Dukakis, Jackson still locked in battle

By The Associated Press

Presidential contenders Michael Dukakis and Jesse Jackson head into battle in today's Wisconsin primary on the heels of a hard-fought and inconclusive contest in Colorado that seemed to mirror their dramatic duel for the Democratic nomination.

Monday night's Colorado caucuses were a see-saw battle that saw first one and then the other gain the upper hand. When the state Democratic party quit counting early this morning, Dukakis had 46 percent to Jackson's 40 percent, with just under half the precincts reporting.

Tennessee Sen. Albert Gore lagged far behind with 4 percent, and Sen. Paul Simon didn't get enough votes to count.

On the Republican side, Vice President George Bush sailed to a strong lead in Colorado's GOP straw polls.

While voters were calling the shots in Wisconsin today, the candidates scattered to regroup for big-state contests coming up in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio in the next month.

Dukakis sounded upbeat as he awaited the verdict in Wisconsin. "It looks good," he said as he arrived home in Boston Monday night. "We worked hard."

The four Democratic presidential hopefuls campaigned Monday across Wisconsin, with Jackson getting heat from rivals for his contact with Panamanian strongman Manuel Antonio Noriega.

Dukakis joined the criticism of Jackson. But that didn't stop Gore from saying the Massachusetts governor "gives the impression of being scared to death" to take Jackson.

Dukakis, in turn, icily suggested Gore spend more time campaigning for votes and less time criticizing other candidates.

Although Bush has the GOP nomination wrapped up, former television evangelist Pat Robertson still contested Colorado, with its 36 delegates at stake.

The Democratic front-runners are locked in a close delegate battle nationally.

27 cent increase on monthly bill ok'd for utility

City councilmen Monday night approved a cost of service adjustment request from Lone Star Gas Co. that will increase the company's base monthly rate for residential customers some 27 cents.

The increase—which will raise a residential customer's base rate to $7.40—will go into effect in May. For commercial accounts, the base rate will go to $11.40, Lone Star manager Wedge Turner said.

Turner said the company lost 149 residential and 14 commercial customers last year and that it is possible a decreased rate could be proposed next year if the new Texas Department of Corrections unit helps restore the lost business.

He said, however, that the $12,792 in additional revenue the increase represents is still about $20,000 short of making up the loss that resulted from the decrease in customers.

Also Monday, Jack Denman, a member of the economic development committee here, made an unscheduled appearance to urge a heavy turnout on April 18, for a 10:30 a.m. TDC unit groundbreaking and 11:30 a.m. barbecue luncheon at the National Guard Armory.

Denman said Turner is going to a fireworks factory in Enid, Okla., to pick up fireworks for a 21-gun salute at the groundbreaking.

He noted the final gunburst will feature a gigantic American flag that will float down from the sky.

The council conducted a brief public hearing on the proposed new franchise contract with Snyder Cablevision Associates, which is buying SCAT TV Cable. No comment was offered.

A second reading of the ordinance effecting the transfer is scheduled for whenever a revised copy of the franchise is received from Austin cable TV consultant Jack Hopper, who helped negotiate a revision with Snyder Cablevision executives last week.

Also Monday, City Secretary Jeanne Johnson presented the annual "comprehensive annual financial report" for the year ended last Sept. 30.

The report said the city spent $75,359 less in its general fund budget than was originally projected, $2,213,969 to $2,288,728, and less than was expended in fiscal 1986, $2,314,637.

But revenues were also less than had been projected, $2,039,382 to $2,295,353, leaving a $255,971 deficit and a year-end general fund balance of $1,013,551.

The reduction in spending resulted in an overall deficit of $180,612.

Dick Norris and Mike Dennis were re-appointed to three-year terms on the Planning and Zoning Commission, and Gary

Stabbing prompts assault indictment

A 27-year-old man was indicted Monday for aggravated assault by a Scurry County grand jury on the same day he had been charged with stabbing a Hermleigh man.

Daniel Amador Perez of 2001 Ave. K was among six men indicted by the panel after he was arrested early Sunday in connection with the stabbing of 29-year-old Dionicio Sanchez, who was listed in critical condition Tuesday at a Lubbock hospital.

In other indictments, William Raborn, 18, formerly of Snyder and now of Andrews, was true-billed on an escape from custody charge.

Raborn was being held for probation violations when he was taken to Snyder High School on March 31 to take a test for a general equivalency diploma.

The youth took the opportunity to escape from custody, however, and was apprehended April 2 in Andrews.

Felony DWI indictments were issued against Glendell Lee Treat, 28, of 1012 27th St., who was arrested March 26; David Guerra Jr., 21, of 307 N. Ave. Y, who was arrested March 18; Arnulfo Ronnie Hernandez, 29, of 1303 18th St., who was arrested March 20; and Raymond Mundo Medrano, 59, of 1900 Ave. I, who was arrested March 26.

Stabbing victim said some improved today

Dionicio Sanchez of Hermleigh remained in critical condition Tuesday at St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock with stab wounds suffered in an early Sunday incident here.

Sanchez, 29, was listed in slightly improved condition in the hospital's intensive care unit, however, a St. Mary's spokesman said Tuesday morning.

Daniel Amador Perez, 27, of 2001 Ave. K was arrested and indicted on a charge of aggravated assault in connection with the incident Monday.

Perez remained in Scurry County Jail Tuesday in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Police said Sanchez was stabbed four times, one thrust piercing a lung and another nicking his heart, when he stepped outside at the Latin American Center on 13th St. in north Snyder at 12:51 a.m. Sunday.

An officer said the stabbing apparently stemmed from an argument in the nightclub restroom.

Sanchez was treated at Cogdell Memorial Hospital before being flown to the Lubbock hospital on St. Mary's "Flight for Life" helicopter.

Perez was arrested at his home at 1:21 a.m. Sunday by city and county officers.

Small crop of wild flowers won't deter WTC program

A symposium to discuss wild flowers and artist's renditions of this annual spring phenomenon will be featured here April 16—a Saturday—as the fourth annual Wild Flower Day is held at Western Texas College.

The bad news, however, is that a scarcity of spring rains have held back this year's crop at the WTC wild flower area.

Traditionally at this time, a wild flower trail is marked on campus with many varieties present. This year, Britt Canada, wild flower committee chairman, notes only seven specimens have been marked.

"If we get some rain," he said, the wild flower conditions could still improve between now and April 16.

"Without the rain, we'll be able to do some things this year we wouldn't otherwise."

The lack of rainfall this year should not hurt the long range wild flower crop at the WTC prairie area which fronts the college. "The seeds can lie dormant for many years," Canada said. "In fact, some like the bluebonnet have such a hard shell that it takes several years for them to open."

The wild flower area on campus was officially designated last year. To encourage the growth of the natural habitat, it is now mowed only approximately twice yearly to allow the plants to increase naturally.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Anybody who thinks the way to a man's heart is through his stomach probably flunked geography."

In order to learn more about the yawn, researchers have turned to the computer for assistance. The world's first automated yawn has been created, and the user-friendly system can vary the speed from a menu of choices—from slow to very fast face.

This state-of-the-art yawn is an effort to solve the great mystery of the yawn, said to be one of the most common yet least understood human actions.

Some who study the yawn believe that yawning may have some important social or physiological significance. Psychotics, for example, rarely yawn. One fellow at the University of Maryland has spent more than 10 years conducting his study.

