OPEC striving to drive oil price up

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — OPEC is launching an effort to persuade rival oil producers to help push up prices because the cartel is convinced it can no longer control world oil markets by itself.

Oil ministers from five of the 13 members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries meet tonight with representatives of Mexico, China, Egypt and five other non-OPEC oil producers to discuss possible production cuts.

The meeting will mark the widest participation of non-cartel oil exporters in direct talks with OPEC in history. But many industry analysts say they see little chance of a firm accord this week on joint output cuts.

World oil prices have been falling as supplies exceed demand.

Although Iran and some other OPEC members have been pushing for big cuts in production as a means of driving up prices, Saudi Arabia has not indicated it will go along. It is the world's largest oil exporter.

"The Saudis seem to be very much against any oil production cuts," said Graham Andrews, an analyst in the London office of the investment firm Wood, Mackenzie and Co.

He said in a telephone interview that one reason for the Saudi reluctance may be to avoid allowing Iran to use increased revenues from higher oil prices to strengthen its stand in the war against Iraq. The Saudis indirectly support Iraq in the war that began in September 1980. On Sunday, Iranian naval gunboats attacked a Saudi-owned tanker in the Persian Gulf.

OPEC decided earlier this month to invite eight non-cartel oil exporters to Vienna, saying a broader base of nations must bear the burden of production restraint if prices are to return to OPEC's declared target of $18 a barrel. Most OPEC oil is selling for at least $2 a barrel less than the target price.

The non-OPEC countries participating in the Vienna meeting are Mexico, China, Egypt, Oman, Angola, Malaysia, Colombia and Brunei. Their production totals about 8 million barrels a day, although their combined exports are believed to be less than half that.

Bond support growing

Names increased for support group

A steering committee formed to support the May 7 revenue bond issue in Snyder has swelled to more than 100 members, according to committee chairman Martin Brooks.

Brooks said Snyder residents have been overwhelmingly receptive to support of the two bond issues—each for $1.375 million. Both involve providing utility services to the new TDC unit to be located northeast of Snyder.

The first issue provides for the financing of water system improvements and the second revenue bond calls for sewer system expansion.

Delbert Downing, treasurer of the Snyder Committee for Economic Opportunity, said repayment of the bonds will be made from revenues generated from sale of water and sewer services.

Absentee voting in the bond election currently is underway at city hall.

Brooks, chairman of the board of West Texas State Bank, announced the following new committee members:

Bernard J. Bartels, John Greene, Harold Denson, Jim Tully, Hugh Boren Jr., Billie Boren, Tommy Deffebach, Faye Deffebach, Don West, Sandra West, Dan Hicks, Debbie Hicks, Wayne Buchanan, Jan Buchanan, Lloyd Hatcher, Temi Matthes, Malvin Stevenson, Henry Clark, Virginia Clark, Kenneth Brumbelow, Dr. Jack Nesbit, Dr. Gary Sisson, Jack Himes, Joe Fowler, Bill Early and Keith Hackfeld.

Restructuring report due at hospital meet

The April meeting for the Cogdell Memorial Hospital Board, moved from its regular date because of the scheduled hospital auxiliary banquet this Thursday, will include a report related to an organizational restructuring at the local facility.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. with the monthly dinner for the board and guests.

Administrator Tom Hochwalt is to inform the board of the restructuring.

At the session also, Hochwalt will officially introduce two new staffers, the new business controller for Cogdell and the new director of nursing.

Joining the staff last week were Padraic (Pat) White as controller and Christy Pointer as director of nursing.

Wilma Dillard, new patient relations coordinator for the hospital, is to attend also.

Listed as a discussion item is the planned self-evaluation of the hospital board and Hochwalt is to propose a new format for the hospital's financial statement.

Also, an executive session is due at meeting's end to discuss weekend physician coverage in the Cogdell emergency room.

Requests for equipment items are slated also to include a new lighting system in the radiology-OB halls; a telemetry unit for the

The feller on Deep Creek says, "When the husband brags of wearing the pants in the family, chances are she tells him which pair to put on."

Dust storms remind us of the fellow who won the liars' contest held recently. The winner, an Azle insurance man, donated his $150 prize to the Fort Worth Girls Club.

The fellow had won second, third and fifth in previous Cowtown Goes Green liars' contest. The moral of his perseverance, said one Fort Worth observer, is: "If at first you don't succeed, lie, lie again."

His championship tall tale went like this—and on some windy spring days in West Texas—one might even believe it.

"I was in Brownfield in 1930. We went into town and the wind was out of the east. We drove under the gate. The wind changed and in came a sandstorm you wouldn't believe. We drove over the gate coming back.

