

Plaintiffs end TDC lawsuits

Plaintiffs seeking to stop construction of a Texas Department of Corrections unit in Scurry County have ended a four-month legal battle with a notice of non-suit filed in 132nd District Court Thursday morning.

Although all legal action was combined into one suit last Thursday, three motions were filed ending legal action against County Judge Bobby Goodwin, Industrial Foundation President Joe Fowler, City of Snyder, industrial foundation, Scurry County, TDC, the state, Scurry County commissioners, and Cogdell Hospital board of managers.

Plaintiffs asking that the legal action be dropped were Jeanne Bullard, Jonisue Stiff, Gloria Griffin, Ava Lopour, Joe Lopour and Louise Thompson.

The brief motion, which will become official when signed by District Judge Joe Evins of Edinburg, says plaintiffs "no longer wish to prosecute this suit." It also asked that each party bear its own costs and attorneys' fees.

Plaintiffs began the court battle on Dec. 9 with a writ of mandamus requesting records of public entities. A nine-hour hearing was held on Dec. 28.

Suits were later filed seeking to set aside incentives offered by various entities in Snyder which were used to entice the TDC to locate a 1,000-bed prison in Scurry County.

Snyder was selected as a site for the $15 million facility on Nov. 9. Site work for the unit, which will employ 250 persons with an annual payroll of $6.7 million, will begin on April 18. Construction is due to be completed in May of next year.

Following the Dec. 28 hearing, 132nd District Judge Gene Dulaney excused himself from the case and Judge Evins was appointed to preside.

On two occasions, plaintiffs attempted to have Judge Evins disqualified because of perceived prejudicial statements made Feb. 29 at a docket control conference held in Kerrville.

Retired District Judge Curt Steib of San Angelo refused to replace Judge Evins, and at a second docket control conference held in Snyder on March 11, Judge Evins ordered consolidation of the cases.

Last Friday was the deadline for amended pleadings. One day See LAWSUITS, page 11

Ask Us

Q. — What happens to the road and bridge fee we pay each time we get our license plates?

A. — The fee goes into the county's road and bridge fund, a state designation which in this county goes primarily toward county road repairs. The fee was approved by the commissioners court as a "user fee" to offset personal property taxes which would otherwise have to be raised for the same purpose.

In Brief

Drug arrests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI cracked a major heroin-importing ring involving trafficking through Sicily with the arrest today of more than 200 organized crime figures, Justice Department sources said.

The arrests are the result of a lengthy criminal investigation in cooperation with Italian authorities, said the sources, speaking on condition of anonymity. A number of people also were taken into custody in Italy in connection with the investigation.

The U.S. arrests were made in New York and at least four other cities.

Plane crashes

FORST, West Germany (AP) — A U.S. Air Force jet fighter plunged into the center of this small town today, killing the pilot and at least one resident, setting homes on fire and forcing the evacuation of about 60 people.

The plane was carrying a canister of hydrazine, which forms toxic gas when mixed with water, but local officials said there was no evidence of a gas leak.

Witnesses said the F-16 smashed into the roof of one home, tore off the porch off another and started a ball of fire that sent residents fleeing.

Regional governor Bernhard Ditteney said the body of a 60-year-old man was pulled from the rubble and rescue workers were looking for other victims.

Local

Morning rite

The observance of Holy Week will end here on Good Friday morning with a special "tenebrae service" at the First United Methodist Church.

The rite will begin at 7:30 a.m. and will be preceded at 7 a.m. with a breakfast in the church fellowship hall. Worshipers are invited to both the breakfast and the service.

It will mark the end of week-long rites conducted at noon each day and sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance in connection with Easter.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Wednesday, 68 degrees; low, 34 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Thursday, 44 degrees; no precipitation; total precipitation for 1988 to date, 1.57 inches.

Snyder Area Forecast: Tonight, a 60 percent chance of thunderstorms, some possibly severe. Low near 40. Wind southeast 15 to 25 mph and gusty, shifting to north by morning. Lake wind advisories will be required Friday, cloudy and colder with a 30 percent chance of rain. High in the mid 50s. Wind north 15 to 25 mph and gusty. Lake wind advisories will be required.

Solons seek Meese ouster

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican senator today called on President Reagan to meet with a resigned Justice Department official and then reconsider whether Attorney General Edwin Meese III should stay on the job.

Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., said a published report quoting resigned Assistant Attorney General William F. Weld as saying he would have moved to indict Meese if the decision had been his requires a presidential inquiry and decision.

Meese is the target of a broadening criminal investigation. Department sources have said the top officials quit because they felt Meese's legal problems were "poisoning" the Justice Department.

On Wednesday, Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., said flatly that Meese should resign. Senate Democratic Leader Robert Byrd also called for his resignation, calling him "the crown prince of the sleaze factor in Reagan administration history."

Specter earlier questioned "whether the U.S. Department of Justice can function" with Meese.

Friday is holiday for some Good Friday will be a holiday for public school students throughout Scurry County in addition to city and county employees in Snyder.

For Snyder public schools, the Easter holiday will be for Friday only. At Ira and Hermleigh, schools which have foregone spring break this year to schedule scattered "three-day" weekends, the Easter break will spill over into Monday.

Public offices slated to close Friday include city hall, the Scurry County courthouse and the appraisal district offices.

In addition to the courthouse, the county's related facilities will lose, to include the public health unit. The county library will be closed Friday and Saturday.

Also, the Texas drivers license office in the county jail building will be closed Friday.

The Scurry County Senior center will be closed Friday and Monday for Easter.

For many governmental employees, however, Friday will be business as usual.

Federal and state offices will be open and the mail delivery schedule at the post office will not be affected.

Hiring criteria for TDC profiled

New jobs to be offered in Scurry County once its 1,000-man TDC unit is opened—employment opportunities which have already prompted hundreds of inquiries to the local Texas Employment Commission office—will consist primarily of clerical workers and correctional officers.

In both categories, an applicant must have either a high school diploma or a GED equivalent; be a citizen of the U.S. or an alien authorized to work here; and be at least 18-years of age.

Correctional officers employed as guards must also meet weight standards set by TDC. These are established according to height and body frame. For example, a man 6 ft. tall could have a maximum weight of from 205 to 239.

There is no minimum height requirement nor is there a maximum age stipulation.

The first step in the application process for both types of jobs involves taking a BEST test through the Texas Employment Commission.

Rae Adams, head of the Snyder TEC office, said this is a general knowledge exam which normally requires about three hours to take. It is currently administered twice each month at the Sweetwater-based regional TEC office.

The hiring of TDC staff is handled exclusively through the state's employment commission.

As the opening of the Scurry County prison unit draws near, Adams said plans are to offer the BEST test in Snyder, perhaps as often as once per week.

In addition to the BEST test, clerical applicants also have the See HIRING, page 11

Committee for FmHA now solicits nominees

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) office which serves Scurry County has announced it will begin accepting nominations for election of county committee members April 5.

In addition, new rules will be put in place this year which makes it easier for farmers to qualify as candidates and to vote, according to Greg Pruitt, supervisor for the Fisher-Scurry County FmHA office.

FmHA county committees perform a variety of duties for the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's credit agency. This includes deciding on whether an applicant is eligible for a farm loan.

"One important change broadens the definition of a farmer to anyone who has an interest in a farm in the county as owner, tenant or sharecropper," Pruitt noted.

"The new definition also includes the spouse of an eligible farmer."

He noted the old requirement that more than half of the candidate's income must come from the farm operation has been dropped.

Also, the nominating period has been extended to 45 days. Previously, a 25-day period was used. To be nominated, at least three eligible farmer-voters, including the nominee, must sign the petition.

Two of the three committee members are elected by farmers in the county and one is appointed by FmHA. One of the elected seats is to be filled for a three- See FmHA, page 11

Americans are noted for wanting to be a part of something. The longing to belong results in the formation of clubs, and clubs then become associations, and associations then host conventions.

