

Parade slated Saturday

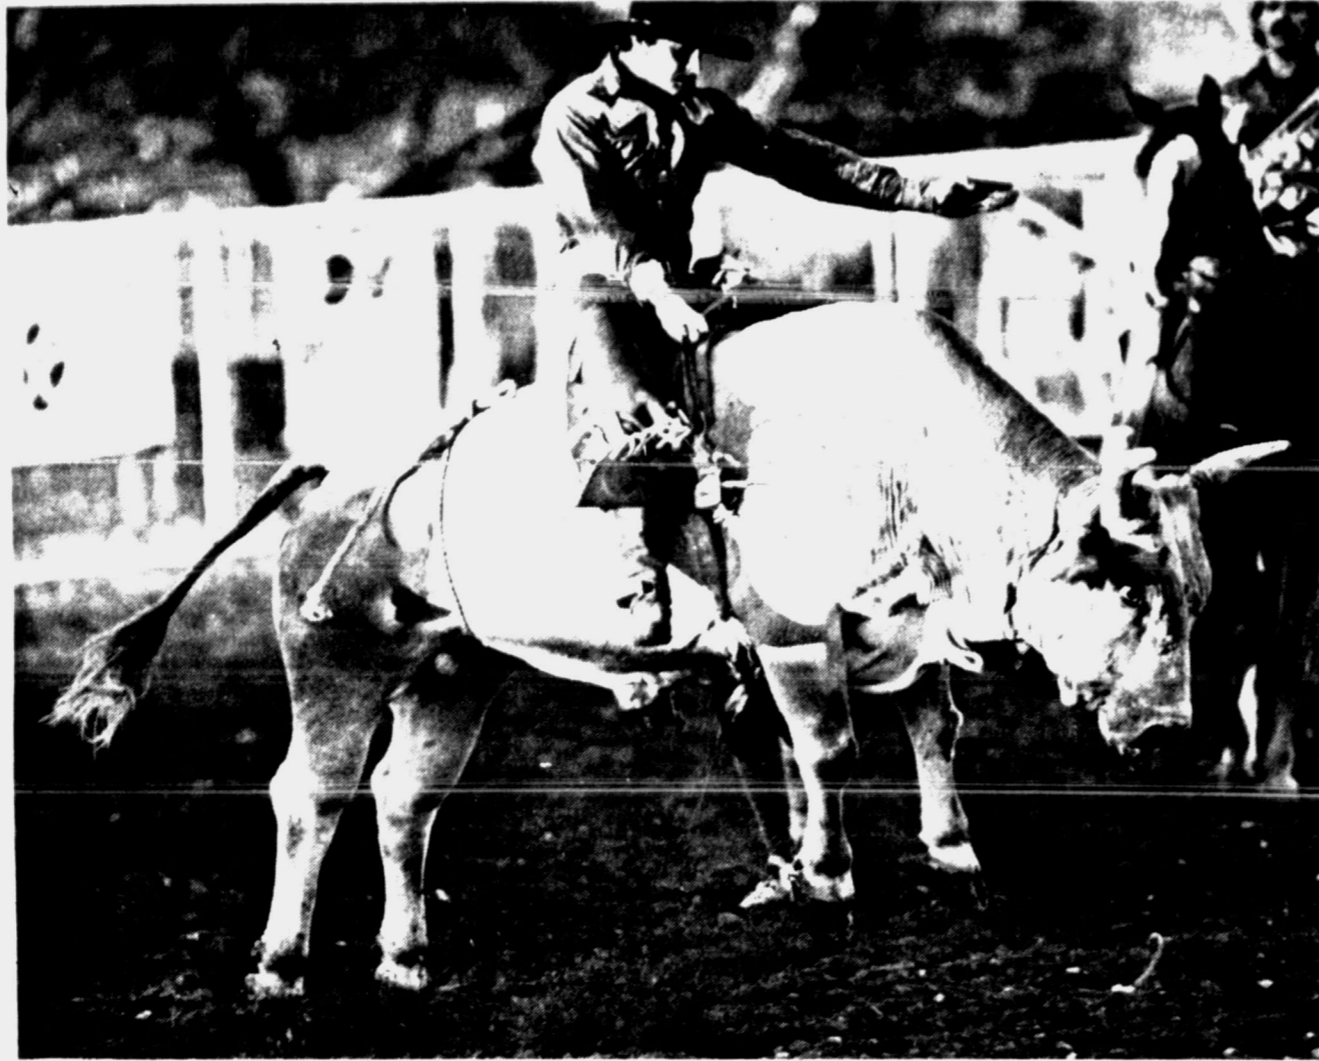

The final performance of the 53rd annual Scurry County Rodeo will be preceded Saturday at 4 p.m. by the traditional rodeo parade.

Riding clubs, antique cars, float entries and the Snyder Fire Department vehicles are expected to participate. Also invited are kids on bicycles and local Boy and Girl Scout troops.

The parade route will be the same as past years and will begin forming at 3:30 p.m. It will form at Ave. Z and travel down 26th St. toward the square.

The parade will circle the square and head back to the south along College Ave., ending at 30th St.

The Scurry County Sheriff's Posse is again in charge of the event. Other riding clubs scheduled to participate include the Dawson County Sheriff's Posse, Blackwell Riding Club, San Angelo Saddle Club, Fisher County Sheriff's Posse, Terry County Sheriff's Posse and Nolan County Sheriff's Posse.

ROUGH RIDE — Opening action at the 53rd annual Scurry County Rodeo Thursday included the bull ride, with Steven Parent of Lovington, N.M. shown waiting for the buzzer. The rodeo will continue Friday and Saturday with 8 p.m. shows at the west 30th St. rodeo arena. General admission tickets are $4 with children 12 and under admitted free. (SDN Staff Photo)

Rodeo action begins

Hometown cowboy Van Hale scored a 75 to take an early lead in the saddle bronc event at the 53rd annual Scurry County Rodeo here Thursday night.

The rodeo opened under warm skies this year at the association's arena on west 30th St. and will continue through Saturday with evening performances at 8 p.m. Tickets are $4 for general admission. Children under 12 are admitted free.

Stock is being provided by Smokey Davis of Fulshear.

Cowboys and cowgirls set a rapid pace in most events Thursday. Mike German flashed a solid 5.77 to gain bragging rights in the steer wrestling.

Hale's 75 was one of only two scores posted in the saddle bronc. Comanche cowboy Roy Sutherland is in second place with a 68.

Phyllis Newton came from Carlsbad, N.M., to post the fastest time in the barrel race, a 17.032. She was chased by

Ask Us

Q — Why is the rodeo back out at the old rodeo grounds?

A — A variety of reasons, notes rodeo association members, the two main ones related to traditional rodeo events being outdoors rather than indoors and because it is more economical. In the words of one spokesman, "we own the rodeo grounds."

In Brief

Guilty verdict

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — Jurors in state district court today found suspended Denton County Sheriff Randy Kaisner guilty of bribery charges.

Kaisner was accused of offering Kirby Robinson, his opponent in the Republican primary election, the job of chief deputy if Kirby would drop out of the runoff race.

Jurors began deliberating about 2:30 p.m. Thursday, then recessed for the evening after two hours and returned to the courtroom about 8:30 a.m. today, said State District Judge Will C. Boyd.

Modest rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices climbed a modest 0.3 percent in June, with declines in gasoline and clothing costs nearly offsetting a sharp increase in food prices, the government said today.

The overall June increase, which matched the rise for May, would amount to an annual inflation rate of 4.2 percent if prices climbed at the same pace for 12 straight months, the Labor Department said.

Grocery store prices rose a sharp 0.7 percent, but there seemed to be little effect from the summer's drought other than the huge 5.4 percent rise in poultry prices and the even steeper 6.6 percent gain in egg costs.