"Out at the ranch, prairie dogs were digging holes 30 feet in the air. The chickens went to roost at 3 in the afternoon, it was so dark.

The word limit on entries kept the championship liar from adding the tale of his uncle drilling a 3,000-foot oil well.

"He drilled the well on a sand dune near Monahan. A sandstorm moved in and blew all the sand away and just left the hole.

"It wasn't a total loss, however. He chopped the hole into three-foot lengths and sold them to two enterprising Aggies."

There are various ways to gauge the intensity of a sandstorm. There's one sure way to know if a sandstorm can be rated a bell-ringer.

Just open the refrigerator door and open a jar of salad dressing. If the top layer is brown, you can honestly rate it a sandstorm.

If there's a fine layer of dirt on the jar's top—it was just a duster.

In Brief

Closings set

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — About 200 people will be relocated when Amoco Production Co. closes the doors of its Odessa and Brownfield offices in a consolidation plan to increase productivity and efficiency, company officials say.

The consolidation announced Monday follows several months of discussion about the possible closings, said Greg Clock, an Amoco spokesman.

Some workers will be asked to relocate to Houston or Tulsa, while others will be asked to go to operations centers in West Texas and eastern New Mexico, Clock said.

Amoco will still have 900 workers at field operation centers and gas processing plants in the Permian Basin and eastern New Mexico, Clock said.

Local

Bid is tabled

Scurry County commissioners at mid-day Monday tabled consideration of bids for a new computer system to be used by County Attorney Michael Line, to give Line more time to study the various bid options.

Proposals were submitted by the Jay Huckabee Co., Computime and Hester's Office Supply of Lubbock. The matter is scheduled to be brought up again in the regular commissioners' meeting next Monday.

Noon for ISD

A noon meeting for the Snyder school board is due Wednesday with trustees to consider joining with other school districts in litigation challenging federal mandates for asbestos compliance.

The board will meet at the administration building.

Historical meet

The Scurry County Historical Commission will meet Thursday at 5 p.m. at the Dodson House to finalize plans for its upcoming chili supper.

The supper will be on Saturday, May 7, from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the junior high cafeteria.

Cancer-afflicted firefighter to keep job

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A month-long struggle between the San Antonio Fire Department and a firefighters union has ended with officials saying a cancer-afflicted firefighter can keep his job.

"I couldn't feel better right now," firefighter Byron Cabana, 33, told the San Antonio Light Monday.

Cabana said that knowing that his job would be waiting for him six months from now when his doctor says he can return to work was similar to having a "tremendous weight lifted" from his shoulders.

The central issue in his struggle to keep his job centered around whether the 14-year veteran was "temporarily" ill from a type of highly curable lymphatic cancer known as Hodgkin's disease or whether he was permanently ill and would not be returning to work.

Assistant Fire Chief James D. Miller said Cabana will stay on the payroll because of a letter he received Monday from Cabana's physician specifically stating the illness was temporary and that Cabana would return to work in six months.

Mike Rankin, grievance chairman of the San Antonio Professional Firefighters Association, contended that similar letters had been received previously, and that the real threat to Cabana's job arose from Fire Chief I.O. Martinez's refusal to accept Cabana's cancer as temporary and that the firefighter would be returning to the job.

Martinez would not comment on the issue.

Since it has been determined that he is "temporarily" ill, Cabana can use the joint Fire Department-San Antonio Professional Firefighters Association Work Bank to find volunteers to work his shifts after his sick leave and vacation time ran out.

This means that Cabana can continue to receive his full pay of about $25,000 a year and his job will be kept open for him.

Dr. Steven B. Kalter, a blood and cancer specialist, sent at least three letters, including one nearly a month ago giving the amount of therapy left and the date Cabana could return to work, Rankin said.

"He has approximately four more months of chemotherapy and then will need a couple more months to convalesce," Kalter wrote March 31. "Conceivably he could return to work in six months."

Rankin said that letter should have been enough.

"Doesn't that spell out to you that it is a temporary illness," Rankin said. "That's what it spelled out to us."

Dear Abby

'Homework' for Kids Should Include Time-Tested Values

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Your recent column piece on the top 10 problems of 1940 compared to those of today really struck a nerve. When I was in high school, our biggest problems were similar to those in Charles Osteen's letter — talking in the halls, chewing gum, etc. Today's teens have to cope with drug abuse, pregnancy, rape, robbery, etc.

There are seldom simple solutions to pervasive problems, but I have one I'd sure like to see tried. It is for parents to once again teach their children the time-tested values of respect for the law, their teachers, their elders, other people's rights and, most of all, for themselves as the future of this country. It is painfully obvious to me that many of today's youngsters are almost totally lacking in moral and ethical guidance; hence it is not surprising that they are in such trouble so often.

