C. OF C. HAS ACHIEVED MUCH DURING 10-MONTHS EXISTENCE

Program of Work Outlined For Year Is Being Accomplished

Many activities and accomplishments, affecting various phases of business development in Haskell and this trade territory, feature the record of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce during the first ten months of its operation. Organized during the latter part of February, 1936, an efficient organization of board of directors and committees, under the leadership of many of Haskell's outstanding citizens, has converted the Chamber of Commerce into a forceful service agency for this entire section. With Dr. T. W. Williams as president, Server Leon, vice president and Ralph Duncan as secretary, affairs of the organization have been efficiently directed by the following directors: T. C. Cahill, J. D. Montgomery, Hollis Atkinson, Courtney Hunt, O. E. Patterson, N. L. McCollum, A. M. Turner, W. A. Holt, S. Hassen, Emory Menefee, Virgil Reynolds, Jno. A. Couch, Guy Collins, Oscar Oates and Lynn Pace. Objectives to be attained during the year, which were outlined at the organization meeting, were placed in the hands of directors and committeemen, and executive work of the organization has been expedited under their direction, obviating the necessity of calling frequent general meetings of the membership. Organization's Plans Are Executed by Officers and Directors

Organization has operated on a much smaller monthly budget than was believed possible, as shown by records in the office of Secretary Duncan, who assumed his duties on March 1st. Expenditures. Dues collected for membership have been expended in such manner as to be of most benefit to the town and membership, and have indirectly saved firms and individuals much more than they have paid in. Among other things, finances of the Chamber of Commerce have been used to supplement funds of various charitable programs, where formerly each business house was a contributor. Dues for affiliation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce were paid by the local organization, whereas this sum was formerly raised among several local firms. The organization has also aided in purchasing uniforms for the Haskell Municipal Band, and in financing several trips made by the Band. Jointly with the county and city the C. of C. has helped to maintain the National Reemployment Service office in Haskell, and likewise has been instrumental, in cooperation with the county, in furnishing office quarters and garage space for the engineers and equipment of the Soil Conserva-

Fire Departments Of Rule and Knox City Aid in Fighting Flames

An early morning blaze, one of the most disastrous in years, destroyed eight wooden and sheet iron buildings in the city of Rochester, today, causing a property loss estimated at $9,000, and for a time threatened to spread throughout the business section of the city. Fire originated in a small building near the center of the block on the south side of the main business street, and spread rapidly to adjoining structures. Explosion of a kerosene lamp was believed to have started the blaze, shortly before 5 o'clock. The Rochester fire department was aided in combatting the fire by members and equipment of both the Rule and Knox City departments, preventing a more disastrous loss. Buildings destroyed, and their estimated value, were: Two one-story frame buildings, owned by N. B. Webb, valued at $2,000. Three frame buildings belonging to Mrs. W. M. Crume, valued at $2,500. Two one-story frame buildings, owned by J. D. Smith, $1,000. Two-story frame building, the property of Mrs. R. L. Gray, valued at $2,000. Upper story of the Gray building was occupied by the Woodman lodge. Only two of the buildings were occupied, both as living quarters. Mrs. A. R. Graham, occupant of one of the buildings, sustained a loss of $300 on household effects. A similar loss was reported by Mr. Sexton, occupant of the other building. None of Buildings Insured. Destruction of the buildings entailed a total loss to owners, with no insurance in effect on any of the properties involved. Walls of the N. B. Webb building, a concrete structure on the west end of the block, were damaged to a considerable extent, and similar damage was sustained on a brick building owned by J. J. Tucker of this city, which was in the path of the fire. No estimate of the damage to these buildings could be furnished.

FUNERAL HOME IS TEMPORARILY MOVED FROM CITY

Kinney Funeral Home To Be Re-established When Building Is Secured

Announcement is made this week of the temporary removal of all equipment and furnishings of the Kinney Funeral Home, established in Haskell over five years ago, from this city to the firm's establishment in Stamford. J. H. Kinney, head of the local firm, explained that the move was made necessary because the lease on the building occupied in Haskell could not be satisfactorily arranged for the ensuing year. Mr. Kinney stated that as soon as suitable quarters could be secured, or a new building erected, the business would be re-established in this city. In the meantime, he stated that Haskell patrons would be served through the Stamford establishment, with particular arrangements made to handle all emergency ambulance calls, adding that three modern ambulances were ready for instant service to the Haskell vicinity at no extra charge. Under the temporary arrangement, Mr. Kinney stressed the fact that he wished Haskell friends to keep in mind that all facilities of the firm were still available to residents of this section, asking them to place their telephone calls to the Stamford firm at his expense.