It is commonly believed people yawn to give themselves an extra shot of oxygen or to purge the excess carbon dioxide from their blood. Not so, say researchers who found that people given pure oxygen yawn at the same rate as those breathing regular air.

Man isn't the only yawner. Most animals yawn—including reptiles and fish. In some monkey cultures, the yawn reflects social status.

It has been determined that yawning can provide some valuable clues about people. If your companion yawns, be sympathetic. You may even be flattered as a yawn can improve hearing ability by arousing the cerebral cortex. He may want to hear you better.

No doubt yawning can be contagious. One researcher reported that blind people yawn after hearing others do it. Through research, it has become clear that almost anything associated with yawning initiates yawning.

Furthermore, the average human yawn is 5.9 seconds. One volunteer in the study was a live wire. He logged 76 yawns—one every 24 seconds.

Hey, don't you know it's impolite to yawn while reading this?

Jet hijacked

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Arabic-speaking hijackers today commandeered a Kuwait Airways jumbo jet with 114 people aboard, forcing it to land in Iran and threatening to blow it up, Iran said.

Iran first denied the plane permission to land, but reversed its decision when the pilot reported the jet was running out of fuel.

Local

Farm program

A farm program related to "Fertilization Practices and Application for West Texas" will be presented at the Inadale Community Center Thursday at 7 p.m.

Featured speaker will be Dr. Charles Stiehler, a Fort Stockton-based area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The 1987 area ag demonstration results will be presented also. The event is sponsored by the Farm Bureau Young Farmer and Rancher Committees from Mitchell, Nolan and Scurry Counties in cooperation with the extension service.

In Scurry County, contact Steve Moore for more information.

Blood today

Individuals have until 8 p.m. Tuesday to donate blood at the second blood drive of 1988. The drive is underway at the Towle Park Barn.

Donor incentives include a range of food and drink items donated by local businesses.

Blood drives are held here every eight weeks and are jointly sponsored by Cogdell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and the local advisory council for United Blood Services of Lubbock.

Volunteer search of burial area planned

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Forming a human chain to search for more graves in the desert of northeast El Paso is not the last resort, but it's pretty close, a police official says.

Police plan to form the search party next weekend to determine if they have overlooked any graves. The bodies of six young women have been found since Sept. 4 in the desert 18 miles northeast of downtown, all buried in shallow graves and all within a half-mile of one another. And at least three young women from El Paso and neighboring Chaparral, N.M., remain missing.

Volunteers from the police department, the Sheriff's Reserves and from Fort Bliss will "saturate as much of an area as we can with as many people as we can" beginning at 7 a.m. Saturday, police spokesman Lt. J.R. Grijalva said.

A similar search might be continued the following Saturday, he said.

"This is not the last resort, but it's one of the last resorts," he said of the plan, in which volunteers would probe the ground for any signs of burial.

The final solution would be to use rototillers to search the 10-square-mile area, Grijalva said, adding that the drastic tactic likely would destroy some evidence.

Four of the bodies were found by trained dogs, but police believe any remaining bodies would be so decomposed that dogs would not be able to smell the bones. Ordinary citizens stumbled onto the first and sixth bodies.

Police hope to have 100 to 400 volunteers, Grijalva said. Volunteers are needed because the department doesn't have the money to pay overtime.

The city allocated $75,000 to the police department to pay for equipment and special costs associated with the desert deaths investigation, but the money is not being used for overtime.

Grijalva had no estimate on how much overtime has been spent on the investigation, but said the amount is substantial.

Support for the volunteer effort is strong in the police department substations, officers said.

"Everyone I asked yesterday has agreed to do it," Lt. James Carney of the East Valley substation said.

Sgt. Jorge Ortiz of the Northeast substation — which serves the area where the bodies were found — said: "Whenever something major like this goes out, it does concern us because a lot of us have families. We want this thing to reach a successful conclusion."

Dear Abby

Diners Want Their Leftovers Bagged Without Much Ado

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I both work downtown and live in the suburbs, so we often eat dinner together downtown after work. We are usually served more than we can eat, so we ask for a "doggie" bag to take home the leftovers.

We tried a new place, and when we asked our waiter if we could take our leftovers home, he came back with a pint-sized carton with a little wire handle — the kind you get when you buy ice cream to carry home. We felt embarrassed putting our leftovers, like so much "garbage," into this carton in plain view of everybody. In other restaurants, they transfer your leftovers into a doggie bag in the kitchen and give it to you at the end of the meal.

Please print this so we can mail it to the guilty restaurateur. Thank you.

DINERS

DEAR DINERS: The "guilty restaurateur" may not feel so guilty after all. Read on for a letter I received the same day yours arrived, and file them both under: "Damned if you do, and damned if you don't."

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are both 75 years old and we go out to eat two or three times a week. We usually order two meals and take home what is left.

Last Sunday we went to a nice place and the food was not cheap. We both ordered prime rib steak. We shared my plate, and my wife ate a small piece of her steak, and asked the waiter to wrap up the remainder to take home.

When we were ready to leave, we asked the waiter for our check and the leftover meat. He came back and told us that the meat had already been thrown out, so I told him to bring us another piece of beef.

He returned with a piece of meat, saying he was able to retrieve it before they threw it in the garbage. We looked at the meat, and it wasn't ours. We were sure it wasn't.

because it had some rice on it and we didn't order rice! (Evidently he took it out of the garbage can.) We were outraged, and told him to bring us a new piece of beef — which he did.

From now on, if we have food to take home, we always ask the waiter to bring the container to our table!

RUTH & PAUL BRANDER, DELRAY BEACH, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: You were right on in your response to "Life Must Go On" — the 31-year-old widow whose in-laws thought she should wait a while before starting to date again. She had two children, 7 and 3, and had gone through grief counseling, and after six months she felt ready to get on with her life.

Thanks for saying that no one can presume to make rules that will apply to everyone following the death of a beloved spouse.

BEEN THERE.

DEAR BEEN THERE: It's only natural for the in-laws of the young widow to think she should wait a while before starting to date again. They are probably afraid that she will remarry and make a new life for herself and they will lose contact with their precious grandchildren, which is all they have left of their son.

I would hope that if and when this young mother remarries, she will stay close to her first in-laws and assure them that they have not lost their grandchildren — that there's room in her heart for them, too.

Trial of man accused of kidnapping begins in Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — The trial of a man charged with the abduction of a Texas City woman who never reappeared enters its second day today, and attorneys expect the trial to last about two weeks.

Robert John King, 29, of Bacliff, is accused of abducting

19-year-old Shelley Sikes from her car in May 1986 as she returned home from her summer job at a Galveston restaurant.

The family conducted a lengthy leaflet and publicity campaign in hopes of developing evidence about her fate. King's trial was moved from Galveston to Beaumont by State District Judge Henry G. Dalehite because of pre-trial publicity.

Jury selection began Monday morning, and was completed by the afternoon, said Randy Kitchen, courts administrator.

King was arrested last June at an El Paso motel after he tried to slit his wrists and hang himself with a pair of shoestrings. El Paso police called Galveston authorities after they found a suicide letter in King's possession that mentioned the murder of a woman in Galveston County.

If convicted of the aggravated kidnapping charge, King could face five to 99 years or life in prison and a fine of up to $10,000.

"I'm very glad that we're going to start the trial and attempt to resolve this case," Galveston County District Attorney Mike Guarino said before the trial began. "But at the same time, no one will rest until her body is found."

