Life In a Great High School

A high school having twenty-five hundred students! Rather a large sized student body, as compared to our nearby three hundred. It must have seemed considerably larger to Marie Ballard, sophomore student, who attended one of the great high schools of Houston a part of this school term. It is an interesting fact that Houston ranks with St. Louis, Detroit, Denver and Los Angeles, as having the most advanced school system in the United States. "In this particular high school," said Marie, "there were only the three upper grades; the freshmen were in Junior High. I do not know the number in the sophomore class. We had only one gathering of the whole class during the first term—a pep rally."
 Many customs and practices are different, as related by Marie. There are many foreigners among the students—Italians, Jews and some Chinese. There can be no common meeting place for so large a group, so the students have registration rooms to go to every morning. Classes begin at 8:20 and end at 3:00; class periods are one hour long, and there are six periods during the day, with thirty minutes for lunch. All students carry a course of six subjects except when failure prevented and twenty credits are required for graduation.
 Since there are few study periods for the average student, assignments are not commonly made every day, but "homework" is given in most subjects twice a week. One of the six subjects is "gym." At this hour the students either play games or hear lectures. There is a school doctor and a nurse, who gives the students examinations about three times each term.
 The pep squad is a club; all the members have to have an invitation to join it, and then must average C in all subjects to stay in it. The club continues all the year. There are many clubs, fraternities, and societies. During the football season pep rallies are held once a week on the campus for the entire student body and the leaders of the pep squad from the school which they play that week are there.
 Daily announcements are made by the teacher in charge of the room, from an announcement sheet which is sent around, one to each room. The school has its own newspaper and it is published once every two weeks. Nearly everyone subscribes for it.
 For the privilege of voting in class elections, each student must pay a poll tax of perhaps ten or fifteen cents.
 The school has three libraries with many books of all types; there is also a very large cafeteria. There is no detention! But students may be suspended from school for continued misconduct and they are graded every six weeks on their conduct.

WHAT GIRLS DISLIKE IN BOYS

(By a Sophomore Girl)
 Boys do not approve of cheap slang used by boys. If a boy respects a girl he will be decent enough to not use it.
 Girls admire boys who are sweet, decent, agreeable, polite, and above all—boys who have good manners.
 Boys' cheap familiarity with a girl are not appreciated.
 Girls don't like boys who give bad opinions too freely about other girls.
 Never try to boss a girl. Don't ever say "I'll quit you if you do that." It just isn't nice.
 Boys, be neat and clean and well groomed. You don't have to be dressed up to be well groomed. Just wear your clothes right and don't be louchy.
 Boys, don't even get it in to your head that it is sissy to be respected because it isn't. If you want your best girl friends to respect you and think a thousand times more of you—avoid all of these things that are to be avoided and do the ones that are to be done if you don't believe me, just try it. It can't fail!

WHAT BOYS DISLIKE IN GIRLS

(By a Sophomore Boy)
 Boys don't like boldness. (Girls if you don't know what it means—don't run after boys).
 Boys don't like girls who are silly.
 Don't use too much make up.
 Boys had rather smell aroma of clean soap than stale perfume anytime.
 Boys had rather see a girl neat than soudy.
 Boys like girls that are friendly, congenial and have a sense of humor.
 Boys don't like girls that pout. (When a girl pouts it proves she is a big old baby).
 Boys don't like for girls to spend their whole time blowing off about another boy.
 Boys don't like for girls to neck too much, even if the boy wants to.
 When a girl is with a boy he likes to be "Big Chief." He doesn't like for her to talk about another boy. He wants to be "Whole Hog" or nothing.
 Boys don't like girls who are two-faced. Boys like sincerity.
 Mistress—Joyce, I saw the milk man kiss you this morning. In the future I will take the milk in.
 Joyce—"Wouldn't be no use mum. He's promises never to kiss anybody but me."

In Appreciation

Year before last our high school counted among its regular students and unusual and admirable character—Mr. Everett Wyche. His recent and untimely passing calls vividly to the minds of many of us the time that he spent in high school, a man among boys and girls but a student like the rest of us. We who remember him would pay our respects to his memory.
 Unobtrusive and quiet, yet purposeful, he came among us and picked up his high school studies where he had once laid them down. It must have required a firm resolve for a man of his maturity, and with the responsibilities of a family, to come back among students of our age and to adjust himself to our high school routine. One would wonder if written exercises and class procedures intended for the sophomores or juniors might not seem "dinky" to him sometimes—and trivial. Perhaps they did. Yet he was patient, and complied with all requirements made of the younger students, and he was earnest. There was a need in his life now for his education which he had not as yet received; there was an urgency to acquire that foundation on which he hoped to build. Impelled by the resolve to devote the remainder of his life to the ministry of the gospel, he was willing to meet any requirements, however difficult, or trying they might be. The goal did not seem too distant nor the way too difficult for him to attempt.
 There was a courage there. Probably none of us saw it at the time. And there is inspiration now, when we know that not once up to the hour of his unfortunate death, had that courage ever failed, or even wavered. In his second year at college, working long hours to support his family and studying between times, he was advancing steadily toward the goal of a college education and full preparation for the ministry.
 It ought to be said that Everett Wyche did not live in vain. For surely no other lesson we might have presented to us in high school could be of any more value than the example of courage and faith and firm resolve which he lived in our midst.

Attention! Sit Erect!

Recently, when a young woman applied for a job and was given the usual test of ability, she was found to be very capable of handling the work, but there was one thing about her that kept her from getting the job—she did not have good posture when sitting or standing.
 Every high school student should develop the habit of being erect when sitting or standing, no matter where he is. We realize it has been hard this year because of having to write on our knees. The habit of maintaining a good posture, if begun when a person is young, will be of endless benefit to him when he gets older.
 Let's all resolve to be more erect these last few weeks of school than we ever have before! Let's sit straighter.

Concealed Identity

A name given to short hair plus a spider's home.
 Something on the end of all birds mouths plus something that will lock a door.
 Very small plus the opposite from high.
 A valuable jewel plus a cake like cracker.
 Irene plus a person who works in a mill.

 Surname of twins plus important part of body.
 A nut plus a pedal extremity.
 Bertha A. wanted someone to notice her new hair dress so she said, "Oh, I've been to the beauty shop."
 Savanne C.—"Huh! It must have been closed."

Girls To Attend Homemakers Rally

Each year a State Homemakers Rally, a gathering of all Future Homemakers in Texas is held. This year the Rally will be in Fort Worth. The following girls with their sponsor, Mrs. Meyer will leave April 28 to stay until May 1. Madge Leon emblem for the club; Eula Mae Watson, cotton dress; Eva Jo Ratliff, silk dress; Flossie Hester, menu writing; Wynona Post, home project and Jean Kendall, delegate for the Future Homemakers Club.

Sophomore Sidelights

Joyce Nell still has that "Bull-dog" under control, or so it seems. Joe and Mary Jo seem to be "okay" again.
 A certain senior has been trying to go with Marie Ballard. (I heard).
 Frances Merle and Gladys C. go with Aspermont one night and Weinert the next.—Now is that nice???

Band Members Win Individual Contests

Saturday Mr. Meacham took Joe Maples, Duffer Crawford and Buddy Pace to Hardin-Simmons to an invitation band contest. Haskell came out somewhat victorious, taking off two first honors and one second place. Duffer Crawford and Joe Maples, high school boys, were the first place winners in their separate divisions.
 For some reason, not their own, these boys did not get to make the trip to Enid, Okla., as they had previously planned. The H.S. U. Contest was of considerable significance however, and we are especially glad for these boys to bring home such honors to Haskell.

Sophomores In Sports

The Sophomores of Haskell High School take great interest in sports too. In football the sophomores had two of the best men on the team. They were Gene Rogers and Lon McMillan. Gene is also a letterman in basketball. Lon is also a letterman in track and is one of the best boxers in H. H. S. He won the light weight championship at a tournament at Brownwood about a month ago. Lon will also go to the District in track this week.
 Another letterman in football is Jack Simmons. Quinton Bailey is also a letter man in basketball. We are proud of all our big sophomore athletes.

Band Plays At Assembly Friday

The assembly program for April 7 was presented by Mr. Joe Meacham, band director. The band played several numbers among which were "Under The Double

True or False Test

Frances Stephens always looks pale for she never wears any make up.
 Two ex-senior boys and one junior have a crush on Irene M. (psst just between us the boys are "supposed" to be going steady).
 Miss Riley was seen driving down the highway Saturday at 85 miles an hour.
 Everyone will probably play hockey next April 1, being as it turned out to be so much fun this year.
 Paul Crawford is red headed.
 Mickie never thinks of Berlia.
 Woodrow Frazier is always in a bad humor.
 J. R. Johnston simply cannot look cross-eyed.
 Eula Fae never gets mad at Jimmie. (Only 3 times a day).

