

TDC lawsuit exempts two as defendants

Acting on court orders to consolidate, plaintiffs in five suits seeking to block location of a Texas Department of Corrections unit in Snyder Thursday filed a second amended original petition. The new petition—filed one day prior to Friday's court-mandated deadline—dropped two individuals from the suit and listed only six plaintiffs.

County Judge Bobby Goodwin and Joe Fowler, president of the Scurry County Area Foundation, were targeted individually in the original pleadings, but were not named in the consolidated filings.

The only plaintiffs listed were Jeanne Bullard, Gloria Griffin, Jonisue Stiff, Ava Lopour, Joe Lopour and Louise Thompson.

Remaining as defendants are the city of Snyder, Scurry County Industrial Foundation, Scurry County Area Foundation, the state of Texas, the Texas Department of Corrections, Scurry County commissioners court, and Cogdell hospital board.

The consolidated pleading revealed no new claims as plaintiffs continued to ask that incentives offered the TDC for location of a prison unit here be set aside.

District Judge Joe Evins of Edinburg has been named to hear the suit in 132nd District Court after Judge Gene Dulaney stepped down.

In a docket control conference held in Snyder on March 11, Judge Evins set March 25 as the deadline for consolidated pleadings. Defendants have two weeks to respond and April 15 was set by the judge as deadline for all responses.

Judge Evins said he would set a pre-trial hearing shortly after April 15 at which time he will consider motions—including motions for summary judgments.

At the March 11 hearing, attorneys for the county and hospital board said motions for summary judgment were filed, and other such motions are expected prior to pre-trial.

Vote on Contra military aid hinted at WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz is raising the possibility that the administration will seek legislative authority for a quick vote on military aid to the Nicaraguan rebels if the cease-fire there breaks down.

Shultz said Thursday night that the prospect of additional military assistance to the rebels would be added insurance that Nicaragua's leftist government will abide by promises it makes under its cease-fire agreement with the Contra rebels.

But House Speaker Jim Wright, D-Tex., indicated that he would oppose any effort by the administration to have an "expedited procedure" provision for military aid included in a Contra humanitarian assistance package the Congress will take up next week.

"I want to emphasize positive things, and not anticipate failure," said Wright, who was interviewed with Shultz on PBS' MacNeil-Lehrer "NewsHour."

The reaction of both the administration and the Congress was generally positive to the agreement reached by the Sandinistas and the Contras, which calls for a 60-day cease fire during which talks on a final settlement will take place.

"There is agreement among the administration and the lawmakers that the United States should provide humanitarian aid to the Contras — permitted under the agreement — but the comments of Shultz and Wright indicate the military aid issue is not dead.

"I do think there is great merit to have in it (the humanitarian aid package) a mechanism for a fast track vote," Shultz said. He said there should be a guaranteed early vote on "whatever the president might ask for."

Wright said such a provision in the humanitarian aid package is tantamount to having a discussion of terms for divorce during a wedding ceremony.

"I think it's inappropriate at this time to be anticipating failure," he added.

Staff adjustments include 18 layoffs for D.M. Cogdell

By DONNY BROWN
SDN Managing Editor

Calling it "a painful step," Cogdell Memorial Hospital Administrator Tom Hochwalt Thursday recommended a "down sizing" of staff at the facility which will result in the termination Friday of 18 employees and the elimination of an estimated 31 "fulltime-equivalent" (FTE) positions.

To temper the decision, he recommended also pay adjustments for the remaining staff which will see registered nurses receive a 22 cent per hour pay raise and most other staffers earn a substantial higher amount for working the evening and night shifts as well as weekends and holidays.

In addition, he recommended the implementation of a merit pay raise system at Cogdell which will be considered on the employment anniversary date of each staffer and which will range up to 3 percent annually.

With the reduction in staff offset by the increases in pay, Hochwalt estimated an annual savings at Cogdell in the range of $170,000. He noted also he believes the staff reductions can be achieved "without affecting the quality of care" at Cogdell.

His recommendations—passed unanimously by the board—were presented before a packed conference room of up to 70 individuals, most hospital employees.

They attended the meeting to hear an announced "plan of action" related to turning around a trend of annual operating losses at Cogdell—a trend which is affecting rural hospitals nationwide due to cutbacks in the federal government's Medicare payment program.

Prior to Hochwalt's report, those in attendance heard an outside audit report of hospital operations which indicated the facility ended 1987 with a net loss of $1.1 million.

That $1.1 million represents one-sixth of the facility's entire net worth of some $6 million. This $6 million figure includes $3.7 million in "value" estimated for the hospital's buildings, land and equipment.

As for Cogdell's "working capital," the amount which is viewed as readily available or "liquid" cash, the figure quoted by outside auditor's as of Dec. 31 is some $2.4 million.