Guarino said he will call about 20 witnesses to testify in the trial, and expected it to last about two weeks.

Bleeding may require tests

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband, age 82, appears to have bleeding under the skin on both arms from the elbows to the hands. A dermatologist and his family doctor tell him to live with it, but he finds it embarrassing. Can you explain this condition?

DEAR READER: Bloody bruising of the skin is a common consequence of old age, when the blood vessels near the surface of the body become weakened and bleed easily. This age-related cosmetic effect, which is harmless, is called "senile purpura."

However, bleeding into the skin can have many causes, some of which are serious. Vitamin deficiency and disorders of blood coagulation are two such causes. Therefore, before assuming that your husband has senile purpura, I'd want to make sure that there is no other, treatable ailment causing his bruising tendency. It's not clear from your question whether his doctors have carried out the necessary tests on your husband. At the very least, he needs a coagulation profile (tests of blood clotting), a platelet count (to assess the number of clot-forming blood cells) and a Rumpel-Leeds test (an old but simple maneuver to measure the fragility of the skin's capillary blood vessels).

DEAR DR. GOTT: A few years back, my doctor told me to drink one raw egg with two tablespoons of sherry wine at noon if I was unable to eat lunch. One day a friend told me it could cause sickness. I stopped, but I miss it. What is your advice?

DEAR READER: Alcohol used to be viewed as a tonic and eggs as a rich nutritional source. This is not entirely true. Alcohol is harmful to the body and egg yolks contain high levels of cholesterol, a fat most of us should avoid when possible. Of course, two tablespoons of sherry will not make you an alcoholic; this amount is harmless to an adult who does not have a drinking problem. I doubt that the old-fashioned sherry/egg combination is hazardous to your health. On the other hand, I think that you should try a more healthful snack, such as some cheese, a little salad and a piece of fresh fruit.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report, UNDERSTANDING CHOLESTEROL. Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

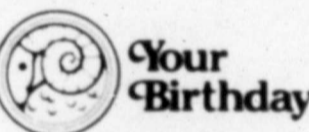

DEAR DR. GOTT: I developed great toe swelling, which spread to my wrists, fingers and all other toes. Tests rule out gout and arthritis. The pain has diminished, but the swelling persists. Could this be related to the Premarin I took?

DEAR READER: Probably not. In some women, female hormones such as Premarin can lead to fluid retention, including puffiness of the feet and hands. However, from your description, I doubt that Premarin is the culprit. I believe that your doctor should test you further to determine the cause of your unusual symptoms.

Heroin supply expected to increase

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Federal officials say they expect more heroin traffic in Texas this year, breaking a trend in the opposite direction over the past several years.

"We expect 1988 to be higher than last year because of the increased activity in Mexico," said Bill Deac, a drug enforcement spokesman in Washington.

Mexico growers are substituting heroin production as their cash crop since they are being forced out of the marijuana business by cheaper South American pot and by the Mexican government's field eradication, said Phillip Jordan, head of the Drug Enforcement Administration's North Texas division office in Dallas.

Capt. B. Ray Armand of the Fort Worth Police narcotics division said both the black tar and brown heroin varieties from Mexico have shown up in increasing amounts in Fort Worth. "One of the concerns that we have is the high purity that street addicts are getting," Jordan told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. "We have encountered street samples of black tar in the 90-percent purity level, which would kill the average addict."

Maximizing the penalty

Delicate inferences abound in bridge. Although South missed his opportunity in the bidding, he and his partner at least took all their tricks on defense to exact the maximum penalty against five spades doubled.

South suspected that his side might have slam when partner removed the double of four spades to five hearts. Then West gave North-South another chance. When North made a forcing pass to five spades, South really should have bid six. North must have a singleton spade, massive heart support and one of the minor aces to invite slam by passing. Ah well, by now we all know lost opportunity is part and parcel of the game.

East won the opening diamond lead in his hand as North played the three to indicate that he held the club ace (suit preference). When East played a spade toward dummy's king, South took the ace immediately and led the king of clubs. Why not a low club, since he knew that North held the club ace? Because South wanted some help in working out who had the club jack. North overtook the club king with his ace and led back the diamond four, his lowest, for South to ruff. South correctly reasoned that North would not waste his ace on the club king unless he also held the jack. So, after ruffing, South underled his queen to North's jack. South got another diamond ruff and cashed his club queen to set the contract four tricks. It wasn't as good as bidding the slam, but certainly better than letting the opponents escape for down only three.

Tejas Cattle Women meet

Tejas CattleWomen met recently at Mac-Michael's Restaurant in Colorado City with President Yvonne Nunn presiding. Adele Ginzler offered the invocation.

Sue Guelker, program director, introduced LaRue Powell, guest speaker. She is vice-president of City National Bank of Colorado City where she has been employed for over 30 years.

Powell stressed that each individual should acquire and establish credit in her own name. Since 1974 when the Equal Opportunity Credit Act was introduced, there has been an increase of 76% of women working in public.

Powell stressed the importance of women being informed of the family's financial position, especially in the event of a death or tragedy where she is forced to make many important decisions and continue the family business.

Guelker gave a report of the Feb. meeting which was held in Big Spring at Furr's Cafeteria where Libbi Garnett, Mitchell County Extension Agent, gave a program on stress.

Lucille Sterling, legislation chairman, reminded members to write to their congressman urging support for the repeal of the diesel fuel tax and heifer tax provisions. All CattleWomen are urged to continue support for the beef referendum on May 10 at respective county agents' offices.

The Texas Beef Cook-Off will be held in Austin April 18 and 19 at the Embassy Suites-Airport Hotel with Maralee Miller as chairman.

Maureen Morris, past president, read several letters from members of the staff and the girls at Girlstown expressing thanks to Tejas members for gifts sent to them at Christmas.

Every year, CattleWomen across the nation celebrate Ag Day during Ag Week. The event promotes programs to make the public more aware of the importance of agriculture in our daily lives.

A field trip for Coahoma fourth graders was sponsored by Tejas. The students were taken on a tour of Paul Allen's farm where children saw the farm environment with cattle, horses, sheep and swine. They heard reports of how different crops are seeded, fertilized, irrigated and harvested and saw demonstrations of the effects of wind and water on different soil conditions.

Back at their school, the children were shown a film about the history and heritage of the cattle industry. Tejas introduced a new project this year, "Beef By-Products" coloring books which were distributed to one class of third graders in Big Spring, Gail, Ira, Snyder, Sweetwater and Westbrook schools.

Carlynn Walker of Mirando City, president of Texas CattleWomen, will be guest speaker at the April 14 meeting of Tejas to be held at the Golden Corral in Snyder. All women interested in promoting beef are urged to attend.

The platypus is found only in Australia. It has a duck's bill, webbed feet and a beaver's tail. It lays eggs like a turtle yet has hair like a bear and nurtures its young on mother's milk.

King Henry VIII of England divorced his fourth wife, Anne of Cleves, in 1540.

Ice cream pie celebrates spring

ICE-CREAM PIE — Treat your guests to a slice of ice-cream pie. Combine vanilla ice cream with pink or green peppermint ice cream and then top with coarsely crushed peppermint candies. (AP Photo)

Fancy, easy, and all done ahead — that's why this pie gets top ratings. For easier serving, let the pie stand at room temperature 10 to 15 minutes before you cut it. The refreshing mint flavor will come through better, too.