Right here in my own neighborhood we are daily faced with school children who run amok, sass their elders, trespass on private property, trash the streets — all with their parents' approval, even encouragement. One father even had the gall to tell me that his kids had a "right" to play in the street in front of my home and if I didn't like it, I could move! Perhaps it's time once again for your "Ten Nays for Good Neighbors." Can do?

R.L.A. (OLD COOT IN OXNARD)

DEAR R.L.A.: Can do. Here they are:

1. Thou shalt love thy neighbor, but not his wife, nor shalt thou covet thy neighbor's house, or his car, or any other thing he owneth.
2. Thou shalt keep thy dog, thy stereo and thy lawn mower quiet while thy neighbor sleepeth.
3. Thou shalt borrow from thy neighbor rarely, and when thou dost, return undamaged and without delay that which thou hast borrowed.

4. Thou shalt not allow thy pets or thy children to run amok, despoiling thy neighbor's lawn, flower beds and fence.

5. Thou shalt keepeth thy lawn green, thy fence painted and thy driveway uncluttered, even as ye shall also keepeth thy vehicles in thy garage where they belong.

6. Thou shalt watcheth al-ways for criminals and fires in thy neighborhood and guardeth thy neighbor's home and property even as thine own.

7. Thou shalt not useth thy home for any unsightly or illegal activity.

8. Thou shalt always stand ready to help thy neighbor in his hour of true need even as he doth for thee.

9. Thou shalt not parketh thy camper, thy RV or thy van in the street where it blocketh thy neighbor's view and createth a safety hazard to all.

10. Thou shalt not hold wild parties or orgies that last until wee hours unless thou dost invite thy neighbor, too.

Financial trends look favorable for the year ahead, and your financial position is likely to be strengthened. However, there are also indications that you may be wasteful.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Subdue extravagant impulses that encourage you to fritter away funds foolishly. What you waste now, you could need later. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be on your best behavior today where social graces are concerned. If you behave in a tactless fashion, it will detract from your image.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You are a bit vulnerable today, because you may be wearing your heart on your sleeve. This could cause you to be needlessly wounded by someone you love.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your financial picture looks rather promising at this time. However, it's best not to make expenditures today hoping to cover them with money you've yet to receive.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is not a day to coast if important goals are at stake. A failure to ride hard on your objectives could lead to your downfall.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Usually when assessing critical situations, you do it in a logical fashion. However, today you may be given to impractical rationalizations.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) There is a chance a misunderstanding may arise today between you and a close friend over something material. Don't let anything of this sort affect your relationship.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today you may make a decision in order to do that which is most convenient rather than that which is most constructive. To be safe, reverse the order.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't delegate assignments of an artistic nature to anyone about whose talents you are dubious. The results could turn out to be less than desirable.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There is a possibility you might step out of character today and be unduly possessive of someone you love. It could put a chill on your association.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't make any promises to your mate today unless you fully intend to comply. He or she will be very disappointed if you're insincere.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Sincerity is essential when dealing with associates today. If others feel you are trying to manipulate them through flattery, the results won't meet your expectations.

Portable satellite receiving system built

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A group of tinkering junior high school honor students has dished up a high-tech show-and-tell item to take them beyond the confines of the classroom: a portable satellite receiving system.

"We're the first to do this," said Todd Mitchell, president of the 21-member Satellite Club at Adams Junior High School.

Club members made the system from junk parts and scrap metal. A donated television set receives signals from a dish that was given to them by the University of South Florida. The portable system can be assembled and dismantled in 15 minutes.

The signals are transmitted from satellites orbiting Earth at 2,200 miles. Pictures are received through the homemade system and onto the TV screen.

"Our main job is not to watch TV," said science teacher Erv Nevsimal, co-sponsor of the project.

Penwomen share works

Scurry County Penwomen met April 20 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foy Westmoreland. Dorothy Cox offered the invocation.

Janelle Burk gave a feature entitled, "How to Write Essays." She commented that essays are personal opinion articles and should stay with one subject.

Burk pointed out that there are very few markets for essays. Editorials and personal columns are the closest examples of essays in modern times. There is a small demand in the intellectual market.

Burk reported that she won third place in the critic judge's monthly contest of the Poetry Society of Texas. Her poem was entitled, "Threads," and the award was $5.

Garnet Quiett reported that her article, "The Path to School," which appeared in the September, 1987 issue of "Mature Living" has been chosen to be recorded on a 1988 issue of "Christian Leisure Listening Tapes: a digest for blind and visually impaired persons."

During the reading session, Mary Westmoreland read a chapter from the book which she and her sisters are writing. Cox read her article, "Winter Reflections," and Burk read her poems, "The Call" and "Love Recalled." Quiett read her poems, "Insomnia" and "Twelve Year Old."