During 1987, another $464,000 was made available to the facility in the form of tax dollars from the county. That figure is to be $360,000 during 1988.

Regarding the hospital terminations, Hochwalt said these were to be effective by noon Friday.

Kidnapping trial here starts final arguments

Attorneys Pete Greene and Ernie Armstrong continued their week-long struggle in the aggravated kidnapping trial of Grady Davis, 25, in final arguments Friday morning in 132nd District Court.

In his summation, Greene attacked the credibility of Armstrong's witnesses and Armstrong contended that all elements of the case had been proved.

Using a blackboard to illustrate, Greene wrote the names of all witnesses and potential witnesses, contending that numerous other witnesses could have been called to testify and that the two primary witnesses had major discrepancies in their testimony.

The defense attorney said the two witnesses, victim Lafayette Griffin and his cousin, Arthur Ollison, have two felony convictions each and are both former state penitentiary inmates.

He noted that co-defendant Larry Beard, already convicted in the Oct. 27 case, has five felony convictions.

To contradict the contention of the defense, District Attorney Armstrong raised the question of race. Defendant Davis is white while both Griffin and Ollison are black.

Armstrong said no one should be subject to abduction and threats because of their race.

He added that any discrepancies in the testimony of the two were minor and irrelevant to the substance of the case.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Folks seldom admit mistakes unless they're caught in them."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, says a friend of his in Cowtown bought a bottle of Passion perfume for his wife of 24 years.

At bedtime, she glanced over at the night stand and mused: "You know things aren't quite the same when you look at your night stand and your tube of Ben-Gay is next to your bottle of Passion."

Gene Dow, in the Colorado City Record, says a group of women have put together a profile of a snorer.

He is predominantly male, falls asleep quickly, never goes to the bathroom during the night, gets out of bed to check to see if the front door is locked, never hears a car in the driveway, a baby cry, the furnace clicking on, a siren, water dripping clocks ticking or crickets eating the carpet.

Under oath, he will swear he does not snore.

There are some serious side effects to snoring. Recently, a 66-year-old man consulted his doctor, complaining of a dull pain in his right calf. The doctor prescribed medication for the mysterious ache.

A few nights later he was awakened by a sharp kick from his wife. "That's my sore leg," he protested.

Countered the wife, "It's where I always kick you to stop your snoring."

Dow says there are many cures aimed at the snoring spouse. One woman heard that a change of bed might stop it. She moved his bed to his mother's house and filed for divorce.

Another wife sewed a tennis ball on the back of his pajamas after reading men usually snore while laying on their backs.

He stopped snoring, but he developed back problems and now talks to her all night long about it.

Q. — Are the delays in the startup of the Comanche Peak nuclear plant going to increase our electric bills?

A. — TU Electric officials say the company projects a rate increase of 10 percent when Unit 1 at Comanche Peak goes into service. They point out, however, that TU Electric last received a rate increase in 1984 and since that time the company's rates have been lowered more than 10 percent. Because of this, they say Comanche Peak will simply return rates to the 1984 level.

In Brief

Bad checks

CHICAGO (AP) — Police have only bits and pieces of disintegrated bank checks to go on as they try to crack a dissolving paper caper that has hit at least two states and cost banks nearly $70,000.

The checks, treated with a chemical that makes them disintegrate three or four hours after being deposited, have turned up at five or six banks in the Chicago area and two in Tennessee, police said Thursday.

"The one I've got in front of me looks like a handful of ashes," said Capt. James Zurawski of the Police Department's financial crimes division.

Joffrey dead

Endorse bonds

Members of the chamber's economic development committee Thursday afternoon unanimously endorsed the city's May 7 revenue bond election as the best way to finance water and sewer service to the TDC unit to be built northeast of Snyder.

The $2.7 million in bonds would be paid from revenue from utility sales, and city officials say current utility rates will retire the proposed debt.

New treaty may not be ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the uphill climb to the Moscow summit, the United States this week made a couple of proposals to the Soviet Union on a new treaty to sharply reduce long-range nuclear weapons.

One was the exemption of spy satellites from treaty restrictions. The other was that U.S. and Soviet negotiators make a supreme effort to define space-based testing and deployment.

The Soviets seemed taken with the satellite proposal, but sharpening definitions of space tests and space deployments could be very difficult. There's always been a question whether technology sent into space is part of a permissible test or is a tricky step toward an illicit anti-missile deployment.

In any event, with the Moscow summit meeting only nine weeks away, the outlook for completing the new U.S.-Soviet treaty is not bright.

The biggest problem is verification — making sure cutbacks are carried out.

Two types of long-range weapons are especially hard to monitor. One is the land-based mobile missile. The other is the sea-launched cruise.