PEPPERMINT ICE-CREAM PIE

- 1½ cups rolled oats
- ¾ cup flaked coconut
- ¾ cup finely chopped walnuts
- ½ cup margarine or butter
- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ cup unsweetened cocoa powder
- 2 cups vanilla ice cream

- 2 cups pink or green peppermint ice cream
 - ¼ cup coarsely crushed striped round peppermint candies
- For crust, in a medium mixing bowl stir together oats, coconut and nuts. In a small saucepan melt margarine. Stir in sugar and cocoa powder until smooth; pour over oat mixture, mixing well. Reserve 1 cup of the crust mixture. Press the remaining crust mixture onto the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Freeze 5 to 10 minutes or until crust is firm.

Scoop half of each ice-cream flavor into crust, placing scoops alternately side by side. Using a metal spatula, smooth surface and swirl gently to marble. Sprinkle with ¾ cup of the reserved crust mixture. Repeat with remaining ice cream and crust mixture. Sprinkle with candy. Freeze 4 hours or until firm. Wrap in moisture- and vapor-proof wrap. Seal, label, and freeze up to 1 month. Let stand 10 to 15 minutes before serving. Makes 8 servings.

LAFF-A-DAY

DENNIS THE MENACE

COLLISION COURSE - Snyder catcher Tracy Odom blocks the plate, waits on the ball, then turns and puts out Big Spring's Tim

Gutierrez at the plate during Saturday's 2-4A ballgame with the Steers. Snyder won, 7-6, and gears up again this evening to entertain

Fort Stockton. Game time is 7 p.m. at Moffett Field. (SDN Staff Photos by Bill McClellan)

With Manning at the helm... Kansas shocks Oklahoma

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - The ball caromed off the glass backboard as time ran out, and it fell, fittingly, into the hands of Danny Manning. They were the hands that built Kansas' first national basketball championship in 33 years.

Kansas beat fifth-ranked Oklahoma 83-79 Monday night in the 50th NCAA final, and the so-called one-man team was the nation's No. 1 team.

When Manning rolled the ball onto the hardwood floor at Kemper Arena, the Jayhawks had won the national title with the most losses of any team in NCAA history. And Coach Larry Brown had turned a team in disarray into team of champions.

The game was the last collegiately for the senior Manning, and some wondered if it would be the last at Kansas for the vagabond coach Brown.

"I'm trying to be part of a national championship team here," Brown said. "I can't talk about that now."

The Jayhawks took control of the game from Oklahoma with about 10 minutes left, slowing the tempo and sending coach Billy Tubbs' run-and-gun Sooners home with only their fourth loss of the season against 35 victories.

Oklahoma was a team that admitted it liked to beat people bad. And this was a bad way to end a super season.

"It's a bitter defeat," Tubbs said. "We thought we could win, and we didn't. We're still proud."

Kansas' 27th victory gave the Jayhawks their first national title since 1952. That's also the last time a Big Eight team won the championship.

Manning scored 31 points, had 18 rebounds and helped Kansas control not only the tempo but also Oklahoma's two big men, Stacey King and Harvey Grant. King had 17 points, five below his average, and Grant 14, seven below his. Manning and Chris Piper held them to four apiece in the second half.

"Like I said yesterday, I knew Danny Manning wanted it bad, and he came out and proved it today," King said.

Tigers host Fort Stockton, 7 p.m.

Snyder's Tigers, who lost their first three District 2-4A ballgames, try for their second straight victory when they take on the Panthers of Fort Stockton tonight at Moffett Field.

Game time is 7 p.m.

Both teams come into the contest with similar records and under similar circumstances. Snyder is 7-8-1 for the season; Fort Stockton 7-8. Both have 1-3 district marks, winning their first 2-4A ballgame last weekend. Snyder tripped Big Spring 7-6 while Fort Stockton rallied from a 5-1 deficit to beat Pecos, 7-5.

Tonight's loser will have to struggle to get back into the race for the playoffs, though some other key matchups today may confuse or clear the way. The two leaders, Andrews and Monahans, both have tough opponents. The ninth-ranked Mustangs, 13-3 and 4-0, entertain Pecos. Pecos is 9-6 overall and 3-1 in loop play. Monahans, 9-5 and 4-0, is at Big Spring, 9-10, 2-2.

In today's other league outing, Lamesa, 3-8, 0-4, tries to climb out of the cellar by taking on Lake View, 3-9, 1-3, in San Angelo.

Bert Otto will get the start for Snyder tonight. Randy Morris will move to third base to take over for him at that position. Wayne Ware will lead off as designated hitter for catcher Tracy Odom. He'll be followed in the lineup by short stop Brad Gartman, second baseman Van Echols, Morris and Otto. Batting sixth will be Kevin Dollins at right field. Left fielder Willie Garcia will hit next, then center fielder Bert Merritt and first baseman David Martinez.

Coach Albert Lewis noted that Echols has been ill and may not be able to play. If so, Jason West will be called on to fill the gap at second base.

Hough masters Cleveland again

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Charlie Hough's jinx over the Cleveland Indians also includes off nights.

The Indians hit three homers off Hough on Monday night but he still survived for his 13th consecutive victory over them, 4-3, as the Texas Rangers gave 37,613 fans a happy home opener.

"Who can explain it?" Hough asked. "I know about my record over them and I know I haven't pitched well against them. I just never had a gem pitched against me and something good always seems to happen."

Two Indian errors in the bottom of the seventh paved the way for the Rangers to tie the score 3-

In the bottom of the eighth, Pete O'Brien hit his second homer to give Hough the victory.

Hough wasn't around at the end. He walked leadoff batter Joe Carter in the ninth inning. Reliever Mitch Williams promptly picked Carter off base then struck out the next two batters before the fourth largest home opener in the Rangers' history.

"I had a rough night and really didn't have my best stuff," said Hough, who won 18 games last year. "It was an incredible job by Mitch. He was great and the pickoff really did it."

Williams said "It was great to win one for the old man. He gives it his all when he is out there and it makes you want to save the game for him."

Hough is 16-4 lifetime against Cleveland.

Cleveland Manager Doc Edwards said "Hough did a great job but he didn't beat us. We beat ourselves."

"When you walk the eighth and ninth hitters like we did in the seventh that really costs you. The pickoff by Williams I believe was a balk."

O'Brien said he discovered a flaw in his swing on the last day of spring training.

"It really helped," O'Brien said. "Of course, I'm not going to give my secret out."

Chris Codiroli was the victim of O'Brien's opposite-field homer in the eighth inning. O'Brien also had a solo homer off Cleveland starter Tom Candiotti in the second inning.

"It was a typical Hough game," Candiotti said. "We had him on the ropes but couldn't get to him."

Julio Franco, Willie Upshaw and Cory Snyder all hit solo homers for Cleveland off Hough.

"I was lucky," Hough said. "I had a lot of line drive outs."

Hough said "It was an important game for us. It was important to get a good start. We haven't forgotten last year."

The Rangers went 1-10 to start the season last year and were never a factor in the American League West.

"It was a great scenario," Williams said. "There was a sellout crowd and Pete hit two homers and came from behind. Charlie got the win and I got the save. It was perfect."

The Rangers and Indians are off today but meet again on Wednesday with Texas' Bobby Witt going against Cleveland's Greg Swindell.

Bunches of balks

Umpires said during spring training that there would be a great increase in the number of balks this season and on opening day there was.

Eleven balks were called in openers Monday as umpires began enforcing tighter balk rules, a pace that would lead to 2,574 balks this season, more than seven times the record set last year.