Members were served refreshments following the meeting.

The May 18 meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Killgo. Writers and visitors are welcome to attend.

Pro football draft finally concluded; Heisman runners-up get passing notice

NEW YORK (AP) — The bright lights of Broadway didn't shine on them. The television cameras long ago were shut off and removed. There were no cheerleaders or school bands to trumpet the announcements.

Don McPherson and Gordie Lockbaum, the second- and third-place finishers in last year's Heisman Trophy balloting, finally had their names called in the NFL draft on Monday. Except for some scattered applause from a half-dozen fans in the gallery at the Marriott Marquis Hotel just off Broadway, those selections went virtually unnoticed.

Such is life for the college star who doesn't fit the profile of the prototype NFL prospect.

McPherson, who led Syracuse to an 11-0-1 season, was taken with the 12th pick of the sixth round by the Philadelphia Eagles — the 149th player taken. Lockbaum, who played both ways at Holy Cross and excelled as a running back and defensive back, went in the ninth round, 236th overall, to Pittsburgh.

Tim Brown, the wide receiver from Notre Dame who won the Heisman, was the sixth player chosen, by the Los Angeles Raiders.

"I'm not disappointed one bit," McPherson said of being picked so late. He was the second pure quarterback chosen; only Tom Tupa of Ohio State, whom Phoenix drafted as a punter with the 68th pick, and Chris Chandler of Washington, taken by Indianapolis with the 76th selection, went earlier.

"I knew going into the draft that I wouldn't go in the first couple of rounds because I wanted to go as a quarterback," said McPherson, who added that Eagles Coach Buddy Ryan "made it clear to me that he likes me as a quarterback and only that."

Lockbaum was drafted as a running back — and only that — by the Steelers.

"They said I'll be an offensive player coming out of the backfield, maybe a third down-type back. They might even have me run the ball," Lockbaum said.

Other well-known players taken on the second day of the second-quickest NFL draft since the merger were quarterbacks Todd Santos, Kerwin Bell and Mike Perez; Ernie Jones of Indiana and Marc Zeno of Tulane, a pair of All-America wide receivers; Miami, Fla. linebacker George Mira Jr., who was suspended from the 1988 Orange Bowl for use of a banned diuretic; Keith Jones, one of Nebraska's all-time leading rushers, and Melvin Bratton, who probably would have been a first-round pick if he hadn't wrecked his knee as Miami beat Oklahoma 20-14 in the Orange Bowl for the national championship.

The 333rd and last player chosen was Southern Oregon State running back Jeff Beathard, son of Washington Redskins general manager Bobby Beathard. The Redskins should have had the last pick but Beathard arranged a trade with the Los Angeles Rams to switch places in the final round to avoid any inferences of nepotism with the final selection.

Altogether, 11 quarterbacks were taken on the second day. They were McPherson; Perez; Santos; Bell; Scott Secules of Virginia (by Dallas in the sixth round); Stan Humphries from Northeast Louisiana (Washington, sixth round); Bud Keyes of Wisconsin (Green Bay, 10th round); Danny McCoin of Cincinnati (by Detroit, 11th round); Danny McManus of Florida State (Kansas City, 11th round); David Weber of Carroll College in Wisconsin (Raiders, 11th round); and Duke's Steve Slayden (Cleveland, 12th round).

Tigers hope winning trend begins again this afternoon

BIG SPRING — Snyder's Tigers hope to do today what they did the last time they met Big Spring — snap a three-game losing streak.

The teams square off at 4 p.m. here.

After losses to Pecos, Andrews and Monahans got Snyder off to an 0-3 start in district play this season, the Tigers managed hold off the Steers, 7-6. They went on to beat Fort Stockton, Lamesa and San Angelo Lake View in order. But the second round began like the first, with losses to Pecos and Andrews, and Friday's 6-5 loss to Monahans.

Now, Big Spring is up again. Big Spring comes in having defeated Lake View 13-3 on Saturday. The Steers are in fourth place in the 2-4A standings with a 6-4 record. They are 13-12 for the season.

Snyder brings a 4-6 mark and the fifth spot in the standings to the game. The Tigers are 10-11-1 for the season.

In other games today, Monahans (15-6, 9-1) is at San Angelo to play Lake View (4-13, 2-8), Pecos (12-8, 7-3) treks to Fort Stockton (6-14, 1-9), and Lamesa (5-11, 2-8) visits 10th-ranked Andrews (18-4, 9-1).

Right fielder Randy Morris will lead off for the Tigers today at the plate. He'll be followed by Brad Gartman at short stop, Van Echols at second base, David Martinez at first base and Bert Otto at third. Scott Lanier will bat for pitcher Lee Fletcher. Next comes left fielder Kevin Dollins, catcher Tracy Odom and center fielder Tracy Brazier.

