Senate barbers shaved senators and taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) - A Douglas' amendment, and the shave and a haircut used to cost free haircut survived. nothing, if you were a United States senator and were shaved and trimmed in the United States Senate barber shop.

And when one reform-minded senator tried to eliminate free senatorial shaving and hair cutting 37 years ago, his shaved-forfree colleagues rebelled.

The senator was the late Paul Douglas of Illinois, and his experience was recalled in a recent Senate speech by Senate Republican leader Bob Dole of Kansas

Douglas had gone to the Senate barber shop for a haircut.

"After the barber had done his work," said Dole, "Douglas began to think that his income was ample enough to pay for his own haircut — which then cost a dollar and a quarter — and not charge it to the taxpayer.

So Douglas introduced an amendment to the annual legislative appropriations act to cut off funds for the barber shop unless it began charging senators for its services.

The counterattack was not long

At a Senate hearing, Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona complimented Douglas on his haircut, then recalled that the haircut issue was one that flared from time to Hayden said that when he first came to the Senate he became disturbed at newspaper articles complaining about free senatorial haircuts and discussed the matter with Senate veteran William Borah of Idaho.

"Senator Borah said, 'You tell that reporter to go to the devil. I want the same service that was received here by Henry Clay and John C. Calhoun.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for that incentive of tips. great column on tipping. Many people don't know how much to tip a waitress and are so embarrassed, they don't tip at all. I've been a waitress for 11 years. In Ohio, waitresses are usually paid a minimum wage of $2.10 an hour. Some get even less. The government takes 8 percent right away. My paycheck nets me about $1 an hour takehome, so you can see, we don't do nearly as well as most people think

JEANNIE IN OHIO

DEAR JEANNIE: Not everyone thought my column on tipping was so "great." A Spokane nurse spoke thusly:

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe I'm writing to you after all these years of reading your column. But I've earned the right as a devoted reader to say, Where do you get off telling us how much to tip people for their

I resent that the consumer is expected to make up the difference bartender should get only 10 perbetween a living wage and the minimum wage paid by cheap employers. As for your suggestion bartender is supposed to listen to to 'do unto others," I've worked as people's problems, entertain them a nurse for 30 years, and nobody has ever tipped me.

We tip according to the quality of the service given, within the limits of what we can afford, so please don't make us out miserly with percentages! There, I feel better

DEAR ABBY: People who neglect to tip are uneducated, uncivilized, socially inept, selfish and irresponsible plagues on society who should not be allowed to dine at decent restaurants.

Waitressing is one of the most thankless and stressful jobs imaginable. Servers must be alert and organized constantly as they cater to the demands of the diner. Daily they are faced with the incredible task of too much to do and not enough time to do it. No sane person would work so hard unmercillessly if it weren't for the psychological

Anytime you are seated, brought your food and handed a bill, you are obligated to tip. Since the government taxes 8 percent of a server's total sales out of his or her paycheck, the server's main source of income is the tip money. After the government is finished with my paycheck, they have received more than I have; my net pay is nowhere near the minimum wage.

When you forget to tip your waitress, you are making it a little more difficult for her to support her family, put herself through college or simply to pay for the rent. Neglecting to tip a waitress is a loathsome practice the educated person finds unacceptable. Tip your server!

OREGON WAITRESS

DEAR OREGON WAITRESS: Let's allow a Pittsburgh bartender to have the last word:

DEAR ABBY: About your "tips" on tipping: How do you figure a cent? A bartender not only must serve the drink, but concoct it. A people's problems, entertain them and be aware of who's had enough.

In between mopping up spills, cleaning ashtrays and slicing up fresh fruit, the bartender is expected to remember each customer's drink, and what garnish he or she prefers. (The gentleman likes two olives in his martini; the lady wants one onion in hers.)

I hardly think 10 percent is enough, but I'd gladly settle for that, as about half the customers forget" to tip us.

My advice: Tip the bartender at least 10 percent for excellent service. Also, if you can't afford to tip, you really can't afford to go out, so do us both a favor and stay home.

Finding caloric values of food

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: How were the caloric values determined for foods? DEAR READER: The caloric values for foods were obtained in a laboratory by measuring the heat given off when the foods were burned.

A kilocalorie, the unit commonly used in the study of metabolism, is the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one kilogram of water one degree centigrade (from 14.5 degrees Celsius to 15.5. degrees Celsius). Meticulous studies have shown that one gram of protein yields four kilocalories, one gram of carbohydrate yields four kilocalories, one gram of alcohol seven kilocalories and one gram of fat nine kilocalories. This is why dietary fat is so fattening; gram for gram it produces more than twice the calories of protein and carbohydrates. For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Calorie-Wise Cooking." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title. DEAR DR. GOTT: Is there any cure for foot-drop? DEAR READER: Foot-drop is the inability to flex the foot backward; it is usually caused by damage to the peroneal nerve, the nerve in the leg that controls foot-flexion. This can be due to nerve injury, poor circulation, nerve disorders or compression by a herniated disc in the spine, causing pressure on the upper nerve fibers that join to form the peroneal nerve.

