate cripples.

"The picture is not a pleasant one. However, most of this inhumane and wasteful crippling can be prevented if gunners will refrain from shooting at birds at long range, and from using shotguns of a gauge too small to be effective. 'Flock shooting', the indiscriminate firing into a flock of birds in the air or in the water, is a prolific source of crippling and is properly regarded with disgust by experienced sportsmen.

"Every gunner should make conscientious efforts to recover his wounded birds. Those acquainted with the wildfowl situation are genuinely concerned over the relative scarcity of these birds, caused by overshooting and by a series of disastrous breeding seasons due to long-continued drouths. Every sign plainly indicates that the future of the sport of duck shooting depends entirely upon our ability to protect the now diminishing supply of breeding birds. Federal and State conservation authorities are applying emergency measures by restricting open seasons and reducing bag limits. It is strange that, with these evidences before their eyes, so many individual gunners make only half-hearted efforts to find and retrieve their crippled game. If, on the other hand, every gunner will do his utmost—will in fact make it the first rule of sportsmanship to recover his wounded birds—the number of breeding birds going north in spring will be larger by several millions than will be the case if this appeal is ignored.

"The supply of ducks is far too small to permit the least unnecessary wastage, and further restrictions on shooting privileges may be required unless every gunner does what he can to stop these pitiful losses. The least he can do is to adhere to sportsmanlike practices and save his own cripples."

Rochester

A light shower fell here Tuesday evening. We don't need rain now since we've found this soil makes good stuff with very little rain, and too, boll pulling and maize heading is in full sway.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow King of Pampa are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Reeves.

Miss Katie Reeves of Henrietta spent a few days last week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Reeves. She was accompanied by her friend, Miss Edna James of Wichita Falls.

The All American Shows and Carnival and Rodeo is here this week under the auspices of the Fire Department.

Mr. Tom Murphy went to Abilene last Tuesday and brought his daughter Miss Evelyn, home. She had been visiting in Ballinger and Abilene for several weeks.

Miss Emily Hook who is attending A. C. C. at Abilene spent last week end near Rochester with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Hook.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Meyers and daughter Jacqueline of Marshall, Texas, spent a few days this week with their aunt, Mrs. Sallie Fields. Mrs. Meyers lived here 26 years ago. The old timers will remember her as Miss Mabel Fields. Newt Fields was her father. He stock-farmed near old Marcy 2 years. He was a brother of Bullie Fields. She also attended school at Haskell the last year they were in the west. They returned by way of Haskell to visit the family of W. W. and R. B. Fields, more relatives, for a few days before their return home.

Ray Fields of Austin spent Tuesday night with his mother, Mrs. Sallie Fields.

Falsifying
"Willie" said his mother, "you told me a falsehood. Do you know what happens to little boys who tell falsehoods?"
"No," replied Willie, sheepishly.
"Why," continued his mother, "a big black man with only one eye in the center of his forehead comes along and flies with him up to the moon, and makes him pick sticks for the rest of his life. Now, you'll never tell a falsehood again, will you? It's awfully wicked."

Every emergency seems to bring out one man who towers head and shoulders above the rest. He is the one toward whom the others turn for leadership. It is the same with most lines of endeavor. Merit causes one firm or business to stand out.

We are proud of the large number of people in Haskell and neighboring communities, and those in rural homes, who call us for funeral service. This, in our opinion is positive evidence of the outstanding merit of Kinney Funeral Service.

A scientist says that many animals laugh. If they observe we humans closely enough they could scarcely help it.

There seems to be a slight lull in the kidnaping racket lately. Maybe the boys are waiting for their NRA code.

We read that a scientist says that most successful business men are short. And we might add that all the unsuccessful ones are.

Black-Draught
Clears Up Sluggish Feeling

"I have used Theford's Black-Draught for constipation for a long time," writes Mrs. Frank Champlin of Wynne, Ark.
"If I get up in the morning feeling dull and sluggish, a dose of Black-Draught taken three times a day will cause the feeling to pass away, and in a day or two I feel like a new person. After many years of use we would not exchange Black-Draught for any medicine."
P. S.—If you have children, give them the new, pleasant-tasting SYRUP of Theford's Black-Draught.

This Year's Fair Best Ever Staged

Not even when the Haskell Fair was in its infancy has so much preparation been made to have everything in readiness for the best County Fair in Central West Texas. Paint and gay colored paper has been used in the exhibit halls and race track section in profusion. New booths for exhibits and many other new and varied attractions will greet the visitors eye. No expense has been spared to make attractive every part of the Fair and money has not been spent in vain for everything indicates the largest and best Fair ever to be held in Haskell county and one of the best in Texas in 1933.

The parade will be the opening event of the Fair and will start promptly at 11 A. M. Thursday, October 19th. Judging of livestock and other exhibits will start at 10 A. M. on Thursday and all exhibits are expected to be in place by 9 A. M. Thursday morning.

At 2:30 P. M. on Thursday will be held the first of a three day racing meet unequalled so far in Texas this year. The number of entries and the size of the purses greatly exceed those in any previous race meet.

There will be attractions every day for every one. Those who wish may attend the dance each night to be held in the Cahill building on the east side of the square. Then too, on Friday evening at 8 p. m., a show will be staged in front of the grandstand by pupils of Mrs. Kaigler, teacher of dancing and expression, supplemented by several visiting artists from out of town.

The certificate system of betting on the races will provide excitement for racing fans. Tidwell's Shows will be on the midway to furnish attractions.

Judges for the exhibits at the Fair are as follows:

County Agent Colgin, Seymour—Dairy cattle, beef cattle, hogs, and sheep.
Sheriff Elliot, Benjamin—Horses and mules.
Mr. Rose, Sweetwater—Poultry.
County Agent Jones—Community exhibits, individual farm exhibits, and general agricultural exhibits.

The time for the biggest feature in entertainment to be held in this section is at hand. Many visitors are expected, but arrangements are being made to take care of every one. Everyone everywhere is invited to visit the fair and races and exhibit farm products and livestock at the best county fair in Central West Texas.
