

Carriker-Albert headed for special senate race faceoff

Four polling locations will be open here from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. Saturday as Scurry County voters and other residents of the 30th Senatorial District decide between Steve Carriker and Bobby Albert for the 1988 unexpired term of Ray Farabee.

The special election will be a warmup for next November, when both Carriker (D-Roby) and Albert (R-Wichita Falls) will be paired again to decide the remainder of the senate term. The candidates faced each other in a televised debate Thursday in Sherman, and took the time to again exchange verbal shots—a characteristic of this campaign.

Carriker, who resigned as state representative of the 78th district to run for the senate, accused his opponent of a "negative campaign" which dodged the real issues.

He also pointed to his administrative experience as an elected official since 1983.

Albert attacked Carriker as having a liberal voting record which "raised taxes and busted budgets." He also repeatedly assailed Carriker as the candidate supported by the Texas Trial Lawyers Association, which he credited with influencing the rise in liability insurance.

TV cameras set to roll at 13th AJRA

The new Miss AJRA will be crowned at Friday's performance of the 13th consecutive AJRA National Finals Rodeo in Snyder, and the television cameras are scheduled to be rolling.

Footage of the crowning will be inserted into the Saturday night finals performance, which will be televised live over five stations and syndicated to a host of others throughout the coming year.

For both shows, supporters say they are hoping to fill the stands of Scurry County Coliseum.

Friday's AJRA will begin at the regular 8 p.m., but Saturday's will be moved to 7:30 to accommodate the special acts which have become a feature of the rodeo.

When the live performance starts at 8 Saturday night, it will begin with rodeo action.

On Friday, Miss AJRA for 1988 will be crowned by the reigning honoree, Shelli Wall of Stephenville. The nominees are Mitzi Mayes of Manor; Kody Newman of Stanton; LaDawn Puckett of Sweetwater; Kippi Kuykendall of Valley Springs; Gretchen Hilton of Olney; D'Anne Almand of Waxahachie; Ralynn Key of Gail; and Lari Dee Guy of Abilene.

On Saturday, the televised version of the finals has the capability of being viewed by almost 53 million people, sponsors say.

Producing and directing the broadcast for the third year will be Zoli Vajda of Palmer Lake, Colo.

During the telecast, Bob Tallman will serve as commentator, and he will be joined by Pam Minick of Roanoke, a former Miss Rodeo American, and Dave Appleton, the current leader of the PRCA "All Around" for 1988 who competed on the college rodeo circuit while attending Western Texas College.

Stations scheduled to program the telecast live are KGCT in Tulsa, Okla.; KOKH in Oklahoma City; KDTU in Tucson, Ariz.; TV-17 in Tallahassee, Fla.; TV-54 in Bucyrus, Ohio; and, closer to home, KJTV in Lubbock.

Nationwide sports networks to broadcast the rodeo in the coming weeks will include the FNN-SCORE National Cable Network, which counts some 22 million viewers.

Other networks to broadcast the AJRA include Home Team Sports, covering Washington, D.C., and the Mid-Atlantic states; Sportsvision of Chicago; World Television Network and Madison Square Garden from New York City; NESN from Boston; Arizona Sports Network; Home Sports Entertainment of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Louisiana; ACTS, a religious network in Fort Worth with 6.3 million viewers; and The Sunshine Sports Network of Florida.

Each sports network scheduling the show will repeat it at least four times during the first month after the original broadcast.

Other TV stations have signed up to syndicate the show, showing it periodically throughout the year until about a month before the next rodeo. These include stations in Phoenix, Oklahoma City, San Antonio, Tulsa, Decatur, Ill., Cheyenne, Wyo., Tallahassee, Fla., Tucson and Scottsbluff, Ariz., Sterling, Colo., Flagstaff and Kingman, Ariz., Bend, Ore., Bucyrus, Ohio, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Lubbock, Alexandria, La., Ada, Okla., Sioux City, Iowa, and numerous other cities.

The rodeo is again sponsored by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce and Board of County Development.

Box seats are $6 and general admission is $4 for adults and $2 for children.

Ty Watkins moved into the forefront of the bareback and bull riding Thursday as the AJRA National Finals concluded its third night of regular action. The Odessa cowboy rode Scorpion to pick up 64 points in the bareback and finished the day's work with a 76 on Hat Rack. The rides put him in the lead of the average in both events—136 in the bareback and 138 in the bull riding.

Watkins' only threat to keep him out of the top spot in the School adopts budget

Tax rate set at 99 cents

Trustees for the Snyder school district approved a $12.4 million operating budget Thursday and a 99 cent tax rate to fund the largest share of it.

A public hearing for the 1988-89 budget saw only one representative from county-based oil interests appear and virtually no negative comments offered.

Overall, the new 12-month operating estimate is $230,000 less than the school budget set to end this coming Aug. 31.

In expenses, the district now figures to spend $12,470,000 during the year. To offset this, school officials expect $12,078,000 in income to include almost $7.8 million in ad valorem taxes and $3.2 million supplied from the state.

To make up the shortfall in expenses to income, the district will pull some $391,000 from its reserve fund balance. Last year, the district budgeted $1.4 million of its reserves and used, it is now estimated, approximately $665,000.

At the end of the next budget year, it is now figured the fund balance will stand at some $3.3 million—approximately three months operating costs for the district.

The 99 cent tax rate marks a 6 cent increase from the current level of 93 cents.

For taxable property valued at $50,000, this will mean a rise in taxes of $30 per year. The old rate would generate a tax bill of $465 and the new rate, $495.

ISD boundary change keeps trustee with original district

While noting they felt it should not set a precedent for future changes to Snyder ISD's single member district boundary lines, school board members Thursday approved a plan designed to shift Ygnacio Benitez, trustee for place 1, back into the district he was elected to represent.

The first boundary line change, called inadvertent by school officials, occurred last spring as the seven member board went from a 4-3 to a 5-2 single member district ratio. It was not discovered until that time.

Benitez residence at 107 Elm St. in north Snyder slipped from district 1 to district 4 with the change—which involved a distance of some 39 houses.