Girls Lose In Volley Ball On Saturday

About eight o'clock Saturday morning the volleyball girls left for Breckenridge to try for district championship. It was about 12:15 when they started their first game with Rising Star. Although they played their best, Rising Star won the set.
 The girls who made the trip were: Annie Mae Lees, Golda Wood, Ruby Stodgill, Ila Faye Gregory, Irene Miller, Cleon Perdue, Capitola Larned, Nannie Patteron, Evora Jenkins, Thelma Landess and Margaret McClintock and their coach, Mrs. Wimbish. Others who made the trip and took cars were Mr. Wimbish, C. G. Burson and Eugene Rogers, Joe Isbell and Claude Jenkins Jr. also went. The volleyball girls wish to thank those who took cars making it unnecessary for them to have to go in the school bus.

Methodist Missionary Society

On Monday April 12 the women of the W. M. S. met in the church. The president, Mrs. Persons being absent on account of illness, Mrs. Matt Graham presided over a short business session. Mrs. Isbell was director for the very interesting program which followed.

Mrs. B. Cox who gave the devotional chose for her scripture reading the 5th Chapter of Luke. Mrs. Cox comments were deeply spiritual and much enjoyed.

Mrs. Leon gave the message that was delivered by the National President of the W. M. S., Mr. Porry, at Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Wallace Cox told of the Girls Home at Tunda, Africa. This is the youngest home in that Mission, which is in the interior of Africa.

Mrs. John Rike told most interestingly of the Laura Haygood Normal in Soo Chow, China. In an informal conversation, Mrs. Sowell told of a converted Hot-tent. Mrs. Leon told of hearing Gypsy Smith at Fort Worth on last Sunday. The crowd was estimated at 13,000.

Next Sunday will be a great day at the Methodist church in Haskell. At 11 a. m. our great Bishop Bonz will have charge of the service. On Sunday night the Missionary Society, with Mrs. Rike as director, will present a program.

Mrs. J. U. Fields will deliver a lecture entitled "Symphony of Creation." This is an account of a visit to the "Natural Bridge" in Virginia which, as we know is one of the seven wonders of the world. You cannot afford to miss either of these great services.

The meeting was dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. B. Cox. The Society meets in circle groups on next Monday. Be sure to get in touch with your Circle leader.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Odell and sons Jack Elwin and Thomas Gordon spent the week-end with Mrs. Odell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Therwanger near Weinert.

A DEFINITE GAIN

The American economic system has said gaps and inefficiencies, when viewed at close range. In the long view, however, it shows up a good deal more advantageously.

Figures compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board, for example, show that there has been a substantial improvement in the lot of the American wage earner since 1914.

Average hours of work in manufacturing are today approximately 23 per cent below their 1914 level; at the same time, average weekly earnings, adjusted to take into consideration changes in the cost of living, are 39 per cent higher.

This is a very noteworthy improvement. It has been accomplished slowly, with many up and downs along the way—but, over the years, the American system has made a definite and solid advance in terms of human well being.

THE EXPERTS ARE WORRIED

The experts are worried about the coming boom. They talk of the threatening inflation as if it were already upon us and there is the possibility that they know what they are talking about.

The fact of the matter is that the nation is moving up rather unevenly from the depths of a great depression. Whether the economic cart will gather dangerous momentum depends upon a number of influences, some of which the government can control and some of which escape explanation as well as management.

So far as we are advised the experts are not able to advise individuals how to protect themselves against all the dangers that wholesale inflation would entail. The best protection is to avoid the pitfalls of excessive inflation. This may mean that the government will have to reverse some of its tendencies, which is what was to be expected. The course that took us from the bottom of the depression will have served its purpose when the nation reaches the economic level.

CCC'S OTHER SIDE

The Civilian Conservation Corps, drawn up to rehabilitate our great forest resources, seems to have been doing a pretty fair job of human rehabilitation as well. Howard W. Oxley, director of CCC camp educational activities, reports to the War Department that 40,000 young men who were illiterate when they enrolled in the CCC now can read and write. During the past year, for instance, 92 per cent of the men who were found to be illiterate at the beginning of the year have been attending classes regularly. Here is an activity which is every bit as important as the forest conservation work, if not more so. The prime qualification for citizenship in a democracy is that a man be at least literate. The CCC, by bringing educational opportunities to men who had been denied them is amply justifying its existence. And it should be possible to say this without thought of the current political campaign. The CCC is not a partisan issue. It is a national program that has worked.

Seems So

William Allen White believes some sort of compromise can be worked out between the "security" and "free opportunity" schools of thought. We should be permitted to scale the Alps, but handrails will be provided.—Barron's.

Greatly Desired

The coaches, it is reported, are quite indifferent to the mixing of motor oil and football. All their pent-up enthusiasm, we guess, is reserved for the first fellow who can develop a no-knock alumnaus.—Boston Herald.

RAILROADS' PROSPECTS IMPROVE

Western railroads are reported to be carrying from 40 to 50 per cent more passengers than last year and are almost back to their pre-depression volume of business.

Four factors are generally credited with the improvement of passenger traffic for the roads: air-conditioning, streamlining, low fares and high speed. Three of the four represent improved service and cheaper fares indicate good judgment in meeting bus competition.

Railroads in other sections report increased passenger traffic, although we do not know how their volume compares with previous years. Enough is known, however, to indicate that the railroads, after years of surrender are fighting for business on the basis of service and price. This, after all, is the way to get it.

Haskell County History

Forty Years Ago—1897
The picnic season is coming on in a hurry.

We again remark that our people ought to look into the feasibility of irrigating a large area of land in Haskell county from the Brazos River.

Mr. Nick Hudson came in from the Indian Territory this week.

Capt. B. H. Dodson is opening a branch store in Aspermont.

Miss Lemnos Millhollon returned on Tuesday from a visit to relatives in the Territory.

Mr. M. S. Pierson has erected a windmill and large iron tank at his residence for the purpose of irrigating a garden and orchard.

Capt. W. W. Fields and Mr. P. T. Andrews of Fort Worth and Mr. M. V. Cheatham of Sherman are on the Clear Fork this week fishing.

Mr. M. S. Shook returned Wednesday from accompanying his niece, Miss Dolly Massy to Abilene on her return home to Palo Pinto.

Mr. Hugh Meadors has purchased some residence lots in the northwest part of town and is making some improvements on them.

Quite a number of Knox and Stonewall county people have been trading in Haskell this week. Some of our merchants are advertising and drawing trade from a wide range, and they are making prices that hold the trade once they get a customer.

Every farmer should plan to raise and save a few extra good specimens of his general products to go in a Haskell county exhibit at the Dallas Fair this fall.

Our four Sunday Schools have united on a grand Sunday School picnic to take place on the 4th of May. The present understanding is that it will be near Keister's well on Mule Creek, about two miles south of town. One young lady from each Sunday School has been appointed on a committee to arrange a program. They are Misses May Fields, Sallie Ramsey, Alice Pierson and Minnie J. Jones.

tee to arrange a program. They are Misses May Fields, Sallie Ramsey, Alice Pierson and Minnie J. Jones.

Thirty Years Ago—1907
Mr. Solon Smith of Fayette, Mo., arrived here Monday and is visiting his nephew, Dr. J. D. Smith.

Work is well up on the second story of the Masonic building, located half a block north of the square.

Judge Oates is pushing the work on another stone building filling the gap between his building and the Robertson building on the west side of the square.

Postmaster Baker moved the postoffice fixtures Wednesday to the new building one and a half blocks east of the square.

The Haskell Concert Band has had a bandstand erected in the northwest corner of the courthouse yard, where they will give frequent open air concerts, thus enabling the public to enjoy their music.

The Odd Fellows of Rule are to have a picnic on the 29th instant at a place three miles west of Rule. We understand that a general invitation is extended to the public.

Mr. S. S. Cummings and daughters, Misses Fannie and Gertrude, left Tuesday for the Cummings Ranch in Jeff Davis county, where they will reside.

Mr. Cummings and son Arthur preceded them a day or two. This family was among the oldest settlers in Haskell.

On Thursday the 11th inst., the Wichita Valley railway began carrying the mail over its new line from Seymour to Abilene, delivering its first mail at Haskell on the above date. This arrangement discontinues the old star route service from Stamford, which has been run by J. L. Baldwin for several years.

BEVERAGES
International Sunday School Lesson for April 18, 1937.

Golden Text: "At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."—Prov. 23:32.

Lesson Text: Genesis 13:13; 19:23; Deuteronomy 32:31,33; Proverbs 23:29,32

While we will have the story of Abraham in a few weeks, our first reference describes conditions in the city of Sodom, toward which Lot pitched his tent after exercising his choice of pastures offered by Abraham. At that time, Lot had every reason to believe that he had received the best of the bargain as the fields were luxuriant with grass for his herds and there was plenty of water. He had failed to consider the temptations which result from association with wickedness.