Experts assisting Secretary of State George P. Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze were unable to resolve the problem during three days of talks here.

And yet, the two sides apparently still intend to try to include the weapons in the accord with all bombers, submarines and missiles having a range in excess of 3,000 miles.

The Soviets proposed a joint experiment next month to see whether monitors could determine if an American ship was carrying nuclear-tipped cruise missiles.

The United States rejected the proposal as unlikely to solve the detection problem.

On another front, a little headway was made.

The U.S. Strategic Defense Initiative, probably the biggest obstacle to the treaty, and the Soviet space defense program will be dealt with separately by the negotiators.

The Soviets claim the U.S. program, known popularly as Star Wars, violates the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty. They have threatened at various times to hold up a new accord to reduce strategic nuclear weapons unless the U.S. program to develop a defense against ballistic missile were curbed.

That "linkage" has not been removed.

Shultz told reporters Wednesday night "the two things move in parallel." In other words, the Soviets are retaining the right suddenly to halt progress on arms reductions unless the United States slows down SDI.

"Both sides have worked hard and some progress has been realized in a number of areas, but much more needs to be done," the two sides said in a communique winding up three days of talks.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My wedding plans are giving me nightmares. I have two fathers — my biological father (he and my mother were divorced when I was 3 years old) and my stepfather who raised me from the age of 5.

I want both my fathers to give me away, but I couldn't possibly choose between them. I also want my mother to have a part in giving me away, but she may not come. The problem is my biological father's wife. I really don't want her. She's the one who caused my parents' divorce, and my mother does not even speak to her. My real father says he won't come without his wife.

My mother said she could tolerate having my real father at my wedding, but she will not come if his wife is there.

I want this day to be a happy one, so how do I solve these problems? My stepfather is an angel, and says he will do whatever makes me happy.

WEDDING WORRIES

DEAR WORRIES: While "giving the bride away" is traditional in most wedding ceremonies, it is not essential and can be omitted. In recent years, the mother alone has given her daughter in marriage.

What a pity that your mother and biological father cannot put away their bitterness for the sake of family harmony on their daughter's wedding day. You cannot (nor should you try to) coerce either parent into doing anything. Invite them both and let the decision rest with them.

DEAR ABBY: The gentleman I am presently dating is 56 years old and twice divorced. He takes frequent business trips and sends me letters when he's away. His letters are very graphic — telling me what he would like to share with me (sexually), then describing it all in what he considers erotic detail.

Abby, I am a lady. None of this turns me on — in fact it turns me off!

Why would a man write this sort of stuff? Does he think I enjoy it? I am definitely going to tell him how I feel about it, but I'd like to know if there is some psychological reason for his behavior.

TURNED OFF

DEAR TURNED OFF: Some men do it to turn themselves on — hoping it will create the same effect in the recipient. There are women who enjoy such letters, but since you're not one of them, by all means tell the man that you find such explicit letters offensive, and you want no more.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 36-year-old female who has never been married. Over the past 18 years (half my life) I have been invited to, and given, more bridal showers than I can count! It has always been my pleasure to attend these showers of close friends and family members. I do not live extravagantly and I've always managed to "make ends meet" living from paycheck to paycheck.

Two of my aunts have decided it's time that a "single's shower" was held for me! This is very tempting, as I would love to have matching towels, a complete set of china, crystal, etc.

I do not begrudge any of the gifts I have given brides, but had I kept everything I've given, I would not need a thing! My aunts feel that people who live alone need the same basic items as those who are about to be married, and it's high time I was on the receiving end. I really appreciate my family wanting to help me out, but I'm not sure it would be in good taste. What's your opinion?

MISS VICKI IN TORONTO

DEAR MISS VICKI: When I first heard about such a shower for a single woman, I thought, "Here's an idea whose time has come!" I think it's a great idea, and cannot imagine anyone to whom you have given taking offense. (Call it a "Don't get mad — get even" shower.)

P.S. Should you become engaged, please don't allow anyone to shower you, lest those who have already given object to being "soaked."

Don't put off writing thank-you notes, letters of sympathy, etc. because you don't know what to say. Get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send a check or money order for $2.89 ($3.39 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Letters Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. Postage and handling are included.