Seven appeal

HOUSTON (AP) — Seven of the eight police officers fired this week by Police Chief Lee P. Brown after being accused of falsifying evidence and committing perjury while members of a special police task force are appealing their dismissals.

The seven who asked Thursday that an independent arbitrator hear their appeals are Sgt. William A. Katz, Clinton E. Terrell, Carlos A. DeAlejandro, Arliscia Irving, J.R. Roberts, Norma J. Hernandez and C.P. Villoutreix.

Texas has enough funds for 4 prisons

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Texas prison officials, after looking at construction bids, say they're confident they may have enough money to build all the prisons now planned.

"We are elated. We're back on track," prison board Chairman Charles Terrell of Dallas said after learning bids on construction of the 1,000-bed units in Dayton and Marlin are $1.8 million to $2 million under estimate.

The Texas Department of Corrections' plans to build 1,000-bed prisons in Snyder, Dayton, Marlin and Woodville went awry last month when bids on the Snyder unit — the prototype for the facilities — came in nearly $4 million over budget.

Terrell then notified Gov. Bill Clements and other state leaders that the $275 million in bonds authorized by the Legislature might not be enough.

The prison board had hoped to hold about $11.5 million of its original bond authority in contingency but earlier this week said it would need that money and more to cover rising construction costs.

"It's cautiously safe to assume that we will get there with the $11.5 million," Terrell told the Houston Chronicle on Thursday. "The bottom line is if Woodville is OK, then we should be OK subject to slight modifications."

Woodville bids, however, aren't due until November, and Terrell said there's still a good chance that project will be delayed until after additional money is approved in the 1989 Legislative session.

David McNutt, the department's assistant director for budget, said officials won't know how much will be saved on the Dayton and Marlin units until officials review the basic construction bids and options submitted by 10 companies.

The Public Finance Authority on Thursday accepted Chase Manhattan Bank's low bid on the

Senior housing to FmHA

A finalized application for some $448,000 in Farmer's Home Administration (FmHA) funds was signed here Thursday to finance phase II of the Golden Terrace Village senior citizen housing project.

The document will now be sent to the state FmHA office in Temple for consideration and, it is hoped, a final approval by Sept. 1.

The initial application has already gained a go-ahead from the regional office in Abilene.

On hand for the signing were Senior Citizens Inc. president John Gayle and board members Bill Davies, Wedge Turner, C.D. Gray, Elizabeth Potts, J.B. Tate and Golden Terrace Village manager L.E. (Doc) Griffin. Gay Hickman and Kent Horsley also serve as directors.

Also attending were Charlie Taylor, regional manager for FmHA, and Billie Williams, architect with the firm Cameron Alread, Architect Inc. of Fort Worth, designers for the project.

If all goes as planned, sponsors say they hope bids will be let and possible construction begun by Sept. 1.

Following a six-month construction schedule, the housing units might be available for occupancy as early as next spring.

The monies will finance construction of eight more duplexes, a total of 16 units, at the southern half of the current 4.2 acre site of Golden Terrace Village.

Each apartment will be 540 sq. ft. in size to include a living room, kitchen area, bedroom and bath and two storage areas.

The living room would measure approximately 12 by 13 ft. and the bedroom, 10 by 11 ft.

These 16 one-bedroom apartments will bring the total number of apartments available to 40.

The existing units offer 24.

Construction of the 16 will also relieve a waiting list for existing space. Housing office officials say the current list has some 50 names to be served on a "first-come" basis.

End of school ups unemployed totals

May and the end of school brought a rise in the Scurry County unemployment rate, which went from 5.7 to 6.7 percent.

The number of persons said employed actually increased, but a corresponding rise in applications for employment generated the 1 percent rise.

In May, an estimated 8,639 persons were said employed here, an increase of 74 from April's total of 8,565.

The number of persons actively seeking employment through the Texas Employment Commission, however, rose by 95 individuals, from 521 in April to 616 in May.

The civilian labor force (CLF) for May, a combination of those with jobs and those seeking jobs, was 9,255. This was an increase of 169 persons from April's CLF of 9,086.

The 6.7 percent unemployment rate was near the highest mark for 1988 to date in Scurry County.

Unemployment here rose to 6.8 percent in February after starting the year at the 6.5 percent mark. The lowest level of the year was April's 5.7 percent.

In addition to Scurry County figures, the TEC reported unemployment estimates for five surrounding counties. These in-

Brother named guardian of orphans

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — At age 24, Frank Montenegro Jr. felt he was just starting adulthood, working at his first teaching job in San Diego.

But he willingly surrendered his bachelor life and went to court to become the father of five younger siblings, who faced being split up and sent to foster homes after their parents died within three months of each other.

Montenegro says he was determined to keep the family together.

"All of a sudden, you go from raising yourself to taking care of five others," he said.

Montenegro, who left his job and moved back to Northern California to become head of the grieving household, was named legal guardian Wednesday of three brothers and two sisters.

The only condition the judge attached to the decision was that Montenegro post a $25,000 security bond to protect the family in case of his death.

"Who won? Who won?" asked 8-year-old Jaime Montenegro, tugging at his brother's trousers after a brief hearing in Alameda County Superior Court.

"We won," said Montenegro, the oldest of a family of eight children orphaned earlier this year through the deaths of their parents.

Genevieve Montenegro, 42, died in March from a blood clot after giving birth to a daughter. In May, Frank Montenegro Sr., 46, died when he lost control of his van and crashed on a freeway off-ramp near the family's home in Hayward, across the bay from San Francisco.

The couple's five dependent children could have been declared wards of the court and placed in foster homes, but Montenegro went to court seeking guardianship.

"It has to be that way," he said. "You have to have a family."

Montenegro shrugged his shoulders when asked if he had any regrets about assuming responsibility — on a teacher's salary — for Philip, 16; Jaime, 8; Joaquin, 6; Genevieve, 5; and 4-month-old Nicole, who has Down's syndrome.

"There's obviously going to be problems but you have to raise your family," he said.

The new family man runs the household with the help of three aunts. Two younger brothers on their own — Peter, 22, and Manuel, 19 — also help from time to time.

The community also has helped the Montenegros, raising money to help pay for the parents' funerals and medical expenses for a two-day hospital stay for Nicole, who caught pneumonia in May. A trust fund at a Hayward bank had reached more than $8,600 as of Wednesday.

Car bomb kills seven people

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A car bomb ripped through a Moslem working class neighborhood near a Syrian checkpoint in west Beirut today, killing seven people and wounding 47, police said.

A yellow Mercedes-Benz packed with 33 pounds of TNT exploded between a pharmacy and a gas station in the Cola district at 10:40 a.m. about 20 yards from a Syrian checkpoint, police said.

Dear Abby

Wife Finds It Hard to Bear Her Overbearing Husband

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My husband makes all the decisions in this household — major and minor. For instance, he is the only one to adjust the thermostat, car radio, windows, window shades, draperies, etc. He will not take kindly to any suggestions made while he is driving. For example, advising him that the coast is clear when he wants to pass a car or turn is a no-no. Any opinion that is not his own is resented.

It is much easier for me not to make waves than to speak up and have an argument.

He doesn't like my choice of TV programs, and criticizes them to such an extent that he ruins them for me and I turn them off (which he hopes I will, of course). Fortunately, we have three TV sets in the house.

We are retired, as you have probably surmised. Hope you can help me.

ANONYMOUS IN FLORIDA

DEAR ANONYMOUS: Was he this way when you married him? By giving in to him because you didn't want to make waves, you have encouraged his tyrannical behavior. Perhaps if you had made one big wave when he first exhibited such selfish behavior, you wouldn't find yourself in this helpless position in your twilight years.

The likelihood of teaching this old dog new tricks is small. Be glad you can afford three TVs. I hope there's a marriage counselor near you who specializes in women and men who have kept their mouths shut for more than 30 years in order to avoid an argument, because there is a great need for one.