Whatever your interest—there is an organization just for you.

The National Pretzel Bakers Institute was established in 1941. It once held a national convention with the theme, "Pretzels in a Changing World."

Sarcasms Anonymous has 146 members. All members are dedicated to promoting positive uses of humor and laughter.

The National Reamer Collectors Association is designed to promote the collection of reamers, orange juicers and lemon squeezers.

The Garage Door Council was formed in 1982 to educate an informed public about garage doors.

The American Pencil Collectors has grown to almost 500 members with Wichita dubbed as pencil headquarters.

The Fat Lip Readers Theatre Guild in San Francisco draws members who do not view obesity as an illness and who are not intent on finding its cure. It holds workshops where original scripts are performed dramatizing the experience of growing up fat in America.

The Sugar Packet Club publishes a quarterly bulletin. Although membership is relatively small, the dedicated members are well-traveled as they collect sugar packets from restaurants and hotels all over the world.

The American Institute of Nail and Tack Manufacturers promotes the industry by keeping members informed on the "sharp" issues confronting the industry.

Fortunes, honor at stake in Yemen oil feud

DALLAS (AP) — In 1984, Hunt Oil Co. discovered a major oil field in North Yemen and attracted worldwide attention for the Dallas company and its owner, Ray Hunt.

But Jack Crichton, another Dallas oilman who has sued Hunt for a share of the vast oil deposits beneath the sands of the Red Sea nation, says Hunt interfered with his negotiations there.

Crichton says his own vision of major oil deposits in Yemen date back to 1955, when he and several other U.S. executives were escorted by armed Yemeni horsemen to the mountainside palace of Sala to negotiate an oil deal with His Majesty, the Imam Ahmed, King of Yemen.

The story of the bitter legal feud between these two pioneers in Yemen oil exploration, whose families have known each other for years, reads more like a script from "Dallas," the TV series, than an account of typical business dealings in Dallas, the city.

Some aspects of the Crichton-Hunt conflict compare with issues raised in the Texaco-Pennzoil legal battle, which also involved state laws prohibiting wrongful competition and a dispute between two companies that believed they had successfully negotiated a contract.

"While the facts are different, many of the issues are directly parallel," said Crichton's attorney H. Dee Johnson.

At stake — in addition to more than $800 million that Hunt already has spent prospecting for oil in the desert nation and $1 billion that Crichton is asking in damages — are the solid reputations of the two Dallas businessmen.

On the one hand, Crichton and his partners allege that Hunt and his company "subverted" their business agent in Yemen and, through the agent, obtained copies of their "proprietary geological information and concession agreement." Those copies, the suit says, were used by Hunt and his company "in diverting the concession in question to Yemen-Hunt Oil and in successfully exploring for oil in the exact locations previously located" by Crichton and his partners "as probably oil-producing locations."

Crichton, on the other hand, is accused by Hunt Oil officials and attorneys of abusing the court system by filing a baseless suit "to achieve economic rewards" that he and his partners were unable to win through direct negotiations with the Yemeni government.

Attorneys for Crichton say Hunt Oil's actions are in violation of Texas law prohibiting improper competitive business practices.

Crichton, 71, is a former Army intelligence officer and a veteran oilman who has spent years working on finding oil in Yemen. He was the GOP standard bearer in the 1964 Texas gubernatorial race against Democrat John Connally.

Hunt, 44, the son of storied wildcatter H.L. Hunt by his second wife, Ruth Ray, has built his Hunt Oil Co. into a giant independent with a refinery in Alabama and exploration projects in 16 states, the North Sea and six foreign countries. Ray Hunt has been untarnished by the legal wrangle and financial reverses that have ensnared his half-brothers Lamar, Bunker and Herbert.

While it was Ray Hunt who stuck the first crude in Yemen, it was Crichton and his partners who were the first Americans to gain a mineral concession in the desert nation, a saga that began more than 30 years ago.

Crichton said he became interested in Yemen in 1955 when he was president of Oil and Gas Property Management, a closely held Dallas company that was in the business of acquiring oil and gas reserves.

Some Oil and Gas Property Management holdings later evolved into Dorchester Ltd. Partnership, which later became a partner with Crichton's Arabian Shield Development in Yemen. Dorchester and Arabian Shield are plaintiffs in the suit against Hunt Oil.

Freshman's Effortless Fiction Is Starting to Sound Like Fact

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that's a bit stranger than most. I am a female freshman at a small accredited liberal arts college. I get good grades and have many friends, but somehow that's not enough. I must feel a need to gain special attention from my friends — also their pity. So I concocted this story that I had been raped when a friend worked beautifully — my friends were supportive and especially kind because of my "terrible" childhood ordeal. I also used that story to get the attention of men. When I told them, they comforted me, and sometimes it led to a closer relationship.

Last fall, my friends encouraged me to go into counseling to resolve my feelings of "guilt and low self-esteem." Well, I went, and told my counselor the same story I had told my friends. So now I am lying to him, too. I tell the story about my "rape" so well that I am beginning to believe it myself.

I don't know why I'm writing you about this. I'm not sure I want to change my ways. I guess I just wanted to tell someone, and there was no one else I could tell this to.

FOREVER LYING

DEAR LYING: Obviously you really want to change your ways because you feel guilty.

You are not alone. Many people spin some wild yarns in order to gain attention — and garner pity. The danger lies in becoming such an accomplished liar, they confuse reality with fantasy. I suggest that you tell your counselor the truth. You need professional help to overcome this destructive habit.

DEAR ABBY: You said you have never heard from readers who said they were glad they quit music lessons. May I be the first?

When I was in elementary school in Brooklyn, my mother made me take saxophone and clarinet lessons. When I enrolled in New York University (1938), I was sent to a more advanced music teacher in Manhattan. I still hated it. After three years of lessons with him, he said, "Please stop wasting my time and your money — you will never be able to make a living playing either saxophone or clarinet." I believed him. I sold my sax and clarinet to help pay my tuition in medical school (George Washington University).

I wound up retiring in 1983 with the rank of professor of neurology, Mayo Medical School, Rochester, Minn.

I'm glad I quit. At best I would have made a mediocre musician — instead I was a pretty savvy neurologist.

NORMAN GOLDSTEIN, M.D. (RETIRED)

DEAR DR. GOLDSTEIN: I must have received at least 300 letters from readers who wanted to be "the first" to tell me they had quit taking music lessons and never regretted it.

Some related horror stories of how their mothers made them practice an extra half-hour as "punishment." Others said their piano teachers would whack them on the hands if they didn't hold their hands "right." Conclusion: There are many people who have quit, with no regrets.

DEAR ABBY: Some years ago, you published the name and address of a company that manufactured (or supplied) "false fannies." Back then I didn't anticipate needing this kind of product, but alas, my derriere has shrunk, and now when I wear slacks, I look straight as a board between my lower back and the backs of my thighs. Also, the pants do not fit me properly.

If the company is still in business, please let me know how I can get in touch with it. I really need help back there.

Brain implants are used

NEW YORK (AP) — Researchers reported today that brain tissue transplants in rats greatly eased memory problems caused by chronic alcohol intake, and said such therapy may someday help alcoholics and victims of Alzheimer's disease.

The transplants apparently worked by raising inadequate levels of a substance brain cells use to communicate, a deficit implicated in Alzheimer's, said researcher Jeffrey Gray.

As for alcoholism, "I think that really means there's hope, if you blow your mind with too much whiskey maybe we'll be able to repair it with transplants," said Gray, head of the psychology department at the Institute of Psychiatry in London.

Experts in alcohol-induced memory problems were skeptical, questioning how much the rats' condition resembled that of alcoholics and cautioning that any implication for treatment is only speculation.