Three balks were called on Roger Clemens, two each on Mario Soto and Joe Magrane.

Last year, just one balk was called in eight games on opening day.

"They told us they were going to call it," said Detroit's Jack Morris, who started against Clemens in Boston. "They could have called 10 more on Roger today. I don't mean that as a knock on him, but he's going to have to adjust."

"They called it five times on me this spring and I adjusted. If I can adjust, he can, too."

Dwight Gooden and Dennis Martinez were caught once apiece. Monday night, Cleveland knuckleballer Tom Candiotti was called for a balk and Oakland's Dave Stewart got nabbed, too.

A record 219 balks were called in the National League last season and a record 137 in the American League.

This year, umpires were told to crack down even more and make sure pitchers come to a full stop in their set position. Umpires are also checking whether pitchers move their feet when they set.

The balk rule clarifications are under a one-year experiment. The players' union and management will review the results after the season ends.

Aggies plan to answer NCAA allegations soon

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - Texas A&M plans to move quickly to answer NCAA allegations of 31 rules violations and 7 procedural infractions, Coach Jackie Sherrill says.

"We've gone through the process before," Sherrill said Monday after releasing a letter from the NCAA outlining its charges. "We have an outside firm that will go out and interview people."

Sherrill said the school has until the end of June to prepare its answer to the charges but the school would not take that long to respond.

No academic violations were cited in the 38-point letter.

Names of players and coaches also were withheld.

Investigators concluded that the nature of the violations "demonstrate a lack of appropriate institutional control and monitoring in the administration of the institution's intercollegiate football program."

Sherrill said the procedural violations outlined by the NCAA were not major problems.

"We take them all seriously but there are questions where you may not have followed procedures," Sherrill said. "Most of them (probable of other schools) have that part in there."

Sherrill said the NCAA did not want the allegations revealed but that A&M insisted on making them public.

The NCAA cited an unnamed coach who acted unethically and showed a "knowing and willful effort" to operate the football program contrary to NCAA requirements.

It also said that during interviews with NCAA enforcement officials on June 12, 1985, and Dec. 16, 1987, that coach gave false and misleading information about his involvement in and knowledge of an alleged violation.

News of the accusations became public as the Aggies football team went through a spring practice.

League elects officers; slates April 14 meeting

Snyder Men's Slow Pitch Softball Association elected officers and outlined registration particulars at the March meeting and have scheduled another get-together for April 14.

Mike Huddleston was elected president, Henry Dever vice-president and Wesley W. Smith secretary-treasurer for the association.

It was determined that registration fees will be $275 per team and $10 per player. Teams will have an 18-member limit.

The association has scheduled its next meeting for Thursday, April 14, at 7 p.m. in the Texas Electric Reddy Room. Teams and players are asked to be paid up by this time. Players, managers, coaches and team representatives should attend the April 14 meeting.

At this time in our lives, we realize how very important friends and neighbors are. We wish to take this opportunity to thank each of you for the many gracious deeds, kind words spoken, prayers offered, food and flower contributions, all of you have given during the illness and death of our loved one, Blanche Tate. We extend a special thanks to employees of Snyder Oaks Care Center, personnel from Bell-Cypert-Seale, Iota-Psi Sorority, and First Baptist Church. To the ministers and musicians from the funeral service, we considered the service sweetly sincere, yet personal, and thoughtfully done. When sorrow comes to any of you, that such kindness be shown to you is our prayer.

Mecham convicted removed from office in impeachment trial

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Evan Mecham was convicted on impeachment charges and removed as governor in a finale to 15 months of national ridicule that began the day the political outsider took office.

"I feel relieved that this nightmare is over," Republican Sen. Greg Lunn said Monday after Mecham, a first-term Republican, became the first U.S. governor in 59 years to be impeached and stripped of his office.

Mecham, 63, showed no emotion as the Arizona Senate voted 21-9 to convict him of trying to obstruct an investigation of a alleged death threat and 26-4 of misusing $80,000 from the governor's protocol fund. Twenty votes were required for conviction.

Minutes later, Mecham smiled and told reporters, "Well, they don't like my politics, so we finished a political trial; it's as simple as that."

The 30-member Senate defeated, 17-13, a motion to bar Mecham from holding any public office again, making it unclear whether he will be permitted to run in a May 17 recall election to regain the governor's post. There is no precedent and the matter probably will be decided by the courts, said Attorney General Bob Corbin.

Acting Gov. Rose Mofford, a Democrat, became governor with Mecham's conviction.

"Let us purge our hearts of suspicion and hate," she said in a statement. "I did not ask for this burden. But I do not shrink from the job before me."

Mecham faces an April 21 criminal trial on a charge he concealed a $350,000 campaign loan. The Senate dropped a charge on that issue last week.

Mecham said he did not know what he will do next, including whether he will appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. "We'll know in a couple, three days," he said.

Mecham was removed less than a week after his family announced the Mecham Pontiac dealership, which he has owned since 1950, was being sold because of declining sales his son blamed on an "avalanche" of bad publicity.

"Ladies and gentlemen, Governor Mecham has struck out," Democratic Sen. Jesus "Chuy" Higuera said as he voted for conviction on the two counts.

"The only defense that we have heard is ignorance of the law," Higuera said. "The citizens of this state will not tolerate this evil insensitivity to the (Arizona) Constitution and the laws of the state."

The vote ended 15 tumultuous months that shook this staunchly Republican state and brought ridicule and criticism from politicians, comedians and the comic strip "Doonesbury."

On his fifth try for governor, Mecham was elected in 1986 in a three-way race with 40 percent of the vote. He made national headlines his first day in office by canceling a Martin Luther King holiday for state workers on the grounds it was illegally created by his Democratic predecessor, Bruce Babbitt. He subsequently offended blacks, Jews, women and homosexuals with offhand remarks and official actions.

On Feb. 5, the House impeached Mecham, making the 65-year-old Mrs. Mofford, who had been secretary of state, acting governor.

Mecham's supporters and opponents gathered all day outside the Senate building and listened to the proceedings over the radio. Each group cheered as votes favorable to their side were announced.

Afterward, Mesa resident Millie Pratt said, "I feel betrayed by our Legislature. I had more faith in them."

Barry Gabriel, who carried a sign saying, "Guilty. Guilty. Guilty," said he was "happy and relieved" because "I think he's a menace."

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Senate convicted Mecham of ordering Department of Public Safety Director Ralph Milstead not to cooperate with Corbin's investigation of an alleged death threat by a Mecham confidant against former Mecham aide Donna Carlson. At the time, Ms. Carlson was about to testify before a state grand jury about the $350,000 loan.

Mecham maintained he did not intend to obstruct justice, although he admitted telling Milstead, "The attorney general is about to help me and I'm not going to help him in any way." The governor also insisted he was not informed of the alleged threat's seriousness.

He was convicted of misusing the $80,000 in protocol money by loaning it to his suburban Glendale auto dealership. The prosecution contended the fund was public money and that the dealership desperately needed the funds to make a payroll.

Mecham testified that he was told he could use the protocol fund for almost anything he wanted. His son, Dennis, the dealership's general manager, testified the dealership was in strong financial shape at the time of the loan. A day after his testimony, he announced it was being sold to avert financial ruin.

Amnesty deadline extended

HARLINGEN, Texas (AP) — It's only a month until the deadline for illegal aliens to apply for permanent U.S. residency under the amnesty program, but the federal government has granted an extension.