I would expect something like, "Hello. This is Agnes. How are you? May I please speak to Louie?"

Abby, am I expecting too much? Sign me ...

LOUSY VIBES IN JERSEY.

DEAR LOUSY: No. And your sister-in-law isn't the only one who needs to see this.

DEAR ABBY: This is about that older lady who didn't want her apartment sprayed for bugs because she lived alone and couldn't handle the job of clearing and restocking her cupboards. A man wrote in and asked if there wasn't some kind of volunteer organization that would send somebody out to help her.

You said, "Any volunteer organization that provides that kind of service deserves to be thanked publicly. Who and where are they?"

Abby, may I remind you about the Boy Scouting program? For the rank of Star Scout — that's two ranks below Eagle, the highest rank — a Scout is required to serve his community by volunteering four to six hours. For my Star project, I helped an elderly lady with a yard-cleaning project that was too much for her to handle alone.

Even if a Scout is not working toward a project, our slogan is: Do a good turn daily. I hope this answers your question.

TOM VOS, EAGLE SCOUT, CRYSTAL LAKE, ILL.

DEAR TOM: You've answered my question, and you've also done your good deed for today.

The rural to urban shift that has taken place over many decades in the industrialized countries has happened in only a generation in Latin America, says the Inter-American Development Bank. Since 1950, Latin America's urban labor force jumped from 46 percent to around 70 percent of the total. Its annual rate of increase from 1950 to 1980 was 4 percent, as compared to 2.5 percent for the total labor force.

Your Birthday

July 23, 1988

In the year ahead you will win over an enormously valuable ally. This person will constantly work behind the scenes on your behalf to better your lot in life.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Someone who knows you can be trusted not to repeat things may let you in on some important confidential information today from which you can benefit. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Matchmaker wheel can help you understand what it might take to restore the relationship. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Opportunities that may appear to be insignificant could have hidden value today. Make the most of the breaks that come your way.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your greatest asset for advancing your ambitions today will be the ability to outthink others and be able to spot benefits that are not apparent to them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) News you've been hoping for regarding something that's outside of your immediate control could be forthcoming today. Keep lines of communications open.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A valuable lesson can be learned today from your observations of how another handles an issue very similar to one with which you have to contend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Worthwhile results can be obtained today from discussions with pragmatic friends who know how to deal with adversity. Their comments will serve to inspire you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Act in harmony with your thoughts today, especially if you get any new ideas that can further your ambitions or career aspirations.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Try to participate in activities today that make you think, as well as become physically active. You'll feel better if you give both your mind and body a workout.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you have some constructive transformations in mind that you feel will enhance the household and please your family, by all means implement them today instead of waiting until later.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You're a nice person to be around today because your concerns will be focused upon doing all you can to please those with whom you'll be involved.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Look for little ways to economize today. If something is broken, see if you can mend it yourself or have it repaired inexpensively, instead of buying a new one.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't turn down social invitations today because you are likely to become more gregarious as time ticks on. By late afternoon or evening, you'll want to participate in fun activities with others.

Fumbles on both sides

By James Jacoby

The defense and play of this slam looked like a Little League football game, with both sides fumbling the ball. West led the spade eight. Declarer played low, and East correctly analyzed from the bidding that South held a singleton spade and the queen of clubs. So he let the spade eight hold the trick, hoping his partner would switch to a club. But spades were continued. Declarer ruffed, drew three rounds of trumps and played his winning diamonds. On the fourth diamond he discarded a club, but East was able to comfortably come down to K-J of clubs and two winning spades. Declarer ruffed a spade and then led his last trump. But East was discarding behind the dummy, and the slam was down one.

Declarer should cash one more trump before running the diamonds. If he plays four rounds of trumps, discarding a club from dummy, then the run of the diamonds places East in a squeeze position. Dummy's last three cards will be Q-4 of spades and the club ace; declarer will hold the heart 8 and Q-10 of clubs. If East blanks his high spade, declarer will ruff a spade and return to dummy with the club ace. If East unguards his club king, declarer will play dummy's ace, dropping East's king, and ruff a spade to his hand to cash the now good club queen.

How did both sides fumble? At trick one, the squeeze could have been broken up with a club switch. But that would not have worked if declarer had inserted dummy's spade 10 at trick one, to place East on lead. The "what ifs" in bridge can drive you crazy.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books.

Locals write song for Democratic candidate

Billy and Sue Atwood and three members of the Del Vikings singing group—Krip Johnson, John Bynum and Norman Wright—have written a song for Democratic presidential candidate Michael Dukakis and his running mate Senator Lloyd Bentsen to the tune of "Come Go With Me," a song included in the list of top 20 of the greatest hits of all time written by the Del Vikings.

The song was written last week in Atlantic City, N. J. where the Del Vikings are currently booked. The words were written starting on Wednesday and were recorded in an all night recording session Friday.

During the latter part of the recording session, the Del Vikings dressed in red, white and blue tuxedos and a video was made of them singing the song.

Atwood said they had the song copyrighted the next day. He also said Sue discovered a wording error in the final recorded version of their song and so they had to use another tape.

Once back in Snyder, Atwood made the master and mix copy himself he said. Later they contacted Democratic party officials who requested that the song be Federal Expressed to party headquarters.

The Atwoods complied and are now awaiting news as to how the Democratic Party intends to use their song.

"We fell certain that they will use it because it is a great song," Atwood said. "It can be used from now through the November election."

The Del Vikings have also filmed a special for HBO which will be broadcast in August Atwood said.

Stop Anson 10-5 to advance...

All-Stars win area tourney

ROTAN - Just when Anson thought Thomas might break, he got tough.

All-Star pitcher Randall Thomas struggled some in the second and third innings, but shut down the last 10 batters he faced to help Snyder secure the Area II Little League championship in a 10-5 win over Anson here Thursday.

By virtue of the win, Snyder will advance to further tournament play in Breckenridge beginning Monday evening. Snyder is scheduled against Baird at 8 p.m. Abilene Dixie and Robert Lee have also qualified for the tournament and will battle at 6 p.m.

Snyder served notice in the early going of Thursday's contest. Leadoff batter Reagan Key touched hard-throwing Jimmy Garcia for a double to right field, and Adrian Sneed brought him home with a single.

Garcia got out of the jam when Sneed was cut down trying to take home on a wild pitch, and the next two Snyder batters struck out.

Thomas, who pitched no-hit ball in a 10-0 win over Hamlin earlier this week, started well. He took the Anson team three-up, three-down in the first inning. In the second, he began to struggle as a single and two errors loaded the bases. He got Steven Ramos out on a fielder's choice, however, sat down Pete Solas on a nice line drive catch by third baseman Craig Lang, then struck out Luis Pena after taking him to a full count.

The third inning was the big one for both teams. In the top of the stanza, Snyder loaded the bases on a single from Sneed and walks by Key and Jason Pierce. An interference call sent Sneed back to the dugout but next-up Jeremy Alarcon drove the ball to right field to score Key and Pierce. Craig Lang then singled home Hart, and Jim Pat Griffin singled to score Alarcon and Lang for a 6-0 lead.

Anson rallied back in the bottom of the inning when Thomas issued four straight walks. The last one pushed Moses Baladez home and kept the bases stacked. Jason Lytle then tripled down the right field line and Ramos followed with a sacrifice fly to center field, making it a 6-5 ballgame.

Fans may have wondered how long the Snyder pitcher would last after showing so many signs of struggling. He did give up another single in the inning, but got the final two outs on strikeouts. The last one, in which he had Luis Renia looking, began a string of 10 straight outs for the young right hander.

Anson would not put another base runner aboard - not this season, anyway.

Meanwhile, Snyder's offense continued to shine. The All-Stars added three more runs in the fourth inning. Key reached on an error and Sneed followed with a scuff-shot that rolled only about a foot from home plate. Sneed took off running but the throw to first base was wide, and both he and Key rounded the bases. Later, Hart singled and scored on a wild pitch.

