Others on Thursday's program include Kevin Combest and Van

Echols, who will offer the invocation and benediction. A student group directed by Bill Lyon will offer the class song, "Friends." The entire class will sing also the SHS Alma Mater.

Processional and recessional music will be offered by Mrs. Wayne Bethel.

Class officers for this year's seniors are Meredith Goodwin and Staci Dunn, serving as co-presidents; Dena Martin, vice president; Becky Becerra, secretary; and Anna Alvarez, reporter.

Class sponsors have been Kay Hopper, who served as chairman, and Drew Bullard, Kaye Carter, Richard Gorman, Patty Grimmett, Jamie Hall, Steve Hanson, Albert Lewis, Troy Lilly, Vicki Nelms, Ollie Cook, Walter Deason and Kevin Wiseman.

The class colors are black and white; the class flowers are red roses; and the class motto, "A dream to someday be the best, a goal that's reached by few; for only those who give their all will find their dream come true."

A — Current plans are for the local unit to be completed approximately nine months ahead of the Amarillo unit.

In Brief

Deployment

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syrian troops and Lebanese police began moving into Beirut's southern slums today to end a three-week bloodbath between rival Shiite Moslem militias.

About 200 soldiers wearing bulletproof vests over their battle fatigues advanced on foot from Beirut's airport highway to the nearby southern suburb of Ghobeiri.

Oil prices

HOUSTON (AP) — Iraq reduced its oil output in recent months in effort to bolster prices, according to the country's oil minister.

"It was a positive step for our side to help the stabilization of the market after the prices were going down," H.E. Issam A.R. Al Chalabi said Thursday.

The nation's current output is above 2.36 million barrels per day.

Pickens rally

DALLAS (AP) — Corporate raider T. Boone Pickens Jr. is trying to rally America's corporate shareholders to fend off management executives he said are destroying the nation's publicly held businesses.

"After World War II and up until 1986, what corporate America saw was fragmented ownership," Pickens told more than 400 members of the United Shareholders Association at a forum Thursday.

"Owners bent to the whim of their managers and it seemed there was no way out," Pickens said. "Now there's a way out."

Runoff candidates offer comments

Candidates involved in two runoff races here Saturday offered final comments related to their races Friday for the SDN.

Snyder votes will go to the polls Saturday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Voting for both the city council runoff and the Western Texas College board runoff, the first-ever for WTC, will be at city hall.

Also for the college race, ballot boxes will be located at the Ira community center and at the Hermleigh School.

The city council runoff will involve single member district 1 and will be between Vernest Tippens, 56, a custodial staffer at WTC; and Walter E. Cox, 58, a self-employed businessman and owner of Cox's Laundry.

In general, single member district 1 is represented by a large area of central Snyder east of College Ave. and west of Ave. E.

In the May 7 ballot, Cox received 46 votes to 45 for Tippens. A single write-in vote threw the race into the runoff.

In her statement to the SDN, Tippens said, "For the district that I have lived in for 54 years, I will work to improve problems that have been too many years overdue."

Walter E. Cox, in his comments, noted the poor water pressure problems experienced in the area of town he hopes to represent.

"Over the years as the east side of town has expanded our water supply has slowly been reaching the point of being inadequate to supply households. Large areas of our district cannot flush a toilet and run water in the kitchen sink at the same time.

"We are also consistently without water somewhere in our area because waterline leaks are being worked on. I want to see that we in District 1 get our needs met regarding our low water pressure problem," he said.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "You've arrived when they stop calling you a 'yuppie' and start calling you a 'fat cat'."

On the final day of school—a mixed bag of celebration and frustration—a story told by Gene Dow in the Colorado City Record seems timely.

"Our public schools can teach all the sexual how-to-do-it, but little can be said about abstinence, chastity, morality, or prayer in school. One school teacher entered her classroom after lunch and saw a group of small boys kneeling on the floor, huddled together."

"She asked what they were doing."

"We're not chanting dice," was the reply. "I was afraid you were engaged in prayer."

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, told about a Cowtown doctor who is active in Methodist circles who flew to New York city for a meeting.

He and his wife flew into LaGuardia Airport. After putting their luggage in the cab, he walked around to get in on the other side and the cab drove off.

The doctor rushed over to the cab-starter and exclaimed, "My wife and clothes are in that cab—and I surely do need my clothes."

City cleanup generates headaches

EULESS, Texas (AP) — A plan to keep this suburban city's streets sparkling almost took the city to the cleaners when residents pitched in with unexpected gusto.

"Sparkle Weeks," the annual city-sponsored cleanup that encouraged residents to spring clean and set their largest garbage at curbside, ran $75,000 over budget and piled garbage so high along curbs that the streets "looked like windrows," City Manager W.M. "Blackie" Sustairste said.

Eules, winner of the Governor's Community Achievement Award as the most beautiful city of its size in the state in 1983 and 1987, began the promotion in the early 1970s. It was a week-long effort to spruce up the town, then much smaller than its current 40,000 population, Sustairste said.

But this year's spring cleanup lasted from April 4 to beyond its scheduled May 6 completion.

Substructure bids may open July 25

BIG SPRING—Bids on the substructure for the CRMWD, San Angelo-Midland intake at Stacy Reservoir likely will be opened July 25. O. H. Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, told directors Wednesday that final plans could be let for bids by June 21.