So long as they apply by May 4, they will be allowed up to two more months to produce the necessary documentation and medical examinations needed, said Omer Sewel, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Illegal aliens applying for amnesty must prove they have lived in the United States continuously since before Jan. 1, 1982.

Previously, the INS required applicants to document their residency when they filed for amnesty.

Now, all they have to come up with initially is the filing fee and actual application. Then they'll be scheduled for an interview sometime in July or August, at which time documentation must be provided.

Sewel said the extension is part of a nationwide effort to encourage illegal aliens qualifying for amnesty to come forward.

"A number of people have waited until the last minute, and we're hoping this skeletal process will help a number of people here in the Valley," said Charlie Perez, chief legalization officer at the Harlingen amnesty center.

The Harlingen office, which has processed about 23,000 applications, hit its peak of activity last June and July, when about 200 applicants per day were processed, Perez said.

But recently, the application level has begun to approach last summer's peak, and Perez said the office is bracing for a rush of activity, perhaps as many as 300 applicants on some days.

Perez said interviews will begin 60 days after the May 4 deadline and continue at a rate of about 40 a day until all applicants have been processed.

When the amnesty program began, officials expected about 40,000 applications in the Rio Grande Valley and 2 million nationwide.

Officials now expect about 27,000 to seek amnesty in the Valley. About 1.5 million have applied nationwide and that number is expected to grow to 2 million by May 4, Sewel said.

Perez said after the application and fee are filed, applicants will receive a work authorization receipt that is good until the date of the interview, at which time a work authorization card will be issued.

That card is good for 6 months, the time it takes to process the application.

According to H.L. Mencken, "Getting married, like getting hanged, is a great deal less dreadful than it has been made out."

Witness: administration helped Honduran official get lighter term

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reagan administration officials helped a Honduran general involved in a drug-financed plot to assassinate that country's president get a lighter sentence, a former U.S. ambassador says.

Francis McNeil, former U.S. ambassador to Costa Rica, told a Senate subcommittee Monday that top U.S. officials interceded on behalf of Honduran Gen. Jose Bueso Rosa because he had helped the administration's program of aiding the Nicaraguan Contra rebels.

Among those who interceded on Bueso Rosa's behalf was Assistant Secretary of State Elliott Abrams, the administration's top official in charge of inter-American affairs and a prime architect of the Contra policy, McNeil said.

McNeil said Bueso Rosa was charged in the United States with taking part in a plot, financed by drug trafficking profits, to assassinate Honduran President Roberto Suazo in 1984.

Two others involved in the unsuccessful plot received long sentences, but Bueso Rosa got off with a five-year term after the U.S. officials interceded for him, said McNeil.

At least one reason for the intervention was the general's "past usefulness to the Contra program," he said.

The Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee also heard testimony Monday that Panamanian military ruler Manuel Antonio Noriega probably has evidence of U.S. officials' complicity in Central American drug trafficking and is using it to buy time.

Jose I. Blandon, a former intelligence official and consul general for Panama who defected last year, produced a document Noriega sent to the country's U.S. diplomatic offices in February saying he has proof that American officials knowingly established policies that supported people involved in the drug business.

"General Noriega says he has proof of the involvement of (U.S.) government authorities in drugs in Central America," Blandon said in Spanish through an interpreter at the hearing of the subcommittee on narcotics. Blandon mentioned trafficking in Panama, Guatemala and Costa Rica.

Asked by the subcommittee chairman, Sen. John Kerry, D-Mass., whether he believes Noriega actually has such proof, Blandon answered, "Yes."

Later, Kerry said he, too, believes that Noriega has potentially embarrassing information about U.S. officials and is using it to try to maintain himself in power in Panama.

Kerry said he did not pursue the matter more extensively in the public hearing because he is still awaiting corroboration of that and other information about alleged use of airstrips used to resupply the U.S.-backed Contra rebels in Nicaragua to handle drug shipments as well.

"It's significant enough that it's going to create a stir," Kerry said, noting that the information involves an Israeli citizen, Michael Harare, who used airstrips in the region to help resupply the Contras.

While Congress is in recess, Kerry scheduled a full week of hearings on U.S. anti-drug efforts in Central America. He said a series of witnesses would piece together a mosaic that portrays U.S. foreign policy interests in the region, such as support for the Contras, as frequently taking precedence over the war on drugs.

"One thing that leaps out is that despite all the rhetoric... and the talk about a war on drugs, there has not been a real war," Kerry said.

80th birthday renews debate over maestro's Nazi past

BONN, West Germany (AP) — Herbert von Karajan, the powerful "conductor for life" of the Berlin Philharmonic, celebrates his 80th birthday today, and the anniversary has revived debates over his Nazi past, wealth and talents.

The Austrian-born maestro has been in frail health after years of illness and has trouble just walking to the podium.

Karajan is celebrating his birthday privately with family in Salzburg, his Austrian hometown and Mozart's birthplace.

Karajan has long been considered a major force in classical music, reaching a worldwide audience through the estimated sale of 150 million recordings.

"I set the goal for myself very early of not frittering away one minute of my life, and I've achieved that," Karajan told an interviewer just before his 75th birthday.

But critics have long been sharply divided about the true measure of those achievements.

"He is a great technician and has a vision in his conducting," Klaus Geitel, a West Berlin-based music critic, told The Associated Press in a telephone interview Monday. "He has always been five paces ahead of the rest of the music world."

But Reinhard Beuth, music critic for the conservative Bonn-based newspaper Die Welt, strongly disagreed.

"Karajan has a superficial approach to music. It (his music interpretation) has no content," Beuth told the AP. "People who really understand music are not much interested in his work."

As his 80th birthday neared, Karajan's detractors also renewed criticism of his membership in Adolf Hitler's Nazi Party and of his financial success.

While he was a rising young musical star during Hitler's reign, Karajan joined the Nazi Party.

Because of his Nazi links, the Allies banned Karajan from performing for two years after the end of World War II and required him to undergo a "de-Nazification" process.

In an interview in the early 1980s, Karajan said he had joined the Nazi Party so his career would not be jeopardized. But he insisted he had no political sympathy for the Nazis.

The news magazine Stern, in a March 30 article marking Karajan's birthday, referred to that interview and criticized the maestro for "making his career at the expense" of other musicians who were persecuted for rejecting the Nazis.

Stern and another magazine, Der Spiegel, also criticized Karajan's huge financial success.

Der Spiegel, in its March 28 edition, questioned whether it was right for Karajan to amass a fortune while receiving a salary from the state-supported Berlin Philharmonic.

Spiegel quoted an unidentified legal expert in the music business as saying Karajan earns $6.2 million annually from his recordings.

Stern suggested Karajan's fame has given him too much power.

"He has succeeded in portraying himself as an artist-holy man," said Stern. "His success is so great that criticisms of him are futile."

U. S. considers Nicaraguan talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking State Department official will travel to Central America soon for consultations about the possibility of regional security talks in which the United States and Nicaragua would take part, according to administration sources.

U.S. special envoy for Central America Morris Busby will discuss the "timing and appropriateness" of such discussions when he visits Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras later this week, the officials said.

The Reagan administration has avoided participating in any negotiating forum with Nicaraguan authorities since early 1985 when it called off a six-month effort to ease differences through direct talks.

Karajan's spokesmen could not be reached to comment on the criticisms because of the Easter holidays.