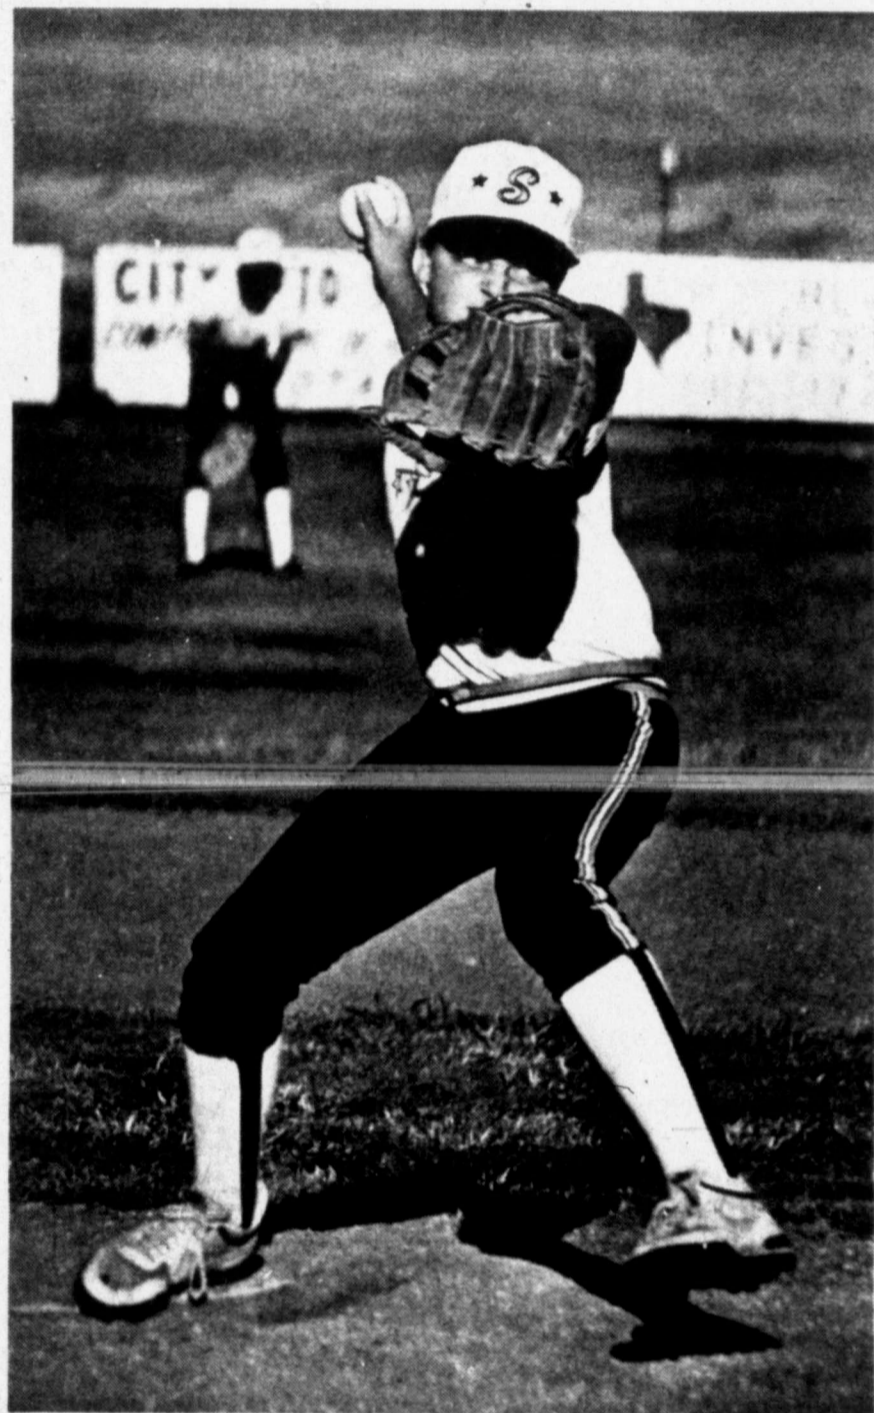

Snyder's last run came in the fifth when Sneed slapped a two-out double to score pinch runner Curt Rinehart. Rinehart had come in to run for Thomas, who had singled aboard.

Thomas' determination on the mound was backed by some solid defense, particularly in the third inning. Baladez was robbed of a hit when Lang alertly gloved a high, hard line drive. And Kidd Waddell and Cris Cromeens were thwarted by Pierce, who twice charged grounders and made fine throws from his short stop position.

Anson managed only three hits and four walks, and struck out five times. Snyder got 11 hits and five walks, and the All-Stars struck out on 12 occasions.

Sneed's three-for-four effort paced the offense. Lang was two-for-two with two walks while Griffin went two-for-four and Key, Hart, Alarcon and Thomas had one hit apiece.

Raiders defeat Cowboys in fight-riddled scrimmage

OXNARD, Calif. (AP) - The Los Angeles Raiders edged the Dallas Cowboys two touchdowns to one on Thursday in a fisticuff-marred rookie scrimmage which included wide receiver Mike Irvin decking one of the Raiders.

The scrimmage was overshadowed by several short fights and Irvin said "They were testing me, I guess. I'm not sure what they are trying to do."

Irvin, the Cowboys' number one draft pick from Miami, was involved in numerous shoving matches and at one point knocked down a Raider.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry was not pleased.

"I don't think that's the smartest thing you could be doing," Landry said of Irvin's antics.

Tim Brown, the Raiders' first round draft pick, scored one of Los Angeles' two touchdowns on a short pass from quarterback Steve Beuerlein, also of Notre Dame.

Dallas' only score came on an 18-yard pass from Scott Secules to Harper LeBel.

Secules hit 9 of 12 passes for 83 yards while Kevin Sweeney could manage only 3 of 9 for 31 yards.

Pint-sized 5-foot-7 Mark Higgs rushed for 54 yards on 8 carries, including a 21-yard run.

Clack gets chance with Dorsett gone

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Remember Darryl Clack? You are, indeed, a Dallas Cowboys' fan if you do.

Clack, a second-round draft pick in 1986 out of Arizona State, didn't carry the ball a single time last season.

In two years of NFL play, he has four rushes for a grand total of 19 yards.

With the trade of Tony Dorsett to Denver, Clack suddenly becomes a big part of the Cowboys' 1988 plans as a backup to Herschel Walker.

"It's my big chance," he said. "It's what I've waited for since I got out of Arizona State."

Clack's reputation of always being hurt also has followed him from Arizona State.

He played sparingly his senior year for the Wildcats because of injury.

"It's time for Darryl to show us what he can do," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "I have confidence in his ability if we can just keep him on the field. We've never seen him in a very long stretch. We have to know if he can take some punishment."

Clack had the reputation of being an excellent receiver out of the backfield.

"He was one of the best in college football at catching the ball when he was playing," said Gil Brandt, the Cowboys' player personnel director.

Clack was used mostly on specialty teams last year. This spring he was involved in an odd situation.

A putting Dorsett refused to practice during a mini-camp and even sent Clack onto the field for himself. "I didn't have any problem with doing that," Clack said. "I kind of appreciated how Tony felt."

Clack said he had been told by the Cowboys' coaches that he would get a heavy dose of action in the preseason.

"He can be a very versatile player," said backfield coach Al Lavan. "All Darryl needs to do is get confidence in himself that he can do it. He can run, he's fast, and he can catch the ball."

Clack said he is in the best condition of his career.

"At 228 pounds I was overweight last year but now I'm down to 213," Clack said. "It's nice to be my old self."

Neumann leads women's open

BALTIMORE (AP) - Liselotte Neumann, a 22-year-old native of Finspang, Sweden shot a four-under-par 67 in Thursday's rain-interrupted first round of the women's U.S. Open.