Still, "I think it's going to stimulate lots of excitement and lots of further research," said Michael Eckardt, chief of the clinical brain research section in the laboratory of clinical studies at the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism.

Gray reports the research with colleagues in today's issue of the British journal Nature.

About 10 percent of alcoholics develop long-lasting memory loss.

GUESTS WELCOMED — The Scurry Chapter of American Business Women met March 24 for a Spring Fling membership drive. Guests attending the event were (from left, front) Donna Greene, Tammy Wesson, Elizabeth Scarberry, Elida Garza, Margaret Grant, Shirley Miller. Members welcomed

The Scurry Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association met for a membership drive March 24 at Martha Ann Woman's Club. Twenty members and 11 guests attended. Joining the association as new members were Judy Moss, Margaret Grant and Patricia Witte.

Faye Layne led in the invocation and the benediction.

Barbara Scrivner, program chairman, introduced Pat Faver, the Spring Fling enrollment chairman. She gave a review of the chapter and its purpose. She also introduced the chairman of each committee who told what each committee does.

Sharon McCarty, woman of the year chairman, introduced three nominees. Members chose Kathy Landes for the title.

Irene Brooks, Martha Ann Woman's Club representative, reviewed the activities of the clubhouse. A garage sale was held March 26, a bake sale on March 29 and a game day and luncheon is held each fourth Wednesday as a fund raiser. A book review and lunch will be held April 16.

The next meeting will be April 28 at 7 p.m. at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

On a long-term basis, the Latin American agricultural sector has declined in its relative importance to the overall economy, says the Inter-American Development Bank. The sector's share in the region's gross domestic product averaged 11.8 percent in 1983-85, compared to 16.6 percent in 1960.

The Noah Project is featured at Altrurian Daughters meeting

The Altrurian Daughters Club met March 9 at Martha Ann Woman's Club with Linda Sealf of the Noah Project as the featured speaker.

Sealf stated the phrase, "family violence," is a contradiction in terms. The family home is historically a place of warmth, love and security. In reality, a person is more likely to be hit, beaten or killed at home than anywhere else and the assailant is more likely to be a family member than a stranger.

Family violence is legally defined as the intentional use of threat or physical force by a member of the family or household against another member of a family or household.

Family violence occurs in 25% of all families on a recurring basis. In two-thirds of all wife battering cases, children are also physically abused. Family violence victims can be spouses, male or female, children or the elderly.

Research shows violent behavior is learned within the family structure and is perpetrated from generation to generation.

The Noah Project in Snyder provides services to victims in Scurry, Nolan, Mitchell, Fisher and Kent counties. Approximately nine families receive shelter-based services each month.

Services for victims include a 24-hour crisis hotline, 573-1822; shelter and provision of food, clothing and other necessities; counseling; legal assistance and advocacy; and assistance with medical needs, employment resources, transportation and child care.

Noah Project is funded by United Way, a criminal justice grant from the Governor's office and by community support.

Hostesses for the club session were Nina Nesbit and June McGlaun.

PEAS AND ONIONS AU GRATIN

One 16-ounce package loose-pack frozen peas and pearl onions
2 ounces reduced-calorie soft-style cream cheese (1/4 cup)
2 tablespoons milk
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon cracked black pepper
1 clove garlic, minced, or 1/8 teaspoon bottled minced garlic
1/2 cup herb-seasoned croutons

In a medium saucepan cook vegetables in small amount of boiling water, covered, for 3 to 5 minutes or until just tender; drain. Stir in cream cheese, milk, pepper and garlic. Cook 2 to 4 minutes or until heated through, stirring frequently. Transfer to serving bowl; sprinkle croutons on top. Makes 4 servings.

which would be cold against most distributions, but not against today's horrendous trump-split. Six diamonds played by South is OK, but if played by North can be defeated by a heart ruff at trick one. However, the auction was reasonable and the final contract seemed ironclad.

South's first bid was strong, forcing and artificial, and North's response was also artificial and value-showing. (A two-heart response would have shown two of the top three honors.) South's second bid showed a powerful balanced hand, and North's second bid was a transfer, showing five or more hearts. South duly bid hearts. North offered a choice of contracts, and South elected the heart game because he had only single stoppers in the black suits. Three no-trump, of course, would have yielded an easy 11 tricks.

When the dummy came down, South probably wished he had bid more. He won the opening spade lead, planning to draw trumps and discard dummy's spades on his diamonds. After playing the heart ace, though, South played woodenly and badly. He drew four rounds of trumps and began the diamonds. This line would have worked if East had been dealt two or more diamonds, because a spade could have been discarded from the table while East ruffed. As it was, though, East ruffed early, and the defense grabbed two spades and a club. Down one.

Too many pitfalls

Today's hand has quite a few pitfalls, not the least of which is selecting the proper final contract. Ordinarily one would like to play a heart slam.

While the American tire industry has no minimum requirements to qualify tires as safe at various speeds, tire makers have generally adopted European guidelines. Tires rated "S" are considered safe up to 112 mph; "T" to 118; "H" to 131; "V" to 148, and "Z" at more than 148. While tire makers don't recommend driving at those speeds, overall tire performance generally improves with higher speed ratings, explains Armstrong Tire Co. This includes handling, cornering and resistance to heat buildup.

Black leaders blast probe into death of prison inmate

HOUSTON (AP) — Local black leaders say the Cleveland Police Department is masterminding a cover-up in the March 16 death of a jail inmate.

The Rev. J. Don Boney Jr. said Wednesday indictments should be handed down soon in the death of Kenneth Simpson, who died hours after being jailed in Cleveland for allegedly disturbing the peace.

Boney, chairman of the Houston chapter of the National Black United Front, said he is suspicious of the "new revelation" that an officer involved in subduing Simpson at the jail tape recorded the entire incident.

A story about the tape was published Wednesday in the Houston Chronicle, and Boney questioned why officials revealed news of the recording two weeks after Simpson's death.

Naomi Simpson, Kenneth Simpson's mother, said she believes the tape is a fake and that authorities are trying to frame her dead son and clear themselves of any wrongdoing.

"What I want is justice for my son," she said.

Cleveland Mayor Richard Boyett said Tuesday he gave the tape recording to Texas Rangers investigating Simpson's death. "I don't have much confidence in tapes turned over to the Texas Rangers," Boney said at a news conference.

"We believe that there is an ongoing cover-up in this case," he said.

An autopsy showed Simpson, an unemployed construction worker and drug informant, died from asphyxiation.

Authorities have said it took seven officers to subdue the 30-year-old Simpson in his cell after they found him smoking what they thought was marijuana.

The seven officers have been suspended with pay while the Texas Rangers and the FBI investigate the case. No charges have been filed and the medical examiner has not ruled whether Simpson's death was a homicide.

Texas Department of Safety spokesman Mike Cox denied Boney's claim of a cover-up.

"We want to get to the bottom of what happened," Cox said Wednesday in a telephone interview from Austin. "We're not in the business of covering things up."

Boney called for the Texas Legislature to investigate the Simpson case. In addition, he questioned why indictments have not been returned and why the officers involved in the arrest are being paid while on suspension. He said he has other questions about the case that have not been answered.

"That's why we think there is an on-going cover up," he said. "We intend to have the truth one way or the other."

Boney said the Texas Rangers do not have the confidence of the black residents of Cleveland, a small East Texas town about 90 miles north of Houston, because there has never been a black Ranger and because the Rangers were involved in investigating Clarence Brandley's case.

Brandley is on death row for killing a white girl and his supporters claim he was arrested and convicted because he is black. A judge has recommended to the state appeals court that Brandley receive a new trial, but the court has not yet issued a ruling.

Boney and other black leaders have scheduled a rally Friday in support of Simpson, Brandley and Loyal Garner Jr. at a Baptist church in Houston. Garner died two days after being arrested and jailed in Hemphill on Christmas Day. Three law enforcement officers have been charged with murder and civil rights violations in his death. He too was black.