Later, however, Lot realized the fact that his choice had not been so wise and, in order to escape the destruction which God was to bring to the sinful city Lot, with his family, fled from Sodom and went to Zoar. We recall the fate of Lot's wife, who looked back, perhaps with longing eyes at things she had left behind, and as a punishment for her disobedience of God's command not to do this was turned into a pillar of salt.

Here is an instance of where sin and wickedness brought destruction. This was thousands of years ago but the results are the same today. Sinfulness and wickedness just as surely destroy individuals and nations today as they did in Lot's time.

In Proverbs 23:29-32, we are given a realistic picture of the woes and sorrows which come to those in the clutch of the alcohol habit. "Who hath woes? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath complaining? who hath redness of eyes?" the writer asks. Anyone who has ever come into contact with a drunken man or woman can testify to the accuracy of the picture drawn. The writer then proceeds to answer his own questions, when he says, "They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek out mixed wine."

Warning of the consequences of partaking of such beverages, the writer says: "Look not thou upon the wine when it is red (in the last stages of fermentation), when it sparkleth in the cup, when it goeth down smoothly," for "at the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." Wine and similar intoxicating beverages may delight the palate and "lighten" the feelings for a while but the pleasure and delight are short-lived.

In his book, entitled "Alcohol. Its Effects on Man," Professor Haven Emerson states that there is general agreement among students, teachers, doctors and scientists on the following points:

1. Alcohol is a narcotic which, by depressing the higher centers, removes inhibitions.

2. Outside of the nervous system and the digestive tract, alcohol used as beverage has little demonstrable effect.

3. It is a food, utilizable as a source of energy, and a sparer of protein, but it is such only to a very limited extent.

4. The therapeutic usefulness and value of alcohol are slight.

5. It may be a comfort and a psychologica aid to the aged.

6. It does not increase and it sometimes decreases the body's resistance to infection.

7. By relieving inhibitions, it makes for social ease and leisure, and herein lies one of its greatest dangers.

8. Its effects are best studied by changes of conduct.

9. It impairs reason, will, self control, judgement, physical skill, and endurance.

10. It may produce situations from which crime and social lapses react.

11. It is a frequent destroyer of health, happiness, and mental stability.

12. Its use commonly lowers longevity and increases mortality.

One of the questions which is causing grave concern in this country today is the effect which alcohol has on the driver of a motor vehicle. On this subject, Dr. Walter R. Miles, professor of psychology at Yale University has this to say: "In general, quite aside from the difficulties of voluntary muscular control, the slightly alcoholized person driving on the highway resembles, in his tendencies, the absent-minded, much introverted individual, found by tests to be accident-prone. A feeling of 'remoteness' from the outside world, and the sense of being cozily wrapped up in their pleasant thoughts are not the ideal subjective states for drivers who mingle in the traffic with other drivers. . . . Under alcohol, an individual not infrequently observes himself to do odd things; he feels no special responsibility for these irregularities in behavior, and he may even find amusement in observing them. Coupled with this condition, there is stability and limpness of the knees and lower limbs, especially evident in standing or walking. Thus the effect of alcohol is greater on the legs than on the arms. . . . In many situations where an accident can be avoided or made less serious by sudden realization and promptly coordinated action, the driver with alcohol in his blood and brain is certainly at a disadvantage, and others on the road with him must, unfortunately, share in this disadvantage."

MILLIONS STARVING
Chungking, Szechwan Province, China.—Foreign missionaries estimate that 10,000,000 inhabitants are facing starvation as a result of famine following drought. A soaring death rate, bandit raids and a wave of suicide afflict the province.

Mitchell

The sandstorms are still coming entirely too frequent. A number of the fields are blowing very badly. Some have planted and the fields are blown practically level. Spring is evidently just around the corner as the trees are beginning to bud. The Mitchell school boys defeated the O'Brien boys in a game of soft ball Friday evening. A number of friends enjoyed ice cream in the home of J. O. Nickell Saturday night. The Mitchell girls were very much elated by winning the ball and bat at the Cliff soft ball tournament Saturday. A large number from this community visited and enjoyed the games of soft ball at Cliff Saturday. We extend a hearty welcome to them and other communities to come and participate in the soft ball tournament that is to be held at Mitchell Saturday, May 1. Prizes for the winners and other customary arrangements for the convenience of the crowd will be followed. A large number of teams have already expressed their intention of participating in these games. Thousands of ravens roost nightly in the mesquites in the northwest part of the district on the Bush-Burnett ranch. J. L. Brothers has a crow trap in that vicinity but reports only moderate catches. Paul Melton was elected school trustee recently. We regret that E. A. Williams is leaving our community. He will move to near Lueders. The houses on the Bush-Burnett ranch are being repaired.

Pan American Games Set For Dallas June 30 to July 3

Dignity of the Olympic tradition is borne out in the official emblem of the Pan American Games, in which athletes of two continents will compete at the international fair in Dallas, Texas, opening June 12. The design, approved by a smiling Texanite, depicts a modern Mercury, god of speed, skill and strength, testing the "friendship links" of the two Americas in his powerful grasp above the globe of the Western Hemisphere. Athletes of Mexico, Central and South America will compete with United States' entrants in the Olympic events of track and field, soccer and boxing scheduled for June 30, July 1, 2 and 3.

The Warwhoop Just For Fun Mary Jo—I was reading where a man in Chicago traded his wife for a horse. You wouldn't do that with me, would you dear? Joe—Of course not. But I'd hate to have anyone tempt me with one of those new Chevrolets. Jack—I would like to marry your daughter. Mary Beth's father—Leave your name and address. If nothing better turns up I will notify you. Wynona—Say, guy, its past midnight. You think you can stay here all night? Reynolds S.—Gee! I'll have to telephone to mother first. Frances Merle — Should a girl permit her boss to kiss her during business hours? Gladys Catherine — Sure, if he means business. Lynn—It seems so nice to be alone like this. Kinzie—You're not alone, young man; you're with me. Mrs. Wimbish (To herself)—What can I do. I am as helpless as a babe in a tigers hair. Oh! I don't know what to do. What will George say? How will he take the news. Will I be happy if I do what this young man asks! Will the sacrifice be too great for me? How can I break the news to George? Oh! What desperate deplorable situation. How can I get out of this mess? Must I obey my heart or my conscience? Finally she said to the young man desparately—Yes, yes I'll subscribe for your magazine. T. C. "Ethan Frone" Reviewed By Miss Anna Maud Taylor

A review of "Ethan Frone" a play adapted from Edith Wharton's book, was given at the Magazine Club Friday, April 9, by Miss Anna Maud Taylor the president of the Junior Magazine Club.

Mrs. C. V. Payne, the director, commented briefly on the play and introduced the others on the program. A trio from Mrs. Bert Welsh's Choral Club sang two songs, accompanied by Mrs. Welsh Mrs. W. H. Cox gave a description of Edith Wharton's life. Miss Taylor began her review by commenting on the unusual arrangement of the play, then she launched into the story that formed the background.

She read most of the important conversations in the play and interspersed them with the story, until she had formed a vivid picture of the characters and their personalities.

At the conclusion of the review Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Hill Oates the hostess, served a delicious refreshment plate to the club members and guests.

Dr. Cadenhead of Weinert was transacting business in our city today.

BISHOP BOAZ TO BE SPEAKER FOR M. E. RALLY DAY

Debt Burden of Church Will Be Cleared in Loyalty Campaign

Bishop H. A. Boaz of Fort Worth is to preach at the Haskell Methodist Church Sunday morning, April 18. The occasion is a great Loyalty Day celebration in raising the indebtedness on the local church, which amounts to $9,000.

The Bishop is to spend Saturday night with his brother near Anson and drive over Sunday morning with Rev. E. B. Bowen. The evening service is to be observed as "Church Night" by the Missionary Society, Mrs. J. U. Fields is to speak. Her subject is, "The Symphony of Creation." This should be a very helpful and instructive program to men as well as women. The service is to begin at 8 p. m.

Paying church debts is becoming recognized as a duty and possibility now. The papers this week carried an account of a retired farmer in Dallas, 85 years of age, who made provisions in his will for the payment of $10,000 to his church so as to get rid of a burdensome debt upon the church where he had been a member for 14 years.

Southwestern University recently conducted a successful debt liquidation campaign amounting to more than $400,000.

At the Baptist State Convention last fall Dr. George Truett said, "I most earnestly and sincerely recommend that in the time immediately ahead the Baptists of Texas pay their debts. I have talked extensively with many American men of affairs and I say most emphatically that this is the time to clear our churches of local debts."