Fletcher is 4-7 with one save for the season. He has a 1-5 record in district play with a 3.31 ERA.

Snyder is batting .307 in 2-4A action; 315 for the season. Echols is 16-of-32 for .500 while Martinez and Gartman are hitting .429 apiece.

BEHIND IT TO THE GLASSPANELS IS THEY'RE BUZZIN' WITH ACTION

Five-year-old AIDS victim tells pupils of bad blood

LAKESWOOD, Colo. (AP) — A 5-year-old boy has realized his dream of attending school before he dies of AIDS. He began his first day of preschool by telling his classmates about his fatal disease and his "bad blood."

The boy, whose breathing is aided by an oxygen tank, surprised his mother by volunteering the information as his seven classmates introduced themselves, his mother said Monday.

"He said 'This is my oxygen, and I have a disease. My bad blood could kill you,'" said the mother, Shiela, who took her son Jonathan on Monday to the special education class at Patterson Elementary School.

"He didn't wait for anything. And the kids responded really well," the mother said at a news conference outside her condominium in this Denver suburb.

"He broke the ice right off and from then on it was just normal kid stuff," said Shiela, a divorced mother of three other sons.

She has asked that her last name not be published because she fears retaliation against her family.

"They listened and they played with me," Jonathan said of the hour he spent in the classroom.

Asked whether his first day was as much fun as he expected, he replied, "Yeah."

Shiela said her son's biggest dream has been to attend school before he dies.

"He used to talk about dying all the time and he said he wanted to die," she said as Jonathan watched ants inching along the sidewalk. "But he hasn't addressed it since he found out he would get to go to school. He hasn't mentioned it in the last couple of weeks."

As his mother talked with reporters, Jonathan showed off a Polaroid picture of himself at school. At one point, he walked away to play on the sidewalk, unhooking the tube that connected him with the oxygen tank.

Jonathan's hopes of going to school were blocked several times in the past year by one delay after another. Earlier this month, a tutor assigned by the school district to teach him at home demanded to be reassigned, threatening to file a lawsuit if forced to continue the tutoring. The request was granted.

School officials decided April 19 to allow Jonathan to attend class.

Jonathan is Colorado's first recorded child victim of the fatal disease, said his mother. The youngster contracted AIDS from tainted blood he received in a transfusion shortly after birth and was diagnosed in June 1985.

"One thing that sticks in my mind, he used to say 'Jesus doesn't listen to me. ... I told Him to come and get me, and He didn't.' It really rips your heart out, but I think in a way he's comforting me by telling me it's all right with him. He was diagnosed three years ago, and it's just a matter of time."

Pam Mills, executive director of exceptional students' services for Jefferson County Schools, also attended the news conference and said she was unaware of any parents who had kept their children at home because of Jonathan. There were no protesters or parents outside the school Monday.

Mills said parents of the other students had prepared their children.

"We have met with the parents a couple of times," she said. "It's basically a health and hygiene type of issue with them."

Jonathan eventually will attend class 10 hours a week and his progress will be evaluated in May and in August.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR TEXAS—The West first grade students in Betty Richardson's class had a birthday party for Texas last week. The state was 152 years old on April 21. Missing Navy man said only 4 months from retirement to the hometown he left 20 years ago for a Navy career and had even made arrangements for a local bank account. Bordelon, 39, four months from retiring, is one of three men listed as missing following Sunday's underwater explosions and a toxic fire that injured 22 sailors aboard the USS Bonefish.

A woman answering the telephone at the Willis home of L.C. Roach, Bordelon's stepfather, said Monday evening that the Navy was keeping the family informed.

"We really don't want to talk about it," the woman said. "We're still hoping. It's probably false hope, but that's all we have."

Bordelon had contacted Alton Ellis of the Willis Bank to set up a bank account for his return home, the Conroe Courier reported.

Bordelon was a 1968 graduate of Willis High School. He lived in Willis from the age of eight. His mother, Adele Bergers, lives in nearby Splendora.

The 30-year-old Bonefish, its remaining crew evacuated to shore bases, floated Monday alongside the submarine rescue ship USS Petrel about 160 miles off Florida, said Lt. Cmdr. Aaron Long, a spokesman at Atlantic Fleet headquarters in Norfolk, Va.

Long said preliminary indications pointed toward a series of explosions, including one in the battery compartment, but he said he was unable to say precisely where the other explosions occurred on the ship.

The explosion occurred Sunday afternoon in the boat's battery compartment while the Bonefish was submerged on a routine training mission, said Chief Petty Officer Terry D. Borton, a fleet spokesman.