Karajan made his debut as a prodigy at age 5, when he played Mozart on the piano at a charity concert. He gave up piano in his teens and took up conducting.

Karajan, who considered Toscanini his idol, studied in Vienna but forged his career in Germany. At 27, he became General Music Director in Aachen while also conducting in Berlin.

In 1946, Karajan became conductor of the Vienna Symphony Orchestra. He also has been conductor at the Salzburg Festival, and artistic director of the Vienna State Opera.

Karajan and the Berlin Philharmonic have been feuding off and on since he was named "conductor for life" in 1955.

A bitter row over Karajan's hiring of a young female clarinetist dragged on for 18 months before a shaky truce was reached.

City reappoints board members

Sisson, Ray Sherrod and Ira Riggs were named to new three-year appointments on the Board of Adjustment.

Gene Best was re-appointed to a five-year term on the Builders Board of Appeal.

Preliminary plans were approved for the Wal-Mart development in south Snyder and for the installation of a mobile home on a lot owned by Mr. and Mrs. Billy Robbins on the back one-half of a lot between the Lamesa Hwy. and 26th St.

April 23 was designated Dog Vaccination Day in the ag annex of the county coliseum. The annual event is conducted by the Snyder Jaycees.

The council took no action after an executive session with City Attorney Ernie Armstrong about anti-TDC litigation which was filed against the city and recently dropped.

Wild flower events slated

The plants identified to date include squaw weed, flutter mill, copper mallow, parralena, fringed puccoon, rock daisy, bluebonnets, berbena and a devil's head cactus.

The wild flower trail, although substantially cut back from past years, is now open at the campus.

On the 16th, the wild flower symposium is scheduled in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus at 1 p.m. Speakers will be Mrs. Margaret Mason of Lubbock, who was instrumental in establishing a nature trail at Buffalo Springs Lake; Mrs. Doris McClellan of Colorado City, who will show her collection of color slides of wild flowers taken at her Mitchell County ranch; and Artis Gaither of Sweetwater, who will discuss growing plants.

Also scheduled is a brief slide presentation from WTC's Golf-Landscape Technology program.

The Wild Flower observance will include a reception in the Scurry County Museum on Friday night, April 15, when awards will be presented to teachers who have 100 percent participation in the art and essay projects related to wild flowers and to photographers entering the wild flower photo competition.

The museum will open at 7 p.m. that evening and awards will be given out around 7:30 p.m.

On Saturday the 16th, the museum will open at 10 a.m. and a guided tour of the wild flower trail and the WTC greenhouse will begin about 10:15. Visitors can also see an exhibit on the Llano Estacado on loan from the museum at Texas Tech.

There is no charge for admission to any of the wild flower programs. Additional information about the day can be obtained by contacting Canada or at the museum.

Regarding this year's dry conditions, Canada noted, "It makes you appreciate the years when we have the rains and the wildflowers are out."

Alarms sound minus fires

Four calls received by the Snyder fire department since Saturday have been false alarms.

A grass fire in the 1500 Block of Augusta Dr. was out on arrival following a 3:12 p.m. Saturday call, and a 7:58 p.m. Saturday call to Sandy's Hair Design at 1008 24th St. was a smoke alarm in which no fire was involved, a department spokesman said.

Firemen were unable to find a grass fire that was reported at 1:28 p.m. Saturday at Fifth St. and Ave. C, and a 10:50 a.m. Monday call to six miles west of Snyder turned out to be a controlled burn.

Break-in noted at gas station

Police are investigating a break-in that was discovered Monday morning at Neeley's Exxon at 1401 25th St.

Entry was gained by breaking a window on the south side of the building. Listed as missing was a small amount of currency that was taken from the cash register, an officer said.

Sheriff's officers were told Monday that someone has broken the locks off gasoline tanks and stolen gasoline the past two weekends at Weaver Services on W. 37th St.

Academy yawns?

'88 Oscars will be high-tech TV show

By Frank Sanello

LOS ANGELES (NEA) — The Oscars are the McDonald's of awards shows, with over one billion TV viewers worldwide "served" every year. Conversely, the Oscars also create an ultra-exclusive fraternity of winners and nominees.

This year, the "60th Annual Awards Presentation" of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, which airs live April 11 on ABC-TV (9 p.m. EST), will be just a little bit less exclusive. While the award will remain as coveted as ever, the live audience at the ceremony will nearly triple.

For the past 16 years, the Oscar gala had been held at downtown Los Angeles' Dorothy Chandler Pavilion, which has a seating capacity of only 2,200. This year, the site has moved to the stadium-sized Shrine Civic Auditorium. The venue's 6,000-plus seats will accommodate the entire membership of the Academy, plus the nominees' assorted agents, managers, publicists and family members.

The expanded live audience has changed the look of the show, says Sam Goldwyn Jr., son of the legendary film producer — and the producer of this and last year's ceremony. "It's going to be more electronic this year. We'll be doing more things visually."

Marty Pasetta, who has directed the Oscars for the past 17 years, is more specific. Two giant 22-foot-tall TV monitors on opposite ends of the stage will replace the single-projection film screen of previous years.

Because the Shrine Civic Auditorium had only two, it will be harder to get close-ups of the stars as they march toward the stage. Despite the enlarged venue, Pasetta promises the broadcast will look more intimate because he will use hand-held cameras.

Last year's show clocked in at a derriere-numbing three hours and 20 minutes. This year, Goldwyn hopes to shave some time off hammy acceptance speeches by using the "one-minute rule." After 45 seconds of gushing thank-yous, a red light out of camera range starts flashing. At 55 seconds, the bulb turns solid red. After one minute, Goldwyn will cold-bloodedly cut to a commercial or the orchestra will unceremoniously drown out the loquacious winner.

Actors, Goldwyn adds, usually keep their speeches short. "They know a quick, peppy speech makes for a good show. It's the technical people thank-

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney General Edwin Meese III is having trouble rebuilding the top echelon of the Justice Department after two top aides resigned in protest, with one planned replacement blocked by the White House and the second openly saying he may not take the job.

James I.K. Knapp, Meese's choice to succeed William Weld as the assistant attorney general in charge of criminal prosecutions, is no longer being considered, a Justice Department source speaking on condition of anonymity said Monday. Knapp, 45, is a deputy assistant attorney general in the department's tax division.

Meese had planned to announce Knapp as his choice to succeed Weld last Friday, Justice Department sources said. But the White House held up Meese's plan, pending completion of FBI background checks on his choices.

Department sources on Monday declined to specify why Knapp's name was being withdrawn.

THE ACADEMY snubbed Cher's "Mask" efforts in 1986. This year, the 41-year-old actress is a guest presenter — as well as a Best Actress nominee for "Moonstruck."

IN AN effort to keep this year's Academy Awards timelock running smoothly, the show's producers have designated only one host, or "ringmaster" — comedian Chevy Chase.

Michael Kidd ("Hello, Dolly!") choreographed both the medley and the opening production number. Marvin Hamlisch ("A Chorus Line") and Sheldon Harnick ("Fiddler on the Roof") composed the opening number, which will showcase the show's theme. Goldwyn is keeping the details of the theme and opening number secret, except to say, "It's about winning the big one."

No matter how the ceremony turns out this year, Oscar, "the Big One" itself, remains what Laurence Olivier (nominated 10 times, won once) called "the jewel in the crown of all awards."