The offering Sunday is expected to partake of the spirit of the Israelites described in 2 Chronicles, 24th chapter: "And it came to pass... that Joash was minded to repair the house of the Lord... He said to the priests and Levites: 'Go out and gather of all Israel money to repair the House of God'... And all the princes and all the people rejoiced and brought in... thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance."

We may so give as to discover deeper significance in God's message to us and the result be a great revival as in the days of good king Josiah of ancient Israel.

Every member and friend of the church is invited to attend and share this blessing on Sunday morning. A record attendance is expected at both Sunday School and church at morning and night.

Oatmeal Cookies Add Zest To Spring Days

The Haskell Free Press has been appointed by the Quaker Oats Company for a special advertising campaign on Quaker Oats, the cereal for the famous Dionne Quints.

The announcement was greeted with particular interest by the local grocery trade because it means generous national advertising support, locally applied to this market.

Miss Lillie Mae Schuster of Ft. Worth, is spending two weeks with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Patton and daughter, Juanita.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanders were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Therwhanger Monday afternoon.

Faulty Lubrication Is A Hazard To Every Driver

A kingpin goes dry and snaps on a sharp turn... a poorly greased universal burns out and breaks on a steep climb. What happens after that is usually serious and can be traced back to the mechanic who did your last greasing job. BASEBALL PRACTICE WILL BE HELD SUNDAY

Hall Schedules Practice to be Opened

Baseball practice of the Haskell team will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to Tommy Hall, manager of the team. Regular practice will continue in order to get the team into shape for the Wichita Valley League which opens on Sunday May 16.

Those who desire to try out for the team are urged to get to Sunday's practice as well as to the game. Practice will be held at the Haskell baseball field.

Co-Op Gin Many Reelects Old Officials

Officers and directors of the Haskell Cooperative Gin were re-elected for the year at a meeting of the gin held in the gin office Monday afternoon.

Dionne Quintuplets Thrive On Oatmeal

For many weeks every man, woman and child watched with intense interest to see what would happen to the Quins. The fate of these famous babies was a source of speculation and wonder. The Dominion of Canada, making their welfare a National obligation, put them in the care of a top-notch staff of child experts. The amazing result of this special care is that the Dionne Quintuplets are miraculous examples of the glowing health that science can give. Their diet is composed of things which do them good and which they like—such as oatmeal.

Oatmeal was given to these charming babies by the dieticians because oatmeal with milk contains such an abundance of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein, energy making carbohydrates, and Vitamin B for keeping fit.

Busy Session In Prospect For Grand Jurors To Be Impaneled Monday

Regular April term of District Court will convene in this city Monday for a five-weeks session. District Judge Dennis P. Ratliff will impanel Grand Jurors for the term Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and District Attorney Ben Charlie Chapman and County Attorney Walter Murchison will assist the investigating body in their sessions.

Approximately sixty cases appear on the docket from the previous term, the majority being civil cases and divorce actions that have been pending for a year or longer in which parties to the suits did not appear or were not ready for trial when the cases were set for hearing. Included in this number are eight old divorce actions and twenty old civil cases.

The criminal docket shows sixteen cases remaining from previous terms and in twelve of these actions parties charged have never been located by officers. Some of the charges have been pending for four or five years, the docket reveals.

New Cases Filed

Since the January term of District Court, seventeen new cases have been filed on the civil docket. This number includes eight new divorce actions, three civil cases, five tax suits filed by the City of Haskell, and one adoption proceeding. All of these cases will be set for hearing during the April term.

Following Impending of the Grand Jury, Judge Ratliff Will Devote Several Days to Setting of the Term Docket, with Possibly Several Non-Jury Cases to be Heard during the Week

Petit Jurors have been summoned for the second week, beginning Monday April 26, when the criminal docket will be taken up.

Busy Session In Prospect For Grand Jury

A busy session is in prospect for the Grand Jury, according to the number of complaints now on file with county officials. Twelve persons charged with various offenses are now under bond or confined in jail awaiting action of the Grand Jury, records show.

OWNERS OF STRAY LIVESTOCK GIVEN OFFICIAL WARNING

County Attorney States That Stock Law Is To Be Enforced

Following numerous complaints of livestock running at large, especially on several important highways in violation of State laws, County Attorney Walter Murchison issued a warning to livestock owners this week that the law would be strictly enforced in the future, and asked that farmers and ranchers cooperate in keeping livestock on their own premises.

A heavy fine can be assessed against any owner who willfully allows livestock to run at large in the county. Stray livestock also present a dangerous hazard when they are allowed on highway right-of-ways, the official pointed out, and several accidents from this cause have resulted recently in this section.

EFFECT OF SALES TAX IN HASKELL COUNTY FIGURED

Two Per Cent Levy Would Amount to $55,372 Annually

Haskell County merchants do a retail business of $2,768,600 and a 2 per cent sales tax as now proposed in the Texas Legislature would yield $55,372 from this county while the sales tax burden to be borne by each resident of the county would amount to $3.32 per year.

These figures are based on a recent census of the United States Department of Commerce and are contained in an eight page pamphlet, "Texas Taxes, A Suggested Solution," being distributed by Rev. J. Earnest Stack of Houston, Editor of the Christian American.

Dance At Sons Of Herman Hall Saturday Night

A dance will be given at the Sons of Herman Hall in the Irbey community east of Haskell, Saturday night April 17th.

Estimated Expenditures For Year Show Decline of $5,347 From 1936

Average monthly expense of the City of Haskell for the fiscal year 1936-37 was $3,767.84, or a total of $45,214.15 for the twelve-month period from April 1, 1936 to March 31, 1937. This included all operating expense of every department of city government, together with retirement of bonded indebtedness, payment of interest due, etc.

Estimated Receipts Lower Than For Last Year

Receipts for the fiscal year 1937-38 are estimated at $51,825.22 in the prepared budget, approximately 11,500 less than receipts for the last fiscal year, which totaled $63,325.22. Total expenditures for the 1936-37 fiscal year amounted to $45,214.15.

Receipts for the last fiscal year, together with the estimated receipts for the current fiscal year, as shown by the budget are set out below, divided among the various funds:

General Fund, $9,331.59 received last year; $4,502.13 anticipated this year.
Street Fund, $2,465.52 received last year; $3,777.47 estimated this year.
Fire Fund, $2,410.32 received last year; $3,035.75 estimated receipts for this fiscal year.
Library Fund, $513.32 received last year; $543.32 anticipated receipts this year.
Park Fund, $1,178.83 receipts last year; with $2,402.42 estimated for this year.
Water Fund, $12,142.84 receipts last year; $10,164.52 estimated this year.

1,580 FARMERS IN COUNTY SIGN 1937 FARM WORKSHEETS

Is Increase Over Preceding Year, When Only 1,300 Cooperated

A total of 1,580 worksheets have been signed by Haskell county farmers, placing them in position to receive payment from the government for compliance with the 1937 agricultural program, it was reported at the office of County Agent B. W. Chesser Wednesday. Clerks in the office are now engaged in typing and checking the worksheets.

This is a substantial increase over last year, when 1,300 farmers cooperated in the farm program in this county.

Over fifty thousand acres of ranch and pasture land have been signed up for participation in the 1937 range program. Included are some of the larger ranching tracts in the county, among them being: J. R. Coody, Jr., 14,200 acres; Brown & Corbett, 3,511 acres; R. C. Couch 2,300 acres; J. S. Rike 3,527 acres; T. P. Hughes 2,336 acres; J. M. Collins 2,760 acres; M. E. Sweeney, 3,000 acres; A. H. King 2,370 acres; Tom Proctor Hughes 2,801 acres.

At least two other large ranches, Reynolds Land & Cattle Company, and the Swenson's who have large acreage in Haskell county, are listed in the range program of Throckmorton county.

Social Workers of State To Meet In Abilene Next Week

Death Claims First Sheriff of County

Alex Tucker, first Sheriff of Haskell county, and a resident of Pecos since 1891, died at his home near that city Monday April 12th, after a brief illness. Last rites for the West Texas pioneer were held Tuesday afternoon and burial was made in the Pecos cemetery.

"Might Consider Trading '20 Ford For Later Model"

Sit-down strikers in the automobile plants can continue their practice for several more years without inconveniencing one Haskell county farmer. E. W. Fricke of the Bunker Hill community, whose 17 year old Ford touring car is still in top notch running condition and is being used daily by the farmer. However, Mr. Fricke is seriously considering trading the machine in on a later model if Roosevelt is reelected in 1940.

LIVESTOCK OWNERS IMMUNIZE CATTLE AGAINST DISEASE

Outbreak of Septicemia Is Halted When Estimated 6,000 Head Immunized

Following a recent outbreak of hemorrhagic septicemia among small herds of cattle in several parts of the county, it is estimated that between 5,000 and 6,000 head of livestock have been immunized against the disease, according to reports made to the County Agent's office.