The boundary line map which implemented the 5-2 ratio here was drawn up prior to Benitez being elected to the board.

Trustee Mike Jordan, who made the motion to approve the change, alluded to this with his motion, calling it "a little line gerrymandering" which Benitez "had nothing to do with."

Board president Billy Bob McMullan, who abstained in voting for the measure, had asked earlier, "could it be changed again," an apparent reference to the precedent of more boundary line changes to accommodate specific individuals.

Jordan, with his motion, noted, "I wouldn't feel comfortable with it if the individual wasn't already on the board." His motion passed 6-0.

The change must still gain approval by the U.S. Dept. of Justice, and the legal expenses tied to this was referred to by trustee Ken Branam, who ultimately voted for the change.

The switch to a 5-2 ratio was first approved as a contingency measure pending the outcome of a lawsuit styled LUTAC vs. Midland ISD.

In that lawsuit, plaintiffs, who eventually received a judgment from the Fifth Circuit Court of

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Some folks can keep their heads above water because wood floats."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Wacil McNair, in the Gilmer Mirror, has observed that the popularity of the hamburger is fast spreading to other parts of the world. "There are reports that millions of Argentines opt for American type hamburgers instead of juicy sirloins. You might wonder if the economy influenced the new trend."

"However, a survey in Buenos Aires disclosed that a fast food steak house was offering a lunch of sirloin steak, salad and a glass of wine for $1.70. Down the block, McDonalds countered with a Big Mac and Coke for $1.75."

"And if you wonder how the competition is going, McDonald's just built their largest hamburger joint in Buenos Aires, seating 560 diners."

McNair figured the trend to eating out was motivated by reading the labels on canned goods—things like sodium phosphate, vegetable gum, benzoate of soda, modified food starch and hydrolyzed vegetable protein.

"Of course there are those who still do not necessarily depend on the food they consume to keep them healthy, preferring vitamin pills and other supplements to balance the needed intake."

He was reminded of the frantic wife who summoned the family doctor early one morning

"You've got to come at once. It's my husband. He got up this morning at his usual time. He took his vitamins, his ulcer pill, his tranquilizer, his antihistamine, his appetite depressant and added just a touch of benzedrine. Then he lit a cigarette and it exploded."

Said McNair, "You really can't be too careful about your diet."

In Brief

Prices go up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale price inflation increased to an annual rate of 5.7 percent in July, spurred by big boosts over a wide variety of products, including clothing, automobiles, furniture and poultry, the government said today.

The increase came despite lower prices for beef, as the drought prompted farmers to slaughter more animals because of burned-out pastures and higher feed prices.

Trip called off

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mental hospital holding John W. Hinckley Jr. is dropping plans to take the man who shot President Reagan on a field trip, after prosecutors identified "disturbing entries" in his psychiatric record, according to sources.

St. Elizabeths Hospital officials were to announce the decision at a hearing convened by U.S. District Judge Barrington D. Parker to review the proposal to take Hinckley on a day-long excursion with other patients, the sources said.

Leader quits

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Sein Lwin resigned today as president of Burma and from all his other major posts, state-owned Radio Rangoon said. The announcement came amid violent anti-government demonstrations.

No successor was immediately named for Sein Lwin, who also was head of the governing political party.

Dear Abby

Computer Junkies Meet Brave New World With Open Pockets

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: We have a computer addict in our office. He's the office manager. He comes to work at 5 a.m. so he can "work" on his computer before anyone comes in to interrupt him. He's here on Saturday and Sunday, too! In the last three years, he has spent a fortune of the company's money on computers, printers, software, etc.

Before the rest of us have time to learn a program, it's been replaced with an "updated" version. We have an accounting package installed with all the extras, such as report generators, built-in spreadsheets, payroll modules, a network, etc., but nothing ever works right, which gives him a perfect opportunity to spend more time playing with the computer — trying to "fix" it. He never gets enough.

Everyone in this office has a computer on his desk whether he needs it or not. I won't even tell you how much we spend every month on computer paper, ribbons and other supplies to keep all the hardware running. The owners of this company would be flabbergasted if they knew that their money is being spent on the manager's hobby.

Well, Abby, I think you get the picture. I'm sure there are many other offices just like ours. Computers are marvelous machines, but for the most part, they are fascinating toys for people who need to play. Sign me ...

Disgustingly yours,
ANGELA ISAACSON OF WASH.

DEAR ABBY: People who criticize their fellow office workers for playing computer games and doing useless computer work on company time usually fall into one of the following categories:

People who hope to hang on until they retire so they won't have to learn how to operate "those things."

Administrators who command someone else to learn to use the new computer because they are too busy shuffling paper to learn anything new themselves.

Workers who are afraid that one of those instruments from outer space will take over their jobs.

Ninety percent of computer-literate managers would love to have the problem of telling their workers to stop playing computer games. When I go into the office, I see far more useless talking and eating than game-playing. More often than not, the new computer sits unused on a corner of the desk while the electric typewriters type like they did in the good old days — mainly because no training time is given, or people are too lazy to learn how to use something new.

EAGER BEAVER

CONTROL C.

DEAR CONTROL C.: Computers have revolutionized the business world, but there are many who are intimidated by them. Read on for a teen-ager's evaluation:

DEAR ABBY: I'm only 13, but I think I have the right to write to you. I'm writing about the people who wrote to you saying they think computers are a big waste of time.

Well, here's my opinion: I think computers are fun, but really, people are becoming too dependent upon them. I think they should get off their butts and figure things out for themselves.

After all, that's why we go to school, isn't it? It's true what you said. Next year there will be more computer junk to suck more of your hard earned-money up! It stinks! So tell people to use their brains! That's what God gave us brains for, right? By the way, I love your column.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the office worker with the computer-crazy boss must have come out of our company. In our 40-person office, we have four separate computer systems — three of which do not talk to each other.

Why? Because our boss (who talks to no one) buys computers like a 5-year-old would buy toys if he had a credit card with no limit.