The explosion triggered a fire that filled the 219-foot vessel with smoke and toxic fumes. The sub surfaced and Cmdr. Mike Wilson, the commander, ordered it evacuated.

The Petrel arrived on the scene Monday afternoon, but Navy officials said any decision to board the submarine was being delayed until today.

"The decision made was that no one goes aboard" until the Petrel's experts declare the ship free of dangerous fumes, Long said.

Also identified as missing are Lt. Ray Everts of Naoma, W. Va., and Petty Officer 3rd Class Marshall T. Lindgren of Pisgah Forest, N.C.

Boys attending the camp may stay in the dormitory on campus or commute each day. The fee for resident campers will be $180, while commuters will pay $100. All camp sessions will be on the WTC campus.

Soviets worry that Reagan backing away from pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet officials are giving up hopes of sharp cuts in strategic nuclear arsenals before President Reagan leaves office and fear he may be returning to Red-baiting as he prepares to make his exit.

"The problem is that the American position is moving not forward but backward," said Valentin Falin, chairman of the semi-official Novosti news agency.

"As far as I can see, we don't have enough time to prepare any formal treaty" before the Moscow summit May 29-June 2, Falin said in an interview on Monday.

Falin, a non-voting member of the policymaking Soviet Central Committee and former Soviet ambassador to West Germany, blamed the Reagan administration and the U.S. political process for what he called wasted time since the summit in Washington last December.

"Certainly we cannot accomplish in the following four weeks what we have failed to do in four months," said Falin. "Certainly, we cannot expect miracles."

Falin also criticized a U.S. intelligence report saying the Soviet economy has not improved despite economic reforms by Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

He said the joint report by the Central Intelligence Agency and Pentagon analysts might have been done "to show the president that the Soviet Union is almost on its deathbed and it needs just another push, that he should not talk with the Soviet Union, but push it."

Falin contested the pessimistic U.S. intelligence report, and said that under Gorbachev industrial production rose more than 4 percent last year and agricultural production was up 9 percent, "higher than any rate in a decade."

The U.S. intelligence studies said the production of goods and services last year in the Soviet Union grew by only 0.5 percent, after a 4 percent jump in 1986.

Falin said the gloomy U.S. intelligence report and recent speeches by the president may signal a return to the harsh anti-Soviet rhetoric of Reagan's first years in office, when he called the Soviet Union an "evil empire."

"I would say that in his most recent speech, as well as his speeches in March and February, the president was preoccupied with rhetoric," said Falin. "Bearing in mind that he will not remain in office for a long time, he is trying to say in his last speeches what he lost the chance to say in 1981 and 1982."

"We have already passed the time when we could tolerate such rhetorical escapades."

Gorbachev complained after meeting with Secretary of State George P. Shultz in Moscow last week that the administration was "marking time" in arms control negotiations.

Reagan has said that he will not tailor his arms control positions to meet political deadlines, and does not expect the meeting in Moscow to wrap up the proposed Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty to cut strategic nuclear arsenals by 30 to 50 percent.

Authorities step up pressure on Arabs to ignore leaders

JERUSALEM (AP) — New steps aimed at breaking the five-month Palestinian uprising could prevent tens of thousands of residents in the occupied Gaza Strip from reaching jobs in Israel, news reports said today.

Meanwhile, PLO chief Yasser Arafat concluded a three-day reconciliation visit to Syria today and said his talks with President Hafez Assad to end a five-year feud were constructive. Israeli leaders have expressed concern about attempts by Arafat and Assad to revive a hard-line alliance against Israel.

A spokeswoman for the U.N. Relief and Works Agency in Gaza said the army was preventing people from reaching jobs by taking their ID cards and returning them only after the Arabs underwent lengthy checks at three government offices.

"Lines of hundreds of people are standing in front of these offices," said the spokeswoman, Christine Dabagh. She said the measures were first applied to residents of three refugee camps, then seemed targeted at the general population. Israeli Television said the program was aimed at breaking a tax boycott that has been a tactic of the Palestinian uprising.

A military official, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the new policy was part of an ongoing effort to challenge the Palestinian leadership.

The daily Jerusalem Post, quoting unidentified military sources, said tens of thousands of people could be restricted to Gaza under the measures.

Israel radio on Monday said dozens of Arabs in Gaza, accused of inciting riots, had their ID cards seized and must report to police twice a day.

In other developments Monday, Israeli authorities arrested striking Arab merchants, and the U.N. Security Council in New York condemned the assassination of the PLO's military commander. The United States did not use its veto, allowing the resolution to pass 14-0.

Khalil Wazir, the No. 2 man in the Palestine Liberation Organization, was gunned down April 16 at his home in Tunisia. Israeli sources and Tunisian officials have said Wazir was slain by Israeli commandos. The Israeli government has declined comment on the killing.