The disease, which generally results fatally, has caused the death of at least a dozen cattle in recent weeks, it was estimated. However, spread of the outbreak has been checked and all threat of reaching an epidemic stage has been eliminated by prompt action of owners whose livestock has become infected, it was reported.

N. Y. A. Workers Run Terrace Lines On 31444 acres Land

During the first five months of operation of the Soil Conservation program sponsored jointly by the National Youth Administration and the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College terrace lines have been run on 31,444 acres of farm land it was announced Tuesday from the office of H. A. Zeigler, Assistant District NYA Supervisor in District 12.

FAVORABLE FARM LEGISLATION IS TOPIC AT MEETS

Community Groups Hear Subject Discussed By Andy Bourland

For the purpose of acquainting farmers with the need of united effort in securing favorable farm legislation, Mr. Andy Bourland of Vernon, organizer of the Texas Agriculture Association, addressed Haskell county farmers at a series of meetings in the county this week.

At the first gathering, held in the courthouse Tuesday morning, between thirty and forty interested farmers were present. Mr. Bourland spoke to a similar group in Rule Tuesday afternoon, and following the meeting, the Rule Farm Association was organized with 16 charter members.

Tuesday night Mr. Bourland was scheduled to meet with farmers at Weinert, but threatening weather caused postponement of the gathering until April 27, when interested farmers of that section plan an organization meeting.

Large Quantity Clothing Issued By Welfare Office

Wednesday was a busy day for workers in the County Welfare office, when approximately 2,000 garments, consisting mainly of infants, children's and women's clothing was distributed to 135 families who are listed with the office.

Weinert Students To Present Play at Midway School

The Junior class of the Weinert High School will present "Safety First" a farce comedy in three acts, at the Midway School on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. A small admission charge will be made.

Those visiting in the home of M. M. White and family of this city last Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thompson and babies, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Sarrels and daughter, Miss Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Oldham and baby.

Miss Mildred Blackburn of Hillsboro, Texas, is visiting her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McGuire and friends at Matson.

Sam Armstrong, well-known farmer who has been sojourning in El Paso for the past three months, will return to Haskell this week.

Full Quota Workmen Will Be Assigned on Projects Now Underway

Assignment of additional men and women to WPA projects in Haskell county was started Thursday morning under supervision of Ben T. Rogers of Wichita Falls, superintendent of the Division of Employment for district 12, WPA.

Notice to report for assignment had been given approximately 120 persons listed at the office of Mrs. Kate Perdue, county welfare supervisor, but a revised list of persons eligible in Haskell County indicates that the number will be in the neighborhood of one hundred persons.

Sixteen Youths Leave Wednesday For C. C. C. Camps

Sixteen youths comprised the second group of CCC enrollees to be sent to district offices at Wichita Falls from Haskell county in recent weeks for assignment to camps in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

Check Gas Fixtures In Courthouse

Gas fixtures in the courthouse were thoroughly checked recently by R. O. Pearson, gas company official, and Jess Johnston, caretaker. The Haskell County's quota has been filled, and will be glad to take the names of other eligible youths who desire to enroll to be accepted if more are called for form this county.

Life In a Great High School

A high school having twenty-five hundred students! Rather a large sized student body, as compared to our nearly three hundred. It must have seemed considerably larger to Marie Ballard, sophomore student, who attended one of the great high schools of Houston a part of this school term.
 It is an interesting fact that Houston ranks with St. Louis, Detroit, Denver and Los Angeles, as having the most advanced school system in the United States. "In this particular high school," said Marie, "there were only the three upper grades; the freshmen were in Junior High. I do not know the number in the sophomore class. We had only one gathering of the whole class during the first term—a pep rally."
 Many customs and practices are different, as related by Marie. There are many foreigners among the students—Italians, Jews and some Chinese. There can be no common meeting place for so large a group, so the students have registration rooms to go to every morning. Classes begin at 8:20 and end at 3:00; class periods are one hour long, and there are six periods during the day, with thirty minutes for lunch. All students take a course of six subjects except when failure prevented and twenty credits are required for graduation.
 Since there are few study periods for the average student, assignments are not commonly made every day, but "homework" is given in most subjects twice a week. One of the six subjects is "gym." At this hour the students either play games or hear lectures. There is a school doctor and a nurse, who gives the students examinations about three times each term.
 The pep squad is a club; all the members have to have an invitation to join it, and then must average C in all subjects to stay in it. The club continues all the year. There are many clubs, fraternities, and sororities. During the football season pep rallies are held once a week on the campus for the entire student body and the leaders of the pep squad from the school which they play that week are there.
 Daily announcements are made by the teacher in charge of the room, from an announcement sheet which is sent around, one to each room. The school has its own newspaper and it is published once every two weeks. Nearly everyone subscribes for it.
 For the privilege of voting in class elections, each student must pay a poll tax of perhaps ten or fifteen cents.
 The school has three libraries with many books of all types; there is also a very large cafeteria. There is no detention! But students may be suspended from school for continued misconduct and they are graded every six weeks on their conduct.
WHAT GIRLS DISLIKE IN BOYS
 Girls do not approve of cheap slang used by boys. If a boy respects a girl he will be decent enough to not use it.
 Girls admire boys who are sweet, decent, agreeable, polite, and above all—boys who have good manners.
 Boys' cheap familiarity with a girl are not appreciated.
 Girls don't like boys who give bad opinions too freely about other girls.
 Never try to boss a girl. Don't ever say "I'll quit you if you do that." If just isn't nice.
 Boys, be neat and clean and well groomed. You don't have to be dressed up to be well groomed. Just wear your clothes right and don't be louchy.
 Boys, don't even get it in to your head that it is silly to be respected because it isn't. If you want your best girl friends to respect you and think a thousand times more of you—avoid all of these things that are to be avoided and do the ones that are to be done. If you don't believe me, just try it. It can't fail!

In Appreciation

Year before last our high school counted among its regular students and unusual and admirable character—Mr. Everett Whyche. His recent and untimely passing calls vividly to the minds of many of us the time that he spent in high school, a man among boys and girls but a student like the rest of us. We who remember him would pay our respects to his memory.
 Unobtrusive and quiet, yet purposeful, he came among us and picked up his high school studies where he had once laid them down. It must have required a firm resolve for a man of his maturity, and with the responsibilities of a family, to come back among students of our age and to adjust himself to our high school routine. One would wonder if written exercises and class procedures intended for the sophomores or juniors might not seem "dinky" to him sometimes—and trivial. Perhaps they did. Yet he was patient, and complied with all requirements made of the younger students, and he was earnest. There was a need in his life now for his education which he had not as yet received; there was an urgency to acquire that foundation on which he hoped to build. Impelled by the resolve to devote the remainder of his life to the ministry of the gospel, he was willing to meet any requirements, however difficult, or trying they might be. The goal did not seem too distant nor the way too difficult for him to attempt.
 There was a courage there. Probably none of us saw it at the time. And there is inspiration now, when we know that not once up to the hour of his unfortunate death, had that courage ever failed, or even wavered. In his second year at college, working long hours to support his family and studying between times, he was advancing steadily toward the goal of a college education and full preparation for the ministry.
 It ought to be said that Everett Whyche did not live in vain. For surely no other lesson we might have presented to us in high school could be of any more value than the example of courage and faith and firm resolve which he lived in our midst.

An Exchange of Opinions

WHAT BOYS DISLIKE IN GIRLS
 (By a Sophomore Boy)
 Boys don't like boldness (Girls if you don't know what this means—don't run after boys).
 Boys don't like girls who are silly.
 Don't use too much make up.
 Boys had rather smell aroma of clean soap than stale perfume anytime.
 Boys had rather see a girl neat than gaudy.
 Boys like girls that are friendly, congenial and have a sense of humor.
 Boys don't like girls that pout.
 When a girl pouts it proves she is a big old baby.
 Boys don't like for girls to spend their whole time blowing off about another boy.
 Boys don't like for girls to neck too much, even if the boy wants to.
 When a girl is with a boy he likes to be "Big Chief." He doesn't like her to talk about another boy. He wants to be "Whole Hog" or nothing.
 Boys don't like girls who are two-faced. Boys like sincerity.
 Miss—Joyce, I saw the milk man kiss you this morning. In the future I will take the milk in.
 Joyce—Wouldn't be no use mum. He's promises never to kiss anybody but me.