It will be interesting to see who in this office is willing to learn how to use them. Some of the old-timers have already threatened to take early retirement.

Political campaigns continue

By The Associated Press

Republican George Bush is studying polling data on prospective running mates that gave Sen. Bob Dole a slight edge over the rest, while Democratic presidential nominee Michael Dukakis blames rising interest rates on "eight years of borrowing and spending, borrowing and spending."

In their convention city of New Orleans, Republicans were completing work on a "constructive, conservative" platform, the work on the 30,000-word document overseen by Bush aides.

Before the GOP platform committee adjourned Thursday, it finished its draft of domestic planks. The major remaining fight was over a Star Wars plank that called for deployment of the space-based missile defense system "as soon as technically feasible," language backed by Bush. Conservatives sought a call for "rapid and certain" deployment.

"We've built upon a constructive, conservative platform we had in 1984, and then expanded it" by including planks dealing with drugs, AIDS and education, said Sen. Robert Kasten of Wisconsin, co-chairman of the drafting committee.

Bush, in Washington, told CBS he jogs and plays horseshoes to help relieve the pressure of preparing for his acceptance speech at next Thursday night's convention session. "I'm no William Jennings Bryan and I think it'll go OK," he said in a reference to the Democratic politician and orator from the turn of the century.

The Bush campaign leaked private polling data that said Dole helped Bush more than other potential running mates, but by a margin not considered very significant.

A campaign source said the Kansas senator and former rival for the nomination added "a little bit, but not enough to make much of a difference."

The data from Bush's chief pollster Robert Teeter "were described as all but complete."

Three national polls released Thursday showed Dukakis' post-convention surge had crested. Dukakis' 18-point lead the week after the Democratic convention shrank to 14 points in an NBC News-Wall Street Journal survey conducted Aug. 5-8. A CNN-USA Today poll the same Aug. 5-8 period gave Dukakis a 12-point lead, while a Business Week poll done Aug. 4-9 put the two candidates in a dead heat.

All three of the polls placed support for Dukakis in the 50 percent range, while support for Bush ranged from 36 percent to 45 percent.

The margins of error were three percentage points either way in each poll.

Meanwhile, Dukakis was winding up a quick, five-state campaign trip in Virginia and Florida before flying to Cape Cod for a weekend at the beach.

The Democratic nominee said Thursday's increase in the prime lending rate charged by major banks was "regrettable, but I think it's what happens after eight years of borrowing and spending, borrowing and spending."

Major banks increased their prime rate to 10 percent.

With less than a week to go before he will claim the GOP presidential nomination in the mammoth Superdome, Bush was joining President Reagan for a pre-campaign pep talk to senior administration officials who are expected to fan out across the country this fall to boost Bush.

Thornburg approved as new AG by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard L. Thornburgh says he's eager to begin work as the nation's 76th attorney general, but is not counting on keeping the job if George Bush becomes president.

"I look on this as a six-month assignment," Thornburgh said Thursday after an 85-0 Senate vote confirmed him as successor to the controversial Edwin Meese III.

The former GOP Pennsylvania governor said in a television interview, aired in Philadelphia, that he'll "let the future take care of itself" even if Vice President Bush is elected.

Thornburgh, 56, already has told senators that he's a loyalist to President Reagan, declaring last week, "His agenda is my agenda."

Last week, Thornburgh said that fighting the "scourge of narcotics" would be his top priority, but he also promised a vigorous battle against organized crime, public corruption and white-collar crime.

Thursday, he said "every day" of his potentially short tenure "will be important, because the process of law enforcement is a 24-hour-a-day, seven-day a week, year-round proposition and I'm anxious and enthusiastic about getting on the job."

Thornburgh likely will be able to concentrate solely on department programs, unlike Meese, who spent considerable time defending his personal conduct.

Meese's ethical behavior was investigated by Independent Counsel James McKay, who con-

Clements okays resignation plan

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements has accepted the resignation of Texas Supreme Court Justice James Wallace, who is leaving the bench Sept. 1 because the job does not pay enough.

Wallace submitted his letter of resignation Monday. Clements said Thursday he had accepted it and would appoint a new justice "as soon as possible." The appointee will serve only until a new justice is elected in November.

Each party will pick a candidate for the general election. The winner will complete Wallace's term, which ends in 1992.

"Texans can rest assured that our appointee to the bench will be the very best individual qualified to interpret the law fairly and justly," Clements said.

Operation sting

By James Jacoby

Although much of bridge is played with hard numbers and percentages, some elements of poker crop up on occasion. Bluffing can occur in the bidding, and certainly deception can play a part in defense. At a regional tournament in Tulsa last June, Ed Zecchini came up with a smooth deceptive defense that caused declarer to misplace the key cards.

Ed was West, on lead against three no-trump. Naturally he led a club. Declarer won in hand and played a second club to dummy's jack. Next came a spade back to the jack. Ed won the queen and casually switched to the queen of diamonds. What was South to presume about the location of the diamond ace? If West held ace of clubs, queen of spades and A-Q-J of diamonds, he might have bid something over one spade. At any rate, declarer played low on the queen of diamonds. Next came the jack of diamonds. Declarer still assumed that the ace of diamonds was with East. If West had started with the Q-J of diamonds doubleton, it was still safe to let the diamond jack win the trick. And that's what South did. Imagine South's surprise and chagrin when West now cashed the diamond ace and club ace to set the contract.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books.

INS: rescheduled interviews don't endanger applications

SAN JUAN, Texas (AP) — Letters calling for alien amnesty applicants to reschedule their interviews has alarmed some immigrant rights advocates, but immigration officials say those eligible for legal status do not need to worry.

At issue are notices the Immigration and Naturalization Service sent last month advising amnesty applicants that their initial legalization interviews had been moved up.

A second notice mailed this week warns that those not responding to the rescheduling letters could be denied legal status.

INS officials described the rescheduling as a cost-cutting measure designed to clear a backlog of applications before the end of the federal fiscal year on Sept. 30 and to clear the way for the second phase of the program.