319 Persons Confined In Jail During Year; Drunks Lead Offenders

Despite due diligence on the part of officers, records in the Sheriff's office for the past year reveal that fewer arrests were made for law violations by members of the department than in the year of 1935, indicating that Haskell county residents have become more law-abiding. A comparison of figures, taken from the official report compiled by Mrs. Hettie Williams, office deputy, shows that 319 arrests were made during the year just closed. Figures cover only the official jail records, where inmates were confined in the county jail, and do not take into account the numerous instances where suspicious persons have been taken into custody for questioning. During 1935, 566 arrests were made, with drunkenness prevailing in almost fifty per cent of the (Continued On Page Eight)

On opening day for the new venture, the proprietors served free coffee—an annual custom while they were in the Tonkawa Hotel Cafe—and both Mr. and Mrs. Warren expressed their gratitude regarding the number of old friends and patrons and friends who called during the day.

$51,000 Damage Suit Settled by Parties To Suit

A suit for $51,000 damages, filed by Dick Reeder, young farmer, against the West Texas Utilities Company, was settled by agreement between attorneys for the plaintiff and defendant Wednesday at noon, after trial of the action had been under way in District Court since Monday morning. Basis of the plaintiffs claim for damages, was that he received permanent injuries when he came in contact with an electric transmission line while operating a combine on the farm of J. E. Cloud near Rule last summer. Testimony of witnesses in the case was started Monday afternoon, occupied the entire day Tuesday, and was resumed Wednesday morning. At noon attorneys for both sides announced after a conference that a settlement had been agreed upon, and jurors hearing the testimony were discharged by District Judge Dennis Ratliff. Attorneys for the plaintiff were T. R. Odell of Haskell and Dallas, Scarbrough of Abilene, with Josh Groce of San Antonio, E. L. Harwell of Abilene, and Ratliff & Ratliff of this city representing the utilities company. Under the terms of the agreement, the sum of $5,000 was reported to have been paid in settlement of Reeder's claim.

Lubbock Meeting Called To Discuss Extension of WPA

A meeting of county and city officials, Chamber of Commerce heads and newspaper editors of this section will be held in the Hilton Hotel at Lubbock Friday afternoon, January 8th, for the purpose of devising ways and means for making a concerted effort in behalf of an extension of WPA activities in this section. Discontinuance of the WPA, which is now furnishing employment to thousands of persons, would place the burden of providing sustenance and shelter for a large number of persons square-by upon county and city governments. Sponsors of the Lubbock meeting, according to announcement, are urging a representative attendance from all West Texas, in order that the need of imperative action be communicated to Texas Congressmen and Senators regarding the immediate appropriation of sufficient funds by Congress to continue the WPA work. Dr. T. W. Williams, president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, stated Wednesday that a representative from the local organization would attend the Lubbock meeting, probably accompanied by several business men.