Girls To Attend Homemakers Rally

Each year a State Homemakers Rally, a gathering of all Future Homemakers in Texas is held. This year the Rally will be in Fort Worth. The following girls with their sponsors, Mrs. Meyer will leave April 28 to stay until May 1. Mudge Leon emblem for the club; Eula Mae Watson, cotton dress; Eva Jo Ratliff, silk dress; Flossie Hester, menu writing; Wynona Post, home project and Jean Kendall, delegate for the Future Homemakers Club.
 Sponsors:
 Eva Jo Ratliff—Doesn't mind teasing.
 Eugene Rogers—Sophomore idol.

Sophomore Sidelights

Joyce Nell still has that "Bull-dog" under control, or so it seems. Joe and Mary Jo seem to be "okay" again.
 A certain senior has been trying to go with Marie Ballard. (I heard).
 Frances Merle and Gladys C. go with Aspermont one night and Weinert the next—Now is that nice??
 Wonder who Juanita Foil's heart throb is now? (Rule I think).
 Wonder if Lloyd, LaVerne, Frances and Artie ever get cold feet.
 Paul and Bonnie Dell seem to be sweethearts again—to say nothing of Kinzie and Lynn.
 Dorothy J's party Thursday night was swell but not half so swell as the railroad track.
 Mary Beth won't tell who she is sweet on. (Neither will Frances K.) Maybe it's understood.
 Paul E. Hoyal goes with a show boy—but not from Haskell.
 Jeneva Q. thinks Mudge L. might be a pretty good sister-in-law. (At least she can drive the pickup for Nelson).
 Christine Lowe seems to be giving these out of town boys a treat. (And she was the little girl who always hated boys).
 Frances M. likes Kamp Kennedy's gas and oil best. (Are you blushing Fran??)
 It's also understood why Miss Davis makes Ervin, Joyce, Paul, Mickie, Jack and Joe sit on the front seat in English. (Naughty, naughty children).
 How come Frank B's car in Wimberly garage Sunday night while he was at Mudge's?

Attention! Sit Erect!

Recently, when a young woman applied for a job and was given the usual test of ability, she was found to be very capable of handling the work, but there was one thing about her that kept her from getting the job—she did not have good posture when sitting or standing.
 Every high school student should develop the habit of being erect when sitting or standing, no matter where he is. We realize it has been hard this year because of having to write on our knees. The habit of maintaining a good posture, if begun when a person is young, will be of endless benefit to him when he gets older.
 Let's all resolve to be more erect these last few weeks of school than we ever have before! Let's sit straighter.

H. H. S. Boys Debate Stamford Boys

Winning teams of two counties engaged in a practice debate last Thursday when the Haskell boys' team, composed of Duffer and Paul Crawford, debated the Stamford boys' team. Accompanied by the girls' team, Margaret Breedlove and Ruby Sue Persons, and the debate coach, Miss Riley, they went to Stamford in the morning and debated before the Stamford High School during their assembly hour. As these teams do not go to the same district meet, this was counted a practice debate and no decision was given.

Band Members Win Individual Contests

Saturday Mr. Meacham took Joe Maples, Duffer Crawford and Buddy Pace to Hardin-Simmons to an invitation band contest. Haskell came out somewhat victorious, taking off two first honors and one second place. Duffer Crawford and Joe Maples, high school boys, were the first place winners in their separate divisions.
 For some reason, not their own, these boys did not get to make the trip to Enid, Okla., as they had previously planned. The H. S. U. Contest was of considerable significance however, and we are especially glad for these boys to bring home such honors to Haskell.

Sophomores In Sports

The Sophomores of Haskell High School take great interest in sports too. In football the sophomores had two of the best men on the team. They were Gene Rogers and Lon McMillan. Gene is also a letterman in basketball. Lon is also a letterman in track and is one of the best boxers in H. S. He won the light weight championship at a tournament at Brownwood about a month ago. Lon will also go to the District in track this week.
 Another letterman in football is Jack Simmons. Quinton Bailey is also a letter man in basketball.
 We are proud of all our big sophomore athletes.

True or False Test

Frances Stephens always looks pale for she never wears any make up.
 Two ex-senior boys and one junior have a crush on Irene M. (psst just between us the boys are "supposed" to be going steady).
 Mi's Riley was seen driving down the highway Saturday at 85 miles an hour.
 Everyone will probably play hockey next April 1, being as it turned out to be so much fun this year. Fun?
 Paul Crawford is red headed.
 Mickie never thinks of Berlis.
 Woodrow Frazier is always in a bad humor.
 J. R. Johnston simply cannot look cross-eyed.
 Eula Fae never gets mad at Jimmie. (Only 3 times a day).

Girls Lose In Volley Ball On Saturday

About eight o'clock Saturday morning the volley ball girls left for Breckenridge to try for district championship. It was about 12:15 when they started their first game with Rising Star. Although they played their best, Rising Star won the set.
 The girls who made the trip were: Annie Mae Lees, Golda Wood, Ruby Stodgill, Illa Faye Gregory, Irene Miller, Cleon Percy, Capitola Larned, Nannie Patterson, Evora Jenkins, Thelma Landess and Margaret McClintock and their coach, Mrs. Wimblish. Others who made the trip and took cars were Mr. Wimblish, C. G. Burson and Eugene Rogers, Joe Isbell and Claude Jenkins Jr. also went. The volley ball girls wish to thank those who took cars making it unnecessary for them to have to go in the school bus.

Band Plays At Assembly Friday

The assembly program for April 7 was presented by Mr. Joe Meacham, band director. The band played several numbers among which were "Under The Double Eagle", "Dark Town Ball" and "Twelfth Street". As special numbers Annafath, from the Irish played a waltz and a his guitar, "Friendly" given as a duet, by Joe and Mr. Meacham, and by Marye Lena Tubbs, piano.
 Before the closing Mr. Meacham stated that members of the band, grateful to the students "putting up" with the forty five minute trip, Mr. Wimblish answered saying that it was a "put up" with them.

Harmony Club Members Attend State Meeting of Texas Federation Music Clubs

Several members of the Harmony Club from Haskell attended the state meeting of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs held in San Antonio April 8, 9 and 10th. Mrs. O. E. Patterson and Miss Eunice Huckabee were delegates from the club and other members accompanying them were Mrs. T. C. Cahill, Mrs. F. M. Squires and Mrs. Tommy B. Hawkins.

Baptist W. M. S.

The W. M. S. met at the church Monday afternoon at 3 p. m. in business and Bible study with 21 ladies present. Our Bible teacher, Bro. H. R. Whitley taught the first 6 chapters of the book of Mark which was very interesting. In the business meeting committees were appointed and final arrangements made for the entertainment of the District W. M. U. which meets with our church April 20th and 21st. All the church is asked to assist in the entertainment of these 250 or 300 delegates who are expected to attend.

South Ward School Group Attends PTA Meet.

The entire faculty of South Ward and five visiting delegates of the South Ward Parent-Teacher Association attended the Tuesday session of the 13th District Parent-Teacher Convention, which was held in Wichita Falls this week. Members report a very enjoyable, as well as profitable day. Five voting delegates who stayed over for the second day of the meeting were: Mrs. Irene Ballard, Mrs. W. W. Koonce, Miss Alma Sprovis, Mrs. C. J. Koonce, and Mrs. Chas. McGregor.

The Methodist Missionary Society

On Monday April 12 the women of the W. M. S. met in the church. The president, Mrs. Persons being absent on account of illness, Mrs. Matt Graham presided over a short business session. Mrs. Isbell was director for the very interesting program which followed. Mrs. B. Cox who gave the devotional choir for her scripture reading the 5th Chapter of Luke. Mrs. Cox comments were deeply spiritual and much enjoyed. Mrs. Leon gave the message that was delivered by the National President of the W. M. S., Mrs. Perry, at Nashville, Tenn. Mrs. Wallace Cox told of the Girls Home at Tunda, Africa. This is the youngest home in that Mission, which is in the interior of Africa.

Methodist Church

Mrs. John Rike told most interestingly of the Laura Haygood Normal in Soo Chow, China. In an informal conversation, Mrs. Sowell told of a converted tent. Mrs. Leon told of hearing Gypsy Smith at Fort Worth on last Sunday. The crowd was estimated at 13,000. Next Sunday will be a great day at the Methodist church in Haskell. At 11 a. m. our great Bishop Boaz will have charge of the service. On Sunday night the Missionary Society, with Mrs. Rike as director, will present a program. Mrs. J. U. Fields will deliver a lecture entitled "Symphony of Creation." This is an account of a visit to the "Natural Bridge" in Virginia which, as we know is one of the seven wonders of the world. You cannot afford to miss either of these great services. The meeting was dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. B. Cox. The Society meets in circle groups on next Monday. Be sure to get in touch with your circle leader.

A DEFINITE GAIN

The American economic system has said gaps and inefficiencies, when viewed at close range. In the long view, however, it shows up a good deal more advantageously.

Figures compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board, for example, show that there has been a substantial improvement in the lot of the American wage earner since 1914.