Members of the Legalization Coalition of the Rio Grande Valley, an immigrant advocacy group, said Thursday that many amnesty applicants in the lower Rio Grande Valley who originally had interviews scheduled as late as December are not home to receive the notices.

"Our concern is that along with the appointment date, they got a work authorization and permission to travel, so a lot of these people are not around," said Telma Longoria, director of Catholic Social Services for the Diocese of Brownsville.

Ellen Pesserillo, an assistant outreach specialist with the INS' 13-state southern region based in Dallas, said the second notice was so worded "to motivate people to come in and reschedule," she said.

The INS spokeswoman said those who end up showing up for their original interview dates will not lose their chance for legalization.

"It doesn't say your application will be denied ... it says it may be," Ms. Pesserillo said.

Coalition member Carter White, an attorney with the American Civil Liberties Union, accused the INS of failing to follow Congressional intent in the new immigration law.

The Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 offers legal status, or amnesty, to undocumented aliens who can prove they have lived in this country illegally since before Jan. 1, 1982.

"We strongly believe that the applicants should not lose their once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to legalize their status simply because of this whim of the INS," White said.

The backlog of applications resulted when hundreds of aliens filed last-minute applications as the May 4 deadline approached.

About 30 percent of the 2.5 million nationwide seeking legalization under the program turned in their applications during the last three weeks before the deadline, the INS reported.

The INS, unable to process the last-minute flood, started accepting skeletal applications along with the application fees, and set the appointment dates that recently were moved up.

The Southern Region had 80,000 interviews outstanding as of Aug. 8, according to the INS.

"A number of them are farm workers whose livelihood depends on their remaining in the north to complete work until the end of the harvest season," White said. "It is highly improbable that they will be able to appear for their new appointment dates even if the INS was successful in contacting them."

"Especially in Harlingen (because of the Valley's large population of migrant farm workers), we don't plan to act on any denials simply because they did not receive the notice," Ms. Pesserillo said.

"I don't think any district director would feel encouraged to take that direction," she added.

Insurance board oks discounts for air bags

AUSTIN (AP) — The insurance industry hopes a discount approved for coverage on vehicles with passive restraint systems will help persuade Texans to buy cars and trucks with air bags or automatic seat belts.

The State Board of Insurance voted 3-0 Thursday in favor of the industry request for discounts that will cut about $5 to $11 a year from premiums on vehicles with passive restraint systems. The discounts go into effect Oct. 1.

The Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office requested the lower rates on behalf of the major insurance companies operating in Texas.

"It is a reward for those who have made the judgment to buy vehicles equipped with some form of passive restraints," said Richard Geiger of Dallas, lawyer for the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office.

"Admittedly, it's not large. The thing is that it raises the consciousness of the buyers to recognize this technology is available," Geiger said.

Passive restraints — either air bags or automatic seat belts — are now standard on a variety of cars. Under federal rules, starting with 1990 models, all vehicles must be equipped with passive restraint systems.

Automakers have battled mandatory installation of air bags. They have said the equipment could add up to $1,000 to the price of a car.

Matt Berry, an Austin insurance agent representing the Independent Insurance Agents of Texas, told the insurance board that the discount would "send a message to manufacturers that passive restraints are a desired option."

"The overall effect will be the savings of lives and lessening of injuries," Berry said.

Geiger told the board, "There is no question but that the use of restraints of some kind unquestionably offers protection."

After the meeting, he said he has seen statistics showing that automakers could put passive restraint systems in cars for about $50.

Sleeping on job sparks fine

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record $1.25 million fine against the operator of a Pennsylvania nuclear plant whose workers slept on duty is meant to wake up utilities and show them that such violations carry a price, says a government regulator.

Philadelphia Electric Co., operator of the dormant Peach Bottom nuclear power plant in southeastern Pennsylvania, was hit Thursday with the fine, the largest in Nuclear Regulatory Commission history.

Sleeping on the job was so common at Peach Bottom that on one occasion, a shift superintendent and three of the four reactor operators all dozed at once, according to testimony by an NRC official last year.

The NRC also announced fines ranging from $500 to $1,000 against the 33 present and former reactor operators — the first such civil penalties ever proposed for individual operators.

It said the 33 fines "involved sleeping and/or other acts of inattention to duty" at the plant on the Susquehanna River in Delta, Pa.

The NRC called the levies "proposed fines," explaining that both Philadelphia Electric and the operators have 30 days to either admit or deny the alleged violations. If they deny the allegations, the NRC staff will review their complaints before deciding whether to uphold the penalties.

Peach Bottom, which is capable of producing 1 million kilowatts of electric power, was ordered shut down by the NRC on March 31, 1987. The commission said the plant posed "an immediate threat to the public health and safety."

James Taylor, the NRC's deputy executive director for regional operations, said in a letter to Philadelphia Electric that the commission recognized that the utility had made "extensive personnel changes" since then and had ordered reactor operators retrained.

But Taylor said the fines were necessary to demonstrate to the company and to other utilities "the significance of the problem, and to ensure that corrective actions are long lasting."

In addition, he said the NRC action should "emphasize to all licensees that, in addition to the cost of corrective action, a licensee may face the additional costs of sanctions for significant safety violations."

Philadelphia Electric officials said at a news conference in Holtwood, Pa., that they had not decided whether to appeal the record fine.

"We have a period of time to evaluate and make that decision. We have not made it yet," Chairman Joseph F. Paquette Jr. said.

Paquette said no rate increases would stem from the fine and that the company does not expect to seek a rate hike until after its Limerick II power plant in suburban Philadelphia becomes operational, possibly in 1990.

Philadelphia Electric spokesman William Jones said the company was "relieved that the enforcement issue is finally behind us and that we may now fully focus our energies on the completion of the Peach Bottom restart plan."

In addition to the fines, the commission barred the utility from placing "in any operational position" three officials who were top-level managers at the plant in 1987.

As Pelluer gets start at QB...

Trade an option for White

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Faced with the role of supporting quarterback for the Dallas Cowboys, Danny White says he is not ruling out the possibility that he will ask to be traded.