Sometimes it's unwise to attempt too many enterprises at one time, but in the year ahead, the more irons you have in the fire, the better. One or more could be successful.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today, your material involvements should work out rather well, but you might score equally high marks where human relationships are concerned. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't discuss your future plans at this time with a know-it-all associate who has an annoying habit of demeaning your ideas. He/she could negatively effect your anticipation.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You are likely to be better at handling commercial matters early in the day than you will be later in the afternoon. Make your moves when you're most effective.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A matter of importance can best be accomplished with as few people as possible. Two is feasible, three is a crowd and four or more are out of the question.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In career situations today, you must protect any gains that you make. If you get lackadaisical or indifferent, what you've achieved could slip from your grasp.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Relax and enjoy yourself today, but also know when to call it quits. Don't feel that you have to be the last person to leave the party.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This can be a very rewarding day for you if you don't trip over your own shoelaces. Take time to do things methodically and be watchful of details.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll be cooperative and yielding up to a point today. However, if there is not reciprocity for your efforts, you could have a change of attitude.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This could be a day with lots of ups and downs. While you're busy plugging up leaks with one hand, you might be pulling out the corks with the other.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A serious matter requires special handling today. Treat it in a light, affable fashion while still regarding the gravity of its content.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Try to find things to praise about your mate today instead of looking for his/her failings. If you focus on the latter, it could spoil a potentially good day for both of you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you don't get a quick wind in competitive activities today, you could get unduly discouraged and find ways to help your opponent beat you.

Cardinal honored for his crusade

HOUSTON (AP) — Paulo Evaristo Cardinal Arns credited former President Jimmy Carter and his wife for helping Brazil escape from a 21-year military regime and a move towards human rights.

Arns, who was awarded the Rothko Chapel Oscar Romero award Thursday from former First Lady Rosalynn Carter, said he met the Carters on one of their trips to Brazil and was impressed with their thoughts on human rights.

"I met Rosalynn Carter on one of her visits to Brazil during a very difficult time in my country. And she and Jimmy helped us," Arns said. "They helped us so much that the history will prove that the change came from your visits in Brazil."

Brazil was under a military government from 1964-1985.

The award was presented on the eighth anniversary of the assassination of the Salvadoran archbishop for whom the award is named.

Arns said he has received numerous awards, but none are as special because he was a friend of Romero.

"Archbishop Oscar Romero was a bishop from Latin America as I am. We knew the kind of violence typical of our suffering land. We had met and worked together," he said.

"After his death, his church forwarded me the last letter he had written me and had not the time to send it," Arns said of Romero. "Together with this letter, they sent me a tape of his last homily containing the sound of the bullets that killed him."

Arns said that in that letter, Romero said he'd like to see that all military aid be denied to the government of El Salvador. And that is not the case now, he said.

"I appeal to you for comprehension for aid to all victims of civil war and for promotion of peace throughout all of the Americas."

The Rothko Chapel award recognizes Arns' support of civil rights, including voicing opposition to the imprisonment of those against the military and addressing the issues of salaries.

Lawmen plead innocent in death of prisoner in jail

TYLER, Texas (AP) — Hemphill Police Chief Thomas Ladner will go on trial July 11 on charges of murdering a black prisoner, but will remain free on bond until then.

Ladner, 40, and Sabine County sheriff's deputies, Bill Horton, 58, and James "Bo" Hyden, 34, pleaded innocent Thursday during an arraignment hearing before State District Judge Joe Tunnell.

Tunnell scheduled a pre-trial hearing in the case for June 30, said Smith County Assistant District Attorney Frank Henderson.

Ladner will be tried first, with the trials of the other two men rescheduled for a later date, he said.

On March 3, a Smith County grand jury returned two-count indictments against each of the men, accusing them of causing the Dec. 27 death of Loyal Garner Jr.

Garner, 34, of Florien, La., was arrested Christmas Eve and held at the Sabine County Jail in Hemphill. He suffered head injuries while in police custody and later was taken to the Tyler Medical Center in Smith County, where he died.

Garner was black, and the three lawmen charged with his death are white. His death prompted charges the beating was racially motivated.

Meanwhile in Austin, State Rep. Ron Wilson, D-Houston, said the state should take steps to prevent any jail inmate deaths.

Wilson said the Sabine County

Jail should be closed because of the Garner's death and all Texas jails investigated.

The deaths of Garner and Kenneth Earl Simpson, who died in the Cleveland City Jail last week were "senseless and tragic," said Wilson, who is preparing measures for legislative action. One of his proposals called for the death penalty for law officers who kill a person in custody, unless the killing was in self defense or to protect the life of another.

Robert Viterna of the Texas Commission on Jail Standards, said his agency inspected the Sabine County Jail after Garner's death and has no reason to shut it down.

Cleveland City Attorney James Jasper said the city council would have no comment on Simpson's death until after the FBI and Texas Rangers complete an investigation.

There's no lead in pencils

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is there any danger in eating the lead from pencils?

DEAR READER: Pencil "lead" is not lead at all. It is graphite, a form of mineralized carbon. To my knowledge, the material is not harmful when eaten, although I cannot imagine anyone wanting to do so.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Can poor eyesight be cured by exercising the appropriate eye muscles?