Also Monday, the military said the Israeli navy sank a guerrilla boat off Lebanon. Israel radio said the two people aboard the rubber dingy were killed.

Arafat's 3 1/2-hour meeting with Assad on Monday night was aimed at reviving a hard-line alliance against Israel and U.S. Middle East peace efforts, and at ending the rift that has hampered efforts to forge Arab unity.

Sources said the Palestine Liberation Organization chairman left by plane for Libya after meeting for one hour today with Syrian Vice President Abdul-Halim Khaddam, one of Assad's closest advisers.

As he rode in his limousine to the airport, Arafat shouted to reporters pressing him for comment on the talks with Assad: "They were useful and will have positive results on the Palestinian and Arab levels."

Arafat was accompanied on the flight by Salah Khalaf, the No. 2 man in Fatah, the PLO's main guerrilla faction and Arafat's main power base.

An aide said Arafat "will be back within a month."

Also today, Egypt welcomed the Arafat-Assad meeting, saying it supports Palestinian-Syrian coordination to advance the rights of the Palestinian people. The announcement was in a statement to reporters read by Taha Farnawany, head of the Egyptian Foreign Ministry's Palestine department.

All Arab countries except Syria, Libya, Algeria and Lebanon resumed relations with Cairo last year after breaking diplomatic ties following Egypt's 1979 peace treaty with Israel.

Six top Arafat aides remained in Syria. Among them was Farouk Kaddoumi, head of the PLO's political department, as well as other advisers and members of Fatah's 10-man governing central committee.

The greatest challenge to Israeli rule in the West Bank and Gaza Strip has been the Palestinian uprising. According to U.N. figures, 173 Palestinians have been killed since protests began on Dec. 8. Two Israelis also have died.

Israel has increased pressure to break the hold of underground PLO leaders over Arabs in the occupied lands and Israeli-annexed Arab east Jerusalem.

Guards put on suicide watch

JERUSALEM (AP) — Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir today praised a court for sentencing John Demjanjuk to death for Nazi war crimes.

"All of us are proud that a Jewish tribunal in the Jewish state has judged and condemned one of the cruelest war criminals who murdered many of our Jewish brethren and relatives," Shamir said in a speech at a Jerusalem hotel.

The Polish-born Shamir lost relatives in the Holocaust.

Also today, an official at the prison where Demjanjuk was held said guards were ordered to watch the former Ohio autoworker to prevent him from committing suicide. Demjanjuk's son, John Jr. said the precautions were "crazy."

Demjanjuk, 68, was returned to his solitary confinement cell in the maximum-security Ayalon Prison near Tel Aviv on Monday after receiving the death penalty for sending hundreds of thousands of Jews to their deaths in World War II as a brutal Nazi guard called "Ivan the Terrible."

Since returning to prison, he has been placed "under 24-hour guard, and we are asking his guards to be more careful, more alert," said Johnny Tester, spokesman for the Israel Prison Service. "We want to be prepared."

John Jr. told The Associated Press the prison's precautions had no basis in fact. It's crazy.

Former substitute teacher faces charges

GEORGETOWN, Texas (AP) — A former substitute teacher at Round Rock has been indicted by a Williamson County grand jury on three counts of sexual assault of a child and five counts of sexual indecency with a child. The indictment was returned Monday. When Round Rock investigators and Harris County officers arrested Donald Black, 52, at Katy near Houston, they found a 14-year-old boy hiding in a closet at Black's home, officers said. Dan LeMay, a Round Rock police investigator, said statements by the boy led to the filing of two charges of sexual assault against Black in Harris County. The arrest followed a one-year investigation by Round Rock officers, LeMay said. Williamson County District Attorney Ken Anderson said Black is being held in Harris County Jail. Black will be prosecuted simultaneously on the Harris County and Round Rock charges, authorities said. The victims in the Round Rock cases, all 14- or 15-year-old boys, were identified in the indictments as Black's former students or friends of his former students, LeMay said. Black was hired by the Round Rock school district in fall 1986 as a substitute teacher, teaching primarily industrial arts at C.D. Fulkes Middle School, LeMay said. The suspect resigned in January 1988. Round Rock investigators began investigating Black after they were contacted by a school official in March 1987, he said. "We owe a real debt to the school," LeMay said. "They did a real good job of assisting us with this. This was one of the longest investigations we've been involved in." Black has worked as a full-time or substitute school teacher on and off for the past 30 years, Anderson said. Black faces from two to 20 years in jail for each of the 10 offenses he has been charged with in Williamson and Harris counties if he is found guilty, LeMay said.