"That's always an option," White said before Thursday afternoon's training camp practice. "I guess if the right opportunity came along, I can't say that wouldn't be a possibility."

Give or take an injury and Gary Hogeboom, White has been the Cowboys' starting quarterback for most of the past eight years.

But this year, the ball has been passed to Steve Pelluer, and White enters the season as backup.

White vows that he will not let the debate within himself interfere with his loyalty to the Cowboys.

"I'm going to be happy and content and I'm not going to create any problems for this organization," White said. "They've got enough problems without me creating any more."

"But when it gets to the point where I'm going to start to become a problem, then I will simply ask to be traded or do something else. When or if that happens, I don't know."

This is not the first time the Cowboys have walked with a key player in recent months. Tony Dorsett, unwilling to accept a role behind Herschel Walker, was traded to Denver.

In Saturday's game with the Los Angeles Raiders, White will play in the second quarter. It will be the first action he has seen in a scrimmage or pre-season game this summer.

Several players have said White is throwing the ball better than he did last season. Dallas Coach Tom Landry said the wrist White fractured in 1986 no longer appears to be giving him trouble.

Landry said he won't hesitate to use White at any time, but White does not believe Pelluer should have to look over his shoulder pads after every bad pass. He said it's not fair to put any starting quarterback in that situation.

Landry said he wants White on this year's team, but he has not ruled out the possibility of a trade. Quarterback coach Paul Hackett hopes it does not reach that point.

"We need to utilize and get out of Danny all of the experience and the wisdom he has to allow us to be as good as the quarterback position as we can be," Hackett said.

White, 36, said he believes he has another three or four years left playing football, but he doesn't know if those years will be in Dallas.

"The thing I'm going to have to fight is that I get the feeling sometimes that my life is being wasted, that my talent is being wasted," White said. "I still feel very strongly that I can perform, that I can move the offense, that I can score points. It's hard to sit over there and watch when you know you can be out doing that. All that has an effect on the decision I will ultimately make.

"Or won't make."

Oklahoma HRC adopts testing

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - The Oklahoma Horse Racing Commission has adopted a quantitative testing program to check for illegal medications and the dosage levels for Lasix in horses racing at state tracks.

Commission Executive Director Gordon Hare said today the testing proposal was adopted as a pilot program for the fall and will be re-evaluated at the end of the year.

The testing system will be used in lieu of detention barns, where horses are kept for four hours prior to a race to ensure the animals that no more than the recommended 250 milligram dosage of Lasix is given.

Lasix is a diuretic used to combat bleeding from the lungs in horses.

Pads go on today at Tiger workouts

Workouts for coach David Baugh's Fightin' Tigers became "more physical" as the players donned pads for the first time this morning.

"This becomes real football, now," said Baugh. "It's a contact sport and we'll have some contact work."

The team is still concentrating "heavy on the fundamentals," the coach noted.

Because workouts will grow more intense, the special midday workouts for backs and receivers will be incorporated into the 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. sessions.

Enthusiasm has remained high for the club, which will hold intrasquad scrimmage action Saturday morning at the workout field. Termed the "Watermelon Bowl", the scrimmages begin at 8:30 a.m. with the freshman and junior varsity teams. Action between the junior varsity and varsity will follow. The public is invited.

Coaches have made at least one position change this week, moving Benny Miller from tight end to a down position in the line.

Lions showing improvement but can't tame 'Hawks, 16-13

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) - After two NFL exhibition games, it appears that Detroit's "New Attitude" is only a slogan.

The Seattle Seahawks, who let their football do the talking, overcame a 13-0 deficit to beat the Lions 16-13 in overtime Thursday night.

Tonight, the only game scheduled is New Orleans at Phoenix. On Saturday, it's Dallas at the Los Angeles Raiders; Cleveland at Tampa Bay; Green Bay at Indianapolis; Cincinnati at Buffalo; Kansas City at Atlanta; Washington at Miami; the New York Jets at the New York Giants; San Francisco at Denver; San Diego at the Los Angeles Rams; and Houston vs. New England at Memphis, Tenn.

The two games Sunday are Philadelphia at Pittsburgh; and Chicago vs. Minnesota at Goteborg, Sweden, the first NFL contest played on the European continent.

The Seahawks, one of the NFL's elite teams, has played two struggling clubs - Phoenix and Detroit - and defeated both. The Lions now have played two quality teams, losing both to Cleveland and Seattle.

"We played a lot better than last week," Detroit coach Darryl Rogers said. "What we have to do is sustain. If you can't get it done on offense in the second half, you're not going to last very long."

"I was pleased with the first half but we were stinko in the second half."

So stinko that Garry James, the game's leading rusher with 51 yards on eight carries, including a 16-yard touchdown, was talking about quitting.

"I think between now and next game, I'm going to be thinking about what I want to do," James said. "I feel like I bust my tail to get the job done, but at game time people are still going to be saying, 'He's not tough enough,' because of the injuries."

James scored on a 16-yard run in the first quarter and Eddie Murray kicked field goals of 27 and 35 yards in the second quarter.

Both teams started rookie quarterbacks in the second half - Lee Saltz for Detroit and Kelly Stouffer for Seattle.

SWC enters video age

WACO, Texas (AP) - For many years, whenever a sportswriter has walked into a football coach's darkened office, he has known what to expect.

The coach would be sitting behind a whirring projector, peering at a screen (usually a blank wall) as a 16mm film brought some previous game's action into sharp (or not-so-sharp) focus.

But now the Southwest Conference has become the first conference in the country to vote to switch from 16mm film to videotape completely.

Texas A&M went full-time video last year, and Houston partially switched. But those schools also had to stay in the 16mm film business, because SWC schools swap films (for scouting purposes) and the other SWC schools were still using the old-style film.

But at a conference meeting this past spring, the schools all agreed they would switch to video. A new era thus begun.

What does that mean?

"It means that for the first time, we can have a real marriage involving football, video film and computers," Baylor head football coach Grant Teaff said. "Because when you use video film, you can really go to a computerized editing system."

"What you do is make a 'time track' where you type in all the information about a particular (see SWC, page 7)

After early morning round...