Roberts helped Swaggart

EULESS, Texas (AP) — Jimmy Swaggart's decision to return to the pulpit may have been prompted by television evangelist Oral Roberts' praying for him and casting out demons from his life, said a longtime friend of Swaggart's.

The Rev. Mike Evans, pastor of the Church on the Move in Euleless, said Wednesday that Swaggart told him of Roberts' prayer when Evans visited Baton Rouge, La., last month.

"Oral Roberts called him up and told him that he saw demons with long fingernails digging the flesh into Jimmy Swaggart's body and he cast those demons out of his body," said Evans.

A lawyer for Swaggart in Baton Rouge on Wednesday said the minister would resume preaching May 22, in defiance of church discipline.

National Assemblies of God officials have barred Swaggart from preaching for at least a year and suspended him from the ministry for two years.

After the telephone conversation with Roberts, the 52-year-old Swaggart told Evans he felt he was released from sin.

Roberts made an announcement in a taped appearance on his son's program broadcast Wednesday that he will ask followers to donate another $8 million, but he did not repeat last year's warning that God would call him "home."

Dr. Gott

Head injury's effects linger

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had nerve damage to my forehead in a car accident. There is still swelling, numbness and tingling six months later. Should I see a specialist?

DEAR READER: The symptoms you describe are common after head injuries in automobiles and should clear up within a year. Although you should certainly check with a doctor, examination by a specialist is probably not necessary unless your doctor requests it.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had my gall-bladder out and, one month later, I developed ulcers in my mouth and throat that have never gone away for good. Eating and talking are painful. When I take prednisone they disappear, but they come back as soon as I stop the medicine. Should I take the drug from now on?

DEAR READER: Prednisone, like other cortisone drugs, reduces the body's immune response. In other words, steroids block inflammation. I do not believe that you should rely on prednisone to relieve the symptoms of your mouth ulcers. The drug will inhibit your ability to fight infection. Check with a dermatologist to determine the cause of your problem, which, incidentally, probably is not related directly to your surgery.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What is the difference between amnesia and Alzheimer's?

DEAR READER: One is a symptom, the other is a disease. Amnesia is loss of memory. This can occur in certain neurological diseases, after head injuries and following brain infection. Amnesia is also associated with stroke, substance abuse and some emotional disorders.

Alzheimer's disease is a progressive breakdown of nerve cells in the brain, marked by confusion, loss of intellectual function, amnesia and behavioral abnormalities. Its cause is unknown and it is untreatable.

To give you more information, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report, ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE. Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I take Tenormin for cluster and migraine headaches. What can you tell me about this drug?

DEAR READER: Tenormin (atenolol) is a long-acting beta-blocker that produces relaxation of blood vessels. It is extremely useful in treating hypertension and certain forms of heart disease. In some patients with migraine, it prevents headaches or reduces their frequency. By and large, it is a safe drug, but must be used with caution in people with asthma or heart failure.

Hunters ready to talk turkey as hunting season begins

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — When the first gobbler from a tom turkey thunders down from the limb of a tall tree at the edge of a creek somewhere in Texas on Saturday morning, it will signal the opening of a most intriguing and thrilling type of a hunting season.

Spring turkey hunting. It is at a time of year when the hunter can become the hunted. And the prospects of the average hunter fooling a gobbler into thinking a romantic hen is beckoning have increased every year since Texas' first spring turkey season 10 years ago.

The season in most counties will continue through April 24. And there are many reasons why hunters can be especially optimistic this spring.

This year's 23-day season in most counties is the longest in history.

The number of counties holding a spring season — more than 160 — is larger than ever.

And the state's overall turkey population, estimated at more than a half-million birds, has been on a steady increase, thanks to an aggressive trapping and stocking program by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

There are two types of turkeys in Texas — the Eastern turkey and the Rio Grande turkey. Of the two, the Rio Grande variety is the most numerous, inhabiting a range that basically lies west of a line from Paris to Freeport.

"We've got more turkeys in Texas than we've ever had before, and I think the biggest reason is our stocking program," said Don Wilson, upland game bird program leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"We stocked 33 sites in 22 counties with Rio Grandes this year, and we stocked Easterns at 21 sites in 13 East Texas counties," Wilson said. "It's getting to the point that we may be putting turkeys in areas of the state where they have never been historically."

Only five East Texas counties will have a spring season on Eastern turkeys — Newton, Jasper, Tyler, Pope and Trinity — and it will last only 16 days, Saturday through April 17.

Wilson said the estimated statewide turkey population of a half-million is a "crude estimation."

"All we really know is that we have a heck of a lot of turkeys, more than any other state," Wilson said.

If past years are any indication of the spring season's popularity, there will be more than 72,000 hunters in the field this April. And more than half of them will bag a turkey.

"We had 72,000 spring hunters last year and they harvested 37,000 birds," Wilson said. "And remember, that's just the spring count. We had 63,000 turkeys harvested during the fall season by 153,000 hunters."

Although turkeys can be taken twice a year — spring or fall — it's the spring season that brings out the true turkey hunter. Most of the turkeys killed during the fall are taken by hunters who also are hunting whitetail deer and who bag turkeys that just happen by.

Hunters are allowed the take three turkeys per year — two in the spring and one in the fall or one in the spring and two in the fall.

Spring is mating season, when the hens separate from their large flocks and scatter to mate and lay eggs in isolated nests. The big flocks of gobblers disperse, too, traveling from their normal ranges in search of hens.

Hunters use a wide variety of calls made to simulate the sounds of the hen and the gobbler to bring the turkeys into close range. As a rule, however, most hunters try to imitate the yelps and clucks of a hen to bring a gobbler within easy shotgun range.

Perhaps one of the most popular types of turkey calls to surface in recent years is the diaphragm call. The half-moon-shaped call is small enough to fit in the roof of the mouth. It not only produces realistic yelps of the hen and gobbler but it also gives the hunter a hand-free method of hunting.

There's a wide variety of box and slate calls, too, that are favorites among turkey hunters. They all will work. Selection simply is a personal preference. For beginners or veterans who want to sharpen up their calling abilities, there are several instructional tapes on the market.

McDonald Observatory has reopened

McDONALD OBSERVATORY, Texas (AP) — A 107-inch telescope might not be 10 times better than a 10-inch scope, but a chance to look through it is enough to attract people from all around.

Wednesday night marked the first chance in 19 months for stargazers to peer through the eyepiece of McDonald Observatory's 107-inch reflector and take a good look at the moon.

About 60 people reserved viewing spots almost two months in advance for a chance at a minute-long look through the telescope, the biggest of the observatory's five optical instruments and one of the world's 15 largest.

The University of Texas-run observatory about 6,800 feet atop Mount Locke in the Davis Mountains of West Texas has been letting the general public look through its largest telescopes since 1938, said Mark Bridges, observatory publicist.

For the past several years, officials had opened the observatory to the public once a month. Public viewing nights were suspended in August 1986 while officials altered the 107-inch scope's focal length and started changing the eyepiece, Bridges said.

"The optical train has been improved so that the image quality has been much improved," he said, adding that observers sometimes saw ghost images and complained of low contrast.

"People would look through it at times and say, 'This isn't as good as my friend's 8-inch telescope,' and that was true sometimes," Bridges said. "The 107-inch telescope isn't 10 times better than a 10-inch telescope."

The 90-minute program consists of a 20-minute orientation lecture by Bridges or Robert Scheppeler, coordinator of public programs, then the viewing, then a question-and-answer session with an astronomer.

Each viewer has about 30 seconds to a minute to look through the telescope, Bridges said.

The telescope was trained on the moon Wednesday night and will be pointed at planets at other times.

"We consult our atlases and see what's up and try to look at something that's bright enough or impressive," Bridges said.