Therefore, the cure depends on the cause. For instance, after an injury due to crushing, surgeons can sometimes operate to re-establish nerve function; also, repair of a herniated disc may improve foot-drop.

A dropped foot is a real handicap to walking because the patient is unable to bring the toes up enough to plant the heel in preparation for a step. In this situation, a brace (to raise the forefoot) may help. In addition, physical therapy can aid foot-drop patients to live more effectively with their disability.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Can a specific diet or exercise program for middleaged people with congenital heartvalve murmurs prevent calcification of these heart valves in old age?

DEAR READER: No. Abnormal

heart valves do tend to calcify with age. The precise reasons for this phenomenon are unknown. However, a low-cholesterol diet may help retard some of the other cardiac consequences of aging. If you have a congenital valvular deformity, you should be under the care of a cardiologist, a specialist with particular interest in heart problems. He or she can give you specific advice about diet, exercise and what, if any, treatment will be necessary for your condition.

crossed up. After West opened a junky weak two-bid as dealer, South bid a comfortable two spades. North might have simply bid no-trump now, but he trotted out a random three-heart cuebid. Did that show hearts, a good hand for spades, or just that North had been studying some books on scientific bidding? Who knows? Since South had underbid with two spades, he now jumped to four.

Declarer played it as badly as his partner had bid it. He put up the king of hearts on the opening lead. East ruffed and returned the king of clubs. Declarer took the ace in dummy, picked up the defenders' trumps and then ducked a heart to the West hand. West of course returned a club to East's queen, and East cashed the diamond ace for down one.

Since it is known from the bidding that West has a six-card suit, declarer should play low from dummy on the opening lead. Then, even though West will continue the suit and give his partner a ruff, the hearts remaining in dummy will enable declarer to get rid of his club loser. (Declarer has to unblock his heart nine on the first or second round and later finesse to dummy's K-8.) When declarer played the king of hearts right away, he lost the timing for establishing a heart winner in dummy to take care of his losing club. It is true that there were oppor-tunities for the defense to err. Had East played ace and a diamond, for example, there would have been no

Payback for Browns' Pagel

(AP) Cleveland quarterback Mike Pagel couldn't have picked a better opponent for his first start

It wasn't that Pagel held any particular resentment toward the Indianapolis Colts, the team that gave up on him three years ago. It was much more practical than that.

"They've been running the same style of defense since I was there. It's basically a very vanilla defense," Pagel said Monday night after he passed for 255 yards and two touchdowns in the Browns' 23-17 victory over the

The unexpectedly smooth performance from Pagel helped ease some of the concerns about the Browns' immediate future in the absence of starting quarterback Bernie Kosar and backup Gary Danielson.

Pagel, showing no jitters, completed 23 of 38 passes, including a 14-yard touchdown to Ozzie Newsome and a controversial 17yard scoring pass to Webster Slaughter. Matt Bahr added three field goals.

Hershiser pitches Dodgers to 1-0 victory over Houston

by The Associated Press

Orel Hershiser isn't getting many runs to work with these days. But the way he's pitching, he doesn't need many.

"Tonight, the key was to keep the ball down," the Los Angeles Dodger pitching ace said Monday night after extending his shutout string to 40 innings with a 1-0 victory over the Houston Astros. "I had a sharp breaking ball and I made no mistakes up.

It was the second straight 1-0 win for Hershiser, who beat the Atlanta Braves last time out. Monday night's four-hitter gave him four straight shutouts and a shot at Don Drysdale's record shutout string of 58 2-3 innings. "Two more shutouts would be tough," Hershiser said. "I don't think it can be done. That's the record I thought couldn't be broken. The victory reduced the Dodgers' magic number for clinching the National League West to five games. Elsewhere Monday, it was Cincinnati 7, San Diego 2; Atlanta 4, San Francisco 3, and Pittsburgh

American family happy after_ defecting to Soviet Union

Soviet Union almost two years ago to get away from what they said was harassment from the States but are happy in the communist country.

Arnold and Lauren Lockshin and their three children fled Houston Oct. 8, 1986, and turned up in Moscow two days later, claiming that they were endangered by the FBI because of their past association with the Communist Party.

behind food in the refrigerator and a porch light burning.

"We're very angry that we had to flee our country," Mrs. Lockshin told the Houston Chronicle. "Angry that the FBI forced us to leave. They threatened our lives. They threatened our livelihood. They destroyed our livelihoods."