Overton eases into PGA lead

EDMOND, Okla. (AP) - Jay Overton, 37-year-old club pro from Florida, birdied three of his first six holes today to drop to 6-under par and take the early lead in the second round of the PGA Championship.

First-round leader Bob Gilder, who led a sub-par assault on Oak Tree Golf Club with a course record 5-under-par 66, had an afternoon tee time. Overton, director of golf at Innisbrook Resort in Tarpon Springs, birdied the first, second and sixth holes on another windless, warm day that was making the Pete Dye-designed course vulnerable to low scoring. He had an opening-round 68. Overton qualified for the tournament by finishing 23rd in the PGA Club Pro Championship.

Australian Peter Senior was at 4-under-par through five holes after a bogey and two birdies. Thirty-one pros broke par on Thursday, equaling a one-day PGA record for low scoring. There were 43 at par or better when the day began. Gilder and four other players broke David Edwards' course record 68 at the 7,015-yard layout, which the United States Golf Association proclaimed as the toughest in the country.

play - the situation, what down it was, what was called, who carried, what happened, everything. You correlate (code) that time track with the film and then run the film through the computerized editor, and you wind up with a tape showing you everything that happens in those certain situations.

"So it's great for self-analysis and also great for scouting your opponent, and it's so much faster," Teaff said. The coaches are excited about this great leap forward although it requires an initial investment of - in Baylor's case - about $200,000.

"We were able to get some great deals and still go strictly first class by working through some local businesses," assistant athletic director Skip Cox said.

"What you have to get is commercial grade equipment. There's a tremendous upgrading from the normal VCR. This is equipment like you'll see at an actual TV station."

Three cameras (which can range in price from $10,000 to $50,000) with all the accessories had to be purchased. Likewise the copying equipment, the computerized editing system, monitors and VCRs for 13 coaching stations, etc. Teaff said all the equipment would be in hand for use this season.

"We'll use three cameras at every game. One will give us a 22-man shot - show us what every man on the field does this particular play. Another camera will focus strictly from tackle to tackle, close up. The third camera will be shooting from the end zone," Teaff said.

"I'm under the impression we'll be exchanging the 22-player tapes with the other schools, but that's something to be worked out."

Southwest Conference coaches scheduled a meeting this summer to talk strictly about this switch to video and reach some agreements about exchanging tapes.

"I know this: Once you get your system paid for, you not only have a much more efficient system, but also a much more economical one," Teaff said. "Our film budget has been about $40,000 to $50,000 a year. We'll be able to cut that under $20,000 with this new equipment."

Tyson set to defend his crown on Oct. 8

LONDON (AP) - Heavyweight champion Mike Tyson is set to defend his crown Oct. 8 against Frank Bruno at Wembley Stadium, British promoter Jarvis Astaire says.

Astaire, co-owner of Wembley, Britain's foremost sporting venue, said Thursday that Tyson agreed to the date only two weeks after he announced he was pulling out of a Sept. 3 fight and taking "six to eight weeks off."

"The lawyers worked it out last night after Tyson returned home from Los Angeles," Astaire said. "We will have a 60,000 capacity, which is the same as we were planning for Sept. 3."

Bruno has been the World Boxing Council's No. 1 challenger since last October, and the World Boxing Association made him a leading contender earlier this year.

His bout with Tyson was originally scheduled for June, but the 26-year-old British fighter was forced to wait when the American decided instead to meet Michael Spinks on June 27.

Patchwork pitching working for Giants in win over Astros

HOUSTON (AP) - San Francisco Giants Manager Roger Craig has had to do a lot of patchwork with his starting pitching rotation this season.

Currently, the pieces are fitting together.

For the second night in a row Thursday, Atlett Hammaker, a former relief pitcher, stepped into a starting role and led the Giants to a 6-0 shutout victory.

Hammaker blanked the Astros on five hits Thursday night and Don Robinson shut out the Astros 5-0 on a one-hitter Wednesday night.

"It's a situation where Don and I have risen to the occasion," Hammaker said. "We were setup men and now we're in starting roles. To find a staff that can do that way is unusual."

The twin shutouts cooled off the Astros and heated up the National League Western Division race.

Rangers 5, Indians 4

CLEVELAND - Doug Jones' wild throw allowed three runs to score and the Texas Rangers took advantage of four errors with two outs in the ninth inning Thursday to beat Cleveland 5-4, the Indians' fifth consecutive loss.

Mitch Williams, 2-4, pitched two innings of relief for the victory, despite giving up a two-run pinch double to Carmen Castillo in the seventh. Dale Mohorcic got the final two outs for his fifth save.

The Astros were one-half game behind division leader Los Angeles on Tuesday night and now they are 1 1/2 games off the pace.

Houston is still in second place, but the Giants are charging. San Francisco is only one game behind the Astros.

"We feel we can catch them," Giants Manager Roger Craig said. "I feel Houston is the team to beat. Everybody is talking about Houston and Los Angeles, but we're in there too."

Hammaker, 6-4, struck out three and had two walks.

"Somehow, we've got our confidence going," Hammaker said. "When one guy has a good game, it catches on."

"At this stage of my career, I know I'm capable if I'm in the rotation and that's where I want to be but it's fine if I'm not."

While Hammaker was befuddling the Astros, Will Clark continued his mastery of Houston starter Nolan Ryan, 8-10, who lost his fourth straight decision to the Giants.

Clark, who is hitting .600 against Ryan this season, and Kevin Mitchell got back to back homers off Ryan in the sixth inning.

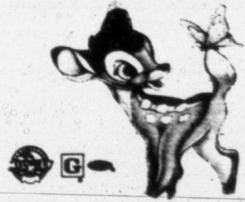

Clark walked and scored the first run on a double by Mike Aldrete in the fourth inning.

A two-run single by Ernest Riles chased Ryan in the seventh inning and a home run by Matt Williams off reliever Juan Agosto provided the final run in the eighth.

South Korea...

President appeals for truce

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Roh Tae-woo called today for a political truce during the Olympics and warned that violent protests would expose the country to "worldwide scorn."