That gave Neumann a two-shot lead in the most prestigious event in women's golf.

"She's a fine striker of the ball," said JoAnne Carner, a two-time Open champion tied for second at 69 with Sally Quinlan.

"She's not anyone you can fool around with," Carner added.

Colleen Walker, one of six players tied at one-under-par 70, said Neumann played "a great round, especially on this course and especially in the Open."

Tied with Walker at 70 were Dottie Pepper Mochrie, Shirley Furlong, Vicki Ferguson, Patty Sheehan and Amy Benz.

Neumann, a five-time winner in Europe who has yet to post a top 10 finish in her first LPGA season, was the youngest of the seven golfers to break par on the first day over the 6,232-yard, par-71 Five Farms course at the Baltimore Country Club.

Snyder Seniors vie in Abilene tonight

ABILENE - Tommy Lane is scheduled to start on the mound today as Snyder's senior teenagers take on the Abilene A's at 6:30 p.m. here in the 1st Annual Abilene Invitational Summer Baseball Tournament.

The game will be held at Hardin-Simmons University's Hunter Field.

Snyder won the area Senior Teenage Baseball League and earned a berth to the Texas State Teenage Baseball Tournament, scheduled to begin Aug. 2 in Eastland. The Snyder squad will use this weekend's tournament here to tune up for that. Snyder's team is made up of young men expected to fill out the high school baseball squad next season, while the Abilene A's are largely made up of Abilene High athletes.

The tournament is double-elimination, and begins at 4 p.m. today with Abilene Cockrell playing Abilene Ringo at Cooper High School. Other games have Sweetwater playing Eastland, 6 p.m. at Cooper High, and Burkburnet playing Fort Worth Irving at 8:30 p.m., at HSU.

The tournament runs through mid-day Sunday with the championship game set for 1:30 p.m. A second championship game, if necessary, is set for 3:30 p.m.

Israel Hinojos is penciled in at short stop for Snyder today and will lead off the batting order. The rest of the order, and lineup, has Bert Merritt at left field, Willie Garcia at third base, Randy Morris at second base, Tommy Lane on the mound, Kevin Dollins at right field, Bert Otto at third, Tim Halsey at first base and Tracy Odom at catcher. Either Simon Gutierrez or Toby Goodwin is expected to hit for Dollins.

Halsey, also a good left handed pitcher, is a pickup player from the Sweetwater Tigers, who finished second in the league to Snyder.

Olympic track and field...

Bright shines at trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Tim Bright, already a member of the U.S. Olympic track and field team in the decathlon, was pole vaulting for fun.

Mary Decker Slaney, also on the team in the 3,000-meter run, had a different goal in mind.

"What do I have to lose?" asked Slaney, the fastest qualifier Thursday night; driven by the desire to break her own American record at 1,500 meters. She'll get the chance on Saturday, the final day of the Olympic trials.

Florence Griffith Joyner, who set a world record in the women's 100 last week, also has a chance to become a double-winner on Saturday and was entered in today's first-round heats in the 200.

Also among today's events were the first round of the men's 110 high hurdles and the qualifications in the men's discus.

Slaney was the fast qualifier in the 1,500 with a 4 minutes, 4.27 seconds, the fastest time by an American this year. But it was almost seven seconds off the American record of 3:57.12 she set five years ago.

"I'm already on the Olympic team. I would like to run it (1,500) at the Olympics, but that's not the one I'm concentrating on,"

she said. Bright was second in the decathlon after setting an American and Olympic trials record in the decathlon pole vault at 18 feet, 4½ inches. Immediately after the decathlon windup, he competed in the regular pole vault, finishing fourth at 18-8 after 12 hours of competition for the day.

"Why not?" Bright said of his efforts in both events. "I'm extremely exhausted, but I felt good after my first jump. I started to get going and felt motivated."

The pole vault was won by Kory Tarpening, who set a meet record with a leap of 19-3¼, but failed in an attempt to break Joe Dial's American record of 19-6½.

Earl Bell, bronze medalist at Los Angeles in 1984, was second

Press steps up attacks on strike organizers

MOSCOW (AP) — The state-run press today branded organizers of strikes in Armenia as narrow-minded provocateurs trying to seize power, but some Armenians stayed away from work in a territorial dispute with a neighboring republic.

A producer for state-run television in Yerevan, the Armenian capital, said most factories, stores and other businesses were open but that some workers remained on strike. He spoke on condition of anonymity.

But Ruzana Ambartsumyan, an Armenian activist in Yerevan, said most factories were closed because of the strike, called to protest the Soviet leadership's refusal to transfer the predominantly Armenian region of Nagorno-Karabakh from Azerbaijan to Armenia in the southern Soviet Union.

There was no way to reconcile the conflicting reports about the strike because authorities have barred foreign reporters from traveling to the region since February, when Armenians began a campaign to annex Nagorno-Karabakh.

In the region itself, businesses remained closed because of a walkout that began two months ago, said a worker for the state-run radio station and a reporter for the official newspaper Soviet Karabakh in Stepanakert, the main city of Nagorno-Karabakh. Soviet television Thursday night showed trucks and buses standing idle, construction sites empty and workers milling around Stepanakert.

In Moscow, the press stepped up its attacks on organizers of the strike in Armenia.

"Formally, they are all intelligent people, well-educated. But this is only formally. In reality, they are narrow-minded nationalists, intellectuals without convictions, political adventurers, hoping to make a career of provocations and blackmail," a correspondent for the official news agency Tass wrote in today's Trud newspaper.

The article accused members of the group it said was organizing the strike, the "Karabakh Committee," of bringing the republic to economic chaos and abusing Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev's policies of openness and democratization.

It said the committee's "prevailing idea is the seizure of power in the republic" by getting its members or supporters elected to Communist Party and government posts.

Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper, joined the attack, quoting an Armenian law professor as saying provocations start at the nightly outdoor rallies held in Yerevan.

"Extremist-minded elements excite people at the meetings, and the microphone is given first to those who will not accept compromises, those who need confrontation for any reason, and the aggravation of an already tense situation," professor V. Nazaryan was quoted as saying.

Earlier media reports said two members of the Karabakh Committee were arrested for bringing gasoline bombs to a rally.

At a giant rally in Yerevan on Thursday night, several speakers called on workers not already striking to do so as a protest against Monday's ruling by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, said Ambartsumyan, who attended the demonstration.

The Presidium, the executive committee of the Soviet parliament, decreed it would be unconstitutional to transfer Nagorno-Karabakh to Armenia because Azerbaijan's government has refused to give its consent. The region has been part of Azerbaijan for 65 years.

Several speakers, including Armenian writer Sergo Khanzodyan, blasted Gorbachev for not siding with the Armenians' demand, according to Ambartsumyan and activist Igor Muradyan.

Ambartsumyan said said people began shouting "Free Ayrikyan!" after a lawyer said authorities were violating the human rights of Paruyr Ayrikyan, an Armenian nationalist.

Writers strike said continuing

WEST HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The leader of the striking Writers Guild of America says television and film producers have informed the union that contract talks will be broken off, but a spokesman for the producers denies the allegation.

The strike, in its 20th week, already has led to sweeping layoffs in the entertainment industry and has shredded the fall television schedule.

Brian Walton, executive director of the WGA West, told a group of reporters Thursday that the Alliance of Motion Picture and Television Producers will not seek a contract agreement at a bargaining session set for Saturday.

Visibly upset, Walton declared he was "nonplussed" by the alliance's decision, which he said was relayed to him Thursday afternoon in a telephone call from alliance negotiator J. Nicholas Counter III.

Counter contradicted Walton's account of the conversation, but Walton's version was corroborated by a second WGA executive, Mona Mangan, who said she was a party to the call.

According to Walton, Counter called the union to explain the position the alliance will take in a negotiating session scheduled for Saturday by federal mediator Leonard Farrell.