The substructure, which may cost around $2,500,000, must be in place before the dam is closed either in late 1989 or early 1990. The actual pump station and pipelines will not be installed until there is a demand by the district, and/or Midland and San Angelo.

San Angelo has approved a contract setting out its share of probable costs, plus conditions which could trigger the construction of any of three segments of the pipeline that ultimately will terminate at Midland-Odessa. Pending approval of its bond attorney, directors held off executing the San Angelo contract, also in the expectation that Midland's contract will have been approved by then.

The way was cleared for Coke County to pave two roads to the Wildcat Creek and Paint Creek recreational areas when the district approved granting right of way easements to the county.

Changing of the point of diversion at Stacy Lake was approved by the board in authorizing a request to the Texas Water Commission for the change. The present site is more practical than the perfunctory location contained in the lake's permit, Ivie said.

John Currie, Big Spring, chairman of the Long Range Planning Committee, said he felt that an agreement on archeological studies, which must be completed prior to dam closure, was in the making. Good progress also is being made in the land mitigation for wildlife.

An additional point of diversion was approved for the City of Odessa in order to serve the Permian Research Center with raw water. Directors authorized management to look into the possibility of self-insurance on hospitalization insurance.

Ivie told the board that the landing strip at Stacy Reservoir should be completed within a fortnight, and it is likely that the next board meeting will be held there.

Reprieve likely for hostage goose

AUSTIN (AP) — Austin's homeless, satisfied that the city council is sympathetic to their plight, probably will not kill the little goose since last month, says a leader of the group.

Council members on Thursday agreed to meet June 7 with officials of the Street People's Advisory Council, which represents the homeless and has held Homer hostage since buying him.

SPAC leader Bruce Lester, a homeless, unemployed roofer, clutched Homer under his arm as he made his pitch to the city council. Lester ended by presenting two documents, an "emancipation proclamation" for Homer and a "certificate of consumption." He asked council members to sign the emancipation proclamation if they wanted to help the homeless and free Homer.

They were to sign the certificate of consumption if they were not ready to work with the homeless, who then would have cooked their goose.

Mayor Frank Cooksey, who faces re-election Saturday, intervened as the two documents made their way down the council table.

"I don't think it requires signing a document to indicate what we need to do. We'll set a time for a work session on this subject," he said.

I want to continue to provide excellent academic programs that meet the first two-year requirements for advanced degrees in senior colleges as well as courses of study in vocational/technical fields that will train students to be able to pursue good jobs. Also, I want to continue activities which meet the individual interests of students.

Since my wife and I pay city taxes, county taxes, public school taxes, and college taxes on a home, two pieces of property, and a business, we are concerned taxpayers. Because of increasing costs in higher education and declining taxable base on minerals, this is the most serious problem at WTC. There is no clear-cut solution to the problem. The board, with the assistance of the administration, must study ways to moderate increases in spending and expenses, yet maintain high-quality programs. A conservative attitude must be maintained by the board, administration, and WTC employees if Western Texas College is going to survive the coming decade.

I would like to improve existing programs and develop new programs to meet the needs of full-time students and part-time students in Scurry County and surrounding areas. Programs should be cut that are not beneficial to students and Scurry County.

Evaporation pond study approved for Mitchell Co.

BIG SPRING—An engineering study looking toward further diversion of the Colorado River as a quality enhancement project was approved Wednesday by directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Up to $50,000 was authorized for such a study to analyze the possibilities of a large-scale evaporation pond in Mitchell County. Such a facility could reduce present Lake Spence chlorides up to 27 ppm, Rod Lewis, assistant general manager, told the board.

Combined capabilities of the present diversion works lack 2,583,000 gallons a day taking care of the non-potable disposal water in the river and its major tributaries, he added.

He recommended that an 820-ac. shallow lake be considered rather than a 700-ac. pond that could handle the present excess. The larger one could be built at a cost of $2,800,000, he estimated, which would mean an increase of only eight percent in cost over the smaller one, but with a 21 percent increase in disposal capacity.

If eventually put in place, the proposed evaporation pond would become the fourth diversion works installed to enhance Lake Spence quality. One is located above Colorado City, another west of Big Spring between Three and four-mile lakes, and a diversion from Beals Creek east of Big Spring into Red Draw reservoir. Indeed, if the new facility is built, water would be pumped to it when Red Draw is full.

The district's first quality problem came in 1952 with construction of Lake J. B. Thomas, location for which was moved upstream so Bull Creek could be channeled into it above a point of pollution. Later, contents of Three and Four-Mile Lakes were pumped back to minimize chances of their overflowing into Beals Creek. A major step came in 1984 with construction of the diversion works and Red Draw reservoir of Big Spring. Altogether the district has invested $6,260,000 in these quality enhancement efforts.

During the past two years when all the projects were in operation, the district averaged removing 34,500 tons of chlorides from Lake Spence flow.

Two developments have given a sense of urgency to another diversion, Lewis observed. One was spillage of some 60,000 ac. ft. of water from Natural Dam Lake, a highly salty reservoir 10 miles west of Big Spring, in the past two years in the wake of unprecedented rains on its watershed. The other is the declining volume of water which oil companies take for secondary recovery. At 2,610,000 gallons per day, this half is what it was at its peak.