Date For Annual C of C Banquet Still Indefinite

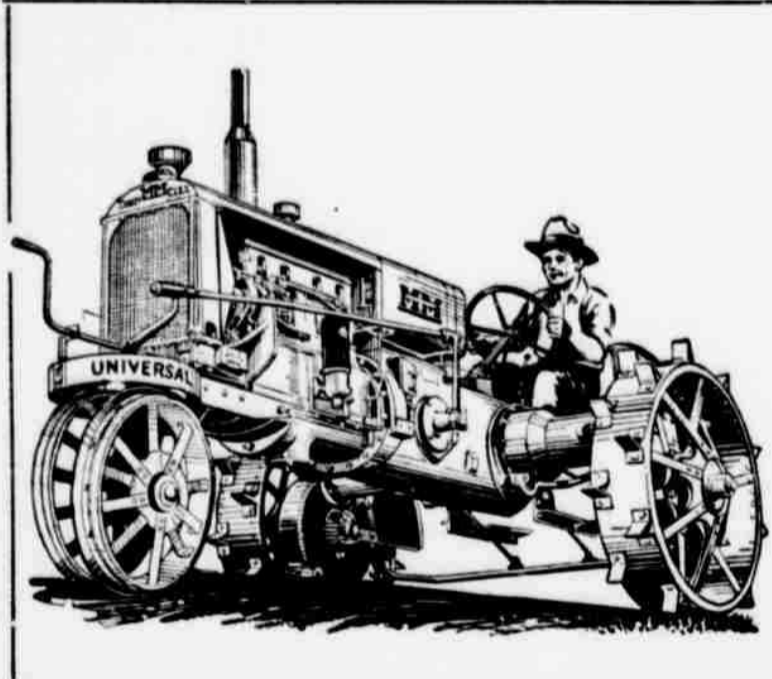

Date for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, tentatively arranged to be held early this month with Hon. Harry Hines, State Highway Commission chairman, as the principal speaker, has again been postponed, according to Ralph Duncan, secretary. Mr. Hines notified the local organization that he could come to Haskell January 11 or 12, but Chamber of Commerce heads were of the opinion that plans for the annual affair could not be properly arranged on so short notice, hence the banquet was postponed and Mr. Hines requested to hold open a later date for his visit to Haskell.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR

Ho! Old '37 has slipped upon us and it's up to us to keep it from slipping away without a full twelve months of joy, happiness and something worth while to add to our goal in life.

Everyone is looking forward to a happy new year, and we do hope no one is disappointed.

"It's going to be a lovely year, we know."

It was a H. S. student who said it. They laughed and joked and turned away.

I overheard your words, please tell me friends,

How can you know what sort the year will be.

They looked at me, what was it in their eyes?

Deep pity, kindness, or love of life?

They paused, as for a moments thought of

Just how to tell or what to tell at all.

And then one spoke, the words keep haunting me—

They laughed "We are no prophets that is true."

"But still," they said, "We know that years are days,

And only days, so all we have to do,

To make so long a time all beautiful,

It just to take one day and make it so,

And then another, until the year is gone!"

To them it is a simple thing like that!

Why can't we have a lovely year ourselves.

SO THEY SAY—

Ruth went with a certain Jack on the hay ride Thursday night.

Jessie Kate has a wee bit of temper but really is making a good ball player.

Leon is coming along nicely with his love affairs.

L. D. is getting that way.

Roe is a very sophisticated young lady. (Just all of a sudden.)

Waid Blair is trying to be tough.

Eddie Mae is losing entirely too much sleep.

Frieda M. is going to make a steamstress after all.

Ora Mae is beginning to make up and fix her hair. (It's for some one we know.)

Bobby Louis is good at getting back at a certain boy.

Robbie Joe is a good talking machine.

Series Cooking Broadcasts Over Abilene Station

West Texas women will have an opportunity to tell the world about their cooking during a series of broadcasts over Abilene and San Angelo radio stations, sponsored by the West Texas Utilities Company, beginning Thursday morning, January 14, it was announced today.

The series, titled "Your Electric Servant" program, will feature Bernice Huddleston, Abilene soprano, and Eudora Hawkins, Home Economist, for the West Texas Utilities Company.

The program will go on the air at 9:15 a. m. over Station KRBC Abilene, and will be reproduced at 9:30 a. m. over Station KGKL, San Angelo.

Prizes will be given for the best recipe sent in by listeners. An electric clock will be awarded January 23 for the winning recipe on "how to bake a cake that pleased your family most," Miss Hawkins said.

"An attractive and valuable electric appliance will be awarded weekly thereafter," she announced. "While the series of broadcasts begins this week, we thought it best to wait two weeks before closing the opening contest. The winning recipe will be given in detail over the radio each week and the name of the winner announced."

Guest artists from all over the territory will be presented from time to time, Gene Elo, program manager, said.

TOO MANY ACTIVITIES

Dispatches from Washington say that the administration is going ahead with its plans for reorganization of the executive departments of the government on a more efficient basis.

OVERLOOKING THE FARMER

As the Haskell Free Press surveys the outlook for 1937 it is convinced that the predictions of eminent economists is correct in expecting improvement to continue during the present year.

The recent depression, which made a lasting mark, was caused, in part, by the fact that agriculture had been bled white in the United States for a number of years.

While our present favorable outlook can be seriously affected by the outbreak of war and while the continuance of vast numbers of citizens on relief implies great Federal expenditures.

Farmers, it is true, are receiving better prices and their income has increased in recent years, but the higher prices have been secured through smaller crops and the farmers are not yet able to sell normal crops at what one would call normal prices.

WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO?

The statistics will be rather gruesome but, in a few weeks, you will hear that the year 1936 set a new record in the number of lives snuffed out on the highways of America.

If all the editorials and all the speeches, spoken and written on the subject of highway safety, barely reach the height of the bodies, collected in one heap.

There was a time when we believed that safety could be attained by strictly limiting the speed of vehicles but we have passed on.

"Law on the books" are worthless unless enforced and worse than useless if constantly ignored. The laws of the land, attempting to regulate the speed of motor vehicles, are violated so many more times than they are enforced.