The Saturday session was called by Farrell because full bargaining teams have not met since June 16. The proposed contract that arose from that session was rejected by the guild on June 22.

The two sides are divided sharply on fees for reruns of one-hour television programs shown in this country and for all programs broadcast overseas.

Walton reported that Counter said, "No deal will be made. There will be nothing there Saturday. Nothing will happen ... (and) forces outside of the collective bargaining process will have to resolve this."

Walton said he was surprised by Counter's statement that he called him back to confirm what he had said.

"We felt and do feel that we have been in good faith in attempting to reach a deal," Walton told reporters at guild headquarters.

"But throughout the last four to five months, there have been weeks upon weeks where the alliance has simply refused to talk to us."

Counter said that Walton's version was "wrong ... I certainly would not prejudice what would happen."

Israel now faces growing air threat

HATZERIM AIR FORCE BASE, Israel (AP) — Israel's Arab enemies have a combined air force almost as large as NATO's, and the threat is growing with the prospect of an end to the Iran-Iraq war, Israel's air force commander says.

Maj. Gen. Avihu Bin-Nun said Israel's air force was investing heavily in pilot training, new tactics and technology to meet the challenge of an unprecedented Arab arms buildup.

Lebanon, Syria has tripled the number of ground-to-air missiles, and today batteries of SAM-5 missiles are aimed at all of Israel's air space, he said.

"We are taking the threat from Syria very seriously," Bin-Nun said, but "if we have to fight the Syrians, we will surprise them again."

He also vowed that Israel would retaliate harshly against any missile attack. During the 1973 Middle East war, for example, Syria aimed a missile at a northern Israeli air force base, but struck an Israeli village instead, he said.

"The next morning, 80 bombs hit general headquarters in the middle of Damascus," he said.

"The air force is capable of hitting any target within any distance. We proved it once, and we hope we don't need to prove it again."

"We are trying to keep the qualitative edge, but when you look at the numbers, it gets more and more difficult all the time," Bin-Nun told reporters Thursday at the Hatzertim Air Force base in the southern Negev Desert.

But he added: "We believe we can cope even with the new technology the Arab countries are getting from all over the world."

Bin-Nun said most of the billions of dollars Arab countries have spent on weapons in recent years have gone toward beefing up their air power. He said Israel was especially concerned about the arms buildup in Iraq, Syria and Saudi Arabia.

"The number of fighters that can attack Israel in 20 minutes of flight is more than 1,500," he said.

The London-based International Institute for Strategic Studies says in its 1987-88 report that the Arab countries most likely to engage in a war with Israel have a combined force of 2,358 combat aircraft, compared to 676 in Israel and 2,409 in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's European deployment areas.

Israel was very concerned about the recent $30 billion British arms sale to Saudi Arabia, a country that has participated directly or indirectly in all wars against Israel, Bin-Nun said.

The package includes sophisticated Tornado fighter planes whose range enables them to hit any Israeli target from Saudi Arabia, he said.

"We must take into account that in case of war (against Israel) the equipment either will be used by the Saudis or sent over to one of the countries at war with us," Bin-Nun said.

He said the agreement with Britain did not bar the Saudis from sending weapons to other countries.

In addition, Saudi Arabia has transferred billions of dollars worth of arms purchased from the United States to Iraq, apparently without U.S. approval, he said.

With the prospect of a cease-fire in the Iran-Iraq war, the Iraqi air force also has become a greater threat, he said.

He said Iraq has sophisticated fighter planes supplied by the French and Soviets and has gained a great deal of experience during the 8-year-old Persian Gulf war.

But Bin-Nun said the Iraqis "haven't achieved what an air force of this size could have achieved after so many years of experience," and that Israel could cope with the threat.

The Iranian air force poses no threat because it is small and poorly maintained, said Bin-Nun.

Another potential threat comes from Syria, one of Israel's most implacable enemies, he said.

Three executions halted in Texas

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Two Texas death row inmates with execution dates scheduled for next week were postponed, while another inmate had his execution date vacated, prison officials said.

Warren Eugene Bridge, 28, was scheduled to die by injection before dawn next Wednesday, but his date was moved to Sept. 15, Texas Department of Corrections spokesman Charles Brown said Thursday.

The scheduled execution of Walter Bell Jr. for next Thursday was moved to Aug. 12. The execution date of Billy Joe Woods, 41, scheduled for next Friday was vacated, said Ron Dusek, spokesman for the attorney general's office.

Obituaries

James Knight

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Services for James Sylvester Knight, 84, of San Diego, Calif., are pending.

He died at 4 p.m. Thursday. He is survived by his wife and two daughters and two sisters, Frankie Wall and Rachel McDonald, both of Snyder.

Vernon Bridges

KNOX CITY—Services were set for 2:30 p.m. Friday at the O'Brien Baptist Church for Vernon Lazell Bridges, 77, who died Wednesday in a Stamford hospital. Burial was to follow in the Knox City Cemetery.

He was the father of Margaret Presswood of Snyder.

Born in St. Tamary Parish, La., he married Mildred Carver on Sept. 16, 1985 in Aspermont. He was a retired farmer and had operated a service station. He was a member of the O'Brien Baptist Church, the Knox City Lions Club and the Masonic Lodge. He was a veteran of World War II.

Survivors in addition to his wife and daughter are two brothers, Jim Bridges of Stephenville and Alan Bridges of Amarillo; a sister, Suevella Cubine of McLean; and two grandchildren.

Dukakis promises a better America

ATLANTA (AP) — Democratic candidate Michael Dukakis, plunging into his campaign to deny George Bush the White House, told followers of Jesse Jackson today "the stakes are very high" and "we can't win without you."

Underscoring the harmony of the just-concluded Democratic National Convention, Dukakis and running mate Lloyd Bentsen joined Jackson this morning before departing on a cross-country campaign trek intended to show that no region of the country will be surrendered to Bush.

"We have 110 days," said Dukakis, making his first appearance since accepting his party's presidential nomination in a tumultuous, confetti-strewn convention windup session. "I hope we can enlist every single one of you in this cause. We're going to need you. We want you. We can't win without you."

"The stakes are very high," Dukakis added. "We can't take another four years of what we've been going through for the past eight."

Jackson told the audience that Dukakis "deserves to be the next president of the United States." He told his supporters they had won a victory even though they came in second. "In our lifetime," Jackson said, "you and I will be in the White House."

In accepting the nomination Thursday night, Dukakis promised a presidency that would make America "greater, better, stronger, prouder."

"The Reagan era is over and a new era is about to begin," Dukakis declared. "We're gonna win, we're gonna win," jubilant delegates shouted back.

By early today, the floor of the convention hall — described by some as an elaborate set for a national television show — had been reduced to piles of debris by a cleanup crew. A few torn placards remained, left behind by the sleepy-eyed delegates now boarding airport buses at their hotels.

Taking their newly forged partnership on the road, Dukakis and Bentsen set out today for Bentsen's home state of Texas, a key battleground in the fall struggle with Bush.

Over the next three days, stops also are planned in California, where many experts think the election will be settled; North Dakota, in the traditionally Republican Farm Belt where the Democrats hope to make inroads, and in the showdown states of Missouri and Pennsylvania.

"It's time to raise our sights — to look beyond the cramped ideals and limited ambitions of the past eight years," Dukakis told a jubilant convention crowd.

Beyond the rhetoric, there were other reasons for the Democrats to cheer. One was an ABC poll taken Wednesday that gave Dukakis a 53 to 41 percent lead over Bush, a sizable convention-week boost from a 46-45 Republican lead in a poll taken Sunday.

The jammed Omni coliseum — forced to close the gates for a third night because of overcrowding — never seemed smaller as flag-waving, hand-clapping delegates stood Snyder's Leslie Ward at 17.067 and Annette Burkman of Brownwood, who timed in at 17.117.