After gazing at the moon or planets through the big scope, viewers can spend more time looking at galaxies and planets through 8- and 14-inch telescopes.

It helps to be well-organized to obtain reservations: deadline for signing up is the first day of the month preceding the month in which a visitor plans to attend public viewing night. In other words, April 1 is the deadline for making reservations for the May 25 program. "Most likely, by (the deadline) the month will be filled," Bridges said. "I would say make the reservation as far in advance as possible — two or three months if you can."

Most viewers tend to come from Texas, Bridges said. Winter Texans — vacationers, often retirees, from the north — also abound when the weather is cold, he said.

Public viewing nights began in 1938, when the 82-inch telescope was under construction. Officials allowed people to look through 12-inch or other telescopes. The 107-inch instrument was built in 1968. Bridges said he knows of no other observatory that allows the public to look through its flagship telescope.

"We've been told we're the most open observatory in the country," he said.

Hay is donated by farmers

ALBANY (AP) — Texas farmers have donated more than 50 tons of hay to help Albany ranchers feed their stock after a four-day fire caused range land losses here earlier this month.

Hay drives from Brownwood, Springtown, Corsicana, Weatherford, Brady, Lubbock, Haskell, and Meridian have accounted for most of the donations, said Range Conservationist Patti Fulton of the Shackelford County Soil Conservation Service.

More than 100,000 acres of rangeland was burned March 11-15, in what is considered the largest range fire in modern Texas history, Ms. Fulton said.

Approximately 10 to 20 tons of the donated hay has been delivered. "And we've gotten a lot more hay donated that has not been brought in yet," Ms. Fulton said. "There's no way to transport it down here." She said officials are hoping some organizations will offer to help transport the hay.

"We've gotten 62 tons of cubes and feed in sacks," Ms. Fulton said. "Many ranchers have liquidated their herds, sold their stocker cattle or found other pastures, but there are still ranchers in need of feed."

People interested in making contributions can call Fulton's office at 762-2552.

Benefit golf this evening

Snyder Country Club is hosting a nine-hole benefit golf tournament this evening.

Tee off time is tentatively set for 8 p.m. Golfers will be using lighted balls for the event, which is a four-man scramble. Fifteen teams are entered.

Proceeds from the tournament will benefit the athletic scholarship fund at Texas Tech University.

Ladies set for Monahans

MONAHANS - Snyder's Lady Tigers will try to make up some ground when they tee off in the second Girl's District 2-4A Golf Tournament here Friday.

A shotgun start is set for 9:30 a.m. at Ward County Golf Course. Andrews took top honors in the first 2-4A tourney, held last week in Snyder. The Lady Mustangs' A-team won with a 386. The B-team finished second with a 426. Big Spring was third with a 434, followed by Snyder A with a 439 - just 13 strokes out of second place.

Girls 2-4A Golf Standings after one tournament

Team Scores: 1. Andrews A 386, 2. Andrews B 426, 3. Big Spring 434, 4. Snyder A 439, 5. Fort Stockton 451, 6. Monahans 451, 7. Lamesa 473, 8. Snyder B 499.

Medalist: Jen Galloway, Andrews A, 91; Nikki Martin, Andrews A, 94; Kim Locke, Big Spring, 97.

Snyder A: Michele Anderson 107, Jaci LaRoux 109, Jamie Leatherwood 110, Amy Armstrong 113, Stacy Cline 125.

Snyder B: Denise Thompson 124, Lena Ward 138, Wendy Miller 127, Tracy Cotton 110.

Boys vie in San Angelo

SAN ANGELO - Coach Mackey Greene's Tigers hope to move up in the District 2-4A golf standings when they enter the Lake View Tournament here Friday.

Snyder is in fifth place after two tournaments with 666 strokes. Big Spring leads with 641, followed by Andrews with 658, Monahans with 661 and Sweetwater with 664.

Tiger senior Marc McQueen is vying for medalist honors. He is currently third in the standings with a 157 score. Jeff Rhodes of Big Spring leads with a 149.

Friday's tournament, to be held at Riverside Municipal Golf Course, is slated for an 8 p.m. shotgun start.

District 2-4A Standings after two tournaments

Team Scores: 1. Big Spring A, 305-336-641; 2. Andrews A, 309-349-658; 3. Monahans A, 333-328-661; 4. Sweetwater A, 321-343-664; 5. Snyder A, 311-355-666; 6. Big Spring IV, 318-360-678; 7. Greensboro boasts big purse, qualification to the Masters

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) - It's a $1 million golf tournament. And it's also a qualifying round. "It's 144 guys going for one spot," said Gil Morgan, one of those who was preparing to tee off today in the first round of the Greater Greensboro Open.

The one spot in question is in the Masters. The winner of this tournament, if not already qualified, will gain entry to the annual gathering of golf's greats next week at Augusta, Ga., in the first of the game's Big Four events. Morgan, coming back from surgery to correct a shoulder injury, is one of those on the outside hoping to get in.

And the 41-year-old doctor of optometry has a record that indicates he'll be among the favorites for the $180,000 first prize in this event and the place in the Masters field. "Obviously, it's a possibility," Morgan said. "If I can maintain this consistency, I should be in position to have a chance."

Consistency has been his strong point this season. He has finished no lower than eighth in any tournament, ranks second in three of the Tour's 10 statistical categories, and leads the all-around. "It's a little surprising, considering that I was having some neck trouble and didn't touch a club in November and December," said Morgan, who had a torn rotator cuff and missed most of the 1986 and 1987 seasons. "I really wasn't anticipating this kind of start. I don't feel I have the control I once had, but my scoring ability is better than it's ever been," said the winner of six titles and more than $2 million in a 16-season career.

"Maybe part of it is a renewed desire, a greater interest. Maybe being gone for a while has made me want to play a little more than before." Morgan is part of a field that includes three of the four holders of the major titles, a strong British contingent and such former Greensboro champions as Lanny Wadkins and Ray Floyd.

U.S. Open winner Scott Simpson is the defending champion. PGA title-holder Larry Nelson also is a former Greensboro winner. Nick Faldo of England, the

Connecticut NIT champ with win over Ohio State

NEW YORK (AP) - Connecticut's prospects were bleak early in the second half of the National Invitation Tournament final against Ohio State, but were no worse than they were in January and February. The Huskies, who had two four-game losing streaks against Big East foes and ultimately finished last in the conference, trailed 36-30 with 15:21 left and leading scorer Cliff Robinson on the bench with four fouls.

But Connecticut scored 29 of the next 41 points and went on to defeat Ohio State 72-67 Wednesday night for the NIT title. "I was scared to death," Connecticut Coach Jim Calhoun said of the 6-foot-11 Robinson's departure. "Cliff has been our leader this season. Even when he's not scoring, he's a factor with rebounding and blocking shots. I didn't know whether to go as big as possible or as quick as possible. We went quick, with three forwards."

"We always look inside to Cliff, but when he left we didn't put our heads down," said Phil Gamble, who led the Huskies with 25 points. Robinson, who scored 29 points in Connecticut's semifinal victory over Boston College, fouled out with 2:51 left and finished with five points. "I was glad to see Robinson

British Open champ, leads a British field that includes Sandy Lyle of Scotland and Ian Woosnam of Wales, who led the world in money-winnings last season. Other major figures include Fuzzy Zoeller, Andy Bean, Hal Sutton, John Mahaffey and Danny Edwards, twice a winner of this title.

leave, but our lead didn't last long after he left." Ohio State Coach Gary Williams said. Gamble, the tournament's Most Valuable Player, hit five 3-pointers and combined with Tate George to score eight points each during the 29-12 surge that gave Connecticut a 59-48 lead with 4:55 left. The Huskies, 20-14, had never before made the semifinals in six previous NIT trips. Ohio State, 20-13, won the NIT title in 1986, and the Buckeyes were making their third trip to the Final Four in four appearances.