U.S. officials have denied the Lockshins were the object of government-organized harass-

"The statements attributed to Mr. Lockshin, alleging that the U.S. government harassed him and threatened his life because of his political opinions, are patently absurd," said State Department spokesman Pete Hernandez.

The defection came after the family visited the Russian mission at the United Nations in New York in August 1986 and later the Soviet Embassy in Washington seeking political asylum. At the same time, Lockshin lost his $50,000-a-year job as a cancer researcher at the Stehlin Foundation at St. Joseph Hospital in

Lauro Cavazos confirmed as education secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate voted unanimously today to confirm Lauro Cavazos as education secretary after Senate leaders praised the son of a Texas cattleman an "authenic American success story" who is committed to federal education programs.

Upon his swearing-in, which was scheduled for later this afternoon at the White House, Cavazos will be the first Hispanic member of a president's Cabinet. The Senate vote was 94-0.

"He is an authentic American success story and an inspiration to millions of young students,' said Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Kennedy's sentiments were echoed on the Senate floor this morning by Republicans and Democrats who praised the Texas Tech University president's credentials and commitment to federal education programs.

"Dr. Cavazos has a strong cellent educational opportunities are available to all Americans," said Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, calling him "living proof of the American dream.

Didn't this already happen in "Summer of 42?" GRADE: ★★%

EIGHT MEN OUT (R) John Sayles ("Matewan") wrote and directed this nostalgic, well-crafted adaptation of Eliot Asinof's book about the 1919 World Series, when the favored Chicago White Sox, in collusion with gamblers, "threw" the series.

Sayles uses the story to lament a loss of American innocence through the corruption of professional baseball by money interests.

Well-acted by a talented cast that includes Charlie Sheen, D.B. Sweeney, John Cusack, David Strathairn and Bill Irwin as members of the team and handsomely photographed and designed - the movie is worth seeing, though it should be better than it is. For all his talents, Sayles lacks a certain flair. And, since we know the outcome of the story, there's not much to root for. Missing, too, is the insider's exuberance about the sport that "Bull Durham" has in such abundance. GRADE: **1/2

New Home Video

BROADCAST NEWS (R) CBS/Fox. $89.98. James L. Brooks' smart romantic comedy is set in the world of TV journalism, where flash often triumphs over substance. Quirky Holly Hunter stars as an idealistic news producer torn between a brilliant, iconoclastic reporter (Albert Brooks) and a slick, telegenic newscaster (William Hurt).

Playing off career ethics and ro-mantic choices, the movie eventually boxes itself into a schematic corner. But TV news is richly satirized, and the film is like a super-episode of Brooks' "Mary Tyler Moore Show" — a sitcom carried into the domain of movie art. GRADE: ★★★½

SHE'S HAVING A BABY (PG-13) Paramount, $89.95. Having plumbed the purported depths of teenage angst in movies like "Sixteen Candles," writer-director-producer Hughes attempted to bring a pair of nubile young characters into the adult world in this 1988 romantic comedy.

Kevin Bacon and Elizabeth McGovern are delightful as two cute yuppie newlyweds who settle uneasily into a cozy Chicago suburb. Though the movie represents some of Hughes' most stylistically playful work, thematically it offers a stale, '50s-style ode to facing up to the responsibilities of marriage and parenthood. #### Former computer analyst convicted

FORT WORTH (AP) - A former systems analyst has become the first Texan convicted on a charge accusing him of planting a computer "virus" to destroy records in revenge for his firing from an insurance firm.

Donald Gene Burleson, 40, convicted Monday, is believed to be the first Texas defendant to be tried and convicted of charges of harmful access to a computer, a third-degree felony that carries up to 10 years in prison and up to $5,000 in fines.

A Tarrant County jury will return to State District Judge John Bradshaw'courtroom today to consider punishment for Burleson.

Jurors were told during a technical and sometimescomplicated trial that spanned three weeks that Burleson deliberately planted a rogue program in the computer system used to store records at USPA and IRA Co., a Fort Worth-based insurance and brokerage firm. Prosecutor Davis McCown said the so-called virus was programmed like a time bomb and was activated on Sept. 21, 1985, two days after Burleson was fired from his post as a computer programmer because of alleged personality conflicts with other employees.

"There were a series of programs built into the system as early as Labor Day (of 1985), McCown said. "Once he got fired, these programs went off."

The destructive programs were entered into the firm's computer system via Burleson's terminal by someone who used Burleson's personal access code, expert witnesses testified.

On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only ... opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, SNYDER DAILY NEWS, BOX 949, or bring it by the News Office at 3600 College Avenue. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 5:00 p.m., Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the total points of the score for that game and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second prize winners. In the case of a perfect score, the formula would apply for the cash prize, and all submitting a perfect score will receive a free oneyear subscription to the Snyder Daily News. (Only one subscription per family)

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the winner's story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the SDN and their families are not eligible to enter.