In other results, Kenny Williams of Odessa posted a 9.86 to lead the calf roping, Randy Dworacek scored a 70 in the bareback and Max Paine of Lubbock marked a 75 to lead the bull riding.

Also, Beto Hinijosa of Falfurias and Terry Fowler of Rotan clocked a 7.29 to sit atop the team roping standings. Guy Miller and Jerry Millhollen of Gail were second with an 8.33 and Fowler and local cowboy Tye Springer were third with an 11.71.

Patterson Drilling won the merchant's steer saddling event, beating out Snyder National Bank and West Texas State Bank with a time of 50.17. The Patterson team was made up of Todd Pollard, Chad Hall and Thad Springer.

Scheduled in the steer saddling Friday will be teams from Howard Gray Motors, Mal Donelson Chevrolet and Wilson Motors.

Saturday's rodeo slate includes a slack team roping in the morning.

purchase of $83 million in bonds that will be used, in part, to build the 2,250-bed maximum security unit in Amarillo.

But the authority's Harry Whittington says he's not yet convinced there's enough money to move ahead and believes the Corrections Department still will be some $7 million short. And he said if the department comes up short of construction money, it might have to scrap plans to build one of the four regional prisons.

Terrell, however, said that because of federal court orders to relieve prison crowding, all four units will be built.

Housing plan now to FmHA

Since the original 24 units opened in July of 1985, only six of the apartments have come available, it has been noted.

The FmHA loan will be repaid over a 50-year time period through rental monies.

Included in the payback are expenses set aside for maintenance of the units and the grounds.

All of the 16 apartments to be built will also be eligible for subsidized rental payments based upon the individual's ability to pay.

No injuries as car overturns

Two men escaped serious injury when a car overturned on a curving farm road east of Ira, the Department of Public Safety reported Friday.

A 1982 Pontiac Grand Prix driven by James R. Goen of Lubbock was eastbound on FM 1606 two miles east of Ira when it went out of control on a curve and overturned, a trooper said.

Goen, 32, and his passenger, Bobby Turnbow, 31, who listed his address as a 25th St. motel, both sustained minor injuries and declined hospital treatment, the trooper said.

The accident happened at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

A parked 1977 GMC pickup owned by Johnny Irons of 2903 Ave. W was hit by a 1981 Ford trash truck driven by Shannon L. Warner of 2512 W at 11:32 a.m. Thursday in the 2900 Block of W, police said.

Break-in has second arrest

A 13-year-old boy was arrested Thursday afternoon in connection with a Tuesday convenience store burglary.

Police had arrested a 15-year-old boy Wednesday night and had said another juvenile was being sought in the break-in at Kwik Grocery at 2704 25th St. in which a small amount of change, cigarettes and magazines were stolen.

A 27-year-old woman was arrested for shoplifting at 5:30 p.m. Thursday at a College Ave. store, and a 46-year-old man was arrested for DWI at 2:37 a.m. Friday in the 1400 Block of 25th St.

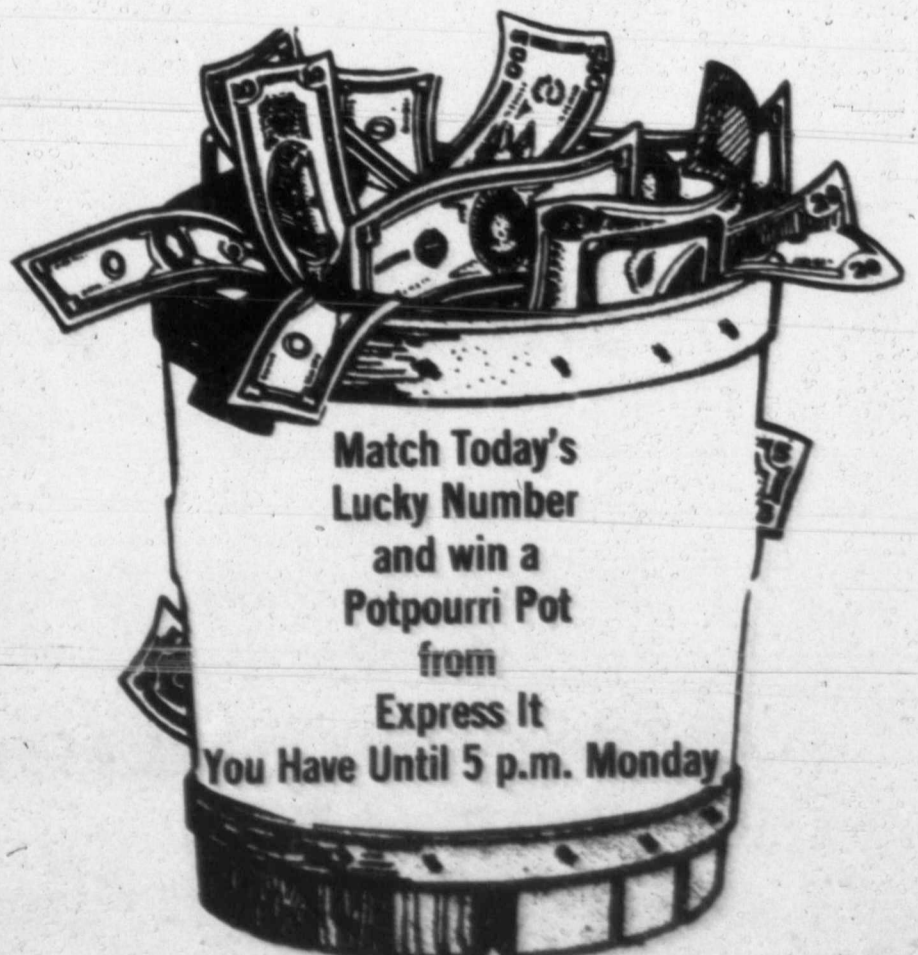

A 20-year-old man was taken into custody for evading arrest after initially refusing to stop his vehicle at 1:54 a.m. Friday in the 2100 Block of 42nd St.