This is no effort to solve the problem, merely to impress upon all readers that the problem exists. What are we going to do about it, if anything?

CURRENT COMMENT

THE OLD FOLKS

(From the Pittsburgh Press)

For many of America's aged poor the new year will dawn in greater peace, security and contentment. For many others it will be the same old story of fear, privation and dread of the poorhouse over the hill.

A report of the Social Security Board on old age pensions discloses that 1,271,285 aged persons past 65 are receiving old age assistance in 41 states that have pension systems acceptable to the Federal government.

But from present indications seven states—Georgia, Kansas, North and South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee and Virginia—will enter 1937 without provision for any form of old age pension on their books.

The average monthly pension paid to these hard-up elders is small enough in the states with pension laws. It averages only $18.50 a month.

Let's extend good wishes to Gov. Alfred M. Landon during 1937—just because he showed good sportsmanship after the election.

HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

NEW LIFE IN CHRIST International Sunday School Lesson for January 10, 1937.

Golden Text: "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except one be born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God."—John 3:3.

Lesson Text: John 2:1-3:36

Our lesson last Sunday was a discussion of the Prologue to John's Gospel, in which the Beloved Disciple sought to prove that Jesus was both Human and divine—the Son of Man and the son of God—and that before the world began, Jesus was with God but that he was made flesh and dwelt among men.

In the larger lesson for today, John 2, John tells of Jesus' first miracle, his cleansing of the temple and, in John 3, of the visit of Nicodemus to Jesus by night.

It is significant that Jesus' first miracle was performed while he was a guest at a marriage in Cana of Galilee. He would have us know that he would be with us in all celebrations in life if we would but invite him. He would be the Master of our entire life, rejoicing with us when we rejoice and comforting us when we are sad.

His first miracle was performed to relieve the embarrassment of his host, replenishing the supply of wine which had given out before all the guests had partaken.

The scene changes from Cana in Galilee to Jerusalem where Jesus had gone to attend the Feast of the Passover. Finding the Temple overrun with money-changers, Jesus charged that they had changed it from a place of worship into a market place and, taking up a scourge, he drove the desecrators from the Temple. Have we changed our churches from places, dedicated to the worship of God, into buildings in which practically anything of a secular nature may take place? In John 3, we have an account of the visit, under the cover of darkness, of Nicodemus a man of the Pharisees and a ruler of the Jews to Jesus. Just why Nicodemus chose the night time for his visit is a matter of conjecture. Some say he was afraid to be seen talking with Jesus, while others believe that he chose to come at night because he wanted an uninterrupted talk with the Master and he believed this could be accomplished better at night.

In addressing Jesus as "Rabbi," Nicodemus recognized him, not only as a teacher but as a "teacher come from God." He must have asked him a question, such as "How can one enter the Kingdom of God?" because in the recorded conversation between them Jesus answers that unless one "be born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God."

This was astonishing news to a ruler of the Jews and a Pharisee of the Pharisees, who was surprised that he would be required to undergo any change whatever in order to enter the kingdom of God. Jesus explained that one's physical birth was not enough, but "except one be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the Kingdom of God." "Of water"—a reference to the necessity of repentance and washing away of sins symbolized by the act of baptism, and "Of the Spirit"—referring to the need of a positive attachment of the inner life to an abiding source of moral help, which, according to Charles R. Brown, "When a man by repentance and faith has been born anew of water and of the Spirit, he has already entered the Kingdom of God."

Nicodemus could not comprehend the saying of Jesus, which was not surprising as his piety was cold and mechanical, an obedience to the outward rituals rather than to the inward movings of the heart. Jesus referred him to the marvels of nature—the wind whose force we know but whose origin we know nothing of and yet we know it is present in the world. He says, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that which we know, and bear witness of that which we have seen; and ye receive not our witness."

"If I told you, how shall ye believe if I tell you heavenly things and ye believe not, how shall ye believe if I tell you heavenly things?" Jesus then alludes to the cross, saying, "As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness" so that all might look upon it and be healed, even "So must the Son of Man be lifted up. That whosoever believeth in him may have eternal life."

Then John gives what Martin Luther has called the "Little Gospel," the Bible in Miniature, John 3:10, in which the whole plan of God for his creation is revealed. It tells of God's love for man, who in his sin would be forever lost had God not loved us enough to send his only son Jesus Christ, to live among us in such a way as to inspire faith and love, that those who believe on him should not perish, but shall have eternal life.