DEAR READER: Sometimes poor binocular vision (seeing with both eyes in tandem) that is due to a weakness or imbalance of the extrinsic ocular muscles (those that control movement of the eyeball) often can be helped by special lenses or exercises prescribed by an eye specialist. However, most visual disturbances — such as nearsightedness, farsightedness and astigmatism — are caused by abnormalities of the eye itself, and therefore do not respond to exercises.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My hair was very thick when I was a girl. In my late teens, it began falling out until at last, in my 20s, it stabilized. It was thin, but I was able to get by without a wig. In my late 40s I began losing hair again, and now, in my 50s, I need a wig. Estrogen and progesterone have no effect and I find doctors uninterested and uninformed about female baldness. Is this common?

DEAR READER: Female baldness is, unfortunately, common. Doctors' apparent lack of interest is probably due more to frustration in treatment than to any other factor. The cause of most baldness in both men and women is poorly understood. The primary diagnostic dilemma is to differentiate inherited balding (alopecia) from secondary baldness caused by the scarring seen in lupus, scleroderma and other skin diseases.

Minoxidil, a drug used to treat hypertension, has been shown to stimulate hair growth when applied to the skin as a 3 percent solution. Although the long-term effects of minoxidil are unknown, many patients are gratified to take this treatment, in preference to hair transplants and other surgical methods.

Check with a dermatologist to see if you have a secondary alopecia or female-pattern baldness — and if minoxidil therapy might be appropriate for you.

It's important that you find a doctor who suits your needs — and Dr. Gott tells how in his new Health Report, CHOOSING A PHYSICIAN: MAKE A DECISION FOR GOOD HEALTH. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Suit preference points the way

By James Jacoby

One lesson in elementary defensive play covers encouraging and discouraging signals. Thus playing a high card encourages partner to continue playing the led suit, while playing a low card suggests that partner play a different suit. There is a further principle, logical in many instances, that enables you to suggest to partner which other suit you would like played. Thus in today's deal, when West leads the jack of hearts, it is apparent that East could overtake the jack and play another high heart. If East allows West to hold the trick with the heart jack, it must be for some reason. This is where suit preference comes into play. Should East play the heart 10 under the jack, he would be commanding West to play a diamond, the higher-ranking of the remaining suits. But if he plays the heart three, his lowest, he is telling West to play a club, the lower remaining suit.

For most of our readers, expert or not, all of this is old hat. When East did play the heart three, West dutifully switched to a club. East ruffed, cashed a heart and played a third round of hearts to build the setting trick for West's spade queen. At one table, East got very greedy and overtook the first heart to cash a second before leading the heart three back. That was disaster, because declarer simply discarded his lone club as West ruffed with the spade queen, and the club ruff was no longer available for the defense.

Pari-mutuel racing study is planned by organization

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Horse Racing Association says a study of how to implement pari-mutuel horseracing in Texas could lower the cost of opening tracks in the state.

But representatives of two other racing-related groups said they did not think the study was needed.

The horse racing association will use the study, to be done by a major consulting firm, to recommend to the state racing commission when, where and how to implement tracks in Texas.

But Al Poujol of Houston, president of the Texas Horseman's Association, said racing commission members are experienced people who "don't need anybody telling them where to put a track."

Poujol's organization worked with the THRA to get Houston-area pro-racing voters to the polls last November.

The study would "give us an analysis of the total racing program — where the first major tracks should be built, how large they should be and how many racing days should be scheduled for quarter horses and thoroughbreds," said former Dallas Mayor Robert Folsom, member of the THRA governing committee.

Consultants also could study the possibility of forming a non-profit organization to run all Class 1 tracks, or all those catering to thoroughbreds, said Preston Carter of Dallas, association president.

The state's pari-mutuel law allows a maximum of four Class 1 tracks, which would be located in major population areas and could have longer racing seasons than other facilities.

DALLAS (AP) — Bishop College officials say they will focus fund-raising efforts on school alumni, corporations, longtime contributors and nationally known philanthropists to collect $50,000 every two weeks for the next two months.

The school must collect the money if it is to continue to receive protection under Chapter 11 bankruptcy, a judge decided Tuesday.

"This is serious stuff; it's do or die this time," said Ethel Barnes, a Bishop spokeswoman. "We celebrated for the moment, but then we realized we had to get right to work."

Students said they plan to set up roadside collection points on the weekends to raise funds from motorists.

Michael Goldstein, a Bishop attorney, said board members were seeking one or two large benefactors for the school's endowment fund.

While working on raising those funds, college officials said they also will concentrate on a reorganization plan acceptable to school creditors and the court.

"I think we will have a plan within the next few days," said Michael Goldstein, a Bishop attorney.

The reorganization plan would show how much it takes to operate the school and propose a system of repaying the college's debts.