Average hours of work in manufacturing are today approximately 23 per cent below their 1914 level; at the same time, average weekly earnings, adjusted to take into consideration changes in the cost of living, are 39 per cent higher.

This is a very noteworthy improvement. It has been accomplished slowly, with many up and downs along the way—but, over the years, the American system has made a definite and solid advance in terms of human well being.

THE EXPERTS ARE WORRIED

The experts are worried about the coming boom. They talk of the threatening inflation as if it were already upon us and there is the possibility that they know what they are talking about.

The fact of the matter is that the nation is moving up rather unevenly from the depths of a great depression. Whether the economic cart will gather dangerous momentum depends upon a number of influences, some of which the government can control and some of which escape explanation as well as management.

So far as we are advised the experts are not able to advise individuals how to protect themselves against all the dangers that wholesale inflation would entail. The best protection is to avoid the pitfalls of excessive inflation. This may mean that the government will have to reverse some of its tendencies, which is what was to be expected. The course that took us from the bottom of the depression will have served its purpose when the nation reaches the economic level.

CCC'S OTHER SIDE

The Civilian Conservation Corps, drawn up to rehabilitate our great forest resources, seems to have been doing a pretty fair job of human rehabilitation as well. Howard W. Oxley, director of CCC camp educational activities, reports to the War Department that 40,000 young men who were illiterate when they enrolled in the CCC now can read and write. During the past year, for instance, 92 per cent of the men who were found to be illiterate at the beginning of the year have been attending classes regularly. Here is an activity which is every bit as important as the first conservation work, if not more so. The prime qualification for citizenship in a democracy is that a man be at least literate. The CCC, by bringing educational opportunities to men who had been denied them is simply justifying its existence. And it should be possible to say this without thought of the current political campaign. The CCC is not a partisan issue. It is a national program that has worked.

Seems So

William Allen White believes some sort of compromise can be worked out between the "security" and "free opportunity" schools of thought. We should be permitted to scale the Alps, but handrails will be provided.—Barron's

Greatly Desired

The coaches, it is reported, are quite indifferent to the mixing of motor oil and football. All their pent-up enthusiasm, we guess, is reserved for the first fellow who can develop a no-knock alumnae.—Boston Herald

RAILROADS' PROSPECTS IMPROVE

We tern railroads are reported to be carrying from 40 to 50 per cent more passengers than last year and are almost back to their pre-depression volume of business.

Four factors are generally credited with the improvement of passenger traffic for the roads: air-conditioning, streamlining, low fares and high speed. Three of the four represent improved service and cheaper fares indicate good judgement in meeting bus competition.

Railroads in other sections report increased passenger traffic, although we do not know how their volume compares with previous years. Enough is known, however, to indicate that the railroads, after years of surrender are fighting for business on the basis of service and price. This, after all, is the way to get it.

IEWS AND REVIEWS

Lyman P. Powell, preacher: "Much of the best work done by men today is done in their seventies."

L. L. Williams, doctor: "We will always have some mosquitos in the United States, but only those which can jump far and fly farther are likely to survive."

Karl Barth, exiled German theologian: "Never since Mohammed has Christianity been so threatened as it is in Germany."

Harold B. Butler, economic expert: "One lesson learned from the depression is that deflation is no cure, cutting wages and curtailing production, is no way out."

R. C. O'Brien: "To attain its highest development the art of government requires a sense of humor."

William C. Rivers, Major General, U. S. A. (Retired): "The future of Easter Asia will inevitably be settled by the people who live there—by Japanese, Chinese and Russians."

Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor: "Sit-down strikes do not reflect any widespread movement to defy the law or change the current conceptions of property rights."

Burton K. Wheeler, U. S. Senator from Montana: "How can anybody be sure that if you put six new justices on the bench they won't turn out to be reactionary?"

Haskell County

History

Forty Years Ago—1897
The picnic season is coming on in a hurry.

We again remark that our people ought to look into the feasibility of irrigating a large area of land in Haskell county from the Brazos River.

Mr. Nick Hudson came in from the Indian Territory this week. Capt. B. H. Dodson is opening a branch store in Aspermont. Miss Lennox Millhollon returned on Tuesday from a visit to relatives in the Territory.

Mr. M. S. Pierson has erected a windmill and large iron tank at his residence for the purpose of irrigating a garden and orchard.

Capt. W. W. Fields and Mr. P. T. Andrews of Fort Worth and Mr. M. V. Cheatham of Sherman are on the Clear Fork this week fishing.

Mr. M. S. Shook returned Wednesday from accompanying the notice, Miss Dolly Massey to Abilene on her return home to Palo Pinto.

Mr. Hugh Meadors has purchased some residence lots in the northwest part of town and is making some improvements on them.

Quite a number of Knox and Stonewall county people have been trading in Haskell this week. Some of our merchants are advertising and drawing trade from a wide range, and they are making prices that hold the trade once they get a customer.

Every farmer should plan to raise and save a few extra good specimens of his general products to go in a Haskell county exhibit at the Dallas Fair this fall.

Our four Sunday Schools have united on a grand Sunday School picnic to take place on the 4th of May. The present understanding is that it will be near Keister's well on Mule Creek, about two miles south of town. One young lady from each Sunday School has been appointed on a committee to arrange a program. They are Misses: May Fields, Sallie Ramsey, Alice Pierson and Minnie Jones.

Thirty Years Ago—1907
Mr. Thorton Smith of Fayette, Mo., arrived here Monday and is visiting his nephew, Dr. J. D. Smith.

Work is well up on the second story of the Masonic building, located half a block north of the square.

Judge Oates is pushing the work on another stone building filling the gap between his building and the Robertson building on the west side of the square.

Postmaster Baker moved the postoffice fixtures Wednesday to the new building one and a half blocks east of the square.

The Haskell Concert Band has had a bandstand erected in the northwest corner of the courthouse yard, where they will give frequent open air concerts, thus enabling the public to enjoy their music.

The Odd Fellows of Rule are to have a picnic on the 29th instant at a place three miles west of Rule. We understand that a general invitation is extended to the public.

Mr. S. S. Cummings and daughters, Misses Fannie and Gertrude, left Tuesday for the Cummings Ranch in Jeff Davis county, where they will reside. Mr. Cummings and son Arthur preceded them a day or two. This family was among the oldest settlers in Haskell.

On Thursday the 11th inst., the Wichita Valley railway began carrying the mail over its new line from Seymour to Abilene, delivering its first mail at Haskell on the above date. This arrangement discontinues the old star route service from Stamford, which has been run by J. L. Baldwin for several years.

Rose
Grady Piland who has been in the CCC camp returned home last week.

Miss Essie Scott of Haskell visited home folks over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Travis Garrett visited Mr. and Mrs. Garrett of McConnell Sunday.

Miss Captola Lanard went to Breckenridge where she played volley ball in the tournament. The little daughter of J. D. Roberts of Roberts community visited her and Mrs. Harry Barber last week.

Miss Joy Cobb of Post visited Miss Grace Rose Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Manie and children visited in Howard Sunday.

Mr. J. W. Kendrick who has been in Mineral Wells for his health has returned home and is improved very much. We are warning the ravens to stay away from Rose for there are several traps in this community and are all having good luck catching them.

International Sunday School Lesson for April 18, 1937.

Golden Text: "At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."—Prov. 23:32.

Lesson Text: Genesis 13:13; 19:25; Deuteronomy 32:31-33; Proverbs 23:29-32

While we will have the story of Abraham in a few weeks, our first reference describes conditions in the city of Sodom, toward which Lot pitched his tent after exercising his choice of pastures offered by Abraham. At that time, Lot had every reason to believe that he had received the best of the bargain as the fields were luxuriant with grass for his herds and there was plenty of water. He had failed to consider the temptations which result from association with wickedness.

Later, however, Lot realized the fact that his choice had not been so wise and, in order to escape the destruction which God was to bring to the sinful city Lot, with his family, fled from Sodom and went to Zoar. We recall the fate of Lot's wife, who looked back, perhaps with longing eyes at things she had left behind, and as a punishment for her disobedience of God's command not to do this was turned into a pillar of salt.

Here is an instance of where sin and wickedness brought destruction. This was thousands of years ago but the results are the same today. Sinfulness and wickedness just as surely destroy individuals and nations today as they did in Lot's time.

In Proverbs 23:29-32, we are given a realistic picture of the woes and sorrows which come to those in the clutch of the alcohol habit. "Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath complaining? who hath redness of eyes?" the writer asks. Anyone who has ever come into contact with a drunken man or woman can testify to the accuracy of the picture drawn. The writer then proceeds to answer his own questions, when he says, "They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek out mixed wine."