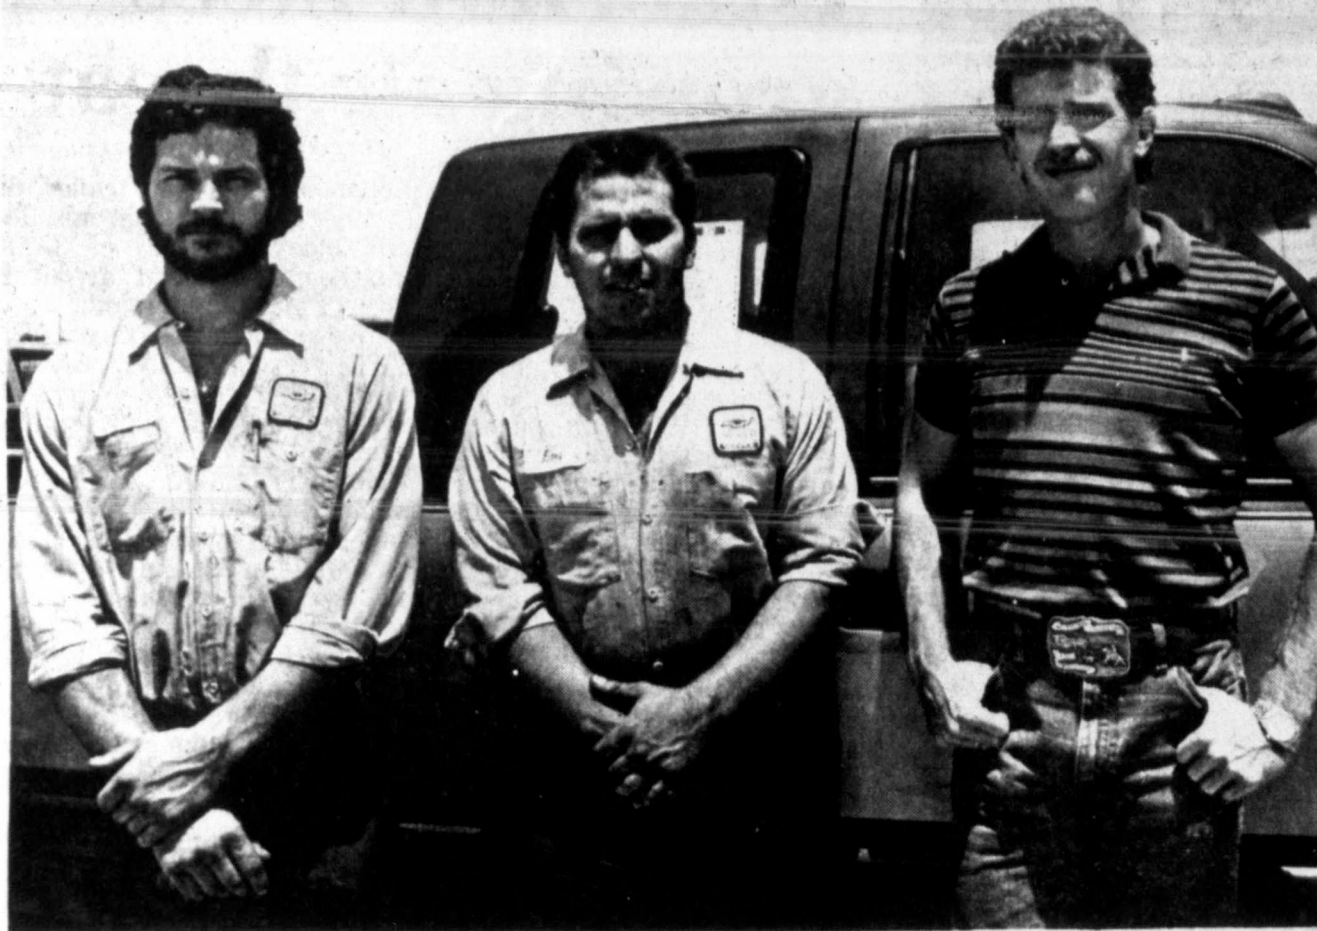

A 43-year-old man was arrested for public intoxication at 2:51 a.m. Friday in the 2800 Block of Ave. N.

New IUD is now available

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I understand that IUDs are available again in this country. Do you have any more information?

DEAR READER: The G.D. Searle Co. discontinued marketing intrauterine contraceptive devices (IUDs) two years ago because the threat of suits by users was too much of a risk to justify selling the product. Ortho Pharmaceuticals made an identical decision for the same reason three years ago. These were business decisions that were not made because of medical considerations.

In October 1987, the Population Council announced that it had licensed GynoPharma, Inc., a New Jersey-based firm, to market a copper-bearing IUD that had been approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration as being safe and effective. It is called the Copper T 380A. Ask your gynecologist for specific information about the device and how it can be obtained.

To give you more information about birth-control methods, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report, "Contraception: An Update." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Every day, I take Cardizem Isosorbide, Lasix, Slow-K, Nitro-Bid ointment, Nitrogard Buccal tab, Nitrostat Sub and Proventil — a total of about 22 pills daily. What is the best way for me to cut down on my pill taking?

DEAR READER: Sit down and talk with your doctor about reducing your medicines. You are taking too much. I am not being presumptuous in making this statement: Some of your drugs are duplicates. For instance, isosorbide, Nitro-Bid and Nitrostat are all similar nitroglycerine preparations — Nitrogard is, too, probably, but I can't find a reference for it. Therefore, four of your drugs could be combined into a single preparation, cutting down the amount by three. Proventil is for asthma. Unless you have asthma, you may not need it. Heart failure can often mimic asthma, so your doctor may want to address that issue as well.

From the limited information you provide, I'd guess that you require Cardizem (a calcium-blocker to aid heart function), Lasix (a diuretic), Slow-K (to replace potassium losses from Lasix) and nitroglycerine (either in patch, ointment or pill form). Again, discuss this with your doctor; don't discontinue any medication on your own.

Meese called 'sleaze' by the prosecution and the defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Both sides in the Wedtech corruption trial found a rare point of agreement when a federal prosecutor shocked the courtroom by calling his boss, outgoing U.S. Attorney General Edwin Meese, "a sleaze."

The Justice Department response Thursday was swift and angry in calling for an in-house investigation. Meese's lawyer branded the remark as "beneath contempt."

Assistant U.S. Attorney Edward J. Little stunned spectators at the racketeering trial of Rep. Mario Biaggi, D-N.Y., and six others Thursday when he brought up the sleaze factor, adding in effect, that it didn't matter.

"These defendants can't get out of this case by pointing fingers at Meese. So what? Who cares? That's got nothing to do with what happened in this courtroom," said Little.

Biaggi and his co-defendants are charged with turning Wedtech Corp., a now-bankrupt defense contractor, into a racketeering enterprise that paid millions of dollars in bribes for government contracts and other favors.

The defense has maintained during the four-month trial that corrupt Wedtech executives who testified for the government had links to White House insiders like Meese and did not need to bribe Biaggi.

The soft-spoken Little said the answer to "this Meese defense" was, "Meese was a sleaze, too, also, in addition to these people." He also denied defense hints that prosecutors were shielding "Ed Meese, our boss."

Little's remarks came near the end of his final argument to the federal jury in Manhattan.

Dominic Amorosa, the first defense attorney to sum up, said he was glad the government "had conceded what we have been saying: Meese is a sleaze, indeed he is and indeed he was."

Final defense arguments were expected to continue into next week.

Meese attorney Nathan Lewin said Little's comment was "beneath contempt. It's ridiculous to make a statement like that. To — even as a matter of prosecution strategy — group the attorney general with these people is beneath contempt."

In Washington, Justice Department spokesman Patrick Korten said, "We have asked the U.S. attorney's office in New York to check to see whether Mr. Little is quoted accurately. If such remarks were made, we would consider them to be inappropriate, unprofessional and, not least, flatly wrong."

Pumper crew said narrowly escaped recent firestorm

RAIL ROAD FLAT, Calif. (AP) — Firefighter Tim Moyles tried to save a home but wound up on a hot seat — literally — when his pumper truck roared out from beneath a firestorm.

"I've never felt anything like it. I've never been that hot," Moyles said Thursday as firefighters got the upper hand on twin blazes that have burned 12,500 acres in rural Calaveras County. Crews hope to contain them tonight.

Moyles, 27, and three other members of a California Department of Forestry pumper truck crew sped out of a crashing wave of flame that swallowed a home near this old gold-mining town, 150 miles east of San Francisco.

Moyles jumped on the open back of the truck and pulled a heat-resistant blanket over himself, but the oven-like temperatures melted the vinyl seat under him into lumpy rivulets surrounded by blisters.

"When you pull the cover over, you can't see anything, I didn't know what was happening," he said. "My main concern was just to make sure I didn't fall off the back of the truck."

Arson is suspected as the cause of the blazes that began Tuesday and have razed six houses. Authorities estimate losses and the cost of fighting the fires' at $4.3 million.

In Wyoming, firefighters made progress on a wildfire covering more than 17,000 acres in the Bridger-Teton National Forest and crews in Oregon fought a 150-acre blaze out of control in the Umatilla National Forest.

The Calaveras flare-up was typical for this summer's fast-moving blazes that have thrown flaming debris far ahead of them in rugged drought-parched terrain thick with timber and brush.

Moyles and Dan Miller, the 34-year-old captain of CDF Engine No. 4481 of Valley Springs, were chasing spot fires when they saw gas ignite from a propane tank next to the home a quarter-mile away. A pumper crewed by volunteers fled, out of water.

"I saw the structure was still standing, so we went down to save it," said Miller, who lives in Angels Camp. "But just after we got there, the house exploded into flames."