On April 30, 1945, with Russian forces approaching his bunker in Berlin, Adolf Hitler committed suicide along with his wife, Eva Braun, whom he had married the day before. One week later, Germany agreed to unconditional surrender, ending Hitler's Third Reich.

Thieves steal railing guards

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Thieves will steal anything. Just ask San Antonio police.

Officers say brazen thieves are stripping heavy aluminum railing guards from the tops of city bridges to be sold or used as scrap metal, officers say.

Two men were caught early Monday as they worked to remove railings from a bridge.

One of the men tossed a crescent wrench from the bridge when police arrived, investigators said.

The men told police the metal has a variety of uses after it is melted, and one said he had converted a similar railing into a barbell weight set.

Jose Castillo, 20, and Christobal Ortega, 41, were being held in the Bexar County Jail today in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

City officials said there have been at least two similar cases this month.

"Whenever there's aluminum railing, that (theft) occurs," said

John Krawczynski, operations manager for the streets and drainage section of the city's Public Works Department.

"We've been having a hard time keeping those things on," he said. "The price of aluminum has gone up and so have the number of thefts."

Multiple myeloma can be treated

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: The clinic finally gave up on me and told me to go back to the doctor who did the bone-marrow business. I'm told I have multiple myeloma and immunoproliferative neoplasms. Is there a cure?

DEAR READER: I am concerned by the almost offhand manner in which you ask your question. You do have a blood-cell abnormality, and this abnormality is serious. However, it is treatable. I cannot believe that the doctors "gave up" on you. Could your misperception reflect the perfectly normal anger and fear you have upon being given such a diagnosis? Get to your doctor right away for a followup.

Multiple myeloma is a form of malignancy involving the plasma cells of the blood and bone marrow. Actually, this disease is made up of two elements. In one, called plasma cell myeloma, the cells form tumors that invade bone. In the other (typical multiple myeloma), the diseased plasma cells make inappropriate amounts of immunoglobulin, a disease-fighting protein. From the body's standpoint, this is too much of a good thing. Therefore, patients with myeloma experience weakness, anemia, kidney failure and immune deficiency. Two major types of treatment are useful. Radiation therapy will shrink the tumor masses and relieve pain. Chemotherapy is of help in almost all patients and can lead to cures or remissions lasting several years.

I think that it's important for you not to give up on yourself and not to assume that others are going to give up on you. Myeloma is treatable. You can be helped.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report, VIRUSES AND CANCER. Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: A while ago, a reader asked you about support groups for her son who suffers from the type of hearing loss that hearing aids can't help. There is such an organization: Self-Help for Hard of Hearing People (SHHH), 7800 Wisconsin Ave., Bethesda, MD 20814.

DEAR READER: Thank you for writing and mentioning this resource.

The Texas Poll research data confirm once again a basic fact of marketing life:

Newspapers provide the most efficient means of reaching the best prospects in Texas.

Daily and Sunday newspaper readership is strong. The majority of adults in Texas read a daily newspaper everyday of the week; two thirds read every Sunday. In terms of where Texans get most of their shopping information, newspaper leads mail by more than 2 to 1 and TV by almost 3 to 1.

ATTENTION RETAILERS!

...are co-op advertising dollars slipping through your fingers?

Are you missing out on co-op advertising funds that are available to you? Did you know that co-op advertising help from many of your manufacturers and suppliers can pay anywhere from half to all of your advertising costs? Every year manufacturers and suppliers make millions of dollars available to retailers, yet a good part of that help is lost because many retailers are not even aware of the fact that this money is available to them. Our advertising staff has been especially trained to help you locate hidden co-op opportunities. They will help you prepare your ads, supply you with attractive, attention compelling art, write your copy and put it all together in an eye-catching layout. Our staff can produce results for you, and best of all, the co-op available to you can pay as much as 100% of the costs. Don't let co-op money slip through your fingers. It is really your money and if you don't use it, you'll lose it and all the potential sales that it can produce. Call your local newspaper advertising representative now and take advantage of the hard-hitting results this paper can generate. If you're not already advertising and using valuable co-op dollars, we'll show you how co-op can stretch your promotional budget and, at times, pay the entire bill.

This year, 15,000 cocaine users are in for a real rush.

The numbers speak for themselves. In 1985, 13,501 cocaine users in the U.S. were rushed to hospital emergency rooms for emergency treatment. Of those, 660 died.

That was two years ago. This year thousands more people, many trying cocaine for the first time, will get a similar rush — down a busy street or a narrow hospital corridor. They'll discover the truth about cocaine. Cocaine is not safe. Cocaine is not recreational. In any form, cocaine is a serious health risk with deadly side effects. And it's a drug more addictive than heroin.

So the next time you find yourself bending over a line or lifting a spoonful of cocaine, remember, you may be in for more than just a high — you may be in for a real rush.