If we would "enter the Kingdom of God" and "have eternal life," we too must cast off the old man, with its sin and imperfections, and be born again, with a new heart, new ideals and a new goal in life—striving to be "like Jesus" in order that we may eventually be "with Jesus."

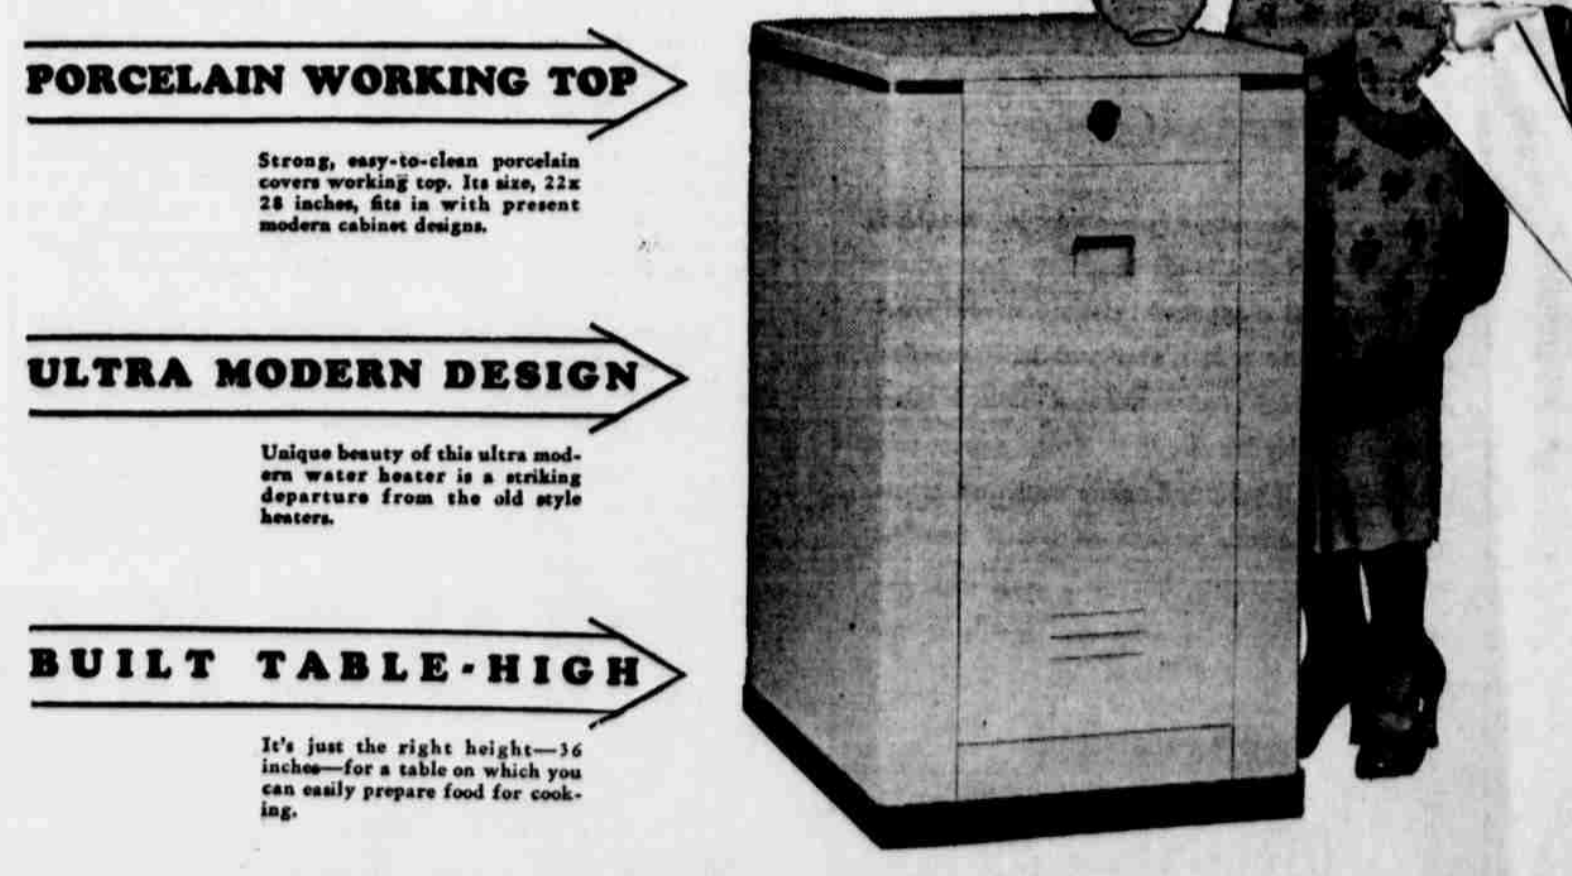

Guests in Cliff Home Mr. and Mrs. Bruce T. Clift had as their guests during the Christmas holidays Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clift of Dallas, Mr. E. B. Rapley of Dallas, Miss Clara Clift, Frank Clift of Duncan, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Gus Clift and little daughter, Julia Frank of Rotan.