Castillo enlists in U. S. Air Force

ARLINGTON—Angela Ann Castillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Castillo of Snyder, enlisted recently in the U. S. Air Force. Upon graduation from the Air Force's six-week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, she is scheduled to receive technical training in the general career field.

Castillo, a 1987 graduate of Snyder High School, will be earning credits toward an Associate Degree in Applied Sciences through the Community College of the Air Force while attending basic and technical training schools.

Although the first three bids are not unusual, I'm not crazy about North's overall. Good opponents rarely let you play in two diamonds unmolested unless it's a bad contract. South's pass of East's two-spade bid shows good judgment. Despite South's long, powerful trump holding, he cannot defeat two spades. East can win the club opening lead, finesse in hearts, ruff the third heart and continue with two more high clubs. South can ruff but cannot prevent East from scoring three more trump tricks for a total of eight.

When his opponents are ready to stop at a spade partial, North knows that his partner has some values, so he pushes his luck with another diamond bid. East quite properly doubles, and South makes his second good call by rescuing to three hearts. East's double ends the auction.

Now the spotlight focuses on West because, if the defense is not precise, South can take nine tricks. An opening spade lead is obviously fatal. North would ruff, discard his clubs and a spade on the top diamonds, and then crossruff the black suits. That would be seven tricks, with two trump winners still to come. The result is the same if West cashes the top clubs and leads another for East to trump. But after leading the club king, West found the perfect continuation: A low club put East on lead, and three rounds of trumps ruined South.

How did West work this out? By looking at the club spots. The five and two were played on the first trick, and West felt that East would have started an echo holding jack doubleton.

The moral is simple: The best defenders watch spot-cards like hawks.

Icahn proceeds

NEW YORK (AP)—Financier Carl C. Icahn went ahead with his proxy fight with Texaco Inc. management today, urging shareholders to elect his slate of five candidates for the board of directors in case the company does not allow shareholders to vote on his $60-a-share takeover bid.

Texaco's board scheduled a meeting today to consider Icahn's bid.

Memory clip shortage cuts growth of company

HOUSTON (AP) — A computer memory chip shortage is affecting Compaq Computer Corp.'s enviable corporate growth, company officials say. "There will be some impact on sales (from the shortage), although it is hard to estimate how big it will be in the second quarter," Rod Canion, Compaq's chief executive officer, said Wednesday.

For the first three months of the year, Compaq's sales more than doubled over the same period a year ago, increasing from $211 million to $439 million. Net income rose to $47 million from $20 million last year. Canion said he does not expect the company's sales and earnings to match 1987's growth rate. Last week, he told shareholders at the company's annual meeting that the rapid quarterly percentage growth would slow down. "I don't think they will go backward (because of the shortage), but they won't have that rapid growth rate of the past," said Bob Greiner, marketing manager for the Dallas research firm StoreBoard Inc. "To what extent they will be affected is still in question."

Teacher to spend summer, weekends in jail for DWI

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A high school teacher who pleaded guilty to drunken driving eight times says he's glad no one was hurt.

Curtis Burton, 41, an English teacher at Bel Air High School, was sentenced Wednesday to spend the summer and then 37 consecutive weekends in jail and fined $5,000.

Burton told a crowded County Court-at-Law audience that alcoholism is a disease and that he suffers from it.

"I'm grateful that nothing tragic has happened," Burton told Judge D. Clark Hughes. "I'm trying hard to overcome this disease and will be doing my best to see that this never, ever happens again."

Burton was arrested on drunken driving charges in October 1984, three times in 1985, once in 1986 and twice in 1987. His last arrest was in January.

He was not tried on any of the charges until Wednesday because of a backlogged docket, scattered records and court delays requested by defense attorneys, prosecutors said.

Burton's new lawyer, state Sen. Tati Santiesteban, D-El Paso, said his client thought the eight charges had been dismissed.

After serving a jail sentence from July 4 to Aug. 31, Burton will go to jail on 37 consecutive weekends. Then he will be on probation for eight years under strict supervision. His driver's license was revoked Wednesday.

Child molester said accused

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A convicted child molester who was the defendant in a civil suit filed by relatives of the child has been charged in the slaying of two relatives of the victim, police say.

William Wesley Chappell, 52, of Fort Worth, was arrested Thursday and being held in lieu of $750,000 bond capital murder charges in the shootings May 3 that killed two potential witnesses in the civil suit, police said.

Chappell was convicted in 1983 of molesting a 4-year-old girl and was sentenced to five years in prison, but was free on appeal bond at the time of the shootings.

The victims of the May 3 shooting at a Fort Worth home were Martha Lindsey, 50, grandmother of the child, and Alexandra Heath, 27, an aunt of the child. Police said they were killed by a masked gunman who burst into their home and began shooting.