To hire sixth coach in 13 years...

UCLA fires Hazzard

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Sometime soon, UCLA will hire its sixth head basketball coach since the legendary John Wooden retired 13 years ago after guiding the Bruins to their 10th NCAA championship in 12 years. Walt Hazzard, who helped UCLA win its first NCAA title 24 years ago, was fired Wednesday, less than three weeks after completing his fourth season as the Bruins' head coach.

Hazzard, who turns 46 next month, guided the Bruins to a 16-14 record this season, well below expectations for a team coming off a Pacific-10 Conference championship in 1986-87. The Bruins finished in a tie for second in the Pac-10, but were upset by Washington State 73-71 in a first-round game of the conference tournament on March 11. Hazzard, the Pac-10 Coach of the Year last season, had received a two-year extension on his contract last summer, meaning he was under contract through the 1989-90 season. The school said Athletic Director Peter Dalis is screening candidates for a successor to Hazzard and "hopes to name a replacement as soon as possible."

Among names being mentioned, according to a source close to the school who asked not to be identified, are former UCLA Coach Larry Brown, now the head coach at Kansas, and Arizona Coach Lute Olson. Both Kansas and Arizona are among the Final Four who will compete in Kansas City this weekend - Kansas faces Duke and Arizona meets Oklahoma in Saturday's NCAA semifinals, with the winners squaring off Monday night for the champion-

Branch takes post at Lamar
BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) - Tony Branch, an assistant coach at Lamar University the past two years, has been named head basketball coach. Branch, 30, hired Wednesday, replaces Tom Abatemarco, who resigned last week to become head coach at Drake University.

Kruger turns down Texas

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) - Basketball Coach Lon Kruger has accepted a new contract with Kansas State, one day after meeting with officials trying to fill the head coaching job at the University of Texas. "We're remaining at Kansas State and I couldn't be any more pleased," Kruger said at an informal news conference Wednesday afternoon. "This is where we want to be. This is the battle we want to fight." Kansas State Athletic Director Larry Travis said Kruger's current four-year contract would be extended to five years. Kruger will receive a pay raise, but neither Travis nor Kruger would say how much. Kruger said he hoped that by agreeing to the extension he was sending a signal that he planned to remain at K-State for some time.

"Barb (his wife) and I talked about this decision as being one that is maybe going to chart the course," Kruger said. "We're here to stay." Kruger finished his second season at Kansas State at 25-9 after losing to Kansas in the NCAA Midwest Regional final Sunday. He started in 1986 with a base salary of $58,000 for four years. After the 1986-87 season, in which the Wildcats went 20-9, Kruger received a $7,000 raise to $65,000 and a one-year extension of his original four-year deal. Former Texas Coach Bob Weltlich had a base salary of about $74,000 and a total package of about $100,000. Kruger, 35, turned down what apparently was a chance to coach the men's basketball team and work for his old boss and long-time friend, UT Athletic Director DeLoss Dodds.

Swaggart plans to preach again

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Television evangelist Jimmy Swaggart vows to return to the pulpit in defiance of church elders, saying preacher Oral Roberts has freed him of "demons with long fingernails" digging into his body.

Swaggart, accused of motel trysts with a prostitute, intends to return to the pulpit May 22, three months after stepping down. Bill Tréby, his lawyer and a board member of Jimmy Swaggart World Ministries, said Wednesday.

Swaggart said several weeks ago that he has undergone extensive prayer and counseling with Roberts, the Rev. Mike Evans of Euless, Texas, Swaggart's friend and a fellow TV evangelist, said in a television interview Wednesday.

"And he said to me that Oral Roberts called him up and told him that he saw demons with long fingernails digging their flesh into Jimmy Swaggart's body—and that he cast those demon spirits out of Jimmy Swaggart," Evans said.

Evans told Dallas television station WFAA he did not know whether Roberts' counseling led to Swaggart's plans to resume preaching May 22, but said that Swaggart feels the process has freed him of his sin.

"I am proud to confirm that," Oral Roberts' son, Richard, told the television station.

Swaggart's return May 22 coincides with the end of a three-month suspension by the church's Louisiana council. The national church's General Presbytery on Tuesday overruled that term as too lenient and barred him from the pulpit for at least a year and ordered him to undergo two years of rehabilitation and counseling.

Treeby said there was a conflict within the Assemblies, the nation's largest Pentecostal denomination, over whether the national presbytery or the Louisiana council has the right to discipline ministers.

"He is willing to submit himself to the Louisiana District," Treeby told a televised news conference at Swaggart's headquarters here. "He will be considering an appeal to the national Presbytery."

However, Juleen Turnage, a spokeswoman for the national office of the Assemblies in Springfield, Mo., said Swaggart's option to return after three months "does not exist anymore."

"The General Presbytery overwhelmingly and without a dissenting vote affirmed the authority of the Executive Presbytery to make decisions on matters concerning ministerial credentials," she said Wednesday.

The 13-member Executive Presbytery acts as the church's board of directors, while the 232-member General Presbytery is its oversight body.

The Rev. G. Raymond Carlson, the Assemblies' general superintendent, said Tuesday that if Swaggart did not accept its ruling, "the Executive Presbytery would no doubt take action to dismiss him."

Church officials originally said Swaggart had 30 days to appeal the terms of his rehabilitation. However, Mrs. Turnage said Wednesday church bylaws provide for an appeal only in cases of dismissal, not suspension.

Asked if a year away from the pulpit would ruin Swaggart's lucrative ministry, Treeby said, "He is weighing all those considerations very carefully."

The ministry has said it took in $150 million in 1986 from its worldwide operations, including sales. It contributes an estimated $12 million a year to the Assemblies' foreign missions program.

Louisiana Assemblies officials have close ties to Swaggart's church, television and Bible school enterprise. Cecil Janway, superintendent of the Louisiana district, also sits on the board of Jimmy Swaggart World Ministries.

Although the Executive Presbytery interrupted its regular bimonthly meeting to watch Treeby's news conference, "We don't consider that we've heard from Jimmy Swaggart, because we don't communicate through television news conferences with our disciplined ministers," Mrs. Turnage said.

Swaggart tearfully stepped down from the pulpit on Feb. 21 after confessing an unspecified sin. Church officials later said they had seen photographs of the evangelist with a prostitute in a motel room.

Missing Einstein manuscript recovered; suspect arrested

AUSTIN (AP) — The grandson of former University of Texas football coach Darrell Royal was arrested on a felony theft charge after a missing page of Albert Einstein's notes was found at the teen-ager's home, police said.

Samuel K. Royal, 18, was arrested at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday at an Austin apartment, said UT Police Lt. Ronald Thomas.

The page of handwritten notes, owned by the university, was reported missing last week from a locked glass display case on the fourth floor of the Peter T. Flawn Academic Center on the university campus. It was among six pages on display from a series addressing Euclidean rotation.

Investigators said a tip from Crimestoppers led them to the younger Royal's West Austin apartment Tuesday where the page was found in a photo album, along with photographs of Darrell Royal.

According to an affidavit and complaint filed by Lt. Alan Sanderson of the Travis County District Attorney's Office, a woman named Alissa Chambers, who also lives at the apartment where the page was discovered, said Samuel Royal "walked in and flashed some papers in front of my face and said, 'These are the writings of Albert Einstein.'"

UT Police Sgt. Jimmy Moore said in an affidavit for a search warrant that he met with Mack Royal, who identified himself as Darrell Royal's son, Friday. Mack Royal, who is custodian for the fourth floor of the academic center, said his son was Sam Royal, Moore said.

Samuel Royal is not a student at UT, university police said.

Darrell Royal did not return a telephone call from The Associated Press to his Austin residence. He coached at UT from 1957 through 1976, was UT athletic director until 1979 and now is special assistant to the president of the university.