Freshman Resolutions

We, freshmen members of the history class resolve to study more the rest of this school term.
 I, Bonnie Dell Hisey resolve to save the sophomores alone the coming year.
 We, the 4-H Club resolve to have more meetings than usual.
 I, Paul Kuenstler, resolve to not wear the tie Mary Jo gave me so often.
 I, Mary Louise Holland, resolve to stay home at least thirty minutes per week.
 We, freshmen Gypsy Ramblers, resolve to be more loyal to our club.
 I, Margaret McClintock, resolve not to be so rough and outy.
 We, Jean and Eulamae, resolve to fuss with Jack and Buddy not more than once a night.
 I, Buddy Crandell, resolve not to let Jean have her own way all the time.
 We, the entire class wish you a happy and prosperous new year.

Jokes

"Beg your pardon, but what is your name sir?" the hotel clerk asked.
 "Name!" echoed Jack S., the indignant guest who had just signed the register, "don't you see my signature there?"
 "Of course," answered the clerk. "That's what aroused my curiosity."
 Lon and Eva Jo were sitting in the swing in the moonlight alone. No word broke the stillness for half an hour until—
 "Suppose you had money," Eva Jo said, "what would you do?"
 Lon drew out his chest and replied, "I'd travel!"
 He felt her warm young hand slide into his. When he looked up she had gone. In his hand was a nickel!

Haskell Indians Win From O'Brien

The Junior and Senior basketball teams of Haskell high school met the O'Brien teams last Friday night and emerged the victors in both games. The Juniors had an easier time than the Seniors. They won their game by the score of 26 to 6, while the Seniors were pushed hard to win 26 to 21.

Student Clubs Have New Year's Party

The Future Home Makers and Future Farmers were entertained New Year's Eve in the basement of the Methodist Church. The boys made hats for the girls from a piece of brown paper, a string and three pins. Mr. Sullivan selected the two most attractive and the winners received prizes.
 The guests were divided into groups and went in search of information—a sleuth hunt, somewhat like a scavenger hunt. The winners were given "all-day suckers."
 When they were returned from the hunt and waiting for refreshments, a large box of confetti was brought out, where upon there was a mad scramble for a handful. Some of the members later attended the midnight show.

Sell Candy at Basketball Games

The Gypsy Ramblers are still on the job. They've kept that old working spirit throughout the year and have been earning money lately, selling candy at the basketball games. The New Year promises a lot of new helpful things for the Gypsies and their sponsor Mrs. Wimbish. Hikes, sponsoring programs, parties and our annual spring camp-trips are important things to look forward to. For the New Year may there be cooperation and willingness and the spirit of friendship among the Gypsy Ramblers of 1937 as there has been in the past.

Personals

Sympathy is extended to Louise Pierson and Curtis Ballard, sophomore students, whose grandfather, Mr. I. D. Killingsworth, died last week.
 Johnny and Carl Lane, freshmen, withdrew from school last week. They are moving to San Antonio.
 Junior Shumake, a sophomore, also withdrew, to enter school at Big Spring.

Correction

In a recent news story concerning our ex-students who are studying for the ministry, the name of Joseph Gose was omitted. As Joseph no longer lives in Haskell, we do not hear from him very frequently, but when heard from he had entered Northwestern University with the intention of preparing for the ministry of the Methodist church. He was a member of the class of 1932 in H. H. S. and we are proud of him; it was a regrettable circumstance that his name was omitted.

High School Gains New Students

During the last few weeks we have had several new students to enter our high school. Billy Kempman Comanche, Texas, is a new member of the freshman class. Nora Dee Ross is another new freshman. Elnora moved from the west community to McConnell, Texas, is now coming in on the school bus. Vernon Cook also recently enrolled in H. H. S. as a freshman. The Junior class has a new member, too—Audra Ray from South Plains, Texas.
 We are very glad to have these new students and hope they will enjoy attending Haskell High.

Freshman News Flashes!