Warning of the consequences of partaking of such beverages, the writer says: "Look not though upon the wine when it is red (in the last stages of fermentation), when it sparkleth in the cup, when it goeth down smoothly," for "at the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." Wine and similar intoxicating beverages may delight the palate and "lighten" the feelings for a while but the pleasure and delight are short-lived.

In his book, entitled "Alcohol. Its Effects on Man," Professor Haven Emerson states that there is general agreement among students, teachers, doctors and scientists on the following points:

1. Alcohol is a narcotic which, by depressing the higher centers, removes inhibitions.

2. Outside of the nervous system and the digestive tract, alcohol used as beverage has little demonstrable effect.

3. It is a food, utilizable as a source of energy, and a sparer of protein, but it is such only to a very limited extent.

4. The therapeutic usefulness and value of alcohol are slight.

5. It may be a comfort and a psychologica aid to the aged.

6. It does not increase and it sometimes decreases the body's resistance to infection.

7. By releasing inhibitions, it make for social ease and leisure, and herein lies one of its greatest dangers.

8. Its effects are best studied by changes of conduct.

9. It impairs reason, will, self control, judgement, physical skill, and endurance.

10. It may produce situations from which crime and social lapses react.

11. It is a frequent destroyer of health, happiness, and stability.

12. Its use commonly longevity and increases causing grave concern country today is the effect alcohol has on the driver motor vehicle. On this Dr. Walter R. MRS. T. R. ODELL HEADS 13TH DISTRICT OF P. T. A.

Leader in PTA Affairs is Chosen President At Annual Session

Mrs. T. R. Odell of this city was elected President of the 13th District Congress of Parent-Teachers Association at the annual meeting in Wichita Falls Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Odell has been active in PTA work for a number of years and has served in various offices of the local organizations as well as the 13th district. Her elevation to the presidency of the district is a fitting tribute for her untiring efforts in behalf of the PTA work in this section.

Vernon was selected as the convention city for the 1938 session. Officers who will have charge of next year's work include the following: Mrs. T. R. Odell, Haskell, President; Mrs. O. F. Bagwell, Wichita Falls, First Vice-President; Mrs. Chas. Norton, Olney, Second Vice-President; Mrs. A. B. Thompson, Quanah, Third Vice-President; Mrs. Clyde Gibson, Bonham, Fourth Vice-President; Mrs. W. L. Robinson, Mangrove, Fifth Vice-President; Mrs. Dallas McLemore, Bowie, Sixth Vice-President; Mrs. True Lovelace, Woodson, Second Vice-President; Mrs. R. G. Lewis, Wichita Falls, Historian; Mrs. J. C. Murphy, Iowa Park, Parliamentarian; Mrs. J. A. Ballew, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Jimmie Harris, Holliday, Recording Secretary.

Haskell South Ward third place in the publicity award for Group Two in the activity division for High Schools, Haskell High won second place; Zundelwitz, Wichita Falls placed first and Seymour third.

Among the parents and teachers representing the North Ward who attended the meeting at Wichita Falls were: Mrs. O. W. Maloy, Miss Mattie Letha Pippin, Miss Mae Fields, Miss Anna Maud Taylor, Mrs. Cretia Brooks, Mrs. M. D. Crow, Miss Ruby Fitzgerald, Miss Madalin Hunt, Mrs. K. H. Thornton, Mrs. A. H. Wair, Mrs. Dennis P. Ratliff, Mrs. Jessie Smith, Mrs. Bert Welsh, Mrs. Jim Williams, Mrs. Theron C. Hill, Mrs. Hill Oates and Mrs. T. R. Odell.

The South Ward was represented by Mrs. Irene Ballard, principal, Mrs. W. M. Murphy, Miss Alma Sprowls, Miss Clara Welch, Miss Patsy Koonce, Miss Velma Hambleton, Mrs. Giles Kemp, Mrs. Wayne Koonce, Mrs. Carl McGregor and Mrs. C. J. Koonce.

"Ethan Frone" Reviewed By Miss Anna Maud Taylor

A review of "Ethan Frone" a play adapted from Edith Wharton's book, was given at the Magazine Club Friday, April 9, by Miss Anna Maud Taylor, the president of the Junior Magazine Club.

Mrs. C. V. Payne, the director, commented briefly on the play and introduced the others on the program. A trio from Mrs. Bert Welsh's Choral Club sang two songs, accompanied by Mrs. Welsh. Mrs. W. H. Cox gave a description of Edith Wharton's life. Miss Taylor begged her review by commenting on the unusual arrangement of the play, then she launched into the story that formed the background.

She read most of the important conversations in the play and interspersed them with the story, until she had formed a vivid picture of the characters and their personalities.

At the conclusion of the review Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Hill Oates the hostess, served a delicious refreshment plate to the club members and guests.

Dr. Cudenhead of Weinert was transacting business in our city today.

Mrs. Clifford Abernathy and Mr. John Walton and daughter of Rochester, were visitors in our city Wednesday afternoon.

BISHOP BOAZ TO BE SPEAKER FOR M. E. RALLY DAY

Debt Burden of Church Will Be Cleared in Loyalty Campaign

Bishop H. A. Boaz of Fort Worth is to preach at the Haskell Methodist Church Sunday morning, April 18. The occasion is a great Loyalty Day celebration in raising the indebtedness on the local church, which amounts to $9,000.

The Bishop is to spend Saturday night with his brother near Anson and drive over Sunday morning with Rev. E. B. Bowen. The evening service is to be observed as "Church Night" for the Missionary Society. Mrs. J. U. Fields is to speak. Her subject is, "The Symphony of Creation." This should be a very helpful and instructive program to men as well as women. The service is to begin at 8 p. m.

Paying church debts is becoming recognized as a duty and possibility now. The papers this week carried an account of a retired farmer in Dallas, 85 years of age, who made provisions in his will for the payment of $10,000 to his church so as to get rid of a burdensome debt upon the church where he had been a member for 14 years.

Southwestern University recently conducted a successful debt liquidation campaign amounting to more than $400,000. At the Baptist State Convention last fall Dr. George Truett said, "I most earnestly and sincerely recommend that in the time immediately ahead the Baptists of Texas pay their debts. I have talked extensively with many American men of affairs and I say most emphatically that this is the time to clear our churches of local debts."

The offering Sunday is expected to partake of the spirit of the Israelites described in 2 Chronicles, 24th chapter: "And it came to pass... that Josiah was minded to repair the house of the Lord... He said to the priests and Levites: 'Go out and gather of all Israel money to repair the House of God'... And all the princes and all the people rejoiced and brought in... thus they did day by day, and gathered money in abundance."

We may so give as to discover deeper significance in God's message to us and the result be a great revival as in the days of good king Josiah of ancient Israel.

Every member and friend of the church is invited to attend and share this blessing on Sunday morning. A record attendance is expected at both Sunday School and church at morning and night.

Oatmeal Cookies Add Zest To Spring Days

The Haskell Free Press has been appointed by the Quaker Oats Company for a special advertising campaign on Quaker Oats, the cereal for the famous Dionne Quins.

The announcement was greeted with particular interest by the local grocery trade because it means generous national advertising support, locally applied to this market.

Mrs. Lillie Mae Schuster of Ft. Worth, is spending two weeks with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Patton and daughter, Juanita.

Echols Singers In Concert At Weinert

The Echols Singers of Abilene will give a concert Friday night, April 16th at the Weinert High School at 8 p. m. They announced this week the program will consist of quartets, trios, duets and solos featuring Marie Clark of Abilene, accordionist and popular singer, Lucille Ragsdale, KRBC artist, and also amateur talent of Weinert.

The Echols Singers are known throughout West Texas for their singing schools and programs, and at the present time Harley Lester of Dallas is teaching the school at Weinert. He is widely known for his interpretation of Negro songs.

Odus Echols will also be featured on the program in Friday night's concert, together with Odus Echols, Jr., singer and tap dancer, who will give several popular numbers.

THE TITANTIC SINKS

Although a quarter of a century has passed, one of the worst tragedies in the history of the world is still vividly recalled—the sinking of the "Titanic" on April 15, 1912, and the loss of 1,517 lives—after the vessel had struck an iceberg in the North Atlantic. The gigantic ship, believed unsinkable, is a reminder that Nature's irresistible forces frequently defeat science and cause immeasurable loss and suffering.

HOW ABOUT THAT KNEE ACTION?

DID THEY GREASE THE DISTRIBUTOR THAT SPRING SQUEAKS?

It's Not A Joke!

Faulty Lubrication Is A Hazard To Every Driver

A kingpin goes dry and snaps sharp turn... a poorly greased universal joint burns out and breaks on a steep grade. What happens after that is usually obvious and can be traced back to the mechanic who did your last greasing job. Our parts, however, fully appreciate the importance of all the greasing and work they do, and they account for hundreds of safely lubricated cars in the world today.