WTC starts well at Canyon rodeo

CANYON - Adam Brewster and Michael Gaffney led the way as Western Texas College got off to a good start in the West Texas State University NIRA Rodeo here Thursday.
The rodeo, the first of the Southwest Region spring season, will continue with performances at 7 p.m. today and Saturday, and 2 p.m. Sunday.
Brewster staked an early lead in the bareback event with a 73 score Thursday. The Snyder native is also third in the bull riding with a 72. Teammate Michael Gaffney leads the bull riding with a fine 80 score.
"Michael made a super bull ride. As far as I was concerned it could have been an 84 or an 85," said Coach Bob Doty. "Adam made two good rides so I was real pleased with that."

Other WTC designated team members weren't as successful. Denny McLanahan bucked off in the bareback and took a score of 60 in the bull riding. Ray Brown timed a lengthy 14.9 in the steer wrestling and he and Thad Springer had a no-time in the team roping.
"Denny's bull just didn't buck and his bareback bucked too much. I guess you'd say we under-drawed or over-drawed. We're real particular," joked Doty. "Overall, I'm pretty pleased so far. We've still got a lot of rodeo left."
Western's Jim Blain Kenney is leading the saddle bronc with a 63. He no-timed in the calf roping and did the same with Brian Davis in the team roping. Kenney's bronc ride can't help the designated six-member men's team for WTC, but he can earn individual points at the rodeo.

Olton standout inks with Western Texas

Joy Muller, two-time all-district performer for Olton, has signed a letter with Western Texas College for next season.
"We are really excited about getting Joy," said Lady Dusters coach Kelly Chadwick. "She reminds me of some of the players I've had in the past who came in with a lot of determination and made a good basketball player."
Muller averaged 15.8 points, 8.6 rebounds and 4.5 assists in leading Olton to a second consecutive Class 2A post season playoff appearance as a senior. She was a four-year performer for Olton, earning honorable mention all-district honors as a freshman and a sophomore, and first-team, all-district as a junior and a senior.
The 5-8 all-around talent has also participated in golf, tennis and track during her high school career, and was Olton High School's girl athlete of the year as a junior.
"I think Joy can play the 2-guard or the 3 position for us. She's a determined player and I think she'll work hard this summer to get ready," said Chadwick. "I believe she can be a great defensive player in time. She's got a good short-range jumper and eventually she should be a good perimeter shooter. She goes to the boards hard for someone her size."
Muller is the ninth player in the Duster camp, although Chadwick has not released information on at least two other signees.

Golfers headed for Big Spring

BIG SPRING - Snyder boys take their third place standing in the second of five District 2-4A golf tournaments when they enter the Big Spring Tournament this weekend.
The teams begin teeing off at 9 a.m. Saturday from Comanche Trails Course.
Snyder shot a season-low 311 to place third in the first district tournament, held two weeks ago in Andrews. Big Spring won the 18-hole meet with a 305. Andrews was second with a 309.

Cox leads UNO to key triumph

AMARILLO - Former Western Texas College Lady Dusters standout Pam Cox scored 20 points to lead New Orleans to a 77-66 win over Montana State in the opening round of the women's National Invitational Tournament.
New Orleans, 24-6, lead by as many as 23 points during the second half. The Buc-Kettes successfully used full court pressure most of the game, forcing 14 turnovers.
A clutch free throw by Pam Tanner with eight seconds remaining gave the Illinois State Redbirds a 70-69 upset victory over top-seeded Nevada-Las Vegas in another first-round game of the tournament.
In other games Thursday night, Purdue defeated South Alabama, 63-55 and DePaul defeated Mississippi State, 73-57.
Illinois State will meet Purdue in one of the semifinals tonight and DePaul faces New Orleans in the other semifinal game.
Each team has five players but only the four lowest scores are used to figure the total. The teams will add up the scores from the five tournaments at the end of the season and the two which boast the lowest totals will advance to regional play.
Snyder coach Mackey Greene indicated that his teams will remain the same for Friday's tournament. Players will be Ken Meckley, Wade Hatter, Marc McQueen, Ron Baker and Mike Trull. McQueen shot a 73 in Andrews and is tied for runnerup medalist with Sweetwater's Michael Torres.
Junior varsity players will be Jay Parker, Jason Polk, Shane Wade, Kevin Holt and Terry Hildreth.

Fouts retires

RANCHO SANTA FE, Calif. (AP) - Quarterback Dan Fouts, whose 43,040 passing yards ranks second in NFL history, let his battered body convince his mind it was time to retire after 15 years with the San Diego Chargers.
"I think I had to be honest with myself and I came to the realization that physically, I just don't think I can play the caliber I would like to," Fouts said during a news conference Thursday.
After 14 years, Fouts retires only some 4,000 yard shy of the total passing yardage record, Fran Tarkenton's 47,003, despite throwing 863 fewer passes.