Flash! Haskell High School! Bonnie Dell Hisey seems to have gotten along O. K. with Weiner Thursday night. (What's wrong with Paul?)—Say the new amphitheatre is just too popular with victrolas lately. Of course it takes partners.—Ethel Reba, why the sudden hard studying Mid term's over a week off.—Nettie Lowell Harrell's started using rouge and lipstick lately. All right, who is he Nettie?—We hear that Doris Parks has a new uncle since Saturday night.—Buster, what do you think about your girl falling for Jack Landess?—Our freshmen basketball girls are gradually climbing up the mountain to the road of success. We wish you luck girls.—Well, the old year is gone and 1937 has already been chistened, so new year please bring a happy and prosperous time to all.

Morning After The Night Before

The first four or five students seem to be a wee bit lonesome but soon several more appear in singles or groups.
 Talking—but at the same time watching for the study hall keeper to come from the office.
 Some boys, for want of exercise, leisurely walk across the room in cowboy boots, to sharpen their pencils.
 Frankie spilling her books in the floor and uttering a surprised, "Oh."
 Whispering among the Freshmen section until Mr. Wimbish appears in the doors.
 Delmon going into the teacher's pigeon hole to find Miss Davis.
 Helen M. hunting her pencil.
 Frances F. filling her fountain pen out of the "lost and found" ink.
 A stampede as the bus riders come in. Everyone looking up.
 Jim Roy mocking those who are cold by knocking his teeth together.
 Miss Vick making an announcement for those who are extremely cold.
 Several getting permission to speak on some lesson when the discourse really concerns some far fetched subject.
 Mr. Breedlove walks down the aisle and the only sound in the room is that of his soft foot-steps.
 Miss Riley makes an announcement concerning Freshman history and Senior Spanish.
 Kinzie coming in and walking to the pencil sharpener to show off her new dress.
 Mrs. Wimbish coming in, all smiles, to stop and talk to her "dear children".
 Several students going into the office to check their absence.
 And finally the bell—all rise and talk; but "Just a minute, please," comes from Mr. Wimbish as he rushes from the office.
 The stir and bustle quiets down announcements made, and a new day is on.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Elizabeth W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-lazy.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." . . . If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

You're a stockholder in HaskellHelp yourself to INTEREST!

THE FACT that you live in Haskell—MAKES YOU A STOCKHOLDER IN HASKELL. This is true whether you own property or pay rent—whether you're in business for yourself or lend your efforts and energies to another business—whether you are active or passive.

What would you think of a stockholder in any business that let his coupons go unclipped—that was vitally enough interested to be a stockholder, and not vitally interested enough to further the cause in every possible way he could?

Yet—that's just the situation—unless you do your best for Haskell — (paradoxically you collect interest by lending interest—and you cannot avoid being a stockholder).

Therefore it's obvious how much you benefit by giving Haskell your best—how directly your interests are Haskell's—and vice versa.

That most citizens are serving is evidenced by the definite progress Haskell is making. That Haskell will progress that much more rapidly if every citizen will lend his best—so that he may in turn collect greater return—is evident.

So this is our plea for your cooperation—trade at home—boost for Haskell—help the other fellow so that he may better help you.

Facts About FUNERAL Prices

The price of funerals is often a misleading factor in the selection of a competent mortician. We in the many years we have been established here, have earned a reputation for making possible freedom from conventional prices at a time when such freedom is worth more than anything else. That this means to you is simply this: any mortician's services, at any price, are far too expensive when you feel the need to haggle or bargain in order to protect yourself in a purchase about which you know very little; when you consult us, you can rely on our professional reputation for considerate understanding and dependable trustworthy help in your time of need . . . our personal interpretation and proudly maintained adherence to the real meaning of "service" . . . something that cannot be estimated in term of "price"!

Publicize Haskell
Much favorable publicity for Haskell and this section has been gained through the activities of the Chamber of Commerce.

In conjunction with the WTCC a Haskell exhibit was featured at the Frontier Centennial in Fort Worth, much literature was distributed advertising this section, and the city was given a special day at the Centennial on August 14. On this occasion a large delegation from this city accompanied by Miss Janie Lyle Martin as sponsor, and Mrs. Ralph Duncan as hostess, were given free rein on the exposition grounds and a radio broadcast was given in Haskell's honor.

In another instance, through sponsorship of the organization, Miss Louise Turner was presented as Haskell's sponsor at the annual WTCC convention in Amarillo, and took part in the "Cavalcade" a feature of the convention. Ralph Duncan and Courtney Hunt represented the local C of C at Amarillo.