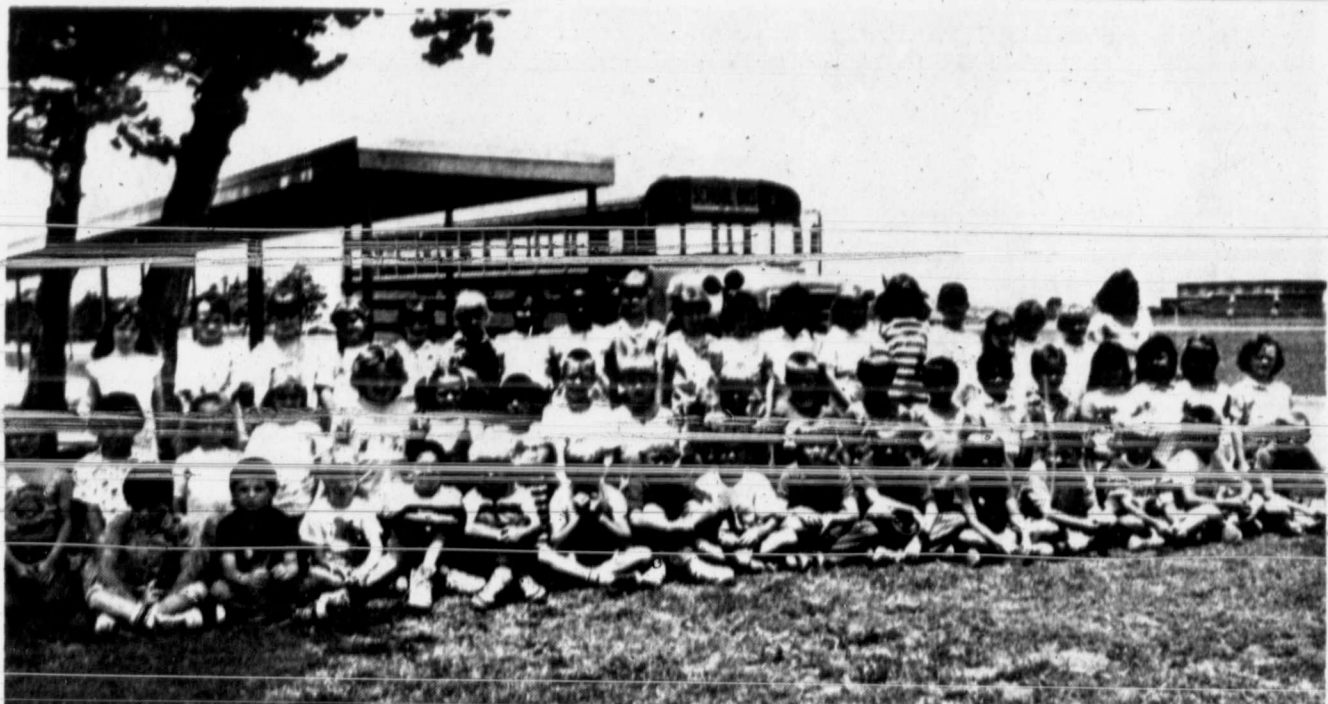

Lindsey's husband, 62-year-old Lewis Sitton, who was wounded in the shootings, remained in critical condition Thursday at John Peter Smith Hospital.

Sally Chappell, 38, was also jailed in lieu of $750,000 bond each on charges accusing her of helping her husband plan and carry out the shootings.

Chappell was convicted and sentenced to five years in prison on the child molesting charge, but was free on bond while appealing the verdict.

A civil suit Ms. Lindsey filed against Chappell on behalf of the child was scheduled to be tried this summer, court officials said.

"We feel like there were multiple motives involved in this case," said Fort Worth homicide Lt. Tommy Swan. "The trial was coming up, and these people (shooting victims) were all primary witnesses in that trial."

Thousands turn out for Cardenas at national university

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Opposition presidential candidate Cuauhtemoc Cardenas drew about 20,000 people to a campaign rally at the national university.

The dissident's critics charged that his visit to the university Thursday, was simply exhibitionism intended to whip up tempers as well as muster a show of support among the traditionally anti-government students and faculty.

The campus of the National Autonomous University of Mexico has been tacitly avoided by presidents and candidates of the ruling Institutional Revolutionary Party, or PRI, especially since 1975 when a stone was thrown at then-President Luis Echeverria.

"Public universities need to be the best in the country, not just for the desire to compete but also because it is the state's obligation," Cardenas told the crowd gathered on the university's esplanade in front of its internationally known, mural-covered main buildings.

Dear Abby

Who's Liable When Stores Give Credit That Isn't Due?

DEAR ABBY: "Cash Only" wrote to say that her daughter, who was "substantially under 18, unemployed and loves clothes," received a credit card from a major department store. ("Cash" is a single parent working full-time to support herself and her daughter and is struggling to stay afloat.) She said she phoned the store's credit department asking if there was an age requirement for credit card holders, and was told there was not. In other words, Mother was stuck for her daughter's bills. She asked for your comments.

You said: "Laws concerning credit extended to unemployed minors differ in the various states, and if there isn't a law stating a parent is not responsible for merchandise purchased by a minor child, there ought to be."

Abby, in Illinois there is a law. It's the Family Expense Act, which makes the head of a household — husband or wife or parent, if it's a single-parent household — liable for "family expenses." The courts have construed this to cover essentials such as necessary clothing. So if the daughter charged exotic perfumes, expensive dresses, furs, etc., her mother would not be liable. But if any necessary garments of a reasonable quality and price, consistent with the family's established lifestyle, were bought by the daughter, her mother would have to pay for them.

JACK E. HORSLEY, ATTORNEY, MATTOON, ILL.

DEAR MR. HORSLEY: Thanks for the input concerning Illinois law. It makes sense, and seems fair to me.