Introducing the new MAGNUM 7120

FIELD DEMONSTRATION
Wed., Mar. 30 9 a.m.-2 p.m.
Just North of Rip Griffin's Truck Stop
East Highway 180 & 84 Bypass
Snyder, Texas

And the first all-new tractors from Case IH

Case IH put more into the new MAGNUM tractor line than any farm tractors developed in over twenty years. Here's why you'll get more out of it:
MAGNUM means more. Outstanding field performance from a new 505 cubic-inch turbocharged engine with reserve power. MAGNUM power.
The MAGNUM tractor's powershift puts 18 speeds of shift-on-the-go power at your fingertips—standard. And only MAGNUM tractors offer a full powershift creeper transmission with six additional speeds from 5 to 21 mph for more control and performance. MAGNUM performance.
The MAGNUM tractor's new larger cab has 46 square feet of window area, virtually unobstructed visibility, more seating comfort. MAGNUM comfort.
It all adds up. The Case IH MAGNUM 7120 tractor sets new standards for the 50hp (112 kW) class—and for you. See us for details.

MAGNUM means more.

Illegal aliens are saved from death in boxcars

HARLINGEN, Texas (AP) — A special sweep of railroad traffic gleaned information on three smuggling rings and also is credited with rescuing illegal aliens from possible suffocation in airtight boxcars, Border Patrol agents say.

The crackdown by Thursday had netted 370 undocumented aliens and 120 pounds of marijuana, said Silvestre Reyes, chief of the Border Patrol's McAllen Sector.

Some among a dehydrated group of 46 aliens were actually glad to see the Border Patrol when the sealed car was opened up, Reyes said.

"We feel that at least some of them would not have made it to Houston," he said, adding they had been in the boxcar about seven hours when discovered with the aid of sniffer dogs.

The aliens were crouched on cardboard in about four feet of space at the top of the boxcar, Reyes said.

Agents in the special operation this week have been searching nearly every train car at a location about six miles north of Harlingen.

Border Patrol anti-smuggling agents and intelligence officers have gleaned useful information while interrogating the aliens apprehended on the trains, Reyes said.

"We identified three particular (smuggling) organizations out of this," Reyes said, adding the investigation is continuing.

In discovering the dehydrated group in the sealed car, along with 16 more in two other cars, he said agents probably averted a tragedy similar to the incident last summer in the West Texas town of Sierra Blanca.

Agents there found 18 aliens suffocated to death inside a sealed boxcar.

Although temperatures in the lower Rio Grande Valley have ranged in the 50s this week, the temperature inside the boxcar with 46 people in it was around 90 degrees, and would have become hotter, Reyes said.

Scientist happy with decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scientist who 14 years ago helped discover that some chemicals destroy the earth's protective ozone layer says he's elated that the nation's largest manufacturer of them plans to eventually end production.

The announcement by the Du Pont Co. could encourage other companies to follow suit, says Sherwood Rowland, professor of atmospheric chemistry at the University of California at Irvine.

"I think Du Pont has had more intimate contact with the science than some of the other companies," and thus more credibility, Rowland said Thursday. "I am elated by it."

Rowland's delight was matched by environmentalists and their allies in Congress, who used words they rarely use when talking about large corporations — things like "This letter is a wonderful surprise," as Sen. David Durenberger, R-Minn., put it. "This is a sterling example of corporate environmental leadership" added Dan Dudek, an economist with the Environmental Defense Fund.

It was Rowland who, in 1974 with Mario Molina, first mapped the chemical route — then just a theory — by which the long-lived chlorofluorocarbon or CFC compounds rise high into the stratosphere, are broken up by ultraviolet rays and liberate chlorine which destroys the ozone that normally blocks ultraviolet rays from reaching the ground.

That ultraviolet causes skin cancer, and there is some evidence from lab animal tests that it can suppress the immune system. The Environmental Protection Agency has estimated that each 1 percent decline in ozone overhead means an increase of 4.8 percent to 7.5 percent in the most common forms of skin cancer.

The Rowland-Molina mechanism, scientists say, is almost certainly what causes the annual 50 percent drop in ozone over the Antarctic continent each spring, and what has caused a 2.3 percent decline in ozone over mid-latitudes from 1969 to 1986.

The mid-latitude decline was announced last week by a panel of more than 100 scientists who worked under the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for 17 months in the most thorough examination ever undertaken of ozone.

This report was "important new information," Du Pont's chairman, Richard E. Heckert, wrote members of the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee.

Thus, "additional actions should be taken for long-term protection of the ozone layer," a switch from Heckert's March 4 letter to the senators saying further action was not needed.