The missing page is part of an archive of 60 or 70 pages "upon which Einstein wrote the notes representing his thinking as he was trying to work out his theories near the end of his life," said John Chalmers, librarian for UT's Harry Ransom Humanities year term at this year's election. It is scheduled June 30.

"Another important change this year is that one member of the committee can be an active FmHA farm borrower, or be eligible for an FmHA farm loan," Pruitt said.

Those interested in running for the committee can obtain a petition and other information regarding the election at the county office, located in Rotan at 111-B North Garfield.

will be open Friday as well.

In addition, regular classes are scheduled on the campus of Western Texas College and administrative offices will be open as usual.

prior to the deadline, plaintiffs filed amended motions which eliminated Fowler and Judge Goodwin from the suit. A third amended petition was filed the following day which further narrowed issues in the suit by dropping questions related to the city's agreement to furnish water to the prison site.

Snyder civic leaders have worked for more than two years to attract the state facility to Snyder in an effort to improve a sagging economy.

Research Center.

The university has owned the papers for 25 years. Einstein apparently wrote the notes in the early 1950s. He died in 1955.

It appears that the manuscript taken from the display suffered minor damage before it was recovered, Chalmers said.

"A small piece of it is torn away, and there is evidence of some water damage. I can't be positive, because I did not inspect this document before this unfortunate event," he said.

The display case was locked and the glass unbroken when the theft was discovered. It is unclear whether the person who took the document had a key to the case or was able to remove the document in some other way, Chalmers said.

Although the page likely could have been sold for a couple of thousand dollars, Chalmers said, its value far exceeds that amount.

"For all of us, it's a piece of our heritage, and it is not to be replaced. In that sense, it has no price," Chalmers said.

Regret expressed

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A death row inmate convicted of hiring a mercenary through Solider of Fortune magazine to kill his wife says he regrets mistreating her.

During a tearful interview Wednesday, Robert Black Jr. described himself as a manic-depressive and womanizer who had lost all feeling for his family several years before Sandra Black's death on Feb. 21, 1985 in Bryan, Texas.

"Probably few people have someone to love them as much as she loved me," the 41-year-old former Marine captain said in an interview at the Texas Department of Corrections' Ellis I Unit outside Huntsville.

Black is awaiting execution for hiring John Wayne Hearn to kill Mrs. Black, a 36-year-old daycare operator. An execution date has not been set.

Hearn agreed to fake a burglary and kill Mrs. Black so Black, who had trouble finding steady employment since returning from Vietnam in 1972, could cash his wife's $200,000 insurance policies. Hearn was the fourth man Black tried to hire over a two-year period.

Appeals court upholds verdict

The four concurrent 45-year sentences that a Snyder woman received last summer for delivery of a controlled substance have been confirmed by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Lubbock attorney Bill Wischkaemper, who represented Mozelle King in the cases, had appealed the convictions for delivery of Dilaudid.

King's son, Junebug, also was given a 45-year sentence in a subsequent trial on the same charge.

Collision occurs

A 1985 Ford van driven by Deamon Michael Price of Rt. 1, Box 249, was in collision with a 1987 Toyota pickup truck driven by Samnang Ding of 3030 Varsity Square at 10:54 p.m. Wednesday in the 4100 Block of College Ave.

AWOL arrest noted locally

A 19-year-old soldier who was away without leave from Ft. Sill, Okla., was arrested by police for the Army at 11:50 p.m. Wednesday at a local residence.

Police received information that the AWOL soldier was at the house, and after a query to Ft. Sill, Army authorities asked the police department to take him into custody.

The soldier was being held at Scurry County Jail to await the arrival of military police, an officer said.

option of taking a TEC typing test. The results of the BEST test and the typing test are then forwarded to Huntsville.

The names of clerical applicants who qualify will be placed on a list which will be returned to the locally-based prison unit. For clerk posts, administrative officials at the local prison will complete the hiring process.

For correctional officer posts, the TDC uses the test scores on the BEST test to screen initial applicants. For those who qualify, TDC sends the prospective employee an employment application and an appointment for further testing in Huntsville, where they are given the TDC pre-employment test.

Also in Huntsville, correctional officer applicants are checked for weight, fingerprinted for background checks and interviewed.

Once this interview and testing phase is completed, a background check is run on the individual.

For those who qualify, they are then notified to report to one of two TDC training academies. These are located in Huntsville and Gatesville.

This training is a three-week phase. Correctional officers are paid once they begin their academy training.

At their first TDC assignment, they are given also two additional weeks of on the job training.

The pay opportunities for correctional officers begin with a salary of $1,212 per month while they are in training at the academy and during the first five months of "probationary status."

After 18 months of employment, this salary rises to $1,784 per month, an annual income of $21,408.

Clerical staff are paid based upon their "entry level." Most begin at entry level 4, which pays $977 a month or $11,724 per year. A higher level, group 6, pays 1,106 per month or $13,272 per year.

In addition to salary, correctional officers are provided their uniforms and equipment at no cost, free laundry of uniforms, meals furnished while on duty, membership in the State Employees Retirement System and group health insurance of which the state pays a portion of the employee's premium.

Fulltime clerical staffers also receive the health insurance benefit and membership in the state retirement system as well as a partial pay of social security benefits.

In a final requirement for employment, both guard and clerical positions require that applicants may not be on probation for any felony convictions and that if they were ever on probation or sentenced for a felony crime, this sentence was completed a minimum of 15 years ago.

Gore once again attacks Jackson

By The Associated Press

Democratic presidential contender Albert Gore Jr. leveled strong criticism at Jesse Jackson for the second day in a row, and asked why his other opponents — particularly Michael Dukakis — are reluctant to do likewise. But Dukakis scoffed at that, saying voters "don't want to know what Gore thinks of Jackson."

Vice President George Bush, meanwhile, moved to distance himself from the growing controversy surrounding Attorney General Edwin Meese.

The Democrats were campaigning mainly in Wisconsin, with a primary on Tuesday, and Colorado, which holds Democratic caucuses on Monday.

Jackson was stung by Gore's contention that, among other things, he lacks the experience necessary to be president. Campaigning Wednesday night in Wisconsin, he told a crowd at a church in the working-class city of Cudahy: "Some leaders don't hold office. But leaders stand with the people in the hour of hardship and challenge."

Earlier, Jackson complained to reporters at Washington's National Airport that Gore's remarks constituted an attack "more personal than principled." Gore, passing through the same airport a short while later, took issue with that, and criticized Jackson anew.

"I think it's ridiculous," the Tennessee senator said. "He's a major contender for the White House. Is he to be immune from any questioning of his position on the issues or his approach to the campaign? ... Is there a separate standard?"

Gore and Jackson had planned to meet Wednesday, but it fell through. In light of Gore's comments a day earlier, Jackson said, "It's not necessary to meet at this time."

Gore ridiculed rival Dukakis, saying the Massachusetts governor's hesitancy to spell out differences with Jackson was "ludicrous." Dukakis, campaigning in Wisconsin Wednesday night, replied: "We can discuss issues without attacking each other... (Voters) don't want to know what Gore thinks of Jackson."

Dukakis has been under pressure as a result of recent losses to Jackson in Illinois and Michigan. But he managed to recoup with a solid 2-1 victory in Tuesday's Connecticut primary.

With that victory, the Massachusetts governor again took the lead in the national delegate race. According to the latest AP count, Dukakis had 648.55, Jackson 642.55, Gore 367.8 and Sen. Paul Simon 169.5, with 488.6 uncommitted.

Asked by reporters in Boston on Wednesday to detail the differences between himself and Jackson, Dukakis answered cautiously. He mentioned disagreements over Middle East policy and some domestic economic matters, but provided no specifics, saying he would discuss the matter more fully in a Wisconsin speech later this week.