DEAR ACHING: The next time he calls you, cut the conversation short. And do it each time he calls you. Make it plain that you have no time to talk to him. Although it's not as honest as coming right out and telling him it's too painful to listen to him talk about his new love, it's your right to avoid pain whenever possible. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I am a plain-looking, 17-year-old high school girl who will graduate soon. I'm an honor student and have been accepted at our state university, but I hate to go because I am in love with one of my teachers.

"Mr. X" is 14 years older than I am, and I cannot get him out of my mind. I told him I was in love with him and he told me he could not afford to get involved with me because of the rules and my age. He's not married and he doesn't have anybody special. We've had some long conversations (in his car) when he drove me home from basketball practice. He told me he thought I was an exceptional young woman who could be anything I wanted to be.

Abby, all I want to be is his wife. He has never laid a hand on me, and I certainly gave him every chance. I know he has some special feelings for me, but he's afraid to give in to them.

I have dated some guys, but they seem so immature compared to Mr. X. How can I get him to take me seriously, or get him out of my mind? And should I write to him from college?

CRAZY IN LOVE

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I broke up four months ago and I am having a hard time getting over him. He has a new girlfriend now, but he still calls me to talk because he considers me a friend. I really don't know what he wants from me.

Abby, I find it very hard to talk to him because I still care for him and it tears me up to hear him talk about his new love.

I would like to tell him to please quit calling me, but I'm afraid it would be a mistake. I really don't know how to handle this. Please help me.

DEAR CRAZY: You can get him out of your mind by thinking about something else. Keep busy, busy, busy until you go to the university and make many new friends. Don't pursue him.

'We kept battling...'

The Snyder (Tex.) Daily News, Fri., May 27, 1988 7

Rangers tag Blue Jays, 8-7

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Ever since the Texas Rangers lost Tom Henke in the 1985 compensation draft, Henke has made life miserable for his former employers.

The Rangers had never scored a run off the Toronto Blue Jays reliever, but that ended Thursday when Texas rallied for two runs in the ninth off Henke for an 8-7 decision in the rubber game of the three-game series.

Henke hadn't failed in 10 save opportunities this season. "We kept battling," said Rangers manager Bobby Valentine. "We made a few bonehead plays but it turned out good for the good guys."

Ruben Sierra's one-out single down the right-field line scored Scott Fletcher with the game-winning run. Fletcher knocked in Curtis Wilkerson with the tying run with a triple to left past a diving George Bell. Wilkerson started the inning with a ground-rule double that bounced off the right field foul pole.

"It seems that every time we play Toronto we see Henke in the late innings," Fletcher said. "He's always been tough."

"In that situation I'm just looking for a pitch to drive. That was good for us, coming back in the ninth before a road trip."

Henke, 0-1, has lost nine straight decisions dating back to September of 1986 but had allowed

Texas only five hits in 14 previous career outings. Wilkerson atoned for a third-inning error at second base that opened the way for four Toronto runs.

"I can't worry about errors," said Wilkerson, who had three hits including a triple and double. "That hit in the ninth would have gone for a triple if it hadn't hit the foul pole."

Mitch Williams, 1-1, allowed only one hit over 1-1-3 innings to earn the victory.

The Blue Jays wasted Fred McGriff's four RBI and two doubles. Toronto made three errors and Bell's gamble on Fletcher's ninth-inning line drive also proved costly.

Blue Jays manager Jimmy Williams defended Bell's decision. "That was George's only chance to stop the ball," Williams said. "It was either that or it goes all the way to the wall anyway. I think he made the right decision."

Horns defeat Southern, 7-3

AUSTIN (AP) - Shortstop Joel Chimelis guessed wrong, but it turned out right as the Texas Longhorns overcame a strong challenge by Southern in the first round of the NCAA Central Regional Tournament.

Chimelis' hit in the sixth inning broke open a 3-3 tie game and allowed the Longhorns to take a 7-3 victory. California scored early and often in the first game to defeat Penn, 13-3.

"I was guessing curve and he (Southern pitcher Tyrone Washington) threw a fastball," Chimelis said. "When I saw it hit over third base, I was really happy."

Texas will play the loser of today's New Orleans-Michigan contest and California will face the winner on Saturday. Southern and Penn face off at 7 p.m. tonight in an elimination game.

Southern, 28-20 on the year, surprised the fourth-ranked Longhorns in front of 6,518 partisan fans and surged to a 3-0 lead after four innings.

Designated hitter John Hairston put the Southwest Athletic Conference Tournament champions ahead 1-0 in the second with a towering home run over the 400-foot centerfield wall. Hairston had two of the Jaguars four hits.

Texas starter Eric Stone was chased in the fourth with a pair of runs via two walks and a single.

Texas, 56-9, knotted the game in their half of the fifth on four singles and a walk. Southwest Conference batting champion Mike Patrick had the big blow in the inning, driving in two runs.

Summer leagues

LITTLE LEAGUE

Athletics 15, White Sox 5
Winning pitcher Tyson Cromens slapped a triple to help the Little League Athletics defeat the White Sox Thursday night. The win puts the A's at 2-0 in second-round play. Also hitting for the Athletics were Lionel Aviles and Reese Gladson, a double and a single each; Reagan Key, Lee Idom and Jason Jack, two singles apiece; and Kyle Lewis, one single. Curt Rinehart led the Sox, now 0-2, with a triple and two doubles. Marlowe Riggins and Nathan Zalman each chipped in a single.