Roh condemned demonstrations by radical students and said dissident groups were trying to spoil the mood before the Sept. 17 start of the Olympic Games in Seoul. He appealed to opposition leaders to support the government in curbing unrest.

"An eruption of demonstrations involving firebombs, stones and tear gas during the Olympics would disrupt the Olympics and our nation would become an object of worldwide scorn," Roh told a meeting reviewing Olympic preparations.

Later, radical students battled riot police with firebombs and rocks at least three campuses in Seoul after rallies to prepare for a march Monday to the border for reunification talks with North Korean students. Riot police fired tear gas to drive students back. Eyewitnesses reported some arrests and injuries, but police refused to give any figures.

National Police Headquarters in Seoul said today that 2,000 radicals were detained the previous two days for taking part in demonstrations to support the Monday march, which the government has prohibited. All but 243 students were released.

Police officials said 13 police stations were attacked by students nationwide this week and several dozen officers were injured.

Radical students have staged scattered protests in Seoul and other cities to prepare for the march and fought riot police in minor confrontations in some places. Turnouts at rallies during the past five days have been low.

Appeals in their favor, contended that any Texas school district plan had to have at least 70 percent of its board membership representing specific geographic locations.

For this to occur with Snyder ISD, a shift to the 5-2 ratio was required.

If the school board had taken no action, Benitez would have had to run for district 4 in 1990 if he wished to remain on the board.

Also Thursday, the board tabled action related to district policy in the event staffers were diagnosed as having infectious diseases, to include the virus AIDS.

Branam moved that the item be tabled, commenting, "It's a pretty significant policy for the district and I'd like more time to read it."

Trustees also opted to advertise for bids for new health insurance coverage for district staffers, prompted by an indication that new rates are expected to rise some 18 percent.

As an alternative, the board also directed administrators to solicit information and bids for the administration of a self-insurance plan for the district.

A workshop related to these bids is expected late in August. Action on the insurance coverage is slated prior to Sept. 1.

All trustees attended the meeting to include McMullan, Branam, Jordan, Benitez, Luann Burleson, Ann Walton and Terry Martin.

In other action, the board: —Approved amendments to the 1987-88 budget.

—Approved changing the date from Aug. 1 to July 1 for staffers under term contracts to notify the district of their plans to resign. It was noted emergency type situations will still be considered for later notices.

—Accepted the low bid of $6,179 from an Amarillo firm for a Hobart mixer for the cafeteria service.

—Adopted policy updates to bring local policy into compliance with new state laws, a service provided through the Texas Association of School Boards. This included amending the district's discipline management plan.

bareback is Seagraves' John Singleton, who opened with a 53 on Tuesday. Singleton is up for tonight's show. Shane Sanders of Water Valley marked a 50 on Thursday and is sitting second in the average with a 110 on two.

Stiffer competition comes in the bull riding, where Tommy Yeater of San Antonio awaits his chance. Yeater scored a 68 in the first go and would need a 70 tonight to tie Watkins. First-go winner Gilbert Carrillo fell out of the average competition when he failed to point Thursday. Adam Carrillo, who like Gilbert hails from El Paso, is in second place in the average standings with 134. Snyder's Michael Gaffney is third with a 133.

Some of the rodeo's best times were run Thursday. Bubba Benight of Bastrop pushed the boy's 16-19 calf roping into the 9's with a 9.84 Thursday morning. Henrietta's Chad Houck followed with a 9.68 and Jim Bob Mayes of Manor thrilled the Scurry County Coliseum crowd with a 9.48 in the evening show.

Hobbs, N.M., cowboy Kirt Jones continued to impress, clocking a fine 2.16 in the boy's 13-15 breakaway roping. Randy McEntire of Sweetwater was a close second with a 2.20.

Shawn McMullan and Scott Simpton are battling hard for top honors in the steer wrestling. Simpton, of Del Rio, won the first go with a 6.18. He is out tonight to challenge Iraan's McMullan, the second-round leader who flashed a 5.53 Thursday. McMullan's first-go time was a 12.07.

Another top time Thursday came from San Antonioan Jim Bob Crow, who set a pace of 4.92 seconds in the boy's 16-19 ribbon roping.

Thursday also marked the second-go of the goat tying. Winners were Snyder's Leslie Ward with a 9.41 in the 16-19 division, Caryn Standifer of Colbert, Okla., with an 8.20 in the 13-15 division and Tina Sherrod of Big Spring with a 10.94 in the 12-Under division.

World Champions in the event-top money winners for the season — are Mitzi Mayes of Manor in the 16-19 division with $989.09, Ashley Looney of Del Rio in the 13-15 division with $822.00 and Shellie Jones of Hobbs, N.M. in the 12-Under division with $475.50.

Budget okayed by Snyder ISD

The tax hike is attributed to an estimated 12 percent decline in the school tax base, again tied to declining oil reserves here and an approximate $4 per barrel drop in the price of oil.

Included in the 1988-89 school budget is a freeze on all district salaries, the second year in a row that teacher and administrator pay has been frozen.

BACK TO THE OWNERS — Police Lt. Steve Warren shows the nine rifles and shotguns that were recovered Thursday afternoon from a locksmith's shop burglary Monday. (SDN Staff Photo)

Suspect charged with pickup theft, break-in

A 25-year-old Snyder man was arrested Thursday afternoon for burglary of a building and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle in connection with two Monday incidents.

David Lujan of 1500 College Ave. was taken into custody at 3 p.m. at a residence on North Ave. M and was charged in the burglary of Lloyd's Lock Shop at 1912 College Ave. and the theft of a 1982 Ford pickup from the Grimmert Brothers yard at 1312 Ave. R.

A city detective said he and county sheriff's deputies arrested Lujan following a tip concerning his whereabouts.

He said five rifles and four shotguns that were taken in the Lloyd's Lock Shop burglary were subsequently recovered from an abandoned cellar about 50 yards south of Lujan's 1500 College residence.