Aid Farmers
Through activities of the local C of C Haskell county was included in the drouth area during the summer, enabling farmers and livestock men to secure lower freight rates on feed and livestock shipments. In many other instances, the organization has taken an active interest in matters pertaining to interests of farmers in this trade territory.

Work of Committees
Briefly summarized, the work of the Chamber's various committees is presented:

Trade Extension: Weekly Trades Days have been instituted which have increased Haskell's trade area, and attracted larger numbers of patrons to Haskell's stores. The plan now in operation has the enthusiastic approval of business men. Members of this committee are Sam A. Roberts, Courtney Hunt, Walter Holt, N. I. McCollum, Hill Oates, Hollis Atkinson, Guy Collins.

Brazos Dam: Although no tangible evidence of work on the project. Committees are A. C. Pierson, Courtney Hunt, F. M. Robertson.

Highways: Much effort has been directed toward completion of the county's only unfinished major

Early Start Is Urged on Year's HD Club Program

A study of Texas History, parliamentary procedure, bedroom improvement, and home food supply were the chief topics of interest in the Home Demonstration Clubs in 1936, according to the annual report made by Miss Peggy Taylor, county home demonstration agent.

All of the clubs had a program on the history of Haskell county and important historical events in Texas history. Clubs and club members purchased 18 copies of Longan Parliamentary Procedure.

A total of thirteen bedrooms were completely redecorated and sixty four improved. The following results were accomplished in bedroom improvement: 119 mattresses made; 55 pieces of light weight cover made; 214 pieces of furniture refinished; 117 floors improved; 24 reading or writing units added; 36 book shelves added; 13 chairs added; 34 clothes closets built; and 26 dressing tables added.

Fifty-two candlewick bed spreads were made by club members. Many of the designs are original and varied in price and the amount of work spent on them. A number of club members made more than two spreads.

Club women spent much time learning to plan menus that contained the essentials of an adequate diet. By planning adequate diets for their families they learned the foods that should be produced and canned for one year. In this way the correct amount of different foods are preserved and there is not an excess supply of pickles, relishes and preserves.

The following foods were canned and preserved in 1936: 10,800 quarts of fruit and vegetables; 9,200 quarts of meat; 446 quarts of preserves and jellies; twenty-three pantries were built too for food storage and many shelves were repaired and added.

Sixteen women from Haskell county attended the Farmer's Short Course and also visited the Centennial in July. 128 women attended the Encampment in Knox county in August, and all of the clubs had an exhibit at the Haskell Fair.

At Foster, Sagerton and Mattson new home demonstration clubs were organized in 1936.

Flowers were handled by Mrs. O. W. Maloy, Mrs. W. H. Cox, Mrs. John Rike, Miss Hazel Wilson, of Old Glory; Mrs. W. H. Chapman, Mrs. R. B. Harrell and Mrs. W. E. Reynolds of Munday.

The following clubs answered to roll call: Foster, Center Point, Blue Bonnet, Mattson, Jossilet, New Cook, Midway, New Mid, Hutto and O'Brien.

Killingsworth with his family moved to Haskell from Wise county 35 years ago, and became the owner of several farms near this city, and in addition accumulated other property interests in Haskell. He was one of the organizers and a director in the old Haskell State Bank in 1908, which institution was later merged with the Haskell National Bank. In recent years he had devoted his time to management of his farm holdings.

Rochester Man Is Winner In Checker Play

Haskell county in past years has been the home of champion farmers, stock-raisers, etc., and now bids fair to set the pace in another field—that of checker playing—with the advent of D. C. Hulsey of Rochester into the ranks of full-fledged contenders for high honors.

In a recent tournament held at Abilene, according to an accepted journal, Mr. Hulsey won the final ten game heat of the semi-annual West Texas Championship tourney, concluded later at Cisco, where he defeated Allen Chambers by 3 wins to 1 and 6 draws.

This was Mr. Hulsey's first entry in the West Texas event and his win was no small triumph, according to experts. His win was deserved, the Rochester player having led in both preliminary and semi-final groups of play, experts conceded.

On two recent occasions, the Rochester man has been runner up to Vinson Stanphill, state champion of Texas, in semi-tournament play.

THE FIRST ELECTION

The first national election in the United States was held 147 years ago today, giving our forefathers the opportunity of expressing an opinion with ballots instead of bullets. The idea was new-fangled in those days, but was gradually approved as a national custom, even though some of the more hardy settlers believed they could get better results with their muskets.

Times bring great changes. Countless innovations are discarded after a brief reign, but the practice of insuring against unnecessary loss has survived through the years.