Giants 2, Cardinals 1

The Giants didn't get any hits but they won anyway, as a walk, a passed ball and a couple of errors allowed two sixth-inning runs to push them past the Cardinals. Chris Cunningham and Eddie Neeley scored the runs. Trevor Kleindel was the WP for the Giants, now 6-3 overall. Randall Thomas and Bryant Robertson each rapped a double for the Cardinals. Josh Stewart and Kevin Mueller added one single each.

8-9 YEAR OLD LEAGUE

Indians 13, Giants 6
David Smith launched a home run and two singles and Michael Horton added a double and two singles as the Indians scalped the Giants this week.

Also hitting in the Indians' 20-hit attack were Dustin Fish, a triple and a single; Cory Chesser, John McHaney and Joe Mac Cheyne, a double and a single apiece; Clayton Triplett, a triple; Brandon Hackfeld and James Wesley, two singles each; and Ray Jasso, one single. The Indians are 3-5 for the season.

The Giants, still looking for their first win, got a double and a single from Steve Jones, a double from Paul O'Conner, two singles each from Matt Davis and Zeb Alexander, and one single apiece from Rene Garza, Todd Hall, Marshall Early, Oscar Aguilar and Russell Riggan.

Athletics 20, Braves 17

Celtics even series in 2 OTs

BOSTON (AP) - The outlook was grim. The Boston Celtics faced almost certain defeat.

Standing just 15 feet from the leprechaun painted at the center of the parquet floor, Kevin McHale, of all people, flung up a desperation 3-point shot. It went in, adding another magic moment to the Celtic mystique.

"I know, playing these guys, it's not over 'til it's over," Detroit's Isiah Thomas said.

McHale's basket with five seconds left in the first overtime gave Boston a 109-109 tie. With Dennis Johnson scoring the last six points of the second overtime, the Celtics overtook the Pistons 119-115 Thursday night to even the best-of-seven Eastern Conference final at one game each.

Detroit, which broke a 21-game Boston Garden losing streak in Wednesday night's opener, will be home for the next two games

Saturday and Monday afternoons. Boston has lost its last eight NBA games at the Pontiac Silverdome.

In his eight NBA seasons, the 6-foot-10 McHale had taken just 21 shots from 3-point range and made only one. His 3-point attempt Thursday night was his first of the season.

"The leprechaun stepped up for us," Boston coach K.C. Jones said. "We were lucky."

Not even the supremely confident Larry Bird had confidence that McHale would hit his shot. Bird was cutting toward the basket when Johnson's inbound pass went behind him and hit his left hand.

"I thought it was over," Bird said. "I thought for sure someone on the other team would pick it up."

The Pistons planned to foul the player who got the ball. But when the play broke down, they were unable to get to McHale in time.

The ball rolled to the forward, who is known more for his inside excellence. He picked it up and fired from the top of the 3-point line, 23 feet, 9 inches - give or take a fraction of an inch - from the basket.

The Pistons protested that McHale had his foot on the 3-point line, but referee Jack Madden conferred with the other referee, Mike Mathis, and the alternate referee, Bill Saar. Again, Boston had luck on its side.

"It was ruled a 3-pointer," Detroit coach Chuck Daly said. "I'm not sure it was."

"You think I was actually worried about where my feet were?" McHale said. "I was in no man's land with the clock ticking down."

Similarly improbable misfortunes have struck the Pistons in Boston Garden.

In the fifth game of last season's conference final, Bird stole Thomas' inbound pass with five seconds left and fed Johnson for a layup as Boston won 108-107. In the seventh game, Detroit's Adrian Dantley and Vinnie Johnson collided headfirst while diving for a ball in front of their bench. The Pistons were leading 80-79 at the time, but without Dantley for the rest of the game they lost 117-114.

"There is something special about this team. We have won games like this before," said McHale, who had 24 points.

"It's a big game Saturday," said Thomas, who led Detroit with 24 points. "If we win all games at home, we win the (conference) championship."

Boston, trying to reach the NBA finals for the fifth straight year, trailed 29-28 after one quarter but led 53-46 at halftime.

Oklahoma player inks with Western

Western Texas College Golf Coach Dave Foster has announced the signing of El Reno, Okla., standout Mike Montgomery.

Montgomery signed with Western Texas on Thursday, becoming the sixth freshman recruit of Coach Foster.

"Mike is a very strong player. He has had a lot of tournament experience and I feel we're fortunate to get him," said Foster. "He comes from a winning high school program which is a plus and he has played in a lot of summer tournaments."

Montgomery was runner-up regional medalist as a junior when El Reno High School went on to win the Class 4A Oklahoma state championship. As a senior, he was third in the regional medalist race and finished 12th in the state tournament.

A four-year player for El Reno, he placed sixth in the conference (district) as a freshman, fourth as a sophomore and a junior and third as a senior.

Montgomery finished in the top 15 of the World Series of Golf Regional Tour, qualifying for the National Tour. His summer accolades include winning three of four junior tour events last season and qualifying for the Oklahoma Tournament of Champions. He is the local junior club champion, and finished first in the A-Flight of the club championship.

At El Reno High School, he was also a member of the Key Club, FTA and FHA.