The detective said most of the firearms had been left at the locksmith's shop to be repaired. The Grimmert Brothers pickup was found abandoned Monday night in the 1400 Block of Ave. K.

Embezzler sentenced to 13 year term

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Admitted embezzler Steven Hadley has received a 13-year prison sentence from a federal judge who called him "a consummate liar and a consummate actor."

Hadley — who earlier pleaded guilty to charges he stole more than $1.1 million from a Waterloo credit union in 1983 and fled to begin a new life in Texas — was sentenced Thursday by U.S. District Court Judge Edward McManus.

Hadley will likely serve his sentence at a minimum security prison in Fort Worth, Texas, his lawyer said.

Defense lawyer Robert Reynolds insisted that his client's story is not extraordinary, even taking into account that Hadley stole a million dollars in cash, left his wife and three children and vanished without a trace before police found him five years later, married and living another lifestyle in Texas.

Hadley pleaded guilty in June in federal court to stealing $1.136 million in cash on July 20, 1983, from his employer, the John Deere Employees Credit Union of Waterloo.

Hadley also pleaded guilty to transporting the money across state lines and to using a false name to obtain a passport while living under an assumed identity in Friendswood, Texas, a suburb of Houston.

Hadley was arrested last April 25 in Friendswood after authorities recognized his picture from an FBI flyer distributed in connection with a feature on the case in the "Unsolved Mysteries" television show.

During his statement to McManus prior to sentencing, Reynolds noted that Hadley, who lived in Friendswood under the name Richard Finley, was "by and large a law-abiding citizen" who looked to get out of a bad marriage when tempted by the credit union cash.

Hadley showed no emotion when the sentence was imposed and had no comment when deputies led him from the court room.

Hadley's family, including Roxy Alden, a former Iowan whom he married while living under an assumed identity in Texas, also declined to comment on the sentencing.

Hadley was sentenced to three years in prison for transporting the stolen funds across state lines and 10 years for theft, with the terms to be served consecutively.

McManus also imposed a suspended two-year sentence on the Texas charge and ordered Hadley to serve five years probation after he gets out of prison.

Hadley also must repay the $1.136 million, plus interest, to the credit union and its insurer, Cumis Credit of Wisconsin.

McManus agreed to a request by Robert Teig, an assistant U.S. attorney, that any movie or book royalties go toward repaying the interest on the stolen money.

Hadley faced a maximum sentence of 25 years in prison. Teig said he was pleased with what McManus imposed.

"It sends out a pretty strong message to people," Teig said. "Obviously we would have liked to have the whole sentence imposed. He will have to serve at least four years and three months."

In a statement to McManus before sentencing, Hadley said he was sorry.

"I would like to say I am terribly sorry for taking the money and betraying the people who depended on me and for inflicting pain on my wife and children," he said.

3 more banks fail; breaking state record

AUSTIN (AP) — Just over halfway through 1988, the record for Texas banks closed in a year has already been shattered.

Thursday, federal regulators declared three more banks in the state insolvent, and their decision to count all 40 of First Republic Bank's former subsidiary banks as failed institutions produced a one-day total of 43 that raised the year's count to 86.

The list of failed banks soared far beyond last year's total of 50 bank failures, the previous record in Texas.

The three banks declared insolvent on Thursday were First Bank in Balch Springs, Galena Park State Bank, and West Houston National Bank of Houston.

Of the national total of 141 banks listed by the FDIC as having failed so far this year, with 17 assistance transactions, more than 60 percent have been in Texas. Texas has had four assistance transactions this year.

First Bank, with assets of approximately $47 million dollars, will be merged with Gateway National Bank of Dallas, said Texas Banking Commissioner Kenneth W. Littlefield on Thursday.

Galena Park State, with approximately $26.4 million in assets, will be merged with Lockwood National Bank of Houston, he said.

Couple should get AIDS test

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: After four years of marriage, a friend of mine has been told that the former girlfriend of her husband is bisexual. My friend is concerned that her husband may be carrying the AIDS virus. She is also afraid that if he is a carrier, it is too late for either one of them to benefit from being tested. What would you say if she were your patient?

DEAR READER: After rummaging through the intricacies of your question, I conclude that your friend's husband's ex-lover has had sexual encounters with women as well as men. By itself, this sexual orientation does not put her at higher risk for AIDS, a disease that seems to be more of a problem among male homosexuals and IV drug users, at least in this country. It is true that in some other countries where AIDS is endemic, it is spread primarily heterosexually. However, in your friend's husband's case, I would worry more about the woman's past male contacts.

The thrust of your question appears to be whether your friend and her husband should get tested for AIDS. Although you are correct that AIDS is virtually untreatable with present methods, I should think they would want to know whether or not they have the disease. For one thing, such information would be vital in the event they chose to have children. For another, some drugs, such as AZT, show promise in treating early AIDS. Finally, if either your friend or her husband is imprudent enough to consider extramarital sex, their AIDS status becomes a matter of public health concern.

Therefore, were they my patients, I'd probably encourage them to get tested. However, I'm the type of person who feels more comfortable having answers than ignoring potential health problems. Maybe they feel better just living with the unknown. I think that the important aspect for them to consider is the impact their possible ill-health could have on other people.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Eight years ago, at 70, I had an operation on my prostate. Since then, I've been unable to have an erection. Do I have to reconcile myself to being impotent for the rest of my life?

DEAR READER: No, you do not. In many cases, impotence may be cured or overcome by medicine or surgery. For instance, there are a number of operations today to implant penile prostheses, devices to produce erection. A recent device, developed in Houston at Baylor College of Medicine, appears to be a safe non-surgical alternative: it uses changes in air pressure within a condomlike sheath. For more information, call 800-422-9005.

I'd like to add that impotence is a rare consequence of routine prostate surgery. You don't mention the type of operation you had — obviously, the more extensive the surgery, the more chance for complications to develop. Since many men are not bothered by postoperative impotence, you might want to check with your urologist to discover the cause of your problem. Erections change with age and in the presence of certain diseases — such as diabetes — impotence may develop even without surgery.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report, "Impotence." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.