Thirty-one nations last fall signed a treaty in Montreal calling for a 50 percent reduction in CFC production by 1998. Heckert's letter said Du Pont was encouraging other manufacturers and CFC users to join in "an orderly transition to the total phaseout" of the compounds.

Two grass fires extinguished here

Firemen extinguished two grass fires Thursday, one 16 miles north of Snyder off U.S. 84 that took over an hour and three roadgraders from Scurry County commissioners precincts to contain.

A department spokesman said a train had passed by about five minutes before the fire started but that he was unsure if the train caused it.

The firemen were called to the scene at 2:40 p.m. and were there until 4 p.m. on the state of Texas property.

A call at 11:40 a.m. took firefighters three miles east of the city off 84 to property owned by Joe Rodriguez, where they were occupied until 12:45 p.m.

The spokesman said the cause of the fire was not known.

Hospital staff layoffs planned

day. Those to be let go will also receive two-weeks severance pay.

The reduction of FTE staff positions—actually figured at 30.8—is to be achieved through a combination of the 18 staff layoffs as well as not replacing individuals who have recently retired or resigned and a decrease in hours worked in various departments.

He said the reductions will produce an FTE figure of 4.3 staffers for every hospital patient at Cogdell.

At a March 11 meeting of the hospital board, when Hochwalt first revealed the results of a patient-to-staff study at Cogdell, he noted the industry average for rural hospitals is a 4-1 ratio.

At that time, it was estimated that Cogdell's ratio was some 5.5 to 1. This excess of FTE staffers—a composite figure rather than an actual count of fulltime employees—was depleting the net annual income by almost $590,000.

The average patient count at Cogdell currently is 29 patients per day.

With the "bad news" of hospital layoffs Thursday, Hochwalt presented also incentives to existing staffers to work late shifts and weekend duty at Cogdell.

The only group receiving a guaranteed pay raise was registered nurses. But, RNs, licensed vocational nurses (LVNs), nurses aides and lab technicians were also offered hourly wage increases for working either the 3 until 11 p.m. or the 11 p.m. until 7 a.m. shifts.

At the high end of this scale, an RN is to receive an additional 75 cents above their base hourly wage for working the "11 till 7" shift. For this same shift, an LVN will receive 62 cents more and a nurse's aide, 15 cents.

For weekend duty, RNs are to receive $2.50 in extra hourly compensation and LVNs some $1.25.

Hochwalt outlined also new guidelines for employee benefits such as health insurance as well as a proposed sliding scale cost range for the addition of dependents for this coverage.

In another policy change, he noted the hospital plans to offer part-time staffers such benefits as vacation time and sick days which will be earned on an accrual basis equaling one-half that of fulltime staffers.

All board members attended Thursday's meeting to include Dan Cotton, who presided, Rex Robinson, Roy McQueen, G.A. Parks, Janet Hall and Jackie Smith. Also attending was ex-officio member Bobby Goodwin, county judge.

At Thursday's meeting, the board approved also revisions in the hospital board-medical staff bylaws.

Under operational issues, they were informed also:

—Plans are underway to donate 10 used hospital beds.

—The United Revenue Corp. of Lubbock has been contracted with to serve as Cogdell's collection agency for accounts deemed uncollectible.

—Contact is now being made with from four to five emergency room firms to supply physician coverage for the Cogdell ER during weekends. It was noted local staffing has been obtained through the weekend of April 8.

—That the survey date for the JCAH at Cogdell will be May 9-10.

Former executive charged

DALLAS (AP) — A former Vernon Savings and Loan Association executive was charged with conspiracy for actions including falsifying corporate records and arranging sexual payoffs for bank officers and board members, the Justice Department said.

A one-count felony information filed by the Justice Department Thursday alleges John V. Hill, former vice president of Vernon conspired to violate the federal bank and bribery statute.

Hill has agreed to enter a plea of guilty and to cooperate in the investigation, William F. Weld, assistant attorney general for the Justice Department said in a statement.

The information, a charge filed by federal prosecutors in lieu of a grand jury indictment, alleges Hill arranged for paid female companionship for officers and directors at a three-day June 1985 board meeting in Solana Beach, Calif.

Prosecutors said Hill could be sentenced to five years in prison and be given a $250,000 fine on the conspiracy charge.

Vernon Savings was closed by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. on Nov. 19, 1987. The FSLIC committed $1.3 billion, the most ever for a bailout by the FSLIC, to reopen the institution as a new thrift, Montfort Savings Association.

Hill resigned from the thrift in late August 1986.

According to court documents filed in federal district court, Hill intended that sexual favors would be available to the executives in connection with their service to the institution.

The charge was announced at a Washington press conference by William F. Weld, assistant U.S. attorney general for the Justice