"I think if Mike has a good summer season he'll be able to step in and help us right off the bat," noted Foster. "We're looking for good things from him."

Retrial underway for veteran of death row

BAY CITY, Texas (AP) — A 36-year-old man who has spent one-third of his life on death row is sitting once again in the defendant's chair, having won a retrial in the shooting death of a Texas state trooper.

Last year, an appeals court overturned Billy George Hughes' conviction in the 1976 slaying of a Texas state trooper. The retrial began Thursday.

"Evidence will prove Billy George Hughes did intentionally and knowingly cause the death of Mark Frederick," prosecutor David Weeks said in his opening statement as Hughes' second capital murder trial began.

Hughes, who has spent one-third of his life behind bars for the trooper's slaying, won the retrial in 1987 when the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ruled a potential juror improperly was excluded from his 1976 trial.

That jury, acting in response to a temporary insanity defense, quickly sent the former horseshoer from Montgomery, Ala., to the Texas Death Row, where he ranks as the 13th longest-serving inmate among the nearly 270 awaiting lethal injection.

Frederick, 25, of Bellville, was killed April 4, 1976 along Interstate 10 in Sealy — west of Houston — as he walked toward Hughes to question him about a stolen credit card used at a motel in nearby Brookshire.

Frederick's partner witnessed the shooting and said he fired six shots at Hughes' vehicle as it sped away. Hughes, labeled by the prosecutor at his first trial as a "baby-faced killer," was captured two days later hiding in a field near Sealy after pointing a gun at a police helicopter which spotted him from the air.

He has insisted he did not shoot the officer contending the shots were fired at him as he was reaching into his car's glove compartment to get the vehicle registration.

Frederick's partner, Jack Reichert, 41, tearfully testified Thursday how they pulled over the car allegedly driven by Hughes and how Frederick was shot as he approached the driver's side of the car.

"Mark walked to the driver's door and immediately grunted," Reichert, who then had been on the job less than a month, said.

Reichert said he heard another shot from inside the car and he fell to his knees.

"I had visions of the guy shooting out the back at me," he said.

Reichert said he returned six shots, shooting out the back window of the fleeing car and then shooting at the gas tank to try to blow up the vehicle.

"Everything was in real slow motion to me," he said.

Reichert said he found his partner curled up in a fetal position on the pavement, bleeding from a shoulder wound and without a pulse. Frederick was holding his service revolver.

"He never moved," Reichert, now a Department of Public Safety detective, said. "The only thing he said — he grunted. I'm sure he saw a gun."

Hughes, wearing a blue blazer and gray slacks, listened intently but showed no emotion. His only comment in court Thursday was a "Not guilty, sir," when asked by the judge to enter a plea.

Deffebachs' plan retirement move

Longtime insurance agent Tommy Deffebach and his wife, Faye, are leaving Snyder after 39 years, leaving with mixed emotions, they note, to move to an Abilene retirement center.

A retirement reception in his honor was scheduled Friday at the Hugh Boren and Son Insurance Agency.

Deffebach, 70, is a Ranger native who grew up at Tuscola, south of Abilene, graduated from Draughon's Business College in Abilene and worked for a Fort Worth lumber company for five years.

He worked for the Civil Aeronautics Administration during World War II in Tucumcari and Santa Fe, N.M., and was in Lamesa for 1 1/2 years before coming to Snyder in 1947. He worked in a public accounting business with his brother, Lyle, and started an insurance business with his brother in 1949.

Lyle Deffebach was killed in an automobile accident here last November.

Tommy bought into the insurance agency in 1952, bought his brother out in 1966 and sold The Deffebach Agency to Hugh Boren & Son in 1984, after which he remained affiliated with the Boren agency.

Tommy specialized in property and casualty insurance and his agency was selling about $450,000 in insurance per year when it was sold.

His wife taught for four years at Graham and Ballinger before coming to Snyder in 1949. With her retirement this year, she had 39 years with the Snyder public schools, teaching social studies at the junior high school.

They had a son, Mike, who died in 1968. Their only remaining relative in Snyder is their niece, Mrs. Tommy (Mary) Williams. They are moving to the recently opened Mesa Springs retirement center in Abilene.

"We have some mixed feelings about leaving Snyder because we've been here all these years," he said. "It's not that we want to leave. It's just our retirement plan."

House passes 1989 budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is moving with unusual speed toward final approval of a $1.1 trillion federal budget for the 1989 fiscal year, thanks to a little bipartisan cooperation and a lot of creative arithmetic.

The House approved the spending plan by a 301-181 vote on Thursday shortly after House-Senate negotiators reached agreement on a compromise document after six weeks of haggling.

The Senate is expected to give quick approval to the measure after the chamber returns early next month from its Memorial Day recess.

Cogdell board okays reports, blood device

Hospital reports and one equipment purchase involved board time Thursday during the May meeting for the Cogdell Memorial Hospital Board.

The board also recognized the tenure of outgoing member Rex Robinson, who resigned April 25 after serving as a hospital board member since January of 1975.

A plaque honoring him was presented Thursday by Janet Hall, co-chairman of the board.

Regarding the equipment purchase, the board authorized the addition of a pulse oximeter at an estimated cost of $4,037.

Administrator Tom Hochwalt explained the device will be used to check patient's blood levels to include such factors as the amount of oxygen contained in the blood.