Dukakis hinted that Jackson's lack of any experience in elective office ought to be considered by voters. But he quickly moved to stress that any disagreements he had with Jackson had always been "friendly and respectful."

That attitude got Gore's dander up.

"Is there supposed to be some unwritten rule why Jesse Jackson cannot be criticized, why his positions have to be just sacrosanct, and nobody can say anything about them for fear somebody will just misinterpret what you're saying?" he said.

Cancerous tumor said removed

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Barbara Louise Jones says she feels much better now that she's had a 130-pound tumor removed, and she urges others not to wait as long as she did to seek medical help.

"I realize now how dangerous it can be and could have been for me," she said Wednesday.

Miss Jones, 55, said the tumor appeared gradually over the past three years and at first thought she was only putting on weight. Then when she realized something was wrong, she put off going to a doctor because she feared she would suffer the same type of painful death as her mother, who died of ovarian cancer in 1973.

Eventually, Miss Jones' weight doubled and the 5-foot-1½ woman was hardly able to move. She retired early from her job as a school district purchasing agent last March and by July was unable to drive a car or move about without tiring.

Now, she is almost completely recovered from the December operation to remove the ovarian tumor, said Fort Worth surgeon

Dr. J.E. Way.

"I went to the doctor Monday and my blood pressure is up a little, but other than that, I'm doing fine," Miss Jones said.

Miss Jones finally decided to seek medical attention in November and was referred to Way. Within two weeks, the tumor was removed.

Way said he had to cut a 4½-foot incision in Miss Jones' abdomen to remove the malignant tumor. He said most ovarian cysts are detected when they are 1-1½ inches.

"There's nothing typical about this," Way said. "You can find a lot of tumors that weigh 5 to 30 pounds, and those are humongous tumors."

The 1988 Guinness Book of World Records lists a 1905 case of a 328-pound ovarian cyst as the largest tumor in history. Oddly enough, the woman in that case also was from Texas; the reference book says she recovered fully.

Way said the tumor was fixed to the walls of Miss Jones' abdomen and stretched her skin almost paper-thin.

Your probabilities for achieving several important goals look encouraging in the year ahead. However, it's best to strive for these targets independently rather than with partners.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Try not to involve yourself with people whose ideals and standards are not in harmony with yours. It could be a fruitless arrangement. Major changes are ahead for Aries in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Matters that you consider top priority today might not be of equal significance to your associates. It's best not to count on them too heavily.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's best not to make changes merely for change's sake today. If you do, you might throw something off course that is presently heading for a successful conclusion.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A misunderstanding between you and your mate must be resolved quickly today, or else it could turn into something far more serious. Be tolerant.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Details are of extreme importance today, yet in your rush to get things done, there's a possibility you won't be as mindful of them as you should be.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Before buying any merchandise today, let your past experience guide you. Decide how often you might use that which you're looking to purchase.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This is one of those days when no matter how hard you try, there may be several people you'll be unable to please. Do your best, then back off.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you're not careful, the early morning "grumpies" could put you in a bad mood for the entire day. Try not to rain on your own parade.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It might be difficult for you to find the middle ground today where your finances are concerned. You could fluctuate between extravagance and stinginess.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Feelings of insecurity could cause you to try too hard today. Don't overuse tactics you've chosen to accomplish your purpose. Hang loose and stay on the road.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Usually you're a rather optimistic person, but today, you could be too negative for your own good. Appreciate the seriousness of your problems, but don't let them overwhelm you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) One of your present dreams may not be realistic. Before focusing all of your efforts towards this objective, re-examine its feasibility.

Trial moved from Houston...

Change of venue granted

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — The trial of a Tennessee man accused of soliciting contract killings through Soldier of Fortune magazine has been moved here from Houston, officials said.

Richard Michael Savage, 39, is set to face trial in Brownsville on Monday on charges he arranged a grenade attack on a Pasadena house after a woman hired him through an advertisement in the magazine.

Savage had been scheduled for trial earlier this month in Houston until U.S. District Judge James DeAnda ruled Savage could not get a fair trial there because of publicity in an unrelated civil case involving Soldier of Fortune.

On March 3, a federal civil jury in Houston awarded a $9.4 million judgment against Soldier of Fortune when it found the magazine was negligent by publishing a classified advertisement that led to the slaying of a Bryan woman. Savage was not involved in that killing.

All but five of 66 potential jurors called for Savage's trial said they read news accounts of the civil lawsuit against the magazine, prompting DeAnda to grant a change of venue in the criminal case.

Gary Cobe, the assistant U.S. attorney in Houston who will prosecute Savage, declined comment on the case Wednesday, but confirmed the trial will begin Monday.

Alice V. Brado, 48, allegedly hired Savage through a Soldier of Fortune advertisement to kill former Pasadena resident Dana Free.

Savage was indicted in October 1986 along with several others in connection with a murder-for-hire scheme initiated by Ms. Brado.

Ms. Brado allegedly hired Savage through an ad in the magazine to arrange the death of Free, whom she said absconded with her $300,000 life savings. She later pleaded guilty to charges stemming from the scheme and told investigators she wanted to collect a $300,000 life insurance policy she said Free had taken out as a guarantee he would invest her savings.

Ms. Brado later died of emphysema in a Kentucky prison, while serving a five-year term in the case.

The indictment stated Brado paid Savage $20,000 to arrange Free's murder, to have been carried out by William Clayton Buckley, 36, and Sherry Lynn Breeden, 22, both of Knoxville, Tenn.

The pair allegedly tried to bomb Free's car in Atlanta during June 1985, but Free escaped and fled to Pasadena.

75-year-old receives 50 years

DALLAS (AP) — A 75-year-old, wheelchair-bound man convicted for the 12th time in 10 years has been sentenced to 50 years in prison.

Nelson Jacobs was sentenced Thursday following his conviction Tuesday for car burglary and being a habitual criminal. He faced a range of sentences from 25 years to life in prison.

He told jurors he began a life of crime at 66, after his wife died and he found it increasingly difficult to survive on a $370-a-month Social Security check. But, he admitted he spent much of the money on women, alcohol and drugs.

"I made a few mistakes," Jacobs said after the sentencing. "I'm not glad about that." He said he has overcome his addiction to drinking and drugs.

Prosecutors said Jacobs had been convicted 11 times in the past nine years for crimes ranging from forgery to theft, drug possession and burglary. He was convicted Tuesday in the Jan. 5 theft of a Corvette t-top.

State law requires a minimum 25-year sentence for anyone convicted of a felony after serving two previous prison terms. Jacobs was placed on probation five times, served three prison terms and had two probation violations before he was convicted Tuesday.

Jessica McClure aids in fund raising effort

LANCASTER, Texas (AP) — The mother of two-year-old Jessica McClure says she couldn't resist a request to use the toddler's celebrity status to help raise funds for a boy with severe heart and lung problems.

"I just can't turn away a child," said Cissy McClure. "Mine wasn't turned away."

Jessica, whose rescue from a Midland well attracted international attention last fall, will participate in a balloon release at 6 p.m. today to benefit 5-year-old Brennan Bolin, who needs a heart-lung transplant.

Benefit coordinator Bonnie Arnold said Jessica became involved in the fundraiser because the families of the children are acquainted. Jessica and her mother flew to Lancaster by private plane Wednesday for a noon reception for the children.

Brennan has idiopathic pulmonary hemosiderosis, a rare condition in which bleeding occurs within the lungs' lining. Mrs. Arnold said the family hopes Brennan can receive a heart-lung transplant at the University of Minnesota this summer.

"They're hoping that unless anything goes wrong, he will be weaned from steroids for six weeks, as of June 1, and he will be relocating to Minnesota to await a donor," she said.

The surgery will cost $650,000 and all but $125,000 is covered by insurance, she said. Lancaster residents already have donated $15,000 for the operation.