Goldwyn believes he knows why: "First, it's the least nationalistic of the awards." (Indeed, four of this year's five nominated directors are foreign born.) "Second, everybody's clear on who's voting." He is, perhaps, making an invidious comparison to the Golden Globe Awards, which are voted on by a handful of Hollywood-based foreign newspaper correspondents.

"And, third," says Goldwyn, "the voters are the winners' peers. Whether you agree or disagree with whom those peers choose, here are people who make their living doing a particular craft, and they're saying: 'Hey, man, you're the best!'"

Acupuncture popular today as new treatment for AIDS

AUSTIN (AP) — Acupuncture this year has become one of the most popular treatments in Austin among sufferers of acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

Brian McKenna, an Austin acupuncture expert who initiated the AIDS treatments twice a week at St. Luke's Methodist Church, said his group has had 28 patients so far, with about half attending regularly.

"We're trying to offer the options of traditional Chinese medicine," said McKenna.

"We've been able to address pain and migraine headaches. We've been able to normalize sleep patterns and help with the appetite loss and digestive weakness often found with AIDS and ARC," AIDS-related complex.

"But it's important to recognize that no therapy is going to serve everyone all the time."

Acupuncture is an ancient Chinese art, still used in conjunction with Western medicine in China. It involves the shallow puncturing of the body at specific points with long, fine gold or silver needles to relieve pain and cure disease.

"Its optimal province is the early stages of a disease process," McKenna said. "But it has analgesic effects at any stage."

McKenna, 35, has no medical degree and does not claim to be curing AIDS. But he has studied with acupuncture experts in China and points to hundreds of AIDS patients who indicate that acupuncture helps maintain their health.

"It's way too early to predict how acupuncture is going to shape up as an AIDS treatment," McKenna said. "I do, however, believe it would be remiss on our part not to offer hope."

Acupuncture practitioners are not licensed by the State of Texas, but Austin has attracted about a dozen of them since the early 1980s.

McKenna is licensed to practice in his native New Mexico and by a national association. The needles for AIDS treatments are used only once and then discarded. He and two other acupuncturists who help always wear gloves, he said.

The virus that causes a fatal case of AIDS is primarily transmitted through sexual contact but can also be passed by exchanging blood.

Some Austin physicians who treat AIDS approve of their patients trying acupuncture.

"I have absolutely no objection to it," said Dr. Tom Smith. "I've found that people do better when they take a multiphasic approach. If something is safe, I don't object."

"A lot of it you can't explain," said a man who has been diagnosed as having AIDS-related complex. "But it works. ... It's really helped a lot."

Organizers: major defense contractors not responding

DALLAS (AP) — Most major defense contractors have declined to donate money to build a memorial for Texans who died in Vietnam and other wars, organizers of the fund raising drive say.

The largest corporate donation from a major defense contractor has been $50,000 from General Dynamics, which has a military aircraft manufacturing facility in Fort Worth, Paul Russell, president of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund of Texas and of Milton B. Levy & Son Mechanical Contractors, said.

"That's been very disappointing for us," Russell said Monday of the lack of response by other defense contractors.

The veterans are about $300,000 short of the approximately $1 million in cash and pledges they say they need before construction on the $1.65 million memorial can begin.

The donations must come within the next few months if the memorial is to be finished in time for a planned dedication on Nov. 11, Veterans Day, Russell said.

In addition to what the veterans believe to be a lack of support from defense contractors, Russell said, Texas' economic downturn has taken a toll on recent donations, requiring fund-raisers to cut their operating budget 75 percent.

The response from Texas defense contractors has been particularly ranking to the veterans group, he said.

"It's been a real kick in the teeth to us. We're trying to show there ought to be some responsible action on the part of defense companies," said B.G. Burkett, treasurer of the memorial fund and a senior vice president of the Dallas brokerage and investment banking firm of Schneider Bernet Hickman.

The veterans are especially critical of Bell Helicopter in Fort Worth, a unit of Rhode Island-based Textron, which manufactured most of the helicopters used in Vietnam.

"Particularly disappointing is the total rejection from Bell Helicopter," Art Ruff, president of Dallas-based Vantage Development Co. and a member of the fund's board of directors, said. "Their (Bell's) Huey chopper is the most enduring symbol of the war, yet they've failed to donate to our fund."

Ruff said he got a rejection letter from the Textron Charitable Trust in Rhode Island.

Bell spokesman Carl Harris said Textron decided several years ago to contribute funds to the national memorial in Washington, D.C., rather than giving to state memorials.

Textron executive Raymond Caine, chairman of a committee that approves corporate donations, said the committee gave $1,500 to the national memorial in 1982.

Retired Army Maj. Gen. Alexander Bolling, 64, who commanded the 82nd Airborne Division in Vietnam, said his appeals to area defense companies were unsuccessful.

Besides Bell, Rockwell International, Varo and Texas Instruments declined to contribute, Bolling said. Houston-based Brown & Root, a primary contractor for the port at Cam Ranh Bay, also declined, Bolling said.

Rockwell is directing its donations toward educational and medical research efforts, said Ed Casteel, the company's director of government relations.

TI's charitable foundation decided not to fund the project for similar reasons, said spokesman Stan Victor.

The veterans group asked for $25,000 from LTV Corp., a major aerospace and defense contractor. The fund received $1,000.

Another large Dallas defense contractor, E-Systems, which among other products made the PRC-25 radios used in Vietnam, donated $3,000, Bolling said.

The fund also received $5,000 from Electrospace Systems in Dallas, he said. Electrospace Systems is now a Chrysler Corp. subsidiary.

What Is A Town?

A town is a group of people.

It is schools.

It is city government.

It is churches.

It is industry and jobs.

It is retail businesses.

They all have to work together. All must have the support of the people. Or there is no town.

Give your local merchant a chance for your business. You shouldn't spend your hard-earned money with him unless his selection is adequate and his price competitive. But give him the first opportunity to make the sale.

For the local retailer pays the highest percentage of local taxes. He most often is the civic leader who dedicates his time and talents to his town. He is contacted first for contributions to charitable projects. He provides jobs. Without his store you have no town.

The Texas Poll research data confirm once again a basic fact of marketing life:

Newspapers provide the most efficient means of reaching the best prospects in Texas.

Daily and Sunday newspaper readership is strong. The majority of adults in Texas read a daily newspaper everyday of the week; two thirds read every Sunday. In terms of where Texans get most of their shopping information, newspaper leads mail by more than 2 to 1 and TV by almost 3 to 1.

More good news—readership is even stronger among up-scale demographic groups. The highest income, occupation, and education groups are the strongest newspaper readership groups.

YOUR CHILD COULD USE ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW.

It’s not because there’s a lack of information out there. Your child is getting plenty—from the kids at school, from friends in the neighborhood, from older kids, and from countless other sources.

The problem lies in the kind of information your child is getting. What kids hear too often is that drugs are OK. What they need to hear is the truth.

This is where you, as a parent, can help. By talking frankly with your child, you can, first of all, learn where your child stands on drugs—what he thinks about them, what he knows, and what he doesn’t know.

Then, once you understand your child’s perspective, you’ll be in a better position to offer your own. You’ll be able to talk about the dangers of various drugs. And what your child can do to avoid them.

Of course, speaking to your child like this takes a lot of courage. And to do it effectively takes a lot of homework—like reading articles, attending meetings, and talking to other parents. This way, your child will see you as a well informed source.

Your child is going to talk to someone about drugs.

Who’s it going to be?

To make sure you have the right answers, contact your local agency on drug abuse.