Currently, he noted, such tests require that a blood sample be drawn. The pulse oximeter will perform the same task without the need for such "invasive" techniques.

Hochwalt added that the pulse oximeter will also be a revenue-producing piece of equipment for the hospital.

In other items, the board heard the monthly financial report and a report on a meeting of the hospital's quality coordinating council.

Hochwalt noted also that the Home Health Care department at Cogdell will undergo a survey this summer related to its "quality assurance" plan.

Board members attending included Hall, who presided in the absence of Dan Cotton, G.A. Parks, Roy McQueen, Jackie Smith and ex-officio member Bobby Goodwin.

Carpenters nab thief of coin

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Three carpenters from Wichita Falls were credited by Fort Worth police and a restaurant manager with apprehending a man who tried to steal a 15-pound bag of rolled coins worth $280.

Officers said Joan Spoelstra, manager of a Kips restaurant was carrying the bag of coins from the restaurant to her car when a man snatched the bag and attempted to run away.

Ms. Spoelstra began pursuing the man across the parking lot when Sid Parker, who had just parked his truck near the restaurant joined the chase.

Two dozen companies to serve up goods June 5-7

AUSTIN (AP) — If past experience is a guide, food companies taking part in the Texas Department of Agriculture's latest "Taste of Texas" trip plan to be bringing home more bacon when the San Francisco show ends.

"It's a very cost effective way of getting our product name out there," said Deborah Locke of Alvin's Farms of Texas, a company that has joined past Taste of Texas marketing trips.

Some two dozen companies from across the state will serve up their goods June 5-7 in San Francisco, Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said Thursday.

In previous years, the Taste of Texas marketing trips have visited Boston, Chicago, New York and Tampa, Fla.

More than talk said needed

DALLAS (AP) — Keeping the customer happy is big business, not just a kindly gesture, a leading research firm says.

"This is not an altruistic endeavor," said Diane Hesson, senior vice president of Forum Corp.

Results of a study on customer service were presented by Forum Corp. President Dick Whiteley at a Thursday conference, "Rediscovering the Customer."

About 90 representatives from Texas Instruments Inc., First Republic Bank Corp. and other companies from as far away as New Zealand attended the conference sponsored by the Boston-based Forum business research company and Fortune magazine.

Part of the report, which was compiled after 18 months of research, shows how a company with $240 million annual revenue can lose $45 million because of poor service.

Poor service usually results from a bad experience with a company employee, according to the report.

"Sixty-eight percent of the customers who said they would change suppliers cited indifference with some employee at the supplier as the reason," Whiteley said.

Companies that makes sweeping promises also are in danger of losing to competition.

"Look what's happened to the airlines," Whiteley said of former campaigns promising on-time arrival. "It's getting to the point where I'm just happy to get there."

Some companies are keeping customers with customer-oriented, non-profit projects, Whiteley said. One company started a toll-free number that puts people in touch with a person who can help fix any of the company's products over the phone.

Whiteley said company executives should stay in touch with customers and consider their needs. The chairman of one department store chain walks up and down six flights of stairs during lunch hours so he will not take up space on an elevator that could be used by a customer.

Surgery treatment for rectal cancer

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please describe the new procedure for treating rectal cancer known as endovascular irradiation.

DEAR READER: Endovascular irradiation means the application of radiation into a hollow organ. This is usually performed using radium needles, as a treatment for cancer, particularly of the cervix and uterus.

Technique: To my knowledge, it is not used for treating rectal cancer. The preferred treatment for rectal carcinoma is surgical removal followed by colostomy.

Because of your interest in this subject, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report, "Viruses and Cancer" (Other readers who want a copy of this report should send $1 and their home address to: P.O. Box 35000, Cleveland, OH 44101-3500. Be sure to mention the title).

DEAR DR. GOTT: A high fiber diet is not enough to avoid my bleeding hemorrhoids. What else can you suggest?

DEAR READER: Hemorrhoids are swollen veins at (or within) the anal opening. They can thrombose (clot) or bleed, depending on bowel habits. Prolonged evacuation of a large, hard stool can irritate hemorrhoids and cause them to bleed. So can diarrhea, which often is associated with uncomfortable irritation and rawness of the anus.

Vegetable fiber may have healthy benefits — such as intestinal regulation — but it will do little to improve hemorrhoidal bleeding. I think that your hemorrhoids would be less likely to bleed if you used suppositories to soothe the lower bowel and to lubricate your defecation. I've had success with Anusol, although there are other brands available.

If your hemorrhoids continue to bleed repeatedly, you may have to consider having them removed or surgically treated. The operations are fairly standard and, except for some temporary post-op pain, usually are successful.

Try the suppositories; if they are not helpful, ask your doctor to refer you to a surgeon. Although hemorrhoidal bleeding is often an embarrassing nuisance, it is seldom a serious condition.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My hearing is so oversensitive, it's unbearable. Even with earplugs, I can hear loud, dropping noises from two miles away. Is there anything I can do?

DEAR READER: Hyperacusis (exceptionally keen hearing) usually denotes a painful sensitivity to sounds. It is uncommon and poorly understood. It is not due to ear disease. Although you may wish to see an ear specialist (otolaryngologist) for confirmation, I suspect that your best approach would be to take great care of your ears, using earplugs or sound-deadening earmuffs when necessary.
